ABOUT REGRAINED:

ReGrained is a mission-driven food-tech company that fights food waste through edible upcycling. In partnership with the USDA, we have developed patent-pending technology that allows our food system to do more with less. Primarily, we upcycle the nutritious grain byproduct of beer brewing into our SuperGrain+ flour. This high-protein, prebiotic grain is the main functional ingredient in our SuperGrain+ Bars. We plan to expand beyond nutrition bars and incorporate this SuperGrain+ product into pretzels, breads, cookies, cereals, chips, and more. In addition to fighting food waste, ReGrained is a certified B-Corp and is committed to sustainable packaging. All ReGrained snacks come in first-to-market compostable wrappers, leaving no waste at end-of-life. Learn more at www.regrained.com
