The Common Canon Printer Problems & Solutions

Canon printers are known widely Amongst pretty much all over the world. They have also been able to maintain their reputation as a brand. When you ask any user about the brand, they will have all the good things to say about it but it can be extremely frustrating when that is not the case with you. All you see is errors on your printer, whenever you switch it on!

Printers are great when they work, when they don't, what is use of this big device on your table right? They usually are reliable to work with for years and it can provide you thousands and much more of prints, but they have an inclination towards malfunction and showing errors pretty regularly, no matter which brand you are using. Thus, Canon Support suggests to be informed about this particular device at all times.

In case, you do not have that much of information about printing errors, here are some of the most common problems and their solution:

Error 1: Replace The Cartridges

Printers have a knack of showing "Ink is running out" before it actually does or even close to the finishing point. Thus, you should keep a new cartridges but don't install them until it either stops printing or the colors start to fade. Firstly check if actually the ink is low, if the ink level is adequate, proceed for the setting:

Go to the Control Panel followed by Printer Properties or click the option Black & White only. This will work if you have adequate amount of black ink but not enough color ink.

Error 2: Web Pages, Excel Documents And Photos Won't Print

For Web Pages

Since web pages don't have a particular size, they aren't usually designed to be printed. Thus, to overcome always choose the Print Preview to check what you'll get. After you see the preview, you can select the pages which are relevant to print. Choose landscape mode if the web page is very wide.

Office Documents

For Excel sheet, select only the cells you need to print before clicking Print. First click on Print selection and select options to fit the entire relevant document on an A4 sheet. You can also customize settings like reducing the size of the margins, and switching from landscape to portrait orientation.

For photos or images, the ideal solution would be to right-click on the image in Windows Explorer and click Print. This method will give you an idea of how large to print each photo.

In case of multiple photos in a folder, right-click and choose Print, it will also provide you the option to print them all at once. This allows you to print multiple pages of a document on a single sheet of A4.
