Like all mobile MOBA games, Mobile Legends possesses familiar tactical gameplay. It will bring you battles with teammates in a large arena to confront the enemy team. Here, the player's skill, experience, and tactics are the deciding factors. There is no element of paying or upgrading champions before the game starts to give them an advantage. So this is a fair battleground, play only to win.

You will combine with 4 other people to form a team. It only takes you 10 seconds to do this and it takes 10 minutes to play a match. On the battlefield, you will use a character to coordinate with other teammates. The ultimate goal is to destroy the opponent's main house, win and score points on the leaderboard. As such, this is a battle for 10 people, victory will depend on many players. Therefore, whether you play well or not is not the deciding factor, but the combination in a new team is the key to victory.

Currently, Mobile Legends owns an extremely diverse and unique character system. They divide into different categories including mages, gunners, assassins, supports, and warriors. Each type of character will have its own advantages and disadvantages, thereby determining its position on the battlefield. However, sometimes you can make choices that are different from the normals as long as it suits the team's tactics.

Each character has a unique set of skills, including 2 normal moves and 1 ultimate. In addition, each character has continuous basic attacks, but the damage dealt will be weaker than the skills. In addition, every time you fight, the effects from skill moves and background scenes make the character even more outstanding. These effects contribute significantly to creating a mysterious magical world that this game is aiming for. They bring the game to life to immerse players in the 3D MOBA arena. Besides, the sound in the game is also very vibrant, including the background music and the character's voice.
