Aquarium Proposal To Go To Neighborhood Council

John Prescott, executive director of the New England Aquarium, requested a public meeting with the Charlestown Neighborhood Council in a letter to council members late Wednesday afternoon.

Council chairman Dennis McLaughlin has announced that the meeting will take place Tuesday, June 27 at 7 p.m. at Charlestown High School, 240 Medford St.

Prescott will have a Charlestown Community Report that summarizes and addresses the past community outreach process. The report will be presented formally to the council at the meeting. Copies of the report will be available for the public on Friday afternoon, June 23 at: Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St.; BRA Navy Yard Office, First Avenue, Building 34, second floor; Job Start Office, One Thompson Square; and the Sullivan

Square Fire Station.

The public is advised that a council vote could be taken on whether to support aquarium planners to proceed on to the formal planning stages of a new aquarium in the Navy Yard's Dry Dock 2.

Unconfirmed reports are that, following a positive council vote, the proposal will be presented at the BRA's biweekly board meeting on June 29.

O'Neil Comes To The Aid Of Heart Attack Victim

by Rosa Freda

Michael McGrath was in his hometown of Charlestown last week to attend his son's high school graduation. Thanks to his distant cousin Maura, this 43-year-old has the opportunity to be a part of his son's future.

Maura O'Neil, a 20-year-old college student, also from Charlestown, saved McGrath's life on June 13. That day, McGrath and his family went shopping at Paperama in Somerville where his second cousin O'Neil was working. At around 2 p.m. McGrath had a heart attack while standing at the check-out line. He collapsed on the floor as a crowd of people watched him struggle for life.

Manager Leonard Renda was called to the check-out area. He and McGrath's son Michael tried unsuccessfully to resuscitate McGrath. Renda then paged for help over the intercom for anyone who knew cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). O'Neil responded to the call quickly, pushing through the crowd. "She worked frantically until the ambulance came," Renda said.

"I was scared at first," O'Neil said. "He [McGrath] was turning different shades of colors." O'Neil used the CPR experience on McGrath that she had learned from six years of being a lifeguard in Charlestown.

quire CPR training. "Regardless of what job you have, CPR is important to

MAURA O'NEIL

But this was not O'Neil's first rescue attempt. In 1986, while riding an MBTA bus, she performed CPR on a man sitting in the front of the bus who had a heart attack. He was brought back to life with her aid.

Although O'Neil may have the makings of a good paramedic, she is pursuing a career in adolescent clinical psychology at St. Michael's College in Vermont. "I'm interested in working with adolescent problems, everything from abuse to social," O'Neil said of her main reason for pursuing this field of study.

According to O'Neil, any field of study should re-learn." Her second ordeal with heart attack victims reaffirms her belief in the importance of CPR.

O'Neil, who is one of three children of Margaret and Gerald O'Neil of Monument Avenue, said when a person performs CPR one does not feel satisfied. "When you're done, all you can do is second guess yourself, hope that you did everything right," she said. "Now that Michael has lived, I feel I have accomplished something."

"Maura is a good example for the rest of us," Renda said.

McGrath is still in serious condition at Somerville Hospital.

Christopher Moes of 68 Baldwin St. has been named to the dean's honor list at Emerson College in Boston for achieving a minimum grade-point average of 3.3 during the spring semester.

Moes just finished his freshman year and is studying in the school's division

Children's Films

The Film Program for Children will be presented at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St., on Tuesday, June 27 at 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The features will be "Chips Ahoy," the tale of trouble on board for Donald Duck and Chip-N-Dale; a mosquito stirs up the jungle with a little lie in "Why Mosquitoes Buzz In People's Ears;" and find out who will win the chase in "A Boy, A Dog and A Frog."

An earthquake threatens Annie, her brother and their lost sheep in "The Ponies of Miklaengi," shown only at 3:30 p.m.

The suggested readings in conjunction with these films are: Why Mosquitoes Buzz in People's Ears by Verna Aardema, Baby Horses by Dorothy Hinshaw Patent and See What I Caught! by Ann Thomas Pieciewicz.

HOW CAN YOU KEEP TRACK OF IT ALL?

Looking at houses can become overwhelming for many prospective buyers. After a while, it can all run together, and you have trouble remembering which homes you liked a lot and which ones you didn't. When you're out looking, you can use a few tricks that good Realtors use to remember what we've seen.

Take a little spiral notebook and a pencil with you. Jot down the address of each house you see and make some notes on its major features. Write down one distinctive feature that will help you remember it. Maybe it had unusual mouldings in the dining room, or perhaps there was a big apple tree in the back yard. If the house was of particular interest to you, put a big star on the top of the page to remind yourself that you'd like to see it again or even write an offer on it. If there are features for which you have a strong preference, or if you eliminate a house from consideration for any reason, be sure to tell the agent who is helping you. This way, the agent can show only the homes that meet your special needs, and save you a lot of time and effort in your search.

If you are considering a move, contact the professionals at Silva Realty Associates. Call us at 242-7470 or drop by our offices at 142 Main Street in Charlestown.

Not For Nothin' . . . But Have You Heard . . .

• Bunker Hill Week Was A Great Success . . . A "Tip O' the Flag" to all those responsible for presenting such a wide variety of events to the residents of Charlestown and their visitors. There was something for every taste. Although the weather didn't always cooperate during the week, it did nothing to dampen the spirits of those who presented the event or those who participated. Congratulations to the Bunker Hill Day Parade Committee and the Bunker Hill Associates. They did a terrific job! . . . Congratulations, Charlestown, on showing off your "Townie" pride.

• We Checked Around . . . and made note of businesses who took the time and effort to decorating their buildings with red, white and blue bunting for the Bunker Hill weekend festivities. We'd like to give a "tip o' the hat" to Charlestown Cooperative Bank, MK Realty, Sully's Cafe on Union Street, Prudential/Gibson Real Estate and Teamsters Local 25 (both buildings) for going that extra mile to show the town that they celebrate with them on this special of all days. Congratulations! You proved you care!

• It Looked So Patriotic . . . Betty Dunphy's windows at Constitution Cooperative were decked out in red, white and blue streamers and flags for Bunker Hill weekend. Betty said she did it for the grandchildren, but truth has it that all enjoyed the brightly decorated section of Park Street.

• It's A Zoo . . . The Children's Petting Zoo, that is! The Friends of the John Harvard Mall will be sponsoring the visit on Friday, June 30 between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. "J" the Clown will be there, and there will be balloons for the kiddies. All are invited. If it rains, call 241-8764 for further info. See you at the Harvard Mall.

• Congratulations . . . to Attorney John McCullough, president of the Massachusetts Special Olympics, and to all the volunteers who made last weekend's olympic games such a huge success.

• Get Well Wishes . . . go out to Marie Walsh of Winthrop Street — better known for her dedicated work on the committee for the Charlestown Old Schoolgirls — who is recuperating at Brigham & Women's Hospital after surgery . . . Ray of Salon 44 who is recuperating at home from a bout with pneumonia . . . and to Muriel Thompson of Dunstable Street who is recovering at home after eye surgery. Speedy recovery to each of you.

• Happy Birthday . . . to Kenny Hall on Friday, June 23. Give em' hell, Kenny! . . . But then again, you always do.

• Goodbye . . . to Shelly Montgomery who is leaving the Boys and Girls Club. It has been our pleasure to get to know you and we know you'll be missed at the club. Good luck, Shelly.

• Retiring . . . is Sister Hugh Francis Care, O.P. after many years of service to St. Francis de Sales School. We wish you many years of happy retirement, Sister, and thank you for all you've done.

• Doing A Nice Job . . . of keeping up the grounds around the former Amstar Refinery site is a crew of landscapers. Seen on a regular basis, the crew has been keeping the area clean, cutting the grass, etc. . . . Although the jury is still out on the future use of the site, you have to admit it's looking good!

• Good Neighbor Award . . . goes out to the residents who have been seen toting "pooper scoopers" onto the Bunker Hill Monument grounds when walking their dogs there. Wish we knew your names — we'd print them. Also noticed is the leash your dog is on! . . . Thanks!

• New Bumper Stickers . . . seen around town. Word has it that those in opposition to the move of the New England Aquarium to Dry Dock 2 in the Navy Yard have gone to the trouble of printing up bumper stickers that say "Save Shipyard Park . . . Don't Sink The Town." . . . Can't wait to see what the proponents will have printed! Stay tuned.

• Upcoming Events . . . Worth A Visit . . .
Visit India . . . on the Boston Commons this weekend: Between Friday, June 23 and Sunday, June 25 from noon to 6 p.m. you can learn about yoga, reincarnation, traditional music and dance. There will also be a free feast for thousands. For more info, call 247-8611.

Kickoff This Saturday . . . for the Boston Parks Department summer programs and the city's Youth Campaign will take place at Franklin Park from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The all-day event will offer samplings of what the city offers each summer to residents and visitors, such as various sports, nature tours and demonstrations of programs sponsored by non-profit groups. All are invited.

Roses and balloons dominated entrances to both Gates 4 and 5. On the rectangular grass section of Fifth Street is a 30-foot display of roses that enhances the area now that the tulips have been retired until next season, for an approach that allows for a most pleasant welcome. The Boston Redevelopment Authority harborpark division deserves the ultimate in praise for its beautiful project.

At the intersection of First Avenue and Thirteenth Street, the Basilica living complex was decorated in a rainbow of balloons. It brought the level of aesthetics higher, but the placement had ulterior motives. These helium baubles induced the apartment-hunter closer to examine the rental packages available. Open house and balloons don't guarantee the maximum population for the development; but inducements do attract many a curious visitor and resident. Marketed as its treasure, the Basilica boasts covered off-street parking, an extinct item in the yet-unfinished Yard. Prospective lease holders won't need their vehicles too often, for the Yard has all the necessities for daily consumption within strolling distance. For the outdoor person, fishing at the Yard's End pier is available. With the catch contemptible and contaminated, this activity serves for exercise. The meal component should continue to be purchased over the counter.

Did we miss the regatta? Pier 8 was fitted with a yardarm of nautical signs that would have made Adm. William J. Crowe, U.S.N., chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, extremely satisfied. No visible signs in the harbor indicated that a special event was to happen. Shipyard Marina fooled us all, with dressed-up lanterns for the season and streamers to give the proper flow for ocean yachting.

Building 149 took on a festive look June 12 that made the day for more than 600 residents. New-world Bank held its annual meal to reward its many loyal customers and friends. President David S. Carr hosted the gala that saw many a satisfied and well-nourished customer. Catered by Joseph's, the standing-room-only crowd (not for your inspection, Commissioner Stapleton) was served a colossal caloric creation. A fresh fruit cup initiated the palate, followed by ziti, salad, roast beef, vegetables and a strawberry shortcake to bring the meal to a close. Entertainment was fresh, compact and well-applauded. Anchorage residents enjoyed the early-evening function and were most grateful for the opportunity given by President Carr, The Raymond Group and the prime mover, Townie Jim Cushman for an event that will never have no-shows.

Invigorated and relaxed, Shipways resident Petie Helsingher was relating her recent vacation in Pine Oaks, S.C. A resort of impeccable credentials was nice for grandmother Petie, but of larger importance was her adorable grandson Sam. All swam, shopped and did the samba, which was great, but Sam's first steps gave all a tremendous kick. Not only did Sam achieve this milestone away from his home base of San Francisco, he performed it at Petie's 60th anniversary of her birth. Very few special occasions like Petie's recent southern holiday occur often, and for her we are all delighted. Start stocking up now Petie, for Sam will be in need of Nikes, Reeboks or Top-Siders for his next vacation, which we hope will be at the Shipways.

Chief Marshal Marty O'Brien, Chief of Staff William McCabe, Adjutant Jim Conway, Assistant Adjutant Arthur Hurley, Military Liaison Robert Gillen, Parade Coordinator Ed Kelly, Veteran Liaison Robert Joyce, Float Chairmen Charles Clabaugh and Judy Evers, Public Relations Specialist Norita Lee and Fund Raisers Margie Kent, Joe Kent and Edna Kelly step forward and take a well-deserved bow for a magnificent parade on June 18. Your combined efforts resulted in a most enjoyable 214th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill.

The guided missile frigate USS Simpson FFG-56 was berthed at Pier 1 during the Bunker Hill parade weekend, and many a Townie and visitor was able to tour this decorated ship under the command of James J. McTigue, U.S.N. In the next issue, more on the Simpson and the voyage on June 14 for a lucky group of well-rested Townies.

NSA Gymnasts Construct A 'Human Pyramid'

SPECTATORS in the Training Field area were treated to a breathtaking site during the Bunker Hill Day Parade as gymnasts from the Young Men's Division of the Nichiren Shoshu Soka Gakkai of America (NSA) constructed a five-story human pyramid. Each layer of participants crouched as staging was placed on their shoulders. When all five levels were in place, they slowly raised to a standing position and the man at the top unfurled an American flag to the thunderous applause of the spectators.

St. Catherine's School Graduation

The graduating students were: Scott Clougherty, Michelle Gibbons, Elizabeth Golden, Paul Griffin, Christine Hurley, Tara Janikian, Mary Johnson, John Kelly, Cheryl Lyman, Kelly Moloney, Kevin McMaster, Jason Messina, Khanh Ngo, Lynn O'Brien, Jannell Pappas, Peter Truong, Pa-

Aquarium Answer Group Meeting

The New England Aquarium will hold a meeting tonight, June 22 at 7 p.m. at the Boston Redevelopment Authority offices, Building 34, 2nd floor, First Avenue, Charlestown Navy Yard. The topic of the meeting will be traffic and parking as it pertains to the proposed move of the aquarium to Dry Dock 2 in the Navy Yard.

If you thought the door was closed to owning a home, here's your window of opportunity.

Bank of Boston's First Step Mortgage® Program brings the dream of owning a first home a lot closer to reality for a lot more people.

It's a special program that lowers the cost for first-time buyers of moderately-priced homes. We're introducing the program with the lowest rate around.

If you buy a home in Greater Boston, it's just 8.65% for the first year.

But that's not all we lowered. We reduced closing costs and eliminated application fees and points.

With reductions like these, you can

<h1>8.65%</h1> First Year Initial Interest Rate/No Points	<h1>9.71%*</h1> Annual Percentage Rate

increase your purchasing power. For example, a household income of $45,000 can qualify you for a single family home costing up to $140,000.

If you're an individual who makes $35,000 or less, or two or more people who make $45,000 or less, there's an easy way to find out how much house you qualify for. Just call one of our First Step specialists. But, call right away because funds available at this rate are limited and a portion is designated for newly-built homes in Boston.

For details and an appointment call 499-1199 or 1-800-248-6005.

Put our strength to work for you.

BANK OF BOSTON

Certain conditions apply to this offer. *APR is for owner-occupied homes with 10% down payment for a term of 30 years and is based on index in effect on 6/16/89. The rate for the first 12 months will be 8.65% with equal monthly payments of $7.80 per thousand. The rate for the second 12 months will be 9.375% with equal monthly payments of $8.31 per thousand. The rate for the third 12 months will be 10.125% with equal monthly payments of $8.85 per thousand. After the first 3 years of your loan, changes in your interest rate will be based on an interest rate index. Assuming the index does not change, the rate for the remaining 324 payments would be 9.875% with equal monthly payments of $8.67 per thousand.

Community volunteers along with the staff of the Charlestown Community Schools delivered 125 fruit baskets to Charlestown shut-ins on behalf of Mayor Raymond L. Flynn. In what has become a Bunker Hill Week tradition, the volunteers braved the rain to bring a little cheer to those who cannot be up and about to enjoy the festivities.

Edwards Middle School Students Take Part In Edison Program

JOEL LABEE (third from left) demonstrates how a volt meter works, as part of Boston Edison's "Science and Technology: Keys to the Future" career-oriented classroom program. Assisting are (l. to r.): Joey Boyden, Nichole Williams and Siulan Wong of the C. R. Edwards Middle School in Charlestown. The program introduces middle school students to technical job possibilities and encourages them to study science, math and engineering. Labee is a senior electrical engineering student at Wentworth Institute in Boston. Wentworth and Boston Edison teamed up to present this program to students in the Boston Edison service area because of the increasing need to have students enter the science, engineering and math fields.

Graduate From Clarence R. Edwards Middle School

Twenty-one Charlestown eighth-graders attended the graduation ceremony held on June 15 at Bunker Hill Community College for the Clarence R. Edwards Middle School.

The Charlestown students were: Christine Bissett, Shannon Bowden, Christian Brennan, Anthony Ciampa, Stephen Coleman, David Delmedico, Jason Ezekiel, Jennifer Floranza, Gloria Fonesca, James Gillen, Joseph Kacvinsky, Kimberly Lavallee, Neil Lyman, William Lynch, Patrick Owens, Jamie Poole, Paul Saccardo, William Simpson, Monet Slekis, Jessica Souza and Ronnie Wood.

Of the graduating Charlestown students, three were honored with awards for their outstanding scholarly achievements: Bowden received the 1989 Collins Award; Owens received the 1989 American Legion Award; and Souza was the recipient of the American Legion Auxiliary Award.

The petitions dropped by Charlestown Healthy Aging Program (CHAP) volunteers at your local corner store or sub shop are there for you to sign! This is a chance for you to support the efforts of CHAP, concerned businesses, groups and residents of the Hayes Square area in their attempt to have a traffic light installed at the intersection of Vine and Bunker Hill streets. Although, past efforts have been unsuccessful there has not been direct community participation through a petition drive. The petitions will be available until June 30. If you would like one for your family or neighbors to sign, just contact the Kennedy Center at 241-8866. Volunteers will be gathering signatures outside of Johnnie's Foodmaster on June 23 and 30 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.. Don't just pass by these petitions without signing! Traffic problems are increasing in the town and cannot be ignored. Com-

Flatley Launches Schrafft Sailing Club For Charlestown's Youth

(continued from page one) picnic fare, and commemorative T-shirts and painters caps for all children. A sailing demonstration will also be given by Heidi Hibbon, the director of the club.

The Schrafft Sailing Club was founded to provide instruction, experience and sailing enjoyment for Charlestown children between 10 and 18 and will operate from the Schrafft Center waterfront.

The club's initial operating expense was funded by The Flatley Co., and the club is expected to become self-supporting through the donations of interested civic-minded organizations, individuals and businesses. Support for the club has already come from the Charlestown community and Schrafft Center tenants. Bank of New England, Target Productions, Creative Gourmet, and Mullen and Company all contributed toward the purchase of some of the Cape Cod Mercurys that will be in operation this summer.

All are welcome to join the celebration of the grand opening of the Schrafft Sailing Club on Thursday, June 29 at 1 p.m.

Kiwanis Club Announces Raffle Winners

David S. Carr, president of The Kiwanis Club of Charlestown, has announced that Jerry Wise of 523 Medford St. was the grand-prize winner of the seven-day trip to Aruba for two. When informed of his good fortune, Wise said, "That's great, how soon can I go?"

Tim Dineen, a Charlestown attorney whose offices are on Main Street, was the winner of the $350 cash prize. Dineen was also delighted with his good luck and generously donated $100 of his winnings back to the Kiwanis Club.

The winner of the dinner for four at Barrett's on Boston Harbour was Margaret O'Halloren of Charlestown. Ten Kiwanians turned out for the parade to march and raise money for their many local charities.

Carr said: "June 18 was not only a great day for Charlestown but a great day for the Kiwanis Club as well. Funds raised on Bunker Hill Day represent a large part of the club's total fund-raising activities, and we in Kiwanis are most grateful for the generous support of the people of Charlestown."

Thank You

As the recipient of the Old Schoolgirls 1989 scholarship, I would like to say thank you.

Since entering Springfield College two years ago, the costs have increased considerably and your scholarship will definitely help defray some of the expenses from my upcoming junior year. Most scholarships require criteria too numerous to mention, but your unique way of selecting winners at a random drawing gives all Charlestown college girls a fair and equal opportunity to win.

Please accept my sincere gratitude and appreciation for making this scholarship possible.

Sincerely,
Christine E. DeRoeve

Thank You Neighborhood Council

Dear Editor:

We would like to thank the members of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council for their courtesy in affording us the opportunity to present our concerns at the June 6 council meeting.

We thank each member of the council for the sacrifice they make in taking time from their busy lives to serve on the council and protect the interests of our community.

We also appreciate the efforts of the local press in responsibly reporting the issues which are of concern to all residents of Charlestown.

Once again, our thanks.

To The People Of Charlestown

I am writing in regards to the shooting that took place on the corner of Old Landing Way and Medford Street on June 14. I am the mother of a teen-age boy, a good boy, and I fear for his future in this town. It is boys like him that get caught in the crossfire. Everyone knows what is going on, who's shooting whom, and I believe that the police also know. Little children 8 to 12 years old talk about this on the streets. Adults too. I've heard them.

People all over town came up to me and asked if I was staying around for the parade. They said: "Word is it's gonna be bad around here. Many people will not be here for Sunday's parade."

What a shame that we would have to miss this wonderful day, which, I know for me, is filled with memories from my younger years. My anger told me to stay — this is my Town. But my fear for my children told me to leave. What is happening to this town?

So far we have been lucky that no innocent child has been hurt in the crossfire (yet), but I can't say that for Roxbury or Dorchester. What will it take to wake up the people of Charlestown? And the men in blue? I pray that it's not the blood of my children!

— A concerned mother

This Year's Festivities The Best Ever

Dear Editor,

Who could believe that the Bunker Hill Day Celebration would be more exciting and successful each year. And yet, all those volunteers who have contributed to the many events have made this year's festivities the best ever.

Although most people deemed it impossible to outdo last year's parade, the Bunker Hill Parade Committee has once again exceeded all expectations by putting together the most outstanding parade we have seen to date. While the great many bands participating in this event certainly added to the entertaining flavor of the parade, the energy and enthusiasm displayed by the committee in organizing such a memorable event deserves our special recognition. By once again dedicating themselves to excellence, the local residents were able to see a truly first-class parade.

The many other organizations that annually provide us with such wonderful entertainment on this important day also deserve our thanks. Their dedication and support in hosting such an outstanding array of activities is certainly reflective of the unique spirit of Charlestown.

In addition, the Bunker Hill Associates merit our praise. Their sponsorship of the overwhelmingly successful Bunker Hill Day Breakfast provided great enjoyment to all those who attended. No doubt, it has become a tradition that more and more people look forward to each year. To their membership, and to the many others who assisted in putting together this fine program of events, my heartiest congratulations.

Many thanks are also in order to the Charlestown Patriot, without whose competent staff, as well as professional and informative reporting of each day's occurrences, many people would not have been able to participate in this wonderful celebration. We are all indebted to the Patriot's outstanding staff for keeping us all informed of each day's events, and the historical significance of the overall celebration.

Finally, a special thanks to the people of Charlestown for the warm reception they offered me at each and every event. While I continue to work hard as the elected representative of Charlestown, it is certainly rewarding to know that I enjoy the friendship and support of so many.

Very truly yours,
Richard A. Voke
State Representative

If This Were A Romance, The Aquarium Has Asked Us To Dance

Dear Gloria,

I have followed with interest the aquarium's proposed move to the Navy Yard, and as a proponent to the Tudor Wharf project for the Rapids Furniture Warehouse site, have an interest in encouraging responsible development on the Charlestown waterfront. I have a reasonably good idea of the impacts projects of this size generate, and an appreciation for the investment required to plan and permit a project of this scope. There will be multiple opportunities for the community and public agencies to participate in the planning and review process. The program and designs will change, opportunities will be discovered, problems will be debated and resolved, and in the end there will be a project superior to whatever can be presented today.

The overwhelming preponderance of benefits to the community versus minor potential negative impacts suggests that those in opposition to the aquarium have some motive other than negotiating the aquarium for the best possible deal for the town. If this were a romance, the aquarium has just asked us to dance; to me, she's an attractive gal and I've got nothing to lose and everything to gain by accepting the invitation. What a missed opportunity it would be to not get to know her better!

So I've got to think that those opposing the aquarium are practicing plain old BRA-bashing along with a newly fashioned "not-in-my-backyard," no-growth argument. As we're talking about the aquarium here and not a proposed prison or sewage plant, make that "nothing-in-my-backyard."

I do understand BRA-bashing; a time-honored pastime most citizens have participated in at one time or another. They may not execute perfect master plans, and public agencies can be a little heavy-handed and slow afoot, but in this case let's not confuse the message with the messenger.

What's more troubling is the abuse of process perpetrated by those who believe Charlestown should be artificially preserved in some sort of time capsule. How can people expect the aquarium to now have all the answers to all the problems? It's a process folks, a long process that does work. There'll be problems, most likely solvable problems. There'll be impacts, and they will be minimized. But this aquarium wants to come to Charlestown and be part of the community. It's a great community and a great public institution. It would be a terrible shame to not welcome the aquarium wholeheartedly now, and sit down together and make it work.

Sincerely,
David R. Keller

I Don't Think Dry Dock 2 Is The Answer

Dear Editor:

Like many residents of the Navy Yard, and as a contributor to the aquarium, I was initially receptive to the idea of the aquarium's move. However, I have become disenchanted with the idea as more of the plans have been exposed. I object to the move to existing Dry Dock 2 on several counts:

1. The dry dock is an historical site and is part of a public park. The dry dock and the park represent one of the few well-maintained urban open spaces in Charlestown. The placement of the aquarium in this location would end the access of the public to the dry dock and would impact the park and the fountain with a population they were not designed to accept.

2. The indications are that the aquarium will receive the development rights to this public park for the sum of $1. I cannot accept the idea that any entity can access the public treasury in this manner. To my knowledge, the aquarium paid a similar fee for the land under its present site. I have not heard that the aquarium is willing to swap properties. The park is not a blighted area. It is a vibrant feature, used by children and adults. I can see no public benefit in selling it for a dollar.

3. The amount of vehicular and pedestrian traffic that will be introduced into Charlestown will add an additional environmental burden on a part of Boston that is still trying to recover from years of neglect by the city.

4. The aquarium management has indicated that it has studied other areas of the Navy Yard and locations outside Charlestown. While this may be true, it seems strange that a prime park area won out over other dry docks within the Navy Yard as well as such areas as the Little Mystic area of Charlestown or parts of East Boston or Chelsea.

5. The proposed structure will violate all the design and zoning precepts the Charlestown office of the BRA has mandated for other developers of BRA land within the Navy Yard. One must ask why there is a double standard. Other not-for-profit organizations building in the Yard were able to comply with all BRA requirements.

6. The final question is of course, who benefits from this project? Well, I don't know who benefits (beyond the New England Aquarium Corp.), but I do know who loses. It is the residents of Charlestown; the same residents who were promised a piece of the development pie in the form of construction jobs when the Yard was first developed; the same residents who can't afford housing in the Yard, let alone the $8 admission fee to the aquarium; the residents that are having an entire section of their town being turned into a highway interchange so that some commuter from New Hampshire or Marblehead can get to his office downtown 10 minutes faster.

If the aquarium needs to move that's fine, but have it move to an area that can support the traffic, both vehicular and pedestrian. I don't think Dry Dock 2 is the answer.

Yours truly,
Albert J. Santoro

Flynn: Put Kids To Work

To the Editor:

The other day I caught Mayor Ray Flynn on the 6 o'clock news commenting on getting jobs for "every teen-ager who wants to work." His unveiling of the city's summer job program for young people at a press conference in Dorchester's Wainwright Park is, hopefully, just the beginning. After all, the city can do just so much, and it will be up to the private sector to do its fair share because today's youth represents the city's adult population in the 21st century just around the corner.

Jobs are one of the weapons available to local government in fighting the war on drugs, while many neighborhoods in the city and countless communities across the nation are being destroyed.

If we can get kids off the streets and working, perhaps the lure of the drug pushers will be lessened to some degree in places like Dorchester, Mattapan, Roxbury and, yes, even Charlestown, because drugs are hurting all our neighborhoods and destroying kids of every race, creed and color. I hope Boston's efforts this summer meet with success because failure cannot be allowed to happen. Mayor Renie says, "Townies are #1," and being Number One means keeping your mind and body clear and clean from drugs!

Sincerely,
Sal Giarratani

I Remember The Old City Square

Dear Gloria,

Attending the groundbreaking ceremonies in City Square recently brought back memories of City Square from my "younger" days. I'd like to share them with you and my fellow "Townies."

I remember the late '30s when young women would meet their beaux and go to the Winter Garden Ballroom in City Square. The annual dance of the "Scotties" was quite an event when we'd dance to the music of Billy Reeves and his swinging band. The Scotties were a crowd of young men from all over town with names such as Brady, Sheehan, Burns, Curtin, Maguire, Lynch, Hickey, Crowley, Morey, Walsh, Anadore, Sutton, Whelan, O'Brien, Barry, Powers, Winnett, Donahue, Carver, Sullivan, Kelly, Harrington, Chisholm, Brennan, Helmond, Farley, Fleming, Furlong, Fitzpatrick and Carr.

Charlestown was so different at that time. On Monday and Saturday nights everyone walked to City Square for a night of dancing. If it was today, we would also have to walk — no place to park.

Other popular clubs of the time were Marion A.A., the Cameo Club and the John "Barney" Carver Associates. Many of the same young men belonged to one of these groups.

At this time Thomas Flaherty was our congressman, Owen Gallagher was running for district attorney, John Down ran for sheriff, John Doherty was our representative, John Connolly was clerk of the state Superior Court, Robert E. Lee was running for senator and David (Davey) Powers was running for Ward 2's representative to the House!

I can remember Chelsea Street in these heydays, with Gordon Drug, Charlie's Restaurant, Shorty's Pool Room, Mina's Lunch, the Patricia Joan Beauty Shop, the law offices of Thomas F. Fitzpatrick, City Square Florist Shop and many, many more. Oh, to think back on all the good times!

All the good people who made up our town then, and each, in their own way, were the leaders of our small community. I look back and think of them with respect.

There are just a few of us left, but we remember, and we are happy that we were a part of those days.

Kay Whelan

He reported that a man approached him, pulled out a knife and threatened to stab him if he didn't move the truck. With a description of the suspect, the officers went to an Elm Street address where they placed the suspect, a 24-year-old male resident, under arrest. The knife was recovered in the suspect's vehicle.

At 1:15 p.m., Officer Linskey and Detectives Peirway and Peacock observed a shotgun shell in a motor vehicle with three occupants on Decatur Street. At 4:45 a.m., Officers Ridlon and Boyle observed a motor vehicle being driven on the wrong side of Medford Street. ## Rolinson Makes Bay State Metro Team As Field Hockey Goalie

Amy Rolinson of Charlestown, a junior at Winthrop High School, tried out and was selected to tend goal for the Bay State Metro field hockey team. She made the team even after being away from the field for a year.

Rolinson, who played goalie for her high school team as a freshman and sophomore, was unable to play this year since Winthrop High cancelled the program because of a lack of student participation during the 1988-89 season.

She will play in the Bay State Finals July 13-16 at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Turf Field in Cambridge.

Awarded Varsity Letters At Don Bosco

Charlestown students at Don Bosco Technical High School recently received their varsity letters for sports excellence at the school's 35th Annual Sports Award Night. All athletes who competed in a sport during the academic year were the guests of the Booster Club Board.

Presented with letters were: Rory Doherty of 32 Mead St., a junior, for football; Peter Enos of 6 Cook St., a senior, Kevin Feeney of 11 Walker St., a senior, and Brian Feeney of 11 Walker St., a junior, all for hockey; Derek Gallagher of 75 Tibbetts Town Way, a junior, for basketball; Sean Buckley of 332A Main St., a junior, for cross country; Matt Shea of 39 Mead St., a junior, for spring track; Michael Walsh of 51 Sullivan St., a senior, Garrett McCarthy of 8 Prospect St., a senior, both for swimming and water polo; and Steve Kimball of 8 Parker St., a junior, for football and water polo.

Kevin Feeney was also named a Catholic Conference All-Star in hockey.

McComber, Carrington Lead Townies In BHA Basketball Jamboree Bid

A young Charlestown delegation represented the Bunker Hill Housing Development in the opening round of the BHA Jamboree held at Don Bosco on Saturday, June 17.

Despite a relatively short practice period (only a week) these Townies did quite well, defeating the Lenox Development 40-16 in their opening game. But the team was knocked out by a pretty experienced Old Harbor squad from South Boston in game two of the day.

Joe McComber and Ron Carrington led the Charlestown squad in both games. Stephen Mahan, Mike Erardi, Bill Barrends, Ken O'Neil, Mike Bassett and Shawn Newhall were the other team members. The team was coached by Bob DeCristoforo and Roger Britton.

The "Bunker Hill" Townies hope to see some more basketball action in the near future.

****

Note from the coach: Special congratulations to Bill Barrends and Joe Erardi, who are recent graduates of the Back to School program in Charlestown.

North Area Project

by David Flanagan

Community Liaison, Mass. Dept. of Public Works

The Massachusetts Department of Public Works (MDPW) will sponsor a public discussion on the CANA project on Thursday, June 29 at 7 p.m. at the CANA Field Office Complex, 250 Front St. (at Rutherford Avenue) directly adjacent to the Bunker Hill Community College parking lot.

The topics to be covered include:

- the recent changes on City Square streets;
- an overview of the upcoming tunnel construction schedule; and
- a question-and-answer period.

This meeting marks the first occasion that the community meeting room at the Field Office has been used publicly. The Field Office Complex is wheel-chair-accessible and ample parking is available. For those walking to the meeting, police officers will be assigned to Rutherford Avenue at City Square to help pedestrians cross the street.

When the CANA ambulance facility was designed, it was done so with the provision that the grounds be landscaped. Well, it didn't take long to realize that the best person for the job was none other than our own Jim Hall of the Charlestown Community Gardens.

CANA engineer Tony Petronio and I visited the garden on June 12 and formally asked Jim to do the landscaping. Upon hearing our plans, Jim was determined to make the facility one which we could all be proud of and he certainly has succeeded. To top it off, Jim and the gang over at the Gardens worked non-stop in the rain to ensure that the grounds would be ready for the Bunker Hill Day Parade.

On behalf of the MDPW I would like to thank Jim, Rob Borden, Bill Hennessey and Ron Taylor for the tremendous landscaping job they did.

*****

If you have any questions concerning the CANA project, please contact David Flanagan at the CANA hot line 241-5560 or 973-7500.

Fifth Annual Senior Center Day At City Hall Plaza

The Boston Commission on Affairs of the Elderly is sponsoring the fifth annual Senior Center Day on Friday, June 23 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Boston City Hall Plaza in the North Stage Area.

Senior Center Day is an opportunity for Boston senior centers and clubs to fund raise by selling their wares. Entertainment will be provided throughout the day by seniors from approximately 25 centers, and some 500 elders are expected to attend.

In addition, a newly printed "Senior Consumer's Handbook" will be available.

New Consumer Handbook Available For Boston's Senior Citizens

Boston's senior citizens now have new allies in their fight against consumer rip-offs, fraud and unfair treatment, thanks to the Mayor's Office of Consumer Affairs and Licensing and the city's Elderly Affairs Commission, with assistance from Attorney General James Shannon.

A newly printed 92-page "Senior Consumer's Handbook" will be unveiled as older residents from all parts of the city gather for the annual Senior Center Day at Boston City Hall Plaza on June 23 at 10 a.m.

The new handbook is full of useful information, painstakingly gathered and assembled, that will help Boston Seniors protect themselves and access services more quickly and easily. Topics and referral sources include: home improvement contract protection, condo conversion, subsidized housing, nursing homes, generic drug savings, health insurance, public services, and estate planning/funeral arrangements - all areas of vital interest and concern for our older population, their families, care providers and advocates.

WHY GOD CANNOT HELP YOU

The Bible was given to man by God primarily to show man how to be saved from sin. The Bible says, "The Lord is . . . not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance." (II Pet. 3:9). But God cannot help someone to get saved from sin who will not recognize his need of salvation. Many sinners, instead of acknowledging their sinful lost condition, seek to justify their condition by insisting that they are good and not as bad as many others. The Bible says, "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy." (Proverbs 28:13). Every man, no matter how good he is, is a sinner. Every man needs God's Salvation. Jesus Christ died for your sins and rose again so that you may be saved from sin. Have you ever had a time when you by faith confessed your sin and accepted Jesus Christ as your Savior? If not, why not now? Write or call for free literature on being Saved. Come to Church this Sunday morning.

Word From St. Croix . . .

Bill and Dolly Charbonnier, formerly of Perkins Street, have written to let their friends and former neighbors know that they "really enjoy all the beauty the island offers," — the island being St. Croix! The Charbonniers moved from Charlestown a year ago.

They proudly announce that their son Edward made the spring semester dean's list at Emerson College with a GPA of 3.43. He is majoring in English. He'll be going to Holland to further his studies in the fall.

Their daughter Dorothy has been accepted to an interdisciplinary master's program at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. She will begin graduate psychology work this fall in the area of brain research. "Dolly" has earned a certificate in gerontology from the University of Massachusetts Medical Center at its Center on Aging in Worcester. She is a 1988 graduate of Clark University.

Edward and Dorothy are the grandchildren of Leah McCann of Pearl Street.

Adult Substance Abuse Group Has Openings

The Kennedy Center's substance abuse program currently has openings in its Adult Substance Abuse Treatment groups for individuals 18 and over who want help getting and staying drug- and alcohol-free.

Those interested in being considered for these evening groups may contact Joanne Tuller or Hil Ohrstrom at 241-8866.

The Art Of Giving

Charlestown Taverns 'Score A Run' For Dana-Farber's Jimmy Fund

Five Charlestown taverns are stepping up to the plate to "Score-A-Run for the Jimmy Fund," in a fund-raising program sponsored by Anheuser-Busch and its Massachusetts wholesalers. Now in its second year, "Score-A-Run" has generated more than $40,000 for Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and its Jimmy Fund. This year's goal is $100,000, with the program running from now through July 12.

Participating from Charlestown are Gentlemen Jim's, Sullivan Cafe, Sully's Pub, Town Lyne Cafe and the Warren Tavern.

To participate, tavern employees sell paper baseballs to their patrons at a cost of $1 or $5 for a larger All-Star version. The patron "autographs" the ball which is then posted behind the bar. The bartender keeps score by tracking donations on a poster depicting a baseball diamond. Each time the $200 mark is reached, the bar's team has "scored a run" for the Jimmy Fund. Tavern patrons and employees are winners, too. Four players from the "team" that scores the most runs, and two from the second-place team will visit Red Sox spring training camp in Winter Haven, Fla. in March of 1990. Six randomly-selected teams also will be able to send two "players" to Florida.

Dana-Farber Cancer Institute is home to the Jimmy Fund. It has been the official charity of the Boston Red Sox for 35 years. Dana-Farber is a comprehensive cancer center and a world leader in both cancer research and treatment for children and adults.

Three Charlestown Officers Receive Awards For Service

by Rosa Freda

Three Municipal Building police officers from Charlestown were presented with awards, along with 20 other municipal officers at an awards dinner held in their honor on June 19 by the city of Boston. The city of Boston sponsors award dinners for employees of different police divisions to raise money for the McGrath Scholarship started last year. The Municipal Building Awards Dinner raised $1,500.

Boston Chief of Police Robert P. Francis presented the awards to the three men.

Officer Daniel Ring was awarded the Police Star Award for his participation in a $150,000 drug bust at the Sumner Tunnel on Sept. 29, 1988.

Officer William Keener received the Investigator of the Year Award for making the largest number of arrests.

Officer Daniel James Hingston was awarded the Chief's Award for the outstanding dedication and hard work he displayed at his assigned post.

Besides the police awards that evening, the McGrath Scholarship for $1,000 was given to Brian McGrath, brother of the late Officer Robert McGrath. The McGrath Scholarship is administered by the Charlestown Boys and Girls Club.
