Stone-Like Veneer Slips

Made from 100% Natural Clay and fired in Kilns, these wall cladding Veneer tiles resembling stone textures, provide a classic appearance for internal and external walls.

Generally applied using multiple blends and sizes that range from 200mm to 300mm long and width being the same as of 65mm, these tiles add a unique value to the wall.

Fired on above 1000 Celsius these tiles ensure that the colours are everlasting and can prove to withstand extreme weather conditions.

Stone-Like Wall Tiles

Again these ones are comprised of fired natural clay, these wall cladding tiles come with some heavy and brittle stone textures, that enhance the authenticity of the facing.

Can be applied with one-colour or blending with a fixed size of 270mm x135mm, these tiles are made with least possible thickness to keep them lightweight yet strong.

Fade proof for their lifetime, they appear to enhance their charming effect with the passage of time, specially after wet weathers.
