

Olga Steshina Curriculum Vitae

I'm 43 years old. I was born 30.06.1976 in the family of engineers in Minsk and I am living in my native city almost all my life.

In 1988-1990, due to my father's business trip, I lived with my parents and brother in the GDR and studied there in a Soviet school. In 1993, I graduated from the 65th gymnasium in Minsk with an in-depth study of English. In 1997, I graduated from the Belarusian state University of Economics.

I received a bachelor's degree in accounting, analysis and audit in foreign economic activity. Immediately after graduating from the University, I started working in Belarusbank. I have been working there for 22.5 years.

For most of my career, I have worked with clients - legal entities and individual entrepreneurs. First in the field of currency control, then in corporate business. I really liked working with people, helping them understand the intricacies of various laws. I had experience of managing people for 8 years. I was a fairly loyal leader. This type of leadership is called a leader-friend.

Now I work in the corporate business Department, my work is related to the development of instructions and automation of business processes occurring in the Bank.

I love my job. In addition, I am interested in reading books, drawing, art in the broadest sense of the word, travel and ecology. I am also interested in the issues of conflicts between different people and countries, as well as the reasons for people's behavior in different situations.
