Charlestown Pride Week Set For June 6 - 12

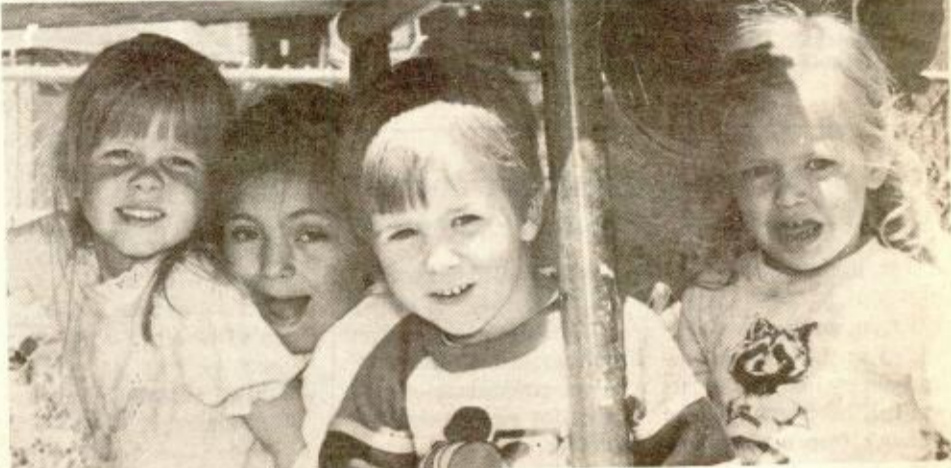

A series of six community events make Charlestown the place to be June 6 through 12 as the Bunker Hill Associates announced this week final plans for

"Charlestown Pride Week, 1987."

According to James Carroll, President of Bunker Hill Associates, Charlestown Pride Week is a special community service project of the Associate's and will be funded in part through funds generated by the Associates' 1986 Bunker Hill Day Breakfast.

He says the idea is to stage a series of events that will draw residents together (continued on page 3)

Balloon Launch And Open House Mark ABCD's 25th Birthday

HEAD START YOUNGSTERS took part in the celebration of Action for Boston Community Development's 25th Birthday. The events, sponsored by the Kennedy Center, included a balloon launch, which was attended by youngsters from the Head Start Program, and an Open House at the Center's Senior Lounge. Life Focus Center To Play In Special Athletic Competition

The Life Focus Center is set to play its Ninth Annual Special Athletic competition on Wednesday night, May 27, at 7:00 p.m. at the Charlestown High School Gym, 255 Main Street.

This year, the Center has over 100 retarded and handicapped children and adults competing for medals and trophies.

The community is invited to attend and cheer for its favorite athletes.

Navy Yard Residents Demand More Parking Spaces

by Kathy Giordano
In response to a request from residents of the Charlestown Navy Yard, representatives from the City of Boston Transportation Department and Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) held a meeting on Wednesday, May 13, to discuss possible solutions to the parking problem in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Pat Jones of the City of Boston Transportation Department presented a program of combined residential permit parking and parking meters.

The metered parking will involve short term meters operating between 8:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m., Mondays through Saturdays. (continued on page 5)

Testing Of Young Children Underway By The Boston School Department

The Boston School Department is testing young children, not presently enrolled in the schools, for early entry into Kindergarten I, Kindergarten II, and Grade I, from now through May 29th.

Parents may seek waivers for early entry for these children who became ineligible for regular entrance next September when the Boston School Committee recently voted to raise the school entrance age.

The children who are eligible for this screening were born between September 1 and December 31 of 1981, 1982, 1983.

The assessing program aims to measure the child's developmental age or readiness for school next September.

Parents interested in seeking waivers to permit early entry are asked to call 726-6200, extensions 5341, 5395, 5652, or 5658 or the nearest school District Office to arrange a screening appointment.

The screening program will be conducted in school District Offices from mid-afternoon through early evening.

during the days leading up to Bunker Hill Day, 1987. By promoting the events as a special week-long series, the Associates hope to draw attention to the Charlestown community through exposure in the Boston news media. The objective is a positive impression of the community, he added.

According to Carroll, "Pride Week" begins Saturday, June 6, when the Associates kick-off a Charlestown Youth "Field Day" at the Charlestown High School Athletic Field on Medford Street. From 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., local youngsters will be invited to participate in skill games, athletic contests and a special barbecue.

Highlights will include availability all day of the Boston Police Athletic League's "Sportsmobile" as well as T-Shirts for all participating youngsters. Assisting P.A.L. and the Associates in sponsorship of the Field Day is the City of Boston Parks and Recreation Department.

"Pride Week" will bring local residents to the Charlestown Navy Yard on Sunday, June 7, when Immobiliare Corporation hosts a special "kick-off" of its Summer Sailing Program which will be available to advanced sailing enthusiasts as well as adult beginners. To highlight the new program, which will supplement a separate youth program to be conducted by the City of Boston, Immobiliare will sponsor a day of free Harbor Cruises and will be serving refreshments from 11:00 a.m. through 4:00 p.m. at Pier Four in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

From Sailing to Basketball, Pride Week returns to the Charlestown High School/Quinn Memorial Athletic Complex on Monday evening, June 8, when a team of Charlestown Basketball "legends" challenge the Mayor Ray Flynn All-Stars.

Tap-off is at 7:00 p.m. The game, which will feature such noted basketball stars as Bobby Smith and Kevin O'Hallorhan, is a benefit fund-raiser for the newly reorganized Charlestown Pop Warner Football Program.

For music enthusiasts, June 10, 11 and 12 should be the highlight of Pride Week.

On Wednesday evening, the Halligan Club will sponsor an evening of Irish entertainment featuring the "O'Callaghans" Show Band. Billed as the "Charlestown Mayors' Concert," the event will honor all past and present Charlestown Mayors and Roses. Location for the Halligan Club concert is West School Street, which will be closed to vehicular traffic.

The music continues on Thursday afternoon, June 11, when the City of Boston

Elderly Affairs Commission and Boston Parks and Recreation Department team-up to host an Elderly Picnic and afternoon of music featuring entertainer Angelo Picardi. Preliminary plans call for staging this event in the Charlestown Navy Yard. More details on this particular event will be available in the next issue of The Charlestown Patriot.

Friday evening, June 12, Charlestown Pride Week closes out with another special musical event, a reunion concert of Bunker Hillbillies Alumni which takes place at the Bunker Hill Monument at 7:00 p.m. The sponsor is local real estate broker Tim Walsh of Walsh Associates, who notes the concert will also feature a performance of the newest edition of the Bunker Hillbillies.

HOW ADJUSTABLE RATE MORTGAGES WORK

Many prospective homebuyers avoid Adjustable Rate Mortgages (ARM's) because they prefer certainty about what their housing expenses will be over the years they plan to own their home. Today's ARM's, however, are at least predictable enough to warrant serious consideration.

To make ARM's attractive, lenders offer lower initial interest rates than those for thirty year fixed loans. Then they ask the borrower to share some of the risks of future rate fluctuations in the marketplace. The initial rate applies for a specific time, usually one or three years. Then the bank can adjust it up or down. The new rate will be pegged to some percentage point above an average rate for a pool of one to three year Treasury notes. Most ARM's now have limits to how much they can go up or down at any one adjustment (usually one or two percentage points per period), as well as over the life of the loan (usually five percentage points). Your Realtor is a great source of information about the various financing options available, and he or she can show you how to comparison shop among lenders for the best loan on your new home.

Life Behind The Wall

by Ronan FitzPatrick

Harnum Crane Corporation was involved with strategic positioning off First Avenue, bordering the Public Pier. Their heavy equipment has been observed over the past few weeks. Anticipating major projects, the crew will be within the confines of the imminent future. In operating vehicles along this stretch, be sure to exercise prudent care and be cognizant of the potential entering and exiting of the aforementioned.

Maybe it was prepared with invisible ink, but the "For Rent" sign on the northern Shipway commercial units needs a touch up. The inscription of a number or an individual to contact would return a much needed response. Occupying a great location across from Shipway Marina, caveat emptor.

Return of the Native — not the Thomas Hardy rendition some encountered on their road to matriculation, but the "Townie" version. Developer Bill Ezekiel has taken residence in the Shipway I condominium complex. In between unpacking with a fatherly eye on sons, Liam and Coner, he stated he was pleased to be back in the Town. Looking forward to ten to twelve months of site work, coupled with hearings, his most recent designated parcel, bound by Ninth Street and Second Avenue, will become a long awaited accomplishment. Consisting of affordable as well as market rate housing, Bill will bring on line a finished product that will enhance the Yard. A returning welcome to the Billy Ezekiel family.

Entering its fifth week, the water taxi was being enjoyed by numerous commuters to Boston. Arriving at Long Wharf exhilarated, the passengers depart for their daily employment or, in some cases, a shopping spree. The 8:20 a.m. departure from Pier Four and the 5:35 p.m. departure from Long Wharf are quite popular. Viewing the absent faces on the Andre shuttle bus, the combined project of Boston Harbor Cruises and the Boston Redevelopment Authority has made converts. As the program advances, the daily count will be the litmus test.

Appearing on an early, pleasant spring morning was a new gate at the Shipway's entrance. Its value in maintaining the landscape and adjoining property is a necessity.

With the official opening of Shipyard Marina, beware the spikes that strike. A valid parking permit card is needed to proceed onto Pier Eight. Those that don't heed the warning, will assist the general economy and reduce their own, purchasing new tires.

As the yachting season grows, more and more traffic snarls the area. To avoid unpleasantness, common vehicle sense should be demonstrated. Once again, for guests, especially weekend ones, following the signs to the parking garage at Building 199 on Thirteenth Street is the most logical solution. We all look forward to a safe and sound summer season.

Russo's Marine Mart, Inc. was servicing numerous new and existing yachts over the past month on Pier Eight. Their maintenance and brokerage reputation is highly respected. For quick and efficient work, give them a call at 395-0050. Why waste precious time, let a professional do a professional job.

With patio furniture in place, the residents of Anchorage Apartment Building 103 are ready for the good times. Charlestown Harborside certainly rivals the best on the East Coast for basking in the sun and viewing the soon to be populated water routes. Nice job, folks. May the sun shine constantly during your summer festivities.

The area where meters will be placed are: First Avenue, between Sixth and 13th Streets on the left hand side, and between Dry Dock Two and Eighth Street on the right hand side; Sixth Street; Seventh Avenue; and Eighth Street, between First and Third Avenues. Arthur Reilly of the BRA stated that meters have been requested by the businesses located in that area to allow them access to parking spaces for their customers.

Jones also presented a proposed Residential Permit Parking Program for the residents to consider. At the present time, there are approximately 600 residents in the Navy Yard with only 100 parking spaces available to them. The areas that would be open to permit parking are on the right hand side of First Avenue, between Eighth and 13th Streets and on Eighth Street. Permit parking would be allowed at the meters after 6:00 p.m. and up until 8:00 a.m. Jones stated that in order for a Residential Permit Parking Program to come into the Yard, 51 percent of the residents must sign a petition requesting it. After the petitions are returned to the Transportation Department, the process would take six to eight weeks before it would become effective.

Residents strongly voiced their concerns that metered parking would eventually be extended to other areas thus eliminating even more available parking spaces for them. Arthur Reilly assured them that this would not happen but restated the need for meters in the business area. Jones stated that "meters would not be placed around residential buildings, only in the commercial area."

One resident stated, "100 percent of the residents are against meters placed anywhere" in the Navy Yard.

Many voices were raised at the same time making it impossible for Jones and Reilly to answer questions from the floor. When it quieted down, angry residents demanded that the BRA first address the problem of parking in the Navy Yard before any future development takes place. One man stated that the BRA is "making more and more dwellings with less and less parking" available for future tenants. Jones stated that "Residential Permit Parking will alleviate out of state cars and double and sometimes triple parking." Residents requested that the BRA include another parking garage in their future development plans for the Navy Yard. The existing garage in Building 199 at the corner of Fifth Avenue and 13th Street can accommodate 1,200 cars but is not open 24 hours a day thus is not appropriate for residential use. Many residents stated that they would be willing to use this garage for themselves and their visitors if it were more available to meet their needs. Reilly stated that this garage is privately owned but agreed that it would be beneficial to both the owner and the residents if it was open 24 hours a day.

By the end of the meeting, all in attendance agreed to the petition process for Residential Permit Parking. Jones stated that this program "can help but can't be a cure-all," and "this plan would remain in effect until a better plan comes along."

USS Constitution Will Fire Salute To Memorial Day

The USS Constitution, the United States Navy's oldest commissioned ship, will fire a 21-gun-salute to Memorial Day in honor of all veterans of the American Armed Forces who have died serving their country in time of war.

The first gun will fire at noon on May 25 and will be followed with additional shots at one minute intervals.

The 21-gun-salute is a time honored ceremony that is performed by designated saluting batteries on Memorial Day or Independence Day or to honor the President of the United States or the heads of foreign states.

The USS Constitution is located at Pier One in the Charlestown Navy Yard, National Historical Park. The ceremony is open to the general public.

Thank You

The parents of Mike Maruzzi want to thank the members of the Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society for their generous donations collected on the bus trip home from the Cape.

My Thanks

I would like to thank the friends who helped me and my family following the recent fire in our home. We appreciate your help and support.

A Big Thank You

The Charlestown Headstart and Daycare Program would like to extend a big thank you to Dan Silva of Century 21 for the refrigerator that he donated to our program recently and to Judy Evers of the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services who was responsible for finding the refrigerator for us. Again thanks, Dan and Judy!

Charlestown Residents — Wake-Up!

Charlestown residents, wake-up! Take up your pens and telephones to let your representatives, senators and the Mayor know that we do not want a material transfer site in Charlestown!

There is a transfer site under the Gilmore Bridge already. It is polluting our air and environment. It draws scavengers and rodents. The stench from it is sickening. Is it any wonder the incidence of lung problems among Charlestown residents is high?

The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority wants to locate a second transfer site on the other side of Charlestown. This would bring over a hundred trucks a day through Charlestown.

Let the politicians and the State Secretary of Environmental Affairs and Chairman of the MWRA James Hoyte know we do not want the transfer site in our town.

BRA Supports Retention Of "Neck-Downs" On Main Street

Commissioner Robert Tierney
Executive Office of Transportation and Construction
Department of Public Works
Commonwealth of Massachusetts
Ten Park Plaza
Boston, Massachusetts 02116
RE: Reconstruction - Main Street Charlestown
Federal Aid No. IX-95-1-(009)

Dear Mr. Tierney:

We have received numerous requests from the Charlestown Merchants Association and the community to reconsider the Main Street reconstruction project in Charlestown. The project, federal aid No. IX-95-1-(009), to reconstruct Main Street from Sullivan Square to City Square is currently underway by John Mahoney Construction Company, Inc.

The small stretch from Wood to Sullivan Streets was reconstructed with "neck-downs" on the north side nearly 12 years ago. As currently planned, the project would eliminate the "neck-downs" and narrow the street width by relocating the curb line approximately six feet. We have examined this change and believe it would be beneficial to the project to leave these improvements in place. The Charlestown Neighborhood Council has also reviewed this proposed change in the plan and has informed the BRA that they also support the request by the Merchants Association. Therefore, we request the Department of Public Works issue a change order to the project calling for the retention of the existing curb in these five short blocks and repave the street to the existing curb line. This change should result in a credit for the project.

If additional reviews are required with other agencies to implement this change, please contact Paul Reavis, Assistant Director for Engineering and Design Services.

Sincerely,
Stephen Coyle, Director,
Boston Redevelopment Authority

"We Remember Them"

At the rising of the sun and at its going down
At the blowing of the wind and the chill of winter
We remember them.

At the opening of the buds and the rebirth of Spring
At the blueness of the skies and the warmth of Summer
We remember them.

At the beginning of each year and, when it ends
As long as we live, they too will live
For they are now a part of us.
When we are weary and in need of strength
And lost and sick at heart
We remember them.

When we have joy we crave to share and we
Have decisions that are difficult to make
We remember them.

As long as we live, they too will live
For they are now a part of us.

The servicemen of our great country
On this day we'll always say
God bless you,
We will always remember.

Community Updated On Central Artery North Area Project

Residents were provided an update on the Central Artery North Area roadway reconstruction project by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works (MDPW). The Tuesday night meeting was the first since the initial phase of the project got underway on May 7 with the closing of the Charlestown exit from the Central Artery and the northbound ramp connecting Route I-93 with the Tobin Bridge.

Glen Sadulsky, Project Manager from Howard Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff, provided an overview of the project which will reconnect the Tobin Bridge to I-93 through a series of tunnels beneath City Square and viaduct connectors. The project will reconfigure the Route 1 and I-93 interchange, addressing public safety concerns and eliminating the reverse curve in that area.

Sadulsky stated that this project involves seven separate contracts. He said that the pre-load contract was almost completed and the contract for the temporary detour structure was now underway, with a completion date of some 18 months. He said that he sees the tunnel construction starting early next year and taking four years to complete.

While the tunnels are under construction, the viaduct construction will be

Children's Films

The Film Program for Children will be presented at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street on Tuesday, May 26 at 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The features will include "Bear Trouble," which tells the story of a lazy bear who disturbs the small animals in the woods; Donald Duck unknowingly starts a fire in "Fire Chief Donald;" and George decides to be a paper boy in "Curious George Rides A Bike."

At 3:30 p.m., an additional film, "The Orphan Lions," will be shown. In this film, beautiful wildlife photography captures this story of survival.

gin, stated Sadulsky. He also noted that the utility companies — gas, electric and telephone, are doing their own construction in the area, outside the purview of the MDPW.

Sadulsky also announced that the bids for the contract to demolish the Armed Services YMCA building in City Square were opened on Tuesday and the agency hopes to award that contract in three to four weeks.

He noted that MDPW would be opening a site office next to Bunker Hill Community College very shortly. David Flanagan, Community Liaison for MDPW stated that it will be easier for the staff to address complaints and concerns when they are operating from the immediate area of the construction project.

One of the conditions in the awarding of funds for the project by the Federal Highway Administration is that the design plans include parking for 16 buses to be utilized by the National Park Service (NPS) for visitors to the Historical Park in the Charlestown Navy Yard. According to John Debo of the NPS, this provision was included to compensate the NPS for land areas taken for previous road work.

Gus Driessen of the Berger Lochner Consulting and Engineering Team, presented five schemes to the gathering utilizing the land designated as Parcel 1, which is bounded by Chelsea and the new Warren Street extension and Constitution Road.

The variations in the five schemes located the parking facility from the northwesterly side to the center to the City Square side of the parcel. Drawbacks to several of the proposed plans included one entrance/exit on Constitution Road, making the turn around of a bus difficult and in some instances impossible. Thus buses may be forced to back out of the parking area.

Driessen said there is no one plan, in fact, aspects of all five designs could be combined and then one selected that would meet with the approval of the residents.

Asked as to what purpose the parcel would serve after the completion of the road work, Sadulsky stated that this was always slated to be a development parcel. He said that the MDPW will leave the area as park space until a developer is awarded the parcel. He did note that the parking facility would have to be incorporated with the development at that future date.

One resident asked whether the inclusion of the parking facility on this site (which will also contain a tunnel ventilation building) would decrease the value of the parcel to a developer. He also expressed concern that with the parking facility there, it might be extended, making the whole area black topped. Sadulsky said that the MDPW will be talking with the city and the community as to how the parcels will be developed.

Dan Jaffee noted that at previous meetings, discussion centered around the parking area being located on the northern side of the parcel, nearest to the NPS property, thus leaving the area toward City Square open for development.

Annette Tecce asked if the MDPW had taken into consideration the retention of the two historic streets (Gray and Joiner) that presently cross that parcel. She felt that the current streetscape should be maintained, even as walkways.

Dan Jaffee suggested that the streets as they now stand, divide the parcel into thirds and that the area between Gray Street and the NPS be designated for parking. He also suggested another access be created opposite the bus turn around for the National Park. Jaffee also noted that previous discussions had included talk of a single level garage on that site with building on top. He stated that "if you are talking about a five story garage, you are wrong."

Ken Stone suggested the MDPW, NPS and the North Area Task Force sit down to discuss the parking site. Frank Sholock, Deputy Director of MDPW's I-90/I-93 project agreed to work in such a forum to seek alternatives. He said that a developer for that parcel might find other parking for the buses and develop the whole parcel. He also said that underground parking was a possibility and that, in fact, there were many options and it is "still wide open."

Marilyn Darling asked what the deadline was on this decision, to which Sholock responded that the final tunnel designs, which would include this parking provision, were due by October 1st.

NPS's John Debo stated that they were sensitive to design issues and would like to collaborate on a design that all could live with in the future. He said that it makes sense to keep the parking nearest the NPS and that they want to pursue the design issue to get an optimal design configuration for the 72 automobiles or 16 buses. He did note that this location is desirable only if there are no options.

Debo stated that it is conceivable that Building 199 or structures yet unbuilt in the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) portion of the Navy Yard might accommodate the NPS visitors, with assistance from the MDPW on shuttle service. He said the NPS will continue to work on this possibility. He noted if the BRA option doesn't work out, "its back to Parcel 1."

Asked about parking under the Tobin Bridge on Massport property, Debo stated that NPS has pursued this for six years and the NPS felt that they couldn't meet the Massport conditions concerning liability, access for maintenance of the overhead structure, and safety. He said that the NPS has "stepped back" from this site and doesn't consider it a viable alternative.

Glen Sadulsky stated that a Memorandum of Understanding is being drafted by the MDPW and that it will be available for review by the city and the community, which will be represented by members of the North Area Task Force. Sholock stated that when the representatives from the city and the community are identified, the group will start with the draft document and have a series of meetings to "hammer out the details."

Bill Lamb announced that the next working meeting of the North Area Task Force will be held on Thursday, May 28th at 7:30 p.m. Ken Stone added that they have been meeting in private homes for lack of meeting space. He said that they hope to secure meeting space shortly so their meetings could be open to everyone. It was suggested that persons interested in the Task Force meeting, contact Elaine McCarthy at 242-3618.

Following the meeting, Ken Stone and Elaine McCarthy asked David Flanagan as to the present location of the ambulance that had been stationed in the Thompson Square area in rush hours during the first days of the project.

Flanagan stated that Victor Capocia, Assistant to the Commissioner of Health and Hospitals for the City of Boston had told him that the ambulance is not currently assigned to Charlestown. Flanagan said that a report from Capocia stated that they were as committed to the deployment of emergency services in Charlestown as the state is in funding same.

He said that there was not sufficient personnel nor equipment to base a unit in Charlestown at this time and they felt that presently, the response time hasn't changed from prior to the start of construction. Flanagan indicated that the report stated that Health and Hospitals is in the process of hiring new personnel and bringing on new equipment and that they felt that when the impact on City Square was more dramatic, there would be a commitment to station a unit here.

According to statistics in Flanagan's possession, Health and Hospitals am-balances responded to 23 calls in Charlestown between May 7 and May 12. The breakdown as to the time and number of calls was:

midnight to 6 a.m. — 4
6 a.m. to 10 a.m. — 4
10 a.m. to 4 p.m. — 4
4 p.m. to 8 p.m. — 3
8 p.m. to midnight — 8

The report noted that eight of the calls were in high traffic times and that the response time was maintained. The average response was reported to be 5.5 minutes.

Flanagan also reported that traffic mitigation in City Square was put to a test on Wednesday morning when an 18-wheeler took a wrong turn onto Front Street and then a left in front of the YMCA. As the truck pulled out into City Square, the driver ran over the sidewalk and in doing so, ruptured the fuel tank of the truck.

The police in City Square directed the vehicle into the unused roadway in the center of City Square so that the flow of traffic would not be impeded. The police, fire and special hazards units were called to the scene, sanded the area, made temporary repairs on the ruptured tank and escorted the truck out of the area.

Flanagan said that it took approximately an hour to handle the situation and that traffic disruption was minimal.

Controversy Arises Following Neighborhood Council - BRA Meeting

The question as to whether all meetings of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council should be open to the public arose following the Monday night meeting of the Council's Development/Housing Committee with the staff of the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) in the site office in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Council President John Tobin said that he has gotten the sense from a few people on the Council and from people in the community that they think everything in the Navy Yard is a "done deal" and the Charlestown Neighborhood Council is making decisions without telling the community and "we're doing something very secretive."

"That's not the case," stated Tobin, "and I want to make that very clear."

Tobin explained that the Council is at the very beginning of a process that will take several months. He said, "All we are doing is trying to get organized and formulate some kind of a process on how we are going to work."

He went on to say that Monday night's Development and Housing Committee meeting, under the chairmanship of Tom Cunha, was the first in what will be a series of committee meetings on the Navy Yard. Tobin said that during the next two weeks, the Public Safety Committee, chaired by Dennis McLaughlin, and the Human/Basic Services Committee, chaired by Moe Gillen, will meet. The three committees will then continue to meet every three weeks.

Tobin stated that these preliminary committee meetings will provide an opportunity for Council members to talk to the BRA staff, figure out what some of the issues are, and decide on what committee they wish to serve. He said that he didn't feel that the decision by Council members as to what committee they would like to serve on, how often they would meet, and finding out who the BRA staff members they would be dealing with, was part of the public process. He also stated that he wouldn't expect each Council member to serve on all three committees and it was up to the individual to decide in what area they could best serve.

Tobin said that these preliminary committee meetings are "working meetings," allowing Council members to ask questions, get a grasp on what the BRA wants the Council to do and how they see the Council having input into the decision-making process. He said that he foresees the second round of meetings "involving the public and the press so that, at that point, people will know what is going on."

Tobin stressed that "we (the Council) are not making decisions, not taking votes."

In discussions with BRA Director Stephen Coyle, Tobin stated that he felt Coyle wanted the Council and the community involved in the planning.

Jim English of the BRA, told the Council at Monday night's meeting that the BRA would like to complete the Navy Yard master plan by September or October. Tobin said each committee would be meeting, asking a lot of questions, getting answers from the BRA, coming up with some proposals and, once they do that, urging the BRA to incorporate the proposals into the master plan. He said, "I don't know if that's optimistic, but I think it can be done."

Tobin continued, "My sense is that some people would like to have every single meeting with 500 people saying density, traffic and parking are problems. That isn't achieving results. We know these are problems — that's a given. We have to talk about solutions in terms of where people ask intelligent questions, get intelligent answers, think about it and run it by the community." He added that he hopes that each committee will be consistent to some degree "so the public can rely on what we are doing."

According to Tobin, it is up to the individual committee as to when they will open their meetings to the public. He said they wanted to get the new members of the Council involved in the committees, noting that the members want to also handle issues other than the Navy Yard.

As to the Navy Yard plan, Tobin stated that he did not believe that the master plan was "concrete." He said that "it was clear at the meeting that their numbers are totally in flux and if they go out to the community at the beginning of the process with all these numbers, I think it is just going to cause more confusion and inflame people." He continued, "I am taking the BRA at face value and I think the community can make some decisions. You (the BRA) tell us the design concept with numbers and expertise and we'll tell you what you what we think is appropriate. I don't think we should take their numbers at face value. We should make the BRA come back with the changes and if not, they should justify why the changes can't be made."

Asked about the acceptance of community input by the BRA, Tobin said, "If we get to the end and have worked for four or five months and they say 'we're not going to accept anything you say,' then that is a reflection on them — all we will have done is tried." But Tobin feels that the BRA will accept the community input. He pointed to the C-2 Parcel (at Main and Baldwin Streets and Rutherford Avenue) as a "community victory," and said that he feels Coyle and the Mayor "want to give this community more victories" and "I am convinced they want involvement more than show and if I'm proven wrong, I'm proven wrong."

Powers Seeks Legislation For Department Of Safety And Traffic

Charlestown Attorney Michael Powers is seeking to file legislation that would create a State Department of Safety and Traffic which would be under the charge of an officer known as the Traffic Commissioner.

According to Powers, this bill, presently at Senate Counsel for drafting, will be filed as emergency legislation by Senator Fran Doris, later this week.

Powers, was the attorney in a class action suit filed last month against the Massachusetts Department of Public Works on behalf of ten local residents seeking to halt the start of the Central Artery North Area road reconstruction project until an emergency access plan was devised.

He stated this week that the purpose of this legislation is to put into effect a position that can ensure public safety for the residents during the Central Artery North Area and the Third Harbor Tunnel/Central Artery projects.

Under the terms of the bill, the position of Traffic Commissioner would be appointed by the governor, commencing on September 1, 1987 and expiring on August 31, 1995.

The Traffic Commissioner would have the responsibility to develop planning for the safety of the public during these two major roadway construction projects and would create an Emergency Deployment and Traffic plan for that period of time that would include one central radio network to coordinate the plan.

Powers stated that the Traffic Commissioner would supersede any public safety authorities located within the area of the projects including, but not limited to, police, fire and ambulatory agencies. Such departments within the communities of Boston, Cambridge, Everett, Chelsea, Medford, Somerville and Malden, as well as the State and Metropolitan District police are cited by Powers as being included in this legislation.

Powers has stated that the Commonwealth does not have an adequate plan for the deployment of emergency services. He said that the legislation is needed to create a central public safety entity that will coordinate the deployment plan throughout the areas that will be affected. Under the present system, stated Powers, there is no central authority who can cut across jurisdictional and turf lines and there is no communication network that centrally coordinates a traffic or emergency deployment plan.

He further stated that the traffic positions are presently filled on a detail assignment basis and he defines a detail as "a voluntary overtime assignment" which poses problems in maintaining the level of police presence at these traffic positions.

Powers stated that by mandating fixed positions through the legislative budget process, there would be a guarantee that these positions would be filled on a daily basis and would also be cost effective. He stated that the approximate cost to a municipality for a full time police officer is his or her base salary plus 33 percent for benefits, while the present cost to fill the detail assignment is almost double the officer's base salary.

He stated that a precedent was established for such a hiring practice during the Southwest Corridor Project.

Powers stated that with the enactment of this legislation, "everyone will be a winner." He continued, noting that access would be maintained to carry on business and commerce, taxpayers would benefit from the reduction in police costs, and in the event of a serious emergency, the citizenry would have a workable deployment plan that would guarantee access of emergency vehicles to and from the scene in a rapid manner.

Powers said that once this bill is filed, a committee hearing will be scheduled to receive testimony. He stated that he will continue to inform the community on the progress of this legislation.

Raffle Benefits Boys And Girls Club Annual Talent Show

The Charlestown Boys and Girls Club held a raffle this past week, the proceeds of which will go to the Club's Eighth Annual Talent Show.

Clubhouse Director Jerry Steimel drew the three prize winners: They were: First prize $75 — Jim Godding; second prize $50 — Mike Mainey of Blowup Hair Design; and third prize $25 — Joe Shadroui of Bunker Hill Florist.

A total of $610 was raised by this raffle, which will go towards the Talent Show costumes. A special thanks is extended to Kay Johnson McDonough for devoting her time and energy selling chances in the community.

She sold almost $500 in chances, which is greatly appreciated by the Club.

The Talent Show will be held in the Midget-Junior Games Room at the Clubhouse, 15 Green Street, on Friday, June 19 at 6:30 p.m. and on Saturday, June 20 at 2:00 p.m.

The young people have worked very hard all year to make this year's Talent Show a show worth seeing. There are many talented children here in Charlestown and all are invited to see what promises to be a great event.

Mitigation Plans Outlined For North Area Artery Construction

At a public meeting held May 12 at Charlestown High School, Boston Transportation Commissioner Richard Dimino, along with officials from the state Department of Public Works (DPW), announced an extensive emergency response plan for the Central Artery North Area construction period.

At the meeting, attended by approximately 60 Charlestown residents, concerns were voiced about the access of emergency vehicles during the construction period.

Commissioner Dimino said, "The City's primary concern is to address the access issues surrounding this project. We have been working closely with the state to develop day-to-day mitigation measures as well as a rapid emergency response plan to ensure that public safety is maintained and that traffic flows smoothly throughout Charlestown."

Details of the Emergency Access plan, which is currently in effect, include a total of 43 Boston and MetroPolice on hand daily from 6:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. to direct traffic and prevent gridlock. In addition, four Everett patrolmen are permanently assigned to posts along Broadway to ensure smooth flow of traffic into and out of Charlestown from the Route 1 detour route. Tow trucks, working under the direction of the Boston Police Department and the MDC, will be deployed at various locations throughout the community. An important element of the Emergency Access Plan is the City's designation of the center lane of the North Washington Street Bridge and the off-peak lane of the Gilmore Bridge as Emergency Lanes available to police, fire and ambulance vehicles in case of an accident or fire. Police will be immediately available to clear these lanes in case of emergency. Additional public safety apparatus will be permanently located at sites within the community.

District City Councillor Robert E. Travaglini said, "I support the emergency response plan developed by the City's Transportation Department and the State DPW. In addition to increasing public safety, it sets a precedent for the direct involvement of the residents of the Charlestown community throughout the Central Artery North Area project."

Currently, the City is working with the consulting firm of Vanasse/Hangen on a transportation plan to develop a long-term parking strategy for Charlestown residents and a new traffic circulation plan that will minimize the disruption caused by construction activities.

"In addition to these mitigation measures, the state has committed, at a cost of $775,000, to the reconstruction of both the overpass and the underpass at Sullivan Square. This reconstruction project will greatly improve congestion in the area and will serve to minimize the number of cars seeking alternate routes through residential streets in Charlestown," said Commissioner Dimino.

Construction on this project is expected to begin sometime in June and continue for approximately four months, and is expected to be completed prior to the beginning of the second phase of the CANA Project. Upon completion, the underpass, which is presently closed to traffic, will alleviate a considerable amount of traffic now using local streets. The overpass will be open at all times during the construction period.

Not For Nothin' But Have You Heard

• Congratulations go out to Monsignor Paul Donelin, former Associate Pastor of Saint Mary's Church, now stationed at Saint Barbara's Parish in Woburn, who recently celebrated his 40th anniversary in the priesthood Sister Paschala, O.P., who celebrated her Golden Jubilee as a Dominican Sister of Saint Catherine of Siena at a special Mass held at Saint Francis de Sales Church last Sunday. Sister Paschala directs the Elder Life Office of the Archdiocese of Boston and resides in the Saint Francis de Sales Convent . . . and last, but certainly not least, . . . Mark Crosby, Associate Pastor of the First Baptist Church of Charlestown who graduated from Boston University School of Theology last Sunday. Best Wishes and God Bless!

• Get Well Wishes to Stevie T. Hope to see you on the Basketball Court soon! But please, be more careful next time.

• Many Happy Years Ahead to Phil Kelly who has retired after 38 years of government service. A gala bash was held last weekend at which time family and friends gathered to wish Phil well!

• Council Election Results The Charlestown Community School Council held an election recently and those re-elected were Lillian Boutilier and Judy Evers. New members elected were Leo Boucher, Robert Davidson, Jr., Michael Coppinger and Paul Mahoney. Congratulations to one and all.

• Charlestown Well Represented in the 20 mile Walk for Hunger. Among those who we have heard about that participated are Karen Carreia, Tim Conway, Dina and Kelly Monaco, Jonellen Ortiz and Kim Payton. To each of you and all others who walked, Charlestown is proud of you!

• News From Around Town Quite a large crowd of tourists seen on Sunday afternoon outside Sorelle's on Monument Avenue enjoying freshly baked goodies from the new bakery Roughan's at City Square has been granted a seven-day alcoholic beverage license to be served only in conjunction with meals the Main Street Market at the corner of Baldwin Street has become quite a popular spot for the youngsters in that neighborhood! Bikes can be seen parked outside while the kids are inside buying their goodies Important company coming? Impress them with a roast from Collier's Market. Even your mother-in-law will compliment you on such a meal. Can't get better anywhere!

• Thanks George Garceau the Saint Mary's Grammar School Reunion Committee (can't believe it's been two years since the great event) asked us to send a "thank you" to George who graciously presented the Committee with a photo taken of them at the dedication ceremonies of Constitution Co-op (the former school) when they presented a replica of an old school clock to the new tenants of the building from every student of the school! The clock now hangs in their community room for all to enjoy.

• A Note To Jay Ash maybe it was a Leprechaun????

• Political Fever Mike Powers of Charlestown has caught the bug! Word has it that he is planning to announce his candidacy for the District One School Committee seat stay tuned.

• Where Were You on May 9, 1947? Two convicted murderers died in the electric chair at the old State Prison in Charlestown. Philip Bellino, 31, of Boston's West End and Edward Gertson, 35, of Everett, were electricuted shortly after midnight for the murder of Robert "Tex" Williams of Haverhill, a former Marine, who's body was found in a Lynn marsh. The two men, the last to be executed in Massachusetts, were accompanied to "the death chamber" by Reverend Joseph A. Robinson, the State Prison Chaplain If you're old enough to remember this, then you're old enough to remember the lights dimming in your home when an execution took place at the old prison! (Our thanks go out to Zeke Marsden of Mystic Street for bringing this information to us!)

• Speaking of Lights Do you know what the different color lights mean on top of the John Hancock building? Blue means Fair Skies; Flashing Blue means Cloudy; Red means Rain; Flashing Red means Snow; and when you see Flashing Red in the summer, it means the Red Sox Game has been cancelled.

• Memorial Day Weekend Ahead the official start of the summer for most but a day that should be set aside to remember our deceased veterans. A special prayer will go out on this year's holiday for the 37 Navy men lost on the USS Stark and for their families. Let's show our patriotism and gratitude to these men and women by proudly displaying the Flag this weekend!

BNBL Returns To Neighborhoods For 19th Summer Season

Mayor Raymond L. Flynn and the Boston Community Schools and Recreation Centers have announced the return of the Boston Neighborhood Basketball League (BNBL) to local parks, playgrounds and Community Schools throughout the City.

BNBL kicks off its 1987 Summer Season on Monday, June 22 and will continue through mid-August with All-Star games in late August. Games will be played on Monday and Thursday evenings at 19 neighborhood locations in four categories: Men 19 and under; Women 19 and under; Boys 15 and under; and Girls 15 and under.

This year, neighborhoods have been regionalized and region supervisors have been appointed. Charlestown is included in Region I along with North End, East Boston and South Boston. The supervisors are John Horan and Bob Seracki.

To join the Charlestown BNBL team, contact Leo Boucher at the Kent Community School, 242-1628.

Fleet National Bank Is Major Sponsor Of Charlestown Boys And Girls Club Annual Road Race

Fleet National Bank, headquartered in Providence, Rhode Island, is the major sponsor for the Annual Charlestown Boys and Girls Club Road Race to be run on Sunday, June 14, prior to the Bunker Hill Day Parade. The race is termed the Fleet/Battle of Bunker Hill Road Race and consists of a novice two-mile run as well as a 10K T.A.C. Certified race. The announcement of Fleet's sponsorship was made at a press conference held Tuesday at Barrett's On Boston Harbour.

of the Charlestown Clubhouse, compared the Battle of Bunker Hill Road Race with the battle that kids are enduring in just growing up. He noted that Fleet and the Boys and Girls Clubs are working together so that the Club might provide the support and services children need.

Steimel went on to say that the Club will financially benefit from this Road Race and as such will be able to continue to provide a "safe and challenging environment" in which the youngsters will be able to the opportunity to work with you in assuring the continuation of the programs at the Charlestown Boys and Girls Club."

Steimel introduced John Iacoi and Kim Wright, organizers of the Road Race and members of the Board of the Charlestown Clubhouse. Also present was Dennis Borden, Chairman of the Board of the Charlestown Clubhouse; Mary Wyatt, Public Affairs Officer of Fleet National Bank; and Robert Hennessy, Senior Vice President of Fleet Credit Cor-

WELCOMING the Fleet National Bank on board as sponsor of this year's Road Race, which benefits the Charlestown Boys and Girls Club, were (l. to r.) Dennis Borden, Chairman of the Board of the Charlestown Clubhouse; John Iacoi, Clubhouse Board Member and Organizer of the Road Race; Jack Bruneau, Area Manager and Manager of the Charlestown office of Fleet National Bank; Jerry Steimel, Director of the Charlestown Clubhouse; and Kim Wright, Clubhouse Board Member and Organizer of the Road Race.

of the Fleet National Bank; Mary Wyatt, Public Affairs Officer of the Fleet National Bank; John Iacoi, Clubhouse Board Member and Organizer of the Road Race; Robert E. Hennessy, Senior Vice President of the Fleet Credit Corporation; and Kim Wright, Clubhouse Board Member and Organizer of the Road Race.

John Bruneau, Area Manager and Manager of Fleet's Charlestown office, located on Constitution Plaza, stated, "We're pleased to sponsor this year's race. The Charlestown Boys and Girls Club provides wholesome activities for youngsters in a pleasant environment and we're proud to support this important part of the community."

Bruneau, in announcing the sponsorship, stated, "Fleet is an aggressive bank," noting that it is this spirit that motivates the athlete. He said that Fleet is pleased to be in the historic town of Charlestown and is looking forward to the race.

Jerry Steimel, Director

fulfill all of their potential. He said that the bottom line is the kids and the money raised by this Race will translate into programs and services for them.

Boston City Councillor Robert Travaglini expressed his continued support for the services and programs provided to the children at the local Clubhouse. He complimented Fleet National Bank for their support of the programs so beneficial to the Club and the community. In presenting a check to race officials in support of the event, Travaglini noted that the race was one of the highlights of the Bunker Hill Day celebration in Charlestown. He said, "I welcome poration.

JOHN CONFORTI, a resident of Charlestown, expressed thanks to the Fleet National Bank for their support of the Road Race. Conforti, the winner of the annual event in 1985, holds the course record of 32.10.

BOSTON CITY COUNCILLOR Robert Travaglini presented a check to the Charlestown Boys and Girls Club for their annual Battle of Bunker Hill Road Race. In making the presentation, Travaglini stated that he welcomed the opportunity to assist in the continuation of the programs of the local club. Shown (l. to r.) Jerry Steimel, Director of the Charlestown Clubhouse; Councillor Travaglini; John Iacoi, Clubhouse Board Member and Race Organizer; and Kim Wright, Clubhouse Board Member and Race Organizer.

Also present was John Conforti of Charlestown. Conforti, who was the winner of the 1985 Road Race and holds the course record of 32.10, thanked the representatives from Fleet for their sponsorship.

On hand for the announcement was Charlestown Attorney Willard Stievater, whose name tag read

"Runner (Slow)." He stated that this will be the fourth year that he has run and he is most interested in seeing the race grow. Organizer John Iacoi said approximately 350 runners entered the race last year and he is hoping for 500 entries this year.

Fleet National Bank is a subsidiary of Fleet Financial Group, a $12 billion diversified financial services company. Fleet Financial's lines of business include commercial and trust banking, student loan processing, mortgage banking and real estate lending, asset-based lending, consumer banking, venture capital, and data processing.

Get Ready, Get Set — Register To Run In The Annual Road Race

If you love the thrill of competition, now is the time to start training for the Fleet/Battle of Bunker Hill Road Race to benefit the Charlestown Boys and Girls Club. The race will be held on Sunday, June 14th.

All that is needed is a pair of sneakers, a competitive spirit, and the motivation to try.

In order to run, you'll have to register.

But to watch, you just show up anywhere along the route and cheer on the runners.

All entrants will be cheered across the finish line by WMEX afternoon drive personality, Ron Scott, as he broadcasts live updates of the race results.

Two races are planned again this year. For the runner of modest athletic ability, the chance to compete will be in the two-mile novice run starting at 9:00 a.m. Registration for the novice race is $5.00 and entrants will assemble at the Clubhouse on 15 Green Street at 8:30 a.m.

For the more seasoned runner, a 10K T.A.C. Certified race will begin at 10:00 a.m. This race is named the Fleet/Battle of Bunker Hill Road Race to reflect the challenging course that will traverse the streets of historic Charlestown and end on Austin Street at the Bunker Hill Mall. Post-race ceremonies at the Clubhouse will begin when all runners have crossed the finish line. Merchandise awards and trophies will be awarded to men and women in several categories, with cash awards going to mens' and womens' open and masters division top finishers.

The 10K registration fee is $6.00 in advance, $8.00 on the day of the race. The first 350 registrants will receive a free T-shirt. Proceeds will support programs and activities at the Charlestown Clubhouse, which provides over one thousand boys and girls between six and 18 years of age with educational, physical and social development through a variety of programs and activities. Volunteers are still needed for the day of the race. If you have a few hours to spare, call the Clubhouse for details.

Entry forms for both races are available at the Clubhouse, 15 Green Street, Charlestown. For information, call Clubhouse Director Jerry Steimel at 242-1775.

City Council Calls For Moratorium On Navy Yard Development

A resolution was presented to the Boston City Council on Wednesday, May 13 by City Councillor Joseph M. Tierney, calling for the imposition of a two-year moratorium by the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) on further expansion of their property within the Charlestown Navy Yard in order to give the residents of Charlestown and the city and state agencies charged with traffic control, a chance to re-solve existing problems. This measure, which was co-sponsored by Councillors Robert E. Travaglini and Albert L. O'Neil, was passed by the Council. This resolution noted that the intolerable traffic conditions in Charlestown, especially in City and Sullivan Squares, compounded by the Central Artery North Area project and other construction and development activity, have adversely affected the quality of life in Charlestown. Tierney listed the detrimental effects of noise, congestion, poor air quality. He stated that traffic jams seriously jeopardize the delivery of emergency services and that planning officials have provided no concrete solution.

In focusing on the Navy Yard, the resolution stated that with the BRA contemplating doubling the density in that area, it would bring "an already intolerable situation to an impossible one due to increased traffic."

Tierney noted that this resolution is only "a suggestion." He stated that the Council is not asking the BRA to stop projects already approved in the Navy Yard, but to reconsider doubling the density in that area. He said that residents have expressed concern with emergency access and that this must be addressed.

Councillor Travaglini stated that the resolution was intended to send a message to the BRA that in view of other construction projects and the compounded impact on the community, the BRA should "proceed with caution" in planning for the Navy Yard. He continued, stating that even though the Navy Yard area in and of itself is isolated, the entering and exiting of workers and residents will add to the congestion.

Travaglini and Tierney both stated that in order for the BRA to address the issues raised by many residents and to slow down the development in the Navy Yard, there would have to be an outward display of support from the community in the form of a petition drive and/or a vote from various neighborhood organizations.

Residents Dan Jaffee and Ken Stone, who brought the question of a moratorium on Navy Yard development to the public at a meeting of the City Council's Committee on Transportation and Commerce held in Charlestown on May 12th, have stated that they are considering a petition drive to support the moratorium. They expressed concern at the impact the proposed increase in density within the Navy Yard would have on the community and will be evaluating what process to undertake community-wide to address these concerns.

Charlestown Loves A Healthy Heart

STOP SMOKING WORKSHOP TO BEGIN

Stopping smoking is not easy. Many people believe it is a very difficult habit to change. In fact, if you ask many a smoker, they would tell you that they have tried to quit "millions of times." Dr. Michael Cauley, a psychologist at the Bunker Hill Health Center will be leading a smoking cessation and reduction group. The group will begin Wednesday, May 27, at 6:30 p.m. The group will meet for eight weekly sessions. Afterwards, there will be two follow-up sessions over the course of the next six months.

According to Dr. Cauley, there are over 50 million smokers in this country. In Charlestown, smoking is a particular concern because it is one of the major factors which leads to the high rate of heart and lung problems. Dr. Cauley states, "Quitting smoking is difficult but not impossible. It is a learned habit and as a habit it can be changed. Anyone who wants to quit badly enough can."

The Smoking Workshop enrollment will require a registration fee. If you are interested in joining this group call 242-5760 to sign-up or for more information.

Dave McKay Announces Candidacy For Boston City Council

David J. McKay, an Instructor of Political Science and American History, has announced his candidacy for an At-Large seat on the Boston City Council. McKay was a candidate and nominated for Council in the election of 1979. He has served since as a teacher at Saint Ambrose School in Dorchester and presently as an instructor and administrator at Columbus High School in the North End.

A life-long resident of Boston, McKay, 34, resides at 72 Dix Street in Dorchester. He is the son of the late Philip E. and Grace Nasta McKay. A graduate of Saint Mark School and Columbus High, Dave attended Salem College in West Virginia and majored in Political Science and Public Administration.

McKay has spent his adult life involved with youth activities and athletics throughout the city.

He was elected at the age of 19 to represent 500,000 young adults throughout the United States as National Explorer Vice President.

In announcing his candidacy for an At-Large Seat on the Boston City Council, McKay stated, "The people of Boston need full-time leadership and representation on the council. — they deserve it." He cited his, "long-term commitment to youth work, education and community development," as qualifications for a position on the council.

Public safety, construction jobs for Bostonians, improvement in the Boston Public Schools, the increasing drug problem and improvements in parks and recreational facilities are just some of the issues being addressed by the candidate.

"Members of the Boston City Council have a serious mission — to serve the needs of their constituents. When elected to the council, I will work as a representative of the people from all the neighborhoods of Boston," Dave stated in conclusion. "Boston belongs to the people, not big business or special interests. I will work hard to protect our city and its people from exploitation."

"Do You Ever Have Christian Identity Confusion?"

When we say, "I believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church," what do we mean? Does it matter much these days if one is Protestant, Roman Catholic or Episcopal? Can Sunday mass really transform my weekday life? How do I find what Christian tradition is right for me now that I'm a thinking adult?

These and other related questions will be addressed in a mini-course beginning May 31 through the month of June on Sunday at 12 noon to 1:15 p.m. (Don't

Charlestown Police Line

From the desk of
Deputy Superintendent Ronald X. Conway
Area A, Boston Police Department

Monday, May 11

A search warrant was executed by Detective Donahue at 55 Main Street and items belonging to a leasing agency were recovered.

Wednesday, May 13

A Charlestown resident was arrested by Detective Donahue at City Square on a default warrant.

An apartment was broken into at 47 Harvard Street sometime during the week and jewelry was reported taken.

An automobile that was parked at Monument Square was broken into.

A building under construction at 5 Hathorn Square was broken into during the evening and various items of construction equipment were stolen. Many of the items have the initials "S.M." marked on them in yellow paint.

An automobile parked on Auburn Street was broken into.

An automobile parked at Ninth Street was broken into and an attempt was made to steal it.

Two Charlestown residents were arrested in front of 25 Walford Way for receiving stolen property after Officers O'Laughlin and Melia observed them removing a stolen computer from a vehicle.

An automobile that was parked on Chamber Street was broken into and the radio was stolen.

Saturday, May 16

The Godfather Pizza shop at 89 Medford Street was robbed by a white male, six feet tall, wearing a black ski mask. He showed a knife and demanded the receipts from the employees.

McDonald's restaurant in the Bunker Hill Mall was robbed by two white males wearing gray sweat shirts. Two employees were assaulted by the suspects — one sustained a knife wound to his hand and the other was punched in the face and kicked in the side.

These incidents are under investigation by the Detectives of Area A.

Residents are reminded: If you know of any drug activity in your neighborhood, call the Boston Police Drug Hotline at 247-4697. It is not necessary to give your name and all information will be investigated.

ment of Navy Yard residents. Tobin stated that "they will be brought in — they have to be brought in, they live there. They should be involved in the decisions and in discussing the trade-offs."

Tobin stated that the committees will develop an agenda with issues and BRA staff to answer questions. He said that he "feels strongly that the Council should get control of the project so we can get some results and so that people don't get discouraged by misinformation and long, drawn-out meetings that don't appear to accomplish anything." He stated that it is important that the Council "maintain credibility and seek creative solutions" and that he wants the Council to "come up with some answers based on community consensus."

Several members of the Council disagreed with the decision to hold any private meetings of the Council or its committees.

Ken Stone felt that it was important that the press be allowed to attend every meeting. He said that it is "difficult to have every meeting public — sometimes space is limited and it often becomes difficult to stick to issues." "But," he said, "if the press is at the meetings, we can be sure of an accurate account on the subject being reported back to the community — not just the ideas of persons in attendance. It's like saying 'there's no secrets here, everything is open.'"

Stone said, "The press would be neutral and there is no good reason for the press not to be there."

Council member Kay Whelan stated that she felt that the press and the public, especially the Navy Yard residents, should be invited to every meeting. She said that when the Council was first named, "the Mayor said that we were there for the people of Charlestown and thus I feel that the meetings should be open."

Kathryn Downing echoed those sentiments. She said, "I don't know the advantage of closed meetings — the information should flow openly and the general idea is getting the information out."

Downing did state that there are advantages to having smaller working groups to proceed through preliminary matters and establish a process for open meetings. But, she said, their goal should be to get information out to the public as soon as possible. She said, "I would like to hear what my neighbors think about the Navy Yard development and would appreciate, as a Council member, hearing my neighbors' informed comments." Downing said that she was not attached to any particular format for a meeting — she just wanted to get the information out into the community.

As it stands now, the next two committee meetings will remain as open to Council members only, with a decision as to when the public will be invited to attend coming forth from each committee as a procedure for residential input is established.
