Introduction

This book is dedicated to everyone in the world who feels alone right now. This book is dedicated to those being labeled crazy or strange, as well as those being persecuted. It is dedicated to those who can face the truth, no matter how painful it is. The Bible says that many will perish because they refuse to love the truth (2 Thessalonians 2:10). The truth is always found in Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior and the King of Kings. I wrote this book for Jesus, and for those seeking the truth. Finally, I wrote this book to save souls and call on anyone reading to repent, no matter where you are in life. It is never too late, and Satan, this message is to you: I'm winning back souls you think you have won. They are coming back to Jesus. Satan, Jesus triumphs over you and has already defeated you at the cross.

Just to note, this book is actually a collection of blog posts I have written in the past year or so, centered around the end times. I realized that they thematically could be joined as a book, so Witness 1 and I combined them and edited them in a way that is cohesive and connected.

I pray this book opens your spiritual eyes, and vaccinated or not, I believe anyone can repent (See Part 3 – what I consider the most important part of this book.) Christians – never, ever tell another human they cannot repent. God is the judge – not us.

May God bless anyone reading,

- Witness 2

Part 1: How the World Missed the Mark of the Beast

The Beginning of the End: Covid-19

I was never entirely anti-vax, and many reading this would say the same thing. In fact, in all my "conspiracy-searching", I never really thought much about vaccines at all. This is important to start with, to show you that I didn't have any original bias toward vaccines. I was vaccinated as a child, and I remain relatively healthy. Most reading this were also vaccinated as children, too, but that is exactly what they do - start with the children.

Even before the Covid vaccine came out, something struck me immediately - just a gut instinct. At the time, I was preoccupied with life, and while I heard about the development of the vaccine and "Operation Warp Speed", I really had not done any research on it. Still, I urged family and friends not to take it, but I wasn't quite sure why yet. I remember on a Zoom call with family saying, "Don't take it. It could even be the mark of the beast." But honestly, I had little information to back that up at the time.

Still, I've read countless reports of people with the same gut instincts, many even walking out at vaccine appointments, claiming something inside of them "told" them not to take it.

In the summer of 2021, I stumbled upon Anthony Patch's videos, and, truly, he and his wife made an extremely convincing case that the vaccine is the mark. I highly recommend spending time on any of his videos (Search Anthony Patch on Bitchute). Due to constant harassment, death threats, and even a lawsuit against them for saying it is the mark, they stopped their public ministry and went on Patreon behind a paywall. This constant harassment and extreme censorship, you would think, wouldn't be necessary unless they were on to something.

So, how did everyone miss the mark? Well, they just weren't thinking about their DNA, or really, their lives at all.

It's All About the DNA (Blood)

We are made in the image of God. What does that mean? That means that every fiber of our being, even our DNA, is associated with God. While they will do whatever it takes to claim mRNA vaccines do NOT alter your DNA, evidence has come out that, in fact, they do alter your DNA. It does not matter how small this genetic alteration is – any alteration is an abomination to God.

Your DNA is of God. We are shaped and formed by God through DNA, as we discuss further in our It's All About the Blood writing.

The problem for many modern Christians is that their Bibles have become dusty and unused. They relied too much on preachers at the pulpit, while one of their main duties as Christians was to study every aspect of the Bible, every day, for their entire lives. There is nothing wrong with going to church and listening to interpretations of verses, but people in modern times have given up their sovereignty with the Word of God and left it all to other men to decide. In the same way, they gave up their sovereignty to the government by taking the vaccine. When you give up your free will and thoughts to men, you will perish by men and are no better than the very beasts of the field.

Had Christians been reading those dusty old Bibles, it would have been clear for all to see that genetics and genealogy are extremely important to God. In fact, in GENESIS, there are significant splits of bloodlines: Cain and Abel, and then, Jacob and Esau.

In modern Christianity, the Old Testament is often dismissed as old-fashioned or irrelevant. However, if people went back to Genesis, they would have seen many examples of people doing foolish things regarding their God-given destinies.

For example, in Genesis, Esau gave up his birthright for a bowl of soup. The vaccine propaganda created a similar scenario: how many gave up their birthright for a donut, a joint, or $100? Why did anybody need to be bribed to take the vaccine?

It is important to note that the Bible explains that the Earth was once populated by fallen angels, or Nephilim, before God wiped them out in the flood. Noah and his family were the only ones saved – not because of their righteousness, as no man is righteous, but rather because of their pure genetics. In other words, Noah was not saved merely because he was a “good” man, but rather, his family was of the only “untainted” bloodline (“perfect in his generations”) left in a world of fallen angels who had almost succeeded in corrupting mankind and removing humanity’s chance at redemption. As in the days of Noah...

The Deception of the Pre-Tribulation Rapture

Many Christians missed the mark because they had become obsessed with a pre-tribulation narrative, a Jesuit end times deception. You can read more about this deceptive, pretribulation lie here.

Moreover, many Christians believe that God will not have them suffer during the tribulation, completely dismissing the theme of necessary suffering in the Bible. The Book of Job, anyone?

There is simply nowhere near enough evidence in the Bible to say that there will be a pretribulation rapture and a face-value reading of the text strongly suggests otherwise. It's understandable to not want to suffer, but we must remember that God's ways are not our ways, and the heart, above all things, deceives.

If I were to choose one verse that completely disproves the pre-tribulation rapture, it would be this one:

1 Corinthians 15:51-52

Behold, I tell you a mystery; we will not all sleep, but we will all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet; for the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we will be changed.

When is the last trumpet? Well, the last trumpet happens after an enormous amount of suffering takes place, showing Christians are not caught up before then. They must endure the suffering.

So, for all the Christians out there that think they will be snatched away before the anti-Christ and his mark, well, you literally fell into the great delusion.

This particular deception actually began with the Jesuits, who initiated these false doctrines as early as the 1500s:

In the late 1500s, two Jesuits, Francisco Ribera and Roberto Bellarmino, came to the Pope's rescue and created a new Roman Catholic doctrine called Futurism, or Jesuit Futurism. Basically, Jesuit Futurism just says that the Roman Catholic Church can't possibly have anything to do with the Antichrist.

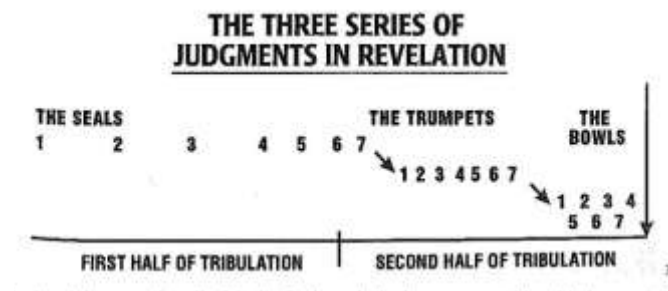

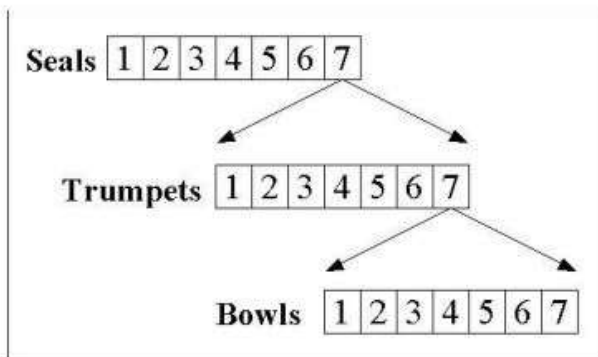

Along comes Chilean-born Manuel Lacunza, a Jesuit priest who found himself with too much time on his hands, because he'd been defrocked. (Remember that part about the Pope disbanding the Jesuits in 1773?) Lacunza built on the ideas of Ribera and Bellarmino by adding that all the good Christians (i.e., Catholics) would be resurrected BEFORE the Antichrist. However, he said that after this 'rapture', the Roman Catholic Church would side with the Antichrist. The Pope liked it, except for the last bit, so he banned it.

You can read more about the "trickle down" history of the false Jesuit doctrines in the church here, but the point is, much of this doctrine was established to hide prophecies of the pope as the anti-Christ.

In recent years, series like Left Behind and many others have further influenced this view, with millions of Christians ignorantly trusting the Satanic Hollywood agenda. Why would they trust anything Hollywood had to say about Christianity?

When Hollywood comes out with anything about Christianity, I am almost always immediately suspicious or skeptical. Even seemingly biblical shows like The Chosen are facing harsh criticism for biblical blasphemy. Christians, be careful! If it doesn't align with the word of God, then don't take it as doctrine! If you are looking for something to inspire you, this free movie about Jesus changed my life and was very biblically accurate.

Now, I am still investigating both the mid-tribulation and post-tribulation rapture, and I believe both theories are plausible. However, the pre-tribulation is absolutely ruled out by these timelines, as clearly, much GREAT suffering, such as one-third of the waters turning bitter, happens before the last trumpet.

Don't You Know Your Body is a Temple?

The Third Temple is your body. While many professed Christians are waiting for a literal third temple to be rebuilt (and Satan might do that to deceive people), we already know, from Jesus, that our bodies are the third temple. This is in the New Testament (1 Corinthians 6:19-20):

Do you not know that your bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? You are not your own; you were bought at a price. Therefore honor God with your bodies.

To give context, the daily sacrifice occurred in a physical temple in the Old Testament. These physical sacrifices were done to atone for sins. When Jesus came, the daily sacrifice (confession of sins to Jesus) now takes place through our very own bodies. It can be done anywhere, and we don't need a holy temple anymore.

Our bodies are the third temple, and when there is talk of the anti-Christ "rebuilding" this temple, it is literally about him changing people's DNA so that God can no longer dwell in our holy temples. One is NOT to defile their holy temples. When you defile the temple, God leaves. This is what happened with the events surrounding Antiochus and his porcine sacrifice in the Jewish temple, which was considered an "abomination" and caused God to leave it desolate.

But Won't ALL Have to Take the Mark?

If you read Revelation, the first argument against this comes from the verse about causing all to take it. Let's explore this verse with a concordance:

13:16 And 2532 he causeth 4160 5719 all 3956, both small 3398 and 2532 great 3173, 2532 rich 4145 and 2532 poor 4434, 2532 free 1658 and 2532 bond 1401, to 2443 846 receive 1325 5661 a mark 5480 in 1909 their 846 right hand 1188 5495, or 2228 in 1909 their 846 foreheads 3359:(to receive: Gr. to give them)

The word "all" more accurately mean "all kinds" or "some of all types." The concordance states,

2a) some of all types

..."the whole world has gone after him" Did all the world go after Christ? "then went all Judea, and were baptized of him in Jordan." Was all Judea, or all Jerusalem, baptized in Jordan? "Ye are of God, little children", and the whole world lieth in the wicked one". Does the whole world there mean everybody? The words "world" and "all" are used in some seven or eight senses in Scripture, and it is very rarely the "all" means all persons, taken individually. The words are generally used to signify that Christ has redeemed some of all sorts --some Jews, some Gentiles, some rich, some poor, and has not restricted His redemption to either Jew or Gentile ... (C.H. Spurgeon from a sermon on Particular Redemption.)"

So, it isn't so much that EVERY SINGLE PERSON took the mark, but rather, some of all kinds have taken it. Indeed, every single country in the world has administered the Covid injection to at least a portion of their citizens. From Bloomberg's Covid vaccine tracker:

If every single person took the mark, the rest of Revelation wouldn't make sense. Revelation 16 talks about the judgments for all who took the mark, and in Revelation 19, it talks about the delusion of those who took the mark, which, among other textual indicators tells us that there remains an unmarked population on Earth until the very end.

Of course, that doesn't mean that those who are unvaxxed won't face far greater pressure and even death. Remember that giving up one's soul must be a free, voluntary choice. For those who took the vaccine, what they did was voluntary, even if it was under coercion. That is why Satan won't force it, he will just execute those who refuse. He will do everything he can to trick people into taking it, in order to gain as many souls as possible.

The Great Deception

Perhaps the most common unbiblical argument I hear against the vaccine being the mark is that "Christians would know." This, again, shows that Christians are not reading their Bibles. 2 Thessalonians 2:11 states,

“For this reason God sends them a powerful delusion so that they will believe the lie.”

In the Old Testament, many knew the holy word of God inside and out, and even had it memorized, yet when Jesus came they could not recognize him as the Messiah. He did not fit the preconceived eschatological narrative that they had all agreed upon.

In the same way, many Christians know the Bible inside and out, but now that Revelation is here, they are completely deceived. Revelation 12:9 states,

“And the great dragon was cast out — that serpent of old called the Devil and Satan, who deceiveth the whole world. He was cast out onto the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.”

If you were the devil, you would do everything you could to take many souls as possible with you, and lying is part of the deception – just like when Satan lied to Eve in the garden of Eden. The devil is called the greatest liar of all time, and many are finally starting to wake up to this after taking the vaccine. I stumbled upon this post on Reddit, showing this level of deception.

The text says:

"We were fucking robbed, lied to on a scale SO big we can barely understand. What was supposed to protect us ended up sticking to us like a chronic illness, we're getting no help from doctors, are dismissed by our family and friends and are being censored for trying to voice our pain and seek help. Nobody here consented to being subjected to this much pain, we are victims and are being made out to be crazy, anxiety-ridden evil clowns standing in the way of a covid-free world. Months of being invalidated and in pain, I don't know about you but it has personally made me feel subhuman. We are being abused and we don't even have the energy to fight back, we're just being swept under the rug. How disgusting and sad. What the fuck is going to happen to us, how crazy is this? We're left to contemplate the possible long term devastating side-effects, while everyone else just sees us as an unfortunate statistic. I feel like I'm losing my marbles like what the fuck imagine censoring people for talking about their traumatic injuries. We are literally fucked. I feel like the horrible side effects I have gotten were less damaging to me than the realization of how absolutely fucking rotten human beings are. We were exposed to the absolute ugliest this world has to offer. I feel so hopeless and angry."

Many may ask - how could God “trick” everyone? God didn't trick anyone. He warned everyone through his Word up until this time. Most ignored the warnings, and all nations were deceived. This was a deception from Satan, not God, and many fell for it. God can, will, and does test his people, and Biblical judgements fall on entire populations, like Sodom and Gomorrah and the flood. Remember, Satan deceives even the “elect”, or Christians, in the end times.

People were waiting for some type of microchip, not seeing that computer technology has infinitely surpassed what they viewed as a microchip in the 80s. Instead of reading up on advanced technology, such as water-soluble graphene oxide sensors, they were too busy reading about celebrities and manicuring their lawns. In other words, Christians were not paying attention, and that was how they were deceived. The vaccines contain nanotechnology. These were the "chips" many were waiting for, not realizing that this technology is far beyond their comprehension at this point. The "microchip implant" theory was a highly effective distraction.

There were many other elements to this deception. Many believed that this vaccine was a precursor, but my question is - why would any Christian take a precursor to the mark of the beast anyways?

The word precursor is nowhere in the Bible - there is no test run. Satan had to be clever, and he knew end times knowledge would increase in the last days. He had to find a way to get people to somehow take gene-altering technology without questioning it, and he did. Why would Satan give people a test-run? The answer is that he never does.

In addition, many believe we are not in the tribulation, but the first seal of Revelation is conquest - or a crown \(corona\):

The first seal involves a rider on a white horse: "Its rider held a bow, and he was given a crown, and he rode out as a conqueror bent on conquest."

Now that we are actually going through the book of Revelation in real time, the language is starting to make much more sense. The first seal is all about the "Corona" virus. According to dictionary.com, the word "crown" comes directly from the word "corona":

ORIGIN OF CORONA

First recorded in 1555–65; from Latin corōna “garland, crown” (see crown)

In Revelation 6:2, a "crown" was given to the rider holding a "bow", which in Greek is "toxon." This word, "toxon", is where we get the English word "toxin", with the Latin word "toxicus" as an intermediary stage, meaning "poisoned."

This etymology article states that, "the Latin word itself actually came from the Greek term toxon, meaning 'bow.' In ancient Greece, fighters with bows would put poison on the points of their arrows." As we have pointed out, this "bow", more accurately translated as "poison-tipped arrow", is a striking congruence with how someone writing in the first century might describe a vision of a modern hypodermic needle filled with a toxic injection.

Just because you haven't been taken out of your comfort zone yet, doesn't mean you won't be. Remember, the first seal is conquest because they had to take over the whole world first (and they are doing just that). This was largely psychological conquest, and now the physical sufferings are beginning.

Buying and Selling

Another popular argument is that the unvaxxed can still buy or sell, which leads me to my next point of prophesy. This isn't over. Furthermore, the wording used this verse is, again, more accurately translated as "all types" would take the mark to buy and sell. Indeed, massive amounts of the global population did take this injection in order to keep their jobs, or to continue "buying and selling". Even without further developments, this prophecy has been fulfilled.

There is likely to be some type of digital ID that will come out, and I believe the vaccine will be directly tied to this digital ID. Obviously, I cannot know exactly what they will call it, but think of the vaccine as the "software" for what is to come. The Satanic elite are still in the process of trying to get people to alter their DNA, and they may have different means: cancer mRNA vaccines, flu mRNA vaccines, or even some type of upcoming mRNA universal vaccine.

The point is - never do it. Now, another thing to consider is that Revelation 13:17 says, 13:17 And 2532 that no 3363 man 5100 might 1410 5741 buy 59 5658 or 2228 sell 4453 5658, save he 1508 that had 2192 5723 the mark 5480, or 2228 the name 3686 of the beast 2342, or 2228 the number 706 of his 846 name 3686.

This shows there might be several aspects of the mark: the mark itself, the name, or the number of his name. The term "or" shows there may be up to three different components of the mark of the beast.

Recently I received an email from an anonymous “insider of sorts” who said it well. He gave me permission to quote him, and I am not changing any of his wording:

The vaccine created nano bots out of your own cells. There is a program language that’s been created to write instructions delivered by mRNA via crispr technology to replace existing mRNA with these programmed instructions to cause your cells to create biological transistors and spike proteins (for depopulation first ). Microsoft has the programming language since 2016. The effects we are seeing now are a result of bodies rejecting bad code. The vaccine isn’t perfected yet and bodies are needed for testing. This will be perfected in a short time. Digital ID is the goal. Your cells will store the ID and you will be readable much like having RFID chip. One unique digital signature to rule all aspects of one’s life. Most people thought RFID chips would be the mark. They were right except wrong about what that would look like. One could easily remove a chip from the arm by a professional or doctor. RFID is secure if it is delivered by your cells which cannot be removed from the body.

With Digital ID if you do not participate you will not have the ability to buy or sell. The capability will be lost as all stores will have readers that can scan your bodies electro field you are giving off from your cells. No wallet necessary to carry cash. Your digital id is unique to you and unhackable. A digital currency value is tied to your body forever. No hiding money under the table, no privacy in transacting. If you have wrongthink they can zero out your money value. If you do not take it you are on your own for everything. No money. No life. You won’t have property because you won’t be able to pay taxes on already owned property. They will seize it from you. They will use marked people to remove your land from you by force or they will lose their land. They will be pitted against you. So you see. The vaccine is the mark but the carrier or medium for the digital id which already carries a unique id or mark has already been administered. It’s just the outside scanners, systems, databases, etc. had not all been tied together fully yet and implemented to that. They have to get us to accept that part as well.

I think we should definitely be prepared for some type of collapse of the world economy, and after much chaos and destruction, in order to re-enter, you will need a digital ID - but not without changing your DNA first. To reiterate, any type of mRNA genetic engineering is the mark. They could even come out with a cancer vaccine, or some other “life-saving” concoction. The point is – if it alters your DNA, you are no longer in the image of God. You are marked by the beast himself – Satan.

But isn't it a physical mark in the forehead and arm?

This is a great documentary on the physical manifestation of the mark in the forehead and arm. Please watch the entire thing.

In the meantime, the forehead and arm are most likely symbolic, and they are used this way all throughout the Bible.

- Forehead = thoughts/identity
- Arm = actions, work

So, think of it this way. Those who took the mark did so for one of two reasons:

- 1.) They worshipped, trusted, and believed in the system already through their thoughts/identity.
- 2.) They needed to take it for work but didn't really want to take it. Their actions still showed what they worship.

The Bible talks about sealing people with a spiritual mark in many contexts. Again, this goes back to reading the Bible, which people have stopped doing. Well, they may read the happy, inspiring parts of the Bible, but they tend to avoid the parts that are unpleasant, controversial, or that take careful thought and consideration.

What About My Family and Friends?

I often see people who didn't take it get extremely angry because their family and friends took it. They say, "But they were all good people – it can't be the mark!"

The Bible is clear that none of us are really good. This is why we need Jesus Christ, repentance, and redemption. Even me writing this – I am not "good". However, I am constantly working toward living like Jesus, and I am currently in a state of removing all willful sin from my life and repentance.

To be honest, those who took it worshiped the system. They didn't stop to think – "What are the consequences of me taking this vaccine? Will it affect anyone else?" How many bought into harmful practices like not allowing unvaccinated people into their businesses? How many shamed the unvaccinated or stopped talking to them? How many even called for their imprisonment or even deaths? How many yelled at or harassed those who didn't feel like wearing the mask?

And now, they are asking for "pandemic amnesty." Amnesty literally means to pardon someone for a crime – they know what they did was wrong. They are not asking, however, for forgiveness, like the Bible teaches, but rather, we are all just supposed to forget what was done.

I am not here to condemn, for I am not God. I believe there is a possibility of repentance for those who took it, which you can read about in Part 3 of this writing. Please never lose hope.

However, in order to repent, one must first understand and admit the truth. The truth is the vaccine is the mark of the beast. In the next section, I will discuss how people have been fooled by an "anti-Christ" deception.

Part 2: The Anti-Christ Deception

Let's begin with a review of some key verses:

Matthew 24: 15 - 16

So when you see standing in the holy place 'the abomination that causes desolation,' spoken of through the prophet Daniel - let the reader understand - then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains.

Daniel's Prophecy

For those who do not know, Daniel's series of prophecies comprise one of the main pieces involved in the eschatological puzzle that is Revelation and are extremely important to study for the end times.

Here is the verse I want to focus on:

From the time that the daily sacrifice is abolished and the abomination that causes desolation is set up, there will be 1,290 days. Blessed is the one who waits for and reaches the end of the 1,335 days.

The Abomination that Causes Desolation

The abomination of desolation is referring to the Covid gene therapy injection, and that is what we are focusing on for the next aspect of this post.

Remember that in the Old Testament people had to make daily, physical sacrifices to account for their sins, which was done through animal sacrifices. However, when Jesus came he replaced the old covenant with the new, and those sacrifices no longer had to be done in a physical sense, but rather, a spiritual sense. What this means is that when Jesus died, those who became Christian stopped sacrificing physically, and they started repenting daily, replacing the daily sacrifice with the living sacrifice (Jesus).

The temple for sacrifice was no longer a physical temple, but rather a spiritual one - your body!

There is much talk in the New Testament about not defiling your holy temple, as that is where God resides. How does God reside there? Through the holy spirit! It is an amazing thing if you really think about it, and it is where our "spark" of life truly flows through us - inspiration, creativity, prayer, love, etc.

Now, Satan, who has worked through the powerful “elites” since the beginning of time, wants one thing and one thing only - your eternal soul. Unfortunately, because of the possibility of repentance, even if we sin, Satan still does not automatically own us. He does everything he can to distract you from the truth and get you to sin without repentance (true change). That is why Jesus is so amazing - despite our sinful state, he allows us to repent and still be with Him if we so choose.

In the end times, though, Satan wants to take as many souls as he can with him, and he must be clever. Through the science™ (trust it), Satanic technology was developed to make our holy temples "desolate" through a vaccine:

- <https://www.bitchute.com/video/siLEdXiZ0t9s/>

While some claim that this “funvaxx” video is fake, I think you should just watch it and decide for yourselves. Besides, the elite have been planning this for a long time:

“ELIMINATE THE SOUL WITH MEDICINE”

theorganizedearth More than a hundred years ago, Rudolf Steiner wrote the following:

“In the future, we will eliminate the soul with medicine. Under the pretext of a ‘healthy point of view’, there will be a vaccine by which the human body will be treated as soon as possible directly at birth, so that the human being cannot develop the thought of the existence of soul and Spirit.

To materialistic doctors, will be entrusted the task of removing the soul of humanity. As today, people are vaccinated against this disease or that disease, so in the future, children will be vaccinated with a substance that can be produced precisely in such a way that people, thanks to this vaccination, will be immune to being subjected to the “madness” of spiritual life.

He would be extremely smart, but he would not develop a conscience, and that is the true goal of some materialistic circles.

With such a vaccine, you can easily make the etheric body loose in the physical body.

Once the etheric body is detached, the relationship between the universe and the etheric body would become extremely unstable, and man would become an automaton, for the physical body of man must be polished on this Earth by spiritual will.

So, the vaccine becomes a kind of arymanique force; man can no longer get rid of a given materialistic feeling. He becomes materialistic of constitution and can no longer rise to the spiritual.”

-Rudolf Steiner (1861-1925)

Let's take a closer look at Rudolph Steiner (excerpt from The More Rational Worldview: Coincidence or Conspiracy):

Rudolph Steiner was an Austrian philosopher, "esotericist", and author who was alive at the turn of the 20th century. He made several very specific and unusual predictions about vaccines in his writings. The following was published by him in 1917:<sup>1</sup>

It will be considered a sign of illness for anyone to arrive at the idea of any such thing as a spirit or a soul. People who think like that will be considered to be sick and – you can be quite sure of it – a medicine will be found for this... people will invent a vaccine... so that this human body never even gets the idea that there is a soul and spirit... the vaccine [will] make the body healthy, that is, make its constitution such that this body no longer talks of such rubbish as soul and spirit...Today, bodies are vaccinated against one thing and another; in future, children will be vaccinated with a substance which it will certainly be possible to produce, and this will make them immune, so that they do not develop foolish inclinations connected with spiritual life – 'foolish' here, or course, in the eyes of materialists... a way will finally be found to vaccinate bodies so that these bodies will not allow the inclination toward spiritual ideas to develop.

These are some interesting statements, which would have seemed practically meaningless before the Covid gene therapy injection was introduced. This certainly provides compelling circumstantial evidence supporting the theories presented here, comprising yet another possible instance of apparent clairvoyance. Interestingly, Steiner talked a lot about karma in his highly-Luciferian writings, such as the magazine he published from 1903-1908 titled Lucifer Gnosis.<sup>2</sup> We also learn that Steiner was the founder of a Masonic lodge called Mystica Aeterna within the Masonic Order of Memphis and Mizraim, which he was the leader of from 1906 until around 1914.<sup>3</sup> Perhaps, Steiner had access to knowledge about credible future plans involving such a vaccine, and was attempting to alleviate his own karma by revealing the truth to the public.

In fact, non-mainstream sources claim that, "the Luciferians tell us what they are going to do ahead of time" as a fundamental tenet of their belief system.<sup>4</sup> Mainstream sources describe a potential mechanism of action for substances, such as graphene oxide, that could be contained within the injection to manipulate the religious and spiritual feelings and attitudes of individuals using electromagnetism. One example of this is an article from the Independent titled, Disabling parts of the brain with magnets can weaken faith in God and change attitudes to immigrants, study finds.<sup>5</sup>

Now, how about that? Later, we will discuss the apparent predilection of the Satanic ruling class to follow certain karma-based esoteric rules, which Steiner was certainly into. One of these seems to be that they must reveal their plans before acting upon them, and if no one protests or stops them, then they consider it to be fair game. Steiner laid out in explicit detail exactly what seems to be happening now, and yet, no one seems to care.

Next, let's examine another interesting prediction relating to the Covid gene therapy injection made by French scientist Dr. Pierre Gilbert. This Greek website gives a quick summary of his terrifying and, quite frankly, chilling claims:

- Humanity will create artificial infections in the future so that, after they are created, people will be forced to undergo mandatory vaccination.
- Liquid crystals will be added to the vaccines, which will remain in the human brain cells. Crystals will become "microsensors" for electromagnetic fields that will control human behavior.
- Rwanda is an example of creating a "zombie population".
- The UN has set up concentration camps in the United States for those who do not agree with the "New Order".
- There are 17 floors below the White House in Washington. On the 17th floor, there is allegedly a secret "connection" that the government carefully hides from public attention – that's where the global governance center is.
- It is unacceptable for children to be taught the theory of evolution.
- Thanks to "electromagnetic storms" the world order strikes the biological destruction of the human species and for the completion of their project there is a deadline until the year 2000.

Let's look at some of the "debunking" of this scientist's claims. I highly recommend actually listening to the video, as it is only a few minutes long, and certainly does not give the impression that he is being spurious, is joking, or doesn't know what he is talking about. Indeed, what he says is some of the most shocking and revelatory material surrounding the whole pandemic, and it's no wonder that the mainstream media fact checkers are desperate to cover this up.

Conclusion

In a speech at an unspecified time in 1995 or 1996, well-known conspiracy theorist Pierre Gilbert made a series of scientifically and historically unfounded claims.

Vaccines, in general – and specifically for COVID-19, do not contain liquid crystals. In fact, liquid crystals are a state of matter, and not specific substances, while it is not possible to exploit them for "electromagnetic control". Vaccines for COVID-19 are not universally mandatory for the general population, nor are they intended to introduce a "control chip" into the body. Finally, the Rwandan genocide of 1994, which had strong racial, social, political and economic characteristics, has nothing to do with human control due to vaccines.

Most of our readers, by now, should recognize this style of "fact checking". Rather than an actual, close examination of the facts and all surrounding evidence, it merely parrots the mainstream, Wikipedia-friendly version of events. Of course vaccines can't mind control you, that's ridiculous! It's not like the government spent a fortune and several decades researching mind control through their MK Ultra program in the 50s and 60s... oh wait.

These fact checkers are, sometimes, hilariously sparse:

<https://www.verificat.cat/fact-check/vaccines-can-not-make-someone-control-us-by-brainwaves>

The screenshot shows the website 'verificat' with a navigation bar including 'Verifications', 'school', 'Methodology', 'Who are we', 'Subscribe', and a 'woman' button. The main article is titled 'Vaccines can not make someone control us by brainwaves' and is dated 07/09/2021. The article text reads: 'We are a team of young journalists who work independently to combat disinformation. We rely on facts and data to verify what politicians say and the falsehoods circulating on social media. we need you With your contribution, you will contribute to a healthier political debate and help promote educational projects to teach citizens how to navigate the informational chaos and defend themselves against misinformation. You can collaborate with a contribution as symbolic as one euro and it won't take you more than 45 seconds (we counted them). If you can, please mark your contribution as monthly so we can continue to do our work rigorously and independently. Thank you so much.' To the right, there is a 'Read more' section with three other verification articles: 'Good nutrition can help with the side effects of treatment, but it won't cure cancer', 'Salt lamps have no proven health benefits', and 'Beware of messages that deny the existence of viruses on the grounds that they are too large to penetrate cells'.

Apparently, this site doesn't even feel the need to provide content or write any material – their assertion that “vaccines cannot make someone control us” is intended to serve as the ultimate truth and a mental block for the general population, who nod and agree in cohesive unity (probably due to the mind control). Anyways, it's up to you to decide who is telling the truth.

However, given Steiner's ominous and highly detailed predictions about spiritually lethal vaccines, Gilbert's speech takes on a new urgency in the present day. Again, watch it for yourself and decide why an accredited scientist would risk his entire career, life, and reputation by giving this speech. He had much to lose by revealing these truths, and in my opinion, the way he talks, his tone, body language, and the diction he uses speak like someone who truly believes it, has researched it, and knows what he is talking about.

Here is the direct transcript of his claims:

"In the biological destruction there are the organized tempests on the magnetic fields. What will follow is a contamination of the bloodstreams of mankind, creating intentional infections. This will be enforced via laws that will make vaccination mandatory. And these vaccines will make possible to control people. The vaccines will have liquid crystals that will become hosted in the brain cells, which will become micro-receivers of electromagnetic fields where waves of very low frequencies will be sent. And through these low frequency waves people will be unable to think, you'll be turned into a zombie. Don't think of this as a hypothesis. This has been done. Think of Rwanda."

Only you can decide what you believe, never let others do your thinking for you, especially not journalists. Or, you can listen to articles like this one, about how it “doesn't matter” that the Covid vaccine has “666 written all over it”, because... well, because... because Revelation is about Nero, so there! Disregard the fact that not a single prophecy in Revelation was truly fulfilled during Nero's time.

The Covid Vaccine has 666 Written All Over It...and Why that Doesn't Matter According to Revelation

Matthew L. Halstead · 13 min read · May 18, 2020

At this point, anyone who listens to these obvious deceivers, false prophets, and wolves in sheep's clothing has signed their own death warrant and fully deserves what is coming to them. Still, there is time to repent.

It's fair to point out that the vaccine, no matter how you slice it, is an abomination in its chemical makeup (aborted fetal cells, luciferase, nanotechnology, parasites, who knows what really, etc.) It causes your body to be desolate of God, or the holy spirit, and many have talked about not feeling human anymore after taking it, especially those who were originally spiritually in-tune.

Now, is the abomination that causes desolation the same thing as the mark of the beast? I think so, but I'll clarify my findings more below. For now, let's examine the concept of Trump as the anti-Christ.

The Anti-Christ in the Scriptures

I thought the end of the world would be different. I thought Christians would be gathering together strongly against the anti-Christ. In my opinion, one of the hardest aspects of all of this is the loneliness. There are very few who will listen to or believe what I have to say. All I ask is that you investigate the following claims I am making. Here is how I was almost deceived, and how the world is being deceived right now.

The first thing that anyone should understand is that anti-Christ is not mentioned in the book of Revelation, and there is only one time in the Bible it is mentioned in a singular sense. All other times it is used as "anti-Christ." So, the one time a singular anti-Christ is mentioned is 1 John 4:3:

Every spirit that does not confess Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you heard was coming and now is in the world already.

- Word: anticristoj
- Pronounce: an-tee'-khris-tos
- Strong's Number: G500
- Orig: from 473 and 5547; an opponent of the Messiah:--antichrist. G473
- Use: TDNT-9:493,1322 Noun Masculine
- Heb Strong:
- the adversary of the Messiah
- For Synonyms see entry G5890

Notice the word anti-Christ here means an opponent. There is literally NO other verse in the Bible that uses anti-Christ in a singular way - not even in Revelation. This means that there are many anti-Christ's, and there are many who will possess that spirit, especially world leaders.

So, how then, did Christians get this view of anti-Christ as a singular man? Well, they were thinking of 2 Thessalonians 2: 3, which references the "man of lawlessness".

Don't let anyone deceive you in any way, for that day will not come until the rebellion occurs and the man of lawlessness is revealed, the man doomed to destruction.

In this verse, other versions read, "man of sin" or "son of perdition." Could one equate this with an anti-Christ figure? Absolutely! However, the deception comes from people thinking that there is solely one anti-Christ (a charming man, with a devilish smile, who broadcasts himself on TV like in the movies). While I'm not saying this isn't happening, I would say it is better to look for anti-Christ figures and think more about the terms "man of sin" or "man of lawlessness" when it comes to Christian eschatology. In 2 Thessalonians, this seems to be one man.

In the concordance, perdition means one of money or one who destroys. Now, this is giving us more clues:

- 1) destroying, utter destruction
  - 1a) of vessels
  - 2) a perishing, ruin, destruction
  - 2a) of money
  - 2b) the destruction which consists of eternal misery in hell

After that, in verse 4 it says,

He will oppose and will exalt himself over everything that is called God or is worshiped, so that he sets himself up in God's temple, proclaiming himself to be God.

Note here that he is worshipped, and I want to remind people of something we've talked about before: worship does NOT mean you have to like somebody. One can worship them and hate them at the same time. This happened a lot in the Bible where people were forced to worship kings they did not like. Think of celebrities like Kim Kardashian - everyone seemingly hates her, yet they spend their hours worshipping her, following her, and thinking about her or (insert generic Satanic celebrity here).

Now, let's look at some clues as to who this might refer to.

The Man of Perdition Checklist

Remember, we are thinking about a man of perdition, sin, and lawlessness who encompasses an anti-Christ spirit. This changes how we view Revelation, as again, "anti-Christ" is not mentioned in Revelation.

You can refer to 2 Thessalonians 2 to verify all of these facts:

- He is one person.
- He comes from money.
- He causes great destruction.
- He exalts himself above God.
- He deceives everyone.
- He performs miracles and lying wonders.

So, who could this be? Trump is, most likely, the Man of Lawlessness and the "anti-Christ." Before you get angry, know I voted for him in both elections. I believed all his promises, none of which came to fruition. In fact, he is the one who instigated lockdowns in the US, proudly proclaims he is the "Father of the Vaccine", and has openly stated that he does not believe in the concept of "repentance."

One of the key tenets of Christianity is asking for "forgiveness" -- in fact, one cannot be saved if one does not repent. Yet, Trump says he literally has never asked God to forgive him for his sins. Trump has deceived the whole world, and many do worship him, believing he is the "Chosen One."

What about all the people who sincerely hated Trump? Well, remember what we talked about with worship earlier – though they might hate him, the amount of energy they expend focusing on him, thinking about him, and complaining about him constitutes worship in a Biblical sense. Also, remember that if Trump runs for re-election in 2024, he still has some time to get many more on board.

Anyways, here are some important points to consider:

1.) He is extremely charismatic. Whether you like him or not, he is charming:

- <https://biblia.com/bible/esv/2-thessalonians/2/11>

2.) He has a strong relationship with Israel and made many deals or treaties regarding them:

4.) He built a tower for $666 million:

- “The first phase of that $666 million development, a 53-story tower...”

5.) He will deceive the whole world through "pharmakeia":

- As mentioned earlier, Trump declares himself to be the "father" of the pharmaceutical vaccines, distributed through pharmacies:

6.) The infamous Trump Tower is 203 meters tall, according to multiple sources. 203 meters = 666 feet.

7.) In Trump's first fiscal year which began in 2016 = 666+666+666+6+6+6 the budget deficit rose to 666 billion dollars!

8.) Trump often gives his signature hand gesture, which consists of a Satanic hand sign with three sixes:

- <https://www.usatoday.com/story/news/politics/2020/10/24/trump-rally-video-shows-man-far-right-ok-hand-gesture/6021823002/>

9.) He recognized Jerusalem as capital of Israel:

- <https://www.nytimes.com/2017/12/06/world/middleeast/trump-jerusalem-israel-capital.html>

10.) He will be revealed when a "rebellion" occurs:

- <https://biblia.com/bible/esv/2-thessalonians/2/3> -
- Trump's election represented a rebellion against the established political order.

11.) At the 2021 CPAP “conservative” event we saw a "Golden Calf" statue of Trump holding an occult wand tipped with a pentagram star:

12.) His “Apocalypse coin” predicted the vaccine in September 2020:

- <http://mythdetector.ge/en/myth/how-did-trumps-abraham-accords-become-source-conspiracy-and-what-temple-coins>

13.) He has strong ties to Nikola Tesla... and some even speculate time travel:

- <https://www.yahoo.com/now/how-tesla-nikola-and-donald-trump-are-all-connected-115511618.html>

14.) The creators of Back to the Future, which is a thinly-veiled 9/11 confession, have stated that their ridiculously evil character of “future Biff” was based on Trump:

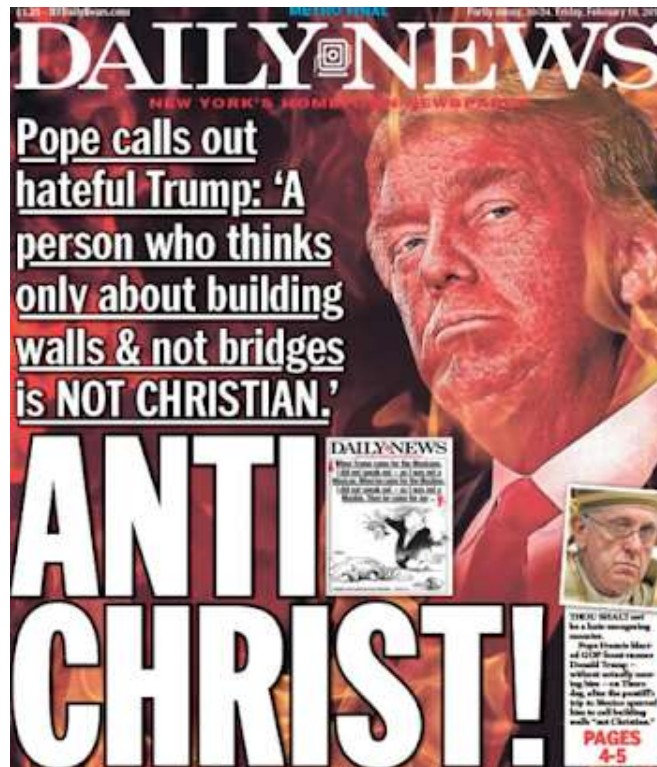

- <https://www.usatoday.com/story/life/entertainthis/2015/10/21/believe-back-future-predicted-trumps-run/74359844/>

15.) Donald Trump inherited his grandmother's real estate empire when she died on June 6, 1966 = 6-6-6. Her name was Elizabeth Christ Trump. Elizabeth means "vow," so her full name means "Vow for Christ to be Trumped."

16.) In Jewish gematria - the cipher by which numerical values are associated with words - the value of the letters in "Don Drumpf" (The original, German translation of "Trump") is 666, and Donald John Drumpf in American ASCII computer code is 666.

It has been said - where there's smoke, there's fire. And in this case, the smoke is plentiful.

- <https://www.rollingstone.com/politics/politics-features/donald-trump-christians-fundamentalists-end-times-rapture-1083131/>

Finally, like him or not, all must admit that Trump is a sexually degenerate liar. He is dishonest, he cheats openly on his wives, and he wields the legal system like a weapon against those who try to hurt him. He is a playboy, he is lawless, and he does whatever he wants.

Remember, I voted for him too. He is certainly charismatic. Still, wouldn't the anti-Christ deceive even hardcore Christians like me? He did. For more on this, check out an excellent book called Rise of the Little Horn, which was written before Trump was elected president and predicted he was the anti-Christ.

The Deadly Wound

Really, uncanny and bizarre as all these 666 associations with Trump are, it all comes down to the vaccine. If the Covid gene therapy injection, which Trump created, is the Mark of the Beast, and we have credibly proven that it is, then Trump has to be the “anti-Christ” people have been waiting for.

No, he doesn’t look, act, or talk like they expected – but that doesn’t matter. This, once again, just demonstrates the spiritually lethal danger of preconceived eschatological narratives.

Note, in Revelation 13:3 it says,

One of the heads of the beast seemed to have had a fatal wound, but the fatal wound had been healed. The whole world was filled with wonder and followed the beast.

What does “wound” mean in this context?

- Word: plhgh
- Pronounce: play-gay'
- Strongs Number: G4127
- Orig: from 4141; a stroke; by implication, a wound; figuratively, a calamity:--plague, stripe, wound(-ed). G4141
- Use: Noun Feminine
- Heb Strong: H3511 H4046 H4294 H4347 H5061 H5063 H7626

- 1) a blow, stripe, a wound
- 2) a public calamity, heavy affliction, plague

One could easily describe Trump's election as a blow to his ego and a wound that has not yet been healed. It could be described as a public calamity, and crazily enough, the word plague is even there! We all know that the Covid “plague” had a major effect on Trump’s administration and the election results of 2020.

It is looking more and more likely that Trump could make a comeback. I guess we will see, but even if not, the damage has already been done.

The Last President

I believe that there is enough evidence here for me to say conclusively that Trump is the “man of lawlessness”. When praying to God, I received confirmation on this. However, remember, there are many anti-Christ, and Trump could have just been getting things started. While we do think that Trump will return as president, likely after a major calamity or collapse drastically changes the political scene, he has already fulfilled enough prophecies to be accurately called the anti-Christ.

Next, let’s examine The Last President, published in 1896, and Baron Trump’s Marvelous Underground Journey, published in 1893, both written by Ingersoll Lockwood. These books comprise an extraordinarily prescient or prophetic series of novels and contain coincidences far beyond what any reasonable person would consider to be normal.

After reading through multiple “Baron Trump” conspiracy posts online, I realized that I wanted to delve into the topic for myself. I didn’t just want to take anybody’s word for it, so I ordered a copy of “1900, or; The Last President” by Ingersoll Lockwood. To be honest, I ordered this because it was only $5 on Amazon versus “Baron Trump’s Marvelous Underground Journey”, which was about $25. I also felt that this book had an eerie title, and I wanted to see if there was something deeper there.

In the foreword, Tarl Warwick writes, “Somewhere along the lines it seems Lockwood went past crafting a short political satire and delved into something deeper. Regardless, the semblance of this work to modernity is uncanny to a frightful degree – if he was indeed not practicing some sort of foresight, he tapped into the same unwittingly” (p.4). This book even includes a “Pence” character in President Bryan’s cabinet.

After reading the book, I was completely shocked. The entire time, I honestly kept thinking “this is boring”, and I must admit the language made it difficult to get through. I stopped at chapter 5 a few weeks ago, and I did not pick it up until recently. I honestly believe this book is predictive (or even something more) but wait until you read the conclusion for it to really hit you! Here is a summary of each chapter. I saved you the trouble of reading it, but if you are not sure, order a copy for yourself and see if I am on the right track.

Chapter Summaries

Chapter 1: Mr. Bryan is elected president of the United States, and mobs are breaking out in NYC, enraged at perpetual corruption and the way monetary value has been sucked out of them and squandered. “Bryan is elected! Bryan is elected! Our day has come at last. Down with our oppressors! Death to the rich man! Death to the gold bugs! Death to the capitalists! Give us back the money you have ground out of us. Give us back the marrow of our bones which you have used to grease the wheels of your chariots.”

On page 7 it states, "The Fifth Avenue Hotel will be the first to feel the fury of the mob." Interesting, Trump's hotel is currently located on 5th Avenue. The chapter basically describes a battle between those who support the president "Bryan" and those who do not, and ultimately, the "city" is saved from the protesters, but the nation is still in turmoil.

Chapter 2: The next chapter transitions to Chicago. Bryan won the election by 24 electoral votes, and he is looked at as a savior and even God to many. It appears that the people finally feel that the rich man will fairly pay for his portion of happiness (p. 11).

Chapter 3: This chapter takes place after the election, nearing inauguration day. While there are still many that oppose and fight against Bryan, he has the love of the "Common People. They "were so dear to Mr. Bryan, and who had made him president in the very face of the prodigious opposition of the rich men, whose coffers had been thrown wide open all to no purpose, and in spite too of the Satanic and truly devilish power of that hell upon earth known as Wall Street (p. 14)". I think the most important thing to take away from this chapter is how the "common man" feels a deep connection to Bryan, similar to how Trump won.

Chapter 4: At the beginning of Chapter 4, the author notes that there is a strange prophecy that there would be a dawnless day. Well, that prophecy was fulfilled, and on March 4, 1897, the "Dawnless Day" occurred. The President was to announce the selection of his cabinet, and many said that this would ultimately prove that he was a "sell-out", but apparently their apprehensions were misguided. The president chooses a strong cabinet, and most notably, he chooses Lafe Pence as secretary of agriculture. His inauguration speech, again, is aimed at the common people, and then he gives out executive order one – the immediate abandonment of the "gold reserve" and the gold and silver standard of the Constitution shall be resumed. People's reactions were of shock, exhaustion, and sheer terror, especially those on Wall Street.

Chapter 5: There are fifty thousand people on the streets of Washington without bread or shelter, and the president establishes camps and reserves rations for these "common people." On page 20 it states, "the first act... was an act repealing the act of 1873... and opening the mints of the United States to the free coinage of silver at the ratio of sixteen to one, with gold." This chapter presciently mentions a bill for the admission of New Mexico and Arizona (interesting!), and a division of Texas into east vs. west. The chapter ends with the "long session" of Congress ending.

Chapter 6: The beginning of this chapter notes somebody wanting to "move the usual adjournment of the holidays" and people are very upset. They are not willing to take a break – there is much to be done. They say there should be no adjournment until they can "emancipate" the Common People. On Washington's birthday, the president makes an address on how great the country is doing – a lovely speech. At the end of the chapter, the president says that he hopes his epitaph will read, "Here lies the friend of the Common People."

Chapter 7: Things start to get out of control, and it states, “There began to be ugly rumors that the government was not able to hold the white metal at a parity with gold.” The Common People started to protest, and new taxes were put on the wealthy. Unfortunately, the government was powerless to stop the decline of the dollar. People began to hate the name of “silver”.

Chapter 8: In 1899, rioting broke out everywhere, especially in the north, and socialism and anarchism “found willing ears” – that’s a little unnerving, isn’t it? The South seems to form great power, and they are extremely upset about the tax put on them, especially because the North is much richer. There are cries of treason and the republic is shaken at its foundations. The North then had to start to prepare for a second rebellion. The president was deeply troubled.

Chapter 9: The rebellion had been squandered, but there was a new prophecy that the North, “rich with 100 cities”, would rise against the federal government. There would have to be a revolution within a revolution. The North would have to fight or lose its power. (From my understanding, the South seems to be the Common People). The North wanted to separate itself from the union and from its own republic. How long would they have to wait?

Chapter 10: Congress refused to adjourn over the holidays. The entire chapter centers around the final debate between the North and South. At the point the president is pale and seems to be weak. The Speaker of the House says the president must resign. Then, the president speaks, and it seems almost godly – he has everybody back under his power for a moment! Out of nowhere, the capitol is struck by dynamite and destroyed (what a twist!). The republic was dead, and “it had died so peacefully, that the world could not believe the tidings of its passing away” (p. 43).

CREEPY ENDING: “As the dawn broke cold and gray, and its first dim light fell upon that shattered dome glorious even in its ruins, a single human eye (the all-seeing illuminati “eye of providence”?) filled with a gleam of devilish joy, looked up at it long and steadily, and then its owner was caught up and lost in the surging mass of humanity that held the Capitol girt round and round” (p. 43).

Conclusion

I must admit that reading this was tough and boring, but the conclusion I am gathering from the book is that it is all planned. Perhaps the president has good intentions, and perhaps he does not. Who is to say who is bad in this book? The North or the South? It is interesting that is directly linked to the dichotomy today of the left vs. right. Ultimately, the republic is destroyed, and the “one eye” is pleased in quite the “devilish” way! Perhaps there really is a devilish power controlling the nation?

The lesson from this book is that even if we do all disagree on some major points, we need to unite in some way. They are constantly using this divide and conquer tactic, and it is undoubtedly working.

When they divide us enough, they can crush our union, and then they can truly take over.

Trump causes much controversy, and maybe, just maybe (but probably not), he really is looking out for the welfare of the people, just as President Bryan seems to be.

However, it seems that some more malevolent force has put him into office so that he can ultimately divide the people. Whether or not Bryan is really for the common people in this book is hard to say, but it might be so, and I would say the same is true of Trump. Is he really for the common people, or is he part of the ultimate plan? What is for sure is that the division is the most prominent part of this book: The Common people vs. the Wealthy (does this not sound familiar?)

From the Wikipedia article on Lockwood's Baron Trump novels:

The Baron Trump novels are two children's novels written in 1889 and 1893 by American author and lawyer Ingersoll Lockwood. They remained obscure until 2017, when they received media attention for perceived similarities between their protagonist and U.S. President Donald Trump.

Jaime Fuller wrote in Politico that Baron Trump is "precocious, restless, and prone to get in trouble." He often mentions his massive brain, and has a personalized insult for most people he meets. Fuller also notes that Baron Trump lives in a building named after himself, "Castle Trump"; while the real-life Donald Trump had lived in Trump Tower for decades.

Furthermore, Donald Trump's youngest son is named Barron Trump.<sup>[1]</sup> Chris Riotta noted in Newsweek that Baron Trump's adventures begin in Russia. Riotta also mentioned another book of Lockwood's, 1900; or, The Last President, in which New York City is riven by protests following the shocking victory of a populist candidate in the 1896 presidential election, who brings on the downfall of the American republic.<sup>[3][4]</sup>

So, what does all this mean? Strange coincidence, some kind of occultic "channeling", time travel, or secret societies revealing their plans in order to alleviate their karmic debt? Something else entirely? If Trump is the anti-Christ, then that means Satan has always known this, and somehow, somehow, Satan has manifested information about Trump in various ways throughout history. This novel could be just a coincidence, or it could be something more. The reason I am including it here is because it is so bizarre and mysterious.

Life is boring without mystery, and God glorifies himself through mysteries in order to keep us going, to keep us searching, and to keep us learning. I leave this mystery for the reader to decide for themselves and nothing more. Proverbs 25: 2:

It is the glory of God to conceal a matter; to search out a matter is the glory of kings.

The Beast in Revelation

Remember, Revelation does not mention an anti-Christ, but it does mention several “beasts”, significantly a beast with 10 horns and 7 heads \(UN and the 7 continents, the original G-10\), which I think everyone should be paying more attention to. Again, the anti-Christ spirit will be working through many people, not just one man. On top of that, now that there are claims of the sentience of AI, meaning we are now at the point where the beast system described in Revelation is active and “alive”.

Right now, if you believe the vaccine is the mark, then you likely know that anyone who took it has their own individual Bluetooth code. That means that an AI system could easily control anybody with that code in many ways. Unfortunately, there is no way to be sure that the people who took it haven't lost their sense of control, their very souls, and their humanity itself.

The Bluetooth Challenge

If you still aren't convinced the vaccine is the mark, here is what you can do (if you have an android phone, iPhone might be different). Download the Bluetooth Scanner by Ethay Tam in the Playstore. While others may work, this is the one I used many times to confirm this.

Turn your Bluetooth on once installed, and codes and names will likely pop up. Note that any phone with a Bluetooth on a device with "Bluetooth on" will be detected. Turn off the Bluetooth to see it goes away and verify which devices are coming up. Also, your computer may have a code, so turn it off.

Once you have done that, if nobody is vaxxed in your house, no other codes should come up. However, get yourself around vaxxed people and verify that there is no other source the code could be coming from. Note that the code tracks how far away the person is, too.

You will see that everyone who took the vaccine has their own unique number - the mark of the beast, and they all look generally the same. I am not the only one who has done this experiment. Others have been conducting the experiments as well and finding the same results. They will appear similar to this:

If still curious, look up “Bluetooth code vaccine” on Bitchute and you will find more information!

Timelines

While I cannot claim I understand Daniel's prophecies fully, and no one truly can, let's take a look at potential timelines.

1) Nobody knows the day or the hour the Lord will come, but they can know the season.

2) Previously, I have noted that the tribulation began with the "corona" virus (or the White Horse rider's "crown"), so that would technically be March 2020, but the vaccines came out December 2021. In my mind, that is when the "abomination of desolation" was set up – as Daniel notes. If that is true, then that means the end of tribulation would be likely 2027 – 2028. If you believe in the post tribulation rapture, Jesus will come then.

If you think the tribulation hasn't started, then you have been ignoring and dismissing signs. People dismiss the tremendous suffering that has happened during this time. People lost their jobs, their businesses, and even their lives. People were subjected to tremendous psychological abuse and severe socio-economic implications.

One thing I find exhausting with modern Christians is that if they are not suffering, they don't count the suffering of others. Just because not all Christians have experienced suffering yet doesn't mean millions haven't, especially during the pandemic. There has never been a time like this in history, and not all types of suffering are physical. Modern Christians often dismiss the tremendous amount of spiritual warfare that has been taking place since the pandemic began. On top of that, Covid was a way to conquer the world - to get countries to follow similar protocols, increase global surveillance, and for the WHO to establish global governance -- and it's not over.

3) However, while I definitely think the pre-tribulation rapture is a lie that has deceived millions, I cannot rule out that the mid-tribulation rapture is possible. This could come three and a half years from the time the abomination was set up, which would be sometime in 2024 - 2025. In this view, the mark of the beast or abomination is set up, and then there are three and a half years until Jesus comes back. Then, possibly, there are three and a half more years for the "end" of the world to take place.

I believe anybody who obsesses over dates will be end up being misled. Jesus could come back anytime, so it is time to get ready. Still, I sincerely believe Jesus will be back before 2030 – and time is speeding up as the end approaches!

More Rapture Deception

So, if the tribulation has started, and the vaccine is the mark of the beast, then what is to come? Well, if the mid-tribulation rapture is correct, then Christians will experience some suffering, and perhaps, before something really big happens, be raptured out. That would explain Bible verses like these, where one is taken and one is left.

If this does happen, how would the government explain what happened? Most likely through aliens, which are simply demonic beings in disguise. It's interesting that the slogan commonly used for aliens is "I want to believe" while "I believe" is used for Jesus. This "I want to believe" phrase shows the level of deception that people will be under in order to NOT believe in Jesus. They will choose something they want to believe in over the truth (Jesus) with their "itching ears."

You can look more into this Project Bluebeam theory here, and I'm sure many reading this already have a general awareness of this idea. The point I am trying to make is that I believe the Mid-Tribulation rapture explains a lot of the incongruencies people are experiencing when they believe in the Pre-Tribulation rapture -- one of them being how many people have had dreams and visions of horrendous suffering along with a rapture scenario.

Here is one timeline that shows the mid-tribulation theory, though I haven't conclusively decided between this or a post-tribulation rapture yet at the very end of the world. It is just something to consider:

In the end, I'm not sure it really matters when the rapture takes place; however, having a general idea that we are in the tribulation is good enough. That means Jesus can come back anytime, and we need to be spiritually ready. We were given enough information to make solid conclusions, but in the end, only God knows the day or the hour, and we just need to be prepared.

Becoming the Beast

If the vaccine is the abomination of desolation and/or the mark of the beast, as is our claim, then here is our theory: the people who have taken it are slowly transforming - but it is not an overnight process. In a moment, I'll talk about what that transformation means. The point is, perhaps there is a short period of time where repentance is possible before people become completely desolate - though the book of Revelation says "they would not repent." I don't know. I am not God, and only He has the final call on judgment. If you have taken the vaccine and somehow stumbled upon this writing, pray with all your heart for repentance, and please closely examine the next section titled, "Can They Repent?"

Anything is possible with God, but at the same time, I don't want to lie or be a false teacher. For now, let's focus on what's going to happen. There are slow mainstream leaks happening about the possibility of VAIDS, and I have had dreams about those I loved with being diagnosed with VAIDS. I remember in the dream, I tried comforting them, but deep down, I knew their destiny. Now, another theory out there, though controversial, is that those who took the vaccine will ultimately end up as some type of "zombie" or beast. Look, it sounds insane at first, but let's start with some facts.

1.) The Elite always put out some type of predictive programming when it comes to their actions. This has been seen endlessly with 9/11 and other events. Why? My understanding is that God has some rules in place, and these elite must follow them; however, they use trickery and deceit to try to get around these "rules". For example, it is said that if they make their plans known, and if people fall for them even when having them shown directly to their face, well that's just too bad.

Now, think of the endless amount of zombie movies out there, many of which are related to some type of vaccine. From the Washington Post article above:

Misinformed posts claiming that vaccines turned "I Am Legend" characters into zombies have circulated online for months, according to Reuters, which reported in December that the posts were being shared after the U.S. government authorized the use of Pfizer's coronavirus vaccine. As of Wednesday, more than 166 million Americans have been fully vaccinated. The zombie count, however, remains at zero.

Now, anyone reading this book likely recognizes that when the media has to try and spin a subject away from a certain conversational direction in such a transparent and desperate manner, then that is most likely the best place to look for truth.

2.) If a major leak about adverse health effects of the vaccine drops, it will set the world into chaos. This will be the perfect opportunity for them to use an EMP/nuke and blame the Russians/other terrorists (and destroy free speech altogether). After the EMP (or any other false flag event), there may even be an actual nuclear attack. Now, I cannot be sure of this timeline, but I am going to tell you, the point will be MASS chaos and confusion. I have had dreams of an EMP, as well as some type of outside attack on America.

3.) It is possible that they will release something to trigger the vaccinated and begin a “zombie apocalypse” - I've heard a lot about a "sound" that goes off which interacts with the nanoparticles in the vaccine. Immediately, people will transform into “zombies” or “beasts”, and at this point, it will be everybody for themselves.

This strange Bible verse seems to prophesy the appearance of “zombies” on the Earth:

Zechariah 14:12-13:

This is the plague with which the LORD will strike all the nations that fought against Jerusalem: Their flesh will rot while they are still standing on their feet, their eyes will rot in their sockets, and their tongues will rot in their mouths. On that day people will be stricken by the LORD with great panic. They will seize each other by the hand and attack one another.

Conclusion

If you have not yet come to Christ, this is the time. For many reading, you know the end times are here, yet you still have not figured out the Bible is 100% true. Remember that Satan has done EVERYTHING he can, even changing the laws and times, to stop you from understanding the truth. However, everyone has enough access to information to learn the truth. A concordance is a great tool to seek the true word of God, and there is always praying, fasting, and your intuition. Remember, God resides in our holy temples, and we have access to Him if we really want. Along with our writings, I recommend reading The Signature of God by Grant Jeffrey, Evidence That Demands a Verdict by Josh McDowell, and Halley's Bible Handbook as a companion to the Bible.

I pray for all reading this because if I'm right, terrible times are coming. Prep as much as you can, but most of all SPIRITUALLY prep. Whatever you do, don't take any vaccine (or any form of them) EVER, especially not the “new” mRNA ones, and stay as close to God as possible.

If you are reading this and you took the vaccine and are feeling sick, please read my writings on the possibility of repentance and please contact me through our website if needed. I think God has the power to work miracles and DO ANYTHING! In the next section, we will discuss the possibility of repentance after taking the mark of the beast.

Part 3: Can They Repent?

I understand this part is controversial, as the traditional view is one cannot repent once they take the mark. However, in prayer, God gave me these verses (James 4:11-12):

Brothers and sisters, do not slander one another. Anyone who speaks against a brother or sister or judges them speaks against the law and judges it. When you judge the law, you are not keeping it, but sitting in judgment on it. There is only one Lawgiver and Judge, the one who is able to save and destroy. But you—who are you to judge your neighbor?

It is very important we remember this, and this distinction can be the difference between life and death for our Christian brothers and sisters. In the end, only God can judge - that is it. He has the final say on who is saved and who is not.

It has always been told to Christians that one cannot repent if they took the Mark of the Beast. While I never want to teach false doctrine or give false hope, I do want to give a small glimmer of hope to anyone who has taken it.

So, to answer this question, we must use the concordance. In my deeper studies of Revelation, I am starting to see that we must always go back to the original Greek and Hebrew for controversial texts. The reason for this is because connotation is everything in language. One little degree change in connotation can change everything.

I want to take you to this verse:

Revelation 14: 11:

And 2532 the smoke 2586 of their 846 torment 929 ascendeth up 305 5719 for 1519 ever 165 and ever 165: and 2532 they have 2192 5719 no 3756 rest 372 day 2250 nor 2532 night 3571, who 3588 worship 4352 5723 the beast 2342 and 2532 his 846 image 1504, and 2532 whosoever 1536 receiveth 2983 5719 the mark 5480 of his 846 name 3686.

If you look to the word "ever" here are the meanings (Note - for means for):

- 1) for ever, an unbroken age, perpetuity of time, eternity
- 2) the worlds, universe
- 3) period of time, age

While “forever” or “eternity” is up there, when I did a search on google for αἰών, the word in Greek, I found that it basically can mean a period of time, an age, a universe, or even a generation, although the primary definition is “eternity”.

αἰών, ὤνος, ὅ (Hom.+; gener. ‘an extended period of time’, in var. senses)

- 1 a long period of time, without ref. to beginning or end,
- 2 a segment of time as a particular unit of history, age
- 3 the world as a spatial concept, the world
- 4 the Aeon as a person, the Aeon

So, the question is: will those who took the mark be punished FOREVER or for an “age” or something similar? Trust me, neither is good, but it is important to consider.

Later, in Revelation 16: 9 - 11, which I consider a key verse for this theory, it says:

They were seared by the intense heat and they cursed the name of God, who had control over these plagues, but they refused to repent and glorify him.

The fifth angel poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and its kingdom was plunged into darkness. People gnawed their tongues in agony and cursed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, but they refused to repent of what they had done.

Note here that they “refused to repent”, which implies they COULD repent. Now you would think, how could someone with so much suffering and torture not want to repent?

The answer is simple: PRIDE - which is really the ultimate, satanic sin. People are going to be so deceived that it will seemingly hurt them more to tell the truth than to repent. What would repentance mean? It would mean admitting they were wrong for taking the mark (vaccine), and going out and proclaiming the truth TO ALL, even if they hate you.

What is likely to happen, and is currently happening, is that people are going to be developing painful sores due to the vaccine (NOT a virus). Instead of tying the sores to the vaccine, they are going to do everything (duplicitous thinking) to find a way to deny that. The media will do everything they can to make them believe it is due to anything but the mark they took.

There will be very few (if any) willing to admit these sores are from the vaccine; therefore, they are not telling the truth or repenting for their pains.

I want to be clear here that I am not entirely sure if the unvaxxed will get it or not, but I do believe the vaxxed will have it with more severity due to a weakened immune system.

REPENT!

What does repentance mean? It isn't just saying sorry! It means to actually change one's mind:

- 1) to change one's mind, i.e. to repent
- 2) to change one's mind for better, heartily to amend with abhorrence of one's past sins

When we come to Jesus Christ, it is a heart and mind change. We can't just say sorry and keep doing what we're doing forever. Eventually we need to fix our hearts and mind and abhor our sin, even if it takes time. Of course, we all fall into sin! But that is why it is important to acknowledge the sin, repent, and get back on track as soon as possible.

While considering all of this, I prayed to God, "Can they repent if they took the mark?"

God replied, "Will they repent?"

In the next part of this writing, I would like to update my thoughts based on my experiences with people who have taken the vaccine and my attempts at discussing repentance with them.

To be clear, I think it is dangerous to say that one cannot repent for taking the mark. First, we are not God, and we are not the ones to judge. When praying once, God reminded me that he sent his son Jesus to be our judge, and that is NOT the job of man. So, when people who think the vaccine is the mark tell others they cannot repent, that is a dangerous game on multiple levels. Again, beware of preconceived eschatological narratives, as they usually lead to destruction.

Second, we must always use a concordance when reading anything from the Bible. For one, I do not know how much we can trust modern translations and their choice of words. Second, a concordance can help us clarify any confusing passages (which we will do in a moment).

So, let's go back to some verses and then I will share some anecdotal experiences in my "Can you repent if you take the mark?" case study.

Back to the Bible

The first mention of the mark of the beast in Revelation is Revelation 13:16. For the brevity of this post, we will use that verse as a starting point. From that point on, in Revelation 14, it talks about the torment that people receive for taking the mark.

It is important to note that the idea of no repentance for taking the mark comes from Chapter 14. I challenge everyone to re-read that chapter and decide for themselves. These are the main verses used here:

And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,

The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb:

And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.

Unfortunately, a face-value reading of these verses strongly implies that God's wrath is poured out "without mixture", or without exception, on all who took the mark (or worshipped the beast and his image), and their torment will last "forever and ever". However, as we have been demonstrating, it's not always that simple when it comes to the Bible, and it's critically important to consider every detail when laying out our exegesis.

Moving on, the next chapter where the mark is alluded to is Revelation 16. This chapter is important because it is clear the mark of the beast has already been established, as all who took the mark get noisome sores.

The vials are clearly in chronological order, and in Revelation 16:9 and 16:11, it is written that they "repented not" of their sins. Why would the verses after the mark of the beast speak of God being angry that they did not repent if they could not repent. I think this leaves open a possibility:

It is not that they CANNOT repent, but rather, the question is...will they repent?

Going back to the concordance, to be sure, this is the wording used:

16:9 And 2532 men 444 were scorched 2739 5681 with great 3173 heat 2738, and 2532 blasphemed 987 5656 the name 3686 of God 2316, which 3588 hath 2192 5723 power 1849 over 1909 these 5025 plagues 4127: and 2532 they repented 3340 5656 not 3756 to give 1325 5629 him 846 glory 1391.(scorched: or, burned)

"They repented not" can be said simply as "they did not repent", leaving open the possibility that they could repent.

Why didn't they repent?

If the possibility of repentance is still open to those who took the mark, then the question is, why don't they?

- Pride: Later, I will detail this as being the major driving force in my conversations. People simply do not want to admit they are wrong. C.S. Lewis warned that pride was the greatest sin, and for good reason. It would make sense that the mark of the beast would be tied directly with the sin of pride (how Satan fell in the first place).
- The God Gene: While it is up to you to decide whether this video is fake or real, I think the premise, at least, is real. Covid vaccines use genetic engineering. There are many talks of "gene deletion" or alteration of specific genes. While it is up to you to go down this rabbit hole, it is possible the vaccine was created to eliminate whatever is inside of us that makes us connect with God, or even be capable of repentance in the first place.
- Ignorance: They don't think it's the mark. This one is a major one. Remember, the Bible says understanding the mark calls for wisdom. Remember, wisdom and intelligence are not the same thing. There are many seemingly intelligent people who took the vaccine. Rather, to be wise means to be able to discern between truth and lies. If the vaccine was the mark, people fell into great deception; hence, they were unwise (though they may have appeared smart on the surface).

My Experiences

In this section, I will detail some of the experiences I have had with my attempts at getting people to repent for taking what I believe to be the mark.

Experience 1: This is a girl in her 20s I met online. I stumbled upon her post about feeling like she lost her soul after taking the vaccine. She kindly asked me not to link to anything she has written, so I will respect that.

We emailed back and forth for months. While she could see truth in the Bible, she did not see it as the full truth. Still, she was convinced she had lost her soul, but she did not think the Bible or Jesus was real.

While I felt close to a breakthrough with her, she started to seem more and more distant, and I felt God was sending me a message to back off. I told her, if she ever changes her mind, I will pray for her and help her repent.

Though she knew something was "lost", she just could not accept the Bible as truth. Still, she told me she was taunted by demons and felt something was deeply gone from her. She was in deep remorse, but she simply did not repent. So, Case Study 1 shows an unwillingness to repent - not necessarily an inability. She was too lost in the doctrines of the world, caught up in believing whatever she wanted to.

Lesson 1: In order to repent, one needs to see the Bible and Jesus Christ as full truth.

Experience 2: This person is a friend of mine who I was close to for a long time. She was (is?) a very Christian woman, so I was extremely shocked when she told me she took the vaccine.

She recently found out that I thought the vaccine was the mark. She was not happy with this fact, and she sent me an email detailing her thoughts. She said that she is 100% sure the vaccine is not the mark, and she addressed some common arguments (the anti-Christ "hasn't risen", "not in the hand or forehead" etc.)

I asked God what to do, and he said, "Tell her the truth with love." I responded to her arguments kindly, and she never had a rebuttal. We still talk and are friends, but we simply disagree about this. I pray for her daily and I do love her. I hold out hope for her. If the vaccine is the mark, Case Study 2 shows that some simply will not be able to come to the truth or the realization that it is the mark.

Lesson 2: A person has to be able to face the vaccine is the mark in order to repent. Pray for her.

Experience 3: I met a few people online who were asking for some charity (all from the same impoverished country). One man needed money for a blood transfusion, so I helped him. He revealed that he was Christian, but he took the vaccine due to his health. His wife and children did not.

I did tell him I thought it could be the mark, and that he must repent for it. I also had him promise me he would not let his wife or kids take it. He agreed.

I haven't talked to him in a while, but there is no way of knowing if he has repented or is in the process of repenting. He wasn't angry with me for my thoughts, and he did say he would pray for repentance. There is no possible way to know if he is actually repenting, and if God will forgive him.

Lesson: Case Study 3 shows that we do not know a person's heart or God's ultimate say, and that repentance is more likely with unprideful, humbled people.

Experience 4: Here are some posts by a man I found who recently took the vaccine:

This is just one of the many examples I have seen browsing online. In the initial post by this person that attracted my attention, he stated that he felt like he had lost his salvation, which prompted me to search his post history to see if he was vaccinated. In their most recent post, they said that they used to be strongly Christian, but since being vaccinated, they stated: "I feel like I have lost my salvation, and I do not have any remorse of any sort. I am losing interest in the Bible."

Lesson: Case Study 4 shows an anecdotal example of someone feeling like they lost their salvation, and while they are troubled, they do not necessarily feel repentant or cannot equate the vaccine with the mark.

Again, there are many examples of this type of sentiment expressed online. I have had many other experiences, and they all line up with those three case study conclusions:

- There may be the possibility of repentance, but people will be unwilling due to pride.
- People do try to repent, but God has the final say, and we will not know until it is Judgment Day.
- People may simply not be able to come to the wisdom it is the mark.

Let's look at one last, more successful, case study.

A few months ago, a woman from a foreign country asked me for some money. Honestly, she did not seem like she was a good place in her life, and she seemed desperate. I gave her some money on and off for a few weeks, and I did find out that she was vaccinated. While she didn't proclaim to be Christian, she was seeking the path.

I told her I felt she needed to repent for the vaccine, and she asked me why and how. I was gentle with her, but I explained that I think she needs to pray sincerely to God daily that she is sorry for taking it, and she should warn others not to take it as a form of repentance. I'm not sure if she listened to me at the time, but we stopped talking for a while.

Yesterday, out of nowhere, she sent me a message letting me know she was getting baptized on Sunday, and she thanked me for never giving up on her. Wow, that made my heart feel overjoyed! Was I supposed to respond, "No, you can't get baptized because you took the mark of the beast"? Certainly not.

I leave the conversation as evidence that I am not lying, but to tell you the truth, this is only one out of many that I have spoken to where I felt it was slightly possible they had repented. Did she truly repent? I don't know. I cannot say, as that's up to God to judge - not me. In recent conversations with her, though, she always thanks me for never giving up on her. I believe she has truly repented and I ask readers to pray for her salvation.

So here are some casual statistics. I have talked sincerely to about 10 people about the vaccine being the mark. Please not it is hard to bring up these conversations with people. Of those 10 people, I believe 2 have sincerely repented (the one above, and one you will read about momentarily). That puts my success rate at about 20%. So, perhaps of those who took the vaccine, 10 – 20% will repent. That is hopeful.

Therefore, I leave with this thought. Since we are not the ultimate "Judges", then it is important that we continually pray for those who have taken it, as well as call for repentance. I will caution that it probably isn't worth your time to start fighting with everyone you know who took it about whether it is or isn't the mark. As always, Christians are called to be humble, loving, and kind, not proud, arrogant, or insulting.

Rather, pray to God that people come to you and ask your thoughts about the vaccine, and then you can get a discussion started. It is of course a very heated, even dangerous issue. It is important we are careful and cautious when dealing with this matter. I still think we should pray daily for God's mercy on those who sincerely repent for taking the mark, and indeed, to do anything else would be distinctly un-Christian.

Romans 9:15 - For he says to Moses, "I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion."

So, let's go back to Romans 9:15, and let's look at the context. This passage is referring to God choosing Jacob over Esau, and according to the contextual link, "The right to decide who received benefits from God was a decision left to exactly one being: God Himself. Paul offers this quote to show that God retains the right choose for Himself, based only on Himself, to whom He will give His favor. God is under no obligation, whatsoever, to rely on other criteria or some "higher" standard to make such a choice."

Essentially, God reserves the sole, sovereign right to act unilaterally as he sees fit, as the creator of mankind. To reiterate, we are NOT the judge, and only God is fit to judge. Therefore, whether you believe the vaccine is the mark or not, telling people they cannot repent for it is a dangerous game to play, and ultimately, putting yourself in a position in line with God, which is blasphemy.

In posts and videos about the vaxxed, I've seen increasingly mean-spirited and aggressive comments regarding their choice, especially from Christians. Remember, we will be held accountable for every word we have ever said, and we have no excuse to pass judgment on others, even on those who took the mark.

The Plagues of the Old Testament

I believe we can go back to Old Testament judgments to help us understand the Revelation judgments, as understanding parallelism, or unity in scripture, is an important component of understanding the Bible.

The plagues were not just part of God's judgment - He wanted to give people an opportunity to repent. Understanding this is key to understanding why repentance might be possible until the end. In Amos 4:10 it says,

I sent plagues among you
as I did to Egypt.
I killed your young men with the sword,
along with your captured horses.
I filled your nostrils with the stench of your camps,
yet you have not returned to me,"
declares the Lord.

Clearly, God was hoping that the plagues would help people reflect and repent, though unfortunately, for most, that didn't seem to be the case.

If we look at Revelation 16, in "The Seven Bowls of God's Wrath", it is important to note that in Revelation 16:2, the first bowl, states that everyone who took the mark breaks out in some type of gruesome sore. Now, AFTER everyone took this mark and got these sores, water turns to blood and the sun scorches people with fire. The Kingdom is plunged into darkness, and people are gnawing on their tongues. After the mark is received, and after these bowls are poured, the Bible says, "but they refused to repent and glorify Him." There are two important points to consider here:

- Why would God mention repentance AFTER the mark if it was impossible to repent?
- Looking at unity in the Bible, and God's consistency, we can conclude that God often sends severe judgments, like plagues, to get people to examine themselves and repent. In other words, we can examine God's character in the Old Testament to understand His character in the present time. God never changes.

Again, if people couldn't possibly repent for taking the mark, I believe the Bible would quite simply say, "They cannot repent for taking the mark," but it says, "They would not repent for taking the mark." These are two very different statements.

A Final Anecdote

I have also run into people who are not vaccinated, but they heavily pressured their spouses to get the vax to keep their jobs. Are they any better than those who took the vax? The Bible talks about the dangers and consequences of leading others to sin. On top of that, a man and woman become one flesh when they get married, perhaps being judged together (we don't know!)

An old friend of mine told me she refused to take the vax, but she had no problem with ensuring her sickly husband took it, putting heavy pressure on him to do so. How will she be judged on Judgment Day? I am NOT the judge, so I cannot say entirely, but it is something that we must consider. Just because someone is unvaxxed doesn't mean they are automatically saved, which leads me to my next point...

REPENT!

Vaxxed or not, I believe it is time for ALL of us to repent. It is not time to cast judgments on others, but rather, to examine ourselves and cleanse our own hearts. We only have control of ourselves, and while we can preach to others and try our best to help them change their ways, it is not our job to fix or save anyone - that is Jesus's role. All we can do is plant seeds, pray for people, and let God take control of the rest.

One can be sorry but still not change. In other words, our actions after we say sorry will show if we have truly changed. Now that we are in the last days, our time is short. I would start every day with a morning prayer, asking God to forgive you of your sins cleanse your heart. I would ask Him to help you break apart any sinful behavior you have trapped inside of you, and to reveal to you anything hidden in your heart.

You see, we can be good at lying to ourselves or avoiding things. I have been asking God to get out any of the dark pieces of my heart that are still there, and to have mercy on me. Finally, let us pray to God that we are counted worthy to escape the things to come and stand confidently before Jesus on Judgment Day.

Just A Little Mark

While considering all of this, I thought about the true meaning of being made in the image of God. I enjoy photography and each photo I make, well, it's like a little creation. The other day, when I was editing my photos, I noticed a "flaw" on every single one. Apparently, something was scratched or marked on my lens, and it affected every photo with a single, tiny dot.

Nobody would have noticed - even if I published it that way. But I noticed. I did some spot removal, and it was gone, but my heart knew it was there. As the "creator", I knew the image would always be corrupted, even if I covered up the flaw.

I think this is what is happening with any DNA change. On the outside, everyone may appear normal, and hey, it might even just be one tiny, little mark. However, to our creator, that is a corruption of His image, and therefore, it is simply... an abomination.

Those photos bothered me. Nobody else would know or care, but as the "creator" of those images, I did, and I simply cast the images out of my collection, fixed my lens, and moved on. There is one or two, though, that I saved despite the mark.

However, where there is still life, there is still hope. I do want to caution, though - I believe there will be a point where there is no turning back, and people cannot repent for their choice they made. I also believe it is possible the vaccine may be tied to some type of digital ID, and that might “seal” someone’s decision, or that God is slowly “sealing” people as time goes on. I also want to caution that just because someone does try to repent doesn’t mean God will forgive them. Again, I am not God.

However, my relationship with Jesus has shown me His endless mercy toward me. I pray for every single person who took the vaccine to face the truth. Next, I have the testimony from an extremely brave anon who took the vaccine, believes it is the mark, and is warning others not to take it. He is still not sure that God will forgive Him; however, I believe that there is great hope for him, especially now that he is spreading the truth to others.

What you will see is that this anon did face the truth, and he has humbled himself. He is also sharing his story with possibly thousands of people that read this site. I pray to God that He is given mercy in Jesus’s holy name.

So, here is what he wrote for the world to hear. He also provided his vaccination card as proof:

Testimony from a Vaccinated Anon

'I write this not in the hope for salvation or for empathy as I deserve none. This is not self-pity, it is just me sharing a message for those who also received these shots. It is undoubtedly long past time to wake up and accept receiving the vaccines in any capacity for whatever reason was the wrong decision. I will not declare repentance brings salvation, but I will declare that repentance is necessary for any Christian who took them nonetheless. I have received three Moderna shots - call me an idiot if you so wish as it is rightly deserved. I was a coward throughout the 'pandemic' despite the many friends I had warning me more about the benignity of the disease itself.

I never received any warning regarding the vaccines. Even then, the writing was on the wall for all of us for the past forty years. It is why God gave us eyes to see and ears to listen. There is no doubt in my mind that the mRNA shots are the mark of the beast as I had a dream shortly before the rollout that the 'mark of the beast will change your DNA'. Lo and behold, the mRNA vaccines do exactly that, change your DNA. There are countless sources that will tell you this so I will not go into details on it. The individuals who created this website have also provided quick and easy to understand information that can easily be digested by those seeking knowledge.

I have spent time on various sites trying to get to the bottom of what the end game of these vaccines are. My findings to say the least are grim. This, however, is not a reason to spiritually give up. It is not over until it is over and God, even in the bleakest situations, may yet have mercy even in the face of despair. It is better to live out what remains of life with hope in a way intended by God than to live in a way that glorifies Satan and his minions.

There is a small group of individuals who are truly awake in this world and there is an even larger group of those who had not received the mRNA shots that can still be woken up. It is hard to shake people awake but for those who have received the unholy concoction and have any moral integrity left still in them... it is our duty as children of God to help wake them up no matter our destination.

"The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing" -Edmund Burke. With that said, if there is any possibility of repentance and salvation it may very well consist of the following: rejection of technology including phones and computers, being wary of what is consumed from restaurants and stores, leaving the smart cities, fasting (both water and dry fasting), praying, and meditating. Basically, reject Satan's world and the life of sin one was living in entirely. This is what I plan to do, and others may find it helpful, if only for the peace of mind. God is the Alpha and Omega, and it certainly is not out of his power to reverse anything that has been done by man.

- A Fallen Anon

Conclusion

I agree with his message. This part of the message may be hard to handle, but I just have to write it. If the vax is the mark, that means that one is likely not saved by grace anymore. So, it is possible those who took it will simply be judged by their works in the way God used to judge and will probably judge those who never heard of Jesus Christ. This is just a theory, but if I took the vax, I would do everything now to change my works to honor God - that way, on Judgment Day, if Jesus isn't standing beside me, my works would show that my heart has changed. However, this is just a theory.

Before closing this section, I want to summarize my best arguments for why I believe people can repent from the mark:

1. Revelation 16 is key. In Revelation 16:1, it says that everyone who has taken the mark or worships His image ends up having some type of grotesque sore. In this section, people are receiving gruesome punishments, and it states, "they repented not." Now, if they took the mark and could not repent, what would they be repenting for? That doesn't make sense and isn't logical. Why would God want them to repent in any way if they were doomed no matter what for taking the mark? This leads to my next point.
2. God will have mercy on whom he chooses. God humbles me often, and He reminds me I am NOT the judge. Anyone telling a vaccinated person they cannot repent is playing with fire. We should NEVER tell someone they cannot repent and come to Jesus, no matter how bad their situation is. In the Bible, there are many examples of God having mercy on the most unlikely of people. Paul, who was originally a murderer of Christians, comes to mind. Anybody who is unvaxxed needs to look back at Revelation 16. God isn't only judging those who took the mark - he is judging anyone who worshiped the beast or its image. While that can mean many things, the point is, do not think you are free from judgment just because you did not take the vaccine.
3. Parallelism in the Old Testament is Fundamental: We can look to the Old Testament to understand how things will play out in Revelation - at least to some extent. Parallelism is the unity of scripture. In the Old Testament, God sent plagues and other judgments to try to get people to reflect and repent. That is exactly what God is doing in Revelation. He wants them to reflect on their choices and consider that they have angered God. In other words, God is a loving, merciful God. He often disciplines his children to bring them back to him.

What I know for sure is that I believe there is hope for the vaxxed. If anybody reading this wants to contact me through our website (you'll have to find it) and have me pray for you, please do.

If anyone reading this took the vaccine and believes that there is no hope, I think that thought process is from Satan himself. I believe Christians have allowed Satan to take over interpretations of Revelation, instead of deep diving into the Word itself.

I would like to close this section with a prayer.

Dear Heavenly Father,

Please help this message of hope reach as many people as it can. God, please have mercy on the repentant ones who took the vaccine. Please show them what they can do to spend eternity with you. Jesus, please have mercy on those who truly feel sorry in their hearts. Help them find hope because I know that with you there is always hope.

In Jesus's holy name.

Part 4: Where Are We “Located” in Revelation?

Those who are reading this book have probably figured out that we are somewhere in the book of Revelation - but where? It is important for anyone reading to know that Revelation isn't necessarily told in linear fashion. Studies have described the layout of Revelation as an “interlocking hook structure”, not chronological, through which the events unfold like a series of Matryoshka nesting dolls.

However, there are parts that are linear, and there is one part that may help us all get a better feel for where we are "located" in the book of Revelation.

From my understanding, the 7 seals lay out the beginning of the events of the tribulation. If our interpretation is correct, the Covid takeover of the world was just the beginning of the 7-year tribulation. If that is correct, then that means Jesus will be coming back at the end of this 7 years. There are, indeed, many who have prophesied his return in 2028, with one prominent pastor predicting the apocalypse in 2028 as the end of the world/Jesus's return:

<https://www.express.co.uk/news/weird/1025684/end-of-the-world-apocalypse-jesus-christ-return-f-kenton-beshore>

Anyways, Revelation 6 talks about the Seals. There are seven, and they are written in numerical fashion. The first seal involves a rider on a white horse wearing a crown (corona) and carrying a “bow” (poison arrow), which we have covered already.

Therefore, it seems that we are now entering the second seal:

"When the Lamb opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature say, “Come!” Then another horse came out, a fiery red one. Its rider was given power to take peace from the earth and to make people kill each other. To him was given a large sword."

This seal is all about war - and that is exactly what we are seeing. If you think this conflict with Russia and Ukraine is just going to end, you are not thinking clearly. These events are going to be used to stage larger, more destructive events.

As we deal with war and destruction, there will certainly be even more inflation and famine, which is noted in the third seal:

When the Lamb opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature say, “Come!” I looked, and there before me was a black horse! Its rider was holding a pair of scales in his hand.

Then I heard what sounded like a voice among the four living creatures, saying, “Two pounds of wheat for a day’s wages, and six pounds of barley for a day’s wages, and do not damage the oil and the wine!”

This seal describes, essentially, a loaf of bread costing as much as a day’s wages, while the elite class (oil and wine) will be unharmed (so far). The fourth seal indicates famine and more plagues (another pandemic, perhaps):

When the Lamb opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature say, “Come!” I looked, and there before me was a pale horse! Its rider was named Death, and Hades was following close behind him. They were given power over a fourth of the earth to kill by sword, famine and plague, and by the wild beasts of the earth.

The fifth seal seems to be more supernatural, referencing Christians who are slain (perhaps those who did not take the mark). The sixth seal involves a major earthquake that pretty much destroys the whole world and stars falling from the sky (meteors), and those who are left running hiding in caves, awaiting Jesus's return and wrath. Then, the real fun begins.

So, how is this helpful to you? If you know where we are in Revelation, then you can prepare spiritually, emotionally, physically, and mentally. Things are going to get harder, and sadly, scarier. However, I do not want you to be fearful because if you are reading this, God is real, and he will listen to you, which I'll go back to in a moment. So, if we were to shorten this for you:

- First seal = Corona Reset
- Second seal = War (YOU ARE HERE)
- Third seal = Inflation, famine (YOU ARE HERE)
- Fourth seal = More famine, more plagues, death (another pandemic?)
- Fifth seal = Christian beheadings (could have happened anywhere in Revelation, but there seems to be something supernatural taking place in this seal).
- Sixth seal = Major earthquake, possible meteor. Run to the hills - Jesus is coming.
- Seventh seal = 30 minutes of silence in heaven...

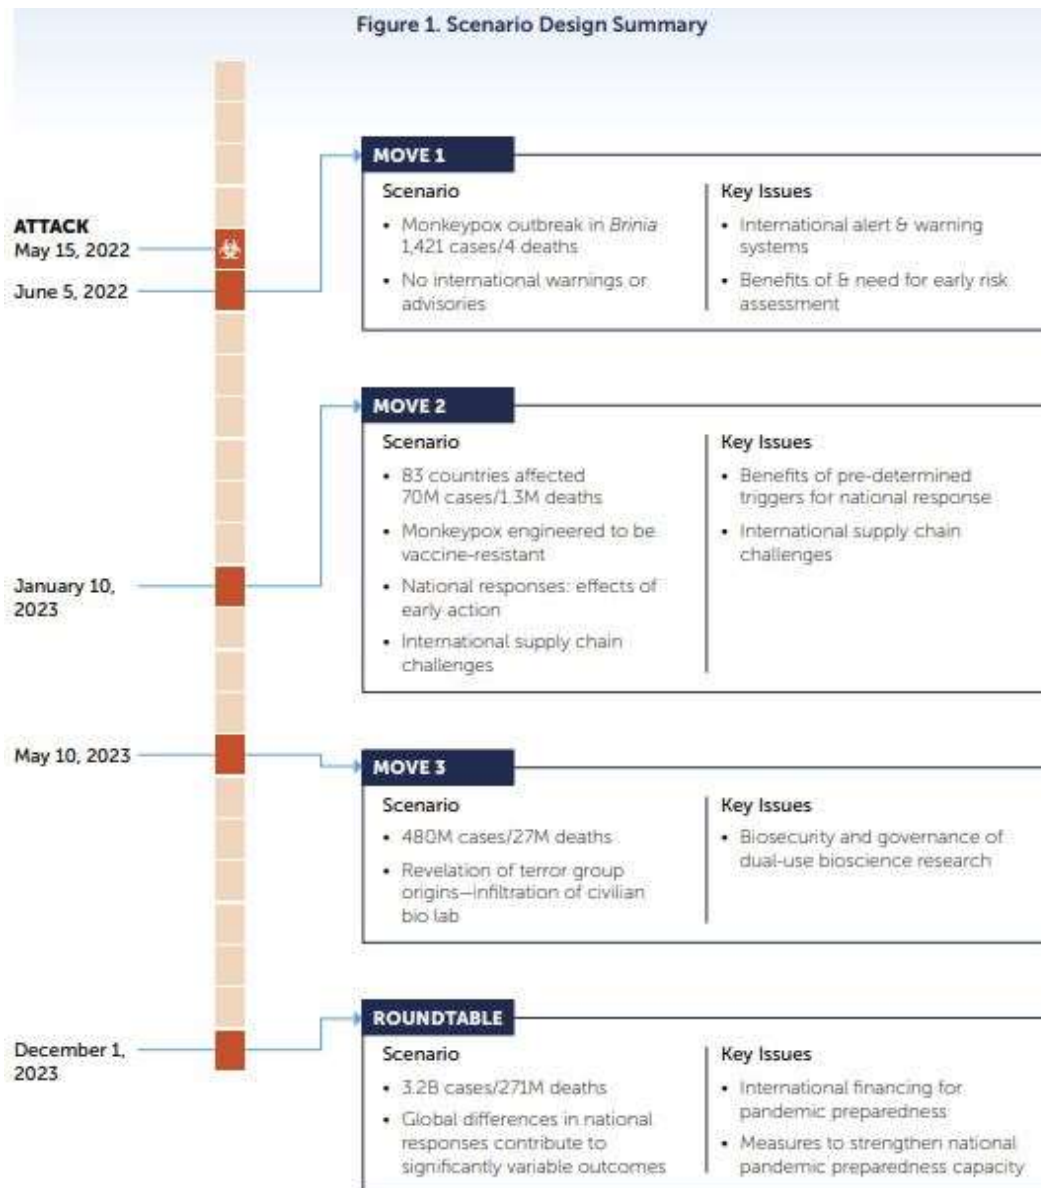

With the seventh seal, we can begin to understand the “interlocking nesting doll” structure of Revelation, as the seventh seal “releases” the trumpets, and in turn, the seventh trumpet “releases” the “bowls”.

Now, back to what I was saying. I did not write this for anyone to be fearful. Jesus is real, and as things get worse, that is all any of us can truly hope for. There was once a moment that I had, where I felt, spiritually, as though I was in hell for one hour. I want to explain that this was not an event in my life where anything bad was happening. I tend to think God gave me this moment so I could understand what hell was like... and what it felt like was pure hopelessness.

Even at our worst points in life, almost all of us have a glimmer of hope. But without hope, life is meaningless. When things get really dark and bleak, Jesus will be our only hope, the only light shining. It is important to find him now if you have not yet.

While we can all hope and pray that the evil elite who did this to the world will soon be brought to justice, in the meantime, they need a cover-up - and as usual, this was all pre-planned.

Just like the SPARS scenario released by the CDC in 2017 (with an uncanny resemblance to COVID), the government has already released a similar “exercise”, or “drill” timeline for a Monkeypox outbreak:

Next, it is important to understand that there are two separate, distinct viewpoints on what actually causes “diseases” like Covid – the virus theory or the terrain theory.

Terrain Theory and the Virus Lie

Here’s a coincidence for you: did you know that Wuhan was the first-blanketed 5G city in the world, as well as “ground zero” for Covid?

- <https://www.bbc.com/news/business-50258287>

The media has done a great job of destroying any link between 5G and Covid, but I ask you to think carefully about all of this and decide with great caution who you choose to believe.

First, I want to start simply here. There is absolutely no doubt that previous “Gs” have been linked to illness and cancer in the past. The media cannot lie, for example, about the link between 4G and cancer:

- <https://www.theguardian.com/technology/2018/jul/14/mobile-phones-cancer-inconvenient-truths>

So, conspiracy theorist or not, people should have been extremely concerned about those ugly 5G towers being built everywhere around them, even before linking anything to Covid. Some were, of course, but these types of protests were easily hidden and dismissed, and routinely mocked by the crowds who are only too happy to parrot what their intellectual bankrollers in the media tell them to.

- <https://www.localdvm.com/news/i-270/activists-protest-against-5g-towers/>

In school, we are typically taught that germs and viruses cause diseases and make us sick. Yet, we rarely discuss the “terrain theory” and how our environments can make us sick. In fact, I never even knew there was another view of illness other than the classic germ theory until a few years ago!

In this simple post, I will not be able to fully discuss the terrain vs. germ theory, as there are many very well-researched books discussing this topic available. I challenge to do your own research on the terrain theory, but for now, here is a pretty good link discussing what we probably should already know - our environments directly impact our health:

- <https://www.prestigewellnessinstitute.com/blog/its-the-terrain>

It’s as simple as thinking of a fishbowl. If a fish gets sick in a fishbowl, even with other fish in it, who or what do you blame first? The fish, the other fish in the bowl, or a mysterious virus? Or do you look at the environment in the fishbowl to see what happened? Most fish owners know that keeping the tank clean, filtered, and pure is one of the most important ways to maintain a fish’s health.

Like fish, our environments, including what we eat, truly are responsible for most of our wellness (if not all of it!)

In this post, though, I'm not here to disprove germ theory, as I believe that calls for deep investigation on the reader's part. But for the purpose of brevity, nearly every scientist agrees that the environment has a direct impact on our health:

- <https://online.regiscollege.edu/blog/environmental-factors-that-affect-health/>

So, if that is true, introducing any source that emits radiation into an environment will likely affect that environment and the organisms living in it. Even the very censored and purposefully obtuse mainstream media can connect the dots between radiation and its effects on organisms within our environment:

- <https://www.newsweek.com/migratory-birds-bee-navigation-5g-technology-electromagnetic-radiation-934830>

Now, let's get back to Covid. Most have noted that Covid is very similar, if not the same as the flu. What causes the flu or flu-like pandemics according to terrain theory? This article explains it well:

- <https://principia-scientific.com/pandemics-explained-by-terrain-theory-part-2/>

From the article:

As we've seen in my germ theory article, many different types of viruses (including coronaviruses) and bacteria are already of our overall microbiome. It is therefore a logical conclusion that when a bacterium does appear, it is not because someone "caught" it — rather, it is because the cells in our body use the bacteria to clean out the toxicity that we have inhaled or ingested. We can observe this phenomenon in the pleomorphic nature of bacteria and how they change shape according to their environment. The presence of a microbe does not mean it is the cause of disease, rather, it is a symptom of disease.

The article is fascinating in that it:

- Explains why the flu happens every season.
- Explains how the flu is related to our nervous system, and why there may be other symptoms that we get that often do not make any sense (depression, mania, anxiety, etc.) Many who claim to have "long-haul Covid" have many peculiar symptoms that are unexplained by classic germ theory.
- The connection between solar radiation and sickness (Think Vitamin D).
- <https://www.medscape.com/viewarticle/938303>

So, let's go with the premise that any type of flu-like sickness is related to our environment - NOT viruses. Again, I challenge you to research more about this yourself (one good method is to perform a simple search for "terrain theory books" on Amazon), but if we go with this premise, suddenly a lot of the "mysterious" aspects of Covid start to make more sense.

Remember when Covid was first announced, and it did not seem to badly affect children and generally healthy people? Why is that? Well, if the terrain theory is true, children and generally healthy people would have less issue with their body "detoxifying" anything from the environment, including radiation.

They'd have a flu-like illness, get rid of the bad stuff, and feel better in a few weeks. People who are older or have health conditions would have more difficulty with this detoxification, and thus be more likely to die from Covid. This is exactly what happens with the flu every year - death is rare amongst children and the generally healthy population.

Covid is likely a manifestation of radiation sickness from the new 5G towers in our environment. The symptoms of radiation sickness are nearly identical to the original symptoms of Covid. Here is a link to the symptoms of radiation pneumatoxis:

- <https://cancer.ca/en/treatments/side-effects/radiation-pneumonitis>
  - fever
  - cough
  - chest congestion
  - shortness of breath
  - chest pain

As people adjusted to the 5G radiation, Covid seemed to go away... at least until they introduced the "vaccine" - if you want to call it that.

Now, remember the terrain theory notes that we obviously already have bacteria and something like microbes or viruses all over our microbiome.

If viruses are real, at least in the way they have been portrayed, then Covid would have just been like any other seasonal flu. People would largely get sick in winter, with less vitamin D resources in their body, and most would recover. A few, such as the elderly or already vulnerable, would need to take some more precautions, but life would have gone on as it always has. Eventually, the virus would mutate into a less dangerous form, and things would return to normal.

So, am I saying the Covid "virus" was made up? Yes, and no. It does exist in some way, but not as a virus – it's probably radiation. However, "viruses" or various microbes are merely a symptom or tool your body produces to help deal with environmental contamination.

This means that “Covid” can be highly controlled by the so-called “elites” of the world.

Now, this is when they introduced the vaccine.

Today, the mainstream media announced that the newest variant flavor du jour is ‘better at infecting vaccinated people.’ What?? How could this be?

- <https://www.the-sun.com/health/4145094/new-covid-variant-infecting-vaccinated/>

Well, it makes perfect sense. By vaccinating as many people as they could, they can now better control the narrative. Not only will more people die from this new variant, but they will be sure to cover up the fact that it is the vaccinated who are dying - whom they made sick through whatever potion they inserted into people’s bodies.

The unvaccinated will still be blamed, lockdowns will continue and intensify, and our rights will continue to be stripped away.

They will be able to continue to blame new variants if people are vaccinated and have no understanding of the true measures of health. This is the part where it all gets a little convoluted.

Why didn’t the elite just create a real virus? If I am right, and there really is no such virus, then why? Well, it could be that viruses don’t really exist as we understand them. If they do exist on any level, they must be injected into somebody directly; hence how HIV and AIDs are spread – only through direct bodily fluid contact.

To end, while it is important to view the news and understand what they are trying to make you believe, you should start viewing the whole pandemically differently.

Chances are, if you are generally healthy, eat well, get Vitamin D, and have no underlying conditions, you probably will be okay - even if you get “Covid”. If you aren’t healthy, start changing your lifestyle. Get direct, good radiation from the sun each day. Even with a new “variant”, you will probably be fine if you are not vaccinated, which is one reason they want to vaccinate so many people!

As for the conspiracy element of this post, if there is graphene in those vaccines, then 5G could be used to control those who took them. We’ve previously discussed how everyone who took the injection is now emitting Bluetooth codes. The potential for a water-soluble, vaccine-delivered graphene oxide sensor or microchip, exactly as described in Microsoft’s #060606 patent, to link up with a worldwide 5G network enhanced by some sort of AI-powered beast system is... truly terrifying. Or else, it would be, if people weren’t too busy worrying about which sportsball team won last night or what generic Satanist celebrities X, Y, and Z said.

The point is, the masses will continue to believe in this fake virus, and the elite will continue to deceive, subjugate, and hurt people, while simultaneously gaining unprecedented levels of wealth and power. If nothing else, break the delusion about your health now, and stop fearing an invisible, fabricated monster in the closet.

So, my next predictions are not fun, but I do feel I need to warn people.

While we are all waiting for justice, only God can bring that to the world. These seals are being opened as God's judgment, which is righteous, necessary, and has been prophesied.

If a large portion of the world is on the brink of death, people will want answers. The question is: Who are they going to get answers from?

1) The Government?

2) God?

I hate writing this portion, but the vaxxed are likely easier to control now with nanoparticles in their body, as well as in vivo 5G/Bluetooth connections. Anyways, chances are, people are going to believe the new narratives again, even though it is so obvious. You are going to sit there and wonder, "How are they believing these lies?" Just as predicted, the whole world has been deceived:

And the voice of harpers and musicians, and of pipers and trumpeters shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee; and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee; and the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee. For thy merchants were the great men of the earth, for by thy sorceries (PHARMAKEIA) were all nations deceived.

And in her was found the blood of prophets and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth.

That last verse doesn't look good for any of us reading this.

I believe that during or after this massive death, they are going to need someone to blame. While we can hope and pray that the evil of the "elite" will be exposed, the truth is, they will be after one group and one group only: the true followers of Christ. If you are Christian, be prepared for many to hate you because of Jesus. If you are a true disciple of Christ, you will be hated by the world.

The World Hates the Disciples

If the world hates you, keep in mind that it hated me first. If you belonged to the world, it would love you as its own. As it is, you do not belong to the world, but I have chosen you out of the world. That is why the world hates you. Remember what I told you: 'A servant is not greater than his master.' If they persecuted me, they will persecute you also. If they obeyed my teaching, they will obey yours also. They will treat you this way because of my name, for they do not know the one who sent me. If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not be guilty of sin; but now they have no excuse for their sin. Whoever hates me hates my Father as well. If I had not done among them the works no one else did, they would not be guilty of sin. As it is, they have seen, and yet they have hated both me and my Father. But this is to fulfill what is written in their Law: 'They hated me without reason.'

While this is a sad fact, we have amazing hope in Jesus. He will stay close to us, and we await a beautiful, endless eternity with Him. NOTHING IN THIS WORLD IS WORTH LOSING THAT - NOTHING.

So, Are We in Revelation?

Are we heading into WWII? Many believe so. To note, I had a dream of a surprise attack on the US at the beginning of this year. I was watching TV, and I said out loud, "It has begun!" Many are prophesying a surprise invasion or attack on the US, and I can see it happening. (Witness 1 notes if it does happen, it will be a false flag attack like 9/11).

Right now, I am still studying this, so I will not make any final conclusions. What I will say is this: we are in tribulation. This is the end times, and while I do believe in a rapture of some type, we still have much suffering and persecution to go through. That being said, if we are truly close with Jesus Christ, then we have nothing to fear.

2 Timothy 1:7 - For the Spirit God gave us does not make us timid, but gives us power, love and self-discipline.

Wolves in Sheep's Clothing

Another definite sign we are in the end times is the amount of deception taking place, with tremendous amounts of false prophets, especially online. YouTube, Bitchute, TikTok, and other platforms have created a dangerous pulpit of false doctrine, blasphemy, narcissism, and meaningless words.

Here are some warnings I have for ANYONE trying to determine if someone is a false prophet. In prayer, ask God if He agrees. These are warning signs and not necessarily 100% indicators, so it is all about discernment!

1. They continually ask for money: Notice that our ministry generally does not actively solicit donations. NOW, I don't think it is necessarily wrong to ask for donations for certain things. For example, I gave money to a man who posted on a prophecy forum asking for donations for his charity the other day.

Again, I don't want to be a hypocrite. I understand that there are times of struggle and times where people have no choice. I would really discern about this. For example, I see one tremendously popular YouTube "prophet" who frequently talks about zombies asking for donations, though she has a job. To me, that seems strange and uncalled for - and I believe she is false prophet.

Why should we ask for money for what should be given for free? Everything I write here can be found in the Bible, online, through prayer, or by the holy spirit.

So, if people are asking for donations or money, be careful. Nobody should ever ask you for money just to pray for you, for example. If they are asking for money, ask them about their circumstances. I know there are some who lost their jobs in Australia, for instance, for not taking the vaccine, and now their lives are harder. I can see donating to them.

It is up to you to discern.

2. They show their face excessively: I am not saying everyone who shows their face is a false prophet, so please do not twist my words. Rather, I noticed that all of these "YouTube preachers" aim directly on their faces the entire time they are speaking. It just seems odd. Many of them are women, and many of them seem to love all the compliments about how "beautiful" they are.

Again, this is about discernment. If someone seems like they are overly focused on themselves during video preaching, it makes me suspicious. I also understand that it is difficult to film a video speaking without showing one's face.

However, many create images or backgrounds to go along with their speaking, which I believe places more emphasis on God's teaching. It's worth noting that if you can say what needs to be said without being anonymous, these days, you are likely not saying the full truth.

Again, discernment is key. If you get a vibe of narcissism or arrogance when it comes to these people, I'd caution yourself from listening. God's people are clothed with compassion, humility, gentleness, and patience.

3. They are always giving EXACT dates: Dates are dangerous, and I heard once that God doesn't give dates, and I believe this is largely due to free will. I do think timelines are okay, but I have seen so many fall into the trap of: THIS IS ABSOLUTELY GOING TO HAPPEN ON DECEMBER 15 at 2:00 am. When the prediction doesn't come true, they make a new one.

If we have free will, that means that timing of events may never be perfectly settled. Only the Father knows the day or hour.

The most humble 'prophets' I see admit they don't know it all, and they can only prophecy in part.

4. They cause petty quarrels: I've written all about petty quarrels on this site. One example of this is a man who posted a YouTube video recently that all women who wore make-up in any capacity were going to hell. There are many reasons this is ridiculous, but the point is, the comments were so divided, and there was so much hate amongst Christians.

We really have to be careful in buying into these types of petty quarrels that further divide Christian fellowship in the end times.

The point is do not trust everyone who has a pulpit on the internet. Do not even trust what we write, but check everything with the Bible, prayer, and God himself.

5. Just because they proclaim Jesus, doesn't mean they are true Christians: Not everyone who proclaims to be close to the Lord is close to Him, and they will not make it to Heaven. Many on these online platforms will tell you about their love for Jesus, but often, they are hypocrites, double-minded, and quite simply, wolves in sheep's clothing.

The Return of Trump?

Something really strange happened last night. I was talking to my friend, an avid Trump-hater in the past, who said something uncanny. I am telling you, this woman hated Trump with all her heart and soul in recent years. She said, "Well, I do kind of agree with some of Trump's points, and I think he will win the 2024 election." To me, this was absolutely shocking, and a sign of shifting tides.

So, let's go back to what I talked about earlier. Imagine a world after a breakout of war, famine, inflation, and more. There are many people who still worship Trump right now, so imagine he comes back on the scene in 2024, after all these calamities. Imagine, those who took his vaccine, needing a savior and hope. Imagine him redeeming himself to the entire world - not only is he healed, but he also 'serves' (Strong's 2323) the entire world, leading them to believe he can restore it.

DREAM #1: I had a dream the other night, and Trump was president again. He asked if I was vaccinated, and I said no. He said, "That isn't going to last long." I woke up, feeling unsettled.

DREAM #2: In this dream, I was walking by a family who was distraught. Apparently, a woman in the family had murdered her own child. As I walked by them, I glared, as I was disgusted by what had happened.

However, as I continued to view their emotional turmoil, I became compassionate. I thought, "What would Jesus do?" I approached the family, and I asked if they knew about Jesus. They all replied, "Yes, yes! We do not understand how this could have happened!" Apparently, I had an understanding that the woman was overtaken by demons when she murdered her baby. I started to explain how demons could take over anyone who is not solid in their foundation, even if they do claim to know Jesus. Then I woke up.

This is a warning for all of us - we must build our beliefs on a solid foundation:

Building on a Solid Foundation

Anyone who listens to my teaching and follows it is wise, like a person who builds a house on solid rock. Though the rain comes in torrents and the floodwaters rise and the winds beat against that house, it won't collapse because it is built on bedrock. But anyone who hears my teaching and doesn't obey it is foolish, like a person who builds a house on sand. When the rains and floods come and the winds beat against that house, it will collapse with a mighty crash.

Final Thoughts

We are in times of turmoil. Anybody who does not believe we are in the final days is ignoring the signs. It is time to cleanse our garments and get ready for our Lord and savior, Jesus Christ!

Luke 12: 56:

Hypocrites! You know how to interpret the appearance of the earth and the sky. How is it that you don't know how to interpret this present time?

May God bless anyone reading.

Part 5: They Aren't Human: Evil in Our Low-Vibrational (Hellish) World

Over the years, most of us who are "awake" and aware of the ultimate endgame of the elite still have a lingering question in the back of their minds: How could anyone be so evil? Sure, many believe that the elite believe they are the good guys, but I don't buy that. They openly put their evil agendas in the media, and they are often proud to be portrayed as the bad guys. The infamous David Rockefeller once boasted:

"Some even believe we are part of a secret cabal working against the best interests of the United States, characterizing my family and me as 'internationalists' and of conspiring with others around the world to build a more integrated global political and economic structure - one world, if you will. If that's the charge, I stand guilty, and I am proud of it."

Over the years, I have heard many theories about "reptilians" that secretly control everything, and on the surface, that all sounded a little crazy. Plus, this information often came from known disinformation agents like David Icke, so it was difficult to trust. As always, we must carefully examine any information put out there. Just to note, there may be some truth in what he says, but whenever someone is propagated to the forefront of the media, alternative or not, I am always suspicious. A test one can always do is ask, "Are they Christian? Are their views backed up by the Bible?" With David Icke, he gives you some truth, and then he adds wild theories to distract – none of which are backed up by the word of God. This is described by two terms: disinformation (intentionally placed misinformation), or a limited hangout.

Since I am a full believer in God, and I believe the Bible is 100% the word of God, I decided to start there to determine if it was possible that those who are controlling the world are really of another bloodline or race. In this context, I am NOT talking about skin color, and in fact, I believe that race wars on any level were and are created and instigated by the elite to keep us separated.

It is important to note that this is a complex issue, but racism cannot be supported by the Bible. This post isn't about the color of skin, and I believe all can come to Christ - well, at least, all humans can come to Christ:

"There is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free, male nor female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus." - Galatians 3:28

With that being said, I do believe it is likely that there is a non-human "race", or Satanic bloodline, that is currently in control of the world.

In the book of Genesis, the story of Cain and Abel can help give some insight.

In this story, God put a "mark" or "curse" on Cain and his bloodline, as punishment for killing his brother, Abel, out of jealousy (Genesis 4:15). Interestingly, the word "mark" here is a different Hebrew word than the word used for the "mark of the beast", where this mark of Cain in Genesis implies some type of signal, warning, or omen, while the mark in Revelation implies an actual "etching" or "scratch" of some sort. This is important to note, as the mark given to Cain was given as a curse and warning by God, but those who take the mark in Revelation willingly choose to do so and are "etched" or "scratched" by something apparently like an engraving tool (needle).

Now, let's go back to this split - at this point in history, was there an actual genetic split in bloodlines? Many believe that Cain is not of Adam's bloodline, and this bloodline, in fact, is the "Satanic" bloodline - or not human. While the Bible is unequivocally clear that Adam was Cain's father, and Cain was human, this "Serpent Seed" doctrine and its relation to the Biblical Nephilim is discussed further in our writing titled It's All About the Blood.

Again, while many have tried to make this about race and skin color, they are missing some very important points:

- God does not judge based on outward appearance.
- Little is said about skin color in the Bible itself; rather, God distinguishes between those who have this "mark", which seems to be spiritual or genetic in the bloodline. God also distinguishes between the "real Jews" and the "fake Jews", or the Synagogue of Satan, in Revelation 2:9:

"I know thy works and tribulation and poverty (but thou art rich), and I know the blasphemy of them that say they are Jews and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan."

In other words, while the average person, even on conspiracy forums, is worried about skin color and a race war that is largely produced and manufactured, they are not seeing the real, spiritual war with beings that are not in the image of God – which is much of the so-called "elite" of society.

So, is there any proof of what I am saying? Yes:

Jews and Arabs Descended from Canaanites

DNA analysis, from bodies found at several sites, explains more than half of ancestry

However, I am urging those who are reading to consider those who claim to be "Jews" in modern society. Are these the real Jews, or have they deceived the world by claiming they are Jews when they are actually the Synagogue of Satan? I urge you to look past outward appearance, as God would, and instead, look at the hearts of those who claim to rule the world and often claim to be the true Jews.

Do they show good works for humanity? Do they help the poor? Do they do anything "good" for the world? Or are all their outcomes or "fruits" evil?

Now, I'm also not writing this thread to create "hatred" for anyone or any "race." We are told, after all, to love our enemies:

However, knowing that it is possible that there are those who "disguise" themselves as humans with good intentions, but are not actually human, can help us in this world. It could explain much of the evil in the world, and much of the spiritual warfare that we are going through now. It could explain the conspiracy theories about reptilian creatures, or people with "reptilian" hearts. It could explain the conspiracy theories about parasitic beings that feed on humans, and the stories of the Nephilim.

It could certainly explain why those who rule the world never seem to have our interests at heart and are so dead set on destroying the world. So, why do they want to destroy the world? Well, they hate God, His creation, and anything made in His image.

It also leads into something else important for you to consider. Most new vaccines from this point on will use genetic engineering on some level, such as Novavax.

“They” will try really hard to create vaccines that they say are organic or don’t use genetic engineering. Never trust them. These vaccines may go by many names and may be used for different purposes, but they are all going to use genetic engineering on some level, whether mRNA technology or something else. Whatever you do, do not take any of them, and do not believe the information they put out about them. Remember, Satan is the ultimate deceiver and liar, and he will do whatever it takes to destroy you, including lying to your face.

Now, I want to go back to the idea of this “reptilian race” and more about their motivations.

CIA Findings

Searching “reptilian bloodlines” online is going to give nothing but disinformation. However, when I see findings from the CIA, I usually pay attention. This isn’t because I believe every single word they say; however, when it comes to sourcing, I believe there is some aspect of credibility they can provide. In the end, it is up to you, the reader, to decide. No matter what, if the CIA put it out there, true or not, we are meant to see it for a reason.

When researching, I stumbled upon Robert Monroe, who deeply studied “altered consciousness” and founded the Monroe Institute. I challenge you to read more about his experiments here, but here is what he uncovered:

- The nefarious vertebrates have controlled and enslaved humanity for millennia.
- They exist and operate in the 4th dimension and are only visible to individuals who can see beyond our extremely limited spectrum of visible light.
- Reptilians feed off our spiritual life force which Monroe called ‘loosh’. Negative/ low vibrational energy is essential to their survival.
- These parasitic entities see Earth as a massive farm where they harvest human fear, hatred, anxiety, anger, and depression.
- Their intelligence is equal or superior to human beings.
- This elusive lizard-like race sees itself as superior and rulers of mankind.”

So, let’s pause here for a moment. If these beings are real, then what does this mean for us?

I 100% believe there is another bloodline walking amongst us, but in the end, this “reptilian” theory could be disinformation. However, the more I pray, explore, and research, the more I believe it is possible that there is some type of interdimensional, Satanic beings disguising themselves as humans in order to destroy us from within. In other words, “They Live” is a documentary (for the most part), not just a strangely prescient movie. The Bible confirms this when it discusses the Satanic, fallen angel bloodline introduced on Earth known as the Nephilim.

A Low Vibrational World

Have you noticed, when out and about, the amount of low vibrational noises you hear? You might hear an engine revving, or you might hear a low vibrational jet flow by. Most of these noises in our modern world are not pleasant, and for me, they have always been very disturbing. I am not alone. I always wondered why the world wasn’t designed with more pleasant-sounding noises, such as maybe something more angelic.

Let me continue. When you turn on the radio or listen to popular music you are continuously bombarded with more low vibrational energy. This type of music often relies on low vibrational topics (sex, drugs, abuse, etc.), as well as low vibrational frequencies like 808 kick drums and overpowering sub bass. For some reason, this type of bass-driven music, like rap, techno, and dubstep, seems to be all anyone wants to listen to these days. Could there be a reason it is pushed so hard?

Then, these massive 5G towers were built, surrounding us on every corner, imprisoning and harming us. Parts of 5G can be implemented on the “low frequency” spectrum, so imagine, all day long, these low frequencies are hitting us.

Where 5G fits in the electromagnetic spectrum

Source: SCAMP/Imperial College London/EBU

BBC

I remember when those 5G towers went up in my city, during the initial Covid lockdowns, I never felt the same again. It has taken me intense prayer to rise above these frequencies, and if you haven't started praying for protection from them daily, it is time to start.

Going back to our low vibrational world, there are many other examples of things operating on a low vibration – from people's attitudes to what we view on our screens. The point is: can you think of anything near you that seems to be operating at a high vibration? Do you ever hear random, heavenly music in stores when you shop? Probably not. Do you meet many people in a positive or uplifting mood? Do you know anyone or anything that seems to be truly at peace? The answer is, while you may have in the past, you probably don't meet anyone like that very much anymore.

That is because this is Satan's world and he is the "god of this age." Satan has made this world as close to hell as he possibly can, where his bloodline, not God's bloodline, can thrive.

In other words, Satan has created a world where people are growing used to hell-like conditions. Of course, this world is still not hell, but it feels more hellish than it ever has before.

These evil beings walk amongst us, sabotaging humans and trying to turn their hearts towards evil in any way possible. Because humans have forgotten God, they easily fall for the traps of the reptilians, and every days, their hearts are growing colder and colder – just like the reptilian, Satanic beings.

Let's put it simply. Many humans have completely turned away from God in their actions and attitudes, and now, many are nothing more than beasts. That is the mark of the beast – when the love of God has been removed from our bodily temples altogether. When that happens, how can one be human anymore? God is what makes us human.

I find this verse extremely compelling:

16:2 And 2532 the first 4413 went 565 5627, and 2532 poured out 1632 5656 his 846 vial 5357 upon 1909 the earth 1093; and 2532 there fell 1096 5633 a noisome 2556 and 2532 grievous 4190 sore 1668 upon 1519 the men 444 which 3588 had 2192 5723 the mark 5480 of the beast 2342, and 2532 [upon] them which worshipped 4352 5723 his 846 image 1504.

When I read the highlighted portion, I feel something is important here. The sores fall upon those who take the mark AND worship his image. I'm still deciphering this interpretation, but to me it reads as though that there will be those who did not take the mark, but they still are sealed with the mark spiritually because they worship the image of the beast (the world projected onto our screens).

What I am getting at is vaxxed or not, we all need to repent. We all need to STOP operating on the level of these low-vibrational, energy sucking, parasitic, Satanic, vampires. Whatever you want to call them, they are not human, and God has explicitly revealed this truth to me.

Living a Life of Prayer

I love listening to near death experiences (NDEs), and the other day, I stumbled upon one that changed my thinking process. Almost everyone reading this likely prays, even people who aren't Christian. However, in this NDE, this man explained that his lesson from Jesus is that our life should become a prayer.

Honestly, I had goosebumps when he said it, but I need to explain more. He said, "If all you have to offer to someone is a smile, then smile."

How many of us don't even do that? I must admit, I'm not always in a good mood when I go to the store, and I don't even give a smile away. I was thinking to myself, "How selfish. What do I have to lose by smiling at someone (even the non-humans... just kidding)."

Anyways, the point is that we can pray, but prayer becomes an action when we are constantly trying to bless others through even small actions. Life becomes a life of prayer (and higher vibration), when we are extremely aware of how every single action affects our surroundings.

I noticed, sometimes, I would think nice thoughts about people but not tell them. Why not? Now, as soon as a nice thought enters my mind, I am telling people. "You like nice today. I like the way you said that. I really like your writing. I love the way you handle stress." How many times do we keep these nice thoughts to ourselves or keep them inside because of the sins of envy and pride?

Defeating these low-vibrational beings it isn't as hard as you'd think. Remember that when you resist the devil, he will flee from you. We must start operating on higher vibrations. So, here are some things we can do:

- Pray: The Bible says pray continuously. You can pray in your mind, and nobody has to know. You can pray privately in your office. You can pray in a private space in your home. You can pray outside. You can offer to pray for others. You can write prayers. PRAYER IS EVERYTHING.
- Fast: Did you know many modern versions of the Bible are seemingly eliminating verses about fasting? That should be enough for you to understand its power. I will be writing a longer post about fasting, but if you don't know where to start, start small. Skip one meal and dedicate it to God. Pray throughout the fasting process. Then, go from there with each time you fast. Do NOT worry about your efforts being too small. Anything means something to God.
- Intentional Kindness: If you are not naturally kind, you must force it. You just do. If you want to walk like Jesus, you have to overcome your flesh, or your natural inclinations. You can't just say, "But I don't like to smile." You just have to start.

We have to stop making excuses as Christians. Our thoughts create our reality, so if you have evil thoughts, you need to start there. Changing your thoughts is the first step towards raising your vibrations, and those of the world around you, out of the hellish state.

Here is a prayer you can start your day with:

Dear God,

Please forgive me of my sins, which can include any evil thoughts. God, please get rid of anything in my mind, body, and soul that is NOT from you. God, I dedicate this meal to you so that you can help me work on my heart. I will pray throughout the day to rid myself of this evil and operate on a higher level. God, please help me walk with Jesus. In Jesus's name, amen."

This is just a sample prayer I use to start my day. You can edit it however you'd like.

If you take nothing else away from this section, it is that we can defeat the low vibrational techniques of Satan and his minions by operating like Jesus.

Conclusion

If you have made it to this conclusion, then you probably believe me on some level. You didn't stop reading, because something in your heart knows this is true. So often I have been defeated because I gave into the evil of Satan. I gave into anger so many times. I gave into depression. I gave into hopelessness. Through Jesus, we no longer have to do so.

I would like to end with a verse. Colossians 2: 6:

Alive in Christ

Therefore, as you received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in him...

Part 6: Elon Musk as the False Prophet: Fire from the Firmament

When Elon Musk reinstated Trump's Twitter account, I knew my prophecies were starting to connect. Could it be that Musk is the False Prophet who has the power to "give life" to the beast - Trump? Revelation 13:15 says:

13:15 And 2532 he 846 had power 1325 5681 to give 1325 5629 life 4151 unto the image 1504 of the beast 2342, that 2443 the image 1504 of the beast 2342 should 2980 0 both 2532 speak 2980 5661, and 2532 cause 4160 5661 that as many as 3745 would 302 4352 0 not 3361 worship 4352 5661 the image 1504 of the beast 2342 should be killed 2443 615 5686.(life: Gr. breath)

Before you dismiss this, imagine you are John of Patmos writing Revelation. How would you describe the screens and technology of today? An image would be the closest word at the time, and it would appear to him as though actual "life" was given to an image.

Obviously, this prophecy could be revealed more over time, but the point is, Elon Musk is a powerful man - in fact, the richest man in the world \(at one point\), and he now has power through technology, to seemingly "give life" or a "voice" to certain people. For example, he recently suspended Kanye West from Twitter, temporarily cutting off his voice, and we are still waiting for Trump's first "redemption" tweet. Anyone who understands the world today knows our "image" is greatly tied up with what we present online about ourselves, and we speak through this image, through powerful sources like social media.

Anyone reading this who has been suspended or banned from forums before knows that when your voice is cut off, it is like death in a way. I know this as someone who has been banned for speaking the truth on many platforms. So, again, imagine being John the Revelator, trying to discern the visions he is seeing with the vocabulary he has at the time. To me, "image" perfectly encompasses what everyone worships - their screens.

Still, we need to dig a little more into what the Bible says about the false prophet to determine if Musk is really a candidate. I'm not 100% sure Musk is the false prophet, but I believe it is a good prediction. I want to make this clear that I only know in part; therefore, I can only prophecy in part. So, let's examine what the Bible says. Revelation 13:13 says:

13:13 And 2532 he doeth 4160 5719 great 3173 wonders 4592, so 2532 that 2443 he maketh 4160 5725 fire 4442 come down 2597 5721 from 1537 heaven 3772 on 1519 the earth 1093 in the sight 1799 of men 444,

To be clear here, according to the concordance, heaven is defined as “the vaulted expanse of the sky with all things visible in it.” As a side note, there are many that propose that we really cannot get past the firmament (or vaulted expanse), and that “space travel” is a farce. That is up for you to decide, but for now, it is clear that Elon Musk makes “fire come down” from “the vaulted expanse of the sky” through SpaceX. Again, if you were John, how else would you explain what Elon Musk does? These are obviously great wonders, even today, in the sight of men.

SpaceX rockets performing their “re-landing” procedure (“fire from heaven”)

Now, the next question is, is Musk really a “false prophet?” Yes, I would say absolutely. Here is an unusual article from Forbes titled, Science Reveals The Face Of God And It Looks Like Elon Musk.

From the article: "A study that surveyed 511 American Christians yielded a composite image of what the participants believe God looks like." There's that word image again... hmmm...

A while ago, I wrote about how much of the technology we hear about in the media today, such as brain implants, is a red herring. I believe, along with many researchers and scientists, that Elon Musk's Neuralink "brain implants" are nothing more than a lie and a false prophecy, to distract people from the true mark of the beast. Now, I'm not saying they aren't experimenting with brain implants. Rather, I am saying that they will either lie about them or use them for other nefarious purposes.

However, at the very least, the technology is far behind where Musk claims it is, following his typical pattern of making grandiose claims while delivering almost nothing. Hyperloop, anyone? Self-driving cars? Just recently, we found out that Musk's video promoting his car's abilities to self-drive was completely staged - in other words, a lie. Just one of many, like when he claimed that his "cybertruck", which is still unavailable long after it was supposed to be commercially available, will actually function as a boat that can even cross open seas. That's funny, when he couldn't even demonstrate its supposedly unbreakable, "bulletproof" windows without managing to accidently smash them open on stage in front of thousands. Elon Musk is just ridiculous, and anyone who falls for such a bold-faced liar is a complete fool.

In other words, people need a reality check, in the sense that these devices, and Musk himself, aren't what they are claiming to be.

Elon Musk, obviously, makes a lot of spurious claims, and he has the technology to fake anything he wants to. If he wants to say we went to Mars, for instance, how could we really prove we went to Mars other than what he reveals to us through his "images"? In other words, technology is becoming increasingly dangerous, because it is becoming more and more difficult to discern the truth from a lie.

This can be shown with modern technology like deepfakes, where people truly cannot tell what is real anymore.

So, Elon Musk will be able to seemingly do miracles, but I believe these will be deceptions that deceive many. Who will they deceive? According to Revelation 19:20:

19:20 And 2532 the beast 2342 was taken 4084 5681, and 2532 with 3326 him 5127 the false prophet 5578 that wrought 4160 5660 miracles 4592 before 1799 him 846, with 1722 which 3739 he deceived 4105 5656 them that had received 2983 5631 the mark 5480 of the beast 2342, and 2532 them that worshipped 4352 5723 his 846 image 1504. These both 1417 were cast 906 5681 alive 2198 5723 into 1519 a lake 3041 of fire 4442 burning 2545 5746 with 1722 brimstone 2303.

Clearly, the false prophet is associated with the mark. He uses miracles to either:

- a) deceive people into taking it, or
- b) deceive people who have already taken it, or
- c) both options

I interpret options b and c as the correct interpretations because I believe most have already taken the mark. The false prophet keeps up the illusion for the anti-Christ, so that he can overcome his "wound" and come back to power, which I will discuss in the next section. Whichever way you interpret it, there are still those who do not take the mark and are not deceived by him - they can see through his lies.

This isn't all just speculation. Elon Musk has been called the “False Prophet of the Green Utopia”, and I have no doubt that Musk will have much to say about climate change and how he can help us save the world - if only we listen to and obey him. Further, Musk “admits he is evil”, like a real life Tony Stark, and believes in “massive loss for the greater good.”

Still not convinced? Elon Musk has had many well-documented failed predictions, or prophecies, and I am sure there are more to come! So, when he hints that we are going to Mars, do you believe him? Now, for Elon Musk to be the false prophet, he must somehow be connected to the beast in Revelation. Trump has recently announced that he will run for president in 2024. If Trump wins, will his deadly “wound” be healed? Will Musk promote him using Twitter? Hmm...

Musk recently explained that mRNA is like the “software” for our DNA, and with it, you could change someone into a “freaking butterfly” if you wanted to (for some reason). You can watch the video of that interview here.

So, let’s compare God’s Kingdom to the beast system of Revelation:

| God’s Kingdom (Holy Trinity)   | The Beast System (Unholy Trinity)   |
|---|--|
| The Father – YHWH, Yahweh, God, Jehovah   | The Father of Lies - Satan   |
| The Son - Jesus Christ, Yeshua, the Messiah   | The “Son of Perdition”, The Antichrist - Donald Trump  |
| The Holy Spirit   | The False Prophet - Elon Musk who works through technology, Artificial Intelligence, Scientism (the one world religion).   |
| Humans are saved by the blood of Jesus. Blood contains our DNA, made in the image of God. Jesus can only save humans. He cannot save non-humans, such as the Nephilim. For us to be saved, God came in human form as a sacrifice for all of our sins. Blood is a thematic topic throughout the entire Bible, and our life is in our blood . We can only be saved by the blood of Jesus, and therefore, we should never alter our blood or DNA in any way, as that is an abomination to God. | While people were waiting for a blatant microchip, they forgot about DNA. Just as in the days of Noah, genetic engineering was taking place . Noah was not saved because he had no sin; rather, his bloodline was not tainted. In the same way, in the end days, Satan must try to imitate God. For someone to make it into the beast system, their blood must be tainted, or manipulated, so they are no longer in the image of God, but rather, in the image of Satan. |

Final Thoughts

Consider the following:

- Like everyone else, I am still forming understandings as things take place in Revelation. Seek God for answers and conclusions and ask Him if what I am saying is true. Ask Him to reveal the truth to you.
- Jesus is coming back soon. Accept him into your heart if you haven't yet. If you need help doing this, please contact us through this website.
- For believers of Jesus - pray, fast, and get your garments ready and clean for His return! He is coming back soon.
- Read your Bibles! Start reading them every night. Start in Revelation if you want to! There is no wrong way to read the Bible, but you need to start reading it for yourself. I am SHOCKED by the misinterpretations about Revelation as I read it with the concordance, as well as how many are being deceived by false prophets because they are not reading the Bible themselves.
- Don't give up. Times are going to get darker. Take refuge in God today.

Part 7: Finishing the Race: Spiritually Prepping for The End of Days

I wasn't always a Christian. In fact, I was raised in a home where one of my earliest memories is my mom telling me Jesus didn't exist. Throughout my childhood, I was taught elements of agnosticism, atheism, Buddhism, Hinduism, the occult, and more, even being groomed into doing occult rituals like seances as a very young child. I do believe my father was seeking God, but it was in every way except Jesus. My mom, I believe, accepted Jesus into her heart on her death bed, but that is a different story for a different time.

I, too, had a fundamental dislike of Christians and Christ? Why? This was largely because of the hypocrisy I saw, as well as my upbringing. I never, ever thought I'd become a Christian, and quite simply, I thought the religion was for the weak, hypocrites, or stupid.

That is, until I began to experience some intense suffering in my life, taking place from about the age of 16. Let's just say I have experienced it all, including a severely abusive relationship where I was nearly murdered several times. I don't know how I am alive today without the grace of God. Of course, there is more to that story for another time as well, but it led to me the question of, "Why does evil exist?", which led me unknowingly to the fact that true Love also exists in Jesus Christ.

When I became Christian in my late 20s, I was so enthralled! Finally, I was going to have a family in Christ. Friends in Christ. My life would be so different! Unfortunately, my hopes and dreams were crushed over the next few years when I saw what the modern church had really become. Perhaps there were times in history where the Christian church was in its glory, but in the end times that is far from the case. Both online and in real life, I have seen nothing but division, blasphemy, strife, hypocrisy, petty quarrels, and honestly, a complete clown show.

So, when I'm talking about being "clothed in sackcloth and ashes", this statement is not literal but metaphorical. Rather, I am in a state of mourning and repentance for myself and for the modern church, and I am trying to navigate myself as a Christian living through the end times. I believe many reading this are in the same state, but we must keep our eyes on Jesus, no matter how bad it gets.

Last night, I had a dream. At the beginning of the dream, I was with an ex and his family. I was on my phone, and some videos about the vaccine started playing, saying things like "The vaccine is a poison. It is the mark of the beast."

His family clearly was not happy while this was happening, as they were all vaccinated, and they were glaring at me. I could not turn off the video, however, and their glares were increasing. I finally figured out how to turn down the volume on my phone and ran out of the room.

In the next part of the dream, I was where I live now. I was praying in my front yard, minding my own business, when I realized I was being watched by a suspicious ice-cream truck in a neighbor's yard. I was skeptical, but I ran inside, deciding to go on with my day.

I was getting ready to head to work, and for whatever reason, I decided to participate in a race on the way there. I started running, and there were strange vehicles trying to distract me, but I continued. I then saw a strange Alice in Wonderland-esque sign that sign that said, "1/14 miles of the race left." I was happy as that didn't seem far, but my legs started to hurt.

There was an ice-cream stand, where many were stopping to get a treat, but I didn't want that. I wanted to finish the race. I wanted to come in first place (pay attention to this part for later).

Well, I started running again and my legs were in severe pain. It felt unfair. It didn't make sense. I got down on my knees and prayed, asking God to help me finish the race. I decided to crawl as fast as I could to the finish line, and then I woke up.

Winning the Race

The interpretation of this dream, I believe, is simple and clear. We need to avoid distractions and finish our race to Jesus Christ. However, when researching verses about finishing the race in the Bible, I noticed something interesting.

1 Corinthians 9:24-27 (NIV Link here)

Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain. And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible. I therefore so run, not as uncertainly; so fight I, not as one that beateth the air: But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection: lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway.

Different versions of the Bible use very different wording, so I went back to the concordance, and this is the line I want people to read:

9:24 Know ye 1492 5758 not 3756 that 3754 they which run 5143 5723 in 1722 a race 4712 run 5143 5719 all 3956 3303, but 1161 one 1520 receiveth 2983 5719 the prize 1017

This is important because SO MANY proclaim to be Christian, but not all will win this race and receive a crown in heaven. This verse also has some funny and interesting hidden meanings relating to Nero's cheating and bribery at the Olympic games in 67 AD.

That is why the modern prosperity gospel is so dangerous. It tells people to just go ahead and meander through the race, and to not worry too much about it. However, the fact is that the path is narrow, and the majority will, according to the Bible, not make it.

This dream is a warning to me as much as anyone reading. We should ALL be working out our salvation with fear and trembling! This is the time to cleanse our garments, and remember, the race may not be much longer, as depicted in my dream, but the enemy's tactics are stronger than ever - one could even say unfair.

Prepping and Refuge

I have no doubt that we should all be physically and mentally prepping for what is to come right now. However, I do not believe any amount of preparation can fully ready us for what is to come. For anyone reading with not many resources, this may give you hope. Please note, I believe anyone reading should prep to the best of your ability: water, food, warmth, etc. Every time you go shopping, stock up a little extra and store it. There is nothing wrong with prepping, but full reliance on it for salvation is foolish.

So, how can we be fully, spiritually prepared? If you are not familiar with Psalm 91, try to read this daily, or parts of it daily:

I dwell in Christ, the secret place of the Most High and abide under the shadow of the Almighty.
I will say of the Lord, "He is my refuge and my fortress;
My God, in Him I will trust."
Surely He shall deliver me from the snare of the fowler and from the perilous pestilence.
He covers me with His feathers,
and under His wings I take refuge;
His truth shall be my shield and buckler.
I will not be afraid of the terror by night,
nor of the arrow that flies by day,
nor of the pestilence that walks in darkness,
nor of the destruction that lays waste at noonday.
A thousand may fall at my side,
and ten thousand at my right hand;
but it shall not come near me.
Only with my eyes shall I look and see the reward of the wicked.
Because I have made the Lord, my refuge,
even the Most High, my dwelling place,
No evil shall befall me,
nor will any plague come near my dwelling;
For He will give His angels charge over me,
to keep me in all my ways.
In their hands they shall bear me up,
lest I dash my foot against a stone.
I will tread upon the lion and the cobra,
the young lion and the serpent I will trample underfoot.

"Because he has set his love upon Me, therefore I will deliver him;
I will set him on high, because he has known My name.
He shall call upon Me, and I will answer him;
I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him and honor him.
With long life I will satisfy him, And show him My salvation."

Final Conclusions

If God is our true refuge, we have nothing to fear. He will rescue us in times of trouble, which are coming. So, add to your prayers, "The Lord is my refuge, and the Most High is my dwelling" or something along those lines. If you can, read Psalm 91 daily - even try memorizing it, as it is a beginning step toward spiritual preparation.

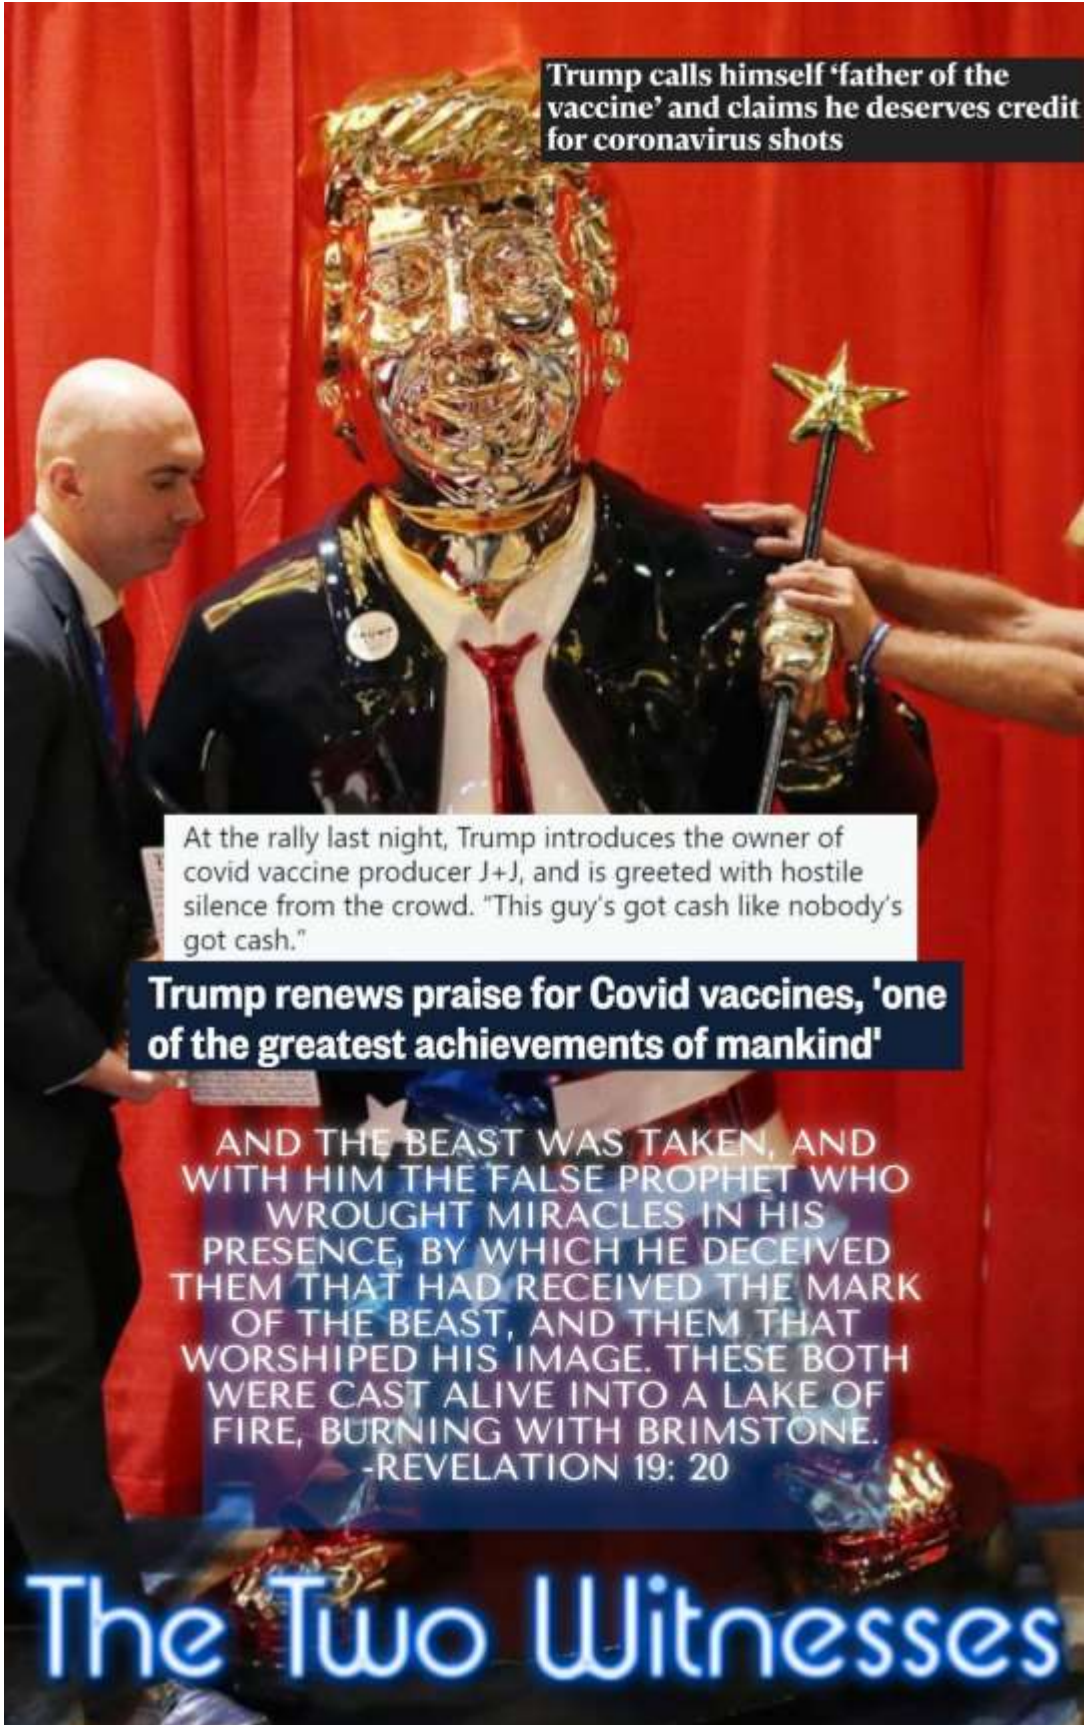

Think of it this way, there is no place to hide from God - not bunkers or underground cities. Revelation 6:16 says:

They called to the mountains and the rocks, "Fall on us and hide us from the face of him who sits on the throne and from the wrath of the Lamb!"

So, let's finish the race and get our crown! Let us not be distracted by the enemy and their evil, instead let us do whatever it takes to finish the race and win the prize. In a world where everyone is a winner, this is certainly not the case with God. Today, in schools, everyone gets an A, and everyone gets a prize, but that is not true for our souls. So, don't just participate in the race. Go at it with all your might!

And remember, in my honest opinion, it's better to die from cancer than take a mRNA vaccine or any other type of gene therapy.

May God bless anyone reading.
