Experimental prototype cubicle showroom:
<http://oi68.tinypic.com/d42ed.jpg>

Explanation of what we are observing in picture:
 from left to right on table I have set up visitors materials;
 1) a copy of the certificate of authenticity in 4 languages with government sigil which is supplied with every original Marquise Museum purchase
 2) The new Mini Pimp A5 artbook that we are giving away as a promotional item to new clients after visiting the showroom
 3) The Main Pimp Fashion instrument with decorative hologram attached on the frontpage
 4) Red book which is a complimentary promotional gift to visitors during christmas season, audio book link:
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=l8vCJmyIHcc>

well worth the 2 hour listen
 5) A new blue Purchasing contract where clients fill out info and mark the artwork(s) they wish to procure
 6) 22 page Zebra patterned catalogue that we use for promotion on street level and mailing, very high quality and an unusually expensive item to give away in the hundreds. The Marquise Museum will establish a reputation of the finest client services, simply because we can afford it and understand that it will set us apart from the mountains of cheap 1 page flyers that litter tourist offices, this catalogue is a collectible in itself designed with a sense of contemporary finesse which suspends the wave of our times like a time capsule
 7) Next to the Zebra catalogue viewers may observe 3 framed prints: 40x60cm original Marquise Museum Limited Edition print "Bruce Banner" & two A5+ framed prints that are not for sale or in mainline production, they are a singular part of this unique portfolio showcasing in Narodni with only a dozen different printed and framed portraits, most remain in the Museums private collection. They are not intended to be portrayed as holding special value it is simply a small format print that was unable to fulfill revenue requirements during early production diversification assessment. It's one of our mutated alien lab clones, a peculiarity that may fall in accord with the mind of certain would be collectors.
 8) Behind Bruce Banner is 2 wrapped and ready to sell Exhibition Artbook packages containing much of what you see on the table,
 9) Two framed prints on tripod, I chose "David Hume" and "Kublai Khan" for the Narodni Christmas Preparation showroom, out of sight on the right is "Jörmungandr #3" which has proved an ambiguous addition which unintendedly provoked the minds of the politically minded, that is the beauty of consummate high culture: like the light of a perfectly cut diamond it splits in many directions at once and may be interpreted and perceived in ways that are unimaginable and dependant on personal life experiences, it is undefined yet ruthlessly deliberate and hardened, operating out of intuitive senses and instinctive triggers which lay at the core of this cave art/hunting neo-mythic style.

Re: The Marquise Museum of Contemporary Art [MARQUISEUM ECR-20 Limited Edition]
 Today at 02:08:05 AM

I have transferred all artistic rights derived from this project to the Swedish department of culture as of 2017-12-02 due to lack of commercial viability and to prevent powerful relatives to profit from the art in the future now that I have resigned from further attempts of commercialisation. There will be no more activity here and this project is sealed. This thread on bitcointalk contains valuable future reference material to ascertain historical relevance, but I will also screenshot it and transfer everything to the department of culture. It was fun but never intended for the public domain, it has served its purpose well and will continue to do so as I will send art to targeted individual as was its original purpose.

Link to Cryptopia marketplace for those of you who haven't yet read product presentation on www.MarquiseMuseum.com, I listed this sample of exhibition works a few days ago, investors can purchase through cryptopia or as described in this thread:

More about the Museum Exhibition:

This Letter of Invitation is specifically crafted for a select audience drafted from Bloomburgs list of 322 Lazard Institutional Investors
Email issuance commencing October 31st 2017

Dear Recipient;
As a premier share holder of The Lazard Frères it is a personal privilege to invite your firm to receive a complimentary product catalogue showcasing the Marquise Museums new exhibition line, including a Museum quality artbook and framed prints designated for the Corporate EU & US market.

The portfolio of 50 works is unilaterally praised by a variety of publishing experts who has so far been part of an early inner circle of manufacturers and associates to have actually observed and studied the quality of the finished pieces which are produced in Limited annual Edition.

I am very proud to mention a celebrated fellow artist Chaz Guest as one of 12 product prototype recipients during 2016 who was amazed by the artistic technique developed by the Museum, and I would also state that since 2016 the material works have undergone significant refinement and value enhancement with the inclusion of holographic security & certificates of authenticity in four languages with formalized sigils in German and French.

At the twilight of the 2010's and into the 2020's it is no overstatement to predict that this particular style of artistic evolution might be considered as no less than a pioneering of contemporary art for the coming decade, well in advance of any counterparts, singularly defined and valued on its own innovative merits, and perhaps as a pivotal instrument in an as of yet undeciphered future cultural wave. [Update 2017-11-12, the cultural wave is ECR-20]

In closing, as part of our quest to obtain corporate sponsors for the Museum, I invite you to review the new website which harbours significant potential to introduce the exhibition to a wider yet exclusive corporate client base. Your association is naturally highly regarded for this purpose, should you consider and move forward with this secondary opportunity.

This invitation may be forwarded to a staff purchasing manager with office interior and HR/event responsibilities as the product line is especially suited for office interior decoration (framed prints) or employee seasonal gifts (the book). The complimentary catalogue is ready to ship to your requested location as soon as you confirm this letter. A digital replica of the presentation is hosted on the Museum webpage in PDF, but I sincerely advise prospective clients to view the material in dynamic print.

I am available for consultation at all hours on +420 773 695 228, please prepare questions in writing and send them to:

-3 Nordic and central european publishers, among them Denmarks largest printing house, LaserTryck, were at different times instrumental in the technical development process lasting from august 2016 until last week. Creative development began in march 2015 with the Odin portrait:<https://online.flippingbook.com/view/593089/2/>

Developers log:

-Sent review copies to TASHEN HQ in Köln and Lazard Frankfurt which is the old family investment empire, would be great if they bought framed prints for their 42 global offices. As far as I know they already have oil portraits of former family executives hanging in board rooms, many from the David-Weill branch who bought our share in the 1950's and expanded annual turnover from $5 million to $500 million in the two decades leading into the mid 90s after which Bruce Wasserstein made the company public. Our cousin in the New York office earned 20% of Lazard profits in the late 90s ($100 million yearly salary) which was apparently too much for UBS and a gang of Anglo Saxon bankers who basically performed a hostile take over of Lazard. He lost 85% of his fortune in 15 years (1.5 billion to 300 million private asset value) even after gutting it prior to IPO by leaving with Rue Imperial de Lyon (real estate investment vehicle).

-Swedens biggest domestic book distributor will receive a copy next week and enable sales with print on demand.

-Swedens biggest domestic book distributor will receive a copy next week and enable sales with print on demand.

-Listing on intermediate exchanges like Cryptopia and Hitbtc costs several hundred thousand dollars and is not practical at this time. Museum Token can be bought through website in the meantime, or Etherdelta (ethereum blockchain) and Counterparty (bitcoin blockchain)

-What I am about to write now is real time strategy so I will only describe an outline of todays events so that there is no disturbance in developments, those who would like more detail and names can contact me by email or pm: Met with high level executives of central europes biggest book distributor in a major financial hub and they think the book will be successful, coffee table books is a big thing right now. The main person at the company agreed to catalogue the book which is not within their ordinary assortment since it is an artbook, I was provided a reference to another distributor who specializes in Museum and gallery deliveries. Tomorrow I will meet with a marketing exec at one of the capitals biggest bookshops in a really good downtown location to discuss pricing and marketing prices over the christmas holidays, it will in that case be displayed in the central isle of the shop which should attract lots of customer attention. Cataloging by the distributor was dependant on price estimation by the bookshop expert, after which the bookshop will use the distributor to buy copies of the artbook since they only buy from this particular distributor. One fairly big downside of traditional retail and distributor partnerships is that only 10% of sales price after taxes and expenses is retained, compared to 50% when selling through Museum website. The benefit is that people can see and touch the book in store and that is valuable since it is a very big difference compared to online viewing.

-Sent my Guru to connect with professionals within social/investment/cultural circles to receive review copies and get some influencer reviews going hopefully before the end of the month. I also hired expert technical reviewers so they should be trickling in on this thread within a week, alternatively I will hyperlink them from where ever they are posted online. If you would like a review copy, please contact me here or through website, contingent on your actually contributing an honest review of materials shipped to your location.

I am an expert technical reviewer and here's my short review.

PIMP fashion Artbook review by Marquise Museum

I am one of the lucky ones who got a chance to review the PIMP fashion artbook, and I will confidently say there is a lot to like about this book. The colored 50-page hardcopy book with a stylish metal coil binding is on its way so I will update this review as soon as I get my hands on it.

I understand there is also a free 50-page novel and a certificate of authenticity in four different languages. That gives you the much-needed bragging rights, and the limited edition has a unique serial number to rubber-stamp its authenticity. Once I get a hold of it, I will update on the feel, texture and overall appearance.

The online flipping book showcases a few pages of the original book. Nevertheless, I was able to capture that premium feel of the artwork from the exceptional presentation. The short descriptions on the PDF are concise and perfectly placed on every page. Even if you are not much into art, you can quickly understand the theme of every one of these pieces in the PIMP fashion Artbook.

From Nordic to elitism, the themes represented in this book are easy to relate. For example, the Ray Davies piece that shows a stylistic retrospect and the evolution of the artists technical mastery over creative media would instantly appeal to creatives in the modern world. If you love poetry, you will definitely be entertained on your first flip of the book with a sentimental poem. I will update more when I get the hard copy, but so far, it's definitely a valuable purchase.

Once we receive a verification amount and shipping address together within a short time frame, your items will be dispatched within 24 business hours. Investors who choose to redeem tokens should also be able to provide a hyperlink that shows the above address as the issuer of tokens to your address in the past, so remember to keep the delivery receipt upon token purchase, it can be tracked here:

<https://etherscan.io/token/0xa4daae9552cd2390ee1dcd1a76bc8d0eea22609>

Product catalogue is available on website with pricing, along with the Pimp Fashion 8 page sample, I also have the full 50 page flipbook hyperlink for speculators who want to view the piece online in its entirety and order unique prints directly from the book which might not be available in the product catalogue as the entire range of artworks isn't listed in it. The full 50 page digital flipbook is only available on request.

Redeem time is unlimited, investors may keep tokens for as long as they like, price for 1 book is 1 token ($100 equivalent in ethereum), framed prints with tripod cost 3 tokens (1 ethereum in today's dollar). Tokens in your wallet after verification withdrawal can be used to prove product authenticity upon future resale which may value appreciate in the future when ECR's are mainstream, this Limited Edition and the Museum Token represents a unique window into contemporary time as the cup of the 2020's when humanity was about to switch from fiat to blockchain currency. As far as I am aware The Marquise Museum is the singular cultural representation of this moment in time and its name and artworks will be forever associated with this specific cultural wave which defines the very hallmark of a collector's contemporary centerpiece similar to how Life in America and the Beat Generation is forged together in modern history.

We are leaps and bounds ahead of competitors with multi million dollar budgets like TASCHEN who will import artists in their portfolio according to this business model late next year at the very earliest, this model will be widely adopted by the luxury industry and acclaimed as pioneering in the field of anti counterfeit product security.

Just like Lazard trailblazed the American gold rush 170 years ago and grew to become a preeminent economic powerhouse of the 20th century by international exchange and arbitrage of gold bullion, so too did the Marquise Museum identify and act upon an opportunity which reveals itself once every quarter century to establish itself in a market that 99.99% of the population isn't even aware will exist and dominate socio economic life in just a few years.

Oftentimes it is not pioneers themselves who reap the fruits of brilliance, but, similar to Lazard, relatives and lesser talents who inherit great reputational wealth and usurp glory once the hard part of actually conceiving the idea in the first place is realized, and ultimately remain unable to distinguish its heritage and early advantage from the competition.

Ready to take this project to the moon now, as soon as investors catch up to its cultural historic potential, which may translate into profit.

Developers journal entry 2017-11-18:

Marquise Museum representatives scouted 4 areas of interest in Prague today, Saturday:

- Kings Court Deluxe Hotel where Galerie La Femme is displaying some of their portfolio in the lobby of the hotel, the new strategy of the Museum will be "mobile mini exhibitions" where 1 framed print with tripod and a half dozen artbooks are displayed in a variety of inner city locales.

This method will resolve two issues which is preventing expansion of core business right now: 1) using already established and high traffic venues to gain exposure instead of renting space in central areas which is cost prohibitive and 2) getting the physical art into the public forum since it is a very big difference to see a picture and sense the real art itself. Thirdly it will be a proof of concept that we can use small scale sales to bridge into haute galerie scene and gain access to places such as Galerie Rudolfinum who exhibited LaChapelle in the past. We are already in discussion with Rudolfinum and their exhibition calendar is full until 2019, but perhaps they can be persuaded to host a mobile mini exhibition with 1 print and a few books on the foayé.

- Czech Press Photo is preparing a photographic exhibition in Stare Mesto on november 22nd next to the tourist information office, Museum Representatives received contact information to Czech Press Photo to present Marquise portfolio by email and inquire on suitable exhibition centers for this type of art in Prague. Many tourists in the information office were looking at the flyer section where businesses advertise upcoming events, it's a good idea to print Museum flyers at low cost and display it alongside the others to provide low cost additional marketing channels.
- Trade Fair Palace near Holesovice is a third option for the mobile mini exhibition, contemporary art.
- Kosmas is a big bok distributor in Prague with 15 shops, we will form an inquiry on marketing arrangements in accordance with the mobile mini format for a period of 60 days over christmas to measure customer appetite for the ECR-20 art.

Email presentations will be issued tomorrow with replies expected next week after which we proceed with presentation of the artbook and prints to management. The NL/EM (client information withheld for strategic reasons pm for full disclosure) prospect is currently 1 step further along in the sales funnel with final approval expected in a few days since we have already coordinated with assistant to CEO after many months of on and off correspondence.

A Museum Expert Reviewer will be posting in this thread soon but in the meantime I will insert the review here until its done:

In addition to giving you a chance to take part in a token ICO, you can also get the pimp fashion sample to view some of the presentations that are included.*

The Pimp Fashion artbook is a collection of both contemporary and corporate art and comes with an interesting mix. This is a sample of the products investors can capitalize on and upon keen review, it points to a soothing inclusion that will definitely fare well in the markets, especially now that it is tied to the ER-20 crypto token that allows you to get a copy. Quality is one of the reasons you should consider investing in this project as it is guaranteed to take over the market due to the unique approach applied by the museum.

Its promising success can only be likened to the progress that was made by the Lazard investment bank 170 years ago. Speaking about its potential, there is the cultural and historic aspect that is highlighted in the artwork and these are some of the things that are key while wooing the market and stand a better chance at profitability. From the first page of the books art, you will notice an aspect that blows your mind into imagination. It brings out modernity in an interesting twist.

Re: The Marquise Museum of Contemporary Art [MARQUISEUM ECR-20 Limited Edition]

My Letter to the Director of Rudolfinum

Good Morning Mr.Nedoma

I visited your Gallery last week and the philharmonic secretariat were kind to assist me to have a short dialogue with one of your curators, I will keep this introduction brief since your exhibition calendar is full until 2019

The Marquise Museum is a joint Czech/Swedish initiative with a newly completed premier exhibition consisting of a 50 page artbook containing works by Karl Lagerfeld and Ellen Von Untwert who are close friends of the family in Paris. There are twenty five 60x80 and 40x60cm framed prints on black tripod which are ready to exhibit and I would ask of you Mr.Nedoma to advise a suitable and immediately available location in Prague to showcase this unique premier collection of the Museum.

The intended audience has undergone several iterations, it is well placed within the corporate art market, and if I would be so bold as to make another deep reference, the artbook was issued to The Lazard bank in Frankfurt - which my ancestors founded more than 170 years ago during the California gold rush and which made our family one of the wealthiest in the world during the 20th century. The Museum will negotiate with the Lazard legacy since it directly relates to this facility to purchase framed prints and books for their 42 global offices which would generate revenue in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

I would not wish to generate higher than necessary expectations in your mind but it is important that a single introduction is well formulated in the things that matter the most which leads me to a singular breakthrough that occurred last week, and ties in eloquently with the Lazard heritage that we are so proud to carry forward with the newly established Museum:

As an investor in ECR-20 which is a revolutionary economic model that is soon to replace fiat currency, we have made a discovery for the art that is well suited as a creative ambassador for this new cultural wave which is to say the least a fortunate coinciding with the premier exhibition, also known as Pimp Fashion. Revenue potential increases exponentially where there is socio cultural one time phenomena in collusion with contemporary mirroring locked into artistic expression, the photographic historical document "Life in America" was blessed with poetry by the beat writer Jack Kerouac which of course cemented its position as the number 1 top seller in its category for over 70 years with 4 million sold copies a digital flipping book is available in this link, but I would highly recommend a physical viewing of the art to gain a visceral sensation of its direct impact and power when viewed in person:

To conclude with some references: The Museum is coordinating with distributors in Prague and Sweden to bring the art into bookshops using a mobile mini exhibition format, we are in discussion with TASCHEN who have placed the exhibition in "observer status" and a copy of the final work was recently dispatched to Köln for analysis. Several internationally renowned artists such as Chaz Guest have praised the pioneering works and we were invited to participate in his Swiss exhibition earlier this year. Another potential associate upon proper introduction is Peter Handschin of the Basel Art forum whose banking colleague is the artists very own uncle, under management by Lorentz Von Habsburg.

As you may have determined by this point Mr.Nedoma, there is no shortage of excellent references to directly position the Marquise Museum at an international level, but I must choose to remain humble in light of such distinguished heritage since I do not wish to generate expectations that would not meet reality if we were ever to meet in person. The artistic character of this project thrives outside the centerfold and we are seeking institutional partners who can bridge this discord and bring the art to its well deserved public forum. Once more, perhaps you as the Rudolfinum Director is knowledgeable of a well suited location to introduce the exhibition. If that is the case, we would certainly look forward to generate revenue with such associates and qualify the Museum's art for more advanced progress within the international
