

1 Remove two air conditioner out vents

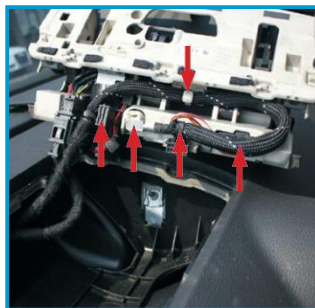

2 Remove two air conditioner outlet screws

3 Disassemble the screen cover

4 Disassemble the Display assembly

5 Remove the original car LVDS Wire Plugs and clips to remove the old screen.

6 Remove four screws holding the screen

7 Replace with new display screen

8 Run the wire as shown from new display, tie two points marked with red arrows. If the cable is not properly fastened it will interfere with the screen rising mechanism.

9 Remove the MMI head unit from the glove compartment

10 Remove the glove compartment to run the wires.

11 Place the new navigation main unit box properly, install the new display back, run wires to the glove compartment, and connect wires to the corresponding plugs.