Testing Being Held Sunday And Monday For Baby Kyle Bone-Marrow Match

The fund-raising efforts by the Friends of Baby Kyle over the past month has been aimed at securing enough money so that testing for a bone-marrow match for Kyle Fitzpatrick can be done at no cost to the individuals willing to give two tablespoons of blood in the hope that a match may be found.

One-year-old Baby Kyle, the son of Bobby and Cindy (Venezia) Fitzpatrick, has leukemia and his only hope for survival is to find a compatible donor who can give him a small amount of healthy marrow, the "Living Gift Of Life."

The recruiting and testing of potential donors for Kyle is being organized by Friends of Baby Kyle in conjunction with the HLA Registry Foundation Inc., a not-for-profit organization and member of the National Marrow Donor Program.

This Sunday and Mon-

BABY KYLE FITZPATRICK

day will be the opportunity for individuals to be tested in the hope that a match will be found when a testing session is held at MIT. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 55 who is in good health and willing to give a blood sample can be tested on Sunday, Aug. 1, between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m., or on Monday, Aug. 2, between 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. The testing will be done on the second floor of the Stratton Student Center at MIT, 84 Massachusetts

Ave., Cambridge.

In order to accommodate Charlestown residents who will be going to the testing site on Sunday, Aug. 1, the Bunker Hill Council No. 62, Knights of Columbus and the Bunker Hill Associates have coordinated transportation to the site with the assistance of Teamsters Local 25. Between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 1, residents are invited to park at the K. of C. Hall at 75 West School St. and enjoy some refreshments. The Local 25 van and driver will then transport them to Cambridge and return them to the K. of C. after they take part in the testing session.

All test results from the donor drive will be entered into the HLA Registry data base and made available to Kyle and the other 9,000 victims of blood disease in search of a "miracle match."

Though each donor drive builds hope, it also creates bills. Initial blood tests for potential donors are expensive.

Massachusetts Korean War Veterans Memorial Dedicated

by Gloria S. Conway

It was with dismay that people awoke on July 27 to a torrential downpour and claps of thunder . . . it was with awe that people approached the knoll in Shipyard Park in the Charlestown Navy Yard to see a granite memorial piercing the gray skies . . . it was with chills traveling up and down their spines that almost 3,000 people watched the sun peek through the

Construction To Begin On Ramps From Central Artery To Route 1

The Central Artery/Tunnel Project will begin construction next week on new loop ramps linking Route 1 with I-93 in Charlestown. When completed, the new ramps, part of the Central Artery/North Area (CANA) project, will ease congestion for North Shore commuters driving to and from downtown Boston.

"These loop ramps will eliminate one of the most accident-prone stretches of highway in the Commonwealth," said Massachusetts Secretary of Transportation James J. Kerasiotes. "The ramps will also allow the Route 1/I-93 interchange to remain open throughout the construction of the Central Artery/Tunnel Project. Travelers should know that Boston is open for business and safe for commuters."

Peter M. Zuk, Central Artery/Tunnel project director, said that the elevated double-deck ramps, which will loop around the Boston Sand and Gravel Company, will be under construction for the next year. "These ramps will help the flow of traffic during construction and then be dismantled," said Zuk. Since the new ramps will be used only during the construction of the new Central Artery, project engineers decided to build them of reusable pre-fabricated concrete segments. Zuk also stated that the 220 panels of steel and concrete used to build the new ramps can be reused to repair bridges throughout the Commonwealth.

The loop ramps at the I-93/Route 1 interchange and at the connection onto Storrow Drive are temporary structures and will eventually be replaced by permanent ramps as part of the Central Artery/Tunnel Project.

The dismantling of the existing elevated Route 1 roadway as part of the CANA project will take place throughout the winter of 1994-95 after the new ramps are open to traffic. City Square road work and landscaping will be completed in the spring of 1995.

Charlestown Court To Celebrate Gov. Winthrop Day

On Monday, Aug. 23 at 7 p.m., the Charlestown District Court will celebrate the anniversary of the first sitting of a court in North America and observe the historic event Gov. Winthrop chose to perform in the City Square area on Aug. 23, 1630.

Judge Peter Agnes, presiding justice of the Charlestown District Court, is pleased to announce that the featured speaker this year will be Walt Kelley, author of the recently published book entitled "What They Never Told You About Boston (Or What They Did That Were Lies)." The book has been very favorably reviewed by critics and is on sale throughout the Boston area. Kelley, who grew up in Boston and has lived here throughout his life, has many great stories to tell about Charlestown and its history. The audience will learn some new things about this great city and may want to challenge Kelley on some other matters.

The program will begin promptly at 7 p.m. at the court house, and a reception and refreshments will follow. Kelley has kindly agreed to autograph copies of his book.

If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact Mary Jo Kilmain at 241-7693.

Not For Nothin' . . .

But Have You Heard . . .

• Give The "Living Gift Of Life" . . . and participate in the search for a bone-marrow donor to help 1-year-old leukemia victim Kyle Fitzpatrick and others suffering from blood diseases live. A simple blood test may be the key to matching a donor with a victim in order that a bone-marrow transplant might take place . . . please see the story on page one for details . . . and don't forget the Pajama Party to raise funds for Baby Kyle on Friday, July 30 at Memorial Hall. Tickets are just $10, and they may be purchased at the door . . . The support of residents has been tremendous . . . Keep it up for Kyle!

• Tuesday, Aug. 3rd . . . marks the 10th annual National Night Out, a celebration of the power of the neighborhood crime watch program . . . The Bunker Hill Museum at 43 Monument Square and its neighbors around the Monument will be marking the occasion between 6 and 9 p.m. . . . Why not make it a Night Out in your own neighborhood and get to know the people on your block.

• Congratulations . . . to Richard O'Brien who was voted by his peers on the Citywide Head Start Policy Council as their nominee to receive the Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD) Community Service Award at the annual banquet in October . . . Richard, who is the owner of the Bunker Hill Insurance Agency, is the Charlestown delegate to the council and presently serves as its vice president.

• Just A Trim . . . Not A Cut . . . for the trees on the Bunker Hill Monument grounds, that is . . . The National Park Service will have a tree-trimming crew at the Monument site next Tuesday, Thursday and Friday to spruce up the area.

• It's A Busy Week For Birthdays . . . and the celebrations start today, July 29th, and the birthday girl is none other than Lois Gallagher . . . Nick Cunha turns 14 on July 30th . . . former Charlestown Mayor Claire Lynch adds one to her 5-0 on July 31st and we hope Swanee is there for the party . . . Aug. 2nd is the 2nd birthday of Shaun Michael Patrick Walsh . . . and there had better be plenty of birthday cakes in stock for Aug. 4th which is shared by Charlestown's Senator Tom Birmingham, Kathy Hickey, Donna Hartung, Father Ron Coyne and James E. Duffy, who will be 83 years young . . . also, the slim and trim Carolyn Sideman of Monument Properties will probably celebrate this week with a double helping of cottage cheese . . . Best wishes to you all!

• Belated "Sweet 16" Birthday Wishes . . . go out to Kathleen Thompson whose big day was on July 25th . . . Happy Birthday!

• Get Well Wishes . . . go out to Boston Police Department Detective Bob (or Doug) Donahue who added some excitement to the activities of the Charlestown District Court last week, but reports are that he is home recuperating following a few days in the hospital for tests . . . Mel Stillman has taken up residency at Spaulding Rehab., and word has it that he is on the mend, slow but sure. Cards will reach him at Room 317 . . . and Dorothy Scott continues her recuperation, also at Spaulding, in Room 505 . . . the rehab's address is 125 Nashua St., Boston, Mass. 02114 . . . Get well soon, you all!

• Registration For Story Hours . . . is underway at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St. . . Preschool Story Hour for children 3 to 5 will be Fridays at 10 a.m. and Toddler Storytime for children 2 and 3 and their parents will be alternate Mondays at 10:30 a.m. . . . Though the story hours don't start until October, it is not too early to assure that your child has a spot reserved.

• A New Business . . . "Stretch-A-Buck" with all items for $1 opened this week at 251 Main St., the corner of Main Street and Lawnwood Place. Stop in and say "Hello" and maybe spend a dollar or two . . . and construction is in full swing at Store 24 in Thompson Square as they do some renovations and prepare to open a full-service deli in the very near future.

• The Summer Feasts . . . continue this weekend in the neighboring North End . . . This week's feast honors St. Agrippina, and it will be held from July 30th through Aug. 1st on Hanover Street between Charter and Commercial streets . . . The hours are Friday from 7 to 11 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from noon to 11 p.m.

• They Don't Forget The Hungry . . . as the parishioners of St. Francis de Sales donated 330 cans of food to be distributed to the Charlestown Ecumenical Food Pantry . . . Hunger knows no season!

• The Town Is Looking Great . . . as the Red Shirts clean, cut, rake and bag weeds and trash from the sidewalks, parks and streets of the town . . . the crews are working hard and should know that their efforts are most appreciated . . . Keep up the good work . . . and to the residents, follow their example — don't litter!

The membership of the nine-member committee will be approved, and there will be a discussion of the committee by-laws.

★ City Square Park . . . The Department of Environmental Management (DEM) and the landscape architect for City Square Park, The Halvorson Company, have been working on the design of details and landscape features within the park.

These design details and landscape features will be discussed with community residents at a meeting at 7 p.m. tonight, Thursday, July 29, at the Mary Colbert Apartments, 20 Devens St. This will be the final working meeting on the details and features for the park. The park's final design will be presented at the next community meeting, currently scheduled for early September.

Representatives from DEM and The Halvorson Company will be at the meeting to answer any questions.

Requests for additional information and questions should be directed to the project manager, Sandi Wolchansky, at 727-3160 ext. 578.

★ BOA Hearings . . . The city of Boston Board of Appeal will hear two petitions regarding Charlestown properties at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 10 in Room 801 in Boston City Hall.

Sheila LaPerle has requested a change in the legal occupancy of 34 Cross St. from a one-family to a two-family dwelling with the installation of a basement apartment.

Kevin Smith is seeking to change the occupancy of 229-231 Bunker Hill St. from a store to a restaurant with take-out food.

★ Tobin Bridge Traffic Advisory . . . Due to on-going deck repairs, the lower level of the Tobin Bridge (northbound) will be restricted to one lane from the area of the old toll plaza to the Beacon Street, Chelsea off ramp. The lane restriction will be in effect from 8 p.m. to 5 a.m. daily from now through Saturday, Aug. 14. During this period of time, the right lane will remain open. However, in order to accommodate potential Red Sox traffic on the evenings of night games (Aug. 10-13), the left lane will reopen from 10:30 to 11:15 p.m.

★ The Big Dig . . . WGBH will present "The Big Dig II: Down Under" on Tuesday, Aug. 3 at 9 p.m. on channel 2 and on Wednesday, Aug. 4 at 8 p.m. on channel 44. The program will take the viewer inside the steel tube sections of the Third Harbor Tunnel that are already in place under Boston Harbor and spotlight some of the political and economic issues surrounding the project. Viewers will get updates on traffic routes, project designs and new technologies for toll collecting. Also included will be archival footage including the construction of the Sumner and Callahan tunnels, the dismantling of the elevated rail system during World War II and the construction of the Central Artery.

★ Local Couple On The Air . . . Drs. Jean and Richard Wright-Martin, co-founders of the Empower Counseling Center at 238 Bunker Hill St., Charlestown, are appearing on and co-producing "The Counseling Connection," a live call-in program on The Answer Channel, Boston Cable Channel 24, on Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. Viewers have the opportunity to talk to the counselors and ask any questions they may have regarding issues about themselves, families, and/or marriage and couple relationships. The Wright-Martins are licensed marriage and family therapists and co-produce the program with three other licensed mental health practitioners as part of the Metro-Boston Professional Counseling Network.

★ Plans Available . . . The Mass. Highway Department and the Commonwealth's Division of Capital Planning & Operations (DCPO) held a public meeting in Charlestown on July 15 to discuss any restrictions and architectural guidelines that may be placed on the state-owned CANA parcels in City Square.

Childs Bertman & Tseckares (CBT) presented illustrative design schemes in response to the draft Zoning and Use Item Table developed by the community and the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA). Public comment received at that meeting will be presented to the Charlestown Neighborhood Council for consideration when the final zoning is established.

After the Neighborhood Council meeting and a final zoning approach is agreed to, CBT will prepare development guidelines for use by DCPO in the disposition of these parcels. The end result of this process will be the issuance of Requests for Proposals, developed by DCPO when the Mass. Highway Department surpluses the CANA parcels.

Copies of the preliminary plans, outlining two alternatives for each of the five City Square parcels that will become available for development are available at the Patriot office, One Thompson Square, and at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St.

For further information, contact Charlestown liaison Stephen Collins at 457-5502.

★ Street Reconstruction Update . . . Mario Susi & Son continued the gas light installations this week by installing tops and lighting them on Mt. Vernon Street.

On Common and Park streets, light service trenches were dug, service feeds installed, poles were set and most of the tops were installed and lit.

The crews then turned their attention to Lawrence and Seminary streets. The service trenches were excavated and the services installed, then Susi set the poles. The same was done for the lights at the end of Lawrence and Seminary at Austin Street. The tops were not put up on Lawrence and Seminary streets because Susi is waiting for the arrival of a new shipment.

A crew also went back and put in the concrete sidewalk around all the new lights on Lexington, Common and Park streets. In addition, all the new poles are receiving touch-up painting as well. The last light at the end of Ellwood Street, by the alley to Adams Street, was also put in this week.

Susi also began the sidewalk and driveway work on Seminary Street and, except for final paving, will complete that street. On Ludlow Street, Susi's subcontractor also completed most of the new brick sidewalk this week. Like Seminary, Ludlow Street is basically complete except for the top course of paving and any necessary punchlist work.

Susi still must complete the end of Mt. Vernon Street and tie in the drainage on Devens Street. The final top course of paving must be done on Prescott, Prospect, Common, Park, Seminary and Lawrence streets. That, along with the punchlist work, is about all that remains to be done on the project.

The Middlesex Corporation has been working on their punchlist and is about done at the 40 Flights. Final inspection will take place shortly on this contract.

Questions, comments or complaints are being handled by Community Liaison Peter Looney at 722-4300, ext. 5674.

Wallace Blasts City Streets As Unsafe For Pedestrians

Brian Wallace, candidate for an at-large seat on the Boston City Council, this week condemned the lack of implementation of a comprehensive pedestrian safety plan to address the problem of unsafe streets in the city.

"On Friday afternoon, a youngster was seriously hurt after being hit by a car at the intersection of Elm Hill and Warren streets in Roxbury. Saturday in Charlestown, a playground was dedicated to the memory of another child who was killed in the same senseless way," said Wallace. "How many more children and elderly have to be sacrificed until we recognize that a carelessly operated automobile is as lethal a weapon as a gun?"

Wallace cited statistics from a Report on Pedestrian Safety prepared by a special task force appointed by former Mayor Raymond Flynn, acting in conjunction with the city's Transportation Department. According to the report, during the 1980s, Boston was second only to New York City, in the number of traffic fatalities involving pedestrians.

"Boston certainly possesses a number of unique characteristics which make the problem of pedestrian safety a difficult one to address," said Wallace. "Narrow streets handling an overwhelming amount of vehicular traffic, overly-aggressive behavior on the part of drivers, and a 'so what' attitude demonstrated by pedestrians, all contribute to a horrendous situation. However, as responsible citizens, we can't sit idly by and watch our city's children maimed on the streets of our neighborhoods."

Wallace praised the efforts of the Pedestrian Safety Task Force and the city's Transportation Department for taking the critical first steps in identifying the problems and suggesting possible solutions.

"The dedication and effort put forth by this concerned group of citizens comes through on every page of their report. However, it's now nearly two years after the report was issued and children and senior citizens are still being hurt on our streets. Ironically, Day Boulevard in my own neighborhood of South Boston is listed among the 26 major pedestrian injury locations in the city. Yet, each and every day, mothers pushing baby carriages and senior citizens crossing the boulevard to reach the lunch program at the L Street Bathhouse are risking their lives with each step."

As a city councillor, Wallace stated he would call for all-out support for the initiatives cited in the Pedestrian Safety Report, from increased funding for directed patrols by the Boston Police in order to address infractions that pose a threat to pedestrians, to a mandatory "walking safely" program in Boston classrooms, beginning with kindergarten. Wallace would also seek enforcement and implementation of the city council ordinance regarding the licensing and operation of commercial bike messengers, who currently "present a danger to the life and limb of every shopper, worker and tourist in our downtown neighborhoods," according to Wallace.

Wallace also stated that he would lobby for the establishment of a permanent public/private partnership to underwrite pedestrian safety educational programs and media campaigns. "It's good business for the corporate community of Boston to help the city make the streets safer for their employees who live in or commute to Boston."

"On three occasions, during my tenure as executive director of the South Boston Boys & Girls Club, it was my responsibility to inform a parent that his or her child had been struck by a car on their way to or from the club," said Wallace. "Boston is a wonderfully walkable city, but it is up to us to make sure it remains that way. The city has a marvelous blueprint for enhancing pedestrian safety, and as a member of the Boston City Council, I will not rest until this plan has been implemented."

The Race For City Hall

The Mayor's Race

Mickey Roache And His Neighborhoods

April 19 was an important day in Mickey Roache's life. As he was running his 12th Boston Marathon, he had three hours and 45 minutes to think about something that was on his mind.

Just 33 days earlier, Mayor Raymond L. Flynn announced he was leaving Boston to become Ambassador to the Vatican. As Roache moved about the neighborhoods, he continually heard the same thing — "Mickey, why aren't you running for mayor?"

"People all over the city were asking me that question," Roache said. "And every time I'd say, 'thank you for your confidence in me,' and file it in the back of my mind."

"But that long run alone got me thinking about it a little more. I began to realize that I had been doing a smaller version of the mayor's job for over eight years," he added, saying that he started to see the similarities in the two jobs.

"I had a $130 million budget — 10 percent of the overall city budget. I had a senior citizen response unit, domestic violence unit and an environmental strike force. I dealt with developers who were trying to create jobs and were concerned about crime. And I was always in the schools."

"But most important, I was held accountable to the public 24 hours a day. Like a mayor, I had to deal with major crises day in and day out. And, like a mayor, I was required to lead," he added.

Roache became police commissioner in February 1985. During his eight-year administration, he had numerous accomplishments, including the city's lowest crime rate in 20 years in 1992, and significant reductions in serious and violent crime during the past three years in a row.

Several other important initiatives, including the formation of over 650 crime watch groups, were undertaken as part of the department's neighborhood policing strategy, where officers work in partnership with residents.

Prior to his appointment as police commissioner, Roache was commander of the community disorders unit, which he formed in 1978.

Roache, who served in the U.S. Marine Corps, became a Boston police patrolman in 1968. He began his career walking a beat and responding to 911 calls. He became a sergeant seven years later, supervising patrol officers in the South End.

He earned his master's degree in public management, as well as his bachelor's degree, at Boston State College. He is a graduate of South Boston High School.

Roache and his wife, Barbara, live in Dorchester. They have five children and two grandchildren.

"I am running for mayor of Boston because to keep this city together, we cannot tolerate unsafe schools where kids don't get the education they need to survive in the world; where fear still exists on the streets despite major reductions in crime; and where too many people are in need of a decent job," Roache said.

"During this campaign I will prove myself to every citizen of this city. I will not take one street, one block, or one neighborhood for granted. I will be out there every day from dawn until dusk until Election Day. And I will make the best case for why I am the only person in this race who has been committed to the neighborhoods time and again."

Roache pledged that he will open a police station in Charlestown if elected mayor. "While serious crime in Charlestown was down eight percent in 1992, and 15 percent the previous year, the people of Charlestown have made it very clear that they want — and need — a police station in the town and I agree," Roache said.

Resigning as police commissioner with nearly four years left in his five-year term, Roache gave up over $300,000 in salary.

"I put it all on the line to run for mayor of Boston," Roache said. "And that was the only way I would do it — all or nothing. Because the people deserved no less."

Brett Opens Campaign Headquarters On Main Street

REP. JAMES BRETT, candidate for Mayor of Boston, opened his Charlestown campaign headquarters at 275 Main Street on July 24. Residents gathered to offer their support to his candidacy and heard him call for a new police sub-station for the town, noting that Charlestown is geographically isolated from downtown Boston and "deserves the same attention" as other areas of the city. Brett called for a two-pronged approach to crime — prosecution and prevention. He is proposing increased hours of youth programming, gun control, SCORE programs in every middle and high school to resolve school disputes before they explode into violence, crime watches and funds from the State Lottery for community groups working to prevent child abuse.

Annual Festival Of Hope

Boston Community Centers' Annual Festival of Hope will take place on Thursday, Aug. 5 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Boston Common near the Parkman Bandstand. The raindate is the following day, Friday, Aug. 6.

Each year, the festival provides a day of fun in the sun for young people of all ages. This year's theme is "Keep Hope Alive." Activities scheduled for the day include morning programming geared toward younger children and afternoon activities aimed at teens. Jugglers, face painters, various games and contests and musical entertainment by youth will be offered throughout the day.

The festival is sponsored and organized by teens from the Youth Outreach Program. For more information about the festival, contact the Youth Outreach's new program manager, Charlestown resident Carolyn Shannon, at 635-4920.

English To Travel To Hong Kong

Chef and restaurateur Todd English of Olives, Figs and Isola restaurants, has been asked to spend the week of Aug. 10 to 19 with the Shangri-La Hotel Group in Hong Kong. Michael Ginor of Hudson Valley Foie Gras joins English in a consulting venture at the Shangri-La's Kowloon location.

English and Ginor will be introducing Mediterranean menu items to supplement the existing Asian cuisine. Their schedule also includes training the hotel staff in the preparation and execution of their menu. English refers to this trip as "an excellent opportunity to share what we do and give the hotel guests more options. I am very excited about this exchange of information."

Kennedy Honors Korean War Veterans

Congressman Joseph P. Kennedy II, speaking on the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives on July 27 in Washington, D.C., presented a tribute to Korean War veterans on the 40th anniversary of the Armistice that ended the Korean War. Tuesday, in the Charlestown Navy Yard, the Massachusetts Korean War Veterans Memorial was dedicated in honor of the 129,000 Massachusetts Korean War veterans who served and the 1,620 who gave their lives in the war.

Kennedy could not attend the event because his appearance was required at a Veterans Affairs Committee session where his bill to provide medical relief for Persian Gulf veterans was being considered.

Following are Kennedy's remarks: "Mr. Speaker, 43 years ago this summer the Korean War began. On July 27, the 40th anniversary of the Armistice, we will be dedicating the Korean War Veterans Memorial in the historic Charlestown Navy Yard in my Massachusetts district. Through the hard work and dedication of thousands of Massachusetts Korean War veterans, this memorial will serve to honor and remember the men and women who gave their lives in what has become 'America's Forgotten War.' Without the tireless assistance of the Korean War Veterans of Massachusetts, its Memorial Chairman William Mason Jr., President Edward Duff and Jim Conway, this effort would not have become a reality.

"This memorial will create a sense of pride, acknowledgement and, most importantly, a constant reminder to future generations. A reminder of the struggles and sacrifices made by those who lived in an uncertain world dominated by a Cold War to our children who live in an equally uncertain world, whose order will be determined by the struggles we undertake and the sacrifices we make.

"I deeply regret that I cannot join the participants at the dedication ceremony due to the House of Representatives being in session. However, I do want my colleagues and the nation to be aware of this important event," Kennedy stated.

the Korean War Veterans Association of Massachusetts grasped the shrouds to unveil the memorial's statue and bronze plaques . . . and it was with pride and more than a few tears that Korean War veterans and their loved ones along with the families of those veterans who did not return stood and gazed at the memorial to the 129,000 Massachusetts men and women who served during the Korean War, especially the 1,620 who were killed in action and the 105 still unaccounted for — just 40 years to the day on which the Korean War armistice was signed.

The dedication was more than just a ceremony — it was the coming together of men and women who had served their country during the first half of the 1950s, came home, and picked up their lives. Though many Americans have termed the three-year conflict as "The Forgotten War," it was not forgotten and it is always in the hearts and minds of these veterans.

A delegation of veterans guided their wheelchairs up the brick walkways toward the memorial — dealing every moment with injuries suffered over 40 years ago. The injuries of other Korean War veterans are not so obvious. Even though physical wounds have healed, memories of ferocious battles, the loss of friends in combat and unspoken thoughts and feelings have been a source of pain for these many years.

At the dedication of this memorial on Tuesday, men and women who fought on the barren hills of Korea began to talk, began to share their feelings and, as the ceremony got underway, culminating in the unveiling of the statue and plaques, the healing process had begun.

The realization of a Korean War Veterans Memorial was the culmination of over five years of tireless work by members of the Korean War Veterans Association (KWVA) of Mass. They obtained the piece of land in Shipyards Park as the site through a designation by the Boston Redevelopment Authority; sought and was awarded a $75,000 grant from the Browne Fund; secured $175,000 in state funds with the support of the state Legislature; and went about raising a matching sum through donations from individuals, towns and cities, veteran posts and their auxiliaries, and patriotic organizations.

The dedication ceremony got underway promptly at 10 a.m. The master of ceremonies was Charlestown resident James W. Conway, a member of the KWVA and dedication ceremony co-chairman. He introduced Cmdr. Robert L. Gillen, U.S. Navy (Ret.) who called the color guards representing each branch of the service to their posts to the rear of the memorial as the 18th Army Band from Fort Devens played a military medley. The color guards were: U.S. Army, Fort Devens; Fourth U.S. Marine Corps Aircraft Wing, South Weymouth Naval Air Station; U.S.S. Constitution; U.S. Air Force, Hanscom AFB; and U.S. Coast Guard, First District Boston.

Rev. James B. Canniff, captain, U.S. Navy Reserve (Ret.), pastor of St. Mary's Parish, Charlestown, offered the invocation.

Edward G. Duff, president of the KWVA, welcomed the gathering. He stated that "it has taken 40 years to find out that our sacrifices were right and the enemy of that time has fallen." Duff spoke of the shortages of everything experienced by the troops in the war — "a shortage of everything except the courage of the warriors." He stated that this was a memorial to all the men and women from this state who served in the war, noting "we will show our fellow citizens that The Forgotten War will never be forgotten."

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. Army (Ret.), was introduced by Conway as the "Soldier's Soldier." The general said he was reminded of the words from a song, "Give me some men, some stout-hearted men" adding that the Korean veteran symbolizes stout-hearted men. He then called for a moment of silence for Matthew Ridgeway, a hero of the Korean War, who died the previous day.

Lt. Gen. Stephen G. Olmstead, U.S. Marine Corps (Ret.), related his distinct pleasure in being invited "to participate in the renewal of a band of brothers."

Vice Adm. George W. Davis, U.S. Navy (Ret.), spoke of the men and women who served in Korea, adding that "they served because they believed — and they were willing to make the sacrifice to preserve freedom."

Lt. Gov. A. Paul Cellucci brought the greetings of the Commonwealth on behalf of himself and Gov. William Weld. Cellucci said the memorial would be visited by residents of the state and thousands who travel the Freedom Trail.

He spoke of the memorial as a reminder of the bravery of those who served, the freedom of South Korea and peace across the world.

Lt. Gen. James W. Stansberry, U.S. Air Force (Ret.), recalled June of 1950, remembering classmates who went to war and, in particular, those who didn't return. He called the soldiers of that time "the first warriors in the cold war." Stansberry cautioned that the "world remains a dangerous place . . . and we must remain militarily strong."

Adm. Louis L. Zumstein, U.S. Coast Guard (Ret.), stated: "We have won the cold war, and those who fought in Korea can take great pride in the victory." He added that the "memorial must also be a landmark that causes us to remember, be eternally vigilant and maintain our military strength."

The Hon. Jong Koo Ahn, Consul General for the Republic of Korea, addressed the crowd, fighting back his

The kids in Charlestown are fortunate to have so many who care. Your work doesn't go unnoticed.

■ Women's Ball Hockey . . . Newtowne picked up its second win of the season by defeating the Parkies 3-2. Jessica Sweeney, Kelley Whalen and Michelle Macomber had the goals for Newtowne, while Mary Crilley and Cheryl Collins scored for the Parkies. The Cheezy Chicks picked up their first win of the season rolling past Main Street 10-1. Kellaigh Mahan had three goals and Jennifer Swales had two goals for the victorious Chicks. Kelly Gilgunn had the lone goal for Main Street.

The standings as of July 26 are: Newtowne 2-0, Lancers 2-0, Cheezy Chicks 1-2, Main Street 0-1 and the Parkies 0-2.

Aug. 2 will see Newtowne take on the Lancers at 6 p.m., and the Parkies will play Main Street at 6:45 p.m. On Aug. 4 the Cheezy Chicks will play Newtowne and the Lancers go against the Parkies.

■ Seeing Red . . . The Red Shirts have landed! Boston Youth Clean-up Crew is back on the streets and vacant lots of Charlestown, and doing, I might add, a great job. A lot of young "Townies" are part of the crew getting some summer cash, and good work experience. Wouldn't it be nice if the next mayor put together a winter or year-round clean-up crew — just a recommendation!

■ Fast Break Action . . . All players on the Fast Break team are reminded that the schedule resumes this Saturday at 9 a.m. at the Fens.

■ Rookie Ball '93 . . . Red Sox Rookie Ball is underway each Thursday morning at the Barry Park. Now in its third season in Charlestown, the very popular program has attracted a great deal of participation. The program is a collaborative effort among the BHA Youth on the Rise program and the Charlestown Community Center. John Doherty of the Community Center staff, has been a great help, and Massport "Townies" Greg Poole, Timmy Monaco and Joe Scadding have helped make the program go. Among the youths taking part are: Joe Ferreira, Shawn Poliskey, Ray Ortiz, Randy Curtin, Ryan Getchell, Jason Vail, Joe Price, Chris Michael, Eider Gordicco, Troy Argoblast, Joe Boucher, Brenda Black, Derek Black, Clinton MacDougall, Gigi Peterson, Derek Peterson, Nolan Burns, Bill Lewey, Aysa Castro, Paul Collins, Danny Buhay, Timmy Buhay, Francis Flynn, Paul Flynn, Nicole Flynn, Brian Johnson, John Lillis, Jason Souza, Artania Arroyo, Richard Burns, Mike Doe, Pat Doe, Freddie Arroyo, Laurie Burns, Laurie Farrell, Joe Burns and Diego Rosario.

■ Festival Of Hope . . . The annual Festival of Hope takes place next Thursday, Aug. 5 at Boston Common. The festival hours are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., and it would be a nice salute to our own Carolyn Shannon to see a lot of Townies in attendance. Carolyn is directing this year's festival as part of her duties as the Boston Community Center's Youth Outreach Program Director.

■ Tidbits . . .

— Dom Tamburello and green M & M's make a great combination.

— Ronnie Poole was voted "Strike Out King" for the weekend by his friends.

— Willie Wadman hopes they will put some extra-large seats in Fenway Park.

Local Riders In Jimmy Fund's PMC Bike Event

The Pan-Mass Challenge (PMC), the world's most successful bicycling fund raiser and the largest single fund raiser for Dana Farber's Jimmy Fund, will reach a tremendous fundraising milestone upon the completion of its 14th annual ride this Aug. 7 and 8, the event's lifetime donation will top $10 million. Since 1980, the PMC has raised money to fund cancer research and treatment at Dana Farber Cancer Institute in Boston.

The PMC is a 1,500 person, 192-mile, two-day ride from Sturbridge through 29 Massachusetts towns to Provincetown at the tip of Cape Cod. Its mission is nothing short of wiping out cancer. According to the PMC's founder and executive director, Billy Starr, it is the commitment of its volunteers that separates the PMC from all other fundraising events. With nearly 900 volunteers on hand for the PMC weekend, approximately 92 percent of sponsor contributions is given directly to the Jimmy Fund, accounting for 23 percent of the total money raised each year for New England's favorite charity.

The PMC is a ride, not a race. Anyone with a bicycle who is 15 years or older and who is in good physical health can participate, as long as he or she is committed to meeting the minimum fund-raising requirement of $900, or $500 for One-Day Challengers.

Charlestown residents participating this year are: Kate Fallon, Diane Soaziani, Douglas Miller, David Bush, Karen Fisher, Matthew Russo and Pell Osborn.

Individuals interested in riding in the PMC are encouraged to contact Billy Starr at 965-9624.

by Father Ron Coyne

• CYO Deep Sea Fishing Trip — We had such a great day deep sea fishing on July 22 that we have arranged another trip for Thursday, Aug. 12. The boat will leave Plum Island at 8 a.m. and return at 2:30 p.m. All teenagers 13 to 19 are invited to join us. The bus will leave St. Catherine's Rectory at 6:30 a.m. and return about 3:30 p.m. The cost is $15 per person which includes rod and bait. Sign up at the rectory.

• Charlestown Privileged to Host Teen-Age Baptist Choir — Our town had the privilege of welcoming 38 teen-agers from the University Baptist Choir of Fort Worth, Texas to our community. These young people travel throughout the country with their youth minister and choir directors. Their concerts at St. John's and St. Catherine's churches deeply touched those who attended. They are gifted teen-agers who praise God by sharing their gifts with others. They are truly committed to the gospel and are an inspiration to all. We were blessed with their presence.

• CYO Girls Softball Playoffs — Our regular season ended this past weekend for over 70 girls who played CYO softball this summer. Playoffs begin this week and two of our four teams, the midgets and cadets, have qualified. We are proud of all our girls and wish them the best.

• CYO Paintball — The CYO will sponsor a day at Canobie Paintball in Windham, N.H. on Sunday, Aug. 8. There are 10 playing fields. You must be between 13 and 19. If you are under 18, you must have a note with you from a parent or guardian stating that Paintball will not be responsible for possible injury.

You are encouraged to wear old sneakers, long pants, bring knee pads and a cup.

The cost is $15 per person which includes equipment. Each person must pay $4 for 50 rounds of ammunition. You may purchase as many rounds as you like. Games will be organized by the Paintball staff.

The bus will leave St. Catherine's Church at 7:30 a.m. on Aug. 8. Instructions begin at 8:30 a.m. and games will be played from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The bus will return to St. Catherine's around 3 p.m.

To reserve a spot, you must leave $15 at the rectory with your name. You will pay for the ammunition at the site.

• CYO Trip To Riverside Park — All teen-agers 13 to 19 are invited to go to Riverside Park in Agawam on Thursday, Aug. 19. The bus will leave St. Catherine's Church at 9 a.m. and return around 8 p.m. The cost is $15 per person, and includes all rides and transportation. Sign up at St. Catherine's rectory.

A LITTLE BIT OF BACK TALK

Did you know that to become a certified chiropractor takes a minimum of six years of college training? In most states chiropractors are required to attend and pass annual seminars to have their licenses renewed.

The government has endorsed the use of chiropractors by including their treatment in Workmen's Compensation.

If you've been hesitant about seeing a chiropractor and this hasn't answered your questions, feel free to ask us directly. Call today.

Honored At Athletic Awards Banquet

Four Charlestown residents were honored at the Pope John High School Athletic Awards Banquet. Senior Adam Jaena was boys track MVP after achieving 10 first places — four in the 100, two in the javelin, one in the long-jump and three as part of the 440 relay team. Jaena also took a second in the 100 in the Commonwealth Conference League Meet and qualified for the Class D State Meet in that event. His best time in the 100 was 10.4. Jaena also earned a coaches award in hockey, scoring 20 points.

Another Charlestown senior, Kevin McMaster, was awarded the Mark J. Kennedy Memorial Award as the top lineman in the PJ-Chelsea game, and also earned an all-league selection.

Junior Mike Mainey, a three-year hockey starter, earned a coaches award for his 17-point effort at forward.

The fourth Charlestown resident, Dave Burns, was chosen tennis MVP. As first singles player, Burns finished with a 10-1 record to help his squad to an 11-3 mark.

Charlestown Little League

Chelmsford Invitational Tournament

10 Year Olds

After defeating Billerica (A), 14-13 on July 10 in game one, the team went on to defeat Littleton on July 13 in game two. A 10-run first inning led to the 19-1 win, called after four innings because of the slaughter rule which is a 12-run or more lead after four innings.

On July 17, game three was an 8-4 loss to the host team, Chelmsford (A). The team hung in there till the end in this closely played contest.

In game four on July 21, the team rebounded from its loss with a 7-6 victory over Centerville. A three-run last of the fifth rally produced the win despite two homeruns by the Centerville catcher George Velasquez. Although the team's 3-1 record left us second in the division behind Chelmsford's 4-0, great pitching, timely hitting, some sharp defense, heads-up base running, nice fields and playing under the lights, made this a great experience for all.

The team members were: Danny Devlin, Pat Doe, John Fabiano, Cory Hollein, Eddie Kelly, Mike Kelly, Stephen Libby, Tony Lopez, Brian McCrary, Sean Noonan, Craig Powers, Sean Rae, Colin Smith, Tommy Smith, Mike Wilkins and Joe Wilkins.

The team, along with Marty Fabiano and Kevin Connolly, would like to thank their parents and fans who supported them in this first venture into the Chelmsford Tournament.

11 Year Olds

The 11-year-olds began their trip to Chelmsford with a 10-2 loss to Northboro on July 24. An unfortunate nine-run first inning where everything that could go wrong, did go wrong, settled the issue. However, the 11-year-olds will be back trying hard on Friday evening, July 30, Saturday, July 31 and Monday evening Aug. 2.

District 9 Tournament

Game 2 - Charlestown played South Boston American whose pitcher, Kenny Roberts, had not lost a game all season. Charlestown led 5-1 going into the bottom of the fifth before Southie got two in that inning and three in the bottom of the sixth to escape with the win.

Mike O'Brien pitched five strong innings before running out of gas. Marc Russell made a great fifth inning catch to rob the Southie pitcher of a grand slam. The team played a good game in a tough loss.

Game 3 - Charlestown played Chelsea. In a 5-4 game going into the last of the fifth, Charlestown came up with six runs to ensure an 11-4 win. Tim Dacey was the winning pitcher. John Ahearn had four hits, Marc Russell had a two-run single, Fred Arroyo had a big double and Russell Groggett had a two-run double. Paul Hennessey also had a big hit and Mike O'Brien was outstanding in the field at second base.

Game 4 - Charlestown played first-game opponent Upper Roxbury/North Dorchester which they had beaten 6-1. However, this game was different. Upper Roxbury held a 4-1 lead going into the top of the sixth. A three-run rally was led off by John Ahearn's double, followed by Mike O'Brien's base hit, Russell Groggett's walk, Stephen Burke's two-run single and a wild pitch that scored Russell to tie the game. Unfortunately, the game, which went into extra innings, was won by Upper Roxbury 5-4 in the eighth inning. Upper Roxbury went on to the final in the tournament, losing to South Boston American 2-1 with Kenny Roberts, the winning pitcher.

The team played a great four games and I was very proud of them.

The team members were: Phil Jones (Boys Club), Joe Roche (Cronin Club), Marc Russell (Cronin Club), Stephen Burke (Jenny's Pizza), Ian Burke (Jenny's Pizza), Chet Ferreira (Laidlaw), John Ahearn (K.of C.), Tim Dacey (K. of C.), Paul Hennessey (McKeon Club), Russell Groggett (Memorial Hall), Mike O'Brien (Memorial Hall), Fred Arroyo (Teamsters) and Jackie Kelly (Teamsters).

The 19-under all-stars were: Dick Centola, Joe Krol, Steve Mahan, Mike Erardi, Greg Staples, Doug Titcomb, Dave DelMedico, Dave Walsh, Mark Collins, Keith McKeon, Joe Fitzgerald, ald, Anthony Matson, Mike Burns, Tim Warren, Jonathan Owens, Brendan Brennan, Andrew Ray, Pat Collins, Jim Yandle, Pat Owens, Pat Woods and Paul Myers.

Townies Suffer More Hard Luck — Meet Maine Warriors Saturday

by Sean P. Smyth

The Charlestown Townies suffered more hard luck Saturday afternoon, losing to the Maine Sabers 16-13 at Sanford High School's Cobb Stadium in Eastern Football League (EFL) action.

The Townies looked strong in the first quarter, scoring on a 17-yard pass from Ed Sullivan to Jeff McCarthy to make the score 6-0.

In the second quarter, Sullivan and McCarthy hooked up again, this time from five yards out, to make the score 12-0. Jimbo Murphy's PAT kick was good and the score was 13-0. Maine didn't give up, however, as the Sabers scored late in the second quarter on a 23-yard pass from Dan Hendrix to Rob Hebert to make the score 13-6 at the half.

In the third quarter, the Sabers took control, as they held on to the ball for most of the quarter. David Jamieson scored on a 34-yard pass from Hendrix to make it 13-12. Steve Goodrich kicked the extra point, and it was tied at 13 going into the fourth quarter.

Maine took the lead for good in the fourth quarter, as Goodrich kicked a 34-yard field goal, making the score 16-13 with little time remaining on the clock. The Townies then ran out the clock trying to move the ball down the field.

Charlestown hosts the Maine Warriors on Saturday, July 31 at 7 p.m. at the Charlestown High School Field on Medford Street.

The Boston Braves, who had the bye this week, hosts Marlboro on Friday at East Boston at 8 p.m.

Townie Jeff McCarthy received an honorable mention as EFL offensive player of the week for his performance Saturday in Maine. McCarthy caught 12 passes for 54 yards. He also had three pass interceptions and returned three punts for 25 yards.

Townie Quarterback Ed Sullivan continued his streak of not being sacked. He has not been sacked in 12 regular season games running. Sullivan had an OK day passing the ball. He went 10-for-32, with three interceptions and two touchdowns. He also threw for 180 yards.

Attendance at the Townies' home opener was horrible. Only 150 to 200 fans showed up for a great football game with Medway. Remember this, there is no admission charge to the home games. Whoever said that nothing was free anymore?

EFL standings as of July 29 are: Medway 3-0, Mitchell Club 3-0, Ocean State 3-0, Maine Sabers 2-1, Marlboro 2-1, Merrimack Valley 2-1, Randolph 1-2, Boston 0-2, Charlestown 0-2, Hockomock 0-3 and Maine Warriors 0-3.

Last weekend's results were: Medway 15, Hockomock 7; Mitchell Club 31, Randolph 14; Maine Sabers 16, Charlestown 13; Marlboro 22, Maine Warriors 0; Ocean State 40, Merrimack Valley 28.

The EFL Notebook is looking for a co-writer. If you are interested please call 268-0029.

emotions. He stated that now is the time for healing . . . "The guns have been silenced during this uneasy armistice that has lasted 40 years." Ahn did caution that it is suspected that North Korea is developing long-range and nuclear weapons in preparation to wreck havoc. He noted that "peace depends on deterrence."

Conway introduced two Congressional Medal of Honor Recipients from World War II — Charles A. MacGillivray and George Street. Also present was Maj. Gen. George S. Patton Jr. Conway also spoke of fighting side-by-side with the U.N. Forces including the Canadians and introduced LCDR. William A. Woodburn, commanding officer of the Canadian submarine HMCS Onondaga (SS-73).

Other speakers included Boston City Council President and Acting Mayor Thomas M. Menino; Commissioner of Veterans Services for the city, Thomas Materazzo; Sen. Robert Wetmore; Boston City Councillor Albert L. O'Neil; and John Burchill, superintendent of the Boston National Historical Park. Conway also introduced Col. Edward R. Nuttall, commanding officer, Fort Devens; John P. Comer, Past National Commander of The American Legion and a member of the advisory board of the national Korean War Veterans Memorial planned for Washington, D.C.; Quincy Mayor James Sheets; and Deputy Veterans Services Commissioner Tom Lyons.

Paul L. Barrett, director of the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA), told the gathering of his pleasure being present at the dedication, noting that he was in charge of development in the Charlestown Navy Yard and on the waterfront when the memorial was first proposed. He pointed out that the memorial, which is "hosted on BRA land, is a unique partnership of the authority, city and state." He thanked former Mayor Raymond L. Flynn and the Charlestown community for its wholehearted support.

House Majority Leader Rep. Richard A. Voke, Sen. Thomas F. Birmingham, chairman of the Senate Ways & Means Committee, and Speaker of the House of Representatives Charles Flaherty praised the veterans and congratulated them on the memorial, which Flaherty called "a tribute from the heart."

Senate President William M. Bulger spoke of the 1,502 names inscribed on the bronze plaques noting: "All must never forget what the names stand for. These men and women left their homes in Mass. to fight for victims of aggression — for people they did not know. They answered their country's call to aid the weak and to repel aggression . . . this is a reminder that we must never forget what Americans did in Korea and why they did it."

Dedication co-chairman Joe McCallion introduced Col. Dell Evans, U.S. Army (Ret.), a much-decorated Korean War hero who traveled from Ark. for the dedication.

Also bringing their greetings and recollections of the war were two Congressional Medal of Honor Recipients from the Korean War, Capt. Thomas J. Hudner Jr., U.S. Navy (Ret.) and Commissioner of the Mass. Veterans Service Commission, and Col. Lewis L. Millett, U.S. Army (Ret.).

Throughout the ceremony, musical selections ranged from patriotic melodies by the 18th Army Band, to the haunting sound of "Amazing Grace" by Kevin Barry Bagpiper Edward Magner, to "Taps" echoing across the park by the 18th Army Band's buglers. As the Memorial Committee prepared to unveil the statue and plaques, Richard Kerry Thompson sang "Empty Chairs and Empty Tables" followed by "Bring Them Home."

William F. "Red" Mason Jr., chairman of the Mass. Korean War Veterans Memorial Committee, expressed his thanks and stated: "I hope that when this memorial is unveiled, it will help ease the pain of 40 years."

The audience drew closer, the military and veteran color guards snapped to attention and Mason, Duff, McCallion, W. Bradford Chase Jr., Louis Stifano, Joyce M. Talbot, Louis Pelosi and Richard Ziemba released the shrouds to exclamations of appreciation and resounding applause from the gathering.

A rifle salute to those killed in action in Korean and the POW/MIAs was carried out by the U.S. Army, Fort Devens, Firing Party. This was followed by the benediction delivered by Rabbi Murray I. Rothman and the retiring of the colors.

Then, as the 18th U.S. Army Band played "God Bless America," the guests and members of the audience were invited to place yellow and white chrysanthemums at the base of the statue of the soldier in remembrance.

Then, as people boarded buses for the return trip to their homes from throughout the state, including Palmer and Taunton, some people reminisced with friends from the past, others sought nourishment at a luncheon catered by Amheims in the Preble Room. Many people remained at the memorial site — reading the list of names on the bronze plaques, memorial benches and bricks, engulfed in their own thoughts that took them back over four decades.

The dream of a memorial is now a reality, and for Charlestown and her residents it is a proud time . . . a time when one more chapter in her history has been written . . . and here in this town "The Forgotten War" will be remembered as will the state's men and women who fought and died for freedom in the far-away land of Korea.

Brown Bag Bookies To Meet

Brown Bag Bookies, the adult book discussion group of the Charlestown Branch Library, will meet on Tuesday, Aug. 10 at noon at the library, 179 Main St.

The book under discussion will be Palace Walk by Naguib Mahfouz. According to "Newsweek," Mahfouz "writes about family, and to understand the Egyptian family is to understand more clearly than any political treatise can explain, the soul of the country. When chaos reigns, the family is a safe retreat, giving Egypt an almost gyroscopic stability as colonial powers and demagogic leaders have come and gone."

Participants are invited to bring their lunches, and new members are always welcome.

Peter Rabbit's 100th Birthday Celebration At BPL

Children 3 to 8 years of age are invited to a special bash celebrating Peter Rabbit's 100th birthday in the Rabb Lecture Hall of the Boston Public Library in Copley Square at 2:30 p.m. on Thursday afternoon, Aug. 12.

The special summer children's program will include "The Tale of Peter Rabbit"

Grieving The Loss Of A Friend: Reggie Lewis

Sharing in the tragic loss of Reggie Lewis are members of the Boys & Girls Clubs of Boston (BGCB) who knew Reggie as a mentor, volunteer and role model.

In 1991, Mr. Lewis signed on as the BGCB spokesperson expressing his concern about the lack of positive role models for Boston's at-risk youth and the escalating rate of gang-related violence. His main objective was to teach youth that the road to success is not paved with guns and drugs, but with education and hard work.

In his efforts, Lewis conducted informal rap sessions, basketball clinics and produced a public service announcement for BGCB club members in Charlestown, Roxbury and South Boston, as well as the satellite facility in Franklin Field. He included families from BGCB in his annual turkey give-away and also provided special opportunities for club members with the Boston Celtics.

On behalf of the BGCB family, Frances K. Moseley, BGCB president and CEO expressed, "Reggie was an exceptional person who shared his success with our children. His objective of being a positive role model and inspiring our kids to be their best was accomplished. Reggie's hands-on commitment to our entire BGCB family will truly be missed, and we offer our sincerest support and condolences to Donna, Reggie Jr., their family and others in the community mourning his loss."

The club members of BGCB have expressed their desire to pay tribute to Mr. Lewis. Details of that activity will be available at a later date.

Summer Teen Program

by Dan Ryan

The Charlestown Collaborative Summer Teen Program, sponsored by The Teen Connection and the Boys & Girls Club, continues to be a great success. On Tuesday and Thursday evenings, teens from all over town can come down to the Eden Street Park and get involved in various games and tournaments. On Wednesday and Friday evenings, van trips have been planned and scheduled.

We have been pleased with the number of teens involved in our activities, however, we know there are a lot more teens who are not taking advantage of what is being offered. We would like to see our numbers increase even more. There is plenty to do, so don't be left out.

Event updates . . .

Last Tuesday and Thursday we held a double elimination co-ed volleyball tournament. We had seven registered teams with over 50 teens involved. It was a fun, highly competitive tourney with every team suffering a loss. In the end, however, the high-flying team of Jimmy Gillen, Pat Duncan, Michelle Macomber, Shannon McLaughlin, Shannon Lawler, Jessica Sweeney and Jason McDonald captured the coveted crown.

The celebration was short-lived as the volleyball champs had to take on the dreaded staff team of Zeke, Fitzy, Killer and, of course, The Total Package. In what one spectator described as "child abuse," the staff team thrashed the so-called champs in a two-out-of-three match. Rumor has it

One-Pitch Softball Tournament

St. Catherine's is sponsoring a One-Pitch Softball Tournament on Sunday, Aug. 8 for adults and teenagers.

What is a One-Pitch softball game? A batter gets only one pitch, which is pitched by someone on his/her own team. Each team puts nine people in the field, not including the pitcher. The pitcher cannot field or interfere with a ball that is hit. There must be at least four women on the field.

It is a fun, fast-moving game — seven innings or 30 minutes, whichever comes first. The tournament is double elimination.

The entrance fee is $25 to cover the cost of prizes.

Sign up at St. Catherine's rectory. Call Mary Featherston at 242-1750 for more information.

14th Annual Horseshoe Tournament

The 14th annual Horseshoe Tournament will be held on Saturday, Aug. 14 at Doherty Park on Bunker Hill Street, starting at 10 a.m.

There will be trophies, a cash prize and a raffle at this double-elimination tourney. The registration fee is $20 per team or $10 per person.

To register, see Tournament Director Steve Brennan at the park or pool, or call him at 242-3475.

that DSS is investigating this fiasco.

Last Wednesday evening, two vans loaded with fun-loving Townies ventured off to Lanes & Games on Route 2 for some serious bowling. These bundles of joy from C-town put on an awesome display of pin bashing. From Lanes & Games, the next stop was Chadwick's for some well-deserved sundaes and good wholesome fun. The kids had a delightful time.

Last Friday evening, a couple of vans took off from Beantown, destination — Wareham for a camping trip. It wasn't easy surviving the elements, but the staff and kids both made it. It was a classic struggle of man against nature. We are really looking forward to our next camping challenge.

Upcoming events . . .

We are planning a Paintball Combat trip. A $10 deposit is due by next Friday, Aug. 6. The number of deposits will determine the trip size.

Volunteers are needed for a cookout for the patients of the Shriners Burns Institute to be held on Aug. 28. If anyone is interested in volunteering for the benefit, please call Meg McCabe at 324-6901.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Massachusetts Biomedical Research Corporation, has contributed $180,000 for a program called "Smart Choices for Charlestown." The program is designed to help Charlestown agencies meet the health and human service needs of the community.

The Biomedical Research Corporation has asked the Administration of Massachusetts General Hospital's (MGH) Community Health Associates to coordinate the application process. Funding up to $30,000 for a one-year period will be awarded to agencies serving the Charlestown community. Letters have been mailed to community agencies and organizations.

A simple process has been developed for agencies to apply for funding. All applications will be reviewed by an impartial committee and must be received by September 1, 1993. Awards will be made for an October 1, 1993 start date.

If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact the administration of the MGH-Community Health Associates at (617) 884-8300 x419.

POLICE LINE

From the desk of Deputy Superintendent Robert E. Hayden Jr.
Area A, Boston Police Department
Monday, July 19

At 2 a.m., a motorcycle with two riders was traveling over the bridge to City Square when it was struck from behind by an automobile. The two Boston residents were taken to Mass. General Hospital. The driver of the vehicle, a 31-year-old Somerville resident, was found to be intoxicated and was placed under arrest.

A stolen automobile was recovered in the vicinity of 400 Bunker Hill St., and another was recovered on Decatur Street.

At 12:45 p.m., three teen-agers were observed breaking into an automobile at Medford and Decatur streets. All three residents were subsequently placed under arrest by Officer Witherspoon.

At 5 p.m., officers responded to an apartment at 234 Bunker Hill St. where they placed a resident under arrest for the violation of a restraining order.

An automobile parked on Essex Street was broken into during the evening, and a stereo was stolen.

An automobile parked on Auburn Street was broken into during the evening.

Wednesday, July 21

At 12 p.m., officers arrested a 29-year-old resident on Walford Way on an outstanding warrant.

Friday, July 23

At 4 p.m., officers responded to 50 Terminal St. where they placed a 52-year-old resident under arrest for public drinking and for threats made to other residents.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters to the Editor must be signed and include name, address and telephone number for verification. The name will be withheld if the writer so requests. Anonymous letters will NOT be published.

Our Sincere Thanks

We, the family of William W. Curtin, wish to express our gratitude to all the people who showed us their generosity and strength of spirit by preparing home-cooked meals, babysitting, sending floral arrangements, spiritual bouquets and contributing to St. Catherine's memorial fund in my husband's and our dad's name. We couldn't have done it without you.

We would especially like to thank Beverly and Robyn Wilson who helped so much with everything, we don't know where to begin; the staff at Massachusetts General Hospital; the Spaulding home-care nurses; and the Trinity Hospice nurses.

We would like to have named each person who contributed individually, but all the names probably wouldn't fit on this page.

Sincerely,
Kay Curtin and Family

Massive Collection Of Aid For Flood Victims

Business, labor, community service and government leaders have announced a comprehensive collaboration called "Mass Drive for the Midwest" to collect and deliver food, water and supplies to victims of one of the country's largest disasters in Mo., Ill. and Iowa.

Initiated and underwritten by Bull HN Information Systems Inc., headquartered in Billerica, Mass Drive will mobilize a state-wide network of 29 Salvation Army collection sites and 30 tractor-trailer trucks donated by Yellow Freight Co., Consolidated Freight Co., and Roadway Express Inc. and which will be driven by Teamsters Local 25 members. The Massachusetts Mayors Association will coordinate the support of local elected officials in communities where collection sites are located.

The Salvation Army site most convenient to Charlestown is located at 213-219 Main St. in Malden. Items will be collected through Tuesday, Aug. 3 and the 30 28-foot trailers will depart as a caravan on Aug. 4.

Items that would be greatly appreciated include: baby food, canned fruit, instant potatoes, macaroni & cheese mixes, Ramen Noodles, sugar, pudding, syrup, jelly, rice, powdered milk, dried fruit, bottled water, canned vegetables, coffee, tea, peanut butter, jello, cereal, juices, pasta, soup, crackers, cookies and instant muffin and pancake mixes. All food items should be packaged in shatter-proof containers, no glass.

Also shovels, brooms, toilet paper, buckets, trash bags, paper towels, mops and rakes are needed.

Checks for financial donations should be made out to: The Salvation Army/Mass Drive, 147 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass. 02116.

For more information on collection sites and what items are most needed, call 1-800-224-GIVE.

Activists Push For Expanded Recycling Program

The Boston Recycling Coalition (BRC), which includes the Charlestown Recycling Volunteers, urges Boston residents to attend a public hearing on recycling and environmental awareness to be held on Monday, Aug. 2 at 6 p.m. in the Piemonte Room, fifth floor, Boston City Hall. The BRC aims to convince city government officials to take immediate action in expanding Boston's recycling program.

State officials, including Trudy Cox, secretary of the Environment, and Sen. Marian Walsh have been invited to testify. Walsh recently sponsored a state budget amendment to allocate $100,000 from the Bottle Bill fund to increase public education about Boston's recycling program which is currently limited to newspaper pick-up on a city-wide basis and a pilot multi-material pick-up program in Jamaica Plain.

Activists from the BRC will testify before the City Council on the need for a further allocation from the Bottle Bill fund to increase curbside newspaper recycling from every other week to weekly collection. This measure would serve as an interim program while the city plans and constructs its own Materials Recovery Facility (MRF) to implement city-wide pick-up of multi-materials (glass, tin aluminum, etc.) Completion of the MRF was originally slated for July 1994, but is already delayed until 1995.

In the meantime, the BRC would like to see the city's newspaper program strengthened. "The current program, pick-up every other week, is confusing and frustrating to otherwise willing recyclers," states Andrew McLeod, a BRC activist. The BRC is an organization of interested citizens as well as volunteers who staff monthly recycling drop-off centers around the city. "Our job should be ending next year, but it's not. The least we can do is encourage Boston to pick up the slack of its present program," said Phil Lindsay of the Dorchester Recycling Volunteers. BRC volunteers have collected the signatures of over 1,000 Boston voters on a petition to increase curbside pick-up of newspapers weekly.

Volunteer Drivers Needed To Fight Cancer

The American Cancer Society seeks volunteer drivers for its Road to Recovery Program. Many cancer patients have daily radiation or chemotherapy treatments and their friends and family cannot provide transportation. Volunteers give anywhere from one hour a month to two days a week, as their schedules allow, and ensure that patients make it to their treatments. Current drivers attest to how flexible and rewarding the experience is.

Bunker Hill Museum To Participate In National Night Out On Aug. 3

The Bunker Hill Museum will join thousands of Boston residents in participating in the National Night Out Program on Tuesday, Aug. 3 from 6 to 9 p.m. In conjunction with the Boston Police Department's Crime Watch Program, Night Out gives persons an opportunity to get out and meet other residents in their neighborhood.

The Bunker Hill Museum is located at 43 Monument Square, directly across from the front of the Bunker Hill Monument. Now in its 18th year, the Museum is sponsored by the Charlestown Historical Society and is staffed by volunteers from the society's membership.

Museum curator Kathy Giordano stated: "What better way is there to get to know your neighbors than to step outside Tuesday evening and meet them? What better way is there to get to know the neighborhood of Charlestown than to visit the Bunker Hill Museum, dedicated to commemorate the rich historic aspects of this community?"

The Bunker Hill Museum is open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., Tuesday through Friday and noon to 4 p.m. on Sunday. Admission is free. For more information, call 242-1843.

Testing Being Held Sunday And Monday For Baby Kyle Bone-Marrow Match

(continued from page one) sive, costing $50 each. The Friends of Kyle have been working to raise money to cover the cost of the testing through fund raisers and donations. The momentum and spirit of this effort has been wonderful to date and the family and friends are most grateful. It is hoped that the effort can continue.

Last Friday night's "Comedy Kicking Cancer" with Steve Doherty and a host of area comedians, saw the K. of C. hall filled to the rafters with enthusiastic persons more than willing to purchase a $15 ticket to help Baby Kyle.

It was followed on Sunday with a Block Party in Somerville that was another outstanding success.

The following fund-raising events have been planned:

- On Friday, July 30 a group of Charlestown young people are running a "Pajama Party" for Baby Kyle's benefit at Memorial Hall on Green Street from 8 p.m. to midnight. It will feature a "Best Pajama Contest." Tickets are $10 and may be obtained by calling Tommy Jackson at 241-7211, Kim Keenan at 242-1161 or Annmarie McCaffrey at 241-2869, or they may be purchased at the door.

- On Sunday, Aug. 15, there will be a party to benefit Baby Kyle from 8 p.m. to midnight at Zanzibar,

One Boylston Place, Boston. A $10 donation will be accepted at the door.

Also, direct tax deductible donations to help defray the cost of testing may be made. Checks should be made payable to the HLA Registry Foundation Inc. and sent to: Friends of Baby Kyle, c/o MIT, 400 Main St., E19-135, Cambridge, Mass. 02139, attention Craig Venezia or Mary Files. Please be sure to write on the check "For the account of Friends of Baby Kyle."

All proceeds will be used to pay for the testing of potential donors for Baby Kyle and other children and young adults in need of a life-saving transplant.
