Balmoral Resources Ltd.

(BAR-T – $0.18) BUY – Target: $0.75

Barry Allan, MBA • Mining Analyst Tel: 416 865-5798 • AllanB@lb-securities.ca

February 6, 2019

Grasset Nickel Resource Goes Deeper

Event

Release of exploration holes on the Grasset nickel resource

Impact

Positive. Confirmation the Grasset nickel resource continues to depth.

Analysis

- BAR released results of eight (8) holes drilled on the Grasset nickel-coppercobalt resource (a massive sulphide deposit) previously discovered by BAR which illustrated further continuity of the resource to depth, some 100 metres lower than previously known (~625 metres below surface Exhibit 1).
- We continue to believe BAR are some of the best early stage explorers in Canada, but owning the stock is high risk and speculative. We remain a BUY with a $0.75 target price, and our target price is based on the indicated market value of in-situ resources for a peer group of companies, and our belief that BAR have discovered a significant gold resource of ~1.0 Moz at its Martiniere property, in addition to a significant nickel resource on the Grasset property.

