You can't determine a person's health solely from their appearance! Our bodies are all different shapes, sizes, & we store fat differently. Being thin doesn't mean you can't be at risk for the same chronic illnesses (type 2 diabetes, heart disease, etc) that are typically associated with obesity. Plenty of heavier individuals are healthy, just as plenty of thinner individuals are not. □

You guys, if you haven't checked out @sydneycummings on YouTube you seriously need to get on it! Today I did a full body burnout and let me tell you it was no joke! But I felt so freaking badass when I got done! Then I sat on the floor and contemplated just staying there for a while because I WORKED! ☐
