

Revisions:

May 24, 1989 (Pink)
June 14, 1989 (Blue)
June 17, 1989 (Yellow)
June 22, 1989 (Green)
July 5, 1989 (Goldenrod)

TEENAGE MUTANT NINJA TURTLES

Screenplay by

Todd W. Langen

G T PRODUCTIONS, INC.

1724 North Whitley Avenue
Hollywood, CA 90028

April 10, 1989

Copyright (C)
Golden Harvest, Inc. 1989

TEENAGE MUTANT NINJA TURTLES

FADE IN:

1 EXT. NEW YORK CITY STREETS - NIGHT 1

Deserted, wet, solemn.

A BREEZE kicks up, blowing a sheet of newspaper along the ground and trapping it against the grill of a car. The headline reads: "CITY CRIME ESCALATES."

Further along, STEAM belches from the four vents of a manhole cover, which begins to vibrate like a teakettle. Suddenly, it blows, flying into the air and crashing down near the open sewer hole. The RATTLING of the cover stubbornly echoes about the empty streets, then dies, AS WE DESCEND INTO:

2 INT. THE SEWER - NIGHT 2

revealing the bowels of New York City: A dark, dank maze of tunnels, filled with debris, much of it drowning in a murky trough of water.

Moving deeper into the sewer, a distant SOUND becomes audible. Continuing deeper, the sound grows into the drone of a TELEVISION. Deeper still, and words become distinct:

APRIL O'NEIL (V.O.)
... much more than just a series of small, isolated incidents.

3 INT. THE SEWER AT TURTLES' DEN DOOR - NIGHT 3

The voice emanates from an old boarded-up doorway that leads to a maintenance room, long forgotten, off the main sewer.

APRIL (V.O.)
It's now apparent that an organized criminal element is at work. And at the moment...

The door remains closed, a flickering light bleeding through its cracks.

APRIL (V.O.)
... business is good.

DISSOLVE TO:

4 EXT. A DIFFERENT STREET - DAY 4 *

UNDER the sound of April's continuing report:

APRIL (V.O.)
So good, in fact, that there appear to be no eyewitnesses to any of these crimes...

This street is much busier than the first, as a group of people wait to cross at a corner. Among them is a businessman who periodically raises his arm to check an expensive watch. The light changes and the businessman begins to cross, receiving a shock when he checks the time yet again and finds his wrist bare.

5 EXT. APARTMENT BUILDING - DAY 5 *

APRIL (V.O.)
Even the victims themselves rarely catch a glimpse...

A woman relaxes in front of a small, state-of-the-art TV set resting on the rail of her balcony, which faces a lamp post. Suddenly, a blur of speed flashes by and the TV is gone, creating a DOPPLER EFFECT as the music fades away.

6 EXT. STREET - (WOMAN'S P.O.V.) - DAY 6 *

The woman looks over the balcony just in time to see a pair of heels retreating from the lamp post.

7 EXT. ANOTHER STREET/SUBWAY STATION - DAY 7 *

APRIL (V.O.)
Many don't even know that they've been victimized...

Late commuters emerge from a subway station. A man's wallet is stealthily removed from his suit by a pair of hands. WE FOLLOW THE WALLET as it is passed to another hand moving in the opposite direction, and then to another - precise, clockwork movements. And though faces are not seen, it is apparent from clothing that these hands belong to young men. Teenagers.

A final pair of hands then opens the wallet, removes the cash, and discards the empty shell into a dumpster - where it joins an assortment of its brethren, already there.

(CONTINUED)

7 CONTINUED:

7

APRIL (V.O.)
... until, of course, it's much too late. Some are already dubbing it "The Silent Crime Wave." But perhaps the most disturbing silence...

7A INSERT: CLOSE ON - A TV SCREEN (INT. CHANNEL 3 STATION FOFOYER) 7A * and an attractive REPORTER in her late twenties.

APRIL
... is that coming from City Hall.
(signing off)
April O'Neil. Channel Three Eyewitness News.

*
*

CUT TO:

8 EXT. CHANNEL THREE TELEVISION STATION - NIGHT 8 *
situated on the lower West Side docks of New York.
CREDITS BEGIN.

Through a large double glass door, April can be seen passing a security guard at the sign-in counter. He checks his watch and gives her a playful "Shame, shame" for working so late, and they share a laugh as she exits.

Now making her way through the largely deserted parking lot, April passes by a dumpster just as a bottle SMASHES to the ground. She whirls and sees a rat scurrying away.

APRIL Agch...!

Immediately hopping onto a crate, she assumes an arms-retracted, "I-hate-rats" pose. She then shudders and steps down, continuing on her way, her heels echoing the increased tempo of her pace.

9 EXT. ACROSS THE HUDSON RIVER - NIGHT 9
TRACKING April along the opposite shore, as reflected moonlight dances on the water amidst floating debris. Slowly, one by one, large convex shapes break the surface of the water, glistening in the moonlight and separating the floating garbage, until there are four. Four Turtle shells.

MAIN TITLE.

10 EXT. PARKING LOT - NIGHT

10 as April heads toward an old, beat-up VW van while reaching into her purse for car keys. She passes some remote broadcast vans and suddenly stumbles upon several young THUGS, efficiently ripping off TV monitors from the vehicles. Startled, one draws a knife. A moment of tense silence goes by.

*
*
*

HEAD THUG

Bad timing.

APRIL

(gulp)

You're telling me.

April tries to bolt, but the thugs jump her, and none too gently. Struggling, she manages a few healthy screams before the thugs subdue her, covering her mouth. She's now completely at their mercy. And at this height of desperation comes suddenly hurling through the air, smashing the light above them and plunging the area into where only vague shapes can be seen, fighting with uncanny power and speed as POLICE SIRENS approach.

A DAGGER

BLACKNESS

And lying on the ground, much of her face shrouded in darkness, April looks on with both fear and irrepressible curiosity.

The sounds of the STRUGGLE die out, and FOOTSTEPS can be heard retreating into the night. Two squad cars arrive, illuminating the scene with their headlights.

April blinks at the bright lights, but the blinking stops as her eyes turn and see lying and sitting on the ground, slightly beaten and very tied up with coaxial cable. One of them wears an aerial on his head like a stunned Martian.

THE THUGS

The police look down at April, and she up at them with her mouth lolling open in amazement, while nearby, a slowly rises, revealing a pair of masked eyes. The eyes spot a single Sai (Ninja Dagger) on the ground next to April's purse, but so does April, and while the police return their attention to the thugs, she quietly stuffs the Sai into her purse.

10A MANHOLE COVER

10A

(CONTINUED)

10A CONTINUED:

10A

VOICE

Damn.

And as the cover drops over the masked eyes

CUT TO:

11 INT. SEWER - NIGHT

11 where three shadows, long and thin on the sewer wall, move in a line, splashing through shallow water. The shapes are almost human in form. Almost.

But they talk and sound like teenagers.

SHADOW #1

We were awesome, bros! Awesome!

SHADOW #2

(like a sportscaster)

Yes, ladies and gentlemen, major league butt-kicking is back in town!

SHADOW #3

Oh, yeah.

They turn a corner and into full view for the first time:

THE TEENAGE MUTANT NINJA TURTLES

Powerfully built. Heavily armed. Definitely green.

The first is LEONARDO, with blue mask and "katana" (Ninja Swords), the unofficial leader of the group. Disciplined. Calculating. Cool under fire.

Next is MICHAELANGELO, with orange mask and "nunchukus," the happy-go-lucky, rock an' roll, wisecrackin' surf turtle. Slightly chubbier than the others.

The third is DONATELLO, with purple mask and "bo" (Ninja Staff), the intellectual of the group with a knack for fixing things. Introspective. Often soft-spoken, with a distinctly high, but throaty, voice. He views the world with a sense of wonder.

LEONARDO

(pumping fist)

Awesome!

MICHAELANGELO

Right-eous!

(CONTINUED)

11 CONTINUED:

11

DONATELLO

Bossa Nova!

The other turtles turn and look back at him.

DONATELLO

Chevy Nova?

(more looks; he imitates Mike)

Ex-cellent!

Much better. The other Turtles pat him on the back with "All right!"s and a "Gimme three!" as they 'high three' (a Turtle three-finger version of a high five), and continue happily along.

MICHAELANGELO

Come on, let's move it, I'm starvin'.

*

12 INT. THE SEWER AT TURTLES' DEN DOOR - NIGHT

12

They come upon the same boarded-up door seen earlier, which swings open with unexpected ease as they enter.

A fourth shadow, and then turtle, steps into view wearing a red mask. This is RAPHAEL. Mr. Intensity.

He looks at his single Sai, then back down the sewer.

RAPHAEL

Damn.

He, too, then enters

13 INT. DEN - NIGHT

13

a converted storage/maintenance chamber that, for a sewer dwelling, has been made very warm and comfortable. The place is filled with furnishings and items that have been swept down the sewer and "bandaged" together. Donatello has even rigged lighting, a beat up telephone half-booth, an old black and white TV, and a heating source that taps into the visible subterranean steam pipes. A tide mark from earlier flooding accents the walls. A long line of flexible Domino's Pizza "Noid" toys bears testament to the Turtles' favorite foodstuff. And a picture of the Turtles from a photo booth is proudly displayed.

*

*

Leonardo - energized, but trying to control it - rushes TOWARD CAMERA and kneels.

(CONTINUED)

13 CONTINUED:

13

LEONARDO

We have had our first battle, Master Splinter. They were many, but we kicked... we fought well.

THE CAMERA SLOWLY TRACKS AROUND TO REVEAL

SPLINTER

an aging, arthritic rat who stands about four feet high and wears a patched up hapi coat and tabbies on his feet. Exuding the wisdom of his years, his voice is a balm of tranquility, his eyes serene, yet sharp.

And half of his right ear is missing.

SPLINTER

Were you seen?

Leonardo shakes his head "no."

SPLINTER

In this, you must never lapse.
Even those who would be our allies... would not understand.
You must strike hard and fade away. Without a trace.

Donatello flashes the slightest look at Raphael, but this is more than Splinter needs. He turns to Raphael and just waits.

RAPHAEL

(finally bursting)
I lost a Sai.

SPLINTER

Then it is gone.

RAPHAEL

But I can get it back, I can...

SPLINTER

Raphael. Let it go.

Raphael quietly burns while Michaelangelo moves to the phone, fiddling with an errant "Noid" while speaking.

*

(CONTINUED)

13 CONTINUED: (2)

13

SPLINTER
 (addressing them)
 Your Ninja skills are reaching their peak. Only one truly important lesson remains, but must wait. I know it is hard for you here, underground. Your teenage minds are broad, eager. But you must never stop practicing the art of Ninja - the art of invisibility...

MICHAELANGELO
 (in b.g.)
 You got the address?
 (beat)
 All right, good, yeah, okay, I wanna large, thick crust, with double cheese, ham, pepperoni, mushrooms, onion, sausage, green pepper, and no anchovies - I mean, no anchovies. You put anchovies on this thing and you're a dead man, okay? Oh, and...

SPLINTER
 Michaelangelo!

He gives Splinter a little "sorry" smile and quickly finishes.

MICHAELANGELO
 Uh, that'll do.
 (sotto into phone)
 An' the clock's tickin', dude!

He hangs up the phone and rejoins the others.

SPLINTER
 You are still young, but one day I will be gone... Use my teachings wisely.
 (beat)
 I suggest we all meditate now on the events of this evening.

*
*
*
*

Splinter closes his eyes and begins to meditate, but only a few seconds go by before they pop open again to the BLARING party song "Tequila."

He turns and sees Michaelangelo and Donatello dancing near a piecemeal stereo, their frenetic movements putting them in the category of "two wild and crazy turtles." But when the break cadence arrives, the part where everyone stops and says "Tequila," the two turtles stop, point to each other, and in their deepest voices substitute before picking up again. Michaelangelo finally spots Splinter.

MIKE AND DON Nin-jit-su!

(CONTINUED)

13 CONTINUED: (3)

13

MICHAELANGELO
Uh, well, this is "like"...
meditating...

(CONTINUED)

13 CONTINUED: (4)

13

Splinter turns back with a slight roll of his eyes before closing them again. But the hint of a grin on his face belies his knowledge that "boys will be boys."

Leonardo, sitting on a couch and 'dancing' with his upper body, sees Raphael don the standard turtle disguise - trenchcoat and fedora - and head for the door.

LEONARDO
Hey, Raph, where ya goin'?

RAPHAEL
(still peeved)
Out. To a movie. That okay with you?

Leonardo raises his hand as if to say, "Hey, sorry I asked."
And as Raphael exits

CUT TO:

14 INT. CASEY JONES' APARTMENT - NIGHT

14

CLOSE ON - A TV SET and another news report:

JUNE (V.O.)
...grow increasingly frustrated with their inability to stem the rise in crime. The numbers confirm the worst...

The channel flips to a movie with a woman SCREAMING in terror, then flips again to a cop show. SIRENS. GUNSHOTS. The flipping continues, with pieces of the news report interspersed throughout:

JUNE (V.O.)
...commercial break-ins up nearly seven percent, personal assault up four percent, and felony theft up an almost unbelievable seventeen percent. Police spokesmen today could offer no further...

CASEY JONES - mid-twenties, shining long black hair, a stern look on his face - watches it all. He's slumped in an old armchair, lit only by the TV, the walls around him plastered with sports and martial arts posters. Bits of equipment - bats, pads, gloves - are strewn all over.

(CONTINUED)

14 CONTINUED:

14

A hockey mask hangs on the wall.

A HYPNOTIC, DRIVING CHANT begins, slowing increasing in volume like a tribal rhythm building to a climax.

THE CAMERA MOVES IN ON CASEY. His stare is intense. His eyes never blink. The light from the television plays off his face as he flips - more crime - flip - the CHANT grows - flip - more violence - click! - AND THE SOUND CUTS OFF, the TV screen goes blank.

And as a white dot tunnels into the center of the screen

CUT TO:

15 INT. SEWER - NIGHT

15

as Donatello moves down the tunnel, doing some lazy S-curves on his skateboard. He stops and joins Michaelangelo, seated under a grating near a junction in the main sewers. They both stare up at the outside world while moonlight pours down past the grill, casting shadows across them like prison bars.

DONATELLO

Nice night.

MICHAELANGELO

Pizza dude's got thirty seconds.

Donatello takes this in stride.

DONATELLO

(reflecting)

Hey, Mikie, you ever... think about what Splinter said tonight? I mean, about what it would be like... you know... without him?

Michaelangelo lowers his eyes, thinking. A moment of silence goes by, and then:

MICHAELANGELO

Time's up! Three bucks off!

Donatello grins at him, perhaps a little envious, then gives him a pat and takes off on the skateboard, doing lazy S-curves down the tunnel into shadow.

16 EXT. STREET ABOVE GRILL - MINUTES LATER - NIGHT

16 as the PIZZA MAN arrives. He takes out a Domino's pizza box with a slip of paper on it, then steps doubtfully towards the grating while looking for the address.

PIZZA MAN

(thick Brooklenese)

Terrific. Where da heck is one-twenty-two an' an eighth?

MICHAELANGELO (O.S.)

You're standin' on it, dude!

The Pizza Man jumps off the grate and looks down, spooked.

PIZZA MAN

What da...?

The tip of a bill waves enticingly through the grate.

(CONTINUED)

16 CONTINUED:

16

MICHAELANGELO (O.S.)
Just slip it down here.

The Pizza Man moves tentatively. This is weird. He's not even sure he wants to touch the bill, but when he feels the pizza being tugged from his hand, he yanks the bill out and moves quickly away, happy to get the heck out of there.

That is, until he notes the denomination of the bill, at which point all fear vanishes in favor of his full New York righteous indignation.

PIZZA MAN
'Ey! Dis is only a ten! The tab's thirteen!

MICHAELANGELO (O.S.)
You're two minutes late, dude.

PIZZA MAN
(more politely)
You're right, but come on, cut me a break, 'ere, would ya?

MICHAELANGELO (O.S.)
(thick Chinese accent) Wise man say: Forgiveness is divine - but never pay full price for a late pizza!

Michaelangelo's LAUGH fades away down the sewer. The Pizza Man stares for a moment, and then looks down the empty street, shaking his head.

PIZZA MAN
I gotta get a new route...

17 INT. DEN - MINUTES LATER - NIGHT

17 as a spinning pizza is hurled into the air and OUT OF FRAME, accompanied by Michaelangelo's voice doing his best Johnny-Carson-as-Art-Fern impression.

MICHAELANGELO (O.S.)
Yes, friends, the new "Turbo Ginsu"...

Michaelangelo's katana (sword) is seen SWISHING through the air at top speed, followed by pizza segments landing on a table where Leonardo and Donatello are seated.

(CONTINUED)

17 CONTINUED:

17

MICHAELANGELO
It slices, it dices, and, yes, makes french fries three different ways.

His routine complete, Michaelangelo sheathes the "Ginsu" and sits down to his own slice.

MICHAELANGELO Mmmm...

18 EXT. MOVIE THEATER - NIGHT

18

RAPHAEL
... Yuk.

Collar up, hat down, Raphael exits with the rest of the movie crowd. The marquee reads: "E.T. - THE EXTRA-TERRESTRIAL."

RAPHAEL
Where do they come up with this stuff?

As he walks

TWO TEENAGED HOODLUMS approach an old lady, one distracting her while the other yanks her purse away. They take off past who reluctantly sticks out a foot and trips the one with the purse, catching it in midair and tossing it back to the old lady in one fluid motion.

RAPHAEL

Sticking his hand back in his pocket, he glares down at the grounded HOODLUM, who beats a hasty retreat with his cohort across the street to 19 EXT. CENTRAL PARK - NIGHT

19 where they stop to catch their breath.

HOODLUM (panting)
What the hell was that?

As if in answer to the question, Casey Jones drops down on them from an overhanging tree branch.

(CONTINUED)

19 CONTINUED:

19

Wearing a revealing muscle shirt and his hockey mask, and carrying a golf bag on his back filled with clubs, bats, and sticks, it's pretty obvious that he's not there to interest these guys in Amway.

CASEY

That was a crime, you purse-grubbing pukes. And this...

He reaches into his golf bag as if it were a quiver and pulls out a nasty-looking hockey stick.

CASEY

... is the penalty.

He lashes out and knocks one of the hoodlums to the ground.

CASEY

Two minutes for slashing.

He hooks the feet out from under the second hoodlum.

CASEY

Two minutes for hooking. And let's not forget my personal favorite...

He lifts the hockey stick high into the air, ready to deliver a particularly cruel blow.

CASEY

Two minutes for high sticking...!

But before the stick comes down, a double fist pounds Casey in the small of the back, knocking him over.

RAPHAEL

(angry)

How 'bout a five minute "game misconduct" for roughing, pal?

Casey gets up.

CASEY

(re: disguise)

Hey, "Bogie," who died and made you referee? You did your part, now get outta here and let me do mine. These J.V. low-lives need a lesson.

*

(CONTINUED)

19 CONTINUED: (2)

19

RAPHAEL

Not like that, they don't. Not from you.

The hoodlums, in the meantime, have inched away from the smoldering standoff and finally run. Casey sees them get away.

CASEY

(to Raphael; seething)

Looks like you're the one who needs the lesson.

(beat)

The class is Pain 101. Your instructor: Casey Jones...

He slowly reaches back into his golf bag.

RAPHAEL

Look, I don't wanna fight you...

CASEY

(ignoring him)

Tough rocks, "pal"..

Casey produces two carved bats and begins swinging them at Raphael, who jumps and ducks the weapons with ease.

RAPHAEL

Baseball, huh? Now that's my game.

He grabs one of the bats and effortlessly stops it, reading the label while ducking under the other bat.

RAPHAEL

A "Wade Boggs" bat? Tell me you didn't pay money for this. *

The other bat strikes Raphael on the back, knocking him down.

CASEY

It was a two-for-one-sale.

Raphael's hat has been knocked off in the fall, and Casey can now make out some odd features in the dim light.

CASEY

Hey, what are you, some sort of punker? I hate punkers. Especially bald ones in green makeup. Who wear masks. Over ugly faces...

(CONTINUED)

19 CONTINUED: (3)

19

Raphael is really steaming now. He grabs the bat he fell with and leaps to his feet.

RAPHAEL
New batter.

He swings at Casey and misses.

CASEY
Stee-rike one!
(another miss) Whiffer!

Boiling, Raphael executes a perfect Ninja flip over Casey, swinging and knocking him silly.

RAPHAEL
Home run.

He puts his foot on the back of the dazed vigilante.

RAPHAEL
Raphael wins, one-nothing.

Casey rolls out from under Raphael's foot and springs to his feet, removing a cricket bat from his bag.

CASEY
New game, Round Head. Cricket.

RAPHAEL
Cricket? Nobody understands cricket. You gotta know what a "crumpet" is to understand cricket.

CASEY
I'll teach you...

He swings, knocking Raphael into a wire mesh trash can.

CASEY
See? That's six runs!

Raphael is stuck in the barrel.

CASEY
So long, freak! I've got work to do.

Casey takes off while Raphael struggles to free himself. He finally pops out, angrier than ever, and chases after the departing Casey, who runs out of the park.

*
*

19A EXT. NEW YORK STREET NEAR MOVIE THEATRE - NIGHT 19A

as Raphael continues after Casey. The angry Turtle vaults over the hood of a taxicab, which screeches to a halt. *

19B INT. TAXICAB - NIGHT 19B *

PASSENGER
What the heck was that? *

N.Y. CABBIE
Looked sorta like a big toitle in a trenchcoat. *
(over shoulder; *
unphased) *
Yer goin' to LaGuardia, right? *

19C EXT. NEW YORK STREET - NIGHT 19C *

as Casey disappears through a cloud of STEAM pouring up through a drain. Raphael follows at full speed, but that was a mistake, for Casey has reversed direction and greets him with a fist to the face, knocking the Turtle flat on his shell. *

CASEY
I know how you punkers enjoy pain.
No need to thank me.

Raphael suddenly sweeps Casey's feet out from under him, deftly swinging on top and putting a strangle hold on him.

RAPHAEL
Now who's the champ, pal? Huh?

CASEY (choking)
Okay, okay... you're the champ...
freak...

Raphael tightens his grip and begins doing Mr. Rogers.

RAPHAEL
The name's Raphael. Can you say
"Raphael?"

CASEY
(last bit of air)
Raphael.

RAPHAEL
I knew you could.

Raphael gets off of Casey, who lies there gasping.

(CONTINUED)

19C CONTINUED:

19C

CASEY
Man... you're crazy...

Casey gets up and begins moving away from Raphael.

RAPHAEL
I'm crazy?

CASEY (hastening away)
Yeah - and dangerous.

RAPHAEL
I'm dangerous? I'm dangerous!?

And as Raphael stands there for a moment, thinking over a new implication in his words and then throwing a trash barrel after Casey in frustration

CUT TO:

20 INT. DEN - LATER - NIGHT

20 as Raphael quietly enters the darkened lair to the sound of SNORING. He shuts the door slowly, but it CREAKS anyway.

RAPHAEL (to the door)
Shh...

Closing it, he turns to go to his room. But a match flames to life, illuminating the face of Splinter as he sits in his chair, and Raphael stops dead in his tracks.

SPLINTER
Raphael, come sit by me.

RAPHAEL (caught)
Could this wait 'til morning?

SPLINTER (firmly)
You will listen now.

Raphael moves over and sits at Splinter's feet as he lights a candle.

SPLINTER
My Master Yoshi's first rule was,
"Posses the right thinking. Only then can one receive the gifts of strength, knowledge, and peace."
(deep breath)
I have tried to channel your anger, Raphael, but more remains.
Anger clouds the mind. Turned inward, it is an unconquerable enemy. You are unique among your brothers, for you choose to face this enemy alone. But as you face it, do not forget them. And do not forget me.

Splinter gently lays his hand on top of Raphael's head.

SPLINTER
I am here, my son.

And as Raphael looks up with eyes glistening

CUT TO:

21 OMITTED

21

22 INT. APRIL'S APARTMENT - MORNING

22 where DANNY PENNINGTON, thirteen-year-old son of April's boss, sits reading a comic book from April's collection with a pair of stereo headphones resting on his neck. He appears sullen.

His father, CHARLES PENNINGTON - late forties, well-dressed, a little stiff - converses with April, who is getting ready for work in the bathroom.

CHARLES

Well, you could've called me last night, you know. Call it a quirk, but I like to know when one of my best reporters has been mugged.

APRIL

I wasn't "mugged," Charles. Besides, I knew you'd just worry and rush over here like this morning.

CHARLES

(an order)

From now on, security's escorting you out to that stone age "van" of yours at night.

*
*
*

April makes a few rapid, playfully serious salutes.

APRIL

Yes, sir.

While they continue to talk, Danny finishes his comic book, eyes April's purse on a table, removes the wallet and some cash, replaces the wallet, and then picks up another comic book.

Charles sighs and looks out a window, waxing rhetorical.

CHARLES

Just what's going on out there, April? It's getting so you can't even step outside in the daytime anymore.

APRIL

Well, I'll tell you this, after all the stuff I've been hearing out of Little Tokyo, Sterns is gonna have some answering to do this afternoon.

(CONTINUED)

22 CONTINUED:

22

CHARLES
(a knowing groan)
Just take it easy, huh? He's already got the mayor breathing down my neck.

APRIL (to Danny; changing the subject)
How's school going, Danny?

Danny opens his mouth to answer, but Charles does it for him, much to his son's chagrin.

CHARLES (disgusted)
Oh. Wonderful. So wonderful, in fact, that I have to drive him there every morning now just to make sure he goes.

Danny, tight-lipped, places the headphones over his ears and returns to the comic book.

CHARLES
That's what he does when he wants to ignore me - sticks his head in those things. I'd like to know where the hell he got those, anyway.

CUT TO:

A QUICK-CUT SERIES OF SHOTS

23 INT. HOME ELECTRONICS STORE - DAY

23

A rack of stereo headphones like the ones Danny was wearing is on display for passersby. A potential customer tries one on just as:

A NINJA DUST BOMB EXPLODES, obscuring the area in a white cloud until a breeze starts clearing it away and:

THE RACK IS EMPTY. The customer is left wearing a set of head-phones that are no longer attached to anything.

*

24 EXT. FREEWAY TUNNEL - DAY 24

A long tractor-trailer rig pulls into the tunnel as:

INSIDE THE TRUCK, the burly driver hears an unusual THUNK, looks up, then shrugs it off before:

THE TRUCK EXITS THE TUNNEL, and the driver is now a thin teenager dressed in black.

25 EXT. JEWELER'S - DAY 25

An older teenager comes out of a back door and hands off a velvet jeweler's bag to a much younger teenager, who moves swiftly away.

25A EXT. BACK ALLEY - DAY 25A

A GROUP OF BIKERS, hanging out. The boy looks behind him, but another thug is now there, looking very interested in the velvet bag. The boy then spots a broom handle leaning against the wall, and as his small hand grasps it: *

THE BOY EXITS TO THE STREET, and behind him, around the corner in the alley, a group of dazed bikers wonder what just hit them. *

CUT TO:

26 OMITTED 26

27 INT. HALLWAY - CITY HALL - DAY 27

where POLICE CHIEF STERNS, a well-fed man in his fifties, sweats under the lights of the Channel Six Action News camera.

CHIEF STERNS

No, I wouldn't say that at all.
We are presently executing a plan of redeployment that will minimize response time by maximizing coordination between patrol units in a decentralized networking scheme.

THE SHOT WIDENS TO INCLUDE APRIL AND HER CREW, all with various quizzical looks on their faces.

(CONTINUED)

27 CONTINUED:

27

APRIL

Uh, I'm not sure I understood all that, Chief Sterns. Would you mind repeating it?

(sweetly)

In English, perhaps?

(CONTINUED)

27 CONTINUED:

27

CHIEF STERNS
 (as to a child)
 It means we have everything well in hand, Miss O'Neil.

APRIL
 Ah. Then you know who's behind these crimes.

CHIEF STERNS
 Well, no... I didn't say that...

28 INT. DEN - DAY

28

where Donatello stands in front of the old black and white TV set, watching a picture of April and Chief Sterns fade up onto the screen.

DONATELLO
 Hey, guys, look!

LEONARDO
 That's her!

MICHAELANGELO
 (star struck)
 I'm in luv.

APRIL (V.O.)
 Then you know why the crimes have been escalating recently.

CHIEF STERNS (V.O.)
 (getting irritated)
 No, I didn't say that, either, Miss O'Neil.
 Maybe if you'd stick to asking questions there'd be less confusion.

APRIL (V.O.)
 Fine, Chief...

29 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - DAY

29 where April and Sterns now appear on a patchwork wall of TV monitors in all shapes and sizes.

APRIL (V.O.)
 ... what do you know about an organization called the Foot Clan?

CHIEF STERNS (V.O.)
 (suddenly squirming)
 There is... no evidence to link such a name to these incidents.

THE CAMERA PULLS BACK TO REVEAL A SILHOUETTED MAN seated in front of the wall of monitors, watching.

(CONTINUED)

29 CONTINUED:

29

APRIL (V.O.)
Then are you denying that an organization called "The Foot" exists?

With the smallest of effort, the Silhouetted Man hurls a small Ninja dagger at the on-screen image of April, hitting her right between the eyes as it sticks to one of the screens.

And during the following, he beckons another SILHOUETTED FIGURE to his side, issuing some terse commands in Japanese.

CHIEF STERNS (V.O.)
I'm not "denying" anything.
Again, Miss O'Neil, you're putting words in my mouth.

The on-screen picture now shows the Chief with the dagger in his mouth.

APRIL (V.O.)
I'm sorry, Chief, but it often seems that somebody ought to.

CHIEF STERNS (V.O.)
(that does it)
If you'll excuse me, I have more important matters to deal with.

30 INT. DEN - DAY

30 as the Turtles watch Sterns retreat to his office, and April turn towards the camera:

APRIL (V.O.)
We can only hope that one of them has to do with solving these crimes.

MICHAELANGELO
She's great!

Raphael is also staring at the screen, fingering his single Sai.
His eyes widen slightly at the next few words.

APRIL (V.O.)
Live from City Hall, this is April O'Neil.

Grabbing his disguise, Raphael heads for the door.

31 INT. CITY HALL HALLWAY - DAY

31 as April and the crew pack up.

CHIEF STERNS (O.S.)
(through his door)
O'Neil!

April hands her earpiece to a TECHNICIAN with a grin.

APRIL
Time me.

She opens the door and enters. And while the door closes behind her passes by further up the hall, in handcuffs, escorted by two policemen.

DANNY PENNINGTON

32 INT. CHIEF STERNS' OFFICE - DAY and his true colors are showing. Mostly red.

32

CHIEF STERNS
Just what is it you hoped to accomplish out there besides busting my chops!?

APRIL
I think you've heard as much about this Foot Clan as I have, and I don't think you're doing anything about it.

CHIEF STERNS
You expect me to waste precious manpower because a few immigrants are reminded of something that 'supposedly' happened years ago?
In Japan?

APRIL
Have you got something else?

CHIEF STERNS
(rising; fuming)
Are you trying to tell me how to do my job!?

And as April's mouth comes open...

33 INT. HALLWAY - DAY

33

Chief Stern's door SLAMS loudly behind April. The Technician checks his watch.

TECHNICIAN
One-oh-seven. It's a new record.

CUT TO:

34 EXT. CITY HALL - EARLY EVENING

34 as April comes marching down the steps and heads for the subway. Detaching himself from a support column, Raphael, in disguise, begins following her.

35 INT. SUBWAY STATION - EARLY EVENING

35 as April hurries down the stairs and gets to the platform just as the train pulls away. Frustrated, alone, out of breath, she turns, never having heard the silent approach of who now confront her. They are dressed in full black dogi (Ninja jumpsuits) and hoods. Only their eyes are visible.

THE FOOT

FOOT MESSENGER
(Japanese accent)
We've been looking for you, Miss O'Neil.

APRIL (bravely)
What, am I behind on my Sony payments again?

FOOT MESSENGER
Your mouth may yet bring you much trouble, Miss O'Neil. I deliver a message.

He slowly extends a clenched fist and holds it under April's nose. But when the fingers uncurl, the palm is empty, and before April can react she receives two hard slaps on each side of her face.

FOOT MESSENGER
Shut it!

(CONTINUED)

35 CONTINUED:

35

Staggered, April reaches into her purse for the Sai (Ninja Dagger) she found earlier, but it's knocked away before she can use it.

The Foot then begin to get rough, but April has had enough of all this, and the sounds of her struggle build to:

APRIL

All right, that's it...!

She lashes out with her purse and connects solidly with several Foot noggins before they finally overpower her. And after the Foot Messenger, himself a victim of the purse, knocks April unconscious is seen picking up the loose Sai - and RAPHAEL is back at full strength.

A GREEN, THREE-FINGERED HAND

He turns and springs upon the Foot with both daggers. And though they outnumber him by a good margin, Raphael fights like a cyclone, clearing enough space to bend down and pick April up, then head for the edge of the platform.

A train is coming. But with no where else to go, Raphael jumps down and begins crossing the hot tracks. The Foot look on, hoping for the worst. The train pulls in and whips by, but have made it to the other side. When the train passes, Raphael turns and looks back at the platform. The Foot have vanished. But as he begins to carry April up the dark tunnel

RAPHAEL AND APRIL

A SINGLE FOOT

appears from behind a column. And as he jumps off the platform, following Raphael into the tunnel

CUT TO:

36 INT. SEWER AT DEN DOOR - LATER - EVENING

36 as Raphael carries April in his arms. He stops a moment and looks back as if he has heard a strange noise, but nothing is there.

37 INT. DEN - EVENING

37

as Raphael enters and lays April down on a couch.

(CONTINUED)

37 CONTINUED:

37

The other Turtles stop what they're doing. They stand and stare in disbelief. Then:

LEONARDO

Are you crazy?

RAPHAEL

(confused; defensive)

Yeah, Leo, I'm crazy, okay? A loonie - okay?

(CONTINUED)

37 CONTINUED:

37

Michaelangelo steps over to the couch and stares, mesmerized.

LEONARDO

Why?

RAPHAEL

(heavy sarcasm)

Why? Why? Oh, I don't know, 'cuz I wanted to redecorate - you know, a couple a' throw pillows, a TV news reporter - what d'you think?

Splinter enters. The Turtles freeze.

SPLINTER

Raphael?

RAPHAEL

She got jumped in the subway -I had to bring her here.

DONATELLO

It's the newslady!

Michaelangelo finally looks up.

MICHAELANGELO

Can we keep her?

Splinter walks over to the couch, followed by four pairs of anxious Turtle eyes. But they are not the only ones watching, for behind high in a corner of the room, two more eyes stare out, then disappear into the darkness.

37A A SMALL VENT

37A

SPLINTER

Herb jar. Cold washcloth.
Pillow.

Each of these requests has been directed at a different Turtle, and they all gladly spring into action. Splinter sits down next to April. She begins to come around. Her eyelids lift just a crack, then fly wide open.

APRIL'S P.O.V. - SPLINTER

looming over her like every exterminator's worst nightmare.

(CONTINUED)

37A CONTINUED:

37A *

BACK TO SCENE

APRIL Ahhhhhhhhh...!!

Leonardo drops the herb jar, and Donatello jumps about three feet into the air. At the same time, April scrambles to her feet on the couch and assumes the same, classic, arms-retracted pose seen earlier by the dumpster. But when she sees how ridiculous this is, given Splinter's size, she stops screaming and even makes a slight gesture of, "Like this is gonna do me a lot of good."

Her repose is only momentary, however, before:

MICHAELANGELO
(tentatively) Hi...?

She turns and sees him standing right next to the couch.

APRIL Ahhhhhhhhh...!!

MICHAELANGELO
(scared to death) Agggghhhhhh...!!

The screaming stops in favor of babbling.

APRIL
Omigod, omigod, I'm dead, I'm dead, aren't I? No. No, I'm dreaming. I must be dreaming.
(working it out)
Those guys in the black pajamas hit me, I'm unconscious, I saw that rat before - that explains you - and you guys... I have no idea where you guys came from.

SPLINTER
(very soothing)
If you will please just sit down and calm yourself, I will tell you where we came from.

APRIL
It talks...

Splinter gently offers his hand and April absently takes it, sinking back down onto the couch.

(CONTINUED)

37A CONTINUED: (2)

37A

SPLINTER

It's really quite simple, Miss O'Neil...

APRIL

And it knows my name. Perfect...

SPLINTER

Fifteen years ago...

APRIL

(to herself)

Why don't I ever dream of Harrison Ford?

SPLINTER

(starting again)

For fifteen years now we have lived here. Before that time, I was a pet of my Master Yoshi, mimicking his movements from my cage and learning the secret art of Ninja. When we were forced to come to New York...

As Splinter spins the tale, we see what he describes in a series of isolated images in high contrast black and white, with one occasionally hand-tinted or in slow motion to enhance the visual.

FLASHBACK

38 INT. BLACK LIMBO

38 *

SPLINTER (V.O.)

... I found myself for the first time without a home - without a family - wandering the streets and sewers, scavenging for whatever I could find.

Splinter, as a normal sized rat, forages for food.

39 INT. BLACK LIMBO

39 *

And then, one day, I saw an old blind man crossing the street, unaware of the truck barreling down upon him.

The legs and cane of a blind man walk along. A truck approaches head-on at high speed. (Real)

(CONTINUED)

39 CONTINUED:

39

A young man dove and pushed him out of the way, but not before the truck had violently swerved, casting a metal cannister out its back.

The arms of a young man dive at the legs of the blind man.

A driver's hands turn the steering wheel of the truck. *
*
*

The metal cannister hits the young man in the head by his eyes.

39A INT. BLACK LIMBO

39A

The strange cannister bounced several times before striking a glass jar held by an onlooker's little boy - a jar containing four baby turtles!

The cannister bounces. The cannister strikes a glass jar with four baby turtles in it, held by a small boy.

40 INT. BLACK LIMBO

40

MICHAELANGELO
That was us!

RAPHAEL/LEONARDO/DONATELLO Shh!

SPLINTER
(continuing)
The little ones fell into a manhole, followed by the cannister...

FLASHBACK RESUMES WITH:

41 INT. BLACK LIMBO

41

SPLINTER (V.O.)
... which smashed open, covering them in a glowing ooze, with the broken cannister nearby.

The baby turtles crawl around in a glowing ooze.

(CONTINUED)

41 CONTINUED:

41

I gathered them up in an old coffee can...

Splinter herds the turtles into an old coffee can.

42 INT. BLACK LIMBO

42

...and when I awoke the next morning, the can was tipped over - for they had doubled in size!

Splinter reacts to the sight of a turtle shell moving through f.g. - doubled in size.

I, too, was growing,
particularly in intellect, though my body growth never matched theirs.

43 INT. BLACK LIMBO

43 *

And soon, they began to stand upright, copying my every movement.

A baby turtle stands up and tries to walk, staggering forward a few steps.

I was amazed at how intelligent they seemed!
But nothing could prepare me for what happened next:
One of them spoke!

Baby Michaelangelo happily gnaws on a piece of pizza.

BABY MICHAELANGELO (V.O.)
Pee-sah, pee-sah...

44 INT. BLACK LIMBO

44 *

SPLINTER (V.O.)
More words followed, and I began their training, teaching them all that I had learned from my Master Yoshi.

The four baby turtles (Overlaid) speak in gibberish.

And with a battered copy of a Renaissance art book that I had found in a storm drain,
I gave them all names...

A Renaissance art book is seen.

45 INT. DEN - EVENING - BACK TO SCENE

45 and a view of each Turtle.

SPLINTER
... Leonardo...

Straightening his back, smiling proudly.

SPLINTER
... Michaelangelo...

Anxiously pointing to himself for April's benefit.

SPLINTER
... Donatello...

A bit embarrassed.

SPLINTER
... and Raphael.

Nonchalantly picking his teeth with a Sai.

The story complete, Splinter and the Turtles look to April, who sits spellbound on the couch.

(CONTINUED)

45 CONTINUED:

45

It takes her a while to work up the courage to say something. She swallows long and hard, her face pouting into an expression of "Please tell me I'm wrong":

APRIL
I'm not dreaming, am I?

CUT TO:

46 INT. SEWER - LATER - NIGHT

46 as the Turtles lead a still very shaky April through the maze of tunnels.

APRIL
You guys sure you know where you're going?

MICHAELANGELO
11th and Bleeker?
(sniffing)
Mmm, nope - this is only ninth street.

*

*

He looks back at April with a smile, trying to put her at ease, but she's in no mood for jocularly.

MICHAELANGELO
(turning back)
Ooooo-kay...

47 EXT. STREET CORNER - NIGHT

47 where a sign indicates "11th and Bleeker." A manhole cover in the street wiggles, then opens.

*

48 INT. SEWER - NIGHT

48

DONATELLO
(from top of ladder)
Yep, this is it.

Donatello steps out and helps April up to

49 EXT. STREET LEVEL - NIGHT

49 where an awkward moment goes by, as she has no idea what to say.

(CONTINUED)

49 CONTINUED:

49

APRIL

Well... uh... I'd invite you all in, but... the place is a mess...

MICHAELANGELO (O.S.)

(below)

That's okay!

APRIL

Well... and I really don't have... anything to offer you. Except frozen pizza.

A GREEN FLASH, and suddenly Michaelangelo is standing next to Donatello.

MICHAELANGELO

Let's go for it!

DONATELLO

(apologetically)

You said the magic word.

APRIL

You guys eat pizza?

MICHAELANGELO

Doesn't everybody?

APRIL

Well... yeah, but...

(gives up)

All right.

Leonardo and Raphael join the others on the street as they head for April's apartment.

APRIL

(making conversation)

So... what do you guys... like on your pizza?

MICHAELANGELO

Just the regular stuff - flies, stinkbugs...

April stops in horror.

MICHAELANGELO

It was a joke.

And as April releases a nervous, machine gun laugh

DISSOLVE TO:

50 INT. APRIL'S APARTMENT - LATER - NIGHT

50

as April's LAUGH becomes relaxed and sincere. Surrounded by mostly-eaten pizza remains, she and the other Turtles are enjoying Michaelangelo's floor show. Right now it's Stallone-as-Rocky, complete with lip curl.

MICHAELANGELO

'Ey, yo, wuh maybe I'll fight Apollo, an' maybe I won't. What d'you think - Adriaaaaaan!

April roars.

MICHAELANGELO

Wait, wait, I got another one...

RAPHAEL

Oh, no - not Cagney...

MICHAELANGELO

Mm, you dirty rat. You killed my brother. You dirty rat.

APRIL

Ooo, that must be Splinter's favorite!

She laughs again, but the Turtles hesitate. Did she just make a...?

APRIL

It was a joke.

The Turtles now join in, realizing that they have just made their first human friend.

LEONARDO

And speaking of which, we better get going. He worries.

MICHAELANGELO/DONATELLO

Awwwwwww...

They gather and open the door.

APRIL

Well... I don't know what to say.
Will I ever... see you guys again?

LEONARDO

That depends on how fast you restock your pizza.

(CONTINUED)

50 CONTINUED:

50

APRIL

Deal!

They say their good-byes, and April closes the door, turning and leaning against it.

And as she shakes her head in amazement and wonder

CUT TO:

51 INT. SEWER AT TURTLES' DEN DOOR - LATER - NIGHT

51 as the Turtles approach the boarded up door from the outside. The door seems more broken up than usual.

LEONARDO (O.S.)

No doubt about it. She loved us.

MICHAELANGELO (O.S.)

It was the impressions.

DONATELLO (O.S.)

Dream on!

LEONARDO (O.S.)

(suddenly serious)

Hold it!

51A INT. TURTLES' DEN - NIGHT

51A

The door CREAKS slowly open, and the Turtles enter the room cautiously. Their mouths drop open.

The den has been smashed. Wrecked. There are signs of a struggle.

But no sign of Splinter.

Raphael rushes over to Splinter's empty chair, where a trail of blood begins. He takes a moment to absorb this, and then his body literally begins to shake, building until he can no longer hold it in:

RAPHAEL

(sheer anguish)

Aghhhhhhhhhh...!

52 EXT. A STREET - NIGHT 52

as a passerby reacts with a shiver to the diminished sound of the SCREAM coming from a nearby sewer grate.

DISSOLVE TO:

53 INT. APRIL'S APARTMENT - LATER - NIGHT 53

as her door swings open, almost echoing the scream, and April looks into four very morbid faces.

APRIL
(quietly)
What's wrong?

LEONARDO
(beat) Splinter...

And as Donatello, looking particularly lost, heaves a deep, shuddering sigh

CUT TO:

54 INT. CHIEF STERN'S OFFICE - THAT NIGHT 54

as the Chief looks over an arrest report at his desk with the photo of a young boy. The name typed at the top of the page reads: "Pennington, Daniel B."

Sterns is grinning like the cat who just ate the canary.

He picks up his phone, dials a number from the arrest report, leans back in his chair, and puts his feet on the desk.

CHARLES (V.O.)
(on phone) Hello?

CHIEF STERNS
Hello. "Charles" Pennington?

CUT TO:

55 INT. APRIL'S APARTMENT - THE NEXT MORNING 55 with April and the Turtles strewn out in varying degrees, and in various postures, of exhaustion. It's obviously been a very long night.

(CONTINUED)

55 CONTINUED:

55

But a KNOCK at the door quickly jumpstarts them all to life, filling the room with instant tension. April clears her throat and tries to sound normal.

APRIL
Who is it?

CHARLES (O.S.)
It's me. Charles.

APRIL (whispering)
It's my boss...!
(looking at door)
... Jeez! Can you guys...!

She turns back to face the Turtles, but they are already gone.

APRIL
... hide...?

She gets up and throws on a robe, pulling the hair off her face just before opening the door.

APRIL
Charles. What's up?

He walks past her into the room, not even noticing her appearance - in fact, avoiding eye contact altogether. He wears a worn, harried look, and as Danny meanders into the apartment after him, we have a pretty good idea of why Charles is here.

CHARLES
April, listen, I've uh... been thinking, you know, you've, uh... been working awful hard on this story lately. Maybe you should take it easy for a while. Let... somebody else handle it - you know, just for a little while.

APRIL
Charles, what are you talking about? This is my story. No way.

While Danny continues to meander, absently examining loose objects, Charles finally notices April's appearance.

CHARLES
I mean, look at you. You're exhausted.

(CONTINUED)

APRIL (heads for bathroom)
I just had a rough night.

She starts to wash her face and Charles follows.

And while they talk, Danny looks up into a mirror and sees Michaelangelo, unaware of the boy's presence, peeking out in the direction of April's voice from behind a piece of furniture! He freezes, almost as startled as Danny, who turns toward the bathroom with his mouth open as if to say something, then instinctively turns back to the mirror to double check. And sure enough, this time, the mirror is empty.

CHARLES (O.S.)
Well, at least let someone help you with... I don't know, with... covering City Hall.

APRIL (O.S.)
Charles, that's ridiculous.
What's with you today?

CHARLES (O.S.)
Nothing's "with me today." I just thought you might like a little help, that's all.

APRIL (O.S.)
Well, I don't.

April finishes washing her face.

APRIL
Besides, I think Sterns likes me.

Charles reacts to the irony while April feels around for a towel.

APRIL
Hand me a towel, will you?

Charles looks, but can't find one.

CHARLES
Where do you...?

He puts his hand on the edge of the shower curtain to check behind it, and April catches a glimpse of a Turtle shell on the opposite side.

APRIL
Charles, no...!

(CONTINUED)

55 CONTINUED: (3)

55

Too late. The curtain flies open and...!

Nothing. Just an empty tub.

CHARLES
What's wrong?

(CONTINUED)

55 CONTINUED: (3)

55

APRIL (hurrying over) Wrong? Well... now you've gone and seen my unsightly bathtub ring!

Now next to the tub, April can see Donatello plastered to a corner of the ceiling. She whips the curtain closed again.

APRIL
Out, out, out-out-out...

She ushers a slightly bewildered Charles from the bathroom and back to the living room towards the door.

APRIL
I have to get ready for work...

CHARLES
Sure you won't reconsider about some help?

April speaks to Danny, who is still checking behind the piece of furniture where he spotted Michaelangelo.

APRIL
Hey, Danny, tell your Dad to relax.

DANNY (smart aleck)
I wish.

He heads out the door past Charles, who shoots him a look before adding one last thing to April:

CHARLES
Just... don't push any buttons today, okay?

He exits and closes the door behind him. April stares at it with her eyebrows knit: This wasn't like Charles. A moment goes by.

MICHAELANGELO (O.S.)
That was close.

April jumps, startled by Michaelangelo, who now stands right next to her.

MICHAELANGELO
(an admonishment)
Time to switch to decaf, April.

CUT TO:

56 INT. CAR - MINUTES LATER - MORNING

56 as Charles vents some of his frustration on Danny.

CHARLES

I just don't get it, Danny. I make enough money to provide for more than the both of us, and you're out stealing. Why?

DANNY

I don't know.

CHARLES

You don't know. What the hell were you going to do with a car stereo anyway, or don't you know that, either?

DANNY

Sorry.

CHARLES

Sorry. Not as sorry as you're going to be after school.

*

Charles pulls up to a red light and stops. Without a word, Danny jerks open his door and takes off at a run.

CHARLES

Danny! Danny...! Dammit...

He yanks the passenger door closed and, from the left lane...

57 EXT. STREET - MORNING

57

Charles pulls into the intersection to make a right turn after Danny. Cars swerve and HORNS blare, catching the attention of a COP, as Danny ducks between buildings, out of sight.

Charles accelerates to the curb where he last saw Danny, but the Cop is already behind him, and Danny is nowhere to be seen.

58 INT. CAR - MORNING

58 as Charles rolls down his window.

COP

(already out of his car and writing the ticket)
License and registration, Mario.

(CONTINUED)

58 CONTINUED:

58

CHARLES

Look, Officer, I was just trying to catch my son...

COP

(still writing)

Mm, not bad, not bad. But I always recommend sticking to the basics: My wife's having a baby; my hair was on fire...

And as Charles pounds the steering wheel with his palms

CUT TO:

59 EXT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - DUSK - ESTABLISHING large, unobtrusive, silent. TWO TEENAGERS enter, one a "regular," the other a new recruit.

59

60 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - DUSK

60 and a CACOPHONY of sights and sounds straight out of a teenager's wildest dreams.

What Pinnochio's "Pleasure Island" was to children, this place is to the hoard of young adolescent males milling about: Outcasts, vandals, urchins - the dregs of urbanization. But they don't care. They're having a great time. Skateboarding. Shouting. Hanging out around a pirated Coke machine. They're all laughing, smoking, drinking, gambling, and playing games. Video games. Card games. Knife games.

*
*

Through a side door, the Head Thug, seen earlier in the Channel Six parking lot, leads two younger and dirtier teens inside, introducing them to the action as they look about like they've just died and gone to heaven:

*
*

Here, a fourteen-year-old choking on a cigar; there, a sixteen-year-old being paid off for a trick pool shot.

HEAD THUG

Check it out. Anything you want, we got it. Anything you wanna do - do it. Anything.

*
*
*
*

RECRUIT

You got any cigarettes?

*
*

The Head Thug reaches into a nearby cardboard box and removes two whole cartons of cigarettes.

*
*

(CONTINUED)

60 CONTINUED:

60

HEAD THUG
(so casual)
Regular or menthol?

*
*
*

About them, the warehouse continues to buzz.

*

It's everything - anything - anyone was ever told while growing up: "You can't do that!"

AN ADULT

passes by in the f.g., incongruous not only for his age, but for the glowering disposition that continually molds his broad, bulldogish features.

Wearing a harshly-cut black dogi with a small dragon emblem, TATSU stops to survey the scene before him.

(CONTINUED)

60 CONTINUED: (2)

60

Registering neither approval nor disapproval, he continues on his way, but is bumped into by a fragile-looking boy who wasn't watching where he was partying. He turns and looks up at Tatsu, who could probably expend less energy breaking the boy in half than tying his shoes.

A moment goes by. Then Tatsu, straining, forces what will probably be as close as he ever gets to a smile.

TATSU

Go. Play.

They're really closer to grunts than words, but accompanied by a small gesture of the hands, the boy gets the message. He smiles and rejoins the fun.

Tatsu then continues

61 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - PAST CONTRABAND - DUSK

61 *

for "Pleasure Island" is only part of this warehouse, littered with high irregular piles of contraband. Anything that can be pocketed, carried, or driven is here, boxed and unboxed. Some of it is covered by old camouflage netting and drapes, which also adorn the walls.

Tatsu then crosses

*

61A INT. WAREHOUSE - SHREDDER'S - CATWALK - DUSK which connects the two elevated side levels of the warehouse.

61A *

He then enters

*

62 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - ANOTHER AREA (2) - DUSK

62 *

a "Fagin's Lair," different from the first area - more like a Ninja playground. There are bars, ropes, ladders, hoops, and tunnels set up to improve the speed and stealth of the practicing teens, still dressed in street clothes, but with uniform belts and headbands.

Smaller in number and quieter than in the first area, the adolescents here still seem to be enjoying themselves, treating their training like so many games.

As Tatsu approaches, an older teen dressed in a similar black dogi - an instructor - starts his stopwatch and gives a hand cue to a number of teens to begin climbing their ropes.

(CONTINUED)

62 CONTINUED:

62

They ascend at almost unbelievable speed and come down even faster, the watch stopping when the last foot touches the ground. The instructor then shows the time to Tatsu, who reacts with a slight shake of his head and a guttural:

TATSU

Unh.

(CONTINUED)

62 CONTINUED: (2)

62

Not fast enough. He moves on to a classic "pickpocket's dummy" covered with a number of bells. The dummy is surrounded by a group of eager teenagers and their older instructor, who starts his watch after throwing a Ninja dust bomb at the dummy's feet. The boys rush in, disappearing in the smoke, and when it clears, the dummy has been stripped of its bells - and without a sound!

Tatsu moves in to inspect while the boys return from behind a partition. Turning the dummy and lifting an arm, he finds a single bell remaining. He takes it off and DINGS it in front of them:

TATSU

Unh.

Obviously, it's much harder to get Tatsu's approval on this side of the warehouse. He tosses the bell to the instructor and then continues on into

*
*
*

63 OMITTED

63 *

64 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - A THIRD AREA - DUSK

64 *

and this one is all business. No laughter, no games - only a group of older teens in black dragon dogis who surround a large mat.

In the center of the mat, two of the youth are fighting. They chop and kick at one another, but this is not play. They are really hitting each other. Hard.

The taller and more muscular of the two is clearly the superior fighter. He soon levels his opponent, who lays stunned on the mat.

Tatsu steps up with a grunt of approval:

TATSU

Mm...

Keeping his eyes on the TALL TEEN, he motions for the fallen boy to be removed from the mat. When the body is dragged away, Tatsu takes up a ready position.

Then, without warning, he lashes out at the Tall Teen, expelling a short scream with each movement:

TATSU

Hai...! Hai...! Hai...! Hai...!

(CONTINUED)

64 CONTINUED:

64

But the Tall Teen is equal to the task, handily blocking each thrust in turn. Tatsu ceases, stepping back, with even more approval in his grunt:

TATSU

Mmmmm...

He bows to the Tall Teen, who smiles for the first time and returns the gesture, but at the instant when he lowers his eyes, Tatsu uppercuts him right in the face, bowling him over onto his back.

Another instant, and Tatsu is on top of him, one knee on his chest and a blade under his throat, pressing hard.

And as the teen looks up in terror, Tatsu finally speaks his first complete sentence:

TATSU

(fiercely)

Never... lower your eyes to an enemy.

TALL TEEN

(shaking)

Yes... Master Tatsu.

A tense moment goes by before Tatsu lets up. He stands and reconceals his weapon just as:

A DULL TONE SOUNDS

repeating slowly and drawing Tatsu away. The other teens stand and also begin to disperse.

And as the Tall Teen fingers his throat, finding a trickle of blood there as teenagers from every nook and cranny begin to gather at the two long railings which run the full length of the warehouse, and overlook the ground floor.

64A HIGH ANGLE

64A

The DULL TONE continues to beckon.

SERIES OF SHOTS AS:

They come from

64B THE GAME AREA.

64B *

They come from

64C THE NINJA PLAYGROUND AREA.

64C *

They come from

64D A TOWERING DORMITORY AREA OF BUNKS AND HAMMOCKS

64D *

- a "Tree of Beds" - piled and skewed at every angle.

And while they walk and talk and excitedly pass one another on the floor

65 INT. A SMALL, SECLUDED AREA - DUSK is revealed, partitioned off from the rest of the warehouse by netting, crates, and even a few bars. There isn't much light, just enough to see a single figure inside:

65 *

A four foot rat - beaten and hanging in manacles.

66 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - DUSK

66 *

where the railings are now lined with teenagers, eagerly watching the ground level below them.

There, a group of older teenagers in black dogi silently move into formation, standing erect and very still.

THE DULL TONE THEN STOPS, and an abrupt silence falls over the group, which turns to see a shaft of light appear from beneath one of the upper levels, as if a door has swung open on the ground floor.

All eyes stare as a shadow appears in the light, growing longer and longer as the figure approaches the centerpoint of the warehouse.

And as this Silhouetted Man steps forward, beyond the concealment of the level above him

ENTER THE SHREDDER:

passing from shadow to light, which suddenly glints off a full metallic helmet that allows only a pair of dark, piercing eyes to peer out through its horizontal slit. A black cloak covers the rest of his body, which continues toward the center of the warehouse.

Along the railings, the teenagers look down while hushed whispers of "The Shredder, The Shredder" are exchanged among the newer recruits.

(CONTINUED)

66 CONTINUED:

66 *

But The Shredder continues on, looking neither left nor right, completely focused on his destination. And when he arrives, he turns one full circle, taking in his audience along the rails as THE CAMERA TRACKS AROUND HIM. *

His movements then cease completely. He stares straight ahead. *

Tatsu then moves in and carefully removes the cloak, the reason for his care evident when he exposes what lies beneath: A severe black dogi, spiked with razor-sharp Ninja armor.

Tatsu then looks to the side and nods, and four very nervous-looking teenaged thugs - four of the same ones that were Turtle-tied in the Channel Six parking lot, including the Head Thug - step forward, forming a square around The Shredder. He still doesn't move. *

(CONTINUED)

66 CONTINUED: (2)

66

Tatsu then receives a box from one of the dogi-clad youths and removes an ornate red headband, which he slowly drapes over one of Shredder's shoulders. *

TATSU
(quietly; respectfully)
Master Shredder...

The four thugs now have eyes only for the red headband, as they are handed various Ninja weapons from their uniformed peers. Shredder has none, and still he doesn't move. His eyes continue forward as the thugs stare at the red headband, pursing their lips and wiping away nervous perspiration - and we begin to get the idea that the one who gets the headband doesn't receive a reward, but, rather, avoids a punishment. *

Tatsu steps back and holds up a hand, palm outward. It's very quiet now, with no movement from the audience, as they and the four thugs concentrate on Tatsu's hand. *

It closes into a fist.

And with it, the four thugs attack, producing loud SCREAMS with each thrust they make attempting to reach the red headband.

But they don't have a chance. The Shredder seems to know where they will strike before they do. And with simple, fluid movements - never making a sound, never wasting a motion - he not only repels their attacks, but exacts a payment for them. *

For with calculated precision, he uses his armor to slash each thug in turn: Scratching one's shoulder; ripping through a pant leg to another's thigh. The movements are so precise, in fact, that it's apparent he's not trying to seriously hurt them - only leave a "mark."

It's over very quickly, with each thug back in his corner, nursing a new wound.

They are helped away while Tatsu retrieves the red headband, in the exact position he left it in. *

And after Tatsu steps away, leaving his master alone in the center of the warehouse, The Shredder finally speaks, his voice as precise as his movements, as razor sharp as his armor: *

SHREDDER
Money... paid as bail for your freedom, is money lost... to us.
These four have paid their debt.
(more)

(CONTINUED)

66 CONTINUED: (3)

66

SHREDDER (Cont'd)

Their punishment was just, as it always is... in our family.
They will wear their scars proudly as reminders of their quest to become full members... of The Foot.

He extends a hand as his words reverberate about the huge enclosure, and Tatsu places a black piece of cloth in the palm. At the same time, an eighteen-year-old, in black dogi, SHINSHO, appears and kneels before The Shredder. And with a hint of ceremony, The Shredder slowly lowers a black dogi hood over the youth's head, completing his uniform. After a single bow to the Master, and amid a few envious looks from the recruits above, Shinsho departs, now a full member of the clan.

*
*
*
*
*

SHREDDER

Our family grows. And soon, we will break the confines of these walls. The city itself will be our playground, to use as we please - rewarding ourselves and our friends...

(darker)

Punishing our enemies.

He looks up and scans the assemblage before continuing.

SHREDDER

There is a new enemy. Freaks of nature who interfere with our business. You are my eyes and ears. Find them. Together, we will punish these... creatures...
these... turtles...

And off the word "turtles", AS THE CAMERA TRACKS ALONG A ROW OF TEENAGERS BEHIND ONE RAIL

66A DANNY PENNINGTON

66A is revealed, his face craning over the shoulders of two teens in front of him, and reacting to the end of Shredder's speech.

He starts to raise his hand slightly, pushing it forward, and the kids around him look on like he's crazy. But the tentative hand is not enough to get noticed, and Danny decides to take the plunge. He pushes up to the rail, hand raised, and The Shredder's helmet begins to turn in his direction.

The kids around Danny now actually scoot away, giving him plenty of room. He had better have something important to say.

(CONTINUED)

66A CONTINUED:

66A

And as The Shredder's eyes lock on Danny, his hand still raised

*
*

CUT TO:

67 INT. CHANNEL THREE EYEWITNESS NEWS STUDIO - AFTERNOON

67 *

where April sits behind a news desk being interviewed by a fellow WOMAN REPORTER.

JUNE
A "dogi?"

APRIL
That's right. It's a Japanese word. I've been doing a little research, and that's the name for the type of jumpsuit my attackers wore.

And while the interview continues

68 INT. APRIL'S APARTMENT - AFTERNOON

68 where the Turtles watch April on her TV. Michaelangelo is sitting close to the screen, with his legs tucked under him like a child. Donatello also sits on the floor, his legs loosely crossed. Leonardo and Raphael are in chairs.

DONATELLO
Boy, she's smart.

LEONARDO
She's a good reporter.

MICHAELANGELO
She's a babe.

JUNE (V.O.)
(in b.g.)
This is beginning to sound less and less like your garden-variety subway mugging.

APRIL (V.O.)
Exactly, June. I'm convinced that these men were affiliated with a clandestine organization known as The Foot.

69 INT. STUDIO - AFTERNOON

69

JUNE
I'm sorry, "The Foot?"

APRIL
(a joke)
Yeah, I know - it sounds like a funky club for podiatrists...
(June laughs)

...
(more)

(CONTINUED)

69 CONTINUED:

69

APRIL (Cont'd)
but I've spoken with a lot of Japanese-Americans in the past few days who say that our recent crime wave is reminiscent of a secret band of "Ninja" thieves who once operated in Japan.

*
*

JUNE
Are the police looking into this?

APRIL
I included everything in my statement to the police, June, but I doubt that Chief Sterns...
(looks into camera)
... is taking this possible connection seriously.

And while June continues

CHARLES

is seen standing next to one of the cameras, rubbing his eyes and shaking his head: It's Excedrin headache #12.

JUNE (O.S.)
I see. Well, perhaps if any of our viewers...

A SECRETARY next to Charles offers a phone.

SECRETARY
(quietly)
Mr. Pennington? Telephone call... City Hall.

JUNE (O.S.)
... have any further information that could be of help, they'll get in contact with their local police, or this station.

Charles heaves a world-weary sigh and takes the phone.

*

JUNE
I have one last question, April:
You still haven't told us how you managed to get away from these attackers.

APRIL
Well, that's because I'm not sure that anyone would believe me.
It's really quite incredible...

(CONTINUED)

69 CONTINUED: (2)

69

Pregnant pause. What is this? Is she going to tell?

APRIL

... some citizens of New York City actually came to my rescue!

(joking)

Who says everyone looks the other way in the Big Apple!

(they laugh)

No, seriously, June, I'd like to take this opportunity to thank one of those citizens in particular. And if he's watching:

(to camera)

Thanks, Raphael.

70 INT. APRIL'S APARTMENT - AFTERNOON

70 where the other Turtles look at Raphael, who squirms a bit in his chair.

LEONARDO/MICHAELANGELO/DONATELLO

Wooooooooo...

JUNE (V.O.)

Well, thank you, April - and now back to you, Keith...

DONATELLO

Hey, look, I think he's blushing!

RAPHAEL

I am not!

DONATELLO

I think he's actually turning red!

One of Raphael's sais sticks in the floor between Donatello's legs.

DONATELLO

(then again...)

Maybe not...

RAPHAEL

(changing subjects)

So what do we do now?

LEONARDO

What do you mean, "what do we do now?"

(CONTINUED)

70 CONTINUED:

70

Donatello turns off the TV with a remote control, marvelling at it.

RAPHAEL
Splinter's out there!

LEONARDO
I know Splinter's out there!

As the volume of their exchange rises, so do Michaelangelo and Donatello, who look at each other.

MICHAELANGELO Fight?

DONATELLO Fight.

MICHAELANGELO Kitchen?

DONATELLO
Kitchen.

They take off to the kitchen to raid the refrigerator.

RAPHAEL
So what're we gonna do about it?

LEONARDO
What can we do about it? April's our only link to these guys! We have to wait until she comes up with something!

RAPHAEL
Oh, so that's the plan from our "great leader," huh? Just sit here on our butts.

LEONARDO
I never said I was your "great leader."

RAPHAEL
Well, you sure act like it sometimes!

LEONARDO
Yeah? Well, you act like a jerk sometimes, you know that? And this "attitude" of yours isn't helping anything!

(CONTINUED)

70 CONTINUED: (2)

70

RAPHAEL

Well, maybe I'll just take my "attitude" and leave!

LEONARDO

Why don't you?

RAPHAEL

I will!

He picks up his sai and heads for the door.

LEONARDO

Good!

RAPHAEL

Good!

LEONARDO

(last word)

Go ahead! We don't need you!

SLAM!

71 INT. APRIL'S APARTMENT - KITCHEN - AFTERNOON

71

Michaelangelo turns to Donatello in the kitchen with an offering:

*
*

MICHAELANGELO

(calmly)

Pork rind?

CUT TO:

72 EXT. A HIGH ROOFTOP - LATE AFTERNOON

72 *

overlooking a number of other rooftops below and well into the distance.

Casey Jones is here, sans hockey mask, sitting in an old torn-up recliner that has been dragged to the roof.

No rhythmic chant accompanies him now. As he drinks from a can and looks out over his "domain" from this lofty vantage point, the only sound is of the swirling WIND.

A few lonely seconds go by, and then Casey spots something moving on a rooftop far in the distance.

(CONTINUED)

72 CONTINUED:

72

It's no more than a "Lawrence of Arabia" Dot, really, but something about the way it moves - leaping from rooftop to rooftop - attracts his attention.

And as Casey leans forward in his chair, his eyes just beginning to narrow

CUT TO:

73 EXT. ANOTHER ROOFTOP - LATE AFTERNOON

73 where Raphael perches on the edge of the roof and stares out at the traffic below.

But he's about to attract an audience, for from a just below this rooftop, several of The Foot come into view, wearing black dogis and hoods.

LOW ANGLE

And as they pull themselves up to the edge of the roof, peering over and spotting Raphael

CUT TO:

74 INT. APRIL'S APARTMENT - LATE AFTERNOON

74

where Mike and Don, back on the floor, watch an episode of "The Flintstones" on TV. Mike is still munching, this time from a bag of Nacho Cheese Doritos.

MICHAELANGELO

(absorbed)

Man, that Dino could act...

(beat)

You know, they should make this into a movie!

DONATELLO

Right. How're they gonna make a cartoon into a movie?

Don gives him a look as April enters, removing her coat.

MICHAELANGELO

April! Hey, you were great!

APRIL

Thanks, Mikie.

(CONTINUED)

74 CONTINUED:

74

MICHAELANGELO
(sotto to Don)
She called me "Mikie"...

LEONARDO Anything?

APRIL
Not yet. They're going to repeat the interview at five and six, and we'll just have to wait and see if it helps generate any new information.

LEONARDO
(tired of waiting) Mmm...

APRIL
I told them to call me here immediately if anyone calls the station.

LEONARDO
Thanks, April. We really appreciate, you know... everything.

APRIL
Hey, forget it.
(looking around) Where's Raphael?

SMASH CUT TO:

75 EXT. ROOFTOP - LATE AFTERNOON

75 *

as Raphael's body is SLAMMED into a wall, causing him to drop his sais.

And as The Foot throw the sais over the edge of the roof

76 INT. APRIL'S APARTMENT - LATE AFTERNOON

76 *

APRIL
Well... I was going to give you guys the tour of the store.
Should we go get him...?

(CONTINUED)

76 CONTINUED:

76

MICHAELANGELO/DONATELLO
(with a look to Leo)

No!

DONATELLO
Uh... he just needs to blow off some steam.

77 EXT. ROOFTOP - LATE AFTERNOON

77 *

as Raphael stands and faces his attackers.

RAPHAEL (offhand; as if to a buddy)
I thought you guys used the subway.

The Foot attack, and Raphael swings into action, quickly knocking several of them down:

RAPHAEL Garrrrrrgh...!

He leaps aside and addresses the few Foot remaining on their feet, who now hesitate.

RAPHAEL
I mean, come on, how do you guys expect to beat me?

A battalion of Foot start climbing onto the roof.

RAPHAEL
(much less cocky)
Good answer, good answer...

78 INT. APRIL'S APARTMENT - LATE AFTERNOON

78 *

APRIL
Well, let's go...

They exit to a

79 INT. APRIL'S JUNK SHOP - STAIRWELL - LATE AFTERNOON

79 *

and begin walking down.

(CONTINUED)

79 CONTINUED:

79

APRIL

It's not much really. I can only afford to have somebody run it part-time. I do it mostly for my Dad. He loved junk.

(a small laugh)

I guess it's sort of silly to lose money on a business just because you miss your father...

Donatello touches her arm.

DONATELLO

No, it isn't...

*

They arrive at the bottom of the stairs, and April puts her hand on a light switch.

APRIL

(brightening)

Ready?

And as she flips the switch

SMASH CUT TO:

80 EXT. ROOFTOP - LATE AFTERNOON

80 *

as Raphael receives a sweeping uppercut, stunning him.

Two Foot then grab Raphael under the arms and pull him upright. But his slumping body suddenly erupts:

RAPHAEL

Wake up call!

and he uppercuts his two supporters, knocking them out.

He then assumes another ready stance, commenting on the two unconscious Foot.

RAPHAEL

You guys must be studying the Abridged Book of Ninja Fighting.

And while the others approach him

81 INT. JUNK SHOP - LATE AFTERNOON

81 *

CLOSE ON - A BOOK

being returned to a shelf by Donatello.

DONATELLO

This place has everything!

THE SHOT WIDENS TO REVEAL that Donatello is just about right: The old second-hand store has everything from used clothing to a stuffed and mounted polar bear standing in a corner.

APRIL

Yup. Just about.

Meanwhile, Michaelangelo has found an old pair of huge symphonic cymbals. Enlisting the cooperation of Donatello and April with a silent "Shh," he tiptoes over behind Leo's back with a mischievous grin on his face. He holds the cymbals wide apart.

April smiles, but can't watch.

And as the cymbals come flying toward one another

SMASH CUT TO:

82 EXT. ROOFTOP - LATE AFTERNOON

82 *

as Raphael's knees are whacked from behind, sending his back crashing down onto a piece of sheet metal that CLANGS like a cymbal.

He is immediately set upon by a swarm of Foot who kick him hard while he's down.

And as one of them gets on top of him, ready to punch

MATCH CUT TO:

83 INT. JUNK SHOP - LATE AFTERNOON

83 *

where Leo sits on top of Michaelangelo, ready to deck him.

LEONARDO

What was that? I can't hear you
- I've got this ringing in my ears.

MICHAELANGELO

(laughing)
Uncle! Uncle, already!

(CONTINUED)

83 CONTINUED:

83

Leo shakes his head and starts to laugh, helping Mike up.

DONATELLO

Uh-oh...!

Donatello has spotted a OLD COUPLE heading for the store's window.

They stop and stare inside:

OLD WOMAN

Ooo, honey, what do you think of that?

OLD MAN

(tries to lie)
Well... I think... it's probably... one of the...
(can't lie)
... ugliest floor lamps ever created by man.

Inside, the Turtles have only had time for quick disguises:

Donatello is down on all fours, impersonating a table, while April dusts him off.

Leonardo has grabbed some silk flowers from a vase and has assumed a rigid stance.

And Michaelangelo has thrown a shade over his head, becoming the floor lamp in question.

The old woman then gives her companion a playful punch on the shoulder and they move on. *

April, Leonardo, and Donatello all relax, but Michaelangelo remains stiff for a second, the lamp shade still on his head.

MICHAELANGELO

(hurt) Ugly?

And while the others share a laugh

84 EXT. ROOFTOP - LATE AFTERNOON

84 *

as Raphael continues to take a beating.

He's nailed under the chin with a nunchuka, straightening him up, then pounded with a roundhouse kick to the belly, doubling him over.

(CONTINUED)

84 CONTINUED:

84

He's not wise-cracking anymore. He can't afford to. He's fighting for his life now.

85 INT. APRIL'S JUNK SHOP - STAIRWELL - LATE AFTERNOON

85 *

as April and the Turtles return to her apartment.

APRIL

Hasn't Raphael been gone a long time?

DONATELLO

Nah - he does this all the time. He likes it.

86 EXT. FIRE ESCAPE - LATE AFTERNOON

86 *

as The Foot drag Raphael down by his ankles, his head bouncing off every step.

87 INT. APRIL'S APARTMENT - LATE AFTERNOON

87 *

as April and the Turtles enter.

APRIL

Are you sure?

DONATELLO

Don't worry. He'll probably be back any minute now, threatening to "huff and puff and blow your..."

He doesn't get a chance to finish, for with a TREMENDOUS CRASH, Raphael's body comes flying through a window, shell first, sliding to a rest near the middle of the floor.

LEONARDO

Raph!

He drops to one knee to check on his brother, who lies badly beaten and very still.

APRIL

Is he...?

(CONTINUED)

87 CONTINUED:

87

LEONARDO
No, he's alive. Barely.
(urgently) Donatello, Michaelangelo, cover the...

But his words, too, are interrupted by a CRASH EVEN BIGGER THAN THE FIRST, as The Foot smash every window in the apartment on their way inside.

And while the Turtles quickly form a defensive circle around Raphael and April, who kneels down to protect him, Michaelangelo comments on The Foot's entrance:

MICHAELANGELO
Whoa - and I thought Jehovah's
Witnesses were pushy.

And with that

THE FIGHT

begins.

Leonardo wields his katana (sword), Donatello his bo (staff), and Michaelangelo his nunchukus.

And on the floor with Raphael

APRIL

tries to contribute by grabbing hold of the edge of a long rug upon which stands a couple of The Foot. She yanks with all her might - but the rug won't budge. She continues to tug in frustration.

Meanwhile

MICHAELANGELO

after dispatching two opponents, turns upon a single Foot with a pair on nunchukus.

MICHAELANGELO
Ahhh, a fellow 'chucker, eh?

The Foot begins whipping the weapon around his body in a show of great dexterity. He ends in the classic ready position with a 'chuck tucked under his armpit, his show of intimidation complete.

Michaelangelo just grins. And as he puts his own 'chucks into motion

(CONTINUED)

87 CONTINUED: (2)

87

CLOSE ON - THE FOOT

whose eyes begin darting about to a rapid SWISHING sound: Up, down, right, left - barely able to keep up. And when the swishing stops, The Foot actually GULPS. He knows he's in trouble. And before he can move, a 'chuck COMES INTO FRAME, knocking him square in the forehead.

Michaelangelo then carefully places the fallen Foot's nunchukus on his chest while he "sleeps."

MICHAELANGELO

Keep practicing.

Nearby, and not giving up

APRIL

continues to tug on the stubborn rug, while across the room squares off with a TALKATIVE FOOT.

DONATELLO

TALKATIVE FOOT

I'm going to turn you into turtle soup...

DONATELLO

(disappointed)

Ohhhh, man - "turtle soup?" Are you kidding me? Who writes your material?

TALKATIVE FOOT

But first, I'm going to shell you like an oyster...

DONATELLO

(shaking head)

Ohhhh... Hey, Mikie, I got one here who's just begging for "the soprano maker."

MICHAELANGELO

(high Mr. Bill voice)

Oh, no - not "the soprano maker!"

TALKATIVE FOOT

(to Donatello)

Hold still, lizard.

(CONTINUED)

87 CONTINUED: (3)

87

DONATELLO

That did it...

Donatello drops his bo and stands there with his arms down. The delighted Foot then steps toward the unarmed Turtle, raising his sword high into the air.

But there's a method to Donatello's madness, for the bo has come to rest over the edge of an upturned end table, and before the sword comes down, he stamps on the raised end - using the table as a teeter-totter fulcrum - and the other end flies up between his attacker's legs.

The debilitated Foot begins to lean over like the Tower of Pisa, and then topples. Donatello picks up his bo.

DONATELLO

(philosophizing)

Try not to think of it so much as excruciating pain, but as... your ticket into the Vienna boys' choir.

And near the door

LEONARDO

looks over the fallen Foot around the room while fighting.

LEONARDO

Hey! One of these guys must know where Splinter is - don't knock 'em all out!

*
*
*

A second, even bigger wave of The Foot begins pouring through the windows.

MICHAELANGELO

I don't think that'll be a problem, Leo!

The Turtles have their hands full now. Leonardo is forced out to the upper landing of the stairway, while is grabbed by three Foot, one on each side and one in back who shoves his head down into April's fish tank - where he comes momentarily face to face with a large ceramic turtle. He strains to lift his head out of the tank, then turns to the side and spits a stream of water at one of the Foot.

DONATELLO

*
*
*
*
*

(CONTINUED)

87 CONTINUED: (4)

87 *

This frees up a hand, which he uses to dispatch his attackers in three quick moves: A back-punch to the wet Foot who let go, then round his front to the Foot on the other side, and a final elbow - hard - to the dunker in back. And while he reaches down to retrieve his bo, he looks once again at the ceramic turtle:

*
*
*
*
*

DONATELLO

Let's see you do that.

*
*

Meanwhile

*

MICHAELANGELO

*

spins to cover his back and is grabbed from behind. The timing couldn't have been worse. He now faces two Foot with their katana drawn. And just when it looks like his number may be up

*

THE FOOT suddenly tumble to the floor, and

(CONTINUED)

87 CONTINUED: (5)

87

APRIL is seen, smiling broadly, having finally conquered the rug-pull trick.

MICHAELANGELO (impressed) Aw right...!

He flips The Foot behind him over his shell and nails him with the nunchukus. And out on *

88 INT. APRIL'S JUNK SHOP - STAIRWELL LANDING - LATE AFTERNOON 88 *

Leonardo is kicked in the chest by two of The Foot, causing him to tumble down the stairs. The Foot follow, while back inside

89 INT. APRIL'S APARTMENT - LATE AFTERNOON 89 *

Michaelangelo comes crashing down on his shell. As several Foot close in on him, he cries out:

MICHAELANGELO
Hey, Donnie - "Wheel of Fortune!"

And Donatello quickly moves in, giving Michaelangelo a spin. The rapidly rotating Turtle then dispatches a large number of The Foot with his nunchukus, which fly out at every angle as he whirls around in a circle.

He finally comes to a stop and stands, joined by Donatello. Both of them are looking at a new threat now entering the room: More Foot with "bisentos" (massive Ninja halberds, or battle axes), which they hand off to those already in the room.

DONATELLO
(staring)
I guess they're not game show fans.

MICHAELANGELO
I thought everybody loved Vanna...

And while they prepare for another onslaught

90 INT. APRIL'S JUNK SHOP - BOTTOM OF STAIRWELL - LATE AFTERNOON 90 *

where Leonardo fights off several attackers of his own, backing into

91 INT. THE JUNK SHOP DOWNSTAIRS - LATE AFTERNOON

91 *

darkened, but with a little light from outside. Leonardo reacts to the sound of LOUD THUDS, and sees bits of ceiling starting to come down, while in both Donatello and Michaelangelo are rolling around on the floor, avoiding HEAVY BLOWS from several bisento, flailing wildly, which tear huge chunks out of the floor.

92 INT. APRIL'S APARTMENT UPSTAIRS - LATE AFTERNOON

92 *

DONATELLO

Good thing these guys aren't lumberjacks!

MICHAELANGELO

No joke! The only thing safe in the woods would be the trees!

And while they roll around on the floor, they can see the ceiling of April's apartment begin to break apart, as even more Foot start to smash through, ready to drop on their prey.

Donatello quickly notes the already extensive damage done to the floor by the bisento, then addresses The Foot:

DONATELLO

Uh, guys? I'm not sure this is a good time - structurally speaking - for your buddies to drop in...!

But he's too late. The Foot pour in from the ceiling onto the weakened floor, and amid the SNAPPING and CRACKLING of the remaining floorboards, and a number of suddenly anxious expressions

93 INT. THE JUNK STORE - DUSK

93 *

as the ceiling comes CRASHING DOWN on Leo and his attackers - along with everyone from April's apartment!

They lay in a pile, stunned. But another shock is soon to follow as pop on, and Tatsu is seen standing by the switch. He folds his arms across his chest, practically grinning. And the reason for his arrogant posture becomes apparent when

THE LIGHTS

(CONTINUED)

93 CONTINUED:

93

THE TURTLES AND APRIL

look around the rest of the room.

It is filled with even more Foot, and the already weary defenders react with a:

TURTLES/APRIL (groaning) Ohhhhh...

Tatsu holds up his hand, palm outward. It closes into a fist.

And instantly, the room springs into ACTION - The Foot attacking and the Turtles extricating themselves from their pileup while trying to ward them off.

But there are too many of them this time. Blows from various weapons begin to penetrate the Turtles defense as they try to protect April and the still very unconscious Raphael.

MICHAELANGELO
Man, we could really use Raph right about now...!

And as if in answer to his prayers, a figure outside the fray steps out of darkness and in front of a lamp. His long shadow now casts itself over the milieu and the wall behind it.

Several of The Foot turn to see the source of this long shadow, and soon everyone is looking. The fight has momentarily stopped as they all stare at with hockey mask and golf bag, wielding a goalie's stick.

CASEY JONES

CASEY
You guys mind telling me what you're doin' with my little green
"pal" over there?
(notices April; almost bon vivant)
Woo, an' who's the babe?

*
*
*
*

April rolls her eyes in disbelief.

LEONARDO
Who the heck is that?

(CONTINUED)

93 CONTINUED: (2)

93

MICHAELANGELO (guessing) Wayne Gretsky?
(beat)
On steroids?

(CONTINUED)

93 CONTINUED: (2)

93

TATSU (enough of this; in Japanese) Attack!

And the FIGHT is back underway, as several of The Foot detach from the main Turtle Front to attack Casey.

Casey is no slouch at this. In fact, he's taking out Foot left and right with his fearsome goalie's stick - and loving it.

CASEY
Eeeeeee-hah! It's "Hockey Night in Canada!"

Meanwhile, the invigorated Turtles have enough room now to cover as April and Donatello drag Raphael out of the heart of the melee.

And with the fight in full rage swings, missing Leonardo, but tearing into a wall amidst a shower of sparks, electrically shocking the Foot holding it and immediately starting a fire while

A BISENTO

THE LIGHTS GO OUT and the

FIRE

spreads rapidly about the old, junk-filled room.

And as if this weren't enough for the already beleaguered Turtles, even more pour into the room from the stairway leading upstairs.

FOOT REINFORCEMENTS

It's too much. Even with Casey's help. And Leonardo knows it.

LEONARDO
 (to April)
 We've gotta get out of here!

They both see that the front door and stairway are well covered. They seem to be trapped. But April begins dragging Raphael's body toward the back, behind some shelves.

(CONTINUED)

APRIL

Here!

Leonardo helps her with Raphael, and, once behind the shelves, they pull some boxes away from the wall, revealing a small half-door.

APRIL

My grandfather sold more than junk during Prohibition. There's an exit out to the street from his underground... "refinery."

Leonardo hurries back to the store area, where the fire has turned into a BLAZE. He shouts to his brothers over its ROAR.

LEONARDO

We're gettin' out of here!

He motions them back while they continue to battle, taking up the fight himself as Michaelangelo and Donatello duck behind the narrow, nicely-defensible opening between shelves.

Leonardo is about to go himself, but stops and looks at Casey, still slashing away in the center of the room.

LEONARDO

(yells to Casey)
You coming?

CASEY

I'll cover ya!

He begins backing up to the shelves, holding off the hoard of Foot while Leonardo retreats, and then Casey himself makes his way to the half-door.

Suddenly, a very incongruous sound interrupts - the RING of a telephone.

APRIL (V.O.)

Hi, this is April. I'm not at home right now but you can leave a message after the beep.

Casey looks up and sees April's answering machine hanging down through the hole in the ceiling. BEEP!

CHARLES (V.O.)

April, this is Charles. Look, I'm sorry, I don't know how else to put this. You're fired, April.
(more)

(CONTINUED)

93 CONTINUED: (5)

93

CHARLES (V.O.) (Cont'd)
I'm sorry. I know this must come as a blow...

The fire finally burns through the line supporting the machine, and it comes straight down onto the head of the Foot in front of Casey, as he backs down a short flight of stairs behind the half-door.

CASEY
You can say that again, Chuck.

LEONARDO (O.S.)
Come on!

Casey closes the half-door, followed by the distinct sound of a DEADBOLT latching into place.

And as a Foot struggles to open the half-door

94 EXT. STREET OUTSIDE APRIL'S BROWNSTONE - NIGHT

94

as April, Casey, and the Turtles emerge, crawling, from a trap door in the side of the building.

*
*

CASEY
Phew! I love the smell of cheap booze!

95 INT. JUNK SHOP - NIGHT

95 where The Foot, about to use a bisento on the half-door, turn at the sound of POLICE SIRENS, as

TATSU

who is back in the conflagration that was once the junk store, also listening to the sirens, barks an order:

TATSU
Ninja! Vanish!

And as The Foot begin to disperse

96 EXT. STREET/INT. VAN - NIGHT

96

April's old, junky VW van, with Casey behind the wheel.

In the back, the Turtles are tending to the still unconscious Raphael, and to wounds of their own.

(CONTINUED)

96 CONTINUED:

They're all pretty beaten up.

April is also there. But she has eyes only for what she sees out the

97 EXT. BACK WINDOW OF THE VAN - NIGHT her face nearly pressed against it, staring at her life going up in the flames reflected in the glass, and even more so in her eyes.

CUT TO:

98 EXT. A ROOFTOP ACROSS THE STREET FROM APRIL'S - NIGHT

where a lone Danny Pennington, his face a mixture of horror and confusion, also stares out at the destruction he has wrought. And as he stares, transfixed

CUT TO:

99 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - NIGHT

as The Shredder walks TOWARD CAMERA with a unnaturally long and hurried gait, entering

100 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - THE SECLUDED AREA - NIGHT

where he steps up to the manacled Splinter and, without hesitating, delivers a vicious backhand to the rat's face.

SHREDDER

(furious)

What are these... freaks? How do they know how to fight like this? You will answer!

But all Splinter does is slowly raise his head, looking into Shredder's eyes and holding them a moment before forming a grin.

This further enrages The Shredder, who pulls his hand back as far as it will go for another slap. And as he starts to uncoil is seen at the entrance looking in, not even flinching at the EXPLOSIVE SNAP OF THE O.S. BLOW.

TATSU

(CONTINUED)

100 CONTINUED:

100

The Shredder walks away, still burning, but he pulls up abruptly at the entrance and turns his helmet toward Tatsu. Their eyes are only inches apart as Shredder just stands there, glaring at him.

It's one of the harshest reprimands ever delivered by a superior, and without a word spoken. The proud Tatsu is forced to lower his eyes, but Shredder holds a moment longer before leaving.

And when Tatsu's eyes raise again, it is not penitence that fills them, but something else. Something very dangerous.

He storms off in the opposite direction from his master, making a beeline for an unknown destination, and letting neither boxes nor bodies get in his way

And as he goes

101 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - NIGHT

101 *

as Danny Pennington reenters the warehouse, obviously still wrapped in thought.

He drifts around aimlessly until he wanders by

102 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - THE SECLUDED AREA - NIGHT and Splinter looks up.

102 *

SPLINTER

How can a face so young wear so many burdens?

DANNY

(looking in)

You can talk.

SPLINTER

Yes. And I can also listen.

Danny understands the offer, but doesn't say anything.

SPLINTER

Some say that the path from inner turmoil begins with a friendly ear.

(beat)

My ear is open, if you care to use it.

(CONTINUED)

102 CONTINUED:

102

DANNY

No... I don't think so...

SPLINTER

What is your name?

DANNY

Danny.

SPLINTER

And have you no one to go to,
Danny? No parent? No guardian?

DANNY

(a laugh)

My Dad could care less about me.

SPLINTER

I doubt that that is true.

DANNY

Why?

SPLINTER

(looking off)

All fathers care for their sons...

And as the boy looks in at Splinter, the sound of a COMMOTION suddenly interrupts. Curious, Danny takes off in the direction of the noise, unknowingly headed for

103 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - A DRESSING AREA - NIGHT that resembles a locker room, only more piecemeal. Here, The Foot can store their personal belongings, change into their dogis, or just hang out.

103

Many of The Foot from the Turtle raid - easily identified because they've been attending to their wounds - occupy the area now, but nobody is hanging out. For the second time today their lives are in danger because is off on what can only be termed a RAMPAGE. He hurls things across the room, slaps and kicks the half-dressed Foot, and, in general, takes out his frustrations on those who failed in their mission.

TATSU

He begins to focus on one young man in particular, who offers no resistance.

(CONTINUED)

103 CONTINUED:

103

But a friend looking on makes the mistake of his own young life when he tries to intervene, grabbing Tatsu from behind and pleading:

SHINSHO
Master Tatsu! Stop! Please!

BEATEN TEEN Shinsho! No...!

Instinct takes over for Tatsu. An elbow to the ribs disengages the adolescent, and without looking, Tatsu immediately whirls around with a classic flying roundhouse kick that catches the boy right on the side of the head.

The blow itself, though extremely hard, was not a deadly one. But when the boy's head hits the floor during his fall, his movements stop too abruptly.

The friend for whom he intervened drops to his side.

BEATEN TEEN Shinsho...!

He lays the back of his fingers along Shinsho's neck and then withdraws them. The blank expression on his face as he looks up at Tatsu tells it all.

A group of the younger recruits, including Danny, has gathered in front of the area.

In the growing quiet, Tatsu knows he has made a mistake, but there's nothing he can do about it. He storms off.

And as Danny continues to stare at the still body of one of the "family"

DISSOLVE TO:

A104 EXT. A FARM IN THE COUNTRY - DAWN

A104 *

We SEE a hawk, startled by an approaching NOISE, fly out of a tree and away.

*
*

104 EXT. A FARM IN THE COUNTRY - DAWN - ESTABLISHING HIGH ANGLE

104 as the VW van - lurching, wheezing, and smoking - approaches an old, ramshackle farmhouse.

APRIL (V.O.)
Welp, this is it.

CASEY (V.O.)
Nice.

(beat) Didn't they use this place in "The Grapes of Wrath"?

(CONTINUED)

104 CONTINUED:

104

APRIL (V.O.)
(irritated)
I told you, I haven't been up here in years. Besides... all it needs is a little work...

The van pulls up in front of the farmhouse and a SHARP METALLIC BANG goes off under the hood, the kind that spells serious trouble for an engine. Smoke billows into the air.

CASEY (V.O.)
Uh-huh. And all this van needs is a little "STP"...

And as the van GURGLES and SHUDDERS, gasping its last breath

105 EXT. FARMHOUSE - LATER - MORNING

105

as Casey looks under the hood of the van while April comes out the front door of the farmhouse.

APRIL
They took him upstairs.
(softer)
He's still unconscious...

The concern in her voice is reflected in Casey's face - but he's not about to reveal this to April, and when he steps back, it's no longer there.

CASEY
Uh-huh.

APRIL (re: van)
Can you fix it?

To answer, Casey draws an imaginary pistol from a holster, cocks it, and with accompanying sound effect, puts the van out of its misery.

CASEY
Does that answer your question?
The block's got a crack in it about the size of the San Andreas.

APRIL (sighing) Wonderful. Well, I guess I've got some walking to do.

(CONTINUED)

105 CONTINUED:

105

CASEY

What for?

APRIL

Our nearest neighbor's over four miles away, and I need to get to a phone to let my boss know where I am.

She heads back to the front door, and Casey follows her into

106 INT. FARMHOUSE - MORNING

106 in about the same shape as the outside, where Michaelangelo and Donatello are dressing a few of their wounds.

CASEY

You mean Charles?

APRIL

How did you know that?

CASEY

He left a message on your machine just before I got out.

APRIL

And?

CASEY

(how to put it)

Well...

(got it)

Well, hey, you just saved yourself an eight mile round-tripper - you were fired!

APRIL

I'm... I saved myself...

(incredulous)

What do you do, take classes in insensitivity?

CASEY

Hey, I was just tryin' to break it to you easy!

APRIL

Well, you failed miserably!

(CONTINUED)

106 CONTINUED:

106

CASEY
Hey, "Broadzilla," you wouldn't even be standin' here if it wasn't for me!

APRIL
Oh, and what do you want, a "thank you?"

CASEY
Oh, no - it is I who should thank you for the privilege!

APRIL
Fine. Thank you.

CASEY
Thank you.

APRIL
You're welcome!

CASEY
You're welcome!

SLAM! SLAM! Donatello looks at each of the two doors on opposite sides of the room behind which Casey and April have just retreated.

DONATELLO
Gosh, it's... kind of like "Moonlighting," isn't it?

107 EXT. FARM - DAY

107 *

PRE-LAP

APRIL'S NARRATION (V.O.)
It's strange being back on the old farm. Even after all these years... it feels like home...

108 INT. FARMHOUSE - ATTIC - DAY

108

PANNING along a variety of dust-covered objects.

APRIL'S NARRATION (V.O.)
I found this old diary today, only half-filled.
(more)

(CONTINUED)

108 CONTINUED:

108

APRIL'S NARRATION (Cont'd)
I guess the journalism bug hadn't taken complete hold of me yet at age ten.

April can now be seen writing at an old table.

APRIL'S NARRATION (V.O.)
My amazing new friends have suffered their first real defeat.
Their wounds are bad enough, but... they've lost the opportunity to find out about their master, and I'm afraid this weighs much more heavily with them. And while I write...

April's pencil moves from the diary to a piece of paper beside it.

APRIL'S NARRATION (V.O.)
... and sketch - I suppose my minor in art is looking for a little self-expression, too - each Turtle deals with it in his own way.

(beat) Donatello has found someone to latch onto...

108A CLOSE ON - THE SKETCH

108A

And as the sketch is finally revealed - showing Donatello and Casey working on an old pickup

ROTSKOPE TO:

109 INT. OLD GARAGE - DAY

109 where Casey tinkers under the hood of a dilapidated truck up on blocks, while a sleepy Donatello sits behind the wheel. The van, along with half its engine parts, is nearby.

CASEY
Not even close, zip neck. The Professor and Maryanne. Happily ever after.

(CONTINUED)

109 CONTINUED:

109

DONATELLO
No way, atomic mouth. Gilligan was her main man. And they'd probably have six kids by now.

CASEY
Gilligan was a geek, barfaroni.

DONATELLO
You're the geek, camel breath.

CASEY Dome head.

DONATELLO
Elf lips.

CASEY (back to business)
Okay, let's give it a try and see if this transplant worked, fungoid. *
*

DONATELLO
All right, here goes...
(yawn)
... uh... what're we on?

CASEY
G.

DONATELLO
Here goes, gack face.

CASEY
I'm ready, hose brain.

Donatello turns the key, and the pickup STUTTERS to life. Unfortunately, it stutters to life in gear, and before Casey can celebrate, he has to throw his body out of the way of the lunging truck, which comes down off its blocks and SMASHES halfway through the back wall of the garage, causing the shelves there to CRASH down on top of it before it stops.

Donatello sticks his head out the window and looks back at Casey. The Turtle smiles sheepishly.

DONATELLO
It worked...

And as he receives a rag in the face

110 INT. FARMHOUSE - ATTIC - DAY 110
 as April works on another sketch.

APRIL'S NARRATION (V.O.)
 Leonardo, meanwhile, has kept a constant vigil with Raphael...

ROSCOPE TO:

111 INT. FARMHOUSE - BATHROOM - NIGHT 111 where Raphael, still unconscious, lies stomach-down in a tub half filled with water. A very tired-looking Leonardo sits * nearby, his eyes focused on his brother. *
 April enters, looking first at Leo, then down at Raphael. She * steps over to the tub and presses lightly on Raphael's shell. *
 The shell is soft. *
 April steps back again, looking at Leo, who hasn't moved. *
 Leo's eyes finally leave Raphael and meet April's, but their * message is clear: "I'm not going anywhere." *
 And as Leonardo returns his gaze to the tub, and April exits *

112 INT. FARMHOUSE - ATTIC - DAY 112 where April is still writing, with yet another sketch by her diary.

APRIL'S NARRATION (V.O.)
 But the one who worries me the most is Michaelangelo. He spends all of his time in the barn, training. Alone. Withdrawn.
 On the edge...

ROSCOPE TO:

113 INT. BARN - DAY 113 where Michaelangelo works out with a makeshift duffel-bag-turned-punching-bag. His face is very serious as his blows come harder and harder, and soon, the bag is not enough.
 He splits a nearby sawhorse with a single kick, and then turns his anger upon the barn itself, punching and kicking holes through the decaying wooden structure, and threatening to tear an entire wall down with his bare hands.

(CONTINUED)

113 CONTINUED:

113

But finally, he stops - the wave of frustration has run its course. For now.

And as he lowers his head

114 INT. FARMHOUSE - ATTIC - DAY

114 *

where April puts the finishing touches on her final sketch, adding a child's beanie cap to a picture of Casey, complete with propellor.

APRIL'S NARRATION (V.O.)

And then there's Casey Jones - a nine-year-old trapped in a man's body. He might almost be cute, if it wasn't for that pigheadedness. Like today, when I tried to warn him that water erosion had probably weakened the well steps, he...

ROTSCOPE TO:

115 EXT. WELL - DAY

115 where April and Donatello look over the edge at Casey, whose head sticks up above the rim of the well - a head still wearing the ROTOSCOPE BEANIE CAP WITH SPINNING PROPELLOR as he interrupts April's Narration:

CASEY

Just relax, "Neil-O," okay? I know what I'm doin'. Now hand me that wrench so I can take a look at this pump.

April gives up, handing him the wrench, and his head disappears below the rim of the well as he climbs down.

A few STEPS can be heard, and then, a CRACK.

CASEY (O.S.)

Whooooooooa...!

SPLASH!

Donatello and April look over the rim and hear SPUTTERING below. Don turns to April.

DONATELLO

I guess you were right.

(CONTINUED)

115 CONTINUED:

115

CASEY (O.S.)
(from below)
Lucky guess!

April and Donatello look at each other.

APRIL'S NARRATION (V.O.)
And so the days pass...

116 INT. FARMHOUSE - BATHROOM - NIGHT

116 where Leo continues his vigil, his head nodding forward as he fights off sleep.

RAPHAEL (weakly)
Hey...

Suddenly wide awake, Leo rockets to Raphael's side, instinctively tapping on his shell. The shell is once again hard.

LEONARDO
Raph! You're awake! You're -how do you feel?

RAPHAEL
What's a guy gotta do to get some food around here?

Overjoyed, Leonardo dashes to the doorway.

LEONARDO
Hey! Hey! He's awake! He wants some food! Bring some food!

He rushes back to Raphael's side, bubbling, patting him.

LEONARDO
You're gonna be okay, Raph.
You're gonna be okay...

RAPHAEL
Yeah, yeah, all right, Leo - get a grip, will ya?

LEONARDO
(calmer)
Listen, Raph... about what I said before... you know, about not needing you and all, I...

(CONTINUED)

116 CONTINUED:

116

RAPHAEL
(stopping him)
Leo... Don't...

It's not necessary. Raphael knows. Leo gently lifts him up, and they each put an arm around the other - two brothers, reunited.

April and Donatello stand in the doorway, touched.

DONATELLO
(sniffle)
It's a Kodak moment.

And as Leonardo and Raphael both quickly disengage, clearing their throats in manly embarrassment

117 INT. FARMHOUSE - DAY

117 where Casey walks the rapidly recovering Raphael around the room.

APRIL'S NARRATION (V.O.)
The Turtles are four once again.
And yet, they're still not whole...

118 EXT. THE WOODS - DAY

118 where Leonardo sits by himself and meditates. After a few seconds, though, he opens his eyes, flinging a stick in frustration and then walking away.

119 INT. GARAGE - DAY

119 where Donatello sits by himself at a workbench, grinding down a new sai for Raphael with a file. But he seems preoccupied, and after dropping the tool, he hurls the sai to the back of the bench in disgust, embedding it in the wall before him. *

120 EXT. THE ROOF OF THE BARN - NIGHT

120

as Michaelangelo leaps about, coming to rest near an old weather vane on the edge of the roof and bathing himself in the bright moonlight, low on the horizon.

(CONTINUED)

120 CONTINUED:

120

APRIL'S NARRATION (V.O.)

But I think I understand. A lingering doubt remains - an unknown which they can't bear to face...

(beat)

Their greatest fear...

Suddenly, Michaelangelo lifts his arms and screams into the night:

MICHAELANGELO

(from the soul)

Splinter...!!!

And as his voice echoes about the empty countryside

121 EXT. THE WOODS - DAY

121 where Leonardo is once again meditating. His body and features are completely still. And as he concentrates:

122 INT. SECLUDED AREA OF WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - DAY

122

CLOSE ON - SPLINTER

still in chains back at the warehouse, as the beleaguered rat slowly lifts his head.

SPLINTER

(a whisper)

Leonardo...

123 EXT. WOODS - DAY

123 where Leonardo's eyes pop open and his body straightens as if an electric shock has just run through it. His breathing becomes labored, fueled by strong emotion, and he rises, racing toward

124 INT. FARMHOUSE - A MINUTE LATER - DAY

124 as he bursts in on the others.

LEONARDO

He's alive! Splinter's alive!

Looks of concern are exchanged, and then Donatello approaches his brother.

(CONTINUED)

124 CONTINUED:

124

DONATELLO

We know, Leo. Of course he is.
We all think he's alive...

Leonardo forcefully throws Donatello's hand from his shoulder.

LEONARDO

I don't "think"...!
(purposeful pause)
I know.

Something about the way Leo says this registers with the others.
And as they give him a second look

125 EXT. THE WOODS - NIGHT

125 where Leonardo and his three skeptical brothers sit around a fire.

RAPHAEL

Leo, if you dragged us out here for nothing...

DONATELLO

Don't worry, I came prepared.

He pulls out a bag of marshmallows.

LEONARDO

Put those away. Now just do what I told you. Everybody close their eyes... and concentrate...
Concentrate hard...

A few seconds go by as all four of the Turtles meditate around the fire. And just when it begins to seem that nothing is going to happen transparent, incomplete, ethereal - appears within and above the flames.

SPLINTER'S IMAGE

SPLINTER (V.O.)

I am proud of you, my sons...

A few of the Turtles gasp, but their eyes remain closed. It's as if they can see the image without opening them.

(CONTINUED)

125 CONTINUED:

125

SPLINTER (V.O.)

Tonight you have learned the final and greatest truth of the Ninja
-that ultimate mastery comes not of the body...

(emphasis)

... but of the mind.

The image pauses a moment.

SPLINTER (V.O.)

Together, there is nothing your four minds cannot accomplish.
Help each other. Draw upon one another.

(fading)

And always remember the true force that bonds you, the same as that which brought me here tonight.
That which I gladly return with my final words: I love you all, my sons...

And the image is gone.

The Turtles open their eyes, looking at each other.
Michaelangelo's eyes are filled with tears.

And as they sit around the fire in profound silence

126 EXT. FARMHOUSE PORCH - DAY where Casey relaxes on a jury-rigged swing while April comes outside.

126

APRIL

(calling)

Donatello?

CASEY

He's out with the others exercising, or... doing something together, I don't know. You need some help?

APRIL

(undecided about this semi-offer)

Well... I don't know...

(CONTINUED)

126 CONTINUED:

126

CASEY
(popping up)
Hey, I'm your man. Mr. Fix-it.

APRIL
Well... all right. Let's go.

CASEY
Lead the way, toots.

APRIL
(turning) "Toots?"

CASEY
(trying again)
Babe?
(and again)
Sweet cakes?
(and finally)
What, "princess?" You wanna throw me a clue? I'm drowning here.

APRIL
Just forget it. I'll take care of it myself.

CASEY
(back to swing)
Hey, it's up to you - just don't come around asking for my help anymore.

APRIL
I wouldn't ask for your help if you were the last... "thing" on the face of the planet!

She SLAMS the front door behind her. Casey looks at his fingernails and vocalizes a little progress report.

CASEY
Coming along "nicely"...

127 EXT. A FIELD - DAY

127 bordered by an old, split-rail fence. Leonardo sits on a top rail and Donatello stands by while Michaelangelo and Raphael spar with each other.

LEONARDO
Okay, hold it, hold it...

(CONTINUED)

127 CONTINUED:

127

Michaelangelo and Raphael lower their weapons, breathing heavily.

RAPHAEL

What?

LEONARDO

Stop trying to overpower each other. Remember what Splinter said.

MICHAELANGELO

This is the way we always fight.

RAPHAEL

Yeah, jeez, pretty soon he's gonna start askin' us to snatch pebbles from his hand.

LEONARDO

All right, look...

He hops down off the fence and stands between them, rotating his mask until his eyes are covered. He then draws his katana and assumes a ready stance.

LEONARDO

Okay, now attack me. All three of you. At once.

RAPHAEL

(aw, come on)
Leo, what're you doin'?

DONATELLO

You'll get hurt.

Leo lashes out with the flat of his katana and whacks Raphael on the arm.

LEONARDO

Come on...

RAPHAEL

Hey! Knock it off, Leo, that hurt.

LEONARDO

(another whack)
Come on.

RAPHAEL

Leo, I'm warnin' you...

(CONTINUED)

127 CONTINUED: (2)

127

LEONARDO
(another; harder)
Come on...!

That did it. Raphael draws a sai and jumps at his blindfolded brother.

But Leo's katana strikes first, disarming Raphael.

He stands a moment, stunned, then draws his other sai and motions for this two brothers to join him. All three come at Leo in a tentative attack.

One-two-three - and Leo's repulsed all their thrusts.

They set themselves one more time. This is it. The acid test. And when they attack this time, there's nothing tentative about it.

One-two-three - and Leo is still standing, untouched.

MICHAELANGELO
Rad-ical!

DONATELLO
Ec-lec-tic!

While Michaelangelo gives Donatello a look, Leo turns to Raphael, who still hasn't said anything. Then finally:

RAPHAEL
Just call me "Grasshopper"...

And as the Turtles realize the potential of their discovery

SERIES OF SHOTS

UNDER MUSIC:

128 EXT. OUTSIDE THE BARN - DAY

128

Raphael, mask turned, is trying to learn the new technique. But he's not quite getting it. The Turtles easily penetrate his defense, which amounts to nothing more than flailing around like a blind man. Donatello then steps up to try, neatly repelling a few blows with his own mask turned, and excited about his success. Raphael grumbles.

129 EXT. FARMHOUSE - DAY.

129

Casey and April pull up in the old pickup truck, grocery bags in the rear. Casey gets out and moves around to the passenger side, where April is having trouble with her door. But when Casey manages to open it, she slides over to the driver's side and exits there, rather than accept his help. She begins unloading groceries while Casey slams the door and rolls his eyes in an expression of, "I can't believe how pigheaded this girl is."

130 EXT. A CLEARING IN THE WOODS - DAY

130

Now it's Michaelangelo with mask turned, and he's doing a pretty good job against his brothers. Raphael then steps in to try again, but when he still has trouble, he begins lifting his mask to peek, drawing "fouls" from his brothers while he pleads his innocence.

131 INT. KITCHEN - EVENING

131

Casey chops some vegetables by the kitchen sink with a katana while April enters, her clothing and face smeared with dirt from an obvious stint of heavy labor. She heads straight for a drawer and removes a tube of ointment, trying to rub it into her back and neck. When Casey attempts to help, she jerks away, but he's had enough of this. He forcefully sits her down in a chair and begins massaging her back and shoulders. Reluctant at first, April quickly acquiesces and is soon enjoying it. A lot. And so is Casey.

131A THE TURTLES ENTER

131A

after a workout, and the massage stops. But Michaelangelo indicates a sore shoulder of his own, and when April holds up the ointment as if to ask if he'd like a rub, he shakes his head and opens another drawer, removing a bottle and holding it up for her to read. It's a bottle of "Turtle Wax." April reacts with a good-natured groan, and the other Turtles pat Mike on the shell - he's back making jokes again.

132 INT. BARN - NIGHT

132

CLOSE ON - A PAIR OF FAST-MOVING SAIS.

They whip about, blocking a number of blows as THE SHOT WIDENS TO REVEAL RAPHAEL, mask turned, training with his brothers inside the barn. And this time, he's got it.

133 INT. ATTIC - NIGHT

133

April leads Casey into the room and sits down next to him on some old boxes. She begins to show him her Turtle sketches. He's impressed - until he sees the one of himself in a beanie cap, which April tries to yank away. He gets it back, though, and after a moment of indecision, he and April share a laugh.

134 EXT. FIELD - LATE IN THE DAY

134

The Turtles continue to train intensely, playing a game of "Ninja hot potato" in which an apple is tossed about, and whoever gets it must defend against the other three while taking a bite and then passing it on. And when the apple finally reaches Leonardo, he blocks a few thrusts, takes the last bite, and then hurls the core as far as he can. The game is over, and with it as the Turtles gather together, sweating and breathing heavily. They look at each other without saying a word.

THE MUSIC CONCLUDES

And as they begin to nod in silent agreement

135 EXT. FARMHOUSE PORCH - SUNSET

135 where April and Casey sit in the makeshift swing, looking out at the passing of another day.

APRIL
So you actually played professionally?

CASEY
Until I got hurt. Less than a year.

APRIL
I'm sorry.

CASEY
Yeah. So was I...

A shutter BANGS behind them, and they instinctively turn to look. But when they face back, they both react with a start for now stand before them, in a row, beyond the porch.

THE TEENAGE MUTANT NINJA TURTLES

(CONTINUED)

135 CONTINUED:

135

CASEY
 (recovering) Guys, I told you, I hate it when you do that...

But April can see that they're not playing around.

APRIL
 What is it?

LEONARDO (simply)
 It's time to go back.

And as the sun blazes behind them, pulling the curtain on their last day in the country

DISSOLVE TO:

136 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - NIGHT

136

BUSTLING with activity, as The Shredder looks down on the whole of his operation from a lofty vantage point. His posture is pensive. Standing beside him is Tatsu, arms folded.

THEIR ENTIRE CONVERSATION TAKES PLACE IN JAPANESE, WITH SUBTITLES BENEATH.

TATSU
 Your empire flourishes, Master
 Shredder.

A long beat goes by in which The Shredder says nothing. Then:

SHREDDER
 What more from the rat?

TATSU
 We have tried everything, Master, but still he does not speak.

Another long beat goes by before Tatsu bravely ventures a question:

TATSU
 Why do they concern you so much, Master? They have not been seen in many days. Perhaps they are gone for good...

The longest beat of all passes before:

(CONTINUED)

136 CONTINUED:

136

SHREDDER
When the rat was captured, the Turtles attacked...
(beat)
... the way you described their fighting...

Shredder's eyes narrow within his helmet.

SHREDDER
(mostly to himself)
Something familiar...

CUT TO:

137 EXT. STREET ABOVE GRILL - NIGHT

137 the same street where the Pizza Man earlier made his sewer delivery, as Casey and April arrive in the old pickup truck. It is RAINING.

They both get out, immediately removing a tarp that covers the bed of the pickup, and four very stiff Turtles emerge and begin to stretch.

RAPHAEL
(working out a kink)
Ugh - now I know what it's like to travel without a green card.

Casey looks over the building beside the truck.

CASEY
Hey, this isn't too bad. Not bad at all, in fact...

He turns at the sound of a MANHOLE COVER BEING DISPLACED and sees Michaelangelo, already halfway down the sewer.

MICHAELANGELO
You comin', dude?

And as Casey realizes where the Turtles' "home" really is, and drops his head in an attitude of "Why me?"

138 INT. SEWER - MINUTES LATER - NIGHT

138

RAINWATER rushes down the center of the sewer. The four Turtles and April, carrying her diary and sketches, move along the tunnels while Casey brings up the rear with shoulders hunched, looking around like there might be a cave-in at any second.

*
*

He mumbles partly to himself, but also for the benefit of the others:

(CONTINUED)

138 CONTINUED:

138

CASEY

Great. Just great. First it's "The Farm That Time Forgot," and now this. Why don't I ever fall in with people who own condos?

DONATELLO

We're here.

139 INT. SEWER AT TURTLES' DEN DOOR - NIGHT

139

The Turtles have arrived at the boarded up door, which they swing open before entering

140 INT. DEN - NIGHT

140 still a shambles from The Foot's struggle to capture Splinter. Casey enters last and looks around.

CASEY

I guess it's hard to get good maid service in a sewer.

(beat)

Maybe you should try "Roto-Rooter."

APRIL

Will you quit complaining? It's just for the night.

RAPHAEL

I still don't see why we don't just get started right away.

LEONARDO

(patiently)

It's been a long drive, Raph. And before we go out advertising to The Foot that we're back, we could all use a few hours sleep.

RAPHAEL

(conceding)

Yeah, I know. You're right. I'm just...

A CLANGING SOUND from one of the cupboards interrupts him. Immediately at the ready, the Turtles draw their weapons and cautiously approach the suspicious cabinet.

(CONTINUED)

140 CONTINUED:

140

Donatello and Michaelangelo each take a door handle, and on a signal from Leonardo, they throw the doors open and...

They all relax.

APRIL

Danny?

A frightened Danny Pennington is huddled inside the cupboard.

DANNY

Don't shoot!

Raphael looks at Leo's katana, still pointed at the boy.

RAPHAEL

I don't think it's "loaded," kid.

April moves in and helps Danny from the cupboard.

APRIL

Danny, what're you doing here?

DANNY

Well, I... I... I ran away from home.

APRIL

Oh, god, your Dad must be having kittens!

(heading for phone)

Does this thing work...?

DANNY

No! Please - don't call - just let me stay here the night with you. Please? We can call him in the morning - I promise.

APRIL

Well...

CASEY

Hold it, hold it... What's all this about spending the night...

(looking for the cave-in again)

... down here?

DONATELLO

(a realization)

You're a claustrophobic!

(CONTINUED)

140 CONTINUED: (2)

140

CASEY
(pointing)
Hey, you wanna fist in the mouth?
I've never even looked at another guy before...!

APRIL (restraining her laughter)
He meant that you're afraid of enclosed areas.

CASEY (changing gears to defensive) Afraid? Me? Is that what you think? Well, hey, I don't have to take this stuff about bein'
"afraid"...
(feigning indignation)
... I'm gonna go sleep in the truck.

And as he exits to the sound of April's laughter, which she can no longer contain

CUT TO:

140A INT. DEN - LATER - NIGHT

140A *

where April shows Danny her sketches.

DANNY
Jeez, these are good.

APRIL
Well, thank you.

DANNY
You think maybe I could have one?

APRIL
Well...

DANNY Please?
(joking)
Just so I'll know all this really happened.

APRIL
Well... sure, why not?

(CONTINUED)

140A CONTINUED:

140A *

DANNY (taking one aside) Thanks.

*
*
*

Michaelangelo passes by, rubbing his stomach.

*

MICHAELANGELO
Man, I could really go for a little deep dish action right about now.

*
*
*
*

DANNY
Well, I had some pizza down here the other day - there might be some left over.

*
*
*
*

He points out a pizza box on the counter near Donatello, who picks it up and looks inside before the eager Michaelangelo can reach it.

*
*
*

MICHAELANGELO
Well?

*
*

DONATELLO Question.

*
*

MICHAELANGELO Yeah?

*
*

DONATELLO
You like penicillin on your pizza?

*
*

He shows the contents of the box to Michaelangelo, who winces in pain. The stricken Turtle then pulls himself erect and raises a sad salute:

*
*
*

MICHAELANGELO
(singing "Taps")
Do-do-dooooo, do-do-doooo...

*
*
*

And as Donatello gives him a little backhand to the upper arm

*

CUT TO:

141 INT. PICKUP TRUCK - LATER - NIGHT

141 where Casey jerkily bundles up in a blanket while stretched out in the front seat. He's still rankled.

CASEY
(mimicking April)
"... afraid of enclosed areas..."

(CONTINUED)

141 CONTINUED:

141

He settles in with the blanket, and then remembers something.
And after he reaches around to roll down the window a little

CUT TO:

142 INT. DEN - LATER - NIGHT

142 where the gentle SNORING of the Turtles can be heard in the darkened room. A small, vague shape moves toward the door.

*
*

And as the shape exits the Den

CUT TO:

- 143 EXT. STREET ABOVE GRILL - MINUTES LATER - NIGHT 143
as the manhole cover is pushed aside, the CLANK alerting Casey inside the truck.
Danny emerges from the manhole. He takes off up the street and disappears between two buildings. *
And as Casey quietly exits the truck to follow *
CUT TO:
- 144 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - LATER - NIGHT - ESTABLISHING 144 where much of the activity has died down, and most of the kids, especially the newer recruits, are asleep in the dormitory area.
- 144A EXT. BRIDGE - NIGHT 144A
Casey shadows Danny, following him across.
- 145 EXT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - NIGHT 145
as Danny pauses outside a door and ties a band around his head. He then opens the door and enters. A second later, Casey follows, stepping inside
- 146 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - NIGHT 146
where Casey is momentarily taken aback by the extent of what he sees.
He quickly returns to reality, however, when two Foot approach, and he must duck behind some contraband to avoid being spotted.
The Foot pass, and Casey peeks out again - but Danny is nowhere to be seen.
And as Casey mouths a silent "damn"
DANNY wanders into
- 147 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - THE SECLUDED AREA - NIGHT 147
Danny is still wearing the standard-issue headband with dragon symbol on it. He also wears a very confused look on his face as he fingers something in his pocket. *

(CONTINUED)

147 CONTINUED:

147

It's perhaps no accident that he has "wandered" here, for when Splinter speaks, Danny reacts as if he expected it.

(CONTINUED)

147 CONTINUED: (2)

147

SPLINTER
(very weak)
I have not seen you for many days.

DANNY
I've been at my "hideout" a lot lately.

SPLINTER
And do you now "hide" from your surrogate family as well?

Danny heaves a long sigh.

DANNY
I don't know...

SPLINTER
I, too, once had a family, Daniel.

Danny looks up. He's willing to listen.

SPLINTER
Many years ago, I lived in Japan...

And like the story of the growth of the Turtles is told with a series of isolated images in high contrast black and white, with one occasionally hand-tinted or in slow motion to enhance the visual.

FLASHBACK #2

148 INT. BLACK LIMBO

148

SPLINTER (V.O.)
... a pet of my Master Yoshi, mimicking his movements from my cage and learning the mysterious art of Ninjitsu - for Yoshi was one of the finest shadow warriors of his clan. His only rival was a man named Oroku Nagi, and they competed in all things - but none more fiercely than for the love of a woman...

Inside his cage, THE CAMERA TRACKS around Splinter, again just a normal sized rat, as he mimics the movements of his Master Yoshi outside the cage.

149 INT. BLACK LIMBO

149

... Tang Shen. One night, after Tang Shen confessed to Nagi that her love was only for my master, Nagi flew into a rage and began to beat her.

Yoshi arrived just in time...

CLOSE ON - Tang Shen, a beautiful Japanese woman.

The light from an opening door illuminates Nagi, who holds a battered Tang Shen. Yoshi's eyes - large, red, enraged - are seen IN FRAME off to the side.

150 INT. BLACK LIMBO

150

... but when the fight was over...

COLLAGE: Hands punching, feet kicking, teeth gritting - in all scales and sizes. A bolt of lightning expresses the rage. The red eyes remain throughout.

151 INT. SECLUDED AREA - NIGHT - BACK TO SCENE

151

SPLINTER
... Nagi lay dead.

Danny moves closer, fascinated.

SPLINTER
The clan's code of honor was clear: Yoshi must now take his own life...

FLASHBACK RESUMES WITH:

152 INT. BLACK LIMBO

152 *

SPLINTER (V.O.)
... But my master felt he had done nothing wrong, and so decided to flee with Tang Shen...

Yoshi and Tang Shen embrace, with a caged Splinter in b.g. The two then EXIT FRAME, leaving Splinter behind, until...

(CONTINUED)

- 152 CONTINUED: 152
... and me to America. ... a hand comes back and removes the cage.
- 153 INT. BLACK LIMBO 153
But Nagi left behind a younger brother, Oroku Saki, who vowed vengeance on my master. A weeping boy, age six, pounds his fists on Nagi's coffin.
- 154 FLASH FORWARD 154
The boy fueled his training with hatred, and became the most feared Ninja warrior in all Japan, Saki, now sixteen, TURNS INTO CAMERA.
- 155 FLASH FORWARD 155
honing his skills with acts of thievery until he was ready to fulfill his vow. Saki, age twenty-six, TURNS INTO CAMERA as a line of fists punch upward in bottom f.g.
- 156 INT. BLACK LIMBO 156
(quieter)
I remember the night well...
... every detail indelibly etched, as my master returned home to find his beloved Shen lying on the floor.
The skyline of New York City is seen. (Real)
The body of Tang Shen lies slumped on the floor.
CLOSE ON - Yoshi, as he sees her.
(controlled anger)
And then he saw her killer. Yoshi's eyes suddenly react to an approaching threat.
Saki wasted no words... Saki - in full black dogi, but hoodless - comes TOWARD CAMERA, feet first, with katana drawn.
... and during the struggle, my cage was broken... From inside his cage, Splinter watches as Yoshi and Saki fall toward him.

(CONTINUED)

156 CONTINUED:

156

CLOSE ON - Saki's hand raising his katana.

CLOSE ON - the edge of the cage, crashing to the floor.

... and I leapt to Saki's face, biting and clawing! But he threw me to the floor and took one swipe with his katana, slicing my ear...! And then he was gone...

Splinter leaps to Saki's face.

Splinter lands on the floor, and Saki's katana swooshes INTO FRAME.

(calmer)
My attack had come too late.
My Master Yoshi was dead.

HIGH ANGLE as Yoshi's body settles over that of Tang Shen.

(beat)
And I was alone...

CLOSE ON - Splinter, half his right ear gone, staring at Yoshi's body.

157 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - SECLUDED AREA - NIGHT -
BACK TO SCENE as Danny stares at Splinter.

157

DANNY
Whatever happened to this...
"Oroku Saki?"

SPLINTER
No one really knows...

He looks straight at Danny, then lifts his eyes to the boy's headband.

SPLINTER
... but you wear his symbol upon your brow...

And as Danny silently makes the connection

158 INT. ANOTHER AREA OF WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - NIGHT

158 as Casey continues his search for the boy, hindered by his inability to move about freely. To remedy the situation, he pulls a hooded Foot behind some contraband and winds up for a "lullaby" punch, while back in

159 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - SECLUDED AREA - NIGHT

159

Danny slowly removes his headband and drops it to the floor. He's finally made up his mind.

SHREDDER (O.S.)
What are you doing in there, boy?

Danny whips around to see

SHREDDER

standing in the entrance to the secluded area with Tatsu. If the boy was frightened of the master before, he's literally terrified now.

DANNY
(with an effort)
Nothing...

But it's easy for Shredder to see that this isn't the truth. He enters the area.

SHREDDER
You're lying to me...

DANNY
No.

Shredder stands directly in front of the boy now, studying him.

SHREDDER
And you're hiding something as well...

Without his eyes ever leaving Danny's, Shredder holds a hand just to the side of the boy's head and begins tracing the outline of his body - moving his hand as if it were some sort of metal detector. Danny grows more and more nervous.

Finally, the hand stops next to Danny's pocket, and in the next instant, The Shredder has removed a piece of paper there. He quickly unfolds it, revealing the Turtle sketch April gave to Danny. Danny wilts.

*
*
*

And as he turns toward Tatsu, his eyes are enough to belie the sinister smile that must be forming inside his helmet.

SHREDDER
They're back.

CUT TO:

160 OMITTED

160 *

161 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - LATER - NIGHT

161 which is now ABUZZ with activity. The entire army of black-hooded Foot is amassing for an all-out attack.

*

Shredder stands by a door as a wave of The Foot streams past him outside. He turns to Tatsu, speaking in Japanese, WITH SUBTITLES BENEATH.

*

*

SHREDDER

There will be no mistakes this time. I go myself.

Tatsu lowers his head slightly.

SHREDDER

Tatsu.
(the head comes up)
The rat...

A long beat goes by before Shredder tosses his lieutenant a bone:

SHREDDER

(in English) Kill it.

*

(CONTINUED)

161 CONTINUED: 161

And The Shredder is gone.

Tatsu then turns to carry out his order and is seen among the streaming Foot as he passes.

DANNY

And with the look on Danny's face confirming that he heard everything

CUT TO:

161A EXT. BRIDGE - NIGHT 161A *

The Foot run across the bridge, headed for the city. *

162 EXT. A STREET - NIGHT 162

as The Foot remove a manhole cover and begin pouring in.

163 EXT. ANOTHER STREET - NIGHT 163 and a different manhole acting like a giant drain for the sea of Foot surrounding it.

163A EXT. YET ANOTHER STREET - NIGHT 163A where three remaining Foot quickly descend, until the last head disappears below street level.

And as the sewers are thus invaded

CUT TO:

164 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - NIGHT 164

where Danny rushes in a panic past a few Foot stragglers, until one of them unexpectedly sticks out an arm and hauls him in, carrying the boy behind some boxes.

DANNY

(struggling)

Hey...! Hey! What're you doing?

What're you... who is this?

Casey yanks the hood off his "borrowed" dogi.

(CONTINUED)

164 CONTINUED:

164

CASEY

Recognize me now, kid? And you've got one hell of a lot of explaining to do, you little...

(CONTINUED)

164 CONTINUED:

164

DANNY

You've gotta come with me!

CASEY

What are you talkin' about, "come with you?" In about two seconds I'm gonna...

DANNY

They're gonna kill Splinter!

And as the name registers with Casey

CUT TO:

165 INT. SEWER - NIGHT

165 as the first wave of Foot floods the tunnel that leads to THE BOARDED-UP DOORWAY of the Den.

166 INT. THE SEWER AT TURTLES' DEN DOOR - NIGHT

166

The Foot pause. They've arrived. And as one of them forcefully kicks down the door

167 INT. DEN - NIGHT

167 as The Foot pour inside, ready to attack. But their tension soon melts into confusion when they see that with neither Turtles nor April anywhere to be seen.

THE ROOM IS EMPTY

The tentative Foot move further into the Den. A few shrug. A couple even scratch their heads. And just when they actually start to believe that their trip may have been for naught

A HUGE BLAST OF STEAM from the overhead pipes obscures the room with vapor, and sets off a DIN OF VOICES SUDDENLY ENGAGED IN RIOTOUS FIGHTING.

(CONTINUED)

167 CONTINUED:

167

The voices quickly dissipate, however, and a green hand is seen turning a large valve, shutting off the steam and leaving four green figures standing among the vanquished hoard of, literally, two dozen Foot - their bodies slumped and draped in every conceivable position around the room.

The Turtles haven't even broken a sweat. Raphael, next to the valve, is actually eating an apple.

RAPHAEL

Gosh, I do hope there's more of them...

A second wave of Foot enters the Den.

RAPHAEL

Ah, good.

And as the Turtles set themselves for Round Two, without the element of surprise

CUT TO:

168 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - NIGHT

168 as Danny proves his sincerity to Casey by leading him to the 169 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - SECLUDED AREA - NIGHT

169 where Splinter still hangs in chains.

Casey is a little taken aback by the sight of the giant rat -or perhaps his condition - but quickly steps forward to inspect the manacles.

CASEY

(to Danny)

Where do they...?

But Danny has anticipated the question, and tosses Casey a set of keys that were hanging near the entrance.

Casey begins unlocking the manacles while Splinter, still very weak, looks up at him.

SPLINTER

Who are you?

CASEY

The name's Casey Jones. I'm...

(CONTINUED)

169 CONTINUED:

169

He looks off in mid-sentence, realizing that he's about to say something that he hasn't said in a long, long time:

CASEY
I'm a friend.

The last manacle is unlocked, and he and Danny ease Splinter down, helping him toward the entrance.

CASEY
Okay, let's get the hell out of...

Tatsu has finally arrived.

And as he stands facing the three escapees with a mob of younger recruits behind him

CUT TO:

170 INT. DEN - NIGHT

170 where the BATTLE is in full swing. Even more Foot bodies are piled up around the room now, while the Turtles continue to make it look easy.

MICHAELANGELO

harasses one Foot in particular, "steering" him to a specific spot in the room by whacking him on the side with a 'chuck.

MICHAELANGELO
A little more to the left...
(whack)
A little more...
(whack)
Right there.
(whack)
Stop. Perfect.

A bo suddenly stabs down from the ceiling and hits the Foot on the head, knocking him out. He falls back on an already sizeable pile of Foot behind him.

MICHAELANGELO
(looking up)
You're a natural, sis!

He gives a thumbs up to

(CONTINUED)

170 CONTINUED:

170

APRIL

sequestered behind a ventilation grate in the ceiling, smiling down with her bo.

APRIL

Thanks!

And as Michaelangelo begins maneuvering another Foot to "the spot"

CUT TO:

171 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - NIGHT

171 where Danny now sits on a nearby crate supporting Splinter, while Casey faces Tatsu alone.

A few of the older thugs - the same ones seen in the parking lot and on Shredder's platform - try to move toward Casey, but Tatsu holds them back with a couple of angry grunts:

TATSU

Unh... Ngh...

He wants Casey all to himself. He steps forward.

CASEY

(imitating him)

"Unh... Ngh..." - you know, a little Primatene might help clear that up...

Judging by the SNAP of his head, Casey probably never even saw the punch coming, but it sends him staggering backwards, CRASHING into a pile of stolen goods. He gets up quickly as Tatsu pursues.

CASEY

That's gonna cost ya, Tinkerbell...

BANG, and Casey is sent flying into another pile.

CASEY

(groggier)

I don't think you're listening...

BOOM, and he's found yet another painful pile.

(CONTINUED)

171 CONTINUED:

171

CASEY
(reeling)
I'm really startin' to pick up on a little "language barrier" thing here...

BING, BANG, BOOM, and the pattern continues - Tatsu punching and kicking Casey around like a rag doll.

Finally, the dazed Casey comes to rest on top of yet another pile, unable to move. But the fates have not completely abandoned him, and when he opens his eyes, he finds himself staring at several clubs - for this is a pile of contraband sports equipment, and he's lying right on top of a golf bag.

While Tatsu approaches, Casey slowly removes a driver from the bag. And just as the Ninja bulldog is about to deliver his fatal blow, Casey rams the head of the driver into his stomach, doubling him over.

Standing, Casey sets himself for the big tee shot:

CASEY Fore!

He swings the driver just like a pro, hitting Tatsu right in the chin and actually lifting him into the air before his body CRASHES down on the floor - spread-eagled and very unconscious.

CASEY
(to the club; lovingly)
I'll never call golf a dull game again.

He kisses the club's head.

And as he turns, facing the handful of thugs and roomful of younger recruits still standing there

CUT TO:

172 INT. SEWER - NIGHT

172 as Leonardo and Raphael push the remaining Foot from the Den out into the already crowded tunnel, where the BATTLE continues.

DONATELLO
Gang way!

(CONTINUED)

172 CONTINUED:

172

Donatello comes flashing by on his skateboard, but there's nothing lazy about the S-curves he's doing now: He quickly and skillfully wends his way down the tunnel, dispatching Foot left and right with his industrious bo.

DONATELLO Yahhhhhhhh...!

He continues littering the tunnel with fallen Foot, leaving behind an impressive score.

RAPHAEL
(shouting after him)
Show-off!

CUT TO:

173 INT. WAREHOUSE-SHREDDER'S - NIGHT

173 where the standoff between Casey and the kids continues. Casey looks them over, his club at the ready.

But most of them just look confused. A few even seem pleased that Tatsu has fallen.

Except for the older thugs.

HEAD THUG
Well, why are we just standing here - let's get him!

CASEY
(wielding club)
You gonna be first, junior?

HEAD THUG
He can't stop us all!
(no one moves)
Look what he did to Master Tatsu!

DANNY
He killed Shinsho!

This seems to strike the kids more deeply than anything said before.

HEAD THUG
It was an accident!
(no one moves; playing his ace)
We have a loyalty to The Shredder!

*
*
*
*

(CONTINUED)

173 CONTINUED:

173

SPLINTER
(forcefully)
The Shredder uses you.

*
*
*

The teens are visibly taken aback by the talking rat.

*

SPLINTER
He poisons your minds to obtain that which he desires. He cares nothing for you - or the people you hurt.

*
*
*
*
*

The words themselves, and not merely the voice, now seem to be taking their effect on the group. But the Head Thug isn't giving up:

*
*
*

HEAD THUG
We're a family!

*
*

CASEY
"Family?" "Family?" Is this...

*
*

(CONTINUED)

173 CONTINUED: (2)

173

He makes a fierce sweeping gesture that includes the warehouse, Tatsu, and the area that held Splinter.

CASEY

... this... this the kind of
"family" you really want?

Making a decision, Casey moves over to Danny and gently lifts Splinter in his arms. He walks toward a door still blocked by a group of kids and stops. A moment goes by.

And as they part to let him out the door

CUT TO:

174 EXT. TURTLE STREET - ABOVE GRILL - NIGHT

174 where the old pickup truck is still parked. MUFFLED SOUNDS OF FIGHTING can be heard below the street, when suddenly

A MANHOLE COVER AND BODY OF A FOOT BLAST INTO THE AIR like the cork and spray from a champagne bottle, followed by more Foot and the pursuing Turtles, as the fight spills out onto the street.

174A EXT. STREET - STORM DRAIN - NIGHT

174A

The Foot squeeze out of the drain and into the street.

*

174B EXT. STREET AT STORM DRAIN - NIGHT

174B

The Turtles' new fighting technique is obviously serving them well. They move easily, fluidly, confidently. And despite still being outnumbered, they even appear to be enjoying themselves. Particularly who team up in a flying leap to sandwich one unfortunate Foot between their shells. Then, while still fighting back-to-back, they comment on the tactic and the unconscious Foot:

DONATELLO AND MICHAELANGELO

(CONTINUED)

174B CONTINUED:

174B

MICHAELANGELO

Looks like this one's suffering from "shell shock!"

DONATELLO

(shaking his head)
Nehhhhh - too derivative.

(CONTINUED)

174B CONTINUED: (2)

174B

MICHAELANGELO

(trying again)

Boy, I guess we can really "shell it out."

DONATELLO

Too cliché.

MICHAELANGELO

(thinking)

Well... it was a "shell" of a good hit!

DONATELLO

(beat)

I like it.

MICHAELANGELO

Aw right!

They separate, and the fight continues.

174C EXT. FIRE ESCAPE - NIGHT

174C *

With fallen Foot now beginning to litter the street, Leonardo and Raphael chase a few stragglers up a fire escape. Michaelangelo spots this and wants to get in on the action.

MICHAELANGELO

Hey! Wait for me!

Unfortunately, his attention has been drawn away just long enough for a Foot to take a swipe at his head with a katana. The sword seems destined to hit its mark, but Michaelangelo's head unexpectedly pops down into his shell at the last second, and the sword sails harmlessly by. The head then pops up again, and Michaelangelo lays out the stunned Foot with his nunchukus. The Turtle clenches his fists and looks up at the heavens, energized by the moment:

MICHAELANGELO

God, I love being a turtle!

And as he takes off for the fire escape

175 EXT. ROOFTOP - NIGHT

175 as The Foot are forced back from the fire escape by Leonardo and Raphael. They are followed by more Foot, then Donatello, and finally Michaelangelo - and the four Turtles BATTLE what remains of the Foot invasion force.

(CONTINUED)

175 CONTINUED:

175

But a BLUR from a higher rooftop suddenly lands in their midst, stopping the fight. And as The Foot peel back, the Turtles get their first look at their final hurdle to victory: The Shredder.

LEONARDO

Anybody have any idea about who -or what - this is?

MICHAELANGELO

I dunno...
(re: armor)
... but I bet he never has to look for a can opener.

SHREDDER

You fight well. In the old style.
But you've caused me enough trouble. Now you face - The Shredder.

DONATELLO

"The Shredder?"

MICHAELANGELO

(shrugging)
Maybe all that hardware's for makin' cole slaw...

The Shredder twirls his six foot, pencil-sharpened bo and sets himself.

RAPHAEL

I got him.

Raphael leaps at The Shredder with both sais, but to his surprise, finds himself flat on his shell after being hit by the bo.

MICHAELANGELO

Wuh-oh...

Leo tries this time, but the result is the same. Michaelangelo then turns to Donatello: Who goes next?

MICHAELANGELO

Flip you for it?

Meanwhile, back down on

176 EXT. THE STREET BELOW - NIGHT 176

Casey arrives with Danny and Splinter, now moving on his own.

They are quickly joined by the kids from the warehouse, who have followed them here, and they all stand and survey the scene around them in quiet amazement: The street is strewn with dozens of unconscious Foot.

And while April, covered with dirt from the ventilation duct, finds her way out of the sewer via an open manhole near the back of the crowd, everyone begins to turn their attention to where Michaelangelo and Donatello, on their shells, shake off their hits and stand back up.

177 EXT. THE ROOFTOP ABOVE - NIGHT 177

LEONARDO
Okay, guys, teamwork...

The four Turtles all rush The Shredder at once, but his bo is as accurate as ever, and they are knocked back one by one, while

178 EXT. THE STREET BELOW - NIGHT 178

Casey turns to make a comment to Splinter.

CASEY
Well, Splint, looks like your boys are... *
*

But Splinter is no longer there.

Confused, Casey looks around, while

179 EXT. THE ROOFTOP ABOVE - NIGHT 179

the Turtles reassess their situation, breathing heavily.

MICHAELANGELO
Now... at exactly... what point... did we lose control here?

DONATELLO
Maybe.. somebody oughtta tell him... that we're the good guys.

RAPHAEL
(to Leo)
Any thoughts?

(CONTINUED)

179 CONTINUED:

179

LEONARDO

I've only got one thought...
(staring at Shredder)
This guy knows where Splinter is.

This crystallizes the other Turtles, and they set themselves with a new determination. Shredder sees it, but still isn't prepared for the fury of their next assault. And as they battle with a new fervor *
*
*

179A EXT. THE STREET BELOW - NIGHT

179A *

as Casey's eyes wander from the rooftop to the sidewalk beneath the fire escape, where several Foot stragglers amass. Their gestures indicate that they're preparing to climb up and rejoin the fray. *
*
*
*

CASEY

Oh, boy - leftovers. *
*

He heads in their direction, but spots a faster means to get there - a huge garbage truck abandoned at the outbreak of the fracas. *
*
*

He hops inside the *
*

179B INT. GARBAGE TRUCK CAB - NIGHT

179B *

and quickly rips two wires down from beneath the steering column. Crossing them, the engine roars to life. *
*

CASEY

Man, talk about an easy hot wire... *
*
(looking around the ugly interior) *
*
Yeah, like everyone wants to steal one of these. *
*

He throws the truck into gear and heads for the Foot, who have started climbing onto the fire escape. Casey accelerates, barrelling down on them, and they finally realize his destination: *
*
*

CASEY

(on the jazz) *
Wahhhhh-haaaa! *

179C EXT. STREET BELOW FIRE ESCAPE - NIGHT 179C *

as BOOM! - the truck plows into the fire escape, causing it to buckle at a point higher up, and raining the structure and The Foot attached to it down onto the street below. *

Casey jumps out, making short work of the few stunned Foot that have managed to regain their feet. *

He then slowly untenses while surveying the wreckage and fallen Foot about him. A grin begins to form. *

CASEY
It's a talent... *

And while he admires his handiwork *

179D EXT. ROOFTOP - NIGHT 179D *

as The Shredder is finally able to repel the attack of the four Turtles, but not before his dogi has been rent, and blood drawn. *

RAPHAEL
(a quiet threat)
Where's Splinter? *

The Shredder is now surrounded by four very grim-looking Turtles, and he doesn't like what he sees. It's time for a new tactic. *

SHREDDER
Ah, the rat. So it has a name.
(beat; coldly)
It had a name. *

LEONARDO
You lie! *

SHREDDER
(enjoying it)
Do I? *

His announcement achieves its desired effect, for Leonardo momentarily forgets his training and flies at him in a rage. *

But with a few quick thrusts, The Shredder has the fallen Leo at his mercy, his foot on the Turtle's chest, his bo ready to run him through. He stops the advance of the other Turtles with a frenzied warning: *

SHREDDER
He dies...! *

The Turtles back off, and The Shredder seizes the moment: *

(CONTINUED)

179D CONTINUED:

179D *

SHREDDER Weapons!
(nodding toward the roof's edge)
Now!

*
*
*
*
*

The edge in his voice leaves little question that he will kill Leo, and the Turtles slowly comply with his demand, tossing their weapons over the roof.

*
*
*

The Shredder stares at them a moment, the point of his bo pressing Leo's throat. When he finally speaks, a hint of disappointment colors his voice:

*
*
*

SHREDDER
Fools. The three of you might have overpowered me with the loss of but one... Now your fate...
(tensing to kill)
...will be his...!

*
*
*
*
*

RAPHAEL No...!

*
*

SPLINTER (O.S.)
Saki!

And The Shredder pulls up, looking to the side and seeing standing on the edge of the roof.

SPLINTER

Leonardo quickly rolls away while The Shredder is distracted, and an overjoyed Michaelangelo takes a step toward his master.

MICHAELANGELO
Splinter!

(CONTINUED)

179D CONTINUED: (2)

179D *

But Raphael puts out an arm, holding Michaelangelo back. The Turtles have obviously heard the name shouted by their master before, and despite their happiness at his presence, they can also see that his entire being is focused on just one thing: The Shredder.

The Turtles slowly back away, leaving an open space between the two old rivals.

SPLINTER

Yes, Oroku Saki, I know who you are. We met many years ago, in the home of my master - Hamato Yoshi.

Within his helmet, SHREDDER'S EYES peer even harder at the rat, and then relax. The light has finally dawned.

SHREDDER

You...

He slowly removes the helmet and fingers the horrible scars on the side of his face. Anger is welling within him.

SHREDDER

And now I will finish what I began with your ear...

With a PRIMAL GROWL building in his throat, his face distorting, The Shredder finally explodes, running straight at Splinter with his sharpened bo.

And rather than drawing the pair of nunchukus tucked under his belt, or even tensing to fight, Splinter instead visibly relaxes, leaving himself wide open for the blow.

But in the instant before Shredder is upon him, the nunchukus FLASH out at incredible speed:

SPLINTER

Tai...!

and in the next instant, Splinter wraps their chain around Shredder's bo and turns him toward the roof's edge:

SPLINTER

Chee...!

(CONTINUED)

179D CONTINUED: (3)

179D *

It happens with lightning speed, and when all motions suddenly cease, Splinter is left cradling the bo in the chain of his nunchukus, looking down at Shredder, who leans back into empty space with his feet on the edge of the roof while holding onto the only thing that's keeping him from plummeting - the bo that Splinter supports.

For a moment, the only sound is of The Shredder's exertion as he struggles to hang on. Then:

SPLINTER
Death comes for us all, Oroku Saki. But something much worse comes for you...

The Shredder drops one hand from the bo and reaches around to the nape of his neck, removing something.

SPLINTER
For when you die, it will be...

His face contorting in hate, The Shredder hurls a dagger at Splinter, whose head jerks aside even as his hand flashes up to catch the weapon - a hand no longer holding the nunchukus - as The Shredder SCREAMS to the ground below.

179E EXT. STREET BELOW - NIGHT

179E *

But he lands instead in the garbage truck, beside which Casey still stands:

CASEY (exaggerated insincerity) Whoops.

He then flips a lever on the side of the truck, and its

HUGE METALLIC JAWS

begin to close over The Shredder, accompanied by the SCREECHING AND GRINDING of metal upon metal, as the truck lurches under the unusual strain and an occasional SPARK flies. The jaws CLAMP shut, and the Shredder is gone.

179F EXT. ROOFTOP - NIGHT

179F *

SPLINTER
(looking down)
... without honor...

(CONTINUED)

179F CONTINUED:

179F *

Splinter tosses the dagger aside, forever closing the book on this chapter from his past.

And amid the sound of GATHERING SIRENS, as the Turtles surround their father for a hug

CUT TO:

180 EXT. THE STREET BELOW - NIGHT

180

as police cars start rolling in, further illuminating the scene with headlights and flashers.

The police slowly exit their cars, barely believing what they see: It looks like a war zone, with Foot lying all over the place, although a few have already started to wake up.

(CONTINUED)

180 CONTINUED:

180

A Channel Six News van quickly follows, and as Charles bundles out of the vehicle

DANNY

sees him from a distance and starts heading his way.

180A EXT. STREET - NIGHT

180A

In his rush, Danny passes by April, unnoticed by her. But then he stops, remembering something. Even though he's in a hurry, he removes some money from his pocket, counts out a specific number of bills, and then runs back.

DANNY

April?

APRIL

Danny...!

DANNY

April, here.

APRIL

What is this fo...?

DANNY

(already heading off)

It's something I owe you - trust me!

He leaves the confused April behind and runs over to

180B CHARLES

180B who turns at the sound of:

DANNY (O.S.)

Dad...!

CHARLES

(shock)

Danny...

But the shock quickly changes to joy as the boy rushes into his arms, and Charles goes a little overboard on the hugs and kisses:

(CONTINUED)

180B CONTINUED:

180B

CHARLES

Danny! Danny, Danny - god, where have you been? I've had the whole city looking for you! Are you okay? Are you all right? Danny?

DANNY

It's okay, Dad, I'm okay. Really, I'm okay. And, Dad...
 (they look at each other)
 ... it's just 'Dan' now, okay?

CHARLES

Dan...

And as Charles responds with another bear hug

180C THE POLICE

180C

continue to mop up the area, helping more of the recovering Foot to their feet.

Chief Sterns is among the uniformed officers, trying to get a clue as to what caused all this. He spots the group of kids still around Casey, and barks a few orders to his men:

CHIEF STERNS

Those kids over there - don't let 'em get away! I wanna talk to 'em!

And as some of the police move over to corral the kids, who show no signs of fleeing

180D APRIL

180D walks away from a now pleading Charles, who is followed by the Channel Six News crew.

CHARLES

But, April, I told you - there were circumstances! I need you to cover this!

APRIL

(still walking)
 Well, I don't know, Charles. You know, May Williams over at Channel Five has her own office...

(CONTINUED)

180D CONTINUED:

180D

The crew smiles. They love her.

CHARLES
(happy to oblige)
You can have an office.

APRIL
She has a corner office.

CHARLES (agreed)
A corner office.

APRIL
(still walking)
She's also the highest paid field reporter in New York.

CHARLES
(it hurts, but)
Now you are?

April stops and turns around, shaking Charles' hand.

APRIL
Well, you're a tough negotiator, Charles, but... okay - I'll come back.

The crew applauds, and Charles goes into high gear.

CHARLES
Okay, let's get her cleaned up!
Somebody throw a blazer on her
- let's go, let's go...!

And as they head back toward the van

180E CHIEF STERNS

180E stands in front of the group of kids, which includes the older thugs seen in the warehouse.

CHIEF STERNS
All right, now I want some answers! Just what in god's name happened out here? Somebody better talk to me.

The kids look at each other, a few of them glancing at the rooftop where the Turtles fought. No one says anything.

(CONTINUED)

180E CONTINUED: (3)

180E *

Finally, the Head Thug steps forward, and a moment of tense silence goes by before:

HEAD THUG

Go check out the East warehouse on Lairdman Island. You'll get your answers there.

And as the kids nod in unspoken agreement

180F CASEY

180F

finally catches up to April near the news van as she prepares to go on the air.

CASEY

I've been lookin' all over for you.

APRIL

(a quick glance)
Oh, Casey, hi.

Casey, still wearing the marks from his earlier encounter with Tatsu, looks at himself before saying:

CASEY

"Hi?" That's it? I stand here lookin' like I've just called Mike Tyson a sissy and you say "hi?"

APRIL

Well, you don't need an ambulance, do you?

CASEY

Well, no, but...

APRIL

Well, then just shut up and kiss me, will ya? I've got a report to do.

CASEY

(beat; taken aback;
then)
I love it when you're pushy.

And as he sweeps her into his arms for the big kiss

CUT TO:

181 EXT. ROOFTOP - NIGHT

181

as Splinter and the Turtles look down.

DONATELLO

Wooooo...! Nine-point-nine-five!

RAPHAEL

All right, April!

MICHAELANGELO

All right, Casey!

Leo steps back, pumping his fist.

LEONARDO

We were awesome!

The other Turtles join in.

MICHAELANGELO

Bod-a-cious!

RAPHAEL

Bitchin'!

They turn to Donatello, but he's been burned on this before, and holds up his hands as if to say, "Don't look at me."

The other Turtles return to trying to sum up their experience with the perfect word, each putting forth his favorite candidate: "Awesome!" "Radical!" "Hellacious!" - with no agreement.

Then Splinter raises a finger, and the debate stops. He looks like he's about to say the most wise and sage thing ever spoken.

SPLINTER

I have always liked...

(beat)

... Cowabunga.

The Turtles just stare at him a moment, and then smiles begin to break out on their faces.

THE TURTLES

(in unison)

Cowa-bun-ga!

And with 'high threes' all around, the Turtle Battle Cry is born.

And as Splinter turns, summing up the evening not with a word, but with a knowing grin

DISSOLVE TO:

182 EXT. SKYSCRAPER - DAY - ESTABLISHING 182
a steel and glass monolith to the genius of man.

183 INT. PUBLISHER'S OFFICE - DAY 183 covered with posters of comic book heroes, many of them rather outlandish.

April and Danny sit in chairs before a huge executive desk, behind which sits a man wearing an immaculate business suit and glasses. *

He's looking through a folder containing April's sketches of the Turtles.

Finally, he closes the folder.

PUBLISHER
These are very interesting, Miss O'Neil. But as the basis for a comic book, I'm afraid the idea is just too...
(searching for the right word)
... farfetched.

April and Danny can't help but laugh, not only for the irony, but because they can see something that he can't through the window behind him: *

THE TEENAGE MUTANT NINJA TURTLES

stuck to the outside of the window and reacting with unrestrained exasperation.

And as Michaelangelo slaps his forehead, falling from his position

CUT TO:

184 EXT. THE BUILDING - DAY 184 and the ledge of the floor beneath the other Turtles, where one of Michaelangelo's hands hangs on.

He pulls himself up to the ledge on his elbows, cradles his chin, and then turns, LOOKING DIRECTLY INTO CAMERA:

MICHAELANGELO
"Farfetched..."

(CONTINUED)

4/25/89

121.

184 CONTINUED:

184

And off his final look of incredulity

FADE OUT:

THE END