Boston Youth Cleanup Corps — Hard Work Pays Off

by Rosa Freda

The Boston Youth Cleanup Corps (BYCC), in order to keep teens out of trouble and off the streets for the summer, has initiated a community cleanup program for teens. Four organizations in Charlestown engaged cleanup groups and hired from eight to 20 local teens each to work at various areas around the neighborhood.

Boston Community Schools, in collaboration with the Boys & Girls Club, have sponsored crews at Charlestown Community Schools at its Charlestown High School summer location and at the Charlestown clubhouse on Green Street. This summer BYCC was able to employ an additional crew based at the Boston Housing Authority's (BHA) Bunker Hill Housing Development.

These programs run until Aug. 25 and pay the teenagers hourly wages for a 25-hour work week, keeping them gainfully employed everyday from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The fourth program is sponsored by the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) and is running through Labor Day. These young staffers keep full-time hours, cleaning and sprucing from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The BHA cleanup crew, 20 teens strong, is responsible for cleaning lots, alleys and vacant areas in the development. Catherine Kennedy and Timothy Donovan supervise the group, and according to Kennedy, the objective is "to initiate an underlying theme to keep (the development) clean." She is enthusiastic about the cleanup program because she believes that the young people will learn to respect public property.

The BHA crew members are Fernando Arroyo, Joe Auch, Shannon Boucher, Seth Boutilier, Roger Britton, Sherry Duffy, Dina Dureas, Michael Eradi, Eric Gould, Shantell Longergan, Stephen Mahan, Joe Macomber, Tara Macomber, Kimberly McMaster, Supervisor of the Boys & Girls Club cleanup crew, Bobby Smith, works side by side with his group of eight boys. The corps cleans alleys, vacant and grassy areas around Charlestown, such as the Doherty Park. Smith said Doherty Park was a little discouraging for the boys, unlike other work sites because it took a long time to complete and get results.

"It's too bad it's something they can't accomplish in one day," he said.

Smith is pleased with the extra effort his group puts into its work. Mark Char-davoyne, Robert Chase, Derek Gallagher, Richard Haggerty, John Kelly, Timothy Linnane, John O'Leary and Paul Tibbetts make up the club's corps.

"We get a lot of compliments from people who live in the city," said Robbie Walker, supervisor of the Charlestown Community Schools cleanup group. Walker said his group of 10 teens is doing a great job sprucing up Charlestown. Walker said his crew's function is to get rid of "any sore spots in the community," dirty lots, alleys and vacant land. The group members are Brenda Brennan, John Carroll, Michael Carroll, Chris Connors, John Johnson, William McLaughlin, Neil Lyman, Billy Lynch, Jamie Poole and Robert Upton.

CREATING OPPORTUNITIES FOR FIRST-TIME BUYERS

Typically, first-time buyers really have to stretch to purchase their first home, and sometimes it seems like an impossible dream. While many younger buyers can afford the monthly mortgage payments, covering the down payment and closing costs may get a little creative.

If you're thinking about buying your first home, contact one of our professionals. Even with limited funds, there may be possibilities you've never considered. If you can pass the hat among relatives, that helps. Even if you can't, there may be some local or federal loan programs that can get you moved in. Often, sellers are willing to absorb some "points" or other closing costs that reduce the amount of cash you need to buy their home. Also, there are many housing options available. Even if you can't afford a detached single-family home, there are beautiful condominiums and townhouses with amenities and price tags designed to appeal to first-time buyers.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling a home, talk to the professionals at Silva Realty Associates. Come by our offices at 142 Main St., Charlestown or call us at 242-7470.

Life Behind The Wall

by Ronan FitzPatrick

Attention to detail was the order of the day issued by Superintendent John Burchill. His Boston National Historic Park painters were working assiduously on the exterior of Building 5. As the Visitors Center, which promulgates a wealth of information on the local tourist attractions, it is undergoing a facelift. Each day it is becoming more attractive as the windows are scraped, primed and given a new coat of white paint. The timing for the project is perfect, as the height of tourism has arrived. With the manicured lawns at the adjacent Officers Quarters, the whole facility is shipshape. A recent tourist from the Garden State of New Jersey commented that the park's beauty and history will always guarantee a steady stream of visitors. Once again, this experience is within easy reach to enjoy from the Constitution Museum and Shipyard Galley with the hospitality of Burchill's staff. There are plenty of summer days and evenings left for a visit to this waterfront wonderment.

Her gait was steady and direct as Anchorage resident Betty FitzPatrick retrieved her daily mail at the first-floor station. She was conserving her energy for the next line dance, which she truly relishes with her retinue. It might be a short wait for her next social and dance; but for now, she was preoccupied with the games, and specifically, the recently finished Bay State games which brought her enormous pride through the accomplishments of her fifth oldest grandson Dermot FitzPatrick. In September, Dermot will be entering his junior year at Boston College. Finishing first in the Men's Open 5,000 with a time of 14:56:00, Dermot, a Lexington resident, gave Betty reason to perform a jig or two. As the Irish say: There was no rag in her heel that night. Dermot's blistering speed bodes well for BC's track program over the two remaining years of his undergraduate career. Arriving as promised, Anna Carey provided Betty with transportation to John Kelly's Sportslook on Medford Street to purchase a new pair of the best running footwear. It was Christmas in July for Dermot, which translates to free man from Gaelic. A free spirit on the track, Dermot has given much to Betty FitzPatrick and her family to be enthralled with. Straight ahead, Dermot, keep the acceleration at a feverish pitch, and the very best to you on and off the track.

Let there be light. Those words were emanated by Boston Edison in mid-May for the affordable units at First Avenue. Every week more units are being occupied, much to the satisfaction of the owners and to the kilowatt recorders assigned by Edison. First Avenue and Thirteenth Street have new neighbors who are illuminating the area. Peak consumption is affording Edison a pleasant countenance while it counts the monthly revenue. We can't exist without those universal KWHs; all that can be requested is that the rate increases don't become exorbitant.

They're back again. Not the gremlins, but the gregarious A.P.A. organization. This nationwide transportation entity is hosting its annual harbor cruises for the regional employees. Some have had bright sunshine, others heavy rain, the common denominator is conviviality. Corporate chairman Anthony Imperial's mega-yacht Imperator has extremely pleased the sea travelers. Guiding the nightly riders to Pier 8 is a vehicle bearing the A.P.A. logo and a succession of signs placed along the streets into gates 4 and 5. Anthony's family looks forward to the event and constantly follows the corporate name's philosophy: Always Please Anthony. A reciprocal arrangement that works well, and for those of us who are not aboard the Imperator, its presence is a treat.

A cooperation of Shipyard Quarters Marina and The Raymond Group brought the 7th annual Boston Antique and Classic Boat Festival over the July 14 weekend. Cooperating weather made the Pier 8 function a smashing success. Catching everyone's eye was the 1929 triple cockpit runabout Grouse, belonging to West and Chris Frazier of Charlestown. Flashbacks from "Some Like It Hot" with Tony Curtis dashing about the water off Coronado, Calif., with gorgeous Marilyn under tow, struck immediately while viewing the Grouse. Another gem was Old Glory, a 58-foot wooden 1918 yacht from New York. Both were in immaculate condition and crowd favorites. Praise goes to the Boston Harbor Association for a great display and day and to T. Catalyst of the Shipways Condominium for the complimentary Fontaviva Mineral Water.

Ritz-Carlton Employees Treated To Service Awards Banquet

On July 26, Ritz-Carlton employees were "Puttin' on The Ritz" at a gala banquet held in the Grand Ballroom which saluted their length of service and commitment to excellence in the hospitality industry.

Among the distinguished employees are Charlestown residents: Adele Hajj, valet, honored for 12 years of service, and Lois Smith, telephone operator, honored for 13 years of service.

During an evening of elegance and splendor, 161 employees who have been working at The Ritz-Carlton, Boston for a minimum of five years (and a maximum of 41!) were honored for their total combined service of 1,816 years.

The Seventh Annual Length of Service Awards Banquet featured a sumptuous six-course dinner, entertainment by The Al Tobias Orchestra, an evening of dancing and awards presentations.

Work Begins On High-Service Water Lines In City Square

This portion of the CANA project will be done in five separate sections and will take an estimated 18 months to complete. Work is scheduled to begin the first week of August.

To prevent the loss of water pressure when lines have to be shut down, a pressure pump will be used to maintain the needed pressure in the lines that serve the highest points in Charlestown, such as the top of Bunker Hill Street. In the event of an emergency when the pump is not in operation, home owners will be notified if their water service has to be shut down. Any disruption in service will take place between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m.

During the past few months work on telephone, gas, sewer, cable and electrical lines in the City Square area has resulted in no measurable disruption to homes or businesses. The MDPW does not anticipate any disruption to water service while this portion of the project takes place.

Residents who have questions on this portion of the CANA project can call the CANA hotline at 241-5560.

Dean's List

Patrick J. McGonagle of 37 Baldwin St. was listed on the spring semester dean's list at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. McGonagle achieved a 3.5 grade point average or better for the semester and is among only 15 percent of the students who receive the distinction at the university.

Ring Of Trolley Bell Brings Enjoyment To Mishawum Residents

AN HISTORIC BOSTON TROLLEY RIDE was enjoyed by residents of Mishawum Park recently as reward for their participation in the June 17 neighborhood cleanup. Co-sponsored by the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services and City Councillor Robert Travaglini, the outing was coordinated by Mel Stillman, Mishawum Park resident and coordinator of the cleanup campaign, and Judy Evers, community liaison for Neighborhood Services. Charlie Clabaugh of Councillor Travaglini's office was also on hand to see the happy travelers off. This was the second trolley ride sponsored by Neighborhood Services. Charlestown High School special needs students were treated to a ride recently that was co-sponsored by The Raymond Group. That ride was coordinated by Evers and Mary Henderson, special needs teacher at the high school. Both rides were found to be so enjoyable, that plans are underway to take Charlestown senior citizens on the trolley tour in the near future.

Whelan and Flynn are old friends from Suffolk County Court House days when they both could be seen gathering over a cup of coffee with other well-known names such as White, Moakley, Crane, Flanagan — to name just a few. Many old tales were passed back and forth, we're told, all to the enjoyment of Tom McIntyre, president of the Bricklayers, who joined them at the eatery.

CAR WASH

OPEN LETTER TO THE PEOPLE OF CHARLESTOWN

Back-room politics in its worst form was practiced by the Charlestown Neighborhood Council at its meeting held on Tuesday, July 11, 1989.

Without notification to John White, proprietor of the Charlestown Service Mobil Station, or his attorney, Allen J. Jarasitis, the Charlestown Neighborhood Council voted against John White's petition to change the occupancy of his gas station to a gas station and car wash.

Prior to July 11, 1989 there were two public meetings held at St. Francis de Sales Hall by the Development Committee of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council. These meetings were held on April 10, 1989 and May 25, 1989. On those dates, residents of Charlestown made clear their thoughts concerning this proposal for the car wash and were in favor of the car wash.

On June 6, 1989 at a meeting of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council, the Development Committee recommended to the full council that it approve the car wash based upon their findings at the open public meetings. The Charlestown Neighborhood Council tabled the vote and asked for further information. John White and his attorney, Allen J. Jarasitis, were told that they would be notified when next to appear before the full council for further discussion.

There was never any notification to John White or Attorney Jarasitis and, more specifically, they were told that the meeting of July 11, 1989 would address only the issue of the aquarium moving to Charlestown.

At the meeting of July 11, 1989 before the full council it was most interesting that after the aquarium issue was discussed, voted on and the majority of the people and television cameras left the hall, the General Partner of the Cobblestone Development Group, Attorney Gerard Doherty, strode into the hall and simultaneously upon his appearance, the Charlestown Neighborhood Council reconvened and opened discussion on the car wash.

This was objected to by the Development Committee Chairman, Thomas Cunha, and other members as unfair to John White and his attorney, however, the council proceeded to vote to veto John White's proposal as a vote was railroaded through the full council.

The question is, is back-room politics now the rule for the Charlestown Neighborhood Council or should it listen to the requests and needs of the community as expressed by its Development Committee through open public hearings rather than listen only to the abutting developer of the Cobblestone Landing Condominium?

This matter is to be heard by the city of Boston Board of Appeal on Tuesday, August 1, 1989 at 9:30 a.m., Room 801, Boston City Hall.

John White needs your support and asks you to come to speak out on this issue. Let the public be heard, not just a few political insiders.

VP Says FMF Is Environmentally Responsible

by Rosa Freda

The vice president of Federal Metal Finishing (FMF), a Charlestown firm at 18 Dorrance St. recently recognized by the National Association of Metal Finishers for its high environmental safety standards and advanced electroplating technology, pleaded not guilty Monday in Suffolk Superior Court to charges that he and FMF violated the Massachusetts Clean Waters Act.

A special grand jury recently handed up indictments on 28 separate counts each against Arthur C. Sacco and FMF, following a six-month investigation initiated by Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) industrial waste inspectors.

"We've done all we can to comply with the law through efforts of the people of FMF as a company," Sacco said. "Our position has always been to work with the MWRA, and our intent is to continue working with the MWRA."

Sacco said MWRA limits are very stringent, "506 percent" more so than the national limits set by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and sometimes difficult to meet. Sacco said his firm has worked very hard to make environmental safety a priority.

"Most of the time, 90 percent, we meet MWRA limits, and 99 percent of the time we meet EPA limits," he said.

According to Sacco, since 1981 FMF has spent more than $2.2 million on pollution control. FMF has also installed an overflow system, an outlet for excess chemicals, to avoid accidents resulting from combinations of chemicals. In addition, all FMF employees take part in a training program, according to an FMF environmental specialist Debbie Prince. As part of their training, employees are shown a tape of FMF procedures, available in three different languages, supervised by Prince. Employees also participate in weekly safety committee meetings, she said.

Two of the charges against Sacco and FMF are knowingly making false representation on an application submitted to the MWRA for a discharge permit in October 1987, and failing to submit reports required by state law.

In its investigation, the MWRA monitored FMF pipes which connected the sewer and found that they were not going through the firm's wastewater treatment system as required. Also monitored for three months was FMF's wastewater from locations inside and outside the plant. The level of concentration of some metals and cyanide, a highly poisonous chemical, was found higher than MWRA's limits. The MWRA obtained a search warrant Aug. 31, 1988.

"I'm not sure anything was left out (of the application) and if anything was, it was not done intentionally," Sacco said. He does not know what information the prosecution claims was knowingly misrepresented in FMF's application. According to Sacco, FMF completes four such reports a year as required by law. An FMF chemist fills out the reports, and Sacco oversees and endorses them before they are sent out.

Sacco said the only day he knows that inspectors found cyanide in the sewer was on Aug. 31, the day of their raid. He said he does not know how high the level of cyanide was, but that it, and all other chemicals found in the investigation, were in the single digits.

"We're unaware how they did the samplings," Sacco said.

FMF, according to Sacco, cares about its environment and is doing its best to keep its environment safe from pollution.

Bunker Hill Community College Advises Prompt Registration

Officials at Bunker Hill Community College urge students who plan to attend school this fall to register as quickly as possible in order to avoid the risk of being shut out of courses that have been reduced in size due to cutbacks in state funding.

According to BHCC President Piedad Robertson, enrollment preference will be given to returning and graduating students. However, she stressed that all those interested in attending fall classes should not be discouraged from applying, but they should do so quickly.

The fall semester begins on Sept. 5. Through its 24

Honor Roll At Don Bosco

Three Charlestown freshmen were named to first honors on the fourth-quarter honor roll at Don Bosco High School in Boston. They are Francis J. Coleman of 10 Lawrence St., Christopher Hickey of 506 Medford St. and Philip A. Zarate of 17 Albion Place.

High Honors

Benjamin A. Turner of Charlestown, a junior at Suffolk University College of Liberal Arts and Sciences in Boston, has been named to the dean's high honor list for the spring semester of the 1988-89 academic year.

In order to qualify for the dean's high honor list, a student must earn a grade point average of 3.7 or higher for that semester.

year and the committee has estimated that a minimum of $15,000 is needed for production costs this year.

A fund-raising event for this purpose will be held on Saturday, July 29 at Pier 1, adjacent to the USS Constitution in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

The evening will include free entertainment on Pier 1 from 7 to 10 p.m. with a steel drum band, street entertainers and even a visit from Santa. Hot dogs, popcorn and soft drinks will be available for minimal cost.

From 9 a.m. to 1 a.m., entertainment will be provided by a calypso band alternating with a disc jockey in the Preble Room in Building 5. Tickets, at $10 per person, are available by contacting Carol or Kathy at Otis & Ahearn Real Estate, 242-7393.

Abandoned House Gets Attention

A big improvement can be seen at 43 Belmont St., the vacant and unsafe building which has caused quite a stir among anxious neighbors and city departments lately.

The street-side first-floor windows are boarded up from the inside, and a second plank of plywood blocks entrance to the front door.

Meanwhile, the Charlestown Community Schools and Boys & Girls Club Boston Youth Cleanup Corps work crews took to the tall grass and weeds in the yard around the house. Bobby Smith, supervisor of the Boys & Girls Club cleanup crew, initiated the effort.

CHIROPRACTICS AND YOU

By Dr. Kevin J. Loughlin
North End Chiropractic

CHIROPRACTICS, NUTRITION AND PREGNANCY

The number of premature and low birth weight babies born to economically disadvantaged women is a national disgrace. So is the overall American infant mortality rate. With a passing nod to this problem, the government has established a few nutritional counseling programs for low-income mothers. Not only are these programs inadequate, no one has considered the nutritional status of the rest of the pregnant population.

Most obstetricians assume that if a woman is well-educated and affluent her nutritional status is good, and that even in pregnancy, she requires little more than a vitamin supplement. But no easy assumptions can be made about nutrition at any economic level. The fact is that in our denatured, overstressed world, even the best food often cannot provide proper nourishment for a developing fetus. It is imperative that pregnant women obtain informed nutritional counseling.

Chiropractors study nutrition extensively — far more than do medical students — and consider proper diet essential to health. If you are pregnant and feel you need dietary advice, do not hesitate to consult a chiropractor; our information may be invaluable.

If taking care of bodily balance and optimum health is important to you, call North End Chiropractic at 742-5797 to make an appointment with Dr. Kevin Loughlin. Let my years of knowledge and experience serve you. My practice is located at 350 Hanover St. in Boston.

Over 500 Runners Compete In Annual Bunker Hill Day Road Race

The 21st Annual Battle of Bunker Hill Road Race proved to be the most popular, yet as close to 500 runners competed in both the Two-Mile Novice Race and the 10K Race on June 18.

Highlighting the 10K Race was the participation of John Treacy, who in April of this year finished third in the Boston Marathon. In 1984 Treacy won the silver medal in the Olympic Marathon held in Los Angeles. As expected, Treacy finished ahead of the pack and set a new course record for the race with a time of 30:26.

The top Charlestown male finisher was Thom Gilligan of Marathon Tours, who finished 16th overall. The top Charlestown female finisher was Sarah Hatch-Wright, who finished third in the female open division. The town can take local pride in Frankie Keane of Charlestown, who finished first in the male 50-and-over division and an impressive 39th overall.

The Charlestown Boys & Girls Club extends special thanks to David Francis and The Raymond Group, who through their sponsorship and help, made this race one of the premier sporting events in Charlestown. The club also thanks all the volunteers, local businesses and other individuals who helped make the race a great success this year.

All proceeds from the race support programming at the Boys & Girls Club, and through events such as this the clubhouse is able to continue and grow.

Centola Sparks Bunker Hill Basketball Win

by Bob DeCristoforo
Richie Centola had his best offensive game of the year as the Bunker Hill Townies basketball team defeated Archdale in BHA Fast Break action at the Fenway.

A balanced scoring attack from many different players was the key to the win. Mike Erardi and Ron Carrington did the major damage on the boards, picking up nicely for Stephen Mahan who overslept!

Joey Macomber played another superlative game, and he is becoming quite a leader on the court. Bill Barends played another smooth game, and Kenny O'Neil, as usual, did his best. O'Neil always gives 100 percent effort.

The return of Roger Britton will be a big plus when the team goes after its third straight this Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

(Stephen Mahan take note of the time.)

Worcester County Tigers Tame Charlestown Townies 12-7

The Worcester County Tigers defeated the Charlestown Townies by the score of 12-7 in Eastern Football League action this past weekend.

Charlestown opened the scoring in the first period with a five-yard pass from Ed Sullivan to Tom Nelson. The kick by John Toyias was good, and the score was 7-0 Charlestown.

Worcester got on the scoreboard in the second period with a 30-yard field goal. Neither team scored in the third period. A one-yard run and successful kick by Worcester in the fourth period, followed by a two-point safety, gave the home team nine points and a 12-7 victory over the visiting Townies.

In the Player of the Week contest, running back-receiver Jimbo Murphy and quarterback Ed Sullivan both received honorable mention.

Several Charlestown players are listed among the EFL stat leaders. Jimbo Murphy holds fourth place in the rushing leaders, while Derek Willis is fifth in pass receiving. Ed Sullivan is fifth among the passing leaders and Lance Sellman is third in kickoff returns. Joe McCarthy and Lance Sellman are second and third respectively in pass interceptions, while John Toyias is second in punting.

Charlestown is in third place in the EFL Standings at the conclusion of the second week of play with one win and one loss. The local team will play Randolph at Randolph on Friday, July 28 at 7:30 p.m.

Letters To The Editor

An Open Letter To Doris Bunte

Dear Ms. Bunte,

I am very curious as to how you are able to sleep at night with a clear conscience, knowing that you are causing so much unnecessary upheaval and physical, emotional and financial stress on the Boston Housing Authority tenants in Charlestown with your asinine relocation program.

You are forcing people to move out of their homes where they are happy and at peace. These are homes where we have lived for years, where we feel safe and secure, where we lay our heads at night.

Ms. Bunte, you are quoted as saying that these apartments are not our homes, that we only rent them from the federal government. Well, Ms. Bunte, we the people, are the federal government, and we should be able to have a voice in where we want to live. Renovating apartments is one thing, but forcing people out of their homes is unfair.

Tearing down perfectly good walls and putting up new ones is like having open-heart surgery performed on a perfectly good functioning heart. It makes absolutely no sense and is a total waste of money, money that could be used on repairs that are necessary.

Perhaps, Ms. Bunte, you feel that low income is associated with low intelligence, so that you feel you can herd us around like cattle off to slaughter. Renovations can be done while the tenants are residing in their homes. President Bush has asked for a kinder, gentler nation. Do you feel that you are excluded?

Forcing people to leave the homes they love is downright ugly. I feel that it's ironic that the people of Poland and Beijing, China, are fighting for their freedom and democracy — the same thing, Ms. Bunte, that you are trying to take away from us. The same thing that our forefathers fought and died for is being spit on. We, the tenants of the BHA should have the choice and freedom to live where we want and where it makes us happy.

You, Ms. Bunte, stated that the first buildings to be renovated are the ones with the highest number of work orders. I feel that the tenants should be able to see what these work orders consist of. I'm quite sure they were only for minor repairs, nothing that qualifies for a major upheaval in our lives and happiness. I implore the Charlestown tenants to stand together proud and to fight for our right to live where we desire to do so.

Mayor Flynn is quoted as saying that the Charlestown people are proud and fight for their right to decent homes. Well, where are you now Mayor Flynn when we need you? It's interesting to see how many of our elected officials will hear our call for help and help us with our plight to keep our homes.

Ms. Bunte, you are in for the fight of your life because we tenants are not going to be treated in such an ill fashion and sit still about it.

'To The Not-So-Proud Townies'

Sometime between 8 p.m. on Saturday, July 22 and 11:30 a.m. the next day, some of our young men left their feces, underwear and socks in the Paul Clougherty Pool.

As a result, the pool had to be closed for the day on Sunday, thereby depriving many fathers and mothers and their children of the use of the pool on what was a very hot day.

To those responsible, all I can say is that if you are wearing any Townie emblems, take them off and burn them, for I am sure you have no respect for your proud town, and probably no respect for yourself and others.

Respectfully submitted,
Walter H. Suprey

Open Letter To Congressman Joseph Kennedy

12 Mount Vernon St.
Charlestown, MA 02129
July 24, 1989

Dear Congressman,

I am heartened to know of your deep concern of the issues of the aquarium. The impact of 4,400 cars and diesel buses per day will be devastating to our tiny community of one square mile.

- The aquarium will need 1,800 spaces for cars.
- The MBTA wants parking for 800 commuters.
- Bunker Hill Community College needs 400-500 parking spaces.
- The city of Boston wants to rid Boston proper of its traffic nightmare by building a wayside facility in Charlestown for several hundred cars.
- The MWRA will be bringing 400 cars and trucks to Medford Street.

Most areas of the Navy Yard are off limits for parking. The elderly residents of the Anchorage Apartments in the Yard have inadequate parking facilities, as well as no bus service. These same elderly residents have recently been courted by the BRA to accept the aquarium and the BRA will then provide them with ample parking spaces and also get them bus service. To use the elderly in this manner, I find despicable.

Many of our once single- and two-family homes have been converted to three, four, five or more condominiums, increasing the amount of vehicles on our overburdened streets. Parking spaces are now being sold for thousands of dollars. Serious thought is given on whether or not it's worth the hassle to take your car out in the evening.

Eight million dollars has already been spent on improving the Dry Dock 2 and Shipyard Park area. The entire area has served as a Shangri-la for many of our fellow Townies and their children. Many of our people and children, because of economic reasons, are forced to spend their entire summer in the city and find the Dry Dock 2 area to be the one spot to go, or to take their children to, on a daily basis. Many of our elderly just like to sit on a bench and watch the boats in the harbor.

Thanks For The Trolley Ride

Dear Gloria,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank City Councillor Robert Travaglini and the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services for giving the kids of Mishawum Park a trolley ride around historic Boston. The ride was a reward for all their hard work in cleaning up their neighborhood on June 17. They worked very hard and deserved this treat.

The children were sent on their way with well wishes by Judy Evers of the Mayor's Office and Charlie Clabaugh of Travaglini's office. The trolley driver was amazed at the knowledge of Boston's history that the children treated him to. It was a very fast 90 minutes, but one that everyone of us will remember for a long time.

Sincerely,
Mel Stillman

The Congress of the United States of America in handing over this property in 1977 made one condition: "An open public park" in Perpetuity. I then ask you, If we can't believe in Congress, who do we believe in, with the exception of God Almighty Himself?

I do not believe in polls such as the aquarium did. If Mayor Ray Flynn were to believe in polls in 1983, he would not now be mayor of Boston. All the odds were stacked against him.

Perhaps we should go via the democratic process of a binding referendum on the ballot for the September primary. I believe the true feelings of the majority of townspeople would be made known, once and for all. I fully realize that a full-blown Pro-Aquarium Campaign will be made in the hopes of brainwashing the residents. Nevertheless, it should ease your mind on the outcome of the vote.

Before you reach a decision, may I suggest that you speak with Rep. Richard Voke and Mass. General Hospital Clinic Director Dr. Roger Sweet on the very, very serious health problems our community is now faced with. We're No. 1 in upper-respiratory problems in a study done by MGH in every community which comprises Boston. Voke has freed up funds needed by Dr. Sweet to do another study on why people in our community die at a younger age than their counterparts in other areas.

Thank you for allowing me to air my views.

Respectfully,
Lillian M. Barnes

Homemaker Honored At Service Recognition Luncheon

PEG WHITE of Charlestown was recently honored by Intercity Homemaker Service for 10 years of service to the agency. Shown with White is Arthur Reinherz, executive director of Intercity.

Peg White from Charlestown was recently honored with a 10-year service recognition award by Intercity Homemaker Service Inc. officials at a luncheon at Anthony's Restaurant in Malden.

She was among the 100 homemakers and home health aides addressed by Albert Norman, executive director of Mass. Association of Home Care, and Paula G. Naylor, director of health services at Intercity Home Health Care.

The speakers commended the homemakers and home health aides for their fine work and years of service in helping to prevent needless institutionalization of the elderly and disabled, and the breakup of families with children. All applauded the homemaker's role in making it possible for others to have a better life.

Homemakers were presented with service pins by Intercity Home Health Care Executive Director Arthur Reinherz, who pointed out that homemakers are rapidly becoming recognized as highly respected professionals.

Intercity Homemaker Service, which has provided service in Massachusetts since 1972, maintains offices serving Charlestown at 33 Dartmouth St. in Malden.

WHAT WILL YOU DO WITH JESUS?

Are you one of many who believe that you can attain salvation and heaven by good works? Let us, for sake of argument, concede that good works could gain for you salvation and entrance into heaven. My next question would be, "Then why did God send His only begotten Son to die on the Cross for your sins?" If one can get to heaven by works, then surely there is no need for a bloody Gospel of the Cross. Most Americans who claim the name "Christian" cannot, with absolute assurance, tell you where they will be five minutes after they die. For, any hope that they do have, is based upon some good work such as: Infant Baptism, Confirmation, Church affiliation, Charity or money given to Church, a few good deeds here and there. But the question of their sin and forgiveness is never answered. Most Preachers never preach that all men are sinners (Rom. 3:23) and on their way to a Christless hell (Rev.20:15). They never proclaim that mercy, grace and Salvation from sin and hell is available through Christ. This Salvation is not received by attending Church rituals, turning over a new leaf or reformation, but rather, when you confess that you are the sinner Christ died for and simply believe in Him as your Savior. (John 5:24). When were you saved?

Board Of Appeal Decisions

• 238-240 Bunker Hill

Thank You

granted M.C.

St. — The board voted on July 11 to approve Richard and Jean Wright-Martin's request to alter the roof pitch, erect rooftop additions and to change the occupancy from a two-family dwelling to a one-family and pastoral counseling.

• 20 Ferrin St. — On July 18 the board deferred Deidre Malloy's request to erect a two-family dwelling until Oct. 13.

The Honorable Joseph P. Kennedy
U.S. Representative

Dear Representative Kennedy:

I am writing to support the relocation of the New England Aquarium to the Charlestown Navy Yard at Dry Dock 2. This letter will state my reasons, give background to this decision, and request that you file legislation in Congress to allow the lands needed to be transferred to the New England Aquarium for $1.

1. Reasons to support relocation of the aquarium to Charlestown are:

- The people of Charlestown want the aquarium in the Navy Yard. We take great pride in our town and feel privileged that the aquarium wants to be here.
- Many Charlestown residents who support the aquarium feel that their voices are not heard.

Positive Progress Should Be Made A Reality

Having grown up directly across from the Bunker Hill Monument I know the ramifications of pedestrian and vehicular traffic. My wife Mary and I presently own a condominium at Shipway Place in the Navy Yard. As abutters to the New England Aquarium's (NEA) proposed move to Dry Dock 2, we feel the location will enhance the community.

Since the first presentation on Sept. 23, 1988 the NEA, through its Executive Director John Prescott, has demonstrated openness and a willingness to accommodate all. Having experienced the urban renewal era of the late 1950s and early 1960s, the NEA approach is frank and festive and will make concessions. Confrontation should be laid to rest and positive progress made a reality.

Establishing an outreach communication network through 973-6558, the NEA has gone above and beyond in the development realm.

The report card has been issued and three E's are notated; they are not the failing ones either. They are of enrichment, education and employment.

The NEA will provide assets that will balance Charlestown well into the 21st century.

As the treasurer of the Michael P. Quinn Scholarship Fund, established in 1969 to commemorate a fallen hero in the Vietnam War, we have awarded $23,250 to date to the fine youth of Charlestown for their college pursuits. Fund-raising endeavors can be difficult, but always rewarding. The NEA pledge of $150,000 to worthy organizations in Charlestown will be warmly welcomed and worthwhile.

A plutonium plant is not proposed by the NEA, but a halcyon environment with sand dunes and hands-on tidal pool. As the Boston Globe editorial stated on Oct. 16, 1988, "the move will be a symbol of the City's future."

I view this move as important as the cornerstone laying of the Bunker Hill Monument in 1825 that my ancestors supported.

Let the initials of the NEA stand for New Education and Economics in the Area.

For the record, I unequivocally support the development of Dry Dock 2 by the NEA and look forward with great anticipation to the whites of the dolphins' and whales' eyes.

Ronan FitzPatrick

In Support Of The Aquarium

• The benefits to the community are almost uncountable: new jobs and opportunities for vendors to offer supporting services; educational opportunities; and senior citizen privileges. I understand that Bunker Hill Community College will offer special marine biology programs to train our youth.

• Aquarium staff members have been very responsive and helpful in accommodating requests for more information and plans on specific issues (i.e. traffic flow and parking).

• Our understanding about Dry Dock 2 is that if left filled with water, it will soon rot. Something will be done eventually at this location. We want the aquarium.

• Shipyard Park will remain a park, at least where the people of Charlestown now gather. Other parks more suitable to children's play are available on the waterfront in Charlestown. Behind CharlesNewtown is a park with play fixtures designed for children. This park has plenty of usable open space and water views. Parents from all over Charlestown should be happy to use it. And behind the Schrafft Center is another waterfront park available to the public. Shipyard Park has no swings, safe wading pools, nor sand boxes designed for children.

2. Background to my decision to support the aquarium:

When first hearing about this move to Charlestown by the aquarium, I was opposed and stated so publicly at a neighborhood council meeting. Personally, I did not want to see the open space around the dry dock taken; I was very concerned about traffic and parking.

When I spoke with those people in town who opposed the move into Dry Dock 2, I became uneasy.

a. On my own initiative, at the first neighborhood council meeting noted above, I publicly stated my objection to the move. Not one opposed spoke to me after the meeting about my statements. Why?

b. At the second neighborhood council meeting, the children of the town demonstrated in support of the aquarium. Opponents were outraged, accusing the people of being framed, and of forcing the children to parade.

Those actions by the opponents seemed condescending, a put-down on the integrity of the town children who want this aquarium. Charlestown residents have told me that the more articulate opponents to the move to the Navy Yard intimidate them. They fear speaking at public meetings because they are not as "educated, wealthy, connected" as the opponents. I understand now.

c. Then I walked around town, talking with people and heard their stories, felt their pride and why they want the aquarium. The more I heard, the more my attitude changed from a narrowly focused personal view to the broader picture of benefits to the whole.

Charlestown Peer Leaders Honored As Youth Mediators

Eight Charlestown teens were honored by the city of Boston and Attorney General James M. Shannon at a July 21 presentation in Dorchester for completing a mediation training program co-sponsored by Mayor Ray Flynn and Shannon.

Kelly Doherty, Melissa Doherty, Jason Gallagher, James Houlihan, Shannon Lawler, Melanie Marsden, Shannon McLaughlin and

Pat Woods, and their local staff person Mimi Dowd from Charlestown Community Schools, were among 60 city peer leaders from the Youth Outreach Program, established by Flynn in 1986.

Their recent two-week training focused on resolving conflict and developing skills in listening and communication. By role playing in small groups, some trainees acted out conflicts that centered on rumors, disputes, thefts or jealousy, while others mediated the arguments.

Peer Leaders selected either a 20-hour training program designed to give teens the skills necessary to create a local mediation program or an eight-hour life skills training aimed at introducing teens to the skills of mediation.

At the Friday morning picnic in Franklin Park, sponsored by Boston Community Schools, the trainees received certificates of completion signed by Flynn and Shannon. The attorney general also awarded T-shirts to trainers and trainees.

The paternal grandparents are Raymond and Rita Tomasini of Dorchester.
