Mayor White Appoints

Charlestown Cable Task Force

Mayor Kevin H. White announced the appointment of 21 members to the Charlestown Cable Task Force. The group includes neighborhood residents representing schools and colleges, business, the arts, neighborhood institutions, newspaper, the general community, and local churches.

The Mayor's Charlestown Cable Task Force's duties will include:

- * Identifying the kinds of programs and services that are of special interest to Charlestown residents.

- * Developing several pilot program projects.

- * Assisting in a public education campaign in the neighborhood on the various uses and benefits of cable, both as a medium of entertainment and as a communications system that goes far beyond television.

- * Helping the City design the Public Institutional Network, a 50 channel cable for use by the City's public and non-profit institutions.

In announcing his appointments, Mayor White said, "My staff has enthusiastically reported to me that Charlestown residents are excited about the advent of cable and have some extremely creative programming ideas. I am convinced that this Task Force will serve as a model for similar committees in other neighborhoods across the city."

The Mayor's Charlestown Cable Task Force is the second such group established in the city. A similar group in East Boston was named by the Mayor on July 1. Other neighborhoods will be establishing cable task forces

Conducts Walk-Through Clinic

WALK-THROUGH CLINIC: Linda Bowman (center kneeling) of the Suffolk County Extension Service Urban Gardening Program conducted a "Walk-Through Clinic" to assist gardeners at the Gardens for Charlestown Sullivan Square site. Ms. Bowman is shown pointing at the various diseases which destroy vegetables crops in the city. She also made recommendations in preventing such problems in the future. If any garden club or community garden organization is interested in a gardening program, slide presentation, demonstration or walk-through clinic, call 482-9258.

Charlestown Community Portrait

On Sunday July 25

The Artists Foundation has announced that photographer Frank Siteman will be creating a photographic portrait of the Charlestown community on Sunday, July 25th. This photograph, to be taken in Monument Square, will be the largest community portrait in the history of Charlestown. The photograph will be made of porcelain-enamel, glazed on stainless steel, and mounted on a wall of the Metropolitan District Commission's Emmons and Horrigan Rink in the fall. This project is being sponsored by the MDC, and is being coordinated by the Artists Foundation with the assistance of Joseph Flaherty from the Charlestown Board of Trade.

Community residents interested in being part of the portrait are asked to arrive at the base of the Bunker Hill Monument in Monument Square at 5:30 p.m. on July 25th. (Rain-date is Monday, July 26th, at 6:00 p.m.) Once the group has been fully assembled and organized, Mr. Siteman will photograph the community from about 6:00 to 6:15 p.m.

For further information on the Charlestown project, contact Deborah Black, Project Coordinator, at the Artists Foundation at 482-8100, or call Joe Flaherty at 242-2666.

Flynn Calls For Shift In Budget

Charging that both the police and fire department budgets for fiscal year 1983 are "outrageously low" despite the passage of the Tregor Bill and millions of dollars in additional new revenue sources, Boston City Councillor Raymond L. Flynn will attempt to have the Council's Committee on Government Finance cut at least $6 million from non-essential city departments and to earmark those funds for public safety services.

"The administration's budget addresses the wrong priorities," Flynn stated. "While there are more than 1,000 new positions created in the budget, urgent public safety needs such as the re-opening of closed police and fire stations, increased arson prevention and the rehiring of school traffic crossing guards are ignored."

Flynn noted, "The only reason the Tregor Bill received the approval of the City Council, the state legislature and the governor was the urgent need to address Boston's public service crisis. Now that the Tregor Bill has been signed into law, the Mayor cannot turn his back on the public safety needs of Boston residents which are just as urgent today as they were a year ago."

"Just for example," Flynn explained, "consider the growing incidence of arson related fires in Boston's neighborhoods. Boston firefighters now spend approximately 30% of their time fighting arson related blazes. A coordinated arson prevention effort by the city would require only a minimal financial investment by the city yet it would produce a huge savings in both monetary and human terms."

Flynn also said that the city's Public Works Department should be "beefed up in order to begin a comprehensive street cleaning program to clean-up Boston's dirty streets which have become a national disgrace."

"The city has apparently not learned the financial lesson of the past two years. City residents are demanding a more realistic approach to municipal spending and the City Council has an obligation to ensure that essential police, fire and public works services are given first priority in the city budget."

Irish Update

The Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities announced recipients of awards for the Council's primary funding program, Merit Aid. Nearly three million dollars will go to 253 cultural organizations across the state. This major funding program for cultural activity in the state drew 303 applications whose requests exceeded $5 million dollars. Awards were made to a wide variety of organizations to support dance performances, concerts, visual arts exhibits and other cultural programs open to the public. Among the groups funded was The Charlestown Working Theater who received an award of $2500.

Vernon R. Alden, Chairman of the Council said, "The Merit Aid program stresses the highest quality of cultural programs and service to the public. It also emphasizes solid fiscal management and a record of long-range planning. The Council is pleased to offer this level of support in light of decreases in funding to the cultural community from federal sources." Merit Aid awards fund groups for two-year periods and are designed to support the basic cultural programs of an organization. All awards require that Council funds be matched by other sources of revenue. Advisory panels comprised of professionals with expertise in various artistic disciplines reviewed all applications and made funding recommendations to the Council.

Views On Dental Health

by Jeffrey D. Cohen,
D.M.D.

PROBING THE POCKETS

Stephen K., a 46-year-old accountant, noticed that his gums bled when he brushed his teeth or bit into an apple. He visited his dentist who commenced examining him by inserting a little "perio" probe between his teeth and gums to find the extent of the "pockets". After an X-ray examination showing the amount of tooth-supporting bone loss, he was given the bad news. He had advanced periodontal disease and would lose at least three teeth which were beyond help and have to undergo extensive care to hopefully save the other 29.

Of the 125 million adults who still have their teeth (20 million have already lost theirs), about 100 million have periodontal disease. And in 32 million, it is in an advanced stage, meaning that they too will become toothless unless they undergo extensive treatment.

There is no need for periodontal tooth loss. Learn to clean your teeth properly and they should last a lifetime like they are supposed to.

TIPS FOR TEETH BONDING

Dr. Lewis E. Hootnick

"A new generation of composites" (while fillings that blend with tooth structure).
"Esthetic dentistry" with minimal or no drilling of teeth.

Such confusing statements are seen and heard regularly in the medium (newspaper, T.V., radio). What does it all mean? Bonding is the technique of etching teeth, then using a luting agent to retain a laminate or veneer covering over the prepared surface. Furniture manufacturers have been veneering with laminates and luting agents for many decades. Sophisticated methods have now been developed in dentistry to shade these laminates and to seal the material to teeth with excellent bonding agents. Meticulous care must be used to avoid contamination, bubbles underneath the laminate, irritation to the gums and coloring of the veneer.

Some unfounded claims have been made. No doubt there is a place for this development; however, it is not a cure-all. Cases must be selected and prepared carefully. The surrounding tissues must be healthy and the teeth must have all infection removed. If the requirements of good dental preparation are met, bonding may be of advantage for some of the following conditions.

1. To cover stained or ugly colored teeth.
2. To build up fractured corners or parts of teeth.
3. To reshape after an accident.
4. To restore after an accident.
5. To close space between teeth.

The advantages over other techniques are:

1. Minimal or no drilling teeth.
2. Anesthesia is usually not required.
3. The bonding may be completed at the same visit.
4. Cost is less than other methods of esthetic dental care.
5. The procedure is reversible, meaning that the bonding can be removed and done again or another technique tried.

However, careful selection of teeth to be treated and screening of the patient is most important for success. Results may be disappointing if the patient does not cooperate by using prescribed methods to care for these restorations.

CRIME & PUNISHMENT

Sometimes I wonder if people are capable of outrage any longer. Today's society is in rough shape because the liberal element of our population are afraid to face the fact that crime is out of control. Just look at all the statistics, whether it be those done by the Boston Police or FBI. Its time for America to stem this coroding tide. Our streets, homes, automobiles and persons must be safe from the lawbreakers of America.

Is capital punishment the answer? I just don't know. To me that's too simple an answer. People are frustrated with the courts, police and the whole criminal justice system in general.

I believe the decline we've noticed in the last 15 to twenty years has a lot to do with our bankrupt public school system. Kids have to be taught no difference between right and wrong. Public standards of conduct must be taught before they can be observed.

I believe we can put a dent into rising crime by insuring that swift, sure and appropriate punishment be dished out to those convicted of criminal actions. Let's end concurrent sentencing, plea bargaining and make sure a life sentence means "Life" and not five or ten years. Restrict capital punishment, if that is what the people want, to only the most severe crimes—first degree premeditated murder, contract murders, murders during the commission of another criminal act, and assassina-tion attempt whether completed or not. I also feel that those "sickies" who are involved in kidnapping, when courts deem, should be given the longest and harshest punishment. I have no compassion for them whatsoever.

Charlestown Boys And Girls Club Summer Activities

The Charlestown Boys and Girls Club is operating a number of activities this summer. Its normal day camp program is running Monday through Friday. Trips are taken daily to beaches and state parks in the area. A few openings are still available for the two-week sessions beginning August 9.

Regular indoor activities at the Club have been suspended for the summer. Traditionally, relatively few members stayed inside the Club in July and August, so this year staff was assigned to supervise the day camp programs.

The Club has hosted the Andy Puopolo Basketball Clinic in July. It will also sponsor a Nate Archibald Clinic on August 5. This clinic is free, and will be open to all at 10:00 a.m. on August 5 in the gym.

The Club will also co-sponsor a Charlestown Decathlon Day in the middle of August. Details are being planned with St. Mary's, St. Catherine's, St. Francis, Kent Community School, and the Kennedy Center. Details on the Charlestown Decathlon will be forthcoming.

The Boys and Girls Club is hosting a computer camp under the direction of Texas Instruments. It is an innovative introduction to the fascinating world of computers for young people between the ages of 8 and 15. Tuition for computer camp is $65.00.

For information call the Club at 242-1775.

Nate Archibald Clinic

The Charlestown Boys and Girls Club will host a basketball clinic by Nat Archibald on August 5. The clinic is open to all Charlestown residents, and it will be held from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Farley Leading Scorer

SEAN FARLEY has completed three weeks of Junior Cup Competition at Babson College in Wellesley. His team the Polen Club coached by Sam Flood of St. Williams College won the Championship. Sean was the leading scorer in the Tournament.

Chance To Win Share Of Dog's Revere Earnings

So, you always wanted to share in a greyhound's purse earnings, but didn't have the initial investment.

Oh, to watch your dog race!

Well, fans, here's your opportunity.

Tuesday, August 10th will be "WBCN" Night at Wonderland, in conjunction with Wonderland Park, WBCN (104-FM) and Coleman's Sporting Goods Store.

It's easy to enter this contest, too. All you have to do is fill out an official entry blank - available now at all entrances inside and outside of the track, WBCN radio station in Boston and Colman's stores in Woburn and Danvers - and deposit it in containers at the foregoing establishments.

All participants must be 18 years or older and the entry deadline is Friday, July 30th by the close of the business day. Preliminary winners will be determined by a drawing to be held at WBCN on July 31st and each lucky winner will be notified by mail.

Each of the preliminary winners will be guests on Aug. 10 for "WBCN Night" - 104 free admission to the clubhouse, 1040 free admission to the grandstand, 104 free dinners in the track's air conditioned dining room.

In addition, preliminary winners are eligible for the three Grand Prizes each worth one-third share of a greyhound's future earnings or $2000 in cash (drawn August 10 at Wonderland).

Contestants may enter as often as they choose but all entries must be in conformity with the rules.
