At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

By Matthew Delooze

*By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down
Ye-eah we wept, when we remembered Zion.
When the wicked carried us away in captivity...
...Requiring of us a song...*

*Now how shall we sing the lords song in a strange land?
“Let the words of our mouth and the meditations of our heart be acceptable in thy sight here tonight”*

From the song Rivers of Babylon by Boney M (and Psalm 137)

Hello folks,

This article is mainly for people who already know my work.

Obviously 2012 will soon be on all of our individual minds therefore our collective consciousness will be 'programmed' more intensely as that year approaches. This is no coincidence. It is obvious to even the most ignorant human drone on the planet that 2012 will be used for many rituals involving the Sun. Most of my work is based on the exploitation of the energy created through Sun Worship. As we approach 2012 the illuminati section of the Serpent Cult will bombard the minds of the human race with symbolism linking Sun symbolism, in its many forms, with the Year 2012.

In this little stop gap article I would like to briefly mention the Sun symbolism that is starting to appear on 'coins' connected to the Olympics (Sun Worship) and 2012.

Those few that know of the work contained in my book, Is it me for a moment - breaking the serpent's spell, will remember that I fully explained the use of money in society and the reason behind the symbolism and figureheads place on it.

So it came of absolutely no surprise to me to see the Serpent Cult created sun monuments along with the Queens 'face' appearing on commemorative coins. Please look at some early examples below. These three coins are the ONLY ones minted so far there are many others to follow.

Serpent Cult Symbolism and Sun Icons 'worshipped through money' - Angel of the North

Serpent Cult Symbolism and Sun Icons 'worshipped through money'- Big Benben

Serpent Cult Symbolism and Sun Icons 'worshipped through money'- Stonehenge

The Serpent Cult literally survive and prosper by you worshipping and accepting their idols and icons and placing idols and icons on coins and notes makes it a double whammy deception for them.

It is no secret that I have pointed out my beliefs as to why certain monuments or symbolic buildings are in place in certain locations. I have explained the use of monuments at events like Christmas and New Year celebrations and I have explained other uses such as the marking of energy lines for extraction of energy and for use in protest marches, meeting places and of course rock/pop concerts. This information was of course given to you back when you didn't have a bloody clue that your mind was actually full of shit anyway and you thought you were free. So let me remind you.

I even pointed out the symbolism behind the 'Ferris wheel' many times and I'm sure, despite the ridicule involved, that the Ferris wheel will be a 'major player' in the 2012 Games. TheSerpent Cult cannot make their rituals valid without using it. I'm also sure it will be officially displayed either in coins or badges or some other sort attraction symbolism.

We can only wait and see. Please keep your eyes open even if you think the symbolism behind such things are silly. You may surprise yourself when you actually cotton on to what is going on. I hope that day is sooner rather than later.

Anyway, despite the blatant use of sun worship symbolism in the coins already planned (Pictured above)... Big Ben (Sun Obelisk) Stonehenge (Sun temple/circle) and the Angel of the North (Sun goddess (winged Isis) I would say that the most 'symbolic' coin published so far for the 2012 Olympics is not going to be a commemorative coin, like those examples above, that will be being displayed in the Temple of Mithras (Bank of England) It is going to be another coin, hidden right under your noses, that will take on massive symbolic significance and put in to full circulation. Again those that have read my opinions on money in my book will know why i think circulation of coins is important.

Indeed in my opinion it is a nine-year-old girl that has officially created the 'most symbolic coin' created to date that is to be linked to the 2012 Olympics. Although the symbolism on the coins already shown to you is very important it does not lace the boots of the symbolism on the 50p coin that will circulate this land in 2010.

Let me also say before we go further that I do not like to see children being used as excuses for the Serpent Cult to 'display' and promote occult symbolism and I don't like to see them used to attract the minds of other children to it either. This young beautiful little girl is innocent its just her talents and symbolism that are exploited. I'm not suggesting for a moment that the little girl knows anything at all about the symbolism behind the event.

Indeed the symbolism I'm about to show you, as silly as it may appear on a five sense level, is actually being created through 'the will of the people'. The people are officially sanctioning it in other words.

This symbolism was actually officially chosen through the public, through public funded TV, therefore we sanctioned it. Indeed those that read my stuff on the X Factor and Britain's Got Talent may remember that I said the public were literally choosing, through their free will, official Pied Piper Celebrities that will be used to officially attract them to events in the future. We are creating the means to enslave us through our own free will.

The scenario with the 50p coin I am going to show you is based on exactly the same principles.

I have thought long and hard before mentioning and showing this information. That's not because I'm bothered about being ridiculed about the said information mind. Laugh at it if you want. It's your own spiritual imprisonment you laugh at not mine.

Anyway.

Blue Peter (BBC) had chosen the design of a coin allegedly created by 'Florence Jackson' (Aged 9). It is to be officially minted and circulated. Here is a picture of the coin created by Florence and Blue Peter. OK?

The coin selected by Blue Peter and created by the Public.

You can see the image of a high jumper and you also see the '2012 logo' above the falling man I take it? Obviously the numbers / figures on the vest of the jumper are ambiguous too.

Despite its low key appearance I believe the symbolism on the coin, even on a basic level, represents something on a par with the Tau Cross. Obviously the Tau Cross and others associated with the same symbolism is linked to the 'resurrection of the Sun Gods'.

I suppose those with more mystical minds or even a few self-perceived psychics out there may see the 'Hanged Man' or at least a figure preparing to be the hanged man (in the hope of enlightenment if you like). They may be something in it too.

The Hanged Man

Florence Jackson's winning design

Some of you will have a gut feeling about the symbolism on the coin and some of you will think it's a bag of shite and meaningless. To the latter I'd say nothing meaningless is put next to the Queen's Head on coins in this world. Not even drawings from 9 year old virgins. But you are welcome to scoff. I would have done myself just a short while ago.

It does not matter to me if anyone thinks there is anything symbolic in the coin or not I only ask you to look at it.

I will not leave it there though if it has caught your attention. It would be pretty boring if we left it there wouldn't it and I'm sure i will have convinced very few of you that there is symbolism hidden in the coin. So...

I will mention that Blue 'Peter' as in 'St Peter' is also a symbolic of an upside-down man because he was crucified upside down. But I'm sure folks will fob that off. I won't though as Peter and 2012 are very important to the Serpent Cult. I could take you down a path now explaining Peter but i wouldn't go with that in this article lets make it easier....

So, if you are a truth seeker and you want a starter point for research or enlightenment on this matter then please it would be easier to 'go with the girl'. I will do later on in this article in case you can't be arsed. But I say now that if you are just a forum gossip playing at hippies, and you wouldn't know a turd from a cigar, then I recommend you just stay with the information above showing the 'commemorative coins' and the 'monument symbolism' and bugger off. You are not going to understand the rest on this page. Better still I think Most Haunted is on tonight so go and watch that instead. There's an Halloween special coming up too ..Whoopie eh?

I think those enlightened souls in the Spirit World are going to tell us about Postman Pat's Cat in special episode albeit inbetween the bad acting and the adverts of course.

OK then... Have the Fluffies gone to look at the latest Swerdlow hippy trip rip off have they?... Just me and thee left then eh? I'll try and explain some of the deeper symbolism being used through 'Florence Jackson'. I don't know why but I will do. I must be mad eh? If i am so are you... come on then let's be deluded together then...

...The Serpent Cult operate to effect our subconscious and to make official announcements that we accept without us knowing what we have actually accepted. So let's look at what has really been 'announced' and 'accepted' through the symbolism and more importantly its creator. Don't say you haven't accepted it because you have. That applies whether you have previously seen or heard anything about the coin or the nine year old who created it. As i said the coin was created through the public. You are the public.

First of all, in my opinion, the symbolism suggests that, 'Florence Jackson', was selected through 'Peter' to officially 'present' this occult symbolic to the Serpent Cult's Royal Mint and in to public circulation. Using 'Blue Peter' to symbolise this may seem silly but the 'Blue Man' is also very important in this case as a creator Icon.

That said the girl is most important for now with the time permitted.

So 'going with the girl' to research deeper, as I suggested earlier, would lead a pure heart researcher see that the child's name in this 'ritual' is really very important if you look properly Indeed the girls name symbolically represents the 'flourishing bloodline of Jacob'. Is that too much of a leap? Obviously going from a nine-year-old nobody to the bloodline of the biblical Jacob is quite a leap isn't it especially from a tosser like me eh?

Especially if you just wanted to look at pictures in this story eh? How do I get to Jacob and his bloodline eh? I hear you say.

Well my friends it is pretty simple symbolism really, let us look at the name of the person who is credited with creating the Hanged Man / Tau Cross coin. Obviously the person credited is just a simple girl that gives us no clues . She wasn't dressed in robes or carried a title but i assure you this girl carried powerful symbolism that the Serpent Cult love. She actually carries more symbolism than a high ranking member of Royalty. She is literally on a level with the Queen as far as syblism goes hence them sharing credit on the coin.

The word 'Florence' simply represents the word 'flourishing'... OK?

Then the word 'Jackson' actually represents 'Jack's Son' or 'Jack's bloodline'.... OK? Are you with it?

Then the word 'Jack' is a simple derivative of the word 'Jacob'. So therefore 'Jack-son' or 'Jack's bloodline' easily becomes Jacob-son or Jacob's - bloodline. Pretty simple so far eh?

The academics will tell you different I suppose but don't believe them my friends. These people believe they are intelligent and clever when they are really just robot prison warders that keep the Serpent Cult's illusion going in my opinion. I have yet to meet a spiritually intelligent academic. I don't say that out of anger I say it because it is true. They are literally full of shit. (They will use the word excrement though)

Anyway the word 'Jacob' actually represents the word 'Israel' (Jerusalem too), and the word ZION also represents the word 'Israel'(Jerusalem) too... how clever is that eh? You see... that's how the hired egotistical academics and expert puppets work in this world get away with bullshit. They, especially the religious and the language experts, really confuse and bullshit everybody and they really haven't a clue what actually makes this world tick the way it does, they simply assist it to tick the way it does, usually for money and ego boosts, but please don't tell them that because they think they are clever and their ego won't take it. They get their own rewards for what they do anyway in this world, usually whilst sky high on cocaine and their false wisdom, and I'm sure they will receive the right and proper reward for their actions next time they are in the next world too. I'll guarantee now it if I could. But I'm just a lunatic and I can't.

Anyway where were we... oh yes... So... If Florence Jackson really does officially represent, on a symbolic level, the 'Bloodline of Jacob' and simple research will tell you it does, if you can be arsed to think and look for yourself instead of waiting for others to tell you, then it stands to reason, that because the word 'Jacob' actually means the word Israel, that Florence Jackson also represents on a symbolic level, the 'Bloodline of Israel'. Yes? The links above show you how names can be manipulated to produce occult symbolism you cannot see but it is still right under your nose.

OK, working on that logic, and it is a very truthful logic for this world, then Florence Jackson also represents the 'Bloodline of Zion' too and that is simply because the word Zion also means the word Israel doesn't it? So 'Please' Sheeple remember this for future reference.....

Zion = Israel & Jacob = Israel

I know its hard for you to actually think for yourself and I told you the academics are full of shit and create confusion in our languages didn't I? I know... I have to decipher the bloody stuff. I get all the dirty jobs and bloody well unpaid too.

So anyway if the name 'Florence Jackson' actually means, as I tell you, Bloodline of Jacob then it also means 'Bloodline of Zion'.

So my friends and scholars, let's make another small leap... therefore those facts literally make Florence Jackson a symbolic 'Daughter of Zion'. And you thought she was just a typical nine-year-old girl drawing a picture for Blue Peter didn't you? Well she's a daughter isn't she? Her name means bloodline of Jacob doesn't it? Jacob means Israel doesn't it? Israel means Zion doesn't it? So I tell you the truth when I say this girl Florence Jackson is a symbolic Daughter of Zion and if i didn't believe that I wouldn't be wasting my time farting about telling you about it. The force that directs me wants this information made public so it is made public.

In my opinion it is time to realise, if you want to be free, that even the simple event of 'announcing symbolic coinage' plays a part in the enslavement of the human race. This is because the event not only actually effects the collective consciousness of the human race it is also confirmation, through non protest, and acceptance of the rituals that will eventually allow other entities to rule us. In this case the ritual is the 2012 Olympic Games and the symbolism connected to the ritual is on the coin. I have written about these games before.

We can all pretend that the symbolism involved is meaningless but if it is then why have it at all in this world.

On a five-sense level the creator of this symbolism really is just a typical nine-year-old girl drawing a picture for Blue Peter. But the 5 sense level the nine year old girl lives in is the same 'lowest level of existence' that you live in too. The 5 sense world we live is the shit tub of all existences. But on another level, that you cannot 'see' or comprehend whilst operating on this 5 sense level, that nine-year-old girl has been 'selected' because she fits the symbolic profile needed by your enslavers to perform rituals in this world that serve another world and assit that world enslave you in this world. Your enslavers have to carry out these sort of events to rule you. It's all part of the trickery. It's just that you are so dumbed down you haven't got a clue what the Serpent Cult are really doing. You only see a nine year old girl and a drawing and a 50p coin. You do not see anything else.

What we have in the 'bigger picture' of this symbolic event is a 'Daughter of Zion' creating and presenting, through Peter, the Tau Cross for the 2012 rituals. Again some of the occult symbolism behind the Hanged Man may help some of the more mystical souls out there to see more in the symbolism of this coin that has been presented to the masses for their acceptance by the Daughter of Zion.

At what cost? There is no cost if you can't even see the bloody price is there?

Is it all just meaningless coincidences?

Whatever you believe the event actually happened and I assure you i have personally gone far deeper in to this event than i have reported in this article and the symbolism links up with other events connected to other Serpent icons and the year 2012.

Did any of you actually understand the symbolism I have just showed you? Do you see that a 'Daughter of Zion' was symbolically created to take part in the creation of the occult symbolism that will literally be passed and accepted around the populous of the hosting country of the global ritual that is the Olympic games? Well did you understand or not? Do you see a simple children's drawing on the coin or can you see deeper symbolism? It does not matter to me what you see I only ask you to look and think about the symbolism i have pointed out today and the image on the coin.

Florence Jackson's winning design

Obviously in the build up to the Olympics the symbolism will increase, as it does in all global events so do you want to see the 'real symbolism' that will appear? Do you really? Would you actually take note of it and think for yourself if you did?

Or would you rather just look at forum gossip fodder like the 2012 logo released a couple of years ago? Do you simply want some kind of infantile jigsaw to gawp at so you can try and find the word Zion in it, just like some imbecile like Ian Crane claimed to do?

I'm sure some of you do. Indeed some of you will never want anything else. Seeing 2012 as ZION is the highest limit of spiritual awareness for some.

"Oh jolly hockey sticks I found the word ZION out of the numbers 2012" (if I twisted them around a bit)... "Hey Presto I'm awake! Open the Gates of Heaven Pete I'm on my way". "Taxi!"

Anyways...

It is time to either accept that the Serpent Cult are indeed using many forms of symbolism to deceive the minds of the masses if they are not then the symbolism pointed out today to you is meaningless. The name of the girl that created the 50p coin is just coincidence too.

I actually believe that the Serpent Cult use symbolic names along with other symbolism and it is all being displayed in the public domain everyday. The human race is blind to it. Your education and other hypnotism have blinded you to what is really going on.

I don't mean the usual ancient symbolism stuff either. I don't mean to sound insulting but you wouldn't see it in million years. There are some experts out there that can spot 'ancient' symbolism but they do that from education or simply stealing or repeating the words of the guru they follow. They are not aware of other symbolism. They can only repeat others.

I believe that the symbolism being displayed and the rituals being carried out by the Serpent Cult go much deeper than you may imagine. I have only used a very small and easy example to show you today. Obviously it is up to you to decide whether my claims are valid or not. I don't mind what you think either way. I'm not selling you anything.

Innocent folks like 'Florence Jackson' are also purposely selected or 'temporarily possessed by other entities' to create the circumstances and the symbolism required to be displayed by the Serpent Cult and foolishly accepted as meaningless by the sad sleeping human race.

The Serpent Cult is operating on a far higher level of awareness than what you see as the 'human race'. They are literally running a global system of spiritual control alongside the prison you sadly believe is 'normal life'. You haven't got a normal life you are not experiencing a normal life. You are a prisoner. Dance around at a hippy camp deceiving yourself if you want but you are still a prisoner in my opinion.

If you think that my claims maybe true but cannot understand why a force would go to so much trouble just to produce symbolism on a coin then i can only say that performing esoteric trickery with minted coins, occult symbolism and the use of symbolic names, symbolic sex and status, like the example I have tried to translate today, to a level you can actually 'see', is humdrum trivia to the Serpent Cult. The cleverest academic or perceived genius in this world is simply a bumbling shithead compared to the intelligence of the Serpent Cult and your 'average' spiritual /conspiracy Guru is a complete imbecile in the eyes of the Serpent Cult too. I have to agree with those eyes whilst looking at Ian Crane too.

The academics haven't even begun to expose the agenda in its true image. The sad sad conspiracy punters haven't even opened the wrapper of a conspiracy and they are simply moronic food and a means to make a living for the two bob conmen who sell them shit.

The Serpent Cult STILL HAVE control of the collective consciousness of the human race on planet Earth and the relative mild example of the symbolic trickery they use to keep that control, that I have shown you today, is just a drop in the ocean to what goes on all around the world on a daily basis.

That fact will almost never be accepted by the masses and the egotistical academics, experts and gurus will never ever accept it.

The masses want messiahs to free them and nothing else will do I'm afraid and the egotistical academics believe their phony vocabularies and delusions of grandeur will actually help their tongue free them. Neither side actually want the truth though. Not in my opinion anyway.

I hope at least one or two of you out there can see what I am saying regarding the material above. If you can then I'm excited for your future. I can only try to help break the spell you are under. I cannot guarantee it and I'm not here as a servant or slave either. Sometimes spell breaking hurts.

If you just want to have a fluffy bunny hobby, and most of you do, or you are simply a part time 'conspiracy anorak' to fill in time in your sad life after you have slaved for the Serpent all day at work then fair enough, simply carry on as you are. Keep to your favourite gurus rules (usually giving them money without question and copying their words on forums as your own). Indeed please go to the next Ian Crane AV conference and clap a few phony undercover Christians and buy a few DVDs whilst you are there or better still why not be positive and save up for a couple of years and go on a Stuart Wilde Baptism Party or even a Swerdlow Jolly Hippy Outing. I'm sure if you put a few conspiracy DVDs in your coffin or mention the name of the Guru, who's took your mind, you'll go to heaven. You can always ask them for a refund if you don't get there eh?

But if you want to wake up then at least open your mind and at least try and make an effort to wake up. If you don't I'm sure if you put a few conspiracy DVDs in your coffin or mention the name of the Guru, who's took your mind cos you can't think for yourself, you'll go to heaven. Mind you, you can always ask them for a refund if you don't get there eh?

I thank you for your time.

May Love Reign O'er You All.

PS I apologise for not producing the material I had hoped to publish by now. I am trying my best under difficult circumstance to do so. I will carry out my promises before I finish off on oneball A.S.A.P.

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

My deepest gratitude to Matthew and his extraordinary work. You are Unique, my friend. One Ball is truly blessed with your work and the incredible effort and input you have given us.

I, for one, will be putting massive effort into trying to keep Matthew and his work alive on One Ball. Bribery, large amounts of cash, fling a few pies, down on my knees... whatever it takes. All of which I know will have no effect on Matthew. We can only hope that the forces that direct Matthew direct his efforts to remain with One Ball.

Master Po, I can hear the grasshopper at my feet. It took a while.

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

Thanks Matt for trying to explain this. It was my own thoughts when seeing the coin and hearing her name. They do love using Jacob, Jack, Jake or Jackson. Just a few I've been nagging about are the heroes of our favourite shows. In Stargate SG1 it's Jack O'Neil and Daniel Jacksson, and a couple of others. In SG Atlantis it's John Shepherd, think there's some Jacks too but I haven't seen it for awhile. In Lost the hero is Jake Shepherd. And so on. It's like they have a very tiny amount of names to choose from. Of course it's on purpose.

24 - that horrible show, has a hero called John Bauer. They love their Johns and their Jacks and Bauer is the real surname of the Rothchilds. We have "noble" family called Bonde, which means Bauer, so I don't believe one bit the sad story of how the Bauers came from the slum into wealth. It's the same as the Shepherds, the Carpenters, and so on.

I was thinking about the Age of Aquarius when you mentioned the blue man. Peter is another popular name, and Michael. The list goes on, most likely depending on what role they play in the game. I agree, I don't know more than mouse-shit about this. It's more like a feeling there is something going on, but what.

I'm not agreeing all academics are bad. I went to university and they tried to screw me up, which didn't work well for them. Remember a nightmare I had of a grey zombie-making fog chasing me. Many years after I entered the fog and killed it. Kind of a symbolic dream since I never got the logic of the academic world and totally opposed the teachers attempt to form me into someone else. Economy was totally insane in my point of view, though I liked computers. This world is like an advanced program and that could be why nothing is by coincidence. I hear alot of computer geeks say the same, so it might go with the territory.

Take care and hope you can finish more articles, Matt.

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

hey mate,

you are welcome had troubles posting.

well i'm glad at least one has some insight into it.... mind you it is someone i know.. lol i'm just glad you got past the three monument coins.

i suppose it is a toss up, heads or tails, if the Zion symbolism is a coincidence or not.. i know it isn't but i'm insane and a schizophrenic so maybe one half of me is telling lies and of course the other half of me is ridiculed or ignored anyway.

it depends on the depth of thought and how you see the image. After all a 'young girl' drew the picture used in the press and on the 7 sided coin... one not much older than Sarah Payne was when she did her painting.

I'm sure there are a few 5 sence academics out there that can scoff at the symbolism i have mentioned and laugh at the theories i have written about for years.

i'm flattered but embarrassed by some of your comments mate because you know i'm anyone's fer a tater pie and a barrel of tetley's.

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

hello ibeo,

Nay i didn't know you you knew this info ..bloody hell you could have written it for me. what a plonker i have been..spending hours thinking and you could have done it instead...

Any chance you can write up the others to save me time Please. i can only type with one finger you see.

Piers.... PLEASE CONSIDER getting this lad signed up to replace me mate... (pssst ibeo take up the offer of bribes and cash)...piers the lad knew all about the Daughter of Zion all along..

only kidding ibeo..and i'm sure you know no more than mouse shit..

i'm not meaning to say all academics are bad in the sense of bad = evil. i'm saying that their level of intelligence is earthy and the standard of intelligence on earth 'is the lowest there is' and compared to the intelligence of their unseen masters, that created their agents on earth, the academics are on a par with a plastic dog turd.

as far as academics having spiritual awareness to match their academic abilities (their training) is concerned it does not exist.

hence the term the meek shall inherit the earth.

the academics only feed this world in return for their material living standards. that does not make them bad in the evil sense.

but the academics in my opinion assist the serpent to strengthen the illusion (the matrix) and dumb down spirituality.

so i apologise if my passion and anger made me seem like i hate academics. i do not.

i also do not include academics that drop out from the matrix and attempt to expose the farce fr what it is. sadly those persons are literally one in a million. i'm also not having a pop at every drone that has walked through the doors of a university. ... i'm on about academics that are recruited by the matrix to spread brainwashing.. not the pampered kids of the middle and upper classes who want to be a doctor or a lawyer so mummy and daddy don't get embarrassed... i should have made that clear..but i over edited the article anyway...

i mean state academics!!!.. LOL

...yes the long mentioned theories by many people that we live in a computer programme are basically true in my opinion, on a very low level of comprehension though, but those programmes are created by 'mass thought' and triggers of the collective consciousness create the programme we are forced to carry out.. the academics are the biggest creators of the triggers in the collective consciousness that force the rest of us to live that programme. indeed they are the only 5 sense level creators of such triggers.

keep smiling..

Matt,
thank you from my heart. Even though I used think a little bit for myself and see the hypocrisy in the words and announcements being made by the media and government, and the 'humanism' of the masses (rock concerts), I could not imagine in a million years what you have shown me.
If you cease publishing in oneball, I am sure you will find a way to reach us or we'll do. I am missing you already.

I, for one, will be putting massive effort into trying to keep Matthew and his work alive on One Ball. Bribery, large amounts of cash, fling a few pies, down on my knees... whatever it takes. All of which I know will have no effect on Matthew. We can only hope that the forces that direct Matthew direct his efforts to remain with One Ball.

Master Po, I can hear the grasshopper at my feet. It took a while.

Coin Comp Winner Is Daughter Of BBC Exec

4:17pm UK, Thursday October 15, 2009

Gareth Deighan, Sky News Online

The winner of a Blue Peter and Royal Mint competition to design a coin for the 2012 Olympics is the daughter of a new BBC boss.

He hasn't actually started yet so a rule about relatives and comps hasn't been broken.

Matthew, you need to get out more. 😊 Just kidding...

Matthew wrote, spell checked 😊 :

"The Serpent Cult is operating on a far higher level of awareness than what you see as the 'human race'. They are literally running a global system of spiritual control alongside the prison you sadly believe is 'normal life'. You haven't got a normal life you are not experiencing a normal life. You are a prisoner. Dance around at a hippy camp if you want deceiving yourself but you are still a prisoner."

Excellent, and others have spoken and written in similar terms. Yes, they have the "keys" to this reality.

Still, we chose to come here, deceived and programmed, to this "sink or swim" place of opportunity to understand who and what we are. Nowhere else would the experiences be more severe and thus provide a better challenge.

And as I posted on another blog:

"You can of course argue whether certain events are "natural" or not. And even if they are staged it can still be considered "natural" in the sense that they are somehow allowed to happen.

The conspiracy guys tend to not realize they might be part of attracting the outcome in the first place.

Everything is certainly there for a reason. Life is not a mystery. It is right in front of our eyes all the time and we have exactly what we have manifested."

Wasn't that a positive twist after all?

Hello Matt

When I saw this in the news I just thought bullshit....I've stopped looking further than headlines at the moment...things seem to have kicked off big style again with events...or I'm just noticing a bit more.

I knew that this girl would carry symbolism and was disgusted that a child is used but not surprised..it's what they do. I rejected at that point although I didn't know what was going on with it

I've read your insights and your spiritual intelligence is top notch stuff....thanks for writing about it and passing it on. ...the falling man again and information I had no clue onwords are failing me right now tbh..

take care and all the best

Have read through this but now need to break it down into smaller bits to make sense of it properly.

The Temple of Mithras...

You mentioned Bacchus when you did the article exposing the Madis Gras in Brazil and now it crops up here, much closer to home. Listed as one of the twelve Olympians apt it should be linked with an Olympic theme, coins and even Brazil with the article.

Is the Cross of Tau and Tauroctony to do with each other? By the looks of the words it suggest they might be, I am reading in circles and don't seem to be able to work it out. They look like they should be but I just don't know how!

hello,

i am going for a pie today actually for dinner (lunch to the posh folks) I haven't had a beer for weeks. The beer side of thing is tongue in cheek..i make it sound like if i'd been starved of food for 8 days and the opportunity arose for either food or beer i'd be mad enough just to choose beer... Nothing could be further away from the truth than that.... if both were available i still choose beer.

as far as the famous conspiracy buffs go '.i do mean the famous ones'. then i believe and have done for years that ickes the only one i'd listen too.

Indeed he's the only one i have listened too. i can see through stooges very quickly. they literally shine .

I think ickes has deserved his success after suffering a lot... if that is what he wants. as far as i'm concerned he's the best there is and away from the marketing and the cash and the showbiz egos... that ruin this movement... i think he is the most honest.

thats not kissin his arse i'm just giving my opinion.

the movement has been woefully infiltrated.

i find some amateur bloggers the most honest folks interested in what is really going on in the world.

but the most inspiring people to me are everyday folks in the street and in the public.

hello josie, the article is written on several levels and for different types of people.. (or it is just the work of a lunatic lol) take from it what you can and leave what sounds gibberish.

the articles will be there (somewhere) to return to at a later date to see if they still sound gibberish in parts.

each article is like a book. some books you like to read and understand and some you can't bear and think are daft.

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

I'm curious as to why the minters (if that's the correct term for a person who mints coins) chose the Angel of the North for one of their Olympic coins. I've said this before in relation to the new £20 note and how they stick Adam Smith on the back with his theories on pin manufacture! De Haviland and Rutherford had to take the runners-up slot next to Adam's pins! 😊 Back to the coins: surely there are more interesting monuments around the country than this thing that's meant to be an angel. To me it looks more like an aeroplane put up on its tail. If you get close to it you'll see that it's fairly rusty too; I wonder how much longer it'll last. Is it really an angel? It could be any kind of winged humanoid, and not all of them are angelic by any means!

I recently learned from Richard D Hall that Gateshead, the site of the sculpture, was the location of a major UFO/alien event in 1940. Is there a connection? Maybe the minters know something we don't about the place.

YES! 😊

It's just that if the first thing people see is something they at least perceive as being more than negative, they tend to shut the doors. Many have enough shit going on as it is, even though they might even be smiling.

We have to first take ourselves to the mountain top and then go back and show others how it's done and how it looks there, if they want to. And if they don't want to that's ok. They do exactly what they need to do regardless.

nowt like tv fiddles is there hen? the right symbolism is always selected then eh? lol.

in my opinion this symbol was created a long time ago ..long before a bent bbc exec got lumbered with the task of conning competition..

the serpent cult plan everything well in advance .. long before the girl was born.

i was certainly told about it at least 15 years ago..

but i'm a blackballed loony ..who's going to believe me?

i thank you for the info hen.. it does add interest to some on a 5 sense level.

why con something like this?

hello per I, first of all thanks for pointing out the typos as you know i have to do everything myself, research, write, edit, post and be administrator too. all this is unpaid too. so i'm only too aware that typo errors occur.

i also take time to answer folks on here and to be honest some of them are very sad individuals and time wasters.

i'm not interested what you posted on another blog per I i only work on this one.

i shall rectify the typo.

thank you

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

Hello again Per L

i put the typo right...but looking at the original i can't understand why it came out in the way it did. ('deceiving yourself' was ok on the original)

Anyway that solved.... if you want to put your unique articles on here i'll not waste your time mentioning typos or pulling one paragraph out.

Mind you i don't think you have any unique articles have you? i certainly haven't read any on here but you mention another blog. So maybe you have some on there?

I think piers is after new contributors Per L, We are short of unique contributors on here. So maybe you can use your unique work (or even your two lined comments) on here in the future.

Looking at your posts in the archives i can't see any unique comments though i'm afraid i only see recycled ickisms or worse new age hippy stuff

(which is not my cup of tea but others might like it!)..and i will be gone soon so i won't interfere or waste your time.

I'm also sure icke won't mind you thieving his words or for that matter i don't think the swerdlows will bother about you nickin the hippy stuff either. So how about being a contributor mate?

Don't worry I see many forumites using the work of others out of books and DVDs....they must think we don't know where it comes from..... the work of david icke is the most popular and i see manyridiculous clowns writing his stuff on forums but some folks like yourself don't only use icke's they also come up with lesser knowns like the swerdlows and of course you are also a believer of the new age themes have been around since the 60's..ageing hippies, like all the false folks in Sedona (above ground of course not the swerdlow? underground base stuff), keep it going to date. So there is an audience for you. Obviously you could credit your source if you want or if not you want to con a few naive punters and sound clever.

i really think you could be the contributor of positive info that one ball needs. again it is not my cup of tea but i encourage any info being produced

Hey maybe you could get the Swerdlows to contribute too? Or won't they do anything for nothing? In return they could put a link to their hippy trips?

Only an idea mate.

BUT WADDYA SAY?

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

So it all means we should be minting our own coins right? They are only digits in a computer and it would be us so called "awake and aware" who give it value yes? I mean we could exchange beer tops and give them a vale of 50p. They'd be worth that wouldn't they?

A beer in a bottle costs what, $5 bucks in pub in Australia and about the same in Euros or Pounds (which you call Lizo's or Rotho's) i assume? How much is the glass worth to make the bottle out of that $5 bucks? Let's say $2 bucks for the glass, $2.50 for the beer including barley, sugar, hops and 50c for the bottle top.

If we think we are awake and aware then certainly we can back our intelligence and guile to play this dark seedy mob at their own game. Each of us is like an electron, charged with the power of Love and True Light. We then link together to form atoms and we join to become fully functioning cells within a growing body of change (i admit i wanted to write a "growing body of rainbows" or the growing body of a butterfly which is a methaphor for humaity spreading its wings and dancing a new tune, a complete metamorphis; but i didn't want to be accused of not knowing my fluffy bunny red arse from my elbow).

Together build a blossoming butterfly. It's not "Hope" or "change we can believe in" trollop. It's our own organised chaos. Being the snake in the bush who brings wisdom with his words not the venim of a lost and lonely green scaled monster.

Matt I trust David Icke too man. He is a brother and he is doing his utmost to awaken humanity the best he can. i Love the man and I Love you too and it is a pleasure to be in the trenches with the likes of you guys and All the seekers of truth who visit this site with all the right intentions and Love beaming from their heart. And to All those the world over who spend countless hours creating videos and to All those who spend countless hours watching them. Our own shared awakening.

We need not fight this serpent with bitterness for "they" may be the most asleep among us and who may need the most help to awaken. Whether it's this life, time will tell but we must create a proper "break away" society underneath the existing system so that people can see those who are "awake and aware" obviously have their shit together.

We don't need to knock down the old walls before we build a new one. Maybe we should grow a hedge instead of a wall this time watta ya reckon? Yes some raspberry bushes would be a good start. Then we will see more butterflies.

Mark

Matthew, perhaps I could follow you on the next "hippy" Ayahuasca trip? If possible, give me a notice before you know you're about to go there.

And yes, I do crosscheck things with different people to hear different views on the same subject. Funny we should have to do that, isn't it? And yes, I'm still learning.

What your articles are about is also something everyone does every day. We arrange our own symbols that create a recipe for something to happen. Most people do this unconsciously and then wonder why life is as it is. This is part of what the Swerdlows are teaching, with or without trips.

And as always, the choice is uniquely ours.

And by the way, the spell thing was a "hidden" joke. Otherwise I would have written it as "spellchecked" and not "spell checked". You know, spell, as in "breaking the spell". Get it now? Or am I too far out there? 😊

Ayahuasca journeys are not 'hippy' and it shows you have not learned anything as you call a journey a 'trip' like a hippy would

If you care to read about Aya and the role of the Shaman in Aya ceremonies, you will learn the history of it, and the indigenous people were around long before any hippy cult of the 60's, but as OkayOla points out, people on here do not read the articles, they reply with their blind, hidden ego fuelled bitterness

As far as knowing anything about native American culture handed down to Shamans for centuries, you are still learning

We can all see that you are deliberately trying to antagonise and I wish you would explain as to why you are doing it ... Keep on pushing Per L but you will never knock us down

Matthew, perhaps I could follow you on the next "hippy" Ayahuasca trip? If possible, give me a notice before you know you're about to go there. And yes, I do crosscheck things with different people to hear different views on the same subject. Funny we should have to do that, isn't it? And yes, I'm still learning. What your articles are about is also something everyone does every day. We arrange our own symbols that create a recipe for something to happen. Most people do this unconsciously and then wonder why life is as it is. This is part of what the Swerdlows are teaching, with or without trips. And as always, the choice is uniquely ours. And by the way, the spell thing was a "hidden" joke. Otherwise I would have written it as "spellchecked" and not "spell checked". You know, spell, as in "breaking the spell". Get it now? Or am I too far out there? 😊 hello Perl...

Well i'm sure if you followed me on a 'hippy 'ayahuasca trip you'd be a 'gud un' mate. if i sold hippy trips you be the first i'd sell one too. Unfortunately i won't ever go in to business so i'll never do that.

Please contact ralph miller at heart of initiate if you want to go but i believe the prices are expensive. Not james Ray style expensive but expensive. But after mentioning this to Ralph he said he was going to arrange less expensive venues in the future . i suppose some hippies do go to drink aya but they are not hippies for long when they do.

i'm sure you'd be in better company with a swerdlow trip. i'm just an arsehole PerL.

my articles are no good for you Perl and my work will do you no good at all. I suggest you do not waste any more time reading those available now or indeed any in the future.

but that said if i ever get the chance to get you to follow me on a hippy trip i will still do so.

Best wishes

Thankx for the interesting article Matt, I really appreciate your work. As I'm a newbie here and having heard all this talk about you leaving I haven't yet heard or discovered WHY you are leaving, if you don't mind me asking, why are you leaving and where are you going coz I want to follow you down that fluffy bunny hole.
bye 4 now, Peter (I've never been happy with that name)

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

Matt Thank you so much for all the info you put out to us. You can not believe how life changing this has been for me. I can't look at anything the same way anymore and I look and find symbolism in so many things that I would have once overlooked. I question everything as to the underlying meaning. I know I drive some of my friends mad with this but if they want to stay asleep who am I to complain. I am not saying I am fully awake, more at the stage where the alarm has gone off recently and you open your eyes and they are full of dried sleep and you are toying with th idea of another snooze or to get up. You know getting up would be the best thing in the long run but the thought of an extra 10 mins snooze is easier.

I am past the 10 mins extra snooze, and I did like the article by Suzie about how tempting it can be to go back to that mindset but how you can't go back. So I am up out of bed now and the snooze has been disabled. I am currently walking around trying the rub the sleep from eyes and truly smell the coffee. It's been painful and it still is. There has been aspects of my old self that have really just crumbled away to reveal another self. I have had days here I have cried to know how the world we live in is manipulated so much. How we take it in through sight, sound, touch, taste, by simply being here. There have been times where I envied those who are walking around oblivious, days where I feel lucky to have to broken through some of the spell and be able to think for myself, turn the TV off and research this for myself as well as reading your interesting articles. I use them as a stepping stone to set about and discover for myself and I thank you from the bottom of my heart.

The other day I had a knock at the door and it was an old man telling me they were having a weekly meeting to talk about God and his work in....(wait for it.....) the local pub!!!! every Thursday and we could have a cuppa coffee and a biscuit and be free to ask questions. Would I be interested? No I said. Why? he said. Because I am a non believer I said. Well you should come and ask questions about God he said. I don't need to ask questions about Christianity because I am not confused by it. I have nothing to do with it and I am happy that way. The old man looked horrified and asked what my beliefs were. I told him that I believe we are infinite consciousness and that all religions are Illuminati created belief systems to keep you imprisoned in a make believe world and that it would take hours to go through it all with him but if he had any questions on the matter he was welcome to call back when I wasn't in the middle of eating my dinner, I would even throw in a coffee and a custard cream. Even the non brainwashed can provide adequate refreshments

He looked at me like I was a little lost puppy who needed saving or it may have been like I was a mad crazy woman, whatever it was, it didn't matter to me. He shoved a leaflet in my hand and told me that I should go to the meeting and scuttled off down the path. It never ceases to amaze me how they feel it's there right to question you but when you question them they don't want or rather they can't answer you. They can ask you why you don't believe but when you ask them why you do and ask what supporting evidence they have to verify this they are at a loss for words.

Love to all and keep rubbing the sleep from you eyes, no turning back once the alarm clock has gone off now matter how tired you feel. If you do fall prey to the big tempting snooze button you will only feel ten times more groggy when the alarm rings again. So get up, get out, get off your lazy bed and embrace who you really are :o) oh also wanted to say that after listening to so many conspiracy theorists that yes you can spot the con men and repeaters. I was introduced into this through David Icke. I have read his books and seen his lectures. For me when I look at him I see a caring individual who has really wants to put this info out to the people to help us. I also like the way David comes across in his lectures and interviews. He doesn't talk at you, he merely tells you before he starts that information he is bringing you is for you to take away and make what you will of it. He tells the listener or reader that he is not preaching or telling or even asking you to believe but to keep an open mind and make that decision for yourself. I love this about David. He talks to the audience on an intellectual level and never condescends anyone. Except Wogan when he went back on in 2006 but that a long time coming and dumbed down Wogan got all that he deserved after the way he humiliated Mr Icke back in 1991. Wogan was disgusting and arrogant in the way he treated his guest.

David is passionate about his work and after suffering a lot at the hands of media and dealing with his own awakening, I think he is one amazing individual. You know that when he gives you information he is not just repeating what other theorists have said. You can hear David's work in so many of today's so called conspiracy theories as you can also hear Matthew's work in there too. So for me these two men are at the forefront. The originals, the ones who are doing this because it is in their bones to do so, their passion, the very meaning of who they are. For which I for one thank them dearly.

As for the majority of the others...I can only think of three words for them LOOK...BANDWAGGON...JUMP!

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

Matt,

Just catching up with your work again. You make some valid points as always. I expect that the 2012 hysteria will reach a new fever once the first 2012 movie comes out. Then it will be all the rage.

In a recent aya journey I had a vision of some long forgotten ancient Mayan shamans at the pyramids in ceremony. In my vision they were dark, secretive and cult like. I had the impression that they were ones who came up with the long count calender. Perhaps they tapped into something with their hallucinogenic mushroom or Bufo Marinus potions. Who knows?

The Mayans themselves never said much about the 2012 end date except something about the descent of the diety, Bolon Yokte on the half eroded Tortuguero Monument 6.

Bolon Yokte is reported to be one of the Mayan gods symbolizing war, conflict, and the underworld. Bolon Yokte is a god that is often present during Creation events according to Mayan mythology. The rest is New Age hype and conjecture.

I can't help but wonder if we humans will create our own reality in the near future, and I have a feeling that by 2012 things will be so chaotic that we won't give a damn about the Mayan calender...or the olympics for that matter.

All the best Matt.

Keep up the good work. The world needs you.

Much love to you and S.

Your friend,
Dr.M

PS I'm anxiously waiting for your next article about your hippy trips in Brazil.

also...timely reference to the New Age hipsters in Sedona up there. I don't know if the news made it across the pond that 3 people recently died in a Sedona sweat lodge packed with 50 people. It's a shame really that we are so desperate for spirituality that we'll blow thousands of dollars on sham sweat lodges or baptismal in the Jordan.

G'day Dr.M

I am left in little doubt that great change is upon us but how it pans out will no doubt reflect our consensus reality (ah...bugger). If thoughts about a positive transition is all just New Age conjecture then there is absolutley no rhym nor reason to stay anywhere near the hovel cities created by this low level consciousness. It's FKD and thank christ i'm going back to country in two days time.

Cheers and good luck

Eureka!

I've found a gap I'm comfy with (for now) between consensus reality and the loony-bin of conspiracy blah blah.

It all boils down two won force that wont be forced buy anythink but its own submission.

You can try to avoid the issue by digging through all kinds of distractions which eventually lead straight back to the problem-reaction-soulevolution of your undoing the me'ness that prevents you from being the real you who you knew you were all along.

Not that I'm claiming I know who I am or anything, you understand.
Only you can know that.

I know what you're thinking. Me? God?
No fucking way sunbeam, I don't belive in me that much. ROFLOL!

Time to move on, I'm certain there are many PTB who are all too pleased that so many people never get over the initial shock of things not being what they seem even if they are or not all depending. A bit like rabbits caught in the headlights of a speeding car.

It's been a mixed pleasure being here, mostly positive. I apologise for any nasty reactions, the bark and all that.

Is it just me being blind or is there no self-destruct button?
In other words, how do I delete my account?

Cheers,
SoakyOla

Mr. P

You have some extremely talented contributors on here. I have to admit that I don't always understand everything I read here, and I really have to pay attention to make the connections and the symbolism, but I'm getting there... slowly. I'm sure I'm in good company if I don't appreciate every nuance of a true genius and gifted writer like Matt at first read. If it wasn't for you I never would have had the pleasure of meeting him and S, so I'm indebted to you for that. Thank you sir.

All the best Mr. P... and very nice site. Perhaps we'll meet again one day over a cup of tea.

no misunderstandings mate not from this end anyway.

i can only confirm that my work ,like it or hate it, is no good for you. it will do nothing for you and you are wasting your time reading it.

I'm writing a book during the winter months. Let me tell you now ..don't read it if it is ever published..you will be wasting your time and if you actually paid for it money.

I very much appreciated your financial support at the leicester talk. you have my eternal thanks for the gesture. you are indeed not like the majority on this site.. e.g. a taker.

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

thanks sara.

the temptations to go in to the matrix will only increase each time we get a smack in the face.

there are a lot of words from a lot of people who haven't even had a slap yet. and there are a lot of people who simply think they are awake but are swimming inside the second net i mentioned earlier in the year.

Hey it's time for me to play at mystic gurus and do a little parable. (You must be honoured lol) I learnt the following the hard way...

It is easy and safe to dive in and swim in deep murky waters whilst holding on to a well equipped and expert diver. You can even find pearls and treasure and learn from the mistakes of previous shipmates by doing such a thing. But once you let go of the diver you are no longer safe and it is no longer easy and you will be blinded by the dark. You won't see any pearls nor will you see the mistakes of previous shipmates. You will only regret letting go of the diver.

Matthew Delooze 18th October 2009

.Anyway.. you might learn something if you go to the 'god in the pub' sessions. But the only substance that will alter consciousness in the pub is the drinks.

Tell him i'll come if the ale's free.. (and you'd think god would stand a few rounds if it was him that dished out the invites)

Keep smilin

Matt

nice to hear from you.

been meaning to email you suze kept me informed.. hope things with eyes are ok.

yes .. i think you might be right about chaos.. i have indicated it myself. but from my viewpoint the olympics etc will cause the chaos.

yes i'll sort the 'hippy trip' info out ..been waiting a while to do so... but i don't think it will be entertaining.

yes mate we reported on the sweat lodge murders if you scroll down the page you will see hope kacy is ok ..and the singin etc.

Speak soon matt

Hello mate...

Well mate we should be saying 'James Authur Ray covered the sweat lodge intensively' not us..... with plastic with the looks of it... it could have been cos of the rain (they were too lazy to take the sweat lodge down so they used plastic to keep it dry and erected) but it could be a police thing...

will we ever get the truth?

Hello all...

'Sedona' itself is a grave yard for braindead ageing hippies who think they are enlightened. They'd happily stab each other in the back for a spliff and a spiritual quote. 90% of the conversations between ageing hippies is about business and vanity anyway and the other 10% is spent backstabbing the persons they claim to love.

Typical capped out sedona hippy....

"Oh I'm 94 and have took all the drugs and shagged like a bunny for 40 years, followed all the hypnotic bands and talked cool about peace man.. but now i'm clapped out i want to look and act 16 ..and hang around sedona like 'i'm awake'... I haven't had rich parents or owned several business whilst pretending i was a hippy like the rest of the phonies i now want to set up a rip of hippy business.. Because i'm close to death i want to say i'm awake. .."

The hippies are the biggest victims ever of mind control and CIA created bullshit. If anyone out there wants to see the effects of the effect of total mind control of a section human beings ..then go and listen to an ageing hippy that think they lived a life of freedom. You won't find a bigger example of vanity greed and hypocrisy on planet earth today.

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

hello mark,

no mate i'm not suggesting we mint out own coins.. putting david icke on our coins will only have the same effect as putting the queen on them i wouldn't suggest anything at ll but if pushed i'd say why do we need coins? why is there money in the first place?.. give a dog a 50 pound note and it will throw it away.

the whole world is controlled with the face value of money.

what are we supposed to be waking up to?

just so we can all have a lot of money?

mark Will I Am wrote:

So it all means we should be minting our own coins right? They are only digits in a computer and it would be us so called "awake and aware" who give it value yes? I mean we could exchange beer tops and give them a vale of 50p. They'd be worth that wouldn't they? A beer in a bottle costs what, $5 bucks in pub in Australia and about the same in Euros or Pounds (which you call Lizo's or Rotho's) i assume? How much is the glass worth to make the bottle out of that $5 bucks? Let's say $2 bucks for the glass, $2.50 for the beer including barley, sugar, hops and 50c for the bottle top. If we think we are awake and aware then certainly we can back our intelligence and guile to play this dark seedy mob at their own game. Each of us is like an electron, charged with the power of Love and True Light. We then link together to form atoms and we join to become fully functioning cells within a growing body of change (i admit i wanted to write a "growing body of rainbows" or the growing body of a butterfly which is a methaphor for humaity spreading its wings and dancing a new tune, a complete metamorphis; but i didn't want to be accused of not knowing my fluffy bunny red arse from my elbow). Together build a blossoming butterfly. It's not "Hope" or "change we can believe in" trollop. It's our own organised chaos. Being the snake in the bush who brings wisdom with his words not the venim of a lost and lonely green scaled monster. Matt I trust David Icke too man. He is a brother and he is doing his utmost to awaken humanity the best he can. i Love the man and I Love you too and it is a pleasure to be in the trenches with the likes of you guys and All the seekers of truth who visit this site with all the right intentions and Love beaming from their heart. And to All those the world over who spend countless hours creating videos and to All those who spend countless hours watching them. Our own shared awakening. We need not fight this serpent with bitterness for "they" may be the most asleep among us and who may need the most help to awaken. Whether it's this life, time will tell but we must create a proper "break away" society underneath the existing system so that people can see those who are "awake and aware" obviously have their shit together. We don't need to knock down the old walls before we build a new one. Maybe we should grow a hedge instead of a wall this time watta ya reckon? Yes some raspberry bushes would be a good start. Then we will see more butterflies. Mark

Not that I'm claiming I know who I am or anything, you understand. Only you can know that. I know what you're thinking. Me? God? No fucking way sunbeam, I don't believe in me that much. ROFLOL! -----
Time to move on, I'm certain there are many PTB who are all too pleased that so many people never get over the initial shock of things not being what they seem even if they are or not all depending. A bit like rabbits caught in the headlights of a speeding car. It's been a mixed pleasure being here, mostly positive. I apologise for any nasty reactions, the bark and all that. Is it just me being blind or is there no self-destruct button? In other words, how do I delete my account? Cheers, SoakyOla

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

Hi Matt and Sooze,

The family is fine and my vision is better. Thanks for asking friend.
I think you may be spot on about the olympics now that I think about it. Also in 2012 will be the American presidential elections. Perhaps that will play into the mix as well.
You know, I had a job offer in Sedona that I declined recently. Didn't feel right. Now I'm beginning to understand why. I'm sticking to southern Arizona, the place of my birth.
I'll be ready for your accounts of Brazil good or bad.
All the best to you friend.
Hang in there.

Dr. M

PS My best regards to you and your family Mr. P

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

Unless it got removed in the Ian Crane inquisition, I already made a declaration here some time ago that what we write is more for ourselves than for others. Furthermore I don't think we're responsible for the reactions of others, even though we somehow attract it and need to think about why.

Yes, this is the biggest shit tube in the universe, but where would you otherwise find the Illuminati with their slaves (victim minds)?

As for the Ickes I can just say go ahead and answer his Forum poll whether you think Alex Collier is a real Andromeda contactee or not. That's a good example of Illuminati infiltration. They take the truth and usurp it to fit their agenda, in this case by making people doubtful, in favor of Icke perhaps. I have yet to see a reference to Alex Collier in anyone's work, which is a verification in itself, not to mention he talked about reptilians etc. about 20 years before Icke. Whether the Andromedans are 100% right or whether they're telling the whole truth from their perspective is a different story.

About the Swerdlovs I can at least recommend their priceless health info. Free of charge if you just scroll the Q&As.

And by the way, since I have a free mind apparently, I will read your book anyway.

Since even great humor is rare in the conspiracy zoo, please bare with me in repeating this:

thanks sara.

the temptations to go in to the matrix will only increase each time we get a smack in the face.

there are a lot of words from a lot of people who haven't even had a slap yet. and there are a lot of people who simply think they are awake but are swimming inside the second net i mentioned earlier in the year.

Hey it's time for me to play at mystic gurus and do a little parable. (You must be honoured lol) I learnt the following the hard way...

It is easy and safe to dive in and swim in deep murky waters whilst holding on to a well equipped and expert diver. You can even find pearls and treasure and learn from the mistakes of previous shipmates by doing such a thing. But once you let go of the diver you are no longer safe and it is no longer easy and you will be blinded by the dark. You won't see any pearls nor will you see the mistakes of previous shipmates. You will only regret letting go of the diver.

Matthew Delooze 18th October 2009

.Anyway.. you might learn something if you go to the 'god in the pub' sessions. But the only substance that will alter consciousness in the pub is the drinks.

Keep smilin

Matt

I always tell myself feel the fear and do it anyway. I think fear stems from the unknown and once you are facing a fear and dealing with it the fear itself dissolves especially if you face it and tell it to eff off :o)

People have to feel the fear and let go of the diver, find the pearls for themselves no matter how dark it gets. The sense of well being when you are doing it for yourself must be amazing. The pearls are there and we all have the ability to find them. The trick is not to give up and keep going forward. It's a dirty job but if we don't do it then we will forever be swimming in stagnant waters that smell bad and where life can't flourish to it's true potential.

These are the kinds of thought I fill myself with when I am having a hard time with or a slap in the face with things. It really helps me to help myself

Listen to me getting all philosophical when there's other things to talk about like X Factor. oooh who do you think should win? I am joking of course...Case in point...X factor. Terrible show, not least because it exploits people but as we already know messes with people's minds. It puts people under a trance and gets them to vote for who the big chiefs have already decided will win by the way the contestants are played off against each other. But the unsuspecting public think they are thinking for themselves when they vote. It makes me so angry that show. It's so transparent that I loose my patience with the innocents that watch it and I have walked out of rooms when the conversations start. How can people realise what they really are with crap like that crippling their brain cells while they are stuffing their faces with MSG snacks. Think I'd rather take mi chances with the god squad in the pub, although I can't see that lasting because we are not talking a quiet country pub here, we are talking a Manchester pub that is home to a lot of burly men who like a quiet pint after a hard days graft....eeekkk. Free ale in that pub would be a bloody miracle in itself :o)

Don't get me wrong, I am not a miserable sod :o) Honest, I love a laugh and a drink like the next person but part of me that has crumbled away since I started dealing with the changes in me is that I can't tolerate that kind of mindset anymore and some people think I am a misery arse who doesn't watch what everyone is watching. Not the important people in my life, my partner and I read and research a lot of this stuff together and I am so happy he is behind me. We can't watch a film without seeing who can spot the most subliminal Illuminati symbols. They are bloody everywhere.

I like this site because there are a lot of like minded people who are coming to terms with what is happening. I am going to try and get to your lecture in Liverpool next month. I always look forward to reading your articles and sometimes I re read them because there is so much information to take in.

Best wishes
Sara the not so miserable sod

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

We don't need coins or money to look after ourselves, i totally agree. Why do we need something in exchange for our giving? I'll give you my vegies because you need to eat but who will give me the seeds to get started? It's an intermediate step towards the realisation of unified grace but of course we don't need to have that transition step and if that's what you want and if that is indeed what we want collectively (subconsciously) then there'll be some big changes brought on by nature to give us the clean canvas.

The serpent cult have their own language for it, they call it One World Government, One economic system, it's all control, control, control. We are the intellectual "elite", we shall tell you what to do. And I should know whilst you've been slaving on a factory floor i was slaving in the halls of power as a "professional" in his chosen "discipline". I'm still trying to wipe the shit off me. So now when it rains I go dance in it, just to remind me of true power, not force like these NWO arse wipes would have it.

How is the Rain going by the way? You mentioned in one of your aya trips that nature couldn't unite as One (or words to that effect) due to our ignorance or neglect. I hope I understood you correctly. If we want a clean canvas in a hurry then we'll need the wee folk to shake things up. Can't see it happening otherwise can you?

What are we waking up to? Our true nature Matt and I believe you are aware of that. Our true nature: Our connection to Home, to nature, to the unseen spirit (as we have come to call it in our 5 sense world but as you very well know it is seen when the third eye is awake and aware). We are awaking to our potential, to our creativity and our ability to 'generate' Love (thanks Piers).

People who read your material understand it mate because we have been living as slaves in this life and god knows how many more as part of their reincarnation scam (not to say we wouldn't choose to incarnate anyway but if souls get "cleansed" in the afterlife how do you explain Dick Cheney?). You write as if you are talking to a crowd in McDonalds mate, as if 99.99% of the people who visit OneBall are as deluded as a parliamentary Q&A. Come on buddy, lift your boot straps, we all know the answers are within our hearts. It certainly isn't "out there" where there are con-men and charletons; afterall what the masses want, the masses get (shall i reference you here?).

You'll say I got that from Icke or payed some arse wipe at a conference. Bullshit buddy, the words used to express the sentiment were taught to me yes, it's the english language and it's the same language you draw from. The Truth of Love however is not an idea or concept you can grasp at a weekend retreat, from Icke or any other bastard, it's the journey we are all on NOW and awakening too on earth, and it just IS and has always been.

But we forgot somehow didn't we? We'll blame the serpent cult won't we? Someone else made us forget our connection didn't they, anyone but ourselves right? We didn't get sucked in by the trappings of the third dimension at all did we? Sex, drugs, alcohol, power, greed, fear etc. No never, it was taken from us without our will right?

And now the level of deception is so deep there is nothing to love anymore is there? Certainly not ourselves? Certainly not nature who wouldn't wipe their arse with notes with the queen's mug on it. Nothing to love in those amazing creatures of awareness who are trying to shake the shit from their own tendencies, their own perceived failings, their own false evidence appearing real (fear).

Shall we give it a try though? Nah FCK it, there's too many people eating McDonalds and buying worthless shit from china. Too many people choosing to further enslave themselves. I thought we were supposed to be waking up? But there's a precious few that I can see. Or is it that my eyes are too closed, that have I scrunched them so tightly shut I make a stupid face.

Truth? What truth? The smell of jasmine in spring can't be sold by con-men mate it just IS.

hello mark,

no mate i'm not suggesting we mint our own coins.. putting david icke on our coins will only have the same effect as putting the queen on them i wouldn't suggest anything at all but if pushed i'd say why do we need coins? why is there money in the first place?.. give a dog a 50 pound note and it will throw it away.

the whole world is controlled with the face value of money.

what are we supposed to be waking up to?

just so we can all have a lot of money?

mark Will I Am wrote:

So it all means we should be minting our own coins right? They are only digits in a computer and it would be us so called "awake and aware" who give it value yes? I mean we could exchange beer tops and give them a value of 50p. They'd be worth that wouldn't they? A beer in a bottle costs what, $5 bucks in pub in Australia and about the same in Euros or Pounds (which you call Lizo's or Rotho's) I assume? How much is the glass worth to make the bottle out of that $5 bucks? Let's say $2 bucks for the glass, $2.50 for the beer including barley, sugar, hops and 50c for the bottle top. If we think we are awake and aware then certainly we can back our intelligence and guile to play this dark seedy mob at their own game. Each of us is like an electron, charged with the power of Love and

True Light. We then link together to form atoms and we join to become fully functioning cells within a growing body of change (I admit I wanted to write a "growing body of rainbows" or the growing body of a butterfly which is a metaphor for humanity spreading its wings and dancing a new tune, a complete metamorphosis; but I didn't want to be accused of not knowing my fluffy bunny red arse from my elbow). Together build a blossoming butterfly. It's not "Hope" or "change we can believe in" trollop. It's our own organised chaos. Being the snake in the bush who brings wisdom with his words not the venom of a lost and lonely green scaled monster. Matt I trust David Icke too man. He is a brother and he is doing his utmost to awaken humanity the best he can. I love the man and I love you too and it is a pleasure to be in the trenches with the likes of you guys and all the seekers of truth who visit this site with all the right intentions and love beaming from their heart. And to all those the world over who spend countless hours creating videos and to all those who spend countless hours watching them. Our own shared awakening. We need not fight this serpent with bitterness for "they" may be the most asleep among us and who may need the most help to awaken. Whether it's this life, time will tell but we must create a proper "break away" society underneath the existing system so that people can see those who are "awake and aware" obviously have their shit together. We don't need to knock down the old walls before we build a new one. Maybe we should grow a hedge instead of a wall this time watta ya reckon? Yes some raspberry bushes would be a good start. Then we will see more butterflies. Mark

Re: At What Price Comes the Daughter of Zion?

Hi

Sara, when you said this

I could have cheered! I hate to pinch peoples words, but I really couldn't have said it any different, or in any way better, myself, yet its exactly what I could have said. It's great to know that there are folk out there, just like us. It can sometimes feels very lonely when the whole world seems to be talking about xfactor, (also my most loathed programme currently) or some other celeb fix. This is why I am so grateful that I found Matthew's articles and One Ball and to have the chance to visit and know I am among people like yourself who understand how difficult, frustrating and painful, this waking up lark actually is.

"It is easy and safe to dive in and swim in deep murky waters whilst holding on to a well equipped and expert diver. You can even find pearls and treasure and learn from the mistakes of previous shipmates by doing such a thing. But once you let go of the diver you are no longer safe and it is no longer easy and you will be blinded by the dark. You won't see any pearls nor will you see the mistakes of previous shipmates. You will only regret letting go of the diver." Matthew Delooze 18th October 2009.

...really resonated with me. I know this is me, and I am definitely not yet ready to let go of the expert. I am not daft though, I do know that day will have to come, and I aim to be as ready as I can be for it. But for now, I'm clinging on like a good 'un and finding as much pearly treasure as I can and trying not to feel too afraid of the future.

Thanks for the help.

While I'm here, (seeing as I'm not the greatest writer so don't do this often) I would just like to say to Susie, thank you for your blogs, I have not read them all yet, but I do intend to. I don't know if I will ever get the chance to try Ayahuasca, and even if I did get the chance I don't know whether I would have the courage to drink it, but when I read about your journeys, and Matt's, my soul does feel something, and it stirs something in me which I'm struggling to explain...but just wanted to let you know it means a lot to be able to share in them.

Also, thanks to all One Ball contributors, I enjoy reading all that you write and I especially like that you make me think, missed out on a fair few years of doing just that I can tell you. It's good to be here.

Danielle

Sorry about the quotes, don't know how to put them in those boxes.
