"Townies" Take 'T' To Task At Hearing

by Sal Giarratani

The Kent School auditorium was the site of an MBTA public hearing last Wednesday to discuss recent cuts in service to the Charlestown community. This meeting was the result of a petition drive by the Charlestown Town Council requiring the MBTA management to schedule a public hearing upon request.

Some 145 Town residents showed up for the hearing which was conducted by MBTA Officials Robert Devin, Operations liaison; Edward Conlin, District Supervisor for the area including Charlestown; and John Rogers, Service Planning.

Rep. Richard Voke was the first to speak saying the people were outraged at the recent service cuts and wanted the MBTA to know that fact. Voke then outlined legislation he has filed to prevent arbitrary cuts in bus service. He explained that his bill would demand that proposed service cuts be announced sixty days prior to implementation and that a public hearing be mandated 30 days BEFORE the cut would go into effect.

The audience supported such legislation. Most agreed that holding hearings after the fact was not right.

City Councillor Albert O'Neil spoke in defense of the people of Charlestown fighting to get their services restored. "Don't curb their service," said O'Neil, "They've lost their police station and had to fight to get their firehouse back . . . No one on the Board of Directors comes from Charlestown, if they did, service wouldn't be cut like this . . . is it going to stop?"

Following the councillor's statement, this reporter presented facts which were carefully researched showing the following:

"Between March 17, 1978 and March 21, 1981 service on Route 92 (Main Street) was decreased by 65 percent on week nights after 6 p.m., 72 percent Saturdays for same time period and ONE HUNDRED PERCENT on Sundays.

Service cuts on Route 93 (Bunker Hill) was cut 15 percent on week nights after 6 p.m., 29 percent, Saturdays after 6 p.m. and 66 percent on Sundays."

These facts were presented to the three members at the MBTA hearing who quietly listened and copied the statistics relayed.

Robert "Bobby" Wallace then proceeded to explain that without proper service the elderly just won't be able to get around.

He explained the logistical problem faced by many resi-

GIBSON IDEAS FOR FINANCING DURING A TIGHT MORTGAGE MARKET NO. 2 SELLER FINANCING

Seller financing is any arrangement where the owner receives part of the purchase price in the form of a note or mortgage instead of cash.

The owner may take a "purchase money mortgage" for part of the downpayment, or a "second mortgage." Either way the owner receives most of their money at closing (from the buyer's new bank mortgage and downpayment) and later payments for the balance. We can explain how a second mortgage works, and arrange for one that specifically meets your needs in amount and payments.

WHY SHOULD AN OWNER CONSIDER SELLER FINANCING?

During a tight mortgage situation, offering seller financing expands the number of possible buyers. We've seen over the years that seller financing results more often in the sale price closer to the asking price than without seller financing. In a very tight mortgage market, seller financing can make the difference between a sale and no sale at all.

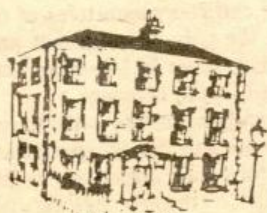

There are many ways of assisting the buyer with financing. We'll be happy to explain seller financing and other ideas in detail. Call JOEL CLAYDON at:

dents, especially the elderly and youth at the distances of the three Orange Line stations closest to Charlestown.

"Charlestown needs more bus service," Wallace said, "the MBTA repeatedly shortchanges Boston."

Brian Hickey also told the assembly that Boston pays the highest assessment and should get the best of service.

"Boston," according to Hickey, "takes on the tax load for the suburbs... elderly paying through the nose and can't get the service."

Billy McClellan echoed a similar tone stating there are many Senior citizen housing developments in Charlestown, especially near Main Street and elimination on Sundays for Route 92 greatly impacts their mobility.

Many other residents expressed concern about the adverse impact the cuts were having on Charlestown. Many supported the restoration of the direct Downtown service, some spoke of a shuttle service looping Charlestown (from Sullivan to Bunker Hill over to City Square to Warren, Main and back to Sullivan.) It received mixed reactions from the T management present.

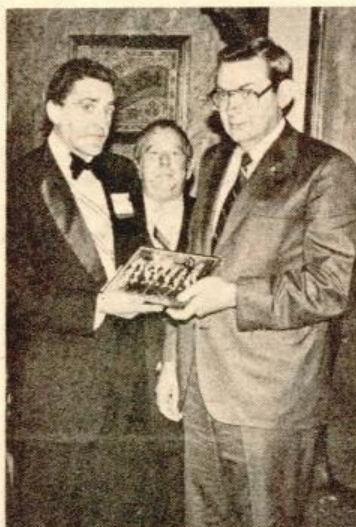

These and all the ideas, proposals and recommendations were taped to be played to the Board of Directors, Chairman James Carlin, General Manager James O'Leary and John White, Operations Director.

Following the conclusion of the hearing, one elderly Charlestown woman summed up the general feeling of the neighborhood in attendance saying, "Maybe, it was futile, maybe they'll go back and laugh at the tape but they'll know we care and that we're mad about the cuts. We can't stay quiet or they'll walk all over us."

Open Letter To Judge Garrity

June 10, 1981
Judge W. Arthur Garrity
United States District Court
1525 Post Office and Courthouse
Boston, MA 02108
Dear Judge Garrity,

While there may have been a time when the ills of the Boston Public Schools could have been laid at the doorstep of the School Committee, such is certainly not the case today. Even Robert Wood, former Superintendent and no friend of the current Committee, said in a speech at M.I.T. on January 22, 1981, "The popular temptation is to fix the blame for the nonfunctioning of the system, resistance to law and ineptness in education on the School Committee. It is a simplistic diagnosis and should be resisted."

Certainly, after more than 200 orders of your Court, impacting for the past seven years on every facet of school operation, the court must share if not bear the major responsibility for today's conditions. Among these are:

1. A drop in enrollment from a figure of close to 95,000 to a projected enrollment for the coming year of approximately 60,000.

2. An increase in the number of "racially imbalanced" schools from 45 to better than 100.

3. A reduction in the number of operating schools from 200 to approximately 125.

4. An increase in average cost of educating a student from $1,300 per student to approximately $3,800 per student.

5. A change in the composition of the enrollment from majority white to better than 2/3 black and other minority.

6. Approximately 2,500 teachers and administrators in receipt of letters that could indicate possible separation from the system.

7. In the face of an unbearable budget crisis, an increase in the cost of busing to approximately $17,000,000 for the coming school year.

8. A once proud school system whose image is probably at its lowest ebb.

9. A quality of public education that is perceived as poor.

I could continue on and on, but what purpose would it serve to berate each other over our respective responsibilities for the deplorable conditions which are today a fact? It has been truly said, "There comes a time in everyone's life when he must decide between the wisdom of admitting and correcting his mistakes, or the folly of attempting to defend them."

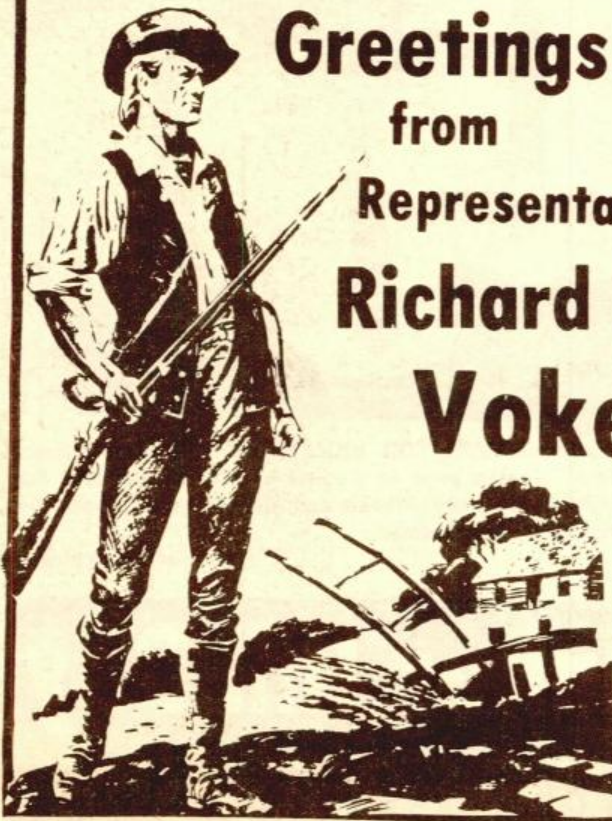

If 45 racially-imbalanced schools were considered indefensible in 1974 when the School Committee had full jurisdiction, who today could defend 100 or more racially-imbalanced schools in a system operating under more than 200 Court orders? Or whom do we blame for the present condition? Do we have a Court-approved dual school system?

As if present conditions were not disturbing enough, the words of Mr. Larry Johnson, counsel for the Plaintiffs most certainly are. In a recent television program, when asked if he felt that everyone would be a loser if the Boston School System became all black and other minority his astonishing answer was, "No." Further, Mr. Johnson intimated that even today, there is discrimination in the allocation of resources to the predominantly black schools! Has he made any formal filing to that effect?

Your honor, if we are truly to concern ourselves with equal educational opportunity for all, and for the most effective use of our shrinking resources, I plead with you to consider a Phase III with the following provisions:

1. An "open system" in which parents are guaranteed admission of their children to the school of their choice (with the

 - 2. Elimination of assignment by geocodes. (These geocodes resulting from a consultant's study for the police department, are the same today as in 1975, despite substantial shifts in population, changes in neighborhood composition, and changes in the composition of the student body).
 - 3. Elimination of mandated transportation, with the "savings" applied to improvement of instruction and programs.

Dear Charlestown voter:

"Many of our fellow citizens have a dream, a dream in which the people of Boston unite in the noblest tradition of our forefathers and turn bad government into self-government. It is a dream in which at least nine of our neighborhoods—Brighton, Charlestown, Dorchester, East Boston, Hyde Park, Jamaica Plain, Roxbury, South Boston, and West Roxbury — write their own charters and petition the Legislature for recognition as independent communities.

"The disgraceful events of 1981, which have left fire and police stations closed, left you and me unsafe in our homes, and left our children threatened with the loss of the public education that is their American birthright...these events lead me to believe that the 'dream' of which I speak is an idea whose time is upon us.

"Far too often we have been asked to put Boston the 'great city' before the Boston of its own citizens. We have been asked to pay more and more for less and less and to carry on our backs a huge political bureaucracy as well as squabbling politicians who are making us all the butt of jokes."

"Together we must change that — even if we must alter the political structure that has failed us. No major political redesign can or should be accomplished without careful contemplation, but the plan I am suggesting is only as 'revolutionary' as the American Revolution, and only as 'radical' as the suburban communities that surround us. Self-government, which works for the suburban 'goose' will work for the urban 'gander!'"

"If you share this belief, I ask you to help elect me to the Boston City Council this year. In return I pledge all my energy to bringing your government home where it belongs, and to bringing about government that truly has, in Jefferson's words, 'the consent of the governed'."

Little City Halls Served The People Well

by Mayor Kevin H. White

Boston's tight budget for fiscal 1982 demands that I make many hard financial decisions. And none has been more difficult than my decision to close the remaining 14 Little City Halls by July 1. For 13 years they have served the people well.

In a way, shutting down the Little City Halls is like telling a sports champion to retire... to hang up the gloves. This analogy is made in all seriousness, because to many people in the neighborhoods of Boston, particularly the elderly and the needy, the Little City Halls were the champions. They took on the "big boys" downtown when good people without any political clout needed something done.

Little City Halls have a proud history in Boston. Back in 1976 when I was campaigning for my first term as mayor, one of the most common complaints I heard from the people was that City Hall didn't listen to them, didn't respond to their needs. It was too far away; it was downtown and they were in their respective neighborhoods.

I made a campaign pledge that year to bring City Hall into the neighborhoods, and I kept it.

The first Little City Hall was established in East Boston on July 25, 1968, about six months after I took office.

By July of 1972, there were 18 Little City Halls in place in neighborhoods throughout the city. Of these, 10 were established in 1968, three in 1969, three in 1970 and two in 1972.

By providing the services to residents of the neighborhoods, and by listening to and answering the complaints of the people, the Little City Halls answered a bromide that had gone virtually unchallenged for a long, long time. That's the old saw that goes like this:

"You can't fight City Hall."

When residents in neighborhoods from Hyde Park to Charlestown, and all points in between, had their Little City Halls on their side, they found they had a better chance of getting their voices heard at the big City Hall downtown.

And do you know what? They found out not only that they could fight City Hall, but they could win their share of the battles. Those pot holes were getting filled, and the snow was getting shovelled off the sidewalks. Those calls downtown from the Little City Halls were helping.

Kelly Announces Candidacy For Boston City Council

James M. "Jim" Kelly announced his candidacy for the Boston City Council.

A resident of South Boston, Jim Kelly is Boston's leading spokesman against governmental policies including forced busing, racial quotas, and minority preference in public housing.

"I will continue to speak against these policies", stated Kelly. "They are devious and counter productive. They are degrading to minorities, and deny white citizens equal opportunity. The sooner these discriminatory programs are abolished, the sooner race relations in the city will improve."

As a member of the City Council, Kelly will focus on neighborhood issues. "My main priority is to re-open and fully staff neighborhood police and fire stations", stated Kelly. "I will vehemently oppose any layoff of police and fire personnel. We need more public safety, not less."

"I am concerned that basic needs are being ignored", added Kelly. "Neighborhood streets are filthy. Public drinking on street corners by our youth is a disgrace. Vandalism and harassment of citizens, especially our seniors, is rampant and must not be tolerated."

Kelly is a long time critic of School Department spending. "On several occasions, since 1976, I have appeared before the City Council urging a reduction in school spending. If the Mayor and Council had the courage to eliminate irresponsible spending over the past five years, Boston would not be faced with a financial crisis today", insisted Kelly.

"Boston is now feeling the effects of this irresponsibility", continued Kelly. "Foresight by our elected officials could have prevented the closing of libraries, pools and other recreational facilities. If we reduce the school budget to a more reasonable 180 million dollars, we would have 30 million dollars for other vital city services."

For a fourteen month period Kelly was employed at the Boston Marine Industrial Park in South Boston. Kelly's responsibility was to obtain employment within the development for residents.

Kelly's position at BMIP received notoriety in the closing months of the last mayoral election. "Despite innuendo, it was not a political appointment", said Kelly. "When I saw my position at the park being distorted, I resigned. I am completely independent of all politicians. I will never make deals or compromise my principles.

In fact the reason I seek public office is my sense of responsibility to the many people throughout the city who share my concern", concluded Kelly. "Kevin White and the majority of the councillors campaign on 'preserving neighborhoods'. However, once elected they forget who put them in office or why they are there".

When elected to the Boston City Council I will represent Charlestown...to be elected I Need Your Support!

Little City Halls

though, that the primary function of Little City Halls was conflict with the people downtown. That wouldn't have worked. What actually has been the primary function is service.

A Little City Hall has been just that — a place to go to get a marriage license, a tax abatement form for the elderly, birth and death certificates, rent control information, public housing information.

A Little City Hall has been a place to go to when a person needs information, or an attentive ear . . . or help in an emergency.

On a typical year the Little City Halls would perform more than 700,000 services, large and small, for the residents of the neighborhoods.

They have been true champions of the people.

Unfortunately, economic times have changed. To abide by the mandate of Proposition 2 1/2, Boston must slash its discretionary budget by $100 million dollars, from about $250 million in fiscal 1981 to some $150 million in fiscal 1982, which begins less than two weeks from now.

Budget cuts must come from all areas of our city government. The Office of Public Service, which administers the Little City Hall, has been slated for a 60 percent budget cut by my Select Committee on Proposition 2 1/2.

Because we must cut so deeply into the OPS budget, it would be impractical to attempt to continue the Little City Hall program on such a reduced level. To even try to do this would lead to unfairness. Some neighborhoods would have a Little City Hall and others wouldn't.

Without fairness and impartiality to all neighborhoods, there would be no sense to continuing the program . . . because these two qualities were at the very heart of the Little City Hall concept.

INABILITY TO WEAR DENTURES

Some people are unable to wear dentures because they have ridges on which denture stability or retention is impossible. At times, a new denture which is properly fit to the ridge will eliminate this problem. New surgical procedures have been developed to increase ridge height to allow proper denture fit and to increase denture stability. Surgery can allow the use of various devices to increase denture stability by providing an appliance to which a denture can be attached. Retention of teeth, even when broken, can provide a source of stability for a denture especially in the lower jaw. Why not check with your dentist to see if surgery can improve that denture fit?

Maureen earned three letters each in basketball and softball, and finished her hoop career as the third leading scorer in P.J. history with 576 total points. She also was the B.B. team's only captain in 1980-81.

Special Adds Revere Spice

All the leading greyhounds from "Mr. Consistent" Book Rack to newcomers like Queen Dorene will be battling Saturday, June 20 in the championship final of the first $85,000 Double Distance Championship at Wonderland Park.

The eight top point-getters in each of the two segments, 5-16ths and Revere Course, survived four rounds in the series.

Book Rack, owned by veteran Skinny Beckner, is a super come-from behind specialist in the sprint against the likes of Franklin Pike's young Queen Dorene, Dick Andrews' fast-breaking Odd Happy, White Shadows' unsung Profiting and Kansas' Roaring Rookie.

Over the 3-8ths route, White Shadows' Announcing and Charlie Rink's Whispering Sandy are the dogs to beat, although this field is more wide-open than the sprint.

The stage for the final was set in the semifinals, Tuesday, June 16 with the 17th annual $3500 Bunker Hill Marathon as an added attraction.

See Double.

The Double Distance Championship: In the early rounds, 32 great sprinters race over the 5/16 course. Sixteen make it to the semi-finals. Eight will get to the finals. But only one will be called "Champ"... the one the others will probably be chasing for the rest of the season.

Then you can see it all again. Almost. Because 32 great distance dogs will also be doing their thing over the 3/8 Revere Course. And the distance Champ will have to prove himself the same way.

So if you love championship greyhound racing, you should get out to Wonderland. On the double.

Tuition Voucher System - It's Time Has Come

Dear Editor,

On June 10, Boston Fin Comm Chairman Edward F. King announced a proposed voucher plan which would enable parents to purchase the education of their children at the school of their choice be it private, parochial or public. Mr. King estimates this plan could save the taxpayers of Boston somewhere between 50 and 60 million dollars annually.

In-as-much as the public school system now represents approximately 50% of the total city budget to provide an inferior education for 47,000 students (actually attending), it certainly makes sense to seriously consider any proposal which would reduce this massive and wasteful expenditure which is failing miserably at providing a decent educational standard.

As usual, the same obstructionists that opposed Proposition 2½ were the first to speak out against this innovation. Gregory Anrig (Mr. Busing of Massachusetts) said the total proposal is unconstitutional in this state. Since when did Mr. Anrig become an expert in constitutional law for the State of Massachusetts? The face that he is leaving Massachusetts to become director for educational testing in New Jersey should be looked upon as a plus for education in the Commonwealth, particularly in Boston where he looked upon busing as the be all and end all for quality education in Boston. Anyone who feels forced busing has provided a decent education is not worthy to hold the position of Director of Education.

According to Carol Doherty, president (MTA), another parasitic beaucracacy, in her published statement said, "the voucher system has been a failure wherever it has been attempted, it favors the rich over the poor and would allow only the rich or upper middle class entrance to the better schools.

The Boston Schools would become a dumping grounds for the poor. Ms. Doherty, have not the Boston schools already become a dumping ground for the poor and disadvantaged under Judge Garrity and Ted Kennedy's forced busing edict? Let's stop trying to fool the public for they are beyond that stage now, particularly in Boston where there is little or no support left for public education.

I wonder if Greg Anrig and Carol Doherty would agree to having a complete audit of the enrollment figures conducted under the auspices of the Boston Fin Comm. I hardly think they would, for the results would expose them for the deceit they have perpetrated on the taxpayers both state and local.

It is the contention of this writer that the voucher system may have been tried a few times in some remote area which was not effected by forced busines and where its school budget did not make up nearly 50% of total budget. The proposed tuition voucher plan would be the answer to all parents, regardless of race, who yearn for a return to quality education rather than a numbers game played with their children as the pawns.

In view of the major cut backs in essential services necessitated by the fact 50% of the city budget must be spent in the futile attempt to educate 47,000 students, it is urged that all taxpayers who value good police and fire protection solidify behind Mr. King by voicing their support for his tuition voucher plan. Remember, 50 to 60 million dollars represents enough money to insure more than adequate police and fire protection as well as many other services which are now being eliminated because of the money being expended on our present school system.

It is also wise to remember that any attempt at restructuring is for the betterment of the taxpayers as well as the children will be fought, just as proposition 2½ was fought, with desperate measures by the parasitic bureaucrats.

The real tragedy will be if the taxpayers and the children will be denied in order that the bureaucrats, in their lust for power, can successfully instill their will against the will of the people for fiscal responsibility and a better education for children of all races.

People's Fire House Number 2

DAY 41 FREEDOM

MUTUAL AID CUTS?

With the announcement that some 500 firefighters are to be laid off and perhaps 16 fire companies deactivated, fire insurance rates are sure to rise but if mutual aid pacts stay eliminated the rates will fly higher than the Space Shuttle!

OPEN FIRE HOUSE AND PARADE

Last Sunday was a great day for the Bunker Hill Day parade. The weather couldn't have been finer for either marchers or watchers.

We want to thank everyone for the super reception they gave the People's Firehouse contingent as it passed by.

It was great to see Engine 50 there followed by those two fire apparatus classics (a 1949 and 1942 Mack), both of which were filled with People Firehouse persons. Whether we rode or walked, all of us were elated by your outpouring of support.

The Open Fire House put on by the men of Engine 50 was equally great as many of the Townspeople came by for a post-parade buffet. Let's hope this is but the first annual Open House, a new tradition for Charlestown!

NITE BEFORE

The plaque which was presented to Judy Hickey at the "Nite Before" banquet for the People's Firehouse will be on permanent display at the Bunker Hill Museum shortly. The plaque was the Community Service Award from Bunker Hill Post 26, American Legion.

DON'T FORGET!

Don't forget the People's Firehouse Mass of Thanksgiving is this Thursday evening at 7 p.m. at St. Mary's Church.

GOOD TO SEE . . .

It was good to see so many people at the recent MBTA public hearing over at the Kent. People have to stand up and speak out for their rights!

LONG LIVE . . .

Long live People's Police Station No. 4!!!

BOTTOM LINE

Our main goal is to keep Charlestown safe and intact. WE THE PEOPLE WILL WIN. WE WILL SURVIVE!
See you next week!
