'Terry Ring Way' Officially Named At Ceremony In The Charlestown Navy Yard

A CEREMONY was held recently officially naming the road adjacent to Shipyard Park in the Charlestown Navy Yard as 'Terry Ring Way.' The street sign was presented to Terry Ring at a testimonial in February and since that time several members of the Boston City Council have been seeking an unnamed street to carry the Terry Ring name. Shown (l. to r.) Rep. Richard A. Voke, House Majority Leader; Terry's brother Jackie Ring, her daughter-in-law Marion Ring, her sister Judy Burton, her son Danny Ring, Terry Ring, Boston City Council President James Kelly and Boston City Councillor Peggy Davis-Mullen with her son Jesse.

The Meter Maids Are Coming!

by Melissa Doherty

In the coming weeks, the streets around the skating rink, St. John's Church and the Mary Colbert Apartments will have some new additions to the scenery - meter maids.

About 70 Charlestown residents from Precinct 1 met at a Neighborhood Council meeting on June 26 and voted to implement resident parking in their area. Parking will be restricted from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., five days a week.

The streets included in Precinct 1, which are the only ones affected by the parking program, are Austin, Devens, Harvard, Lawrence, Lynde, Prescott, Seminary, Union, Washington streets and Old Rutherford Avenue.

The decision to establish resident parking came after months of resident complaints due to commuter use of local parking spots and the eventual overcrowded streets that this caused.

"The program should be in effect by the end of August," said James Mansfield, director of Enforcement for the Boston Transportation Department (BTD).

"All residents will have to go to the parking clerk at Boston City Hall with their vehicle registration and a proof of residency, such as a bank statement or a utility bill, to receive a parking sticker," he added. A resident's vehicle must be registered under their name and Charlestown address in order to receive a parking sticker.

The question was asked of Mansfield as to the procedure with a leased vehicle. He stated that the lease agreement must carry the person's name and Charlestown address. The person will then bring in a utility bill or bank statement along with the lease agreement in order to obtain a sticker.

About eight months ago, residents finally asked what could be done about the situation. A representative from BTD came to a Neighborhood Council meeting and gave some options. The residents then decided that they wanted resident parking in the area.

In order to implement the program, petitions had to be signed by more than 50 percent of the occupants of each street in Precinct 1 where residents expressed a desire for residential parking. When that was completed, the city came back with an acceptance plan and a proposal

Craig S. Tenzer, M.D., D.P.M., Sets Up Practice In Charlestown

People with foot problems often have a dilemma about what kind of physician to see for treatment, an M.D. (medical doctor) or a D.P.M. (doctor of podiatric medicine), often referred to as a podiatrist.

A Charlestown physician embodies a single solution to that dilemma. Dr. Craig Tenzer is one of few physicians in the world to have earned both an M.D. and a D.P.M. degree to better prepare to specialize in medical and surgical treatment of foot and ankle problems. His goal is not only to treat foot and ankle problems, but to prevent them too.

over the office of Dr. Kenneth Leavitt at 175 Main St., in Charlestown's Thompson Square. No stranger to Boston, he has been working in a South Boston private practice since 1992. Tenzer, a native of Queens, N.Y., speaks fluent Spanish.

GETTING TO KNOW YOU

When an agent begins to work with a new set of buyers, he or she will sit down, ask a lot of questions and do a lot of listening. In the initial buyer interview, we try to get a clear idea of what you are looking for as well as the approximate price range, considering your overall financial picture. The agent will do some talking, too, explaining how we work, the representation process, the local market and what we can do to help you locate that perfect home.

At this initial interview, it's important for buyers to be as clear as possible about their needs. When an agent has calculated what you can afford, he or she won't show you homes you might love but that are way out of your price range. If he or she knows that you have bad knees and want to avoid stairs, he or she won't take you through three-story colonials with top floor master suites. Promoting clear communication with our customers is good business for us, and it can save you hours of house hunting.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling a home, talk to the professionals at Monument Properties. Come by our office at 85 Warren St., Charlestown or call us at 241-5900.

★ Water Shortage Hits The Hill . . . People residing at the top of Bunker Hill Street found themselves with little or no water from Tuesday evening, Aug. 1 on into Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 2.

As complaints came in on Wednesday morning from folks who had been unable to flush toilets or to take a shower, a City Hall source stated that Boston Water & Sewer was out on the streets investigating.

Late Wednesday afternoon, Ron Catena, spokesperson for Boston Water, reported that the problem had been caused by a company working on the Central Artery Project shutting down some valves without notifying Boston Water & Sewer. Catena stated that there were no breaks in the Boston Water system. The valve shut down was denied by Central Artery spokesperson Robin Bavaro.

Residents of the hill were more than happy that water was back on Wednesday afternoon.

★ Friends of City Square Park . . . On Tuesday, Aug. 22 from 6 to 8 p.m., the Friends of City Square will hold its second annual meeting under a tent on the lawn of the Commandant's House in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

At the annual meeting, which is being co-sponsored by the Boston National Historical Park, members will elect six directors. Anyone who would like to participate and is not a member, should obtain a membership form from Ken Stone, governor of the Friends, at Gibson Real Estate, 142 Main St., in Thompson Square, or by calling him at 242-2837. The membership fee for individuals is $15 or $25 for families. Stone also has forms for members that would like to be considered as candidates for the board. Candidates for director must have their forms in by Aug. 12.

Following the business of the day, which will include the election of directors, passage of the by-laws and a report by the governor on progress in the park, there will be a southwestern spread organized by David Paisner, a cash bar and a good time. The Friends hope that many more Charlestown residents will join and support Charlestown's newest park. The groundbreaking was held last April and it is anticipated that the dedication will be in the spring of 1996 when the park will be finished.

★ Board Of Appeal Decisions . . . Two Charlestown properties were scheduled to come before the city of Boston Board of Appeal on July 25 for hearings on requested variances from the city's zoning code.

A petition by Joseph Stavis (by Randall Bartlett) to erect a 2' by 31' neon wall sign at 50 Brighton St. was denied without prejudice by the board. Two residents from the area attended the hearing to oppose the sign but no one from the company was present so testimony was not heard.

A petition by Joanne M. Graziano and Paul Newell to erect a two-story addition to a one-family dwelling at 14 Concord St. was heard by the board. Russell Sergeant made the presentation.

Judy Evers, regional organizer from the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, testified that this addition would replace the deteriorated rear ell and would provide a second means of egress from the dwelling. She said that it would improve the property and enhance the neighborhood, and asked the board to approve the petition.

John Whalen, representative from the Carpenters Union 40 testified in favor of the petition.

The board voted to approve the request with design review.

★ Board Of Appeal Hearings . . . Two petitions will be brought before the city of Boston Board of Appeal at noon on Tuesday, Aug. 15 in Room 801 at Boston City Hall.

• KARCO Ltd. Partnership (by George Georges) seeks permission to erect a one-family dwelling at 166 Bunker Hill St. and to take 231 square feet of land from Lot 2. (BZC-17777)

• KARCO Ltd. Partnership (by George Georges) seeks permission to erect a one-family dwelling at 168 Bunker Hill St. and to take 231 square feet of land from Lot 2. (BZC-17776)

Questions or concerns on these petitions should be directed to the Board of Appeal at 635-4775.

★ Trash Attack Hotline Is Open . . . The

Trash Attack Hotline is available to city residents to notify the city about sites that need cleaning.

The hotline, 635-4500, is open 24-hours a day, seven days a week.

★ Boat Service Links Waterfront's Top Attractions . . . Massport and the city of Boston have started an innovative boat service on Boston Harbor which will provide a first-ever link between some of the waterfront's top cultural institutions and tourist attractions. The new service is called "Boston By Boat: The MuSEaum Connection" and is the first public initiative of the joint Massport/Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) partnership - Seaport Economic Development Plan.

Boston By Boat will run until Sept. 24. It will include stops at docks located at the Children's Museum, Computer Museum, New England Aquarium, Burrough's Wharf (North End), Museum of Science and the USS Constitution. The boat operates daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., including weekends.

Representatives of Massport and the BRA agreed to begin Boston By Boat on a half-season basis this summer with the intention of running the service next year from spring until fall. Brochures containing the service's schedule will be available throughout Boston and at Logan Airport as well as at each dock where the boat stops. Fares are: adults unlimited all day, $5; adults one way, $3; children under 12 unlimited all day, $4; and children under 12 one way, $2.

As an added bonus for using the boat service, the Children's Museum, New England Aquarium and Museum of Science are offering reduced admission coupons to boat riders. When a Boston By Boat ticket is purchased, the boat operator will give the rider coupons redeemable at each of the three institutions for $1 off admission. This offer is valid until the service ends on Sept. 24.

Ceremony Marks Naming Of Terry Ring Way

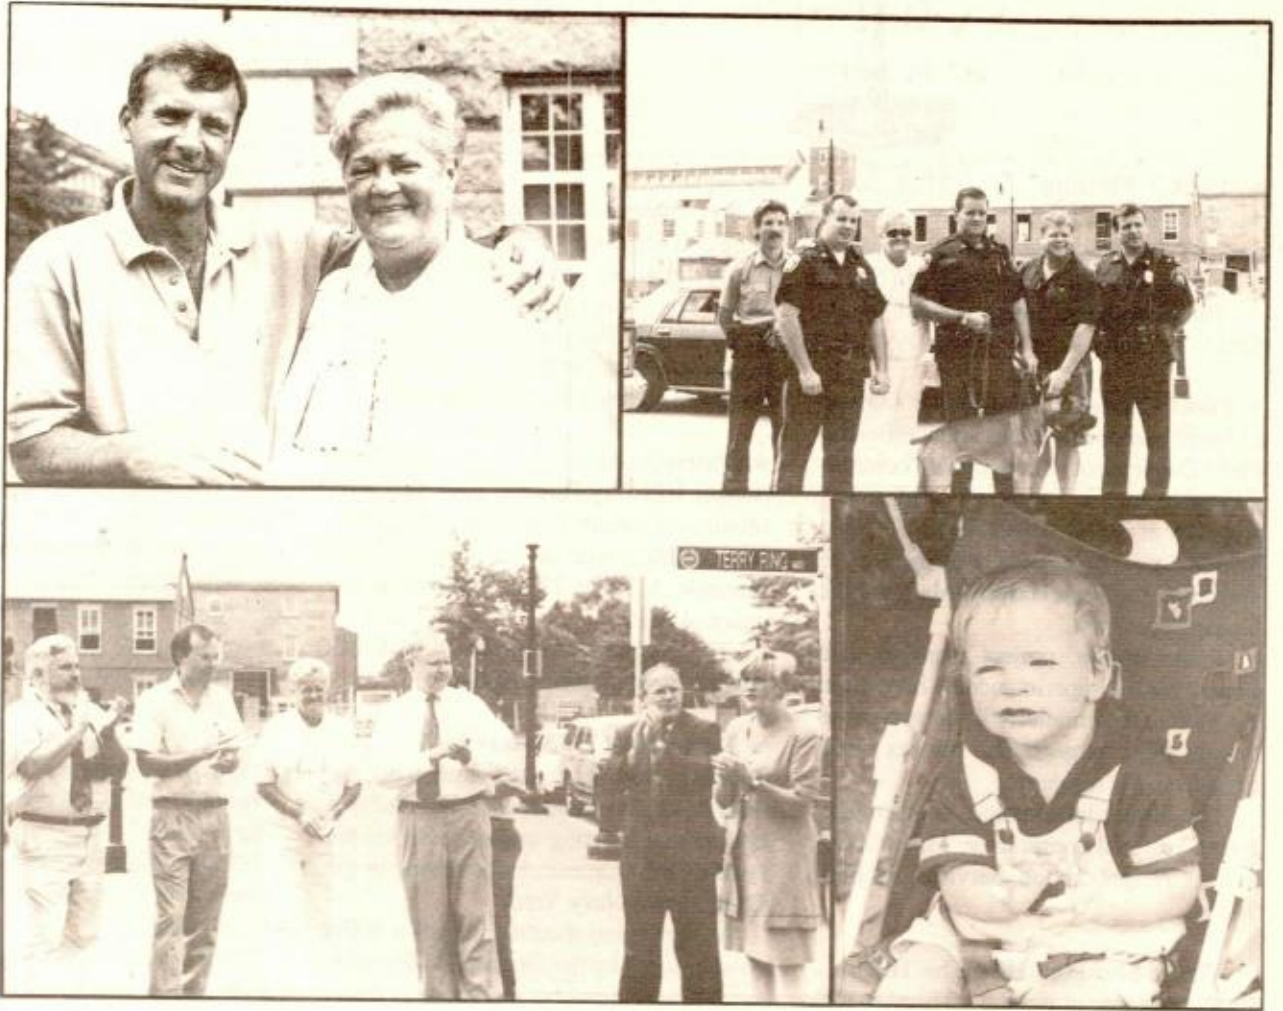

During a testimonial in February honoring Terry Ring, a city street sign was presented to her, "Terry Ring Way." The presentation was made honoring Ring for her years of community service. Over the past few months, several Boston City Councillors took it upon themselves to find a street to go with the sign. It was discovered that the street adjacent to Shipyard Park in the Charlestown Navy Yard was unnamed and so, on July 21, that street became Terry Ring Way.

Boston City Councillor Peggy Davis-Mullen explained the search for a street to be named in honor of Ring "for all things Terry has done for Charlestown." She told Ring: "I hope this [sign] has a special place in your heart as you have a special place in ours."

Boston City Council President James Kelly spoke of knowing Ring for some 18 years and noted her "integrity, courage, love of family and love of Charlestown." He told her: "Thanks for being a special person and a dear friend."

Rep. Richard Voke, House Majority Leader, praised Ring and told her he would see that the sign is alright as he will be passing it as he takes a walk every morning.

Ring thanked her family and friends, the members of the City Council and Marisa Lago, executive director of the Boston Redevelopment Authority. She spoke of her first job, working in the cafeteria of an adjacent building when she was 15. She said "life was, is and will always be an up . . . and the love I have expressed is returned 10-fold." Ring said she was putting Jim Conway on notice that "next year the Bunker Hill Day Parade must be detoured down Terry Ring Way!"

for each street. At the June meeting, the Neighborhood Council met with the residents to discuss concerns such as the Mary Colbert apartments and visitor parking. The meeting was chaired by Precinct 1 Neighborhood Council representative Judy Brennan.

Although residents agreed on 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

restricted parking for the precinct, each street will have its own restrictions.

It is thought by some that resident parking will solve some of the problems, but not everyone feels that it is the best solution.

Neighborhood Council member William Galvin expressed his concerns about the plan at the meeting. Galvin said that he felt that resident parking was a money-making technique, and that it was bad for the businesses and the elderly in the area.

"Some elderly have children who visit them everyday, [now] their children cannot visit," said Galvin. "This decision will have a detrimental impact on the quality of life for the elderly."

Resident parking signs should be in place by the end of August. It is necessary for all Charlestown residents to get a parking sticker because they will have to pay fines if they are ticketed while parked in a residential zone without a sticker.

Mansfield stated that for questions and concerns on this resident parking program, he can be reached at 635-4677.

Martin, whose office sponsors the D.A.R.E. program with funding supplied by O'Toole's office. Other participants in the programs are the Boston Police Department, the Suffolk County Sheriff's Department, Chelsea Police and the the Boys & Girls Clubs of Boston.

"I also want to remind young people that law enforcement people are on their side, and that respectful, positive relationships are desired and possible," Martin added.

D.A.R.E., which stands for Drug Awareness and Resistance Education, is a free six-session concentrated program for 300 inner-city Boston and Chelsea youths entering the fourth and fifth grades. It combines specially approved anti-drug curriculum with monitored recreational act-

The program is made possible by a $35,000 grant from the state office of Public Safety. Besides the law enforcement and Boys & Girls Club participation, the program employs 20 Suffolk County youth as peer leaders.

THE D.A.R.E. PROGRAM was presented to young people at the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club by Suffolk County District Attorney Ralph C. Martin (center left), Boston Police Officer Ted Boyle (center rear) and the state's Public Safety Secretary Kathleen (center right). Martin was at ease answering the youngsters' questions concerning family matters, sibling rivalry, and drug and alcohol issues. He also shared anecdotes from his own childhood as to how he resolved conflicts with his siblings.

AT THE RECENT session of the D.A.R.E. program at the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club, the young people received, along with good advice and facts about drugs, D.A.R.E. t-shirts and baseball caps. State Public Safety Secretary Kathleen O'Toole is shown distributing caps to the participants.

Increased Adult Education Funds For Charlestown

Sen. Thomas F. Birmingham and Rep. Richard A. Voke have announced that the Legislature's initiative to increase state funding for adult basic education will provide for the expansion of services offered in Charlestown.

The Charlestown Community Centers have been awarded, by the Department of Education, an adult basic education grant of $79,000, compared with $59,000 allocated to the same program in fiscal year 1995.

It is estimated that almost one-third of the state's adult population could benefit from basic educational assistance and that less than five percent of these individuals could have been helped by the fiscal year 1995 program offerings. The additional funds are being used to expand opportunities in a variety of adult education areas.

Birmingham, chairman of the Senate Committee on Ways and Means, included the additional $4 million in that committee's fiscal year 1996 recommendation. "The budget process entails prioritizing the many areas of government expenditure," noted Birmingham. "Including additional funds for adult education was one of our easier choices. Adult basic education is a necessary complement to our commitment to day care, K-12 education and higher education."

"Pleased to have done my part in providing Charlestown with these education resources, this action will serve to arm Charlestown's residents with the necessary tools to improve their quality of life as well as that of their families," stated Voke, who as Majority Leader of the House, helps set legislative priorities for the Legislature.

In fiscal year 1996, there will be more services for illiterate adults learning to read, write and compute. The increase will also provide more opportunities for refugees and immigrants to speak, read, write and obtain citizenship. For these individuals, as well as for other adults working toward high school diplomas, basic education is the key to opening the doors to employment and training programs, jobs and higher education.

MIDYEAR BUSINESS TAX-CUTTING IDEAS

While you're enjoying some summer relaxation, take some time to do a little midyear tax planning for your business. Consider your options now, set your goals and put your plan into effect. Here are some ideas:

- Take a deduction of up to $17,500 for purchases of business equipment. There is a limitation - the deduction cannot exceed your taxable income.

- Hire your children in your business. If your child is under 18 years old and your business is not incorporated, you're not required to withhold FICA (social security) tax. Your child can earn up to $3,900 before any income tax is due. And here's a planning idea: Pay your child $5,900 and deposit $2,000 into an IRA account for the child. Your child will pay no income tax. The pay must be reasonable for the job done.

- Set up an SEP plan for your business, with a salary reduction option for your employees. Your employees will be able to contribute to their retirement plan by payroll deduction. You should be able to contribute to your own salary reduction SEP account 125% of the average percentage your employees contribute, up to $9,240.

- Finally, since it is summertime, plan your family vacation around a convention related to your business. If you drive to the location, all of the vehicle expenses to and from the location may be deductible. (If you fly, generally only your ticket is deductible.) With proper planning, you should be able to deduct most of the costs of lodging in transit and at the convention, as well as 50% of meals for yourself.

Remember, to save at year end, you must plan at midyear. Call us for help in implementing a tax-cutting plan.

TO SEE HOW THIS CAN AFFECT YOU, CALL TODAY!

EFL Notebook

Charlestown started off the weekend last Friday by dispatching Medway 6-0, to pick up its first win of the season.

The defense stood out in the Townies victory, especially the defensive backfield tandem of Rob Priestap and Rob Ferraro. However, Ferraro broke his wrist against the Tigers and Priestap entered the game with a groin injury, therefore wreaking havoc on Charlestown's already depleted depth chart.

"That hurts," Townies co-head coach Jack Green said amid the post-game celebration after his team's first victory, the first in the history of the rejuvenated Townie franchise and the team's first road victory since the 1992 season.

"The important thing was that we won the game," Green added. "This was a must-win game for us. We just want to keep the momentum rolling and knock off Merrimack." Charlestown lost its previous encounter with the Outlaws, 26-0 at Haverhill Stadium, where both teams will meet again tomorrow night, Aug. 4, at 8 p.m.

Charlestown, 1-3, scored its only touchdown of the tilt nearly midway through the second period, when wide receiver Orlando Soto hauled in an Eddie Sullivan toss from six yards out to punch in the winning score. The touchdown broke an 11-quarter Charlestown scoreless skid.

The star of the game, though, was Ferraro. The veteran defensive back snared two interceptions and returned one 101 yards before it was called back due to a clipping penalty. It was on that play where Ferraro suffered the injury. After falling in the end zone due to exhaustion, Ferraro landed on his right wrist. He was diagnosed on the field with a broken wrist, an injury, depending on its severity, can take four to 10 weeks to heal.

"We don't know how long Rob Ferraro will be gone, but probably for a good part of the remainder of the season," Green added. "Priestap is day to day with his groin injury."

The Town Team's defensive line also stepped up to the occasion, as Tony Natola and Marty Kane each grabbed a fumble. "Those were two key fumble recoveries that both came at opportune times," Green said.

Charlestown defensive back Rob Ferraro was named the EFL's Defensive Player of the Week for his performance Friday against Medway. Others receiving honorable mention for offensive and defensive recognition were Ed Sullivan, Orlando Soto, Marty Kane and Tony Natola.

▲ CYO Girls Softball - Our CYO Girls Softball Teams have finished their regular season play. The CYO and Charlestown are grateful to all the girls who played with pride throughout the regular season. There were 40 games scheduled during June and July, and St. Catherine's never had to forfeit a game. It says so much about our pride in ourselves and our commitment to the CYO.

▲ CYO Boys Baseball - Our two Boys CYO baseball teams are in their final two weeks of regular season play and are having a wonderful summer. We are grateful to all the boys who represent Charlestown so well.

Final games are: Saturday, Aug. 5, 1 p.m. - Cadet A vs. Gate of Heaven at Bunker Hill, and Sunday, Aug. 6, 2 p.m. - Cadet B vs. Immaculate Conception at Glendale. The remainder of the games will be listed in next week's column.

▲ CYO Deep Sea Fishing Trip - All teenagers are invited to our next deep sea fishing trip on Thursday, Aug. 10. We will meet at the rectory at 5:30 a.m., fish out of Plymouth Harbor and return around 5 p.m. The cost is $15 per person and includes rental of rod and reel and use of bait. The trip is limited, so sign up early.

▲ Trip to Six Flags In New Jersey - St. Catherine's is planning to travel to Six Flags Amusement Park in N.J. on a 24-hour excursion. We will travel on two motor coaches with Celebration Tours, departing at 4 a.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 15 from St. Catherine's Church, arriving at Six Flags at 10 a.m., departing from Six Flags at 10 p.m. (park closes) and being home at 4 a.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 16.

Persons of all ages are welcome as individuals or families. Seats will be reserved upon payment of $55 in full, left at St. Catherine's Rectory. Checks should be made out to St. Catherine's. Seating is limited to 98. First paid will be guaranteed a seat. For more information, call Father Coyne at 242-1750.

▲ Red Sox vs. Seattle - We have 40 tickets (bleacher seats) for the Boston Red Sox/Seattle Mariners game at Fenway Park on Tuesday, Aug. 29 at 7:05 p.m. Tickets are now on sale at St. Catherine's Rectory and the cost is $4 per person. All ages are welcome. You must provide your own transportation.

▲ "Life In The City" - A lecture series will be offered to the people of Charlestown, sponsored by the Charlestown churches, entitled "Life in the City." The three-part series will be held at the Armed Services YMCA on Second Avenue in the Charlestown Navy Yard on three Sundays: Sept. 24, Oct. 15, and Nov. 5 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Tickets are $5 each or all three for $12 and will include a light brunch.

Tickets are available at St. Catherine's Rectory or from Mary Fahey at 242-7081, Rosemary Kverek at 242-3716 or Ivy St. John at 1-508-858-9887. We can only guarantee seating for 150 at each session. There will also be time for questions at each lecture.

▲ St. Catherine's Color Guard - Our girls have been practicing all summer and are continuing to challenge themselves to be all they can be in this year's Eastern Mass. Color Guard contests. We appreciate the great sacrifices that the girls, their families and our instructors have made during the summer. It is not easy to set aside time for practice during these warm months, but we are convinced it will make all the difference in our performance. Rumor has it that we will once again be represented by the "Townies" and "Little Townies" and hopefully introducing the "Teeny Townies." Wish us luck!

Gannon Announces Run For Boston City Council Citywide

Former State Rep. Paul J. Gannon has announced his candidacy for Boston City Council Citywide. Gannon said his candidacy would be based on his experience and leadership as a former member of the state legislature and Suffolk County prosecutor. He stated that the two main themes of his candidacy would be to make Boston more attractive to working class families, and to address the many problems facing the youth of our city today.

Gannon cites his accomplishments in the state legislature on issues such as: local aid; public safety; and increased funding for MWRA rate payer relief as some of the important work he has done to improve the quality of life for the people of Boston. In addition, he noted that many of these important issues are still being debated in the legislature. Gannon stated that his strong ties to the legislature and his close working relationship with the members of the Mass. House and Senate would be a great asset to him as a city councilor in ensuring that these and other important issues would be resolved favorably for the citizens of Boston.

In his announcement speech, Gannon stated that his role during this campaign will be to focus debate on the important issues facing this city in the future such as: public safety; housing needs for the poor and elderly; and to improve the quality of life for all those who live in the city. He ended by stressing that the future of this city lay with the youth, and that the greatest challenge for the city council will be to ensure that Boston will remain safe and prosperous so that young families will remain in the city.

Titcomb Is A Winner In Red Sox Visit

Pint-sized sluggers were given a chance to pick up pointers from Red Sox outfielder Troy O'Leary during the Boston Red Sox Fenway Challenge held by the Boston Parks and Recreation Department recently in Hyde Park.

The day started off with a competition in running, hitting and throwing. Winners Chad Titcomb of Charlestown, Stephen Curley, Michael Strong, Brian Piggot and Michael Ricci will get the thrill of a lifetime when they go to the competition finals at a September Red Sox game.

Excitement was high as the crowd of 200 waited for O'Leary. The affable outfielder gathered the youngsters for tips on catching grounders and pop flies, and then lined up the group for a hands-on catching and throwing clinic.

After speaking to the crowd about the importance of staying in school and avoiding tobacco products, O'Leary signed photos, baseballs, T-shirts, and the cast of one young fan with a broken leg. Then it was off to Fenway for that night's game with Kansas City, leaving the satisfied baseball fans behind.

"This continues to be one of our most popular programs, and it's easy to see why," said Boston Parks Commissioner Patrick S. Harrington. "This type of interaction with Boston's young people shows why the Red Sox continue to be one of America's best-loved hometown teams."
