

Philadelphia Performances for Autism (PPA) is a free interactive classical music-based concert series with a focused mission to provide free, high quality, autism-friendly, professional performances in traditional and alternative concert venues throughout the greater Philadelphia area. We offer an all-inclusive, supportive environment for families with children with Autism Spectrum Disorder to experience the power and joy of live music together, within and beyond the traditional concert hall. To find out more, please visit <http://www.arlenhlusko.com/ppa/>.

Please join us for our November performance!

WHEN: Sunday November 20th at 3pm

WHERE: Philadelphia Ethical Society, Main Auditorium

WHO: Trio Tasso (Matthew Graybil, piano; Hannah Tarley, violin; Arlen Hlusko, cello & PPA founder/director)

Performance made possible thanks to the generosity and support of the Tarisio Trust, and the Philadelphia Ethical Society.

Tarisio
trust
YOUNG ARTISTS GRANTS

Ethical Humanist Society Of Philadelphia