Report Of Cat Killing Shocks Town -'Herald' Story Creates Furor

A telephone call came into the Patriot office shortly after noontime on Nov. The caller was Joseph "Jopa" Fitzpatrick, proprietor of Jopa's Pizza at 156 Bunker Hill St. He related that three teens had been outside his restaurant a few minutes before and one of them had kicked a cat to death and then climbed on board an MBTA bus heading toward Haymarket Square.

Jopa had called the Boston Public School Police and the Boston Police Department (BPD). He stated that the cat was in front of his restaurant window and the teen kicked it down to the corner of Concord Street and kept kicking it until it died.

According to a BPD spokesman, officers answered a radio call at 11:55 a.m. on Nov. 2 going to 156 Bunker Hill St. on the report of youths kicking a cat. The officers spoke to Maureen Doherty, an employee in the restaurant and Jopa's sister-in-law.

The police report went on to say that the suspect was a black male between 17 and 18 years of age wearing a blue jacket with a hood, a red shirt and green pants. He was with two unknown black males who were reportedly not involved in the incident, and the three fled

The headline in the Nov. 17, 1983 Patriot read "Flynn Wins For Mayor In Landslide." The story went on to relate that 6,394 persons or 79 percent of the registered voters in Ward 2, Charlestown went to the polls on Election Day 10 years ago and gave Raymond Flynn 87 percent of the Charlestown vote for

Now, 10 years later, Raymond Flynn is in Rome and it's Tom Menino who captured the top of the Charlestown ticket for mayor - not quite in a landslide, but with 57 percent of the vote cast for that office, it was a major accomplishment considering his formidable opponent, state Rep. James Brett, who ended the race with 43 percent of vote cast in Ward 2 for mayor.

The election on Tuesday brought out 53 percent of Charlestown's registered voters - 3 percent above the citywide vote. The num-

Veterans Day Mass

All are cordially invited to attend the 74th annual Veterans Day Mass on Sunday morning, Nov. 7 at 11 a.m. at St. Francis de Sales Church, 313 Bunker Hill St., Charlestown, with members of the Bunker Hill Post No. 26, The American Legion, their families, friends, fellow veterans and military, civic and elected officials.

This Mass, sponsored by the Bunker Hill Post, A.L., is in honor of the veterans of all wars and conflicts, those who answered their country's call in her time of need and especially those who made the supreme sacrifice, the laying down of their lives for their country.

All veterans deserve recognition and the members of Bunker Hill Post hope that you will make every effort to be present at this Mass on Nov. 7 to let the veterans and their families know that you remember.

There will be a collation served in the Bishop Lawton Hall following the

BOND INSURANCE ALLOWS INVESTORS TO SLEEP WELL AT NIGHT

More than three million individuals currently invest in municipal bonds, according to the Public Securities Association. And, President Clinton's plan to increase taxes on upper-end investors has now made tax-free municipal bonds an even more attractive investment.

But many municipal bond holders are concerned about the safety of their money. Municipal bonds can, and have, defaulted. That's why municipal bonds often come attached with insurance. It's important to understand that this bond insurance is not government-backed, but private insurance that protects investors against default by the issuing munici-

Although municipal bond defaults may be rare, bond insurance will protect investors against downgrades. Should you own an insured bond that for whatever reason defaults, the insurance company will step in and guarantee both your principal and interest.

Credit quality is on everyone's mind. Despite lower yields, issuers are discovering that insured bonds are more marketable than uninsured bonds. Investors who have bond insurance needn't lose much sleep.

The Ambac Indemnity Corporation was the first to insure bonds. The company began issuing policies in the early 1970s. Bond insurance has been gaining in popularity ever since. Last year was a record-breaker; the number of insured issues nationwide jumped from 30% in 1991 to 34% in 1992.

People are starting to realize that no matter how sound a municipality or a project that is financed by municipal bonds may appear; there is no guarantee against default. Municipal bond insurance offers a layer of protection for individual investors.

25 Indicted On Narcotics Trafficking Following A Two-Year Investigation

Federal indictments were unsealed on Oct. 28 charging 25 men and women with narcotics trafficking violations in Charlestown.

U.S. Attorney A. John Pappalardo announced that the indictments followed an intensive two-year investigation led by the Drug Enforcement Administration in conjunction with the Massachusetts State Police, the Boston Police, the U.S. Marshal Service, the Boston Housing Police and agents of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The indictments allege that the defendants committed various offenses involving the large-scale distribution of cocaine and phencyclidine (PCP).

In pre-dawn raids executed on the morning of Oct. 28 in Charlestown and throughout the Greater Boston area, the following

An arrest warrant was issued for James "Hee" Lynch, 35, whose last known address was in Tampa, Fla. Lynch turned himself in on Nov. 1 and is being held pending a detention hearing scheduled for this afternoon, Nov. 4.

Pappalardo noted that, if convicted, many of the above defendants face maximum penalties ranging from 20 years to life imprisonment. The case is being prosecuted by George Vien of Pappalardo's New England Organized Crime Drug Enforcement Task Force.

A Charlestown Drug Task Force hotline has been established. Persons with information on drug activity in the community are asked to call 557-2420.

SHOULD YOU REMODEL OR MOVE?

Your family has outgrown your home, but you love the neighborhood and schools, and you've established roots that make it hard to move. Is remodeling the solution?

Before you jump into a major renovation project, get some professional advice. First, decide what changes you want to make and contact several contractors for bids. Once you get some idea of the costs involved, ask your Realtor if your plans would over-improve the house for the neighborhood, making it impossible for you to get your money back if you must resell anytime soon. Talk to friends who have remodeled their homes in order to get a true picture of what you might expect in dealing with contractors. Can the work be completed around your family? How disruptive will it be to your lives and for how long? Remodeling a home is a major undertaking, and may not be the best solution to your space needs.

The professionals at Monument Properties are ready to serve all of your real estate needs. Please give us a call at 241-5900 or visit our offices at 85 Warren St., Charlestown.

The council meetings are open to the public, and all are welcome to attend.

★ Bus Stop Problems Continue . . . The Boston Transportation Department (BTD), in coordination with the MBTA, removed the bus stop at 220 Bunker Hill St. reportedly to alleviate the vandalism and disruption which was occurring at local businesses by students waiting for the bus. The BTD has recommended that the removal be on a 60-day trial basis.

This bus stop removal, without prior notification has resulted in numerous complaints from residents and businesspersons.

Area residents taking the Bunker Hill Street bus now have to walk up to the corner of Sullivan Street or down to Concord Street to a bus stop. This has proven to be a serious problem for area elderly. Also, this bus stop was the nearest to the Bunker Hill Health Center and its removal has created more than an inconvenience for persons seeking medical care.

Any comments or suggestions should be directed to Jim Mansfield, director of Community Affairs for the BTD, at 635-4810.

* Warning . . . There have been several incidents this past week where residents have opened their doors to problems.

As reported in the Police Line, on Oct. 29, a Washington Street resident opened his door to a man claiming to be selling Easter Seals, and the man knocked the resident to the ground.

A resident of the Thompson Square area reported opening the door to a teen who claimed to be selling tickets for a raffle to benefit Charlestown High School. The resident later checked with CHS and was told that the school is not conducting a raffle.

* Licensing Board Hearing . . . Chris A. Lutes Jr. and Robert Wesley Sargent have petitioned the Licensing Board of the city of Boston for a C.V. 7-Day All Alcoholic Beverages License for 34-44 Charles River Ave. in Charlestown. The license would be in four rooms including an office, kitchen, storage and patron area on the first floor. They are also asking for a 2 a.m. closing hour. The hearing is scheduled for 11 a.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 10 in Room 809A at Boston City Hall.

The premises in the request for a license is the former Rapids Furniture building adjacent to the North Washington Street Bridge.

* JFW Election Day Predictions . . .

Results: O'Neil finished in first place, followed by Nucci, Travaglini and Davis-Mullen.

Prediction: Steve Murphy will finish in fifth place, narrowly ahead of Richard Iannella in sixth; Frank Costello will drop to seventh place. Ed Jenkins will place eighth . Results: Iannella finished in fifth place, Costello in sixth, Murphy finished seventh and Jenkins in eighth.

District One City Council, Charlestown Prediction: Diane Modica will defeat James Costello in Charlestown. She will win in four of the seven precincts . . . Results: Modica defeated Costello in Charlestown. She won in five of the seven precincts by the unofficial city tally and in four of the seven precincts in the unofficial Patriot

* Street Reconstruction Update . . . Mario Susi & Son have been attacking the punchlist work with multiple crews. They are still looking to complete the contract and punchlist work by Thanksgiving, and at Susi's current production rate, this schedule should not be a problem.

The fall trees are now being planted and the brick tree pits will be done at the same time as the planting. Installation of traffic signs should also be started this week.

The Boston Water and Sewer Commission is attempting to coordinate and complete its final inspection with Susi's construction forces. Susi's other subs for fencing and striping have yet to complete a couple of other small items of work.

Questions, concerns or complaints are being handled by Community Liaison Peter Looney at 722-4300, ext. 5674.

BHCC To Receive National Award

Bunker Hill Community College (BHCC) has been selected as one of the two national recipients of the Institutional Service Awards given by The Council for Adult and Experiential Learning (CAEL).

Dr. C. Scully Stikes of Charlestown, president of BHCC, will receive the award on Nov. 4 at the CAEL International Conference in New Orleans.

The International Service Award is presented to institutions which have distinguished themselves as innovators and leaders in the advancement of adult and experiential learning.

BHCC was a charter member of CAEL and has remained a member since 1974. BHCC's contributions to CAEL span a period of 19 years. Most recently, the college hosted a workshop on Prior Learning Assessment coordinated by William E. Iannelli, coordinator/ advisor of the Alternative Learning Accreditation Program (ALAP) at BH-CC. The workshop was attended by many of the faculty and staff who actively support Prior Learning Assessment and without whom the award would not be possible.

John R. Campton of Charlestown, associate professor and chairperson. Electronics Technology, was one of the participants.

A Fond Farewell.

by Charlie McGonagle

The meadow was warm and green that spring afternoon when first we met. Soft breezes filtered through new leaves of maples and oaks, and the songs of the birds returning from their winter places filled the April air. I had not planned on our meeting, nor had I expected it, but from the moment I first saw you, I became filled with the need to possess you.

I approached, I reached, I touched, and through it all you were silent. Somehow, though, I knew you would soon belong to me, and you did.

Throughout the spring and summer months we experienced the beauty that only nature can provide. We walked green fields, found our way through wooded areas, felt the sand beneath our feet, and even let the rain dance its summer dance upon our dripping selves.

As I look back now, though, I wonder why you remained a part of me. Even as you tried your very best to be kind to me, I would, more often than not, be cruel to you.

There were times when I would swear at you in anger, and more than once I looked directly at you and shouted loudly of my displeasure in ever having met you.

As May turned to June, and June to July, my doubts about our relationship grew steadily, and more than once I considered abandoning you. Through this entire period of doubt, though, you stayed with me, and not once did you complain.

Friends had been telling me all along that I had been mistreating you, and that a more gentle approach to our relationship should be tried, but I would not listen.

Finally, though, after listening to the same diatribe over and over from others, I relented and began treating you in a more delicate way. By August you began to respond to this new-found affection, and our relationship quickly became noticeably smoother. For a time, I could not get enough of you.

As we became more compatible, however, I began to sense that you would soon be leaving. Although we continued our walks through September, the summer breezes began to feel cooler, and nature began to replace its summer leaves of green with the reds and golds of autumn.

Toward the end of September, weekend rains replaced the warming sunshine of summer, and where we had walked in the rains before, we dared not now. Our meetings became more infrequent, and though I missed them, I felt your interest waning.

It was time for you to leave, but before you did, we would be together for one last

We scheduled that one last meeting for a holiday morning in mid-October. We arranged to be together at one of our favorite green fields of summertime. Perhaps we could recapture, for just a short time, one of those lost but magical moments of Au-

The chilling frost of early morning, however, told us both that things would not be the same. A white blanket of icy crystals silently covered the green we had expected to find, and in this coolness, I sensed the futility of our relationship.

Perhaps it was the quiet chill of the October day, or perhaps it was my own impatience with the way you were treating me that seemed to be moving us farther apart. Whatever the cause, I sensed your distance. No matter what I said or what I tried, you would not respond in a positive way.

As the shadows lengthened, and the day's coolness became even greater, I knew it was over. We could not walk these fields again, nor would we see the woods, nor feel the sand beneath our feet.

It was over, at least for now, and as this October draws its curtain of autumn across our stage, I put you, my golf clubs, away for another winter.

Charlestown Catholic Students Presented Donovan Scholarships

EIGHT $500 scholarships were recently presented to students at Charlestown Catholic Elementary School who are members of the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club. Friends of Jimmy Donovan raised the funds by sponsoring a golf tournament and a street hockey tournament in memory of their friend. When more than one child was selected from the same family, the scholarship was divided among the family members. Shown front row stered resilience. Rather than resisting, they now conform only too willingly, cling even, to the human anatomy. With your knees folded under your chin, your lower extremities inches from the floor, you can rise only with difficulty.

The Friends of the Charlestown Branch Library would like to relieve you of the discomfort, the indignity, the entrapment now posed by these chairs. As part of their 40th anniversary celebration, they propose to refurbish and recover the upholstered chairs throughout the library, including those in such bad shape that they have been retired to storage. Having consulted with several upholsterers, they plan to refinish the wood frames, replace the support structures with either rubber webbing or plywood and foam and replace the covers with new fabric. With the project completed, the chairs will not only look more attractive and be more comfortable, but one or two additional sitting areas will be able to be created with the chairs rescued from storage.

The Friends are looking for contributions from both individuals and businesses. If you would like to endow one or more chairs, they would be delighted to acknowledge your civic-minded generosity with an engraved name plate affixed to your chair. They would also be grateful for any size donation you might wish to

REMEMBER OUR SHUT-INS AT CHRISTMAS

The "Townie Santa" Committee is seeking the names of needy, elderly Charlestown shut-ins 60 years of age or older who may benefit from a visit from Townie Santa at Christmas.

The committee asks that individuals and organizations submit names by Monday, Nov. 15 to allow the selection committee time to begin its arduous task. Time is also needed to purchase the items for the boxes and to make plans for delivery on Sunday, Dec. 19.

The committee requests that the names of eligible recipients who received a basket last year be resubmitted, along with the names of any elderly, needy shut-in of whom you may be aware.

Don't assume that someone else will take care of this person — the committee needs the help of everyone.

Report Of Cat Killing Shocks Town 'Herald' Story Creates Furor

on an MBTA bus toward Haymarket Square. The three were reportedly carrying books and were, according to the report, believed to be students at Charlestown High School.

BPD Area A Deputy Superintendent Robert Hayden said that he dispatched a car to bring Doherty to Haymarket Square to see if the suspect could be identified, and police officers were sent to intercept the bus along the route. The officers were not able to locate the suspect. The brown cat, whose owner is unknown at this time, was removed by the police.

As word spread through the community on Tuesday, residents expressed shock that such a incident could happen at noontime on busy Bunker Hill Street.

The shock turned to anger and outrage as residents opened the Boston Herald on Nov. 3 to be greeted by the headline "Charlestown youth kicks cat to death." This was the latest in a series of negative stories relative to this community and the fact that blame was put on a Charlestown youth resulted in a furor.

Over 30 telephone calls were received at the Patriot office by early afternoon from elderly residents, men, women, young people, lifelong residents and newcomers. It was suggested that they call the Herald and relate their feelings on the inaccuracy of the story, and the headline in particular.

Early callers reported that they got little or no satisfaction on their complaints at the Herald. One caller was told that yes, the headline was incorrect but there would be no retraction or apology and the person at the Herald hung up on her. Another caller, later in the day, was told that several hundred irate telephone callers had let their sentiments be known to the newspaper personnel and that another story was being written for the Nov. 4 edition.

Hayden stated that detectives had been assigned to investigate the incident. He

South Boston's Peggy Davis-Mullen, who has established strong support here in Charlestown, placed fourth locally and citywide. She finished with 46 percent of the Charlestown vote. Fifth place locally went to Richard Iannella with 33 percent of the vote. The son of the late City Council President Chris Iannella, he won the third-place position citywide to secure a spot on the council.

The sixth, seventh and eighth place finishers in Charlestown were Francis Costello with 30 percent, Stephen Murphy receiving 22 percent and Ed Jenkins tallied 9 percent.

Again going back 10 years, 1983 saw the first race for the newly designated District City Council seats. The race for District One, which includes Charlestown, the North End, East Boston and the waterfront, was a battle between two unknown candidates from East Boston - Robert Travaglini and Diane Modica. Travaglini took the race with 11,663 votes to Modica's 10,343. Modica took Charlestown in 1983 but Travaglini made up the difference in East Boston and won the seat with a 1,320 plurality.

Now, Travaglini will leave this District One City Council seat in January to devote himself full time to the Senate, and Modica will assume the office as District One City Council-

Who Went To The Polls . . .

With 4,746 of the 9,001 registered voters in Charlestown going to the polls on Election Day for a 53 percent turnout, a comparison has been made of the seven Charlestown precincts to see from where the voters came.

Precinct	Registered Voters	Number Voting	Percent Voting
1	1327	674	51%
2	1474	665	45%
3	1349	713	53%
4	1062	555	52%
5	1250	653	52%
6	1571	919	58%
7	968	567	59%
total -	9001	4746	53%

The campaign for the District One City Council seat this year was tough, with charges and innuendoes being exchanged between Modica and her opponent James E. Costello. In the unofficial city tally, Costello carried East Boston by 132 votes while Modica took Charlestown by 145 (it was a 21-vote plurality recorded by the Patriot poll counters) and made the difference in the North End where the vote was 2,575 for Modica and 1,198 for Costello.

The unofficial total for the District gave Modica 7,972 votes, or 55 percent of the vote, to Costello's 6,584, or 45 percent. There were 467 blanks on this race in Charlestown.

In the vote on the nonbinding ballot question on the freezing of water rates at the Jan. I, 1992 level and the possible tailoring of the scope of the MWRA's Boston Harbor project, 1,272 Charlestown voters took the time to enter a yes or no on the issue. Of those who voted, 82 percent voted yes.

HAPPENINGS AT The Charlestown Working Theater 442 Bunker Hill St.

Our children's acting class, taught by Charlestown resident John Quinn, will begin this Saturday, Nov. 6. We have had a lot of interest in this program and if you would like more information, please call us at 242-3285.

See you at the theater!

Children's Films

The Film Program for Children will be presented at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St. on Tuesday, Nov. 9 at 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The features will be "Anatole and the Piano," in which a mouse searches for a toy piano without a tinny sound; a boy attempts to imitate animal movements in "The Animal Movie," and a mother bird searches for an egg for her nest in "The Strange Bird."

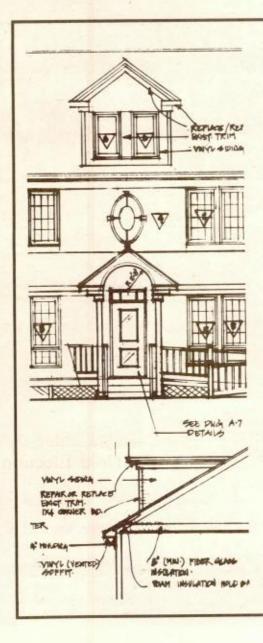

Friendly animals help an injured duck survive the winter in "Little Grey Neck," shown only at 3:30 p.m.

Brown Bag Bookies To Meet

Brown Bag Bookies, the adult book discussion group of the Charlestown Branch Library, will meet on Tuesday, Nov. 9 at noon at the library, 179 Main St.

The book under discussion will be Thomas Jefferson: Man On A Mountain by Natalie S. Bober.

Participants are invited to bring their lunches, and new members are always welcome.

Kent Announces His Retirement From Football

Jim Kent, the head football coach at UMass Boston, has announced his retirement, effective at the end of the 1993 season. Kent's retirement concludes an 18-year coaching career that began back in 1975 and includes two Coach of the Championship. Now in his sixth season at the helm of the UMass Boston football program, Kent has lifted the Beacons to a level of respectability. Last year, in guiding UMass Boston to its first winning season at the varsity level, he directed a football team that led the nation in passing offense with 337 yards per game and was second in passefficiency defense with a 63.2 rating.

Year awards, an undefeated

regular season and an

NCAA Statistical Team

Kent assumed the duties as head coach at UMass Boston in 1988 when the fledgling program was elevated to varsity status. He was named 1990 Co-Coach of the Year in the New England Football Conference after leading the Beacons to their best season in three years of varsity play with a 4-5 record.

UMass Boston competed at the club football level before the program was raised to its present status. Kent was named head coach of the school's club program in 1984 after serving as defensive coordinator in 1983, the Beacons' first season. The team posted consecutive winning seasons and a 21-8 record in the squad's final three years as a club team, including a regularseason championship with a perfect 9-0 record in 1987 in the New England Collegiate Conference. Kent was named Coach of the Year that season as well.

Prior to his arrival at the Harbor Campus, Kent worked at the professional level, operating several free-agent camps for the Boston Breakers of the USFL in 1982.

Kent started his coaching career at Boston State College, his alma mater. He graduated from Boston State in 1975 and remained there as an assistant coach for football. The Charlestown native worked in several capacities during his seven-year stint as a member of the Warriors' staff, including offensive line coach, defensive line coach and defensive coordinator. In his span as a player and a coach, Kent helped Boston State capture a pair of New England Football Conference Championships in 1974 and 1978.

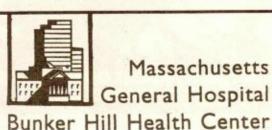

As an undergraduate at Boston State, Kent was a standout football player in the NEFC. He controlled the line of scrimmage as an offensive guard with his strength and intensity, the same strength and intensity which he brings to the UMass Boston football program. Among his collegiate accolades, Kent was a fourtime All-New England selection, an honorable mention All-American as a junior and was the Warriors' most valuabe player as a senior. Kent was also a defenseman in lacrosse at Boston State, earning him MVP honors as a senior. While at Charlestown High School, he was selected to the All-District team as a defensive tackle.

The Charlestown Lions Club recycled over 1,000 pairs of used eyeglasses in 1992, making it possible for many who could not afford to buy eyeglasses to obtain them. If you have any discarded or unneeded eyeglasses or sunglasses and would like to put them to good use, please give them to a local Lions Club member, drop them off at the Patriot office at One Thompson Square, or call Bud Coleman at 242-2063.

CHAD Bowling League Update

by John Dillon

In a head-to-head contest between the two first-place teams in the CHarlestown Against Drugs (CHAD) Junior Bowling League, Bunker Hill Real Estate prevailed over the Nucci team for a 6-2 victory. Katy Boutwell single-handedly dispensed of the Nucci team, bowling 60 pins over average, while Chris Headle was top bowler for the Nucci team, bowling a nice 252.

In the battle of the two second-place teams, Mama Maria's came out with the short end of the straw with a 6-2 loss to the Kennedy Center team. Sean Reilly was top bowler for Mama Maria's with a fantastic 268. He also bowled a great 101 for his second string, which is the first 100-plus string this year in the league. Jean Wall had a 220 and Ryan Stillman bowled well for Mama Maria's, but they couldn't beat the steady bowling of the Kennedy Center team. Jimmy Kissane bowled 220, Marianne Kissane, 168, Meghan Buckley, 174, and Tacara Bowman, 151.

In other action around the league, the Crickets team hopped over the B&B Oil team for eight points. Matt Paley was top bowler for Crickets with a 209, followed by Jon Paul Aw-

The Lancers and Newtowne once again went down to the wire in a rematch of last year's championship. Newtowne jumped out to a 2-1 halftime lead on a pass from Dina Duraes to Shannon McLaughlin and an interception return from Jannelle Pappas.

The second half was a different story. Nicole Matson took control of the offense and threw touchdown passes to Christine Locke and Erin McDonough. This game would head into overtime. The Lancers won the toss and began their drive down field. The four-play drive ended when Matson threw to a wide open Pam Butler in the end zone. The Lancers won in overtime and the rivalry continued.

In the second game of the night, Jenn Ray and Kelly Gilgunn lead the Twisted Sisters to a 5-0 win over the Neff Club. Maryellen Wood caught her first touchdown pass of the season as the Twisted Sisters improved to 1-1.

Matt O'Neil Hockey Club Update

by Bernie "Scoop" Kelly

O'Neil Club Lets Victory Fade, 8-7

The Matt O'Neil Club traveled north to Dover, N.H. on Oct. 24 to face the Granite State Stars. The club had been prepped and inspired by the gutsy spirit Matt O'Neil always brought to that arena where his team record is displayed to this Coach Richie "Hondo" Hart knew his cadets were about to be tested, and the Granite State Stars were not to be taken lightly. Hart kept repeating the basic rules of the game - cover your man closely, remember to backcheck, keep the pressure on the man with the puck, take advantage of the mistakes they make and sure enough the young rookies listened.

The O'Neil captain, Jim "Pepe" Palermo hit the mark late in the first period to give the juniors a onegoal lead. The Granite Stars got four goals in the second period, but the O'Neil Club's hot-shot forward Rod "Rambo" Millette scored the hat trick to keep the club in contention at 4-4. Third period action was hot and heavy with scoring by Brendan "Biff" MacDermott, Steve "Rob" Robinson and Larry "Weepy" Wechaldo tying it at 7-7, forcing a sudden-death overtime. The O'Neil players received a minor penalty which provided an opening for the Granite Stars to score and end the dream for the O'Neil players, 8-7.

> Sharks Bite O'Neil Club, 4-3 The game on Oct. 29 saw the O'Neil Club face the R.I. Sharks. This was the second meeting of these two teams and the O'Neil Club was looking to even the score after a 5-3 loss.

Despite a slow start, it proved to be an exciting game. The Sharks struck first at 13:10 of the first period only to have the game tied at 4:25 by Assistant Captain Mike "Cargo" Caramante on a neat wrist shot from the post. The O'Neil Club took the lead at 14:22 of the second period on a goal by MacDermott, only to give back two goals within a 15-second period for a 3-2 score as the period ended. At 6:42 of the third period, Karl "Hunso" Houghton tied it at 3-3. The Sharks pounced on a rebound that lay just outside the circle at 5:44 and sent it home for the game win!

Classics Take The O'Neil Club 6-2

The O'Neil Club suffered its third loss for the week at the hands of the New England College Classics by a 6-2 score.

The first period was all Classics scoring with a tally of 4-0.

In the second period, Palermo and Kevin Frost scored the only goals for the day by the O'Neil Club,

The O'Neil Club succumbed to the Classics in the third period, and the final score was 6-2.

The O'Neil Club will meet the NECDL Classics on Friday, Nov. 5 at 7:30 p.m. in Canton.

Healthy Charlestown Coalition

The Healthy Charlestown Coalition is continuing to gain momentum and enthusiasm. In light of the events of the past few weeks, now, more than ever, we need to remember that we are a strong and resource-filled community that is moving in a forward direction. Our community is changing and we must listen to each other to foster progress.

The Healthy Charlestown Coalition wants to hear your voice. Working together is the only way our community can rise to its full potential. If you are a long-time resident, new to this neighborhood or in business in Charlestown, we are interested in your ideas, input and vision of how we can improve the life and health of our people and the neighborhood we share. At this time, we are trying to assess the needs of Charlestown and prioritize an action plan. We cannot do this without your voice. If you speak, we will listen. Together we can make a difference.

The next meeting of the Healthy Charlestown Coaltion is Tuesday, Nov. 16 at 5:30 p.m. at the Bunker Hill Health Center, 73 High St. Please join us!

Open Letter To The Neighborhood Council Public Safety Committee

I write to hope you good people can bring pressure to bear to correct a great injustice that was committed against the older and handicapped people of our town and to the people of the Elm and Bunker Hill street area in the vicinity of 220 Bunker Hill St. On the weekend of Oct. 24, the MBTA changed its bus route to cancel the stop at 220 Bunker Hill St. This was not announced in advance nor was a public hearing held prior to this action. No alternate stop was used.

I am a person of poor health and taking the bus from Sullivan Square to the Bunker Hill Health Center, I would get off at Elm Street and walk to the center. I am now required to get off and walk three extra blocks which causes me great distress, and as winter weather approaches it will be more difficult. I have been unable to find out why this action was taken but I turn to you for relief. If there is a reason why this action was taken, there must be a way to correct it without putting my health and that of others at risk, especially when a long and harsh winter is projected.

Thank you for the time you will devote to this matter, and may I hear from you regarding what steps you are taking. Glenn W. Luce Jr.

Thank You So Much

On Friday, Oct. 22, while attempting to get a taxi to take me to Charlestown from the South Station area in Boston, I was told by the taxi driver that he would not take me to Charlestown and he then asked me to leave the taxi. Somehow, during the ensuing confusion, I dropped my wallet when switching to another taxi. Upon arriving at my sister's house, I proceeded to call the taxi company, South Station's "Lost and Found" and the Boston Police Department.

In the meantime, a very kind and honest woman named Sabina McDuffie of Bartlett Street found my wallet on the street and picked it up. She went to great lengths to track me down. There was quite a bit of cash and various bank cards and identification in the wallet. However, my home telephone number was unpublished, but, through a dry cleaning receipt, Sabina found my work number and called me there and left a message. I'm sure you can imagine how relieved I was. The contents of the wallet were intact. When we met for her to return the wallet, she apologized for having to go through the wallet in her efforts to find me!

Sabina, I am very grateful for your kindness. It is very nice to know that there are people like you around who will go above and beyond to help someone in need.

> Thank you again. Martha Cassidy

Thank You

I would like to thank all my relatives and friends for the flowers, Mass cards and get well cards.

Charlestown Residents Beware!

Dear Editor:

I write to you as one of the founders of Chelsea Organized Against Lead Poisoning (C.O.A.L.P.) which was active in our city from 1984-1988. Am I ever angry at Massport Authority!

For those of you who drive over the Tobin Bridge, you will notice that there are no more workers deleading the bridge on the Charlestown side. Why? Channel 7 did an investigative report broadcasted on the 6 p.m. news on Thursday, Oct. 14 and Friday, Oct. 15. The reporting team did a superb job filming lead dust escaping from torn tarps which, according to the foreman, was containing the dust. We were able to see for ourselves, workers sweeping lead paint chips and dust off the bridge rather than vacuuming the area. In addition, a mother from Charlestown was interviewed, and the lead levels in two of her preschool children have doubled and tripled since the deleading project began.

The Channel 7 news team reported that Massport has fired the contractor, Teamstar of Hicksville, N.Y., who are subcontracted to Dynamic Painting, and Massport is suspending the deleading project in Charlestown until the spring of 1994. Had it not been for this adverse publicity, I believe that Massport would still be contaminating our air, our water, the workers and the most vulnerable, our children.

When will Massport ever learn? On Aug. 26, an inspection was conducted of the deleading project of the bridge by the Massachusetts Department of Labor and Industries because of the high lead levels among workers on the job. During that initial inspection, many serious health and safety hazards were observed on the job site. In addition to the significant potential for worker exposure to lead, certain work practices and lack of controls were resulting in the escape of paint chips and dust outside the work area. Subsequent inspections by the state on Sept. 13 and 21 showed additional health and safety hazards. On Sept. 29, Massport shut down the job because of safety and health violations observed by the Department of Labor and Industries, but resumed the deleading work the following week.

Residents of Charlestown and Chelsea must insist that Massport follow the regulations as mandated by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) standards. Massport must require that the contractor explain in detail, as part of the contract, how they will ensure the health and safety of workers, the community and the environment. These work practices should be in place prior to the start of any deleading work in the spring of 1994 in Charlestown and later in Chelsea. The Department of Labor and Industries and OSHA should do a thorough monitoring of the work on the bridge. Lastly, Massport should fund a doorto-door lead screening program in Charlestown as they did in Chelsea. In 1985, Chelsea Organized Against Lead Poisoning and other concerned citizens, demanded that Massport fund a door-to- door lead screening program. Massport funded the project with nearly $20,000. Our local Community Action Program Intercity (C.A.P.I.C.) received the funding and coordinated the project with a team of eight screeners, many of whom were bilingual. The lead screening project in Chelsea began six months after the deleading was finished. The blood lead screenings may not have detected elevated levels in children because as time passes, less lead is in the blood. Much of the lead passes on to other vital organs such as the brain, kidneys and

Pregnant women and children 6 years and under should be tested now in Charlestown. A lead screening project should start immediately if Charlestown residents want to know the effects of Massport's sloppy deleading project. Once again, it is Massport's responsibility to fund such a

I regret that yet another community has had to suffer at the hands of Massport. Residents of Charlestown were given a tour of the deleading project this past spring by Dynamic Painting Co. and Massport. The residents were reassured that Teamstar would be following the most up-to-date safety and health practices. How do you explain that to those workers who now have elevated lead levels and to the mother of two children whose lead levels have increased since the deleading of the bridge? Sincerely.

Thanks To The Cast And Crew

To Father Coyne and Father Casey:

BUSINESS and

We just wanted to thank you, the cast and crew of your musical production. All of the members of Bunker Hill Council No. 62, Knights of Columbus, who had an opportunity to attend, had a wonderful evening.

We especially want to say thank you to the children and youth of Charlestown for showing anyone who was there, the true meaning of being a Townie.

Too bad the Boston Herald, the Boston Globe and the TV and radio stations can't find the time to attend these functions and see all the hard work, time and effort put forth by our youngsters.

SERVICE DIRECTORY

Again, from the members of the Knights, congratulations and thank you.

Sincerely, Ed Woods, Paul Herrick, Steve Owens, Ed Lynch and Paul Rizzo

Thank You So Much

Dear Committee Members of the Robert McGrath Scholarship,

Thank you so much for selecting me as the female recipient of the Robert McGrath Scholarship. I will truly live up to Robert's standards at his alma mater, St. Clement's High School.

Sincerely yours, Erin Weafer

Open House For LPNs and RNs

An open house for LPNs and RNs who are interested in pursuing a degree in nursing will be held at Bunker Hill Community College's Charlestown Campus on Tuesday, Nov. 9, from 9 to Il a.m. in Room E-232. An opportunity for a review of transcripts will be available during the open house.

Mary Riordan, MS, RN, professor in the Nurse Education program, will conduct the meeting, representing Project Learn of Regents College of the University of the State of N.Y.

For more information, call Riordan at 589-0590 and leave a message. All calls will be returned.

Project Learn has been developed for people with strong clinical backgrounds and some college-level knowledge to earn an associate or bachelor's degree through independent study.

Candidates can receive credits for their work experience and prior college credits toward an Associate of Science in Nursing, Associate of Applied Science in Nursing or Bachelor of Science in Nursing degrees from Regents College, a non-traditional college for adults.
