

Tenvir-Em Online

Tenvir-EM tablets are used as part of a regiment of antiretroviral medications to treat HIV-1 in adults over 18 years of age.

Manufactured by the global pharmaceutical company Cipla with its headquarters in Mumbai, India, Tenvir-EM is available for sale in pharmacies across the globe as well as over the internet. These tablets are used in combination with other medications that have a different mechanism of action to treat patients with HIV infection. These patients have either already received treatment with other HIV medication or are undergoing first time therapy for treatment.

Tenvir EM contains a combination of two antiretroviral drugs namely emtricitabine and tenofovir disoproxil fumarate, which are only effective against RNA viruses such as Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV).

Tenvir-em is a generic version of Truvada. However, if your doctor doesn't allow a generic equivalent of Truvada but you're looking for cheaper alternative, worldtrustpharmacy.com can provide a customer with Truvada for only $29.99 per tablet. This is actually $20 cheaper than typical USA pharmacy prices.

These tablets work by inhibiting the action of the viral-specific enzyme reverse transcriptase (RT), which is needed for this virus to replicate. Simply put; Tenvir Em prevents the multiplication of HIV virus in human cells thus stopping HIV virus from producing new viruses.

NOTE: Keep in mind that these tablets do not cure AIDS/HIV; they only help slow down replication of HIV within your body or prevent spreading of this infection to others.

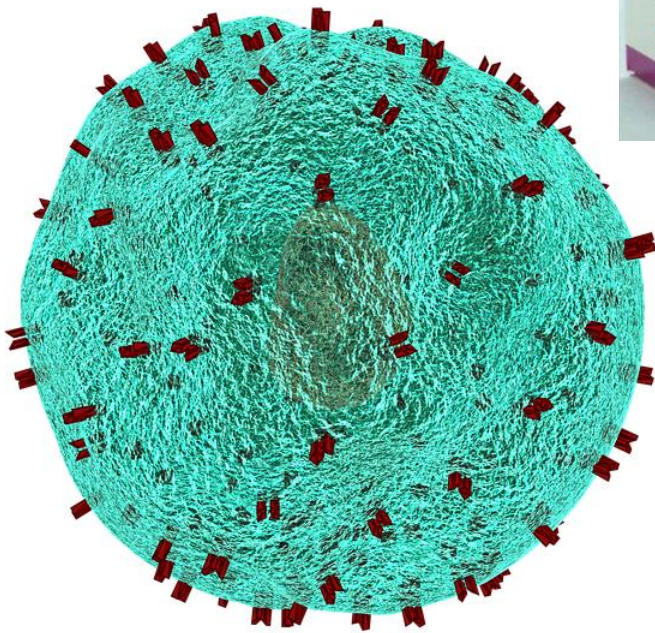

HIV AIDS

A single pill is to be taken orally once a day, at the same time every day – with or without food. Since it's been said to cause renal impairment, patients with a creatinine clearance of 30 to 49 ml/min should only take one tablet every 48 hours. Patients with creatinine clearance of less than 30 ml/min should not take Tenvir Em at all.
