On the Wednesday edition of TRUNews, host Rick Wiles interviewed Terry Sacka, Chief Strategist of Cornerstone Asset Metals, to break down the implications of the FED INTEREST RATE HIKE, with alternative options for wealth and asset protection through ownership of precious metals & GOLD-BACKED IRA'S.

FEB 26th, 2016- WAKE FOREST, N.C. -- On Dec 16th, 2015. The U.S. Federal Reserve Bank raised the interest rate from 0 to .25% and intends to have 3 more rate increases of the same size throughout 2016. Janet Yellen said, "This action marks the end of an extraordinary seven year period during which the Federal funds rate was held to zero to support the recovery of the economy from the worst financial crisis and recession since The Great Depression."

Mr. Sacka made the statement, "The physical gold and silver COMEX inventories that back up the paper gold and silver that controls the market are now at historic lows. They have sold 330 ounces of gold on paper for every real one ounce in the vault for delivery."

He went on to say, "Just think, there are 330 guys on one side of the street and one ounce of gold on the other side. Who's going to get it?"

Rate increases are the Fed's way of saying that the U.S. economy is looking healthy. When it hikes less or changes its forecast, that's a sign that the Fed is feeling less confident about the economy's health.

The Fed is still predicting four interest rate hikes this year, but the market now forecasts zero hikes in 2016.

A lot has changed since January 1st as stock markets around the world went on a wild (downward) ride. Investors just don't think the U.S. economy, let alone the global economy, can stand more interest rate increases. Since then even the Fed is starting to sound a little doubtful that it can stick to its plan.

Gold-Backed IRA's

Regarding this topic he stated, "The nice part about a precious metals IRA, there actually is a physical metal purchased and stored on your behalf. Gold is capable of going back to it's high yielding a 60% return and silver a 200% return. Gold and silver are really the wealth transfer in the physical market."

Mr. Sacka has pointed out how gold and silver historically have been protection and hedges against systematic risk associated with geopolitical jitters, events and inflationary factors which all have historically lead to financial crashes.

He emphasized this by stating, "I'm a strategist so I'm an analyst in natural resources. So my job mainly with Cornerstone is the role of natural resources, we're right from the earth, we deal with things right from the ground."

He went on to say, "We're custom minters and refiners but we supply this beautiful God product to people...I understand the systems of the world and I understand the biblical principles that God taught us."

Refining and custom minters, Cornerstone Asset Metals are the manufacturers of the only good delivery Judeo-Christian Hallmarked Silver in the country
