

Travaglini And O'Neil Top Primary Ticket In Charlestown

Low voter turnout marked the City of Boston Preliminary Election on Tuesday, September 10th. Approximately 16% of Charlestown's 8564 registered voters cast their ballots for the District One and At Large Boston City Council candidates.

In the District One City Council race, which includes

Charlestown, East Boston and the North End, incumbent Robert Travaglini captured 87% of the votes cast in this race in Charlestown and 3,983 votes or 79% of the ballots cast throughout the entire district. He will be challenged in November by Ronald Jordan of East Boston, who received 626 votes in the district. Joseph Sablone from the North End, receiving 459 votes district-wide, was eliminated from this contest.

Albert "Dapper" O'Neil topped the ticket in the At Large race for Boston City Council in Charlestown, as he did city-wide. O'Neil, in his campaign for re-election, captured 1053 votes in this community. Michael Mc-Cormack, who is also an incumbent, placed second with 758 votes, followed by former City Councillor Fred Langone with 729 votes. Incumbents Joseph Tierney and Christopher Iannella received 689 and 601 votes respectively.

Michael Kane, Willie Mae Allen and Althea Garrison — all of whom placed well behind the top five vote-getters in this primary, will also be on the ballot in November.

Kenneth Davis, Richard Black, John Scialdone, Edward Malik and Little Pittman were eliminated from the Council race.

This low voter turnout is in stark contrast to the 74% of the registered voters in Charlestown who turned out at the polls for the City of Boston Preliminary Election in October 1983, with a hotly contested mayoralty, eight candidates for District One City Councillor, ten candidates for At Large City Councillor and four candidates for District One School Committee Member.

The unofficial tally of the Ward Two, Charlestown vote by precinct, may be found on page nine.

Bunker Hill Housing Tenants Fighting Welding Of Roof Doors

by Marianne Martin

The decision to weld the access doors to the roofs of Boston Housing Authority properties permanently shut has the tenants of the Bunker Hill Housing Project in quite an uproar. The action concerning the doors, which were scheduled to have been welded early this week, has been postponed until tenants and BHA officials discuss the decision and possible alternatives.

David Gilmore, the Special Deputy of Operations for the BHA, ordered the welding. According to Task Force members, Gilmore's reasons are based on the continued unauthorized use of the roofs by tenants for cookouts, sunbathing, and television antennas, all of which has caused damage to the roofs. The Maverick Development in East Boston and the Old Colony Development in South Boston have already had the roof doors welded. The Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force, however, is trying to prevent this from happening in Charlestown.

"BHA's reasons are valid," stated tenant James "Buttsy" McGrath, "People do go up there." However, McGrath continued, if the doors are permanently sealed, residents state their safety is in jeopardy.

Michael McDonough, the Community Organizer for the Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force, states that under the United States Housing Act of 1937, provisions were included for an emergency egress in public housing. "They allowed for the one stairway structures as long as there was access to the roof. As far as we can see, they allowed the construction (of these projects) because we greatly needed housing," stated McDonough, adding that the concept of public housing was new and the federal government "wanted to accept plans so long as there was ancillary access."

The Bunker Hill Housing Project was built in 1938. The buildings were built with one stairwell, with access to the roofs and each building had a walkway connecting it to an adjacent building.

Bunker Hill Tenants Fighting Welding Of Roof Doors

The concern of the tenants over the need for an emergency exit is nothing new according to McDonough, who says tenants have been fighting BHA since 1981 when the walkways were removed and locks on the penthouse roof doors were changed so that the doors could not be opened from the outside.

The Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force has collected over 800 signatures from tenants in opposition to the welding, which was scheduled to have begun this past Tuesday, September 10th. John Ballard of the Task Force stated the tenants have basically three concerns. The first two are safety issues: one, the loss of a second egress in case of fire, and second, the limited ventilation which will be created. The final concern questions whether the BHA is required to obtain a permit to weld the doors (something the BHA does not have).

Gilmore told the tenants his research has shown that the BHA does not need a permit to weld the doors, nor will the welding threaten the safety of the tenants. According to the task force, Gilmore has challenged them to prove him wrong and if they did, he would open the already welded doors.

McDonough stated that Gilmore was to have sent a legal opinion to the task force outlining his research. However, McDonough adds, "We have yet to see it."

The task force members state they are frustrated with attempts to negotiate with the BHA. "We're getting nowhere with Gilmore. We hit a blank wall everytime," stated Mary MacInnes, Chairperson of the Task Force. "We hired our own lawyer and Mr. Gilmore knows it and he wished us luck," added MacInnes.

Residents of the project are scared. There was a fire this past June at 74 Walford Way during which four tenants escaped the fire by means of the roof, where they were treated for smoke inhalation. "Everyone who lives in these projects lives in fear of being trapped and not being able to get ourselves and our children out," stated McGrath. "It's not the fire that'll kill you. It's the smoke."

McGrath suggests that the BHA investigate the possibility of installing an alarm system on the doors which would signal at the BHA office at 55 Bunker Hill Street. Such a system would accomplish two things. First, it would notify the BHA Police when there was an unauthorized person on the roof. Second, the alarm would service as backup alarm should there be a fire and a need to be on the roof.

"We've told Mr. Gilmore how concerned we are. We have already had a fire. We know how important this issue is," continued MacInnes. "Without this access, we're trapped."

MacInnes added, "Mr. Gilmore doesn't feel this way. He told us (in the event of a fire) to put wet towels down and wait for the fire department, but in a fire situation you panic. I've been burnt. I know."

McGrath has contacted the Chief Fire Marshall of the Boston Fire Department to see if the welding would pose a safety hazard. "The fire department officials did state that they received a large number of calls from Old Colony tenants but no one would leave their name or address," stated McGrath. "This is the first time the BHA has been challenged."

"The Fire Department is aware and we hope they support us because they want to secure the safety of the residents as well as able to get into these building themselves," added McGrath. However, when contacted, Chief Fire Marshall John White stated he would rather not comment on the issue since his department was still investigating the situation.

Gilmore has been unavailable for comment, but Bill Wright from the BHA Communications Department stated, "The safety issue is important to both us and the tenants and we will look into the alternatives."

The BHA and the Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force have agreed to meet in the near future to discuss this situation. According to McDonough, the task force hopes to exchange material. "I also hope there are people there who can make a decision," added McDonough.

"They're (BHA administration) wrong. They are 100% wrong," summarized MacInnes, who added the task force will take every step to prevent the welding. "They are going to have one hell of a fight, because we're fighters down here."

Garden Area Was Designated As Residential Housing

On Monday, August 26, 1985, the Boston Globe featured an article by Diane Tracy relating to the campaign conducted by the Charlestown Community Garden, Incorporated. This campaign has been presented to the Charlestown Community under the general theme of "Save the Garden".

In order for the public to be well-informed regarding this proposal further facts should be made known, such as the following:

The parcel where the garden is located is designated by the Boston Redevelopment Authority as P-2. It forms a triangle bounded by Main, Charles and Bunker Hill Streets. Shortly after the original urban renewal contract was signed by the City of Boston, the BRA, and the Charlestown Community in June 1965, approximately forty families were evicted from their homes on this location through the process of eminent domain. This section was designated to be redeveloped with residential housing. The evictees were promised the first opportunity to relocate in the new housing. Now, even though twenty years have passed, the terms of the contract are still valid. There are many young people, dependents of the former tenants, who would welcome a chance to locate in new housing on this site.

The permission for the use of this plot for a community garden was only a temporary measure as shown in the following memo from the BRA, dated April 27, 1978. It is hoped that the BRA will adhere to its contract and reclaim this section, Parcel P-2, for its original purpose.

MEMORANDUM April 27, 1978

To: Boston Redevelopment Authority
From: Robert F. Walsh, Director
Subject: Charlestown Urban Renewal Area Mass.R-55
Disposition Parcel P-2
Permission For Use For Community Gardens

Charlestown Community Gardens has requested the Authority's permission to lease a portion of Parcel P-2, 454-458 Bunker Hill Street in the Charlestown Urban Renewal Area, for the use as community gardens.

Approximately 40 plots will be developed and ABCD will prepare the area for planting. General supervision and selection of the community residents to garden the plots will be conducted by the J.F. Kennedy Center.

The temporary use of this lot as requested will not present an obstacle to development and will provide a reasonable interim use.

I, therefore, recommend that the Authority lease to the Charlestown Community Gardens the vacant lot at 453-458 Bunker Hill Street, a portion of Parcel P-2, for community use, subject to a 30-day cancellation clause.

An appropriate vote follows:

VOTED: That the Director is hereby authorized to lease to the Charlestown Community Gardens the vacant lot at 454-458 Bunker Hill Street, a portion of Disposition Parcel P-2 in the Charlestown Urban Renewal Area, for a period of one year, subject to a 30-day notice to vacate, with the lease being renewable thereafter at the option of both parties. Said lease to be for the consideration of one dollar and said lessee's agreement to assume all maintenance expenses and responsibility for compliance with all municipal codes and ordinances, to provide an indemnification clause saving the Authority as co-insured, and other such items and conditions as the Director deems proper and in the best interests of the Authority.

Bronze Plaque Stolen

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter in the hope that someone out there may have information about the bronze plaque that was stolen from the Kane Cage on Corey Street.

The plaque was paid for by the kids who live in the projects. It was a memorial to their friend, Robert Kane, who died on September 7, 1979.

I appeal to your readers that if you have any information, please call 242-4638. If returned, no questions will be asked.

Thank you,
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kane

Thank You

My son, Paul, and myself, Rose M. Green, would like to thank our family, friends, relatives, neighbors, clergy, Mark's co-workers and extend a special thank you to Father Tom Conway for all the support he gave us during our recent bereavement. You will all have a special place in our hearts and we will always remember you in our prayers.

Sincerely,

Seeks Re-Election

I (Mary E. Goggin Murphy Crowley), am seeking reelection to a two year term on the Mayor's Commission on Affairs of the Elderly and would hope that my record of the past two years would speak for itself as you consider my candidacy.

I need not describe anything that I have accomplished as I am sure the Senior Citizens all know what I have done and tried to do in completing any task for them, with a lot of help from our town.

The election will be held on Wednesday, September 18, 1985 from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at the Kent Community School on 50 Bunker Hill Street. You must be sixty years old to vote.

No salary is involved in this job. I am well known and also well respected in the town. I will continue to represent the Seniors of Charlestown in City Hall. I do speak up and am heard when I speak on an issue.

I've enjoyed the challenge and I do love the elderly. They have good friends in myself and my husband as he is also a volunteer.

If you think I can help you in any way, please contact me at 242-4115 or 242-0969.

I hope that you will all find the time to vote on Wednesday for a true and loyal "Townie."

I would like to thank and congratulate Neil Boyle and his crew for doing such a great job in the Bunker Hill Cemetery this summer. He weeded and cut trees, mowed the grass and restored the road that was there and hadn't been visible for years. The cemetery looks beautiful and lets hope it stays that way.

Again, thanks to all who contributed to this successful project.

"Let's Still Be Friends"

They say friendship will never die,

When you loose a friend you want to cry.

He said he'd always be there and never be so cruel,

I don't want to shed a tear, but he's broken all the rules.
He left me without a trace,

Now tears roll down my face.

I loved him with all my heart,

I loved him with all my soul,

Now that we are apart.

I feel so very low.

Now that he's gone, our love ends.

I feel I must go on, so let's still be friends.

It Is Time For The People To Abolish Income Surtax?

Once again, we have the parasites of the Massachusetts legislature denying the taxpayers what is rightly theirs. With a 300 million dollar surplus in the state treasury, the legislature, with the blessing of Governor Dukakis, refuse to rescind the ten year old "temporary" income surtax and return the money to the people. Fortunately for the hard pressed taxpayers, Citizen's For Limited Taxation are gearing up once again (as they did with Proposition 2½) to take the initiative to place on the ballot, in a binding referendum, Proposition 7.5 which, if successful, will force the legislature to abolish this confiscatory surtax which is no longer needed, if indeed it ever was.

The people of Massachusetts owe a deep debt of gratitude to Citizen's for Limited Taxation, and especially to executive director Barbara Anderson for her leadership roll in the successful implementation of Prop 2½ back in 1980.

Proposition 2½ limited cities and towns from increasing the property tax to no more than 2.5%. Had it not been for Prop 2½, our property taxes would by now have gone through the roof (no pun intended). In addition, it provided relief to rent payers by way of a tax deduction for a portion of total rent paid.

It also reduced the automobile excise tax from $66 per $1,000 of valuation to 5%. As a result, automobile sales skyrocketed, and became part of the economic boom which resulted in Massachusetts becoming the number one industrial state in the nation.

Very shortly, Citizen's For Limited Taxation will be out with their petitions for signatures to put 7.5 on the ballot, and once the process begins we can expect the usual howls from the liberals who will maintain that the needy will be deprived of basic services as a result of the greed of the working class and their determination to keep a little more of their hard earned money.

These are the same liberals who have advocated that the state and federal governments expend billions of dollars to fund abortions which deny life to 150 million unborns each year, and an equal amount to force bus children out of their neighborhood schools in a futile attempt to racially balance the public schools.

It is reassuring to see middle class Americans fighting back against oppressive legislative bodies by waging massive campaigns for tax reform in the various states.

The power to tax is the power to destroy. That is why it is essential that the people monitor every proposal for legislation that would require additional taxes to fund it.

We must stop the wasteful spending before it destroys us.

Therefore, it is urged that the citizens of Massachusetts get involved and support Citizens For Limited Taxation and their proposition 7.5 to abolish the surtax.

Archaeology Update

HENLEY DISTILLERY

The Henley Distillery site is located within a lot bounded by Chelsea, Wapping, Maudlin, and Foss Streets and is currently occupied by Area Towing Company. It was excavated between June 14 and July 30, 1985, by the Public Archaeology Laboratory, Inc.

Previous archaeological investigation and background research concerning the site, the first of eight Charlestown locations to be excavated in the Central Artery North Project, raised expectations of uncovering 18th and 19th distillery features. However, on the first day of digging, a backhoe exposed a 17th century foundation two feet below what was thought to be a sterile clay deposit.

Near the site, the town center of Charlestown was settled in 1629 and the first dry dock in North America was built in 1667. John Smith, who emigrated from England to Charlestown sometime before 1644, first owned the distillery lot. Apparently John Smith was a successful ship carpenter as he also owned several other properties and a wharf. His descendants retained ownership until the turn of the 18th century. Captain Samuel purchased this site in 1741. At the time of the 1775 British destruction, Samuel Henley owned much land in Charlestown. According to a deed, he opened a distillery on a lot bounded by "the street leading to Wapping where...stands a pothouse, ...and Brown's land to the Town Dock..."

A second distillery was rebuilt on the same land at least by 1790. With a succession of owners, the distillery operations continued through 1866. After its abandonment, the site was subdivided into houselots. These 19th century multi-family buildings and Chelsea Street shops were demolished for post-WWII urban roadways and redevelopment.

The Henley Distillery, active between 1741 and 1775 and 1790 and 1866, processed Caribbean sugar cane and molasses into rum. Historic research suggests that in the 19th century, the distillery may have also produced saleratus, an early form of baking powder, as a by-product of the fermentation process. Archaeological excavation within the distillery lot located the remains of the post-revolutionary distillery. Wooden vats of different sizes, corks, bungs (wooden barrel plugs), rope, and hose (rubber-cloth composite) were found in the 50 square meter area explored. It was determined that the archaeologists were clearing in the basement level of a portion of the distillery building. The uncovering of the brick firebox and wooden timbers are significant in finally pinpointing the location of the building on the site. But most important is the direct relationship of these features to the pre-1835 streets and the colonial Town Dock and Dry Dock. Further significance is associated with the transitional character of the 19th century distilling operation. While the building was large and housed many stills and vats to increase its production capacity, the floor plan of numerous small units indicates vestiges of the smaller colonial "cottage" system.

The earlier 17th century occupation of the site was represented by the foundation of a house or workshop, surrounded by the original backyard areas. Within the filled cellar hole and in the yard were found many artifacts made and used between the 1630s to 1690s. All the remnants and structural pieces from the Henley Distillery site are processed and conserved at the Laboratory on 152 North Street. A type collection and small displays are mounted to illustrate the kinds of materials found.

CITY SQUARE ARCHAEOLOGICAL DISTRICT

August brought the opening of the City Square Archaeological District. The research focus of the project moved from industrial to early architectural and cultural history. After reaching the 1775 surface level, clearly marked by charred soil, the search for the foundation of the Great House (1629-1775), later the Three Cranes Tavern, has intensified. Fieldstone foundations, brick-lined privies, beach cobblestone paving, and brick walkways aid the public in visualizing colonial Charlestown. Pre-historic jasper flakes and pottery (found in 1780 fill) add to the site's archaeological record as the historic archaeologists attempt to locate the 1629 ground surface.

Although the purpose of the City Square excavations are to find 17th and 18th century structures and features, modern utilities hamper progress and a Victorian fountain base and trolley tracks protrude from the area. Work will continue until November, so plan a visit by calling Barbara Thibault, Site Interpreter, at 332-3290.

The next site excavated will be the Newhall-Runey Pottery on the corner of Water and Gray Streets. More information concerning the project can be found in the brochure "Charlestown's Origins Through Historic Archaeology" available at the Bunker Hill Pavilion. The Central Artery North Area Project is administered by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works and funded through the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the Federal Highway Administration.

Boston Mayor Raymond L. Flynn has announced Harborpark Day in Boston to take place Sunday, September 15, 1985. The day of events and activities that will take place along Boston Harbor will demonstrate the progress being made toward achieving the objectives of the City's Harborpark Plan to expand opportunities for recreation, public access, and economic opportunities along the entire length of the waterfront. Activities get underway at 12:30 p.m., sponsored by the Boston Redevelopment Authority and the Mayor's Office of Business and Cultural Development.

City Announces Plans For Harborpark Day, September 15th

Mayor Flynn said, "The idea of Harborpark Day is to give residents and visitors of Boston a chance to learn, see, and understand what the City's Harborpark Plan is all about, to highlight the progress being made in making the waterfront accessible to everyone, and to demonstrate that Boston's historic and beautiful waterfront can be enjoyed year round."

Events and informational activities will be taking place at three different waterfront locations: (1) Shipyard Park in Charlestown; (2) Christopher Columbus Park (Waterfront Park) in downtown Boston near Faneuil Hall; and (3) at UMass/Boston Harbor Campus. Shipyard Park and Waterfront Park locations will be accessible to each other by water taxi service. Promotion of the day among handicapped groups will also emphasize the accessibility of the waterfront to everyone.

Specific activities at each location will include:

Shipyard Park in Charlestown: The Dick Johnson Swing Shift Band under the direction of Dave Burdett; kite flying for kids; a Harborpark cake for visitors; and a hot air balloon. There will also be a number of exhibits and tours as well as the ongoing attractions such as "Old Ironsides" and Constitution Museum.

Christopher Columbus Park/Waterfront Park: "Sea Revels" performance; "The Pirates" entertainment for children; face painting; The Aquarium Animals performance; "Living History"; Smokey the Bear; a treasure hunt; a cake; and marine and waterfront educational exhibits from government agencies and community groups. The highlight of the afternoon at Waterfront Park will be a performance by "The Drifters" at 3:00 p.m.

UMass/Boston Harbor Campus: Harborpark is being held there in conjunction with their Second Annual WUMB-FM Teddy Bear and Friends Picnic. There will be games and activities for the entire family; musical performances at 2:00 p.m. and 3:00 p.m.; and Harry Hood, Smokey the Bear, the Buckle-Up Bear, the Teddy-Bear Parade, and a Sing-a-long. Refreshments will be provided by H.P. Hood & Company. (UMass activities begin at 12:00 noon.)

Easy accessibility to the three locations will be provided by Old Town Trolley, double-decker buses, as well as water taxis. The City will also be celebrating the new opening of its downtown site office for Harborpark at 185 State Street.

Rat Sightings On Increase In Charlestown Area

by Marianne Martin

"The subject of rats is one that is ignored until the problem reaches one's doorsteps," summarized Tom Long from the City of Boston Neighborhood Services Office, in reference to the increasing rat problem in the city.

In Charlestown, residents are not ignoring the problem, as many experience rats not only at their doorsteps, but in their backyards and basements. Bernie Evers of St. Martin Street has discovered, rats actually eating their way through his asphalt driveway and burrowing their way next to the foundation of his home.

Evers is not the only resident to witness rats in and around his home. In the past two weeks, there have been over ten other rat sightings made. Three rats were spotted on the corner of Warren and Cordis Streets. Two rats were found under a car on Baldwin Street between Bunker Hill and Main Streets. One was seen on Auburn Street and another on School Street. On St. Martin Street, one rat was discovered in one resident's home, another was discovered walking down the street and a third was found dead in Evers backyard, the apparent victim of his cat.

Evers has seen rats using the sewer as an access way to his neighborhood. His theory is that the rats are coming from the waterfront via the sewer system, since the pipes run to the water. "They (the sewer pipes) used to go to a treatment plant, now they go to the waterfront," stated Evers.

Charlestown is not the only section of Boston with a rat problem. Unfortunately, there is no city-wide program to address this increasing rat population. Sam Woods, Administrator and Principal Inspector from Environmental Affairs of the Department of Health and Hospitals, heads a federally funded program in Boston which, in addition to enforcing the sanitary code, also baits and traps rats, but only in specifically targeted areas. Charlestown, like much of Boston, does not fall within this targeted area.

Originally, according to Woods, the federal government specified 420 blocks in Boston as a target, namely in the Roxbury-Dorchester area, because of density and need. However, Woods reports with the increased construction in the city, the rat population in addition to growing, is moving. "Rats are everywhere," Woods said, "There's no question we need to expand this program, but my hands are tied with limited personnel and the area restrictions."

Ten years ago, there were over 50 health inspectors and a budget of $600,000. Today, Woods says there are only eight inspectors working with under $200,000.

In June, Woods submitted a proposal to the City Council requesting that his program be expanded city-wide. The proposal was unanimously approved by the councillors; however, the proposal called for state, not city funds. The proposal was then sent to Beacon Hill where, according to Long, the State Legislature voted against it because the problem is a Boston problem which the legislature felt the city should handle.

"It (the proposal) is back in the Mayor's lap," stated Woods, who stressed the serious need to expand, "We want to respond, but with only eight inspectors, we are struggling with what we have."

Long added, "Woods has a great program. They're a hard working bunch of guys." Long agreed with the inspector stating there is a need to take a "pro-active response" to the rat problem which he called "dramatic," "unattractive" and "definitely serious."

As for Charlestown's rat problem, Woods sympathized, "If I lived in Charlestown and was part of the City of Boston, I'd be frustrated. I know what it's like to be shuffled from phone to phone. That's not what we're all about. We really want to help."

Persons with problems or concerns regarding the sighting of rats in their neighborhood should contact Sam Woods at the Department of Health and Hospitals at 424-5965 and the Mayor's Office of Constituent Services at 725-4500.

Piano Needed

A variety show will be held late this fall at the Knights of Columbus Hall, entitled "Townies Helping Townies" and all the proceeds will be distributed throughout the community through its Churches and needy organizations. Director Kay Whelan and Past Grand Knight Jim Carr, organizers of the show, are seeking a piano to be used for the show.

Mrs. Whelan said "We need a piano for rehearsals and the show. I hope that someone in the community will read this, have an old piano they no longer need, and out of the goodness of their heart, donate it to the Knights." Mr. Carr will make arrangements to have it picked up. "If you can help, please call me at 242-0817 to make arrangements," stated Mrs. Whelan.

2 p.m. on Friday, September 20th.

Lippizaners on Parade

The Charlestown Historical Society would like to inform its members and friends that beginning Sunday, September 15, 1985, and every Saturday and Sunday until late October, the State National Guard will parade on horseback from the Bunker Hill Monument to the State House. The parade will consist of ten Lippizaner horses, believed to be the most sought-after horses in the world, mounted by the Guardsmen dressed in Constitutional Army uniforms dating back to 1776, complete with wigs and tricorn hats.

The lead horse, "America" (President Ronald Reagan's recently retired horse), will carry the British Union Jack, the first flag of the United States. Upon arrival at the State House a "Changing of the Colors" ceremony will take place between the United States and Massachusetts flag poles. The posting of the color guard is scheduled to take place every hour between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. on the Lawn of the State House.

The parade will leave the Monument promptly at 12:20 p.m. and is expected to arrive at the State House at 1:00 p.m. An artillery salute on the Boston Common will fire twice, once at 12:30 p.m. to signify that the horses have left Charlestown, and again at 1:05 p.m. to signify the changing of colors.

All Charlestown residents are invited to attend the festivities sponsored by the "Spirit of Massachusetts" and "Boston: Bright From The Start" campaigns.

Coolidge Explains Boston Police Strike

Calvin Coolidge will talk about the 1919 Boston Police strike when he makes an appearance at the Charlestown Working Theater this month. Many Charlestown families had relatives involved in that famous strike. Few have had an opportunity to hear Coolidge reminisce about his role in calling out the National Guard in response to the strike.

Jim Cooke will portray Calvin Coolidge in the production "Calvin Coolidge: More Than Just Two Words". The show runs from September 19th through the 29th; Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at 8:00 p.m. and Sundays at 2:00 p.m.

Calvin Coolidge, in the person of Jim Cooke, will talk about other events in his life, in addition to the police strike. Coolidge was born in Vermont on the fourth of July 1872. He became a lawyer in Massachusetts and entered politics. He had the seat now occupied by William Bulger, President of the State Senate. He became Lieutenant Governor and then Governor.

In 1919 when Coolidge was Governor, Boston policemen were only earning $1100 a year, a low salary, even in those days. They were not permitted, by law, to join a union. They felt they had legitimate grievances that were not being heard. The police walked out on September 8, 1919 and the next day there was rioting in the downtown. Governor Coolidge called in the National Guard. As unpopular as this action may have been in neighborhoods like Charlestown, the action gave him the national exposure he needed to be selected as Warren Harding's running mate in the 1921 presidential election. At Harding's death in 1923, Coolidge became President. He was President during the stock market crash in 1929.

Jim Cooke has portrayed Coolidge on stage over the last ten years. Cooke, too, was born and raised in Vermont. He returned to Vermont to do this show for an audience that included Calvin Coolidge's son.

Tickets for this production are $8; $7 for senior citizens, students and Charlestown residents. Group rates are available. Call the Charlestown Working Theater at 242-3534, for information and reservations.

MINISTERS VS. FIREFIGHTERS

The Annual Priests vs. Police ("Lawmen versus the Law") softball game is now history, and (with apologies to Paul Harvey) "here's the story behind the story." Once again the participating clergy showed great restraint and allowed the police to win. In fact, with a final score of 29 - 2, it can be said that they gave witness as to the great merits of the virtue of humility. Actually, the final victors are Boston's homeless; certainly a blessing, and Amen to that. All puns intended!

Our headline is an expression of an idea whose time we believe should come. As a follow-on to the Priest - Police game, we propose that Ministers of all denominations take on the Firefighters, with the winning team of both games to meet in a mini-World Series. There is a lot of committee work to be done, of course, but there's a whole year ahead to iron out the bugs. And shouldn't we expect an outpouring of volunteers anxious to help the homeless, and the victims of muscular dystrophy?

We tried this idea out on Fire Lieutenant John McGrath, as he stood his turn as a sidewalk sentinel watching John Q. Public lovingly fill up a firefighter's boot in behalf of "Jerry's Kids." He was enthusiastic and indicated he'd get the ball rolling with his fellow firefighters, including their prospective Coach - Fire Commissioner Leo Stapleton.

We (you and I) can play an important part in seeing this event come to fruition by bringing it to the attention of all possible participants, by offering to help in every possible way, and by planning to be present with our families and friends. Imagine, if you will, the spirit of ecumenism as well as the proceeds to be realized for two wonderful charities. The possibilities are endless as it just might catch on across the Commonwealth... and nationally.

Come on, Boston, let's lead the way again. Let's do it big!

SHADES OF PONTIUS PILATE ...

We have been made privy to correspondence from a Quincy resident to Massachusetts' Junior Senator, John F. Kerry, wherein she asked his support for Senate Bill 46 (Unborn Children's Civil Rights Act of 1985).

"I cannot, however, support this bill because it is based on the premise that the fetus is a living human being. This is a religious and not a scientific belief, and as such I cannot support any legislation which imposes any one religious view on all people."

That terse reply, to what is essentially a life-and-death question, begs any description we could muster for callousness. It's an insult to anyone's intelligence but, frankly, it's what we've come to expect from our "servants" who, once elected, think they're our "Masters."

In swift rebuttal thereto, we openly ask the learned Scientist-Senator the following simple, non-religious questions concerning the "fetus" (his choice of words, not ours):

- *If the unborn baby is not alive, why is it growing?
- *If it is not a human being, what kind of being is it?
- *And, indeed, if it is a living, human child, why is it legal to kill it?

Agree? Disagree? Write for the public record, Senator Kerry!

Or sat quietly in a chair;
Perhaps you sent a floral piece,
If so, we saw it there.

APHASIA

Aphasia, an acquired impairment of language processes, is a communication disorder that usually appears suddenly, often without warning.

The most common cause of aphasia is stroke. A stroke occurs when the blood supply to some area of the brain is interrupted or cut off with resulting tissue death. It may also be caused by a blood clot, a hemorrhage, severe loss of blood pressure or anoxia.

Aphasia symptoms vary greatly among patients. The type and severity of language loss are related to the location and extent of brain injury. Disabilities can range from a temporary slurring of speech to a total loss of communication. It is important to remember that a person with aphasia may have a number of symptoms and generally does not fit into one specific category.

There are various settings in which a patient may receive speech/language treatment for aphasia. The most common setting is the hospital and clinic. Other facilities which provide speech/language treatment are rehabilitation centers as well as some nursing homes.

Receiving speech/language treatment is a very important aspect of rehabilitation for the aphasic person. For rehabilitation to be most effective, three points must be kept in mind.

1. Rehabilitation must begin as soon after the stroke as possible
2. The family can be the patient's most important means of support during the rehabilitative process
3. Rehabilitation is a team effort with the physician, nurse, speech/language pathologist, and social worker, etc., working with the patient and his family.

An individual's aphasia is a family problem. Both the patient and the family go through various psychological changes and reactions, such as: anxiety, frustration, depression, anger and guilt. The problems of the aphasic individual are inseparable from the changes confronting the family, and so clinical goals for the patient are more attainable with understanding and cooperation from the family.

If you have any questions regarding stroke and aphasia, contact the Bunker Hill Health Center, Speech/Language Pathology Unit.

Voke Commended For Elderly Medical Assistance

The American Association of Retired Persons, in the August publication of their "Massachusetts Legislative News," publicly thanks Representative Richard Voke for his leadership as Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee for adding and pushing to enactment an elderly assistance measure in this year's state budget. The measure, an item providing for free medical assistance through Medicaid for qualified elderly and disabled persons living alone, was approved by both branches of the legislature and signed into law.

According to Representative Voke, the item was originally proposed as part of another house bill. Due to its importance to certain elderly and disabled persons, however, Representative Voke decided to include it as part of his recommendations for the FY'86 budget. The $2 million appropriation will mean that those who receive social security or veteran's pensions totaling up to $452 a month will now be able to receive medicaid payments. The previous ceiling was $350.

"By bringing the Medicaid standards up for those individuals receiving social security payments, we have insured that needy elderly and disabled persons that were subject to 'spend downs' in the past are now assured access to proper medical care under Medicaid provisions," commented Voke.

Both Representative Voke and the American Association of Retired Persons recommend that all elderly and disabled persons with an income of under $452 a month, that do not receive Medicaid benefits presently, apply at a local welfare agency for program participation details.

Columbus Freshmen Football Revived And Revised

by Bob DeCristoforo, Athletic Director

With an eye to the future, Christopher Columbus High School has revised its underclassmen football program. Under the direction of Head Coach Joe Marani, the two year project will revive the Freshman Football program at the school.

This year the Sub Varsity program will be geared to a Freshman level and in 1986, a complete Freshman Schedule will be the objective. A good Freshman program will be the key to a solid Varsity program in the future, a solid winning Varsity program.

Any Freshman, who wants to play Football will be able to do so at Columbus under a fine professional staff. Coach Frank Brillo and Tony Berlandi will be heading this Freshman program.

Encouragement, not discouragement, is a vital factor, which all parents and youth coaches should push. Unfortunately, in the past, we have had students who want to play high school sports, but have been told...stay on your local team, wait till next year, or here you can start, why sit on the bench! These are just a few of the excuses. I, personally, coached many a youth team and my goal was that each kid try out for his or her high school team.

High School sports, no matter what the level, has a tremendous amount to offer. Please let the kids take advantage of these fine programs.

Columbus Freshmen/Sub Varsity Schedule

Friday, Sept. 27	Don Bosco	3:30 p.m.
Monday, Oct. 7	South Boston	3:30 p.m.

All Columbus Home Games are played at the MDC Field adjacent to the Lee Pool on Storrow Drive directly across from Massachusetts General Hospital.

Patriots Score $10,000 For Boys And Girls Clubs

While the New England Patriots did not score many wins in their pre-season games, they managed to garner $10,000 for the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston.

Every time the New England Patriots get the pigskin over the goal line this season it means dollars for the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston. Every point scored by the Patriots against rivals during the four pre-season and 16 regular season games means $100 for the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston. The Patriots scored 100 points in the four pre-season games, translating into $10,000 for the youngsters.

Last year, the Patriots tallied 462 points in the 20 games which meant $46,200 from Frito-Lay, maker of Lay's and Ruffles brand potato chips and Frito brand corn chips, for the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston, a non-profit organization supporting activities of more than 5,000 youngsters.

This is tenth year that Frito-Lay has teamed with the Patriots in this worthy community project, according to Phil Thomas, Frito-Lay Division Sales Manager.

Over the past nine seasons, Frito-Lay has donated a total of $380,000 to the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston for points scored by the Patriots.

"Keep Moving"

There's a new group of "athletes" training for a statewide competition which will be held in Boston on Sunday, September 29. On that day some 3,000 athletes from across the state will join Governor Michael S. Dukakis, Boston Bruins great, Bobby Orr, and senior marathoners Johnny Kelley and Ruth Rothfarb to compete in the Governor's Cup, a one mile fun walk, a three mile competitive walk and a five mile road race. The youngest competitor for the Governor's Cup is 40 years old.

The event is the highlight of "Keep Moving," a program developed by the Massachusetts Executive Office of Elder Affairs to promote greater physical activity for older adults. The "Keep Moving" program promotes walking for exercise, and for thousands of people provides a way to remain physically and socially active. Walking is often overlooked as a serious form of exercise, yet it works every muscle and bone in the body, combats many health problems and can be done by anyone, anyplace, anytime. What could be better? Within the past 10 weeks over 2,000 seniors have joined a statewide network of walking clubs.

All persons 40 years and older are encouraged to participate in The Governor's Cup on Sunday, September 29th in Boston. Participants will receive free tee-shirts and refreshments and enjoy entertainment on Boston Common. No matter what your level of fitness there's something for everyone.

For more information and/or applications call Penny Carver, Executive Office of Elder Affairs, 727-4092 or 1-800-882-2003.

Pop Warner Corner

Next Sunday, the Charlestown Pop Warner Football Teams will start a new season. The games will start at 11:00 a.m. with Newton South coming to Charlestown.

Come on down to the field and cheer on the kids.

Facts About Drugs F.A.D.

Parents usually don't talk to their kids about drugs. Sometimes they feel that bringing up the subject will encourage kids to experiment. Some parents are in denial that drugs are as available as they are. "Not my child", is an illusion all of us would like to believe. In most places, Charlestown included, we would like to believe that drinking beer is not really taking drugs. We would do well to think about and talk about the reality of drug abuse, and make rules about what we expect from our children.

I would like to make some suggestions for families who are wondering or afraid to address these problems:

1. Make the rules of your house very clear. They should be repeated to your children regularly. For example, "drunkenness is unacceptable in this house"; "you will be punished if you drink (smoke)"; "you may not drink and drive our car".
2. If your son or daughter is caught drinking, make punishment fit the crime and stick to it. Suggestions: no phone calls for a period of time. No going out for the next (one-two) weekends.
3. Use any incident of drug use by your children as an opportunity to talk about drugs in general. Be sure to include in this talk your fears and your own attitudes towards drugs. If it is possible, make part of the punishment include a book report on alcohol and drugs written for the parent. And both of you can learn together.

If anyone would like to have a pamphlet about various drugs and their effect, call Mimi White at the Charlestown Clubhouse, 242-1775.

Unique Summer Program Held In Charlestown

by Marianne Martin
What kid does not enjoy the laziness of those summer vacations spent playing with friends, swimming, going to the playground, or camp?

For seven weeks this summer, 28 youths from various sections of Boston attended a very special day camp in Charlestown doing everything the summer months ly impaired, legally and/or totally blind, but to label this group as handicapped would be a disservice.

This group of lively, fun, lovable, and entertaining kids are just as regular as any kid at camp. They run, play basketball, do aerobic exercising, go swimming, take day trips, create arts and crafts, but most of all really were intended for; and to the joy of their parents, they even learn a thing or two. This camp, which was held at the Kent Community School, is Camp Joy, Boston's unique program for residents with special needs. In Charlestown, the Camp was attended by children and young teens who are visual-

Under the supervision of Karyn Stanberg, Marilyn James, and Eileen Curran, and a staff with a ratio of one instructor for every two kids, Camp Joy is a very personal and unique place. The staff, like the youth, have an easy manner complete with patience and genuine care for the children. Each one of the youngsters came to the camp with unique needs and, but in return each one gave something to the others.

It was not unusual to see one youth helping the other or sharing toys without hesitation. As one youth named Aaron stated, "We're all best friends. We always will be."

When asked what was the best part about attending Camp Joy, no two gave the same answer. Milissa stated her favorite things included running alone in the gym and reading. Yany enjoyed listening to the Sony Walkman and dancing. Mandell enjoyed operating the controls of a toy car dashboard complete with horn, ignition switch and five speed shift. Aaron stated his favorite things included the water fights, and the trip to the ice cream factory and a ride on the Double Decker bus to Burger King.

Each day at Camp Joy began with breakfast followed by a morning at the gym doing aerobic exercise, playing basketball, and swimming. After lunch, an informal afternoon spent doing either arts and crafts, reading or singing with Miss James, playing with toys, or any number of different activities were enjoyed. The youths planted tomatoe plants, learned how chickens were hatched, even listened to invited guests which included a visit from an officer from the Massachusetts Registry who spoke on bike safety.

Summer is now a pleasant memory as life returns a more routine and predictable pace. However, for one wonderfully fun and special group of children, Camp Joy and her staff will rank among the best of memories.

A Jail in Faneuil Hall?

No, it is not the quiet solution to the prison problem in Boston. However, this jail is being built by the Volunteers of the American Heart Association to imprison local celebrities and politicians for their crimes committed against their heart.

Jailbirds currently receiving warrants for their arrest include: Bobby Orr, Rick Miller, Rich Gedman, Dave Maynard. Representatives John McDonough and Paul White. Bartenders from drinking establishments throughout Quincy Market will join them in the slammer, as well as, local radio and T.V. personalities.

To insure their release, these "Criminals" will be raising their bail money from friends, family, co-workers, and business associates. All funds raised will benefit the American Heart Association's lifesaving programs of cardiovascular research, professional and public education, and community service.

The Jailbail for Heart is scheduled for September 20, 1985 from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Come on by and help these Cardiac Criminals out from behind bars.

For more information, contact Greg Marsh at 523-3391.

Charlestown Police Line

From The Desk Of
Deputy Superintendent Ronald X. Conway
Commanding Officer, Area A
Downtown, Charlestown, East Boston, Beacon Hill

On August 31, 1985 at 7:30 p.m., police officers observed a motor vehicle speeding on O'Reilly Way. A computer check on the vehicle showed that it had been reported stolen from Boston. The officers attempted to stop the vehicle, but the operator refused and sped away. The officers gave chase until the vehicle struck a parked car and came to a stop. The operator, a 17 year old Charlestown male, attempted to flee on foot, but was apprehended after a brief chase. He was placed under arrest for larceny of a motor vehicle, and cited for moving violations.

On September 1, 1985, a police officer responded to Bartlett Street for a report of a breaking and entering. On arrival, the officer was met by a woman who reported that while she was away for a five day period, her apartment was entered by a person(s) unknown. This suspect removed a twelve speed bicycle and assorted jewelry, valued at $1800. The suspect apparently gained entry and exited without being observed.

On September 2, 1985 at 7:40 p.m., police officers responded to Cambridge Street, relative to a fight. On arrival, the officers spoke to a man who reported that while driving southerly on Cambridge Street, he observed a motor vehicle driving northbound in the wrong lane. This vehicle struck the victim's vehicle, damaging the left side. Upon speaking to the operator of the second vehicle, the officers observed him to be glassy-eyed and smelling of alcohol. This suspect, a 29 year old Somerville resident, was placed under arrest for operating while under the influence of alcohol.

On September 2, 1985 at 9:35 p.m., a police officer responded to Monument Square, relative to a vandalism report. On arrival, the officer observed eleven motor vehicles with slashed tires. The officer received information that two unknown males were observed fleeing the area on foot toward Bartlett Street. A search of the area was to no avail. This incident is under investigation by Detectives of Area A.

On September 3, 1985 at 12:00 p.m., a police officer observed a motor vehicle operating in Sullivan Square with an expired inspection sticker. The officer stopped the vehicle and ran a check on the operator. At this time, the officer learned that the operator's license had been suspended and the vehicle was unregistered and uninsured. The operator, a 46 year old Somerville resident, was placed under arrest, and conveyed to Area A.

On September 3, 1985 at 11:00 p.m., a police officer attempted to stop a motor vehicle for speeding on Medford Street. The operator of this vehicle refused to stop and a chase ensued. The vehicle was stopped at High Street and the operator ordered out of the vehicle. When the operator exited the vehicle, the officers observed him to be unsteady on his feet. He was placed under arrest for operating under the influence. He was identified as a 22 year old Charlestown man. A passenger in this vehicle was taken into protective custody and found to have a stolen credit card in his possession. Complaints will be sought for receiving a stolen credit card.

5:30 P.M. Mass To Be Discontinued

St. Mary's Parish announces that the 5:30 p.m. Mass on Saturday will be discontinued as of Saturday, October 5, 1985. Beginning on that date, the only Mass on Saturday will be at 4:00 p.m.

Confessions will be heard between 3:00 and 3:50 p.m. on Saturdays or anytime by calling the Rectory at 242-4664.

Childrens' Films

The Film Program for Children will be held on Tuesday, September 17, 1985 at 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street.

This week's feature include: "One Little Kitten," featuring a day in the life of one very frisky kitten; "Big Kick," the story of a chimpanzee who plays football; and "Z is for Zoo," an alphabet film.

Suggested readings in conjunction with this program are: One Little Kitten by Tanya Hoban, Curious George by H.A. Rey, and Alphabet Art.

He hails from Charlestown, Massachusetts, his name is Tim Riordan, and he's the newest archaeologist on the staff of Historic St. Mary's City, Maryland. Six years at Washington State University prepared Dr. Riordan for another six years with a cultural resource management firm in Indiana which kept him on the road doing, as Tim says, "Everything from small bridge surveys to very large historic excavations on the Tennessee Tombigbee Waterway."

Travels throughout the entire Midwest and Southeast meant frequent separations for Tim and his wife, Diane - a factor they won't have to deal with in their new home in St. Mary's County as Tim now enjoys walking to work and Diane is beginning to revel in the rural life.

As newcomers the Riordans are looking forward to pursuing their hobby of acquiring collectibles which they admit, with a shared smile, are mostly "junk" - but the junk items of today are the artifacts of tomorrow. Both the Riordans are thrilled that Tim is at last able to work at the site of an ongoing research project that allows the luxury of being able to devote the time and study necessary for serious excavations that are also immediately interpreted and enjoyed by the public.

Tim's interest in archaeology began when, as a child, he first learned that archaeologists "dug in tombs to find gold". He is now a member of the archaeological team determined to uncover the "gold" of wonders in the ongoing excavations in Historic St. Mary's City.

Tim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Riordan of 60 Pearl Street, Charlestown.
