

Do you want some fun and fight against zombies to keep them away from your home and keep your brains safe? Well, this won't ever be fine in real life. But in the Plants vs Zombies game, you can have the best time of your life whacking those zombies away. The concept has been changed in the tower defense and zombie strategy game which involves plants during the battle. Waves and waves of zombies are coming and the homeowner uses different foliage to halt the invasion.

First published in 2009, PVZ can only be played on desktops and laptops. Due to some innovations fans of the game can already play with it on their mobile devices. Since then, it has earned positive comments in the world of gaming and received multiple awards. Do you love the idea of taking the challenge and assisting Crazy Dave fight Dr. Zomboss and his horde of zombies? Take a look at the various features that captured the attention of gamers and non-gamers alike.

Conquer 50 Undead Levels

Be prepared to conquer 50 levels when you play the Adventure mode. Feel the excitement when you play the game at different times of the day, such as daytime, nighttime, and during fog. Many waves of zombies wish to get to your home and eat your brains so they will invade your lawn, swimming pool, and even rooftop. You also can play the Survival mode where constant waves of zombies will swarm your place. Would it bore you or excite you even more to play the endless games?

Fight Several Fun-Loving Zombies

Each sort of zombies you will encounter, such as pole-vaulters, snorkelers, and bucketheads, have their own special skills. Want to find out more about every zombie to thoroughly plan your strategy? The Almanac is always there to guide you all the way. It might help a whole lot if you think fast and plant even faster to clear your lawn, pool or rooftop of the brain-eaters in no time.

Collect 49 Powerful Perennials

Beat every level and you will be rewarded with unique plants to add in your army. Also, you can earn coins for extra powers or to purchase yourself a pet snail and a lot of other merchandise in the shop. If you become confused or stuck, remember to consult the Almanac that will help you find special information regarding the plants you have collected.

Earn 46 Awesome Achievements

You can earn 46 awesome achievements while you test your zombie-zapping prowess and conquer each level. Choose the powerful plants on your next battle and revel in your time whacking those zombies. In the event you consistently win with flying colors, you will earn more rewards with the ideal strategy and choices.

Do not forget to use your sunflower throughout your daylight battle or the sun-shroom that you can use at night. Will you consider planting some marigold that will produce coins and you can collect them? Although those brain-eating undead could be bothersome, you will still love a zombie or two. You should never let a single soulless creature go near your crops and eat them. Save your foliage and it will also guard your place against waves of zombies which will just eat your brains.
