U. S. Naval Academy Glee Club To Give Free Concerts

The U.S. Naval Academy Glee Club will salute the nation's veterans during two free local concerts November 12.

The 72-member group will perform first at the USS Constitution in the Boston National Historical Park. Charlestown Navy Yard from noon until 12:30 p.m. in honor of Veterans Day. A gun salute will highlight the program of patriotic music and sea chanteys.

Later that day the midshipmen will perform a full concert inside Faneuil Hall in downtown Boston from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. under der the sponsorship of the East Boston Veterans Council and the Air Force Association of Massachusetts. This free, public concert will feature music designed to appeal to all age levels and a variety of musical tastes, including sea chanteys, folk songs, classics and popular tunes.

Veterans' Day Mass

Bunker Hill Post No. 26, American Legion, will sponsor a Veteran's Day Mass on Sunday, November 11, 1984 at 10:00 a.m. at Saint Francis de Sales Church, 313 Bunker Hill Street. This annual Mass will honor veterans of all wars.

A collation will follow the Mass in the Bishop Lawton Hall.

Glen W. Luce, Jr., chairman of the event, invites all to attend.

75% Voter Turnout In Charlestown

Approximately 75% of the registered voters in Ward Two, Charlestown cast their ballots in the State Election on Tuesday, November 6, 1984. The Republican candidates made a credible showing in this Ward that has approximately a 95% Democratic registration.

In the Presidential/Vice Presidential race, the Mondale/Ferraro ticket captured 55% of the vote, while the Reagan/Bush team received 43%.

John Kerry, in his quest for the United States Senate seat vacated by Senator Paul Tsongas, gleaned 59% of the Charlestown vote, with Ray Shamie taking 38%.

Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill, Jr. was the highest vote-getter in Charlestown, taking 75% of the vote cast. His opponent in this election was Communist candidate Laura Ross, who picked up 488 votes in this community. O'Neill has served as Congressman from this, the Eighth Congressional District, since 1953. If, as has been reported in Boston daily newspapers, O'Neill will not seek election in 1986, this will be a most interesting contest two years hence.

In unopposed races, Governor's Councillor Joseph Langone tallied 66% of the vote; Senator

Francis Doris, 66%; Representative Richard A. Voke, 72%; and Register of Probate James M. Connolly, 68%.

Only 48% of the voters cast a Yes-No ballot on the non-binding referendum question on withdrawal of the troops and military advisors, and military aid to Central America. This low percentage may have been due to the fact that the ballot question was to the far upper right on the voting machines and unless a voter was aware of the question and looking for it on the ballot, it could have been easily missed.

The unofficial vote by precinct for Ward Two, Charlestown may be found on page 4.

Meeting On Selection And Formation Of Neighborhood Council

The third meeting to discuss the formation and selection process for the Neighborhood Council in Charlestown will be held Tuesday, November 13 at 7:00 p.m. at Charlestown High School cafeteria, 240 Medford Street.

Mayor Raymond L. Flynn's Office of Community Participation is working hard to make good on the Mayor's promises to make the councils a reality. During this next meeting to discuss the councils, members of the Mayor's staff will present a draft outlining responsibilities of the neighborhood councils and how members will be selected. All neighborhood residents are encouraged to come to the meetings and let their ideas be heard.

Mayor Flynn said, "We want to hear from those who might normally not attend neighborhood meetings. In order to ensure complete community input in the decisions affecting the neighborhood, a dialogue on the way the council will be established is very important."

The Mayor's Office of Community Participation has sent out over 5,000 questionnaires to neighborhood residents across the city to get their ideas and feedback. Over 75 percent of those who responded voiced support for councils in their neighborhoods. For more information, contact the Office of Community Participation at 725-3485.

Boston Zoning Commission Approves Zoning Amendment

The first step in implementation of Boston's Harborpark plan took place Monday when the Boston Zoning Commission approved a zoning amendment which allows the Boston Redevelopment Authority to establish interim planning districts.

The provision, allowed for the first time in Boston, authorized the city's Board of Appeal (on advice of BRA) to issue interim planning permits while an area is being rezoned. The technique ensures that orderly growth and change can take place in a district while new zoning and land use policies are being formulated.

BRA Director Stephen Coyle said the interim zoning measures were needed so that the city could rezone areas bordering Boston harbor.

Coyle said, "Boston's zoning code was enacted 20 years ago and does not reflect some of the demographic and land use changes which have occurred in the harborfront areas. Existing zoning actually allows for uses which are detrimental to the environment. For instance, noxious industrial uses are currently permitted adjacent to residential communities, such as Port Norfolk in Dorchester and Charlestown."

Coyle said the city's recently released plan for the harbor, calls for an advisory group of Boston residents to work closely with the BRA on drafting new and updating provisions for the city's zoning code.

Coyle stressed that projects already approved will be affected by the zoning change.

The amendment approved by the Zoning Commission includes the following provisions:

- For a specified period of time, not to exceed two years. No building permits will be issued for the interim zoning district without an Interim Planning Permit.

- The BRA must advise the city's Board of Appeal that a proposed use is in accord with the planning goals of the area.

- Specific uses, such as residential, are exempted if that use is already allowed, but certain uses which are damaging to the environment may be forbidden.

"Philadelphia, Here I Come" To Open At Charlestown Working Theater

The holiday season will be enlivened at the Charlestown Working Theater by a production of Brian Friel's highly acclaimed, "Philadelphia Here I Come," directed by Nora Hussey. The play tells the funny yet touching story of Gareth O'Donnell's last night in his native Ireland before immigrating to Philadelphia, the city of his dreams.

Through the use of his devilish and ever-Irish alter ego, we see both the public and private sides of the young man as he bids farewell to his father, the girl he once loved, and all the other folk who make up his life in the small town of Ballybeg.

Critic Walter Kerr writes, "Brian Friel has set all of his cranky, fond, and obstinately shy people to searching for the one word that is everlastingly on the tip of everyone's tongue, and everlastingly not spoken. He has written about an ache, and he has written about it so simply and honestly that the ache, that the ache itself becomes a warming fire."

The production features Dick McGoldrick, Kieran Brennan, Curt Miller, Mary Klug, Peg Flaherty, Sara Chazen, Thomas Vitorioso, Will Holgate, Ralph Charles, Eric Beaty, and Ralph Morse.

This production will be designed by Troy Siegfried (sets), Ted Bohlin (lights), and Ray Rue (graphics).

The show will open November 16 at the Charlestown Working Theater and will run for four weeks through December 9th. Performances are Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p.m. and Sunday afternoons at 2 p.m. with a preview performance on November 15th at 8 p.m. Tickets are $6.00 with a one dollar discount for students and senior citizens.

The theatre is located at 442 Bunker Hill Street near Sullivan Square.

It Was A Circus . . .

The children of St. Francis de Sales School were treated to the Royal Lichtenstein 1/4 Ring Sidewalk Circus of California on Wednesday, October 17th as part of the Jubilee 125 celebrations taking place in that parish. Although this circus was billed as 1/4 the size of the one that just completed its annual engagement at the Boston Garden, it was equal to it in the thrills, excitement and fun for every student in attendance.

As the pupils filed out of school and into the schoolyard, where the Circus was held, one could feel the excitement growing. It was a beautiful Indian Summer day, perfect weather for such an event. The hurdy-gurdy started to bellow out that distinctive music familiar to all circus lovers and the show began. For the next 90 minutes, students from the youngest first grader to the most sophisticated 8th grader were transformed into another world, that of the "Big Top."

The comical antics of the clowns were thoroughly enjoyed by the younger grades, almost as much as the older audience enjoyed the "one-liners" that the ring master, Nick Weber, directed at them. Precise juggling and magic acts awed the children, as did the unicycling and wire-walking performances. But what could a circus be without animals, and this show's domestic and exotic trained animals included dogs, rabbits, monkeys, two doves and a parrot, and a six foot bear. And just when the crowd thought they've seen it all, the curtain opened and out came the "World's Smallest Performing Circus Stallion" named Don Rice!

The grand finale was a collaboration of the entire cast in re-creating one of Houdini's most death defying tricks in which the performer was padlocked into a large container of water. The time ticked by... and by... and by... until everyone was sure he was not able to get out. Just then he jumped from behind the screen to the gasps of the audience.

This was truly a wonderful show with many other acts too numerous to mention, but just as enjoyable to all in attendance.

Mahan Outstanding On Curry Soccer Team

SHEILAH MAHAN

The high-flying Curry College women's soccer team won the Massachusetts State Class C Women's Soccer Tournament on Sunday, October 29 at Babson College in Wellesley, by defeating Smith College, 2-0, their third win in three days.

It was the climax of a remarkable season for the Curry booters, who completely turned the women's soccer program around. Just a year ago, the team was 2-12 and had only scored three goals all season. This year, the team compiled a 13-5-1 record and scored 61 goals. The final game against Endicott College this week was forfeited by Endicott.

The state tournament, sponsored by the Massachusetts Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (MAIAW), opened on Saturday, October 28, with Curry facing Brandeis University and Smith playing Framingham State College. Curry defeated Brandeis in overtime, 3-1, while Framingham was losing to Smith, the tournament's top seed.

After a scoreless first half in the Sunday final, Curry scored 25 minutes into the last period on a goal by freshman Jennie Rothery of Shurb Oak, N.Y., set up a fine pass from freshman Cecilia Bombardier of Abington. Five minutes later, Bombardier assisted on a second goal as she passed to freshman Shelley Pesta of Wallingford, Conn. Freshman goaltender Sheilah Mahan of Charlestown was outstanding with 13 saves, recording her sixth shutout of the season.

Over the season, the Colonels scored 61 goals and held the opposition to 27, thanks in large part to the defense, including the goaltending of Mahan and Diane Johnston, who played in all or part of 11 games in goal. Mahan played seven entire games and registered shutouts in six of them. Curry also outshot the opposition, 505 to 249 and recorded just 155 saves to 309 for their opponents.

YOU DON'T WEAR ON YOUR UNIFORM.

You wear them inside. Things like pride. Being proud of being fit and trim. Looking good in uniform. Things like patriotism. Glad you are able to serve your country. Being secretly proud that you're doing an important job. And doing it well.

They are feelings that go along with the practical things. Such as earning over $570 a month and having food, lodging, medical and dental care all paid for. You get to learn a skill that could have civilian job applications later on. You have an opportunity to meet and work with all kinds of people.

In the Army, pride and practicality go hand-in-hand.

See your Army Recruiter.

Was Glad To Help

I am glad that I had the chance to help the Charlestown Townies Football Team during this past season. They are a great bunch of guys and have two of the greatest coaches in the Park League-John Houlihan and Mike Stillman. They have done a fine job with this team, because some of the guys had never played Park League Football before.

Also, a special thanks to Kevin Gallaher, Tom Codair, Tom Jackson, John Johnson and Shamus Houlihan.

I would also like to take the opportunity to thank the fans and the Celtic Tavern for helping out the team.

I hope to see everyone at this week's game.

Program Portrayed The Real Charlestown

Dear Editor:

I was moved to write this letter after viewing Robin Young's special last Saturday night. I thought the program was very positive and upbeat and portrayed the people of Charlestown as they truly are - warm and friendly.

As a friend of Father Tom Conway, I have visited his parish (St. Catherine's) many times for special occasions and fundraising events. I have always been so warmly welcomed and I already have made some good friends among his people - I could not even begin to mention those "Townies" who have opened their church, their parish, and their homes to me.

So, I thank Father Tom, his staff, and his parishioners who have been so good to me and you are the people of courage that Robin Young described. I thank you all for your gifts of love and friendship.

Peace,
Rita A. Jensen

Facts about Drugs - F.A.D.

"I've used a lot of drugs, but I finally settled on marijuana. It is strong these days and the most easily available." This was a statement of a former drug user. He has been clean for fourteen months, one day at a time. The fact is that marijuana is so common, it is not even considered dangerous. But that is a fact that can cause an unsuspecting person to try it, use it, and not even consider himself dependent until he is a daily user.

Research is underway that is asking whether marijuana may change the body's chromosomes. It may increase the risks of disease and have serious long term effects on the respiratory system. It may even be related to cancer. We do know that steady users become slower moving, slower thinking and less able to concentrate on tasks. This condition is called burnout.

Is it okay to smoke pot if you are pregnant? Definitely not. Scientists believe that marijuana, which crosses the placental barrier in the pregnant mother's womb may have a toxic effect on embryos and fetuses. This may result in a smaller baby and even more serious consequences. No street drugs are safe to take during pregnancy.

Behavior changes cause trouble within families and with friends. Dishonesty and lying to parents, teachers create guilt and distrust for the parents. Marijuana using adolescents drop out of family activities and the fighting and arguing effects everyone. Many other subtle effects are blamed on other than drug use.

Any questions, call Mimi White at the Boys and Girls Club, 242-1775.

Sullivan Square Community Garden Receives Awards

Gardens for Charlestown (GFC) is pleased to announce that the Sullivan Square Community Garden (SSG) has recently received two awards: An honorable mention from the first American Community Garden Association (ACGA)-GLAD National Community Gardening Contest, and a Certificate of Merit from the Massachusetts Horticultural Society's statewide Community Gardening Contest.

SSG, one of the 438 Community Gardens entered in the ACGA-GLAD Contest, was awarded a prize in the regional large garden category. The notice from Steven D. Brachman, ACGA President and Contest Coordinator notes that "...your garden truly exemplified what community gardening is all about. Your group has shown not only tremendous resourcefulness in building a successful community garden but has also mobilized a great deal of community support for your activities. As a result, your efforts have produced a first class garden which has substantially improved the community and helps people meet their food needs."

For the third consecutive year, SSG has been honored by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society. SSG was chosen as the Best Community Garden in 1980, and has received a Certificate of Merit in 1982, 1983 and 1984. The Certificate will be awarded at Horticultural Hall in early 1985.

We, of GFC, are happy that our efforts have been recognized, and wish to thank the community for its support, and, of course, Jim Hall, our Garden Coordinator, and Dan Fields, his right-hand, for their tireless work in making SSG the prettiest place in Charlestown.

PUTTING THE GARDEN TO BED: Eric Anderson, Dan Fields and Roger Chesborough dig up the dividers and rototill the Sullivan Square Garden as one season ends and plans for the next begin.
