Impact Stories

“The YLC was systematically organized... it was run by individuals who excel in their respective fields. The biggest lesson I learned here is to team with other people of different backgrounds and skill sets. I had always favoured working solo. Accepting failure – and learning from it –was another major lesson.”

YLC2012: Toon Xiau Wei, TAR College

“Overall I had loads of fun during YLC2014. As I didn’t know what to expect, I was wonderfully surprised by the various entertaining activities. Almost all the activities were new to me. Other than that, the one thing that sets this event apart from others were the valuable lessons and evaluations shared after each activity. These little talks gave me valuable insights and helped me see leadership and teamwork from a different perspective (things that cannot be learnt from text books).”

Impact Stories

"It was a meaningful event. To me, it was also one of the most useful activities that I had participated. I was surprise with all the games prepared in this YLC2015. All the games have their meanings behind and it was not just about winning. The main thing that I have learned in this event was teamwork. We worked as a team in every game. We managed to know each other more after playing together. We enjoyed all the games, although we did not manage to win every game. YLC is special in teaching students in an interesting way. The knowledge and the spirit had passed down from one to another through the games.

YLC2015:Goh Ming Jie, KDU College Penang

"We really enjoyed the games in YLC 2017. Before joining, I was worried if it will be boring but it turned out very fun. After I came here, I learn that the foundation is important and that character determines success. So let's join YLC 2018!"
