Nov. 24, 2014 - DAYTON, Ohio -- Black Friday occurs the day after Thanksgiving in the U.S., noted as the first day of traditional Christmas shopping, during which crowds of consumers are drawn to special offers by retailers. In recent years, most major retailers have offered promotional sales to kick off the holiday shopping season and most recently many professional service providers have followed suit.

Not just entirely in the brick and mortar sector at retail outlets, consumers have also turned to internet specials and more customized luxury items tailored to more specific personal needs. Black Friday is not observed as a traditional holiday however many consumers have taken the day off in effort to take advantage of this once-a-year opportunity.

According to the The International Society of Aesthetic Plastic Surgeons (ISAPS) liposuction is the most popular cosmetic surgical procedure in the world. Dr. Raymond Wolf, a cosmetic surgeon practicing cosmetic surgery in Dayton, Ohio since 1989 has recently created a unique program in consideration of its growing demand.

Dr. Wolf's Rejuvenation Center offers the Name Your Price Liposuction option that allows those seeking cosmetic surgery to bid on empty time slots in patient scheduling. A successful bid results in the winner to be scheduled for surgery at a relative discount from the current market rate as the patient will agree to have surgery on short notice.

Dr. Wolf outlines the details of the program in a video recently posted on his YouTube channel.

Dr. Wolf opened with the statement, "Hello, I'm Dr. Wolf. Put 15 years of Liposculpture to work for you today. The Name Your Price Lipo concept is very simple. If we have an unsold surgery slot, it's better to fill it with a discounted surgery than to have no surgery at all."

He went on to say, "What do you get, you get the same liposuction experience and results that we've provided for years. What you give up is the choice of day and time of your surgery. We include all the garments and supplies, pre-admission testing to make your surgery a success. If this is a concept that meets your needs, call 877-839-3223 and let us rejuvenate you."

A spokesman from the company gave easy instructions for those who wish to take advantage of this exciting offering by stating, "To participate in the Name Your Price Liposuction option simply call 877-839-3223 to place a bid for an open slot in the surgical schedule. Bids will only apply to classic tumescent liposuction. Services will include the procedure, garments, supplies, physical exam-presurgical testing."
