The black vulture is a bird in the New World vulture family ... It is normally connected with either death or as a bird of prey. The vulture's glyph is often shown attacking humans.

This species lacks the religious connections that the king vulture has. https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Black\_vulture

WHY BLACK VULTURE:

BECAUSE IT IS A HORRIBLE AND GHASTLY BIRD IN CONTRAST TO THE PRETTY YELLOWHAMMER WHICH GAVE ITS NAME TO QUESTIONS WHICH GAVE SUCH A GRIM VIEW OF NO DEAL BREXIT

BLACK VULTURE QUESTIONS:-

These questions can be put by both supporters of E.U. Remain and Brexit leavers. Of course, they may not get the same answers and where ever they are able, both groups should compare both responses.

This note seeks only to present the questions and does not offer answers on the grounds these are usually quite clear, or already known.

Questions to be asked

- 1. Will leaving the E.U. mean that the UK will have fully recovered its sovereignty?

No, not entirely, although it will have repaired the damage caused by the Lisbon Treaty, there are numerous other breaches which remain.

2. Will leaving the E.U. mean that the British Parliament is restored to its full omnipotents as required constitutionally by the Bill of Rights of 1689?

3. With the May plan, if revived, would that present a result very little different to that from remain?

No because it would not restore to us the right of veto which we lost with the signing of the Lisbon Treaty on 13 December 2007.

We would remain wholly subject to the laws and rules decreed and ordered from Brussels, we would have caused Her Majesty to be in put in breach of her Coronation Oath not to in any way reduce the omnipotents of Parliament and we would be subject to levels of taxation imposed by Brussels sufficient to cure all the ills of the rest of Europe and our sovereignty would have been irreparably damaged.

4. Will the UK still have its monarchy and an orderly succession as we know it for future generations?

5. Will our Courts and Justice systems continue to work in accordance with the same principals and practice as we expect from our Supreme Court?

Note: following the recognized King James Bible as the highest authority?

6. What is the European Defence Union and how will this affect the UK, EU all member countries and the rest of the world?

7. Will the UK still maintain its Army, Navy and Air Force to provide its own security and defence?

8. Will the UK still have the Pound Sterling as its main currency or will we have to adopt the Euro?

9. What is meant by Fiscal Unification of the E.U.? And will it happen?

10. If so, does this mean the E.U. will annually set the tax rates for all Member countries at the level needed to cover the cost of rescuing all E.U. countries which are in financial crisis and need bailing out such as Italy, Greece, Poland etc.

11. If so, will this mean a huge rise in the tax having to be paid by every UK citizen?
12. Is it true that the E.U. is planning to set up its own integrated intelligence and security operations?
13. If so, how will the renowned U.K. agencies such as MI5, MI6 and GCHQ work in conjunction with these or would they become fully absorbed in the E.U. overall operation?
14. If so, what access would we have to the product of such an operation?
15. And how would such an integrated E.U. intelligence operation fit with the critical British participation with the brilliantly successful 'Five Eyes' global security monitoring activity embracing U.S.A., Canada, Australia and New Zealand? Would the U.S.A. trust in essential output to be accessed by European countries?
16. Madam van der Leyen has indicated that the E.U. wishes to be a significant nuclear weapon power.
17. Does this mean the E.U. would wish to assume control of the UK's Trident fleet?
18. If so: Who would pay for the planned replacement of Trident?
Would the U.S.A. ever be willing to allow the E.U. access to thermonuclear technology used by ourselves under license?
19. Will the UK maintain a fair and equal placement of the key and very valuable economically, production orders for all military equipment such as ship building, tanks and aircraft etc? Would the UK be able to rely upon a fair share of this huge and valuable market?

20. Is there any truth that Madam van der Leyen has recently stated that the E.U. might recognise a future need to introduce conscription across its territory in order to maintain military strength?
21. What enemies does the E.U. identify as a cause to justify its military concerns?
22. Is it true that the E.U. intends one single overall commission centre to conduct all foreign relations with external countries to the exclusion of any established relations such as the UK might have?
23. Could this mean that the UK could be forced into sharing E.U. hostile or alien relations with countries the UK might regard as friends or even allies?
24. Is it true that the future European Defence Union will insist upon a central Command and Control structure for the strategy and deployment of all fighting forces regardless of country of origin, and that originating countries will be completely excluded from any authority in such Command and Control?
25. Is it true that the UK has already agreed to all or any of the E.U.'s demands for full cooperation in the European Defence Union?
26. If so, to whom will British forces swear their loyalty as they currently do to H.M. The Queen?
27. Given that the 1969 United Nations Vienna Convention on the Laws of Treaty Making specifically prohibits trading contracts between nations, which can result in enforced national boundary lines, why has the U.K. not formally petitioned the UN to rule to overturn the E.U.'s backstop which specifically does this?

28. Is there still time, for this petition given that it must be submitted before any formal acceptance which would seem to be the case up to 31 October 2019?
29. Did any separate U.K. Government officers undertake parallel discussion with E.U. personnel as to key points which would have application after any principle deal negotiated by Mrs May had taken effect? May we have full disclosure of these secondary but probably important discussions which took place and which are rumoured to be covered by separate signed protocols?
Will these now be fully accounted for? It is believed all such discussions relate to Cabinet Office Executives.

The yellowhammer bird, although the population appears to be in a decline, the decrease is not rapid enough to trigger their vulnerability criteria. The yellowhammer is a red-list (severely declining) species in Ireland and the UK.

NB All the points or questions set out in this Black Vulture Report are derived entirely from ordinary press and other media comments over the last year. Most of these derive from the broadsheet press although its Author has been able to augment this by reference to various media and similar video clips on the internet. The latter have been particularly helpful in monitoring the very frequent and usually unambiguous comments of Madam van der Leyen, particularly those relating to the E.U.

Defence Conference held in Munich which the former UK P.M. Mr T Blair was present on stage. This paper does not contain any statement or information obtained from official or confidential Government or Armed Service sources.

And a final question from Black Vulture himself:

Will there be enough meat left on the rotting carcass of Britain, still an E.U.

Remainer, a once proud sovereign nation, or will I be faced with the sight of a resurgent sovereignty breaking free to fly away to a new freedom and a fully sovereign existence.
