

The Nature of Energy: The Book that will Never Decay

Patrick Boardman, Quantum Theory, Theosophy

Preface

There has been much conjecture put forward about the mechanisms of our very existence. This book reveals new information on the Big Bang of creation, Infinity, and the existence of Energy. I present quotations and proofs that many average people in society will reject due to their traditional belief systems. Modern society has been conditioned to be aggressively hostile towards any idea that goes against a person's current beliefs: the interpretation of doctrine is vastly different in each person. Humans cannot bring themselves to admit they are ever wrong about anything. The history of mankind has been one of continuous conflict between opposing religions, ethnic groups, and economic classes. Many people defend atheism as if there were a reward in promoting disbelief. Atheists cannot account for the existence of Energy or define the concept of Infinity.

1. Introduction

The project to verify Einstein's formula and to carry on his work was assigned to me in 1956, several years after Albert Einstein's death. A scholarly teacher who happened to be a ninety-three-year-old nun who was considered a genius in those years after the Second World War. Sister Eustice took me aside one day after class and she told me I was chosen as the prodigy math student who would be best one to carry on Einstein's work. The wise nun then told me another secret that I will reveal in this book. She said it would take about sixty years for me to finish the project, so I was assigned to read all his books, for I would need the information later in life. The first step in such a project is to look for the verification of his equation. Einstein did not provide a standard verification, which struck me as highly unusual. I sat down to perform the verification, which is a routine procedure with any equation. The verification would reveal the starting point, to show where the idea came from. I was shocked when I could not write a verification. I wrote to physicists around the world, and no one else could get it either. It soon became clear that the famous atomic formula defied mathematical verification to prove its correctness, yet it worked to lead the way to atomic power. Einstein published the formula in 1905 in the inverse form, since the formula describes matter as concentrated energy moving at the velocity of negative the speed of light times the speed of light. It took 57 years for me to discover how the formula came to be. This research summary also confirms the theory of the late German physicist Max Planck and will explain in simple terms the workings of existence. Many issues in the world of science affect the general population and the behavior of the everyday person. The biggest questions concern the very existence of a conscious Creator. Most people are atheists, and there are thousands of religions all fighting each other for prominence. Logic tells us that they cannot all be correct. Wars throughout history have involved religious hatred, despite church teachings which stress that killing and hatred are mortal sins. It is unlikely that a person can embrace hatred and war to achieve Paradise. Wars must have at least one aggressor. In some cases, both sides of a war are aggressors. Conquest is usually the goal, not righteous self-defense. Soldiers do not enjoy the thought of going to war, but they are obliged to perform when called upon by the powers that be; officers receive orders from those who are in the government. Ideally the ruling governmental bodies would act in the best interests of the citizens. The resulting destruction creates a need for warring nations to plunder the resources of any country that happens to be in the way, so wars quickly degenerate into land-grabbing operations.

The fear of God is the hatred of evil, yet evil abounds. Whoever does not obey God's Commandment not to kill people do not hold tangible moral and spiritual beliefs. The rules of common decency to others have been thrown out the window along with true belief and obedience. Issues so critical are matters of life and death; the existence of God cannot be treated as a matter of opinion between believer and non-believer. God's presence might be unwanted to many who cannot be bothered with religion, but a few thoughtful people might take the time to examine all available knowledge for their own personal security. Most people refuse to change; they would rather argue and live in denial.

There are schools and public speakers who still teach Darwinism and they proclaim that everything exists by sheer chance, slipped into existence from nothing and climbed an evolutionary ladder from a single cell. There is no case of one species turning into another species, however. Evolution from apes was discredited long ago when the DNA code was discovered, indicating we were made from templates that are enormously complex and programmed codes. Humans did not descend from lower forms of primates. The ape species is still around today. The primates are not changing into anything.

Mass media tells the public information based on assumptions that are false or stories that fit in with a certain agenda, with little regard for truth. People tend to hear what they want to hear; it's more soothing to believe happy stories, so people tend to lock down their minds on a fixed view of reality. One common human characteristic is that people hate being told they are wrong.

People will continue to cling to their set ideas, even though the Bible says, "It takes the open-minded innocence of a child to enter the Kingdom of Heaven." Very few people have open minds.

The thesis I present is the complete long-awaited Unified Field Theory, melding scientific principles and basic philosophical and spiritual wisdom so that there is cohesion not conflict. The year 2013 led to some startling discoveries about the sub-atomic world and the notion of "quantum entanglement" where distance is not a factor in connected particles or units of consciousness; connected existence is a routine mechanism of fate that forms our ultimate destiny. Einstein disliked quantum theory because that's where the strange phenomena occur that keep scientists awake at night. There is the fact that scientific experiments yield different results depending on the observer: the famous double-slit experiment reveals that light behaves like a particle when being observed, but like a wave when not being observed. The act of observing collapses the wave function and the photons become particles. This leaves a severe wrinkle in what we consider to be reality; this quandary was a puzzle that needed to be addressed. The ability to describe reality in the form of waves is at the heart of quantum mechanics and particles are now understood as probability distributions in a digital simulation with room for uncertainty. There is wave-particle duality not only in light but in matter. A wave function represents the probability of finding a given particle at a given point.

It would also be nice to know not only how there is light, but also why there is life with all its sophisticated and subtle refinements, like the power of intention and free will to be good or bad, generous or greedy, having love for life or being ungrateful for the wonderful gift we have been given. We as human beings like to congratulate ourselves as being a civilized people, but to an outside observer from a more advanced species we would seem backward – hostile, warlike, and tribal with a culture of confrontation as we soil our own nest, the only planet we have where we can live. After observing what we are doing to each other on Earth, more cultured intelligent life exploring the cosmos might not be bothered landing and asking to be taken to our leader.

It is important to know how and why life came into being. Human existence is facing several dangers, imminent threats that can be avoided in terms of spiritual existence in the Afterlife. The soul will be conscious forever in either a state of punishment or reward depending on how a person obeys the Laws of God. Many celebrity Astrophysicists offer books and talks, teaching that life is a cruel accident without meaning. This line of thinking insists that we are a temporary blip that will occur once then die into oblivion. They teach that there is no God, no human soul, no Afterlife, and no such thing as fate. Such proclamations contradict Isaac Newton's words; the popular science speaker present ideas that are based on personal conjecture. They offer no explanation of where Energy came from. This book explains how Einstein came to know that his formula was correct, and I verify as correct the statements in Max Planck's Hypothesis on the Nature of Matter. "The Nature of Energy" provides empirical and mathematical proof that there is One Infinite Eternal God who created all things. The Universe is a finite system, not infinite.

New breakthroughs and truths go through three stages: at first the information is ridiculed, then there is violent opposition. In the third stage the undeniable truth is accepted as being self-evident and other people will try to take credit for the idea. Some will claim they thought of it first.

My testimony will sound unbelievable, but truth is stranger than fiction. In my late teen years, I followed the advice of my father and grandfather to enlist for five years in the Canadian army voluntarily. At that time there was talk of Canada joining in the Vietnam War and bringing back conscription. Conscripted troops are usually used as cannon fodder in times of war, so it is far better to volunteer for duty. My English grandfather survived the First World War, four years of trench warfare in France. He would never talk about the war or go to the Legion Hall to drink and celebrate with other veterans, which was the popular social activity for Canadian veterans of the Second World War. My father was wounded by shrapnel during the Invasion of Sicily, then evacuated to Malta for medical care. I enjoyed the army life and was trained as an infantryman, then sent to Germany in 1969 for a peacekeeping post at a NATO base. The Cold War in West Germany consisted of routine maneuvers and scouting patrols, with plenty of time off to spend weekends in Amsterdam or Copenhagen, far away from the unpleasant situation that faced draftees who were sent to the jungles of Vietnam.

I took Judo training while in the army, then tried other martial arts back in civilian life. I learned the Korean arts of Hapkido and Tae Kwon Do, then settled on Wu Style Tai Chi to prevent aging. Tai Chi takes many years of patience and good teachers to achieve the benefits - longevity and understanding of the inner self. I discovered that wisdom comes slowly. In addition to physical training, a master of martial arts must study ethics and philosophy. There are ancient writings to consider; there are books of Scripture that are filled with clues. Many humans are self-destructive; they show little regard for basic health issues. Many people lapse into obesity or they become addicted to substances that they know will destroy them. The starting point for your personal journey through life must be home base - your own body and mind. Purification of the body will improve the state of the mind. It is possible that a lot of misery comes from lack of hope and fear of death. Those who are famous, and those who have financial wealth are often depressed rather than happy, yet our society puts the emphasis on money as the measure of success.

My breakthrough came during a time when I felt compelled to fast for no apparent reason. I was staying in an apartment within a science co-op building where I spent one month alone with a laptop and mattress on the floor; there was no furniture or telephone, and I began to meditate in two basic positions - on my back or in a half-lotus. I took no food or water, no sleep or medication.

This took place in March of 2013, then a science consortium known as The Group of 40 were operating an expensive robot camera to explore small passages inside a pyramid. I was not told which one; it may or may not have been the Great Pyramid. My soul was snatched away, summoned by the group to act as the guiding eyes for the robot camera. I could see the turns in the narrow passages to guide the machine correctly, remotely viewing the exploration. Somehow, I knew where I was going. The camera emerged from the small tunnels into a chamber. On one of the orange-colored walls there was written a long formula. This was the long-lost technology of the power source used to build the pyramids - the power of antigravity. The camera recorded the formula for future reference. Authorities were not interested in working on an antigravity age. The nations want to use up all the oil first.

Ancient civilizations constructed gigantic structures in many parts of the world. There is evidence of technology in the past that we cannot duplicate today. Information is presented to the public through the mass media, who follow the agenda of the owners of those media channels and publications. The world sees men walking in slow motion against a black sky, and the government tells us they were on the moon. The moon journeys took place using one tank of fuel, no computers, no stars in the sky in a setting that should be full of stars. The television and newspapers claim that two aluminum airliners caused three skyscrapers to collapse at free-fall speed into dust, which was quickly hauled away to get started on the new buildings that now occupy that real estate.

The best defense against propaganda is learning the truth. The events that the governments claim to be reality are really a series of calculated lies that haven't been completely exposed yet. People would rather believe things that they like to hear than to face an inconvenient truth. I will prove God's existence using science, and these proofs are irrefutable. Many people will turn away from the truth and declare themselves free from judgment because they refuse to believe in a Creator. A responsible person will search avidly for all hints to existence

This book is unique in that the reader does not need to understand any complex mathematics. My research presents proven facts and answers. Scientists have been giving matter too much credit by trying to replicate the creation of existence or to define all phenomena in physical terms. Consciousness brings matter into existence, not the other way around.

2 - Defining Energy, Infinity, and The Creator

[$m=E\div c^2$ where $E=\infty=$ God]

(Note: Outside variables such as the Dirac Antimatter equation would consider this equivalency first in the order of operations. Matter is finite with infinite potential to balance out to zero in the particle-antiparticle annihilation process.)

Energy equals infinity equals God, the matrix of all matter and the Creator of all units of consciousness. The soul is defined as the vehicle of each consciousness. All souls are designed to last forever - made in the image of God, with a measure of free will. Some souls that God has created are expressed in physical form, experiencing existence in the material plane while others exist unseen in ethereal function without material bodies. All would be able to sense existence of some kind in the appropriate way for their condition and function. Logic suggests that all things must have a reason to be there, or else they would not exist. Einstein's formula defines matter as highly concentrated energy moving at negative the speed of light squared. Matter had a beginning, but energy did not. Energy can neither be created or destroyed, it can only change form and be concentrated. Codes and programs need a programmer who is keenly aware and creative in putting those codes into action. Therefore, Energy equals Infinity $E=\infty=$ God, the Supreme Being who always was and always will be.

The Creator knows our thoughts, so people tend to go into denial – some consider the very idea of an overseer, a powerful God knowing your thoughts as an invasion of privacy. We could not walk or talk or move our limbs without God's participation, however. The Creator gave us the gift of life, yet people will take it for granted as we happily or unhappily take part in existence and observing ourselves within the world we have been given.

Energy is everywhere, as God is omnipresent. Energy cannot be created or destroyed; it can only change from one form to another according to the First Law of Thermodynamics. Einstein's equation tells us that matter is a highly concentrated form of energy; all matter will transform back to energy in a state of inertia. Conscious energy always was and always will be, an undeniable fact. It is also not the purpose of this paper to prove that all souls get born again after the previous death: reincarnation was proven many years ago, with empirical evidence. In the 1997 thesis, a two-volume book "Reincarnation and Biology", scientist Dr. Ian Stevenson published the compiled results of past-life memories from many subjects, which matched up with birthmarks or wounds related to each person's previous lifetime. Evangelicals and other religious people get physically angry when the topic of reincarnation comes up. People hate any challenge to their set beliefs. Many Fundamentalist Christians deny science altogether as voodoo or the work of Satan. The Vatican ordered a halt to the teaching of reincarnation because they want the population to give money and obedience in this lifetime, not in a future reincarnation.

Retail churches have attracted many hustlers who are in the religion business because they can solicit donations to provide tax-free income without the cost of buying raw materials or producing a tangible product. Televangelist preachers attract millions of dollars using mass media and demanding money from the viewers. The snake oil salesmen getting wealthy from religion were bound to appear; there are dozens of preachers who live in million-dollar mansions and own private jets. Before discussing the corruption of Scripture by the greedy traditions of man, we must first understand the nature of matter.

Max Planck revolutionized our understanding of atomic and subatomic processes; he said this about matter and the existence of God as the source of everything:

“As a man who has devoted his whole life to the clearest headed science, to the study of matter, I can tell you as a result of my research about atoms this much: There is no matter as such. All matter originates and exists only by virtue of a force which brings the particle of an atom to vibration and holds this most minute solar system of the atom together. We must assume behind this force the existence of a conscious and intelligent mind. This mind is the matrix of all matter.” (Max Planck, The Nature of Matter speech Florence, Italy 1944)

Many physicists today agree that matter is secondary to consciousness. The tiny solar system-like structures that make up atoms are mostly empty space: they come together only by way of a force that turns them into particles and holds them together. Since consciousness precedes matter, a consciousness cannot be created by matter nor can matter make codes such as DNA; logic tells us that a vast programming intelligent consciousness created life. This supreme mind, this eternally aware and all-powerful entity that made our existence possible and who maintains life, is the source of all matter in the Universe. We are life forms that can perform reasoning as self-aware independent units of consciousness with free will and the ability to experience emotions like love and happiness. We need to understand how we got here, why we are here, and where we are going. An open mind is essential to consider God a part of Science for almost everyone believes something different within the numerous religious groups of the world. It is now time for science and religion to merge agreeably once and for all so this information is written in regular language for all people to read and understand - both scientists and laymen alike, because the nature of life concerns every person. It makes no difference what you believe to the contrary; you cannot rationalize to shape existence into how you think it should be, that won't change the way things are.

There is no state of oblivion, no final death: everyone has been given an eternal soul that will live forever in a state of either reward or punishment - Heaven or Hell. Mankind is conditioned by the mass media to be violent, intolerant, confrontational, egotistical, greedy, and materialistic consumers by way of the good old television set. Joseph Goebbels was a pioneer in producing television shows; he was a master propagandist. The first widespread use of television was in Nazi Germany. There were only enough TV sets to supply the inner party members, and the entertainment was designed to brainwash the public. Hitler's armies were stylishly dressed, and much of the Third Reich marketing consisted of showing off the pomp and circumstance of a very well financed political movement. Feelings of national pride, revenge on old enemies and creation of new enemies, the spirit of confrontation, hostility, and justified violence can be programmed into the public consciousness effectively through movies and television.

The atheist movement is invalid. Our Creator's existence is a scientific fact. The pure intelligence who exists everywhere as energy always was and always will be. He cannot be canceled out by not believing in Him, just as God's Laws are not voided by ignoring them. Declaring that there is no God is like saying a computer can operate without a hard drive, power source, or a programmer: we must apply Quantum Theory to Philosophy, Politics, Ethics, and religious doctrines.

The scientific method requires adopting the inverse hypothesis and this approach is used by most scientists when trying to explain how life got started so everyone starts by attempting to disprove the existence of God and find another explanation for the beginning of the Universe. For fifty years I never spoke of religion or read Scripture deeply but I always lived by the Ten Commandments; I had a loose open-minded Zen philosophy where life is seen as suffering, full of challenges to overcome; I would assume the Creator was guiding things and evaluating each soul's performance. My instincts told me to avoid set beliefs and reject materialism as I gradually defeated my ego, fear, and false pride – the major stumbling blocks to achieving enlightenment. I always had the feeling that God was watching over me and saving my life when I was in trouble, but my experiences could not be presented as evidence to other people. Anyone can make up stories to tell, but without first-hand observation I could not define

God or add any insight that would enable me to include an eternal Creator in the equation of life.

Empirical evidence proves a claim to those who are skeptical. The person who is telling the truth should be able to welcome skeptics and win the debate.

It became apparent to me early in life that there is something intrinsically wrong with the major religions of the world. They justify acts of war in the name of God, breaking the Commandment against murdering. I learned that the churches were full of hypocrites preaching selected dogma, performing pagan rituals and inventing false prophecies. Religious leaders and preachers live in luxury while others face austerity and desperation. Churches usually operate schools instead of helping the poor.

An open mind is essential to consider God a part of Science for almost everyone believes something different within the numerous religious groups of the world. It is now time for science and religion to merge agreeably once and for all so this information is written in regular language for all people to read and understand - both scientists and laymen alike, because the nature of life concerns every single person. It makes no difference what you believe to the contrary; you cannot perform rationalizations to shape existence into how you think it should be, that won't change the way things are. There is no state of oblivion, no final death: everyone has been given an eternal soul that will live forever in a state of reward or punishment. I can now present overwhelming evidence that our Creator is a scientific fact: The pure intelligence who exists everywhere as energy always was and always will be. He cannot be canceled out by not believing in Him, just as God's Laws are not voided by ignoring them. Declaring that there is no God is like saying a computer can operate without a hard drive, power source, or a programmer: we must apply Quantum Theory to Philosophy, Politics, Ethics, and religious doctrines. This summary will describe The Big Bang and explain the workings of existence, complete with recent quotes from The Creator, who we may call God, Allah, Yahweh, or Jehovah who dictated the many volumes of Scripture to various incarnations of the Lord's chosen servant, created as light, the major flux point between the two planes of existence – the ethereal plane and the material world...energy and matter. The Light of Life, the messiah is comparable to a step-down transformer from high voltage lines to a lower frequency that can be read by living souls in order to perceive matter efficiently.

One mystery that frustrates students of Physics is how Einstein's formula occurred to him. How are those of us planning on going into physics going to come up with new theories better than that? Einstein never told anyone how he came to that conclusion, but I found out in 2013 that he had some help – it was suggested by way of God speaking to him. Albert Einstein was used as a Messenger to begin the process that would later end World War II and start the Nuclear Age. The war between the Allies and Japan would have gone on for many more years, so God tilted the balance of power against the Japanese, who worshiped their Emperor as a god: they invoked the anger of the real God.

The new home for Einstein was America and he sent a letter to President Roosevelt in 1939 to warn him about work on chain reactions conceived by physicists Leo Szilard and Enrico Fermi that could produce bombs from Uranium. Szilard was the man who wrote the letter for Einstein's signature...the facts were studied, and this letter began the Manhattan Project. Although Einstein is commonly regarded as father of the Atom Bomb, German physicists Otto Hahn and Fritz Strassmann were the first to prove nuclear fission was possible. Now that the principles of the subatomic world have been opened, we find that Matter itself is ultimately a manifestation of consciousness and reality is subjective. We use thoughts and intentions to help construct parts of moment-to-moment reality. "Subtle Energy" is one medium through which God exists - and has always existed - with limitless power and memory as an omnipresent controller who is the Absolute Imperative factor in the space-time continuum.

Numerous physicists have written and lectured on their models of the workings of the Universe then told their colleagues and students that their theories are complete, stating that there are fundamental problems that remain unsolved because “there are things we can never know” so they use assumptions to fill in that which they can’t explain. It is unfashionable to suggest that a Supreme Being has made life possible. Everyday survival prevents us from dwelling on spiritual issues or contemplating what lies beyond this life. We are easily distracted from the Big Picture by everyday trivial issues.

Some questions have modern astrophysicists stumped, such as how the Big Bang occurred and why was the entropy factor low at the beginning of the Universe. Entropy has many meanings: it is the sense of amount of chaos-randomness; it is also the tendency of energy and matter to trend towards a state of inert uniformity. The wording assumes all energy, but it doesn’t apply to dark energy. The expanding of galaxies is known to be helped along by the pushing of dark energy, yet the universe is cooling off and accelerating at the same time. The acceleration should be causing it to get hotter.

The seven-day week is something we take for granted. The Bible states that the Creation was a seven-day operation – God created existence in six days, and He rested on the seventh day. There is no reason for God to tell us how long it took for the Creation, so the weekly cycle is a coded instruction to guide the people in measuring time correctly over each year. Another reason is to instruct people to spend one day of each week honoring God and resting from work. God did not want people to be slaves. We are better people when we make ourselves useful to God; it is healthy to keep busy, and healthier still to keep thanking the Creator for the astounding gift of life. The Big Bang has been observed and measured by physicists. In the next chapter I have described the Creation in detail. The Big Bang is compatible with the Bible, so pundits need not argue about science versus religion any longer.

3. The Big Bang of Existence

This chapter will solve the wave-particle duality conundrum: waves can only exist in fields where there is a force acting on them to restore disturbances back to equilibrium. In Chinese martial arts and medicine, that force is called "Chi". The energy of Chi is God's spirit in motion, not another god person, or "holy ghost", as many religions believe. The Bible has been corrupted to imply there are three gods, which is mortal sin against the First Commandment to have One God. There is no room for compromise in the matter of a triune panel of god persons. The trinity simply does not exist. Trinitarianism is a deception.

Light behaves like a wave when no other consciousness is observing it, but the act of observation collapses the wave into a particle. Proof of this phenomenon is the double-slit experiment, where light behaves like a particle when observed, then light behaves like a wave when not observed. All forms and functions have a soul and consciousness. Things like planets have advanced consciousness of a nature we cannot understand. It is a new and radical idea that solid objects are living beings and the Earth itself has feelings and a personality. When humans set off atomic blasts, they are torturing the Earth, causing the planet distressful vibrations.

Matter is also a wave that collapses into particle form once observed. Because all molecules have consciousness, they collapse the waves around them so that objects are solid and affected by erosion. If you turn away from the Sphinx, it is still solid and eroding; to you it is a wave you could put your hand through until you observe it. Matter is simply not there without some unit or units of consciousness to observe it.

The Supreme Being is the omnipresent energy who always was and always will be. In His purity and benevolence, the almighty One had existed alone for eons in contentment. Being creative, God wanted to share the joy of existence and have another soul around so there could be interaction and conversation. Being omnipresent He felt no sense of borders for He was already in existence everywhere. He is all-powerful so He could not create an equal entity; the first soul created would have to be a lesser being, one able to travel, arrive at set points to experience suffering and adventure. God said `Let there be light ` then there was light, and God saw that the light was good. He called the light Yeshua (Jesus Christ): the messiah would do His work and carry the Word. God never takes physical form, but the light could be both a wave and particle to walk the material plane for Him. Angelic souls were brought into existence, but they lacked depth of character from never experiencing suffering. A third of the angels split away with Lucifer the proud Archangel who rebelled against God, the angels loyal to God were given set tasks and functions. Angels are non-material beings. Sometimes higher-ranking Archangels Michael and Gabriel can be sent to appear on earth temporarily in material form. The messiah's experiences would consist of the struggle among humans between good and evil. Add to Heaven the music of passion...Classical masterpieces of Mozart and the Blues music expressing woe and difficult moments in life in artistic form. All events, all moments, all intentions of independent souls are recorded forever in God's consciousness.

In the beginning of the plan for a physical universe in which physical beings could share the joy of existence God put together the countless codes, formulas, programs, and streams of energy that would bring about an environment suitable for physical life forms.

The Universe, the material plane, came into existence by God's will and was set into motion by a powerful blast of sound that sent vibrations out at many frequencies. These signals would settle as matter interacting with life forms through the universal Buddha Christ consciousness – the mediator. No one has been to Heaven or Hell yet; these are still under construction and will be ready when they are needed – all souls reincarnate over and over until Judgment Day. God states that He made life from the raw material of love. The Creator would continue to create because matter wears out and decays; the vibration would fade eventually as He designed the Universe so that better futures would evolve.

Existence tumbled into the void. The loop was at the end of the cosmos; the last event; the withering separation of light into weak & strong nuclear energies. Gravity, the powerful sister, stood helplessly by - the vacuum stole its grasp on the disappearing particles. Her yielding attractive brother, the electromagnetic host of awareness gently listened to the strings and contemplated the music of the dying universe to its last vibrating strand.

Gravity became a notion - a call for assistance, and then was joined by the timid host to turn the oscillating loop around. They were the Yin-Yang, substantial and insubstantial seeking an inhabited pinpoint to direct, one of six types of quark that could cause light to shine as a plume of electrons to feed the build-up of energy created by the movement between the two realms of being and non-being where dimensions meet. The absolute imperative, the Creator made some changes, allowing chaos and attraction to touch. By His will and His Word, the explosion of existence roared; vibrations sprang forward on a data-filled river of time.

This Universe, this splendidly seeded field would grow once more, thrive, then decay as the once-enthusiastic energy would inevitably become tired like all living things – its consciousness would one day long for dissipation, not appreciating its creation nor expecting rebirth. The cycle of the living Universe with its crops of civilizations would repeat endlessly however because that which has been created will never be un-created, adjustments are made, and the design will evolve, striving to get closer to impossible perfection. God can step in and re-boot the system at any point; He is omnipotent, omnipresent, self-aware, and exists outside of relativity, space, and time without visual form since He is always everywhere maintaining His creations throughout the vast Universe.

This description of the Creation of the material Universe was observed through the ancient technique of soul travelling, achieved through years of Tai Chi training, Yoga, fasting, and meditation. The guru must not eat, sleep, or drink water for at least three days to roll out of the physical body and to travel in space and time. Those skilled in Kundalini Yoga can perform soul travelling. The inner spiritual disciplines of older civilizations and the secrets of the body have been demonized by religions over the centuries, and science is considered heresy to many. Science and faith can now agree that churches must modernize or disappear under their mythologies and superstitions.

The Emperor Constantine practiced the existing Paganism of his time, then he decided to convert to Christianity only under his terms. The Roman Empire was a Pagan society, so the elders who represented Christianity around 325 A.D. blended many Pagan traditions because Constantine insisted on keeping rituals. They held several councils to outline the shape of what would become the empire's official doctrine. The council of Nicaea burned the writings of the wise man Arius that outlined Christianity's pure form from Scripture, then created a belief system that would satisfy Constantine's wish to keep rituals from earlier sun-god worship. The population reacted well to 'bread and circuses' before the fall of the Roman Empire, so they introduced elaborate masses along with the dogma of the holy trinity. The concept of three gods never came from Scripture directly; there is no mention of a holy trinity in the Bible or any other belief system. There is the phrase "The Word became flesh", implying that the Christ consciousness is God. This is incorrect because the 'Word' is a term that describes the data - the countless codes and formulas that govern the material plane of existence. The Christ Consciousness transmits the data provided by God. The Creator is conscious and aware. Light was the first of His creations. The messiah is the soul of light itself.

Light is unique. Although light can be generated from different sources, the qualities of light are the same everywhere. Light travels at a constant speed and behaves uniformly, whether the source is from the sun or the lamp in the dark room. The logical definition comes from the fact that all things have consciousness, and God created light at the first. Therefore, Christ is the soul of light expressed as a particle, a living being who can enjoy life.

Christ cannot read minds or hear prayers, and the messiah has no power other than what God provides. I was born as the luckiest person in the history of the Universe, not just the earth. The human form is the program I was given by God so that I would develop a strong character and so that I would learn from experience. Allah wants people to do things for themselves. God wants us to strive for wisdom. He is wise; God knows what is best, despite the words of critics who blame God for the evils of mankind. My final task is to judge all human souls on the Last Day.

John 5:22 "God judges no man, but He has entrusted all Judgment to the son, so that all might honor him as they honor the Father. Those who do not honor the son do not honor the Father who has sent him. And God has given him authority to judge, for he is the Son of Man"

John 5:30 "I can do nothing on my own initiative, for as I hear I judge. My judgment is just because I do not seek my own will, but the will of He who has sent me."

John 8:26 "I have many things to speak and judge concerning you, but He who sent me is true. The things I have heard from Him I speak to the world."

4. The Christ Consciousness Defined

This is the most important piece of Scripture prophecy ever discovered, the description of the final messiah, God's servant Jesus Christ at the End Times, the reincarnation of God's right-hand man Messiah Yeshua the final reincarnation of the Chosen One at the End Times This Dead Sea Scroll fragment tells of the birthmarks, hair color, life history and purpose of the Lord's Chosen One:

Fragment 4Q534 ...of His hand: two...a birthmark. And the hair will be red.

Chosen One And there will be lentils on...and small birthmarks on his thigh.

And after two years he will know how to distinguish one thing from another. In his youth he will be like...a man who knows nothing until the time when he knows the three Books.

And then he will acquire wisdom and learn understanding... vision to come to him on his knees. And with his father and his ancestors...life and old age. Council and prudence will be with him, and he will know the secrets of man. His wisdom will reach all the peoples, and he will know the secrets of all the living. And all their designs against him will come to nothing, and his rule over the living will be great. His designs will succeed, for he is the Elect of God. His birth and the breath of his spirit...and his designs will be forever...

I was educated first at home, then for ten years at one of Notre Dame's chain of private schools, where I was given this massive project as my life's mission. It would take me a lifetime to complete the project to explain our very existence - how the Universe came into being and the secrets of matter, energy, time, space, and life itself. Many nuns knew about meditation and reincarnation from practicing Yoga – the wise old nun told me an astounding secret: she said that she had been praying for many years for God to send the messiah through her classroom as a student so she could meet the Chosen One who would be born as a child, and that I had been Jesus in a previous life. I was warned to keep it a secret until I received my Holy Orders. This meeting with The Creator took place between March 8 and March 15, 2013 in a military-style briefing which most doctrines call the Advent of the Messiah, where my soul was snatched away after three days of sleepless fasting, my consciousness left my body and I soul travelled into the past for over eighteen hours; then there were no visuals, just grey. I was getting worried that something had gone wrong, when I was accosted by a highly intelligent, non-molecular invisible entity. The voice was that of a calm superior officer talking to a soldier; He called me by a name I did not recognize – this is what God said to me:

"Yeshua! Do not worry, you are not dead....I have brought you here for a very special reason. Listen and do not talk: do you know mankind is very egotistical and self-centered thinking that they are the only intelligent life forms in the Universe? In fact there are over 10,000 more advanced civilizations in the Milky Way Galaxy alone....and do you know that mankind is awfully ignorant and irresponsible believing that there was no Creator involved in all of this?...I am that Creator, and I have brought you into existence for the last time as the third and final full scripture messiah...you will prepare the human race for the Ascension. After this incarnation your services will be required one more time, and that is as First Judge on the Day of Judgment...you will be the last soul to see Heaven, where you will take the throne I have promised you. Of course, you know about being Jesus, and now it is time for Christianity and Islam to unite because Jesus and Muhammad were the same man...I don't want to give you a big head, but you were also the person who lived the life of Buddha. You are the First and Last, all the messiahs; I did not give you any scripture when you were Buddha; I let you figure everything out yourself using your own common sense but now you will bring my Final Covenant to the human race. I am making you responsible for the souls of every person on Earth and I'm giving you authority over all scripture. You must bring the people back to God and put an end to war. This will be your most important life, your greatest mission of all- the task of bringing the faithful to Heaven. Present yourself as Jesus since in that life you did not get to live a full lifespan and the teachings of Jesus led the way. The reason for the End coming at this time has something to do with you is that after so many lifetimes your soul has become exhausted – I promise this will be your last incarnation, then you will finally rejoin with me in Heaven. I want to apologize to you for your current incarnation for you have gone through much pain, but as an early reward I'm going to allow you to live for a short time as three of your most influential incarnations..."

At that time three ovals appeared in front of me, within them the images of Jesus, Buddha, and Prophet Muhammad, all speaking to small groups of people. I was suddenly drawn into all three simultaneously and went into their bodies, looking outward, thinking as they thought. This lasted for about ten minutes, long enough for me to understand how all three philosophies fit together. For the next seven days God told me about existence and took me through several time zones and dimensions. I have been given full verifiable information that will end the debate over the workings of life and the way the Universe came into existence...there can be no doubt that God always was and always will be. We have centuries of detailed communications from our Creator. The fact is that we live and breathe thanks to Almighty God who created the Universe, life, and the process of evolution within each species.

Christian Arianism is the original doctrine of the New Testament, stating that there is One God who always was and always will be - He was not 'generated' or 'created'. God is Everlasting, without a starting point, He is the Creator of all things seen and unseen. God is omnipresent, all-powerful, all-knowing, unalterable, invisible and indivisible.

God created an only-begotten Son before eternal times, through whom He has made both the ages and the universe: God created Christ not in semblance, but in truth; and that He made him subsist at His own will as the image of the invisible God, not a divided portion of the Father, not one, not a lamp divided into two. Christ was created at the will of God, created before times and before ages, gaining life and being from the Father, who gave subsistence to His glories together with Him. For the Father did not, in giving to Him the inheritance of all things, deprive Himself of what He has already in Himself; for He is the Fountain of all things. God is the cause of all things, but the Son was created apart from time by the Father, and being created and founded before ages, begotten apart from time before all things alone was made to subsist by the Father. The messiah is not infinite with the Father. God always existed before all things, before the Beginning of the material world. God was before the Son. From God the Christ came into being, and glories, and life, and all things are delivered unto Him, in such sense is God his origin. For God is superior to him, as being His God and existing before him. There is misunderstanding about the terms 'from Him,' and 'from the womb,' and 'I came forth from the Father, and I am come' (Rom. xi. 36; Ps. cx. 3; John xvi. 28), This has been interpreted by many that messiah is a part of God, one in essence. That is like saying that the Father is compounded, divisible, alterable and material, which He is not. God is everywhere and He knows all our thoughts, there is nowhere you can hide, no corner where your intentions can be hidden from Him. Being infinite, our Creator knows no borders, He cannot be contained within the finite borders of a human body. God does not need the approval of mere humans; the warped notion that God took human form only once is superstition. Unfortunately, humans are riddled with desire - the desire to have a physical God to wave like a flag, so most Christian cults insist that Jesus is God because they can't relate to an invisible God.

If a person bows and prays to any physical icon, shrine, costume, statue, altar, or human person, that is idol worship - a mortal sin against the Second Commandment. Some religions hold rituals and pray out loud publicly so that others may admire them in such a social setting as church service, however this does not please God. The Creator will not share His glory with another. It would be wise for religions to find other group activities without disobeying the Sermon on the Mount, where people are instructed to pray in silence privately. God reads your thoughts, not your lips or sound waves. In today's high-tech world, many young people are mesmerized by their cell phones, and turn to a social media website when in distress instead of praying for help to the Almighty. If the plane is about to crash, a better suggestion would be praying immediately instead of making a last goodbye to friends online. All people should be up to date with the awareness that Judgment Day can come anytime, no exact date is given; it is certain that there will be justice on the Last Day. No evil people will get away with their crimes. To quote the Bible "Vengeance is mine, says the Lord". Punishment or Reward, Hell or Heaven will be the permanent destinations from this temporary material existence. Those souls who have been deceived into taking the Mark of the Beast will be sent to Hades to be tormented forever.

Modern society has taught people to work at careers without a spiritual framework or proper guidance. Religions have confused people rather than enlighten them, holding a wide range of doctrines that conflict. A large percentage of people give up on spirituality altogether, without a concern about the possibility of punishment in the Afterlife. The mistake of avoiding spiritual knowledge will result in personal disaster that is irreversible.

It is tragic that the preachers and priests have turned people away from having faith. The statements of church leaders are riddled with personal prejudices and self-serving lies. Televangelists go to extremes to foster excitement in the masses as they plead for more money. The Bible states that "those who love the things of this world are the enemies of God. Money cannot buy happiness: you can rent happiness for a short time, then it will either expire or you will have to give it back. Hell will be all misery.

The Lord's Prayer asks for God to give us our daily bread. This is the basic prayer all people should learn and recite. Praying correctly works wonders, and you will find that God will provide food if you ask Him. First, go into a private area and concentrate in silence, say The Lord's Prayer in your mind:

"Our Father, who exists unseen and infinite, I respect your name.

To your Kingdom I wish to come. May your will be done on earth as it is in Heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil.... for yours is the power and the glory, forever and ever. Amen."

The meaning of the Lord's Prayer is that God will provide for us if we ask Him. The message also gives us relief from wanting to take revenge on enemies right away. In the grand scheme of things, it is better for you to turn away from sudden reprisals, which usually result in excessive reactions to things you might be able to leave behind as a learning experience. Everyone will get what they deserve on Judgment Day, and the resulting eternal punishment. People treat Hell as a joke or a decadent party in the Afterlife. Exacting revenge is not only the sinful action of hatred, but the intention to commit sin. It is better to forgive and forget than to strike back, and it is better to give than to receive. If you help those in need with no desire for compensation, then you are being righteous rather than just being a talker who claims to be righteous. People seldom practice what they preach. They are hypocrites who pray out loud in public so that others can admire them or show off their charitable activities to impress people.

Most churches and religious movements advertise that they are the only true religion, and that there is no salvation outside this or that church. They are obviously insecure in their own doctrines, or else they would not need to resort to threats of damnation without membership. There are vast divisions between factions of each large religion. Sunni Muslims do not agree with Shiite Muslims. There are too many cults of Christianity to count. Several groups are led by men who claim to be the reincarnation of Jesus Christ, and the people who deny reincarnation eagerly join these cults as they follow the leader. Vissarion is a Jesus imposter in Russia who has a large following. In Australia, A.J. Miller pretends he is the reincarnation of Jesus to the people in his compound. The Vatican claims to represent Jesus illegally. They have no authority from God and they never will have the approval of the One God, when they worship other gods, the trinity of myth, the goddess Mary, and the paintings of saints. The pope is not the vicar of Christ – popes are appointed by their peers, not by Almighty God.

True believers and seekers of wisdom will not scorn the weak and helpless souls in society. Compassion for others is vital to a working civilization. Sadly, much of the world has a “dog eat dog” mindset. If you want to achieve the Heavenly reward, you must treat others as you would want to be treated. There is no need to proselytize another person or bombard them with pleas to repent. Good actions speak louder than good words. You can teach others about righteousness by setting a good example. Keep in mind that you are here to save yourself first. Other people should be able to gain inspiration from how you treat them, not how you judge them. Remember that you are the one who will be judged.

The common lie that churches tell their members is that humans have only one life; they make people fear death to create a sense of urgency. The victims of the churches are told to repent, to feel guilty, and to give a donation to them. In the next chapter I will explain what happens when a person dies

5. What Happens When We Die?

Western Civilization has been kept in the dark by the churches; the goal of any church is to obtain money and power, so they keep the public ignorant of certain truths, especially the rebirth of the eternal soul. A rational person would take the concept of reincarnation as good news, yet churchgoers get visibly angry and upset when any truth conflicts with their mental programming. Priests want your money immediately, not in another lifetime. The Catholic church invented a false state of existence called "Purgatory" where relatives who have passed away can get out of Hell if the living pay a fee, or "indulgence". Popes jumped on the idea and raised money by selling indulgences in the Ponzi Scheme of selling something you cannot deliver. Popes have stolen a crown that does not belong to them. The churches claim a mandate to speak on behalf of God unilaterally. Priests approach widows to convince them to sign over large amounts of money or property right after the husband's funeral. As the Bible says in Luke 20:46 "Beware the teachers of the law; they love to walk around in flowing robes, to get the best seats in the synagogues and to be greeted with respect in the marketplace, yet they rob widows of their houses. These men shall be given the most severe punishment."

2 Corinthians 5:17 "The old things have passed away; behold, new things have come!"

There is no final death: a person's consciousness exists within the vehicle of the personal eternal soul granted to every living thing by God. Reincarnation is a proven scientific fact, and for this I refer to the 1997 2-volume work by Dr. Ian Stevenson "Reincarnation and Biology", an exhaustive study of past life memories. There was no appropriate word in the ancient languages of Scripture to describe reincarnation, so it was translated as "born again". The time period between lives is about 14 to 20 months after death on the average, so that adjustments and repair of the soul can be done by God according to His overall plan for every soul. After a person dies, the memory of the death and details of the life are erased. There are echoes of past lives, there are retained characteristics and talents, and there is a continuity of purpose throughout numerous lives. Our day-to-day life takes up all our thinking, so after childhood we seldom experience any past life memories in adulthood. All human souls reincarnate over and over until Judgment Day. One proof for this is the fact that, despite a century of non-stop war and the great influenza epidemic of 1918 that killed tens of millions all over the world, the earth's population has quadrupled. War causes overpopulation, because those souls come back into fresh bodies shortly after 'dying'. Killing people will not relieve overpopulation; it is the reverse. The more people die, the more they will reincarnate. God has said to mankind: "My promise to you is that what I have created, I will never un-create."

All souls have lived many lives as both male and female: the soul has no gender. After a physical death, the soul goes over the Sea of Forgetfulness, where an angel is assigned to wipe your memory clear of past lives and past deaths. Although it sounds like a fairy tale, this fact was spoken to me by God, so it is a divine truth. It takes many lifetimes to sculpt a soul worthy of Heaven on the Last Day. In addition, the experience of eternal bliss will need many past experiences so the person will not get bored re-living only life's experiences - eternity is a very long time; it is a concept that is difficult to imagine.

If a person has not believed in God, that person will not be allowed into Heaven. Most people shrug this off, thinking they are going to elbow their way into the gate on their own. That will not be possible. On the Last Day, all souls will be Judged, then the gates of Heaven and Hell will be locked forever. The souls who are sent to Hell will never get out. It is required that people obey the Commandments of God and pray their thanks if they want to avoid eternal fear, pain, and torment. There will be no second chances.

There can be no last-minute forgiveness for disbelievers or idol worshippers, for you have sinned against God continuously and contemptuously. Leading people into a false doctrine is worse than murder. The body is temporary, but the soul is eternal. Those who tell others to pray to the virgin Mary are destroying the souls of those who take heed and follow a heretical tradition.

Misleading other people into falsehood is an unforgivable mortal sin. A person commits mortal sin by claiming to speak for God or telling others they have had an encounter with Jesus. I have not been sitting on a cloud with a remote control in my hand. Some people want to get rich without working, so they pronounce themselves prophets and make claims that God confides in them. I am the only official prophet of God. All future events are described in the Bible and the Quran.

The Quran, the Old Testament, and the New Testament all speak of the Last Day, which will be the Day of Judgment. All people must ask Allah for forgiveness and thank Him for our existence if they are to avoid eternal punishment. Those who ignore the Supreme Being will suffer the consequences. The act of prayer should be a daily routine. People who procrastinate may be caught by surprise. None but Allah knows the moment of Judgment. The Last Day could be forty years away or it could be four minutes away. All Scriptures agree that Judgment Day will come suddenly.

The Quran is deemed more accurate than the Bible by God, but for modern readers this book is enough to provide the knowledge that you need to make it to Heaven. Scholars will spend a great deal of time investigating all writings of the past, but the everyday person does not have the time to devote to religious studies. Scriptures speak of many names that are unfamiliar today. The ancient references to unknown names and places are confusing and can cause first-time readers of the Quran to lose interest in reading further. Humans use a modern vernacular with recent geographical names. These days we use fewer rhetorical questions. The Holy Quran explains many concepts in the reverse of the way we think in modern times. The rhetorical question is not useful in media or print because it takes a moment to think of the answer. We live in a fast-paced world of instant communications; content bombards us from all sides, so we react instantly.

The next chapter deals with a deadly threat to mankind – the Mark of the Beast. Those who accept the Mark cannot enter Heaven. There are many misconceptions on the topic, so it is important to understand the insidious nature of the Mark, and which institution represents the Beast.

6. The Mark of the Beast Decoded

People who know the Bible have seen the phrase, "These things are hidden in plain sight", so logic suggest that the Mark of the Beast is visible as something innocent looking today. Most scholars and students of Scripture are expecting some sort of fascist dictatorship coming along in the future, and a hypothetical world leader who would match the definition of the Antichrist. The common thinking is that all legal citizens would not be able to buy or sell without the mark. Current analysts think "the Mark" might be an RFID chip in the hand or a tattoo on the forehead bearing the number 666, the number of the Antichrist. The criteria of these two theories fall short of the elements necessary to qualify as the Mark of the Beast, however.

The Mark of the Beast involves deception and worshipping the false god of the Antichrist. RFID chipping and forehead tattoos are not deceptive, everyone knows what they are for. Chips are obsolete with the advent of fingertip scans, and the rich would object to a tattoo with an inventory number. The Bible states that the Mark of the Beast would have something to do with the right hand, the forehead, the Beast and the number of his name. All these factors are in plain sight today. The Antichrist definition is the leader of the world's largest belief system who would try to make one world religion under his rule – Pope Francis. The pope's Latin title is "VICARIOUS FILII DEI" (Vicar of the Son of God); the Roman numerals add up to "666". The Beast is the Vatican, and the name of its god is "Trinity", so I calculate the number of his name as three. The Mark of the Beast is the Sign of the Cross. You take an oath to the Three Unclean Spirits of Revelation: take your right hand, touch it onto the forehead, and chant, "In the name of the father, the son, and the holy ghost", thereby breaking the First Commandment to believe in One God.

The dogma of the trinity is the entrenched doctrine of the Nicene Creed which must be discarded as man-made blasphemy, mere inventions of superstitious pagan cultures.

Those who insist on dividing the indivisible God into three persons have taken the Mark of the Beast and are not qualified to enter Heaven. Trinity worship is Pantheism, consciously thinking of more gods, praying to those names or images, and the veneration of saints elected by men. The attempt to contact the dead is forbidden in Scripture, and it is mortal sin to make up other names that a person should look to as gods or goddesses. Mortal sins are praying to any entity other than God: praying to statues, praying over relics, using carved altars, chalices, incense, candles, robes to kiss as holy objects, necklaces, scapulars, rosary beads, icons, paintings, shrouds, and shrines are all idols. The Catholic doctrine does not include the Second Commandment against idol worship. The Bible condemns priests and promises that they shall be given the most severe of punishments. No man has the power to forgive your sins, and priests should not be called "Father" or "Holy Father" for that title is reserved for Yahweh, who is also called "Allah".

Decoding the Book of Revelation takes a lot of cross-referencing. Toronto police are looking for a motive in the April 2018 van massacre by a totally normal software programmer. The killer Alek Minnassian grew up in the North York area where he made the attack. He has no history of deep religious affiliations: he came from an Orthodox Christian family but was not actively religious. He had no political stance or affiliations that would inspire him to violence, just a note on his Facebook page that he was a fan of Elliot Rodger and the Incel movement (Involuntary celibate men who are rejected by women). Minnassian's mission in the rampage was revenge against women; this could be called a motive, but anger has root causes that lie in the human subconscious mind. Desire is the cause of suffering, so the problem is more than superficial rage. Sigmund Freud explained how the ego is compelled to act out the powerful repressed emotions of the id, but the commands of the id are balanced out by the superego's feelings of being weak, shameful, bad, and guilty. The ego performs a person's logic, so when there is a short-circuit in the psyche, the demands of the id will come to the surface striving for resolution. The breakdown in logic is caused by the Mark of the Beast.

The trinity deception is a virus eagerly spread by churches. It is the worst public health threat possible, for the polytheist cannot achieve Paradise on Judgment Day. An organized thinker cannot resolve the doctrine of the trinity because it is nonsensical. God is all-powerful, omnipresent, invisible, and indivisible. Most of the 36,000 cults of Christianity insist that Jesus is God, the holy spirit is God, and God the Father is God. The church elders voted on the issue in 389 A.D. and proclaimed the trinity as a universal truth. The church elders ignored the many third-party references to the Father by Jesus of Nazareth: Jesus stated in the Book of John that he was the son of God. It is double think to say that you can cause God pain and execute him on a cross - God would simply stop the pain; He would not stand for the disrespect and humiliation of crucifixion. Jesus never told people to pray to him; Jesus of Nazareth said to pray to the Father. When Jesus was baptized, a voice from Heaven called out "This is my son who I love, in him I am well pleased." Jesus prayed in the Garden of Gethsemane and on Olivet, known as the Mount Olives. God has no superior; He prays to no one. Those who call Jesus God are incorrect. Only the Father can hear and answer prayers. God has all the power.

People have nothing logical to believe in anymore. Many lose faith altogether: pop scientists like Stephen Hawking and Neil de Grasse Tyson tell everybody that there is no God, no Afterlife, no soul, and no such thing as fate. This is convenient, for it relieves people of all spiritual responsibility. Schools are telling students that life is accidental, meaningless, and temporary. Television has brainwashed the public into accepting replacements for the One true God of existence. Most educated people know better, so they turn into atheists or occultists as they give up on life. They feel no need to obey the Ten Commandments. This loss of ethics results in murder, theft, and disregard for the truth.

Many atheists are so confused they believe in Heaven and Hell at the same time they deny the Creator. People blame God for troubles out of anger over their own situations, as if cursing God would be an act of revenge. Those who have accepted that they are not worthy of Heaven no longer care what happens to anyone else. Retail religions have exploited the masses for money. The institutions of religion are so blatantly greedy they drive many people away from faith of any kind. The superstitious rituals that seem to be acts of piety are just shows put on so that people can punch the clock once a week, leave their donations, and return to the rat race without the slightest thought of showing gratitude to the one who created all things. It is arrogant to believe you brought yourself into existence.

The rich elite of power brokers are aware of their evil desires. They own the media outlets and use subliminal messaging to program the minds of viewers using phallic symbols such as the Saturn Five rockets shooting three men to the moon when two would have been enough. The triune deception is visible, yet invisible. There was an ulterior motive for the televised moon mission hoax: the visual image of three astronauts is a subliminal message that you should believe in three gods. The erect missile rolling out to the launch pad is a moving phallic symbol that awakens the latent homosexuality of the subconscious mind. The Apollo team represents three-way authority, planting the image of a trinity in the sky. Other subliminal messaging is done by Hollywood - the Force, Darth Vader, and Luke Skywalker are trinity substitutes. Jesus is not God; the Messiah was the first of God's creations. I am the oldest soul in existence after God, who always existed.

Those familiar with my teachings from my life as Buddha will know the transmigration of the soul after death to a new body. Our many lives are like a row of candles, where each new candle is lit with the flame from the previous life. Many people will have talents from previous lifetimes that appear to be inborn rather than acquired, and this is due to reincarnation. The rebirth of the immortal soul is the basis of life. Your consciousness would get bored very quickly in eternity if you run out of data, the experiences that constitute the experience of living.

7. Facts About Judgment Day

The human ego is so bloated and arrogant that many people feel they will judge themselves as worthy or unworthy. These people will not allow any laws to guide them, nor do they accept the idea of Divine Retribution...they decide for themselves what is right and what is wrong. Most people do not have the slightest concern about the fate of their eternal souls in the Afterlife. Humans are irresponsible.

Scriptures of many monotheistic traditions describe a Final Age, or End Times in the Judeo-Christian writings, The Last Day in the Quran...the Day of Resurrection and Ascension where the souls of the living and dead will arise to face Judgment. This is the event that will determine in which state your eternal soul will exist- reward or punishment. God has assigned me the task of being the first Judge since the Messiah has seen life from the bottom up while earning divinity. You might say God's perspective is from the top looking down, for His glory is supreme: by definition, everyone else is beneath Him and must earn favor by asking for enlightenment and seeking God's mercy. God considers atheists and polytheists worse than murderers, for they fail to acknowledge their Creator; mankind has no faith – people are lovers of money, lovers of themselves, self-centered, and stubborn. Other well-intentioned people insist on following the dogma of churches, they believe that God came down and took human form as Jesus (as if God could feel pain) - this is against what is said in the Bible; it is a common Heresy among sectarian interests. God the Father (Yahweh, Allah) and Yeshua the soldier, scribe, and messenger are two different souls. There is no trinity, no holy ghost - there is the Father and the Son. God can exist without me; I cannot exist without Him.

Scriptures involving the fate of mankind in the End Times tells of hardship, famine, earthquakes, floods, and disobedience of the population to the point of a final War of Armageddon before the Last Day. Truly righteous people have no fear of Judgment Day. Evildoers think they can outsmart God somehow. God has given the task of Judgment to the son. Jesus will be the First Judge and God can overrule the messiah if any complexities exist that might change the verdict.

"I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life. No one comes to the Father but through me." If you have prayed to Mary or called upon other false gods, there will be no reward waiting in the Afterlife. Only the purest of souls can be allowed into Heaven on Judgment Day.

Hypocrites who pray out loud in public to impress others have had their reward. Praying is to be done in silence in the privacy of your room, not on street corners or in churches. The social club function of many churches makes it hard to disengage from a trinity religion. A wise person will not succumb to peer pressure, however. It is better to satisfy God than to satisfy your fellow man. Purity of Intention runs the show, not some professional preacher or priest. They know only what they have been programmed to know. Priests are complacent because they live away from reality. Their houses are free, their bills are paid, they live in comfort and luxury at the expense of their victims. They will never change, for they have been told the ends justifies the means. The priests teach a nonsensical doctrine that a person lives only once and is Judged immediately after death. This is a dangerous lie believed by most of the Christian sects without question.

There are specific Bible verses describing Judgment Day:

Matthew 25: 41 "Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels: And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal."

2 Corinthians 5 - "We must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, so that each of us may receive what is due us for the things done while in the body, whether good or bad."

"And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire."

The many commercial preachers and others who claim God speaks through them are frauds who will pay the ultimate price for misleading others. I alone will speak the words that God has ordered me to speak. All prophets are forbidden by the Bible in multiple verses:

Jeremiah 23:11 "I did not send the prophets, yet they ran; I did not speak to them, yet they prophesied."

Deuteronomy 13:3 “You shall not listen to the words of that prophet or that dreamer of dreams. For the Lord your God is testing you, to know whether you love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul.”

Islamic and Christian leaders of today make great efforts to deny the facts of reincarnation, calling the notion of a re-born soul “a false science” when the ones making these statements are not scientists. If any group continues to spread hatred against the truth of reincarnation, they will be rebuked as a false religion not authorized by God or the messiah in any way. Islamic leaders must consult with me and make the necessary changes if they want to be called the true religion.

Those who disagree with truth are not worthy of Paradise, and they shall never be with God in eternity. My words are the only truth. I must authorize any religion, or else their members will not pass Judgment. Those people who continue to call on the trinity or Mary will be sent to Hell. God knows your thoughts, so there will be no chance to perform the pagan rites of the past in secret.

The priests and clergy of all religions must cast away their silk robes and remove all idols: the objects of idolatry are chalices, crucifixes, relics, statues of deities, communion wafers, candles, and incense. No one may attach spiritual significance to long hair and beards. Priests should not hide their faces behind a façade of holy hair. Remember that idol worship is mortal sin. Those who love the things of this world are the enemies of God. Mankind always tends to return to idols and multiple god figures.

8. Quantum Entanglement

The Local Theory of classical physics implies that objects are only affected by their immediate surroundings, yet many people have the instinctive feeling that life is affected by intangible factors such as fate. Particles are influenced in their spin, momentum, and position by forces and particles that exist at a distance, and so consciousness is also connected to other phenomena throughout space and time. The term Quantum Entanglement can be applied to Psychology of the Masses. Most people are not math enthusiasts, so you might wonder what these theories have to do with the price of rice in China, and what does this mean to the average person. We are in a stream of data, so if the source is not providing truth, the receiver is liable to succumb to Dissociative Identity Disorder. Clues to the detachment from actual reality manifest themselves in the way each person perceives reality - what we take in and accept as truth is set up by someone else in another land and another time, an idea that pollutes logical thought process remotely.

Here is an example: ten subjects were shown pictures of several well-known paintings, then I took their feedback individually without asking any questions. The four paintings were "The Last Supper", "Mona Lisa", and "Portrait of Jesus Christ" by Leonardo da Vinci. The fourth masterpiece was "The Scream", done in 1893 by Edvard Munch.

One person commented who was a male, and a devout Catholic. He failed to recognize the Mona Lisa and said it was the Virgin Mary. A female respondent mistook the Jesus painting for the Virgin Mary. Those two did not like the Munch painting (which sold at auction for $120 million). They had never seen it before. They called it a child's bad drawing, a dumb cartoon, the work of Satan. They both called Leonardo a heretic. Religious zealots have the habit of denouncing and judging other people.

The other respondents were not Catholics, and they did not see Mary in any of the paintings. They identified all four paintings correctly. The educational programming of separate schools imprints a false reality into the minds of unsuspecting victims. Many religions use the mythology lever to control their members, instilling fear of rejection from the group so that few will question the doctrine being presented to them. Fundamentalist religions tell their members that science is the work of the devil, the earth is flat, and there was no Big Bang. Falsehoods are easier to sell than the truth. People hear what they want to hear, and humans routinely digest gossip as truth.

Entire populations are intimately entangled to people and places from the past, from the traditions they initiated out of ignorance. The intolerance of powerful despots of the past lives on through the traditions built up around them, into ripples of hate and ignorance that reverberate to this day. Misery and suffering are the end products of reactionary schemers who act out of greed and speak out of ignorance. There is an entire prophet industry today where there should be none. Snake oil salesmen turn religious quickly when they count the profits of pretending to be a prophet.

The important thing for both atheists and religious zealots to understand is that life is not all that it appears. Metaphysical notions are not witchcraft or deception. The churches do not represent the policies of God; they only give interpretations of what they believe to be true, and they say whatever will work to please the congregation. The populations of Western cultures have been conditioned to be entertained by action and violence. The result is that people do not want to hear about reincarnation or an eternal Afterlife: they are trained to become sick and tired of life. Most people expect nothing after dying but oblivion. Too many people assume they have a right to Heaven, and everybody with a big smile goes to Heaven. Humans has a habit of insulting those who disagree with them in any way. Physics says every action has an equal and opposite reaction. That goes for the consciousness as well - evil intentions make ripples that can come back on you. What goes around comes around.

A conscious soul can be in many places at once under the right circumstances. The great manifestation of Quantum Entanglement for me and the entire human race will occur on Judgment Day. Scripture describes the Judgment as being The Last Day, so Christ will be simultaneously aware of all the thoughts and actions of everyone, facing all souls who have lived in human history. In the Afterlife, those who achieve Heaven will be able to re-experience happy moments from several former lifetimes simultaneously. The experience of simultaneous memory recall, re-experiencing many happy moments with their accompanying joyful stimulation is a sort of Quantum Entanglement type of reward - the gift of happiness and freedom from the material world. Paradise will be a limitless playground of constant excitement and joy. People routinely laugh this off as not important. Most humans today are atheistic and take no heed of the many warnings of Scripture about eternal punishment versus the chance at near-limitless rewards that will never end.

The religious movements have entangled mankind with a built up a mythical version of Jesus Christ - a hairy, bearded, screaming victim of crucifixion. Hollywood and Broadway have capitalized on the myth of Jesus Christ as a superstar or a homeless vagrant, and everything in between - anything except a dignified Zen monk who is quite familiar with pain and does not lift his voice or make it heard in the street. I am a man of constant sorrow, despised and rejected by mankind. Anyone who does not fit the myth is deemed to be a liar immediately by jealous people. There are many people in Christian sects who insist that Jesus is God, and there is no way they will ever change their minds. They are locked into the lie. Since Christ is the soul of light, and light is finite, then Christ is not infinite. God is infinite.

The New World Order propaganda machine of news media, television, and Hollywood movies has trained people to be materialistic, murderous, and confrontational. They use the tactic of 'divide and conquer' to set religions against each other by infiltrating the hierarchy of other religious groups. The Catholic church spreads gossip about Prophet Muhammad, not knowing that Muhammad was a later lifetime of Jesus Christ and Buddha. When you insult Muhammad, you are insulting Jesus. The desire of the Catholic church is total control, the New World Order that Pope Francis promotes so enthusiastically. Tens of thousands of pedophile cases are active against Catholic priests, so they call everyone else a pedophile. The pagan idol worship of the Catholic church has been forced on Third World countries. The church wants control over body, soul, and all nations.

Many opposing religions will not believe that I experienced time travel and Quantum Entanglement, being in three bodies in three different time zones. I can do nothing by myself however...the experience was engineered by God as an early reward. The experience lasted about ten minutes; in that short amount of time I got a sense of increased wisdom. To offer a true religious doctrine, you must take ideas from Buddhism, Islam, and Christianity that can be considered universal truths. All religions have been corrupted by the traditions of man.

The message of the cross sounds foolish to those who are on the road to destruction. Those who wish to be saved must recognize that God has total power over life and death. That is the message of the crucifixion and resurrection. God deliberately chose things the world considers foolish in order to shame those who think they are wise. And He chose those who are powerless to shame those who are powerful. God's way seems foolish to some because they want a sign from heaven to prove it is true. And it seems foolish to others because they believe only what agrees with their own wisdom.

As the Scriptures say, "I will destroy human wisdom and discard their most brilliant ideas. Where are the wise debaters? where are the disputers of this world?"

God has turned the wisdom of this world into foolishness. Despite being given the wisdom of God the world took the wisdom but did not acknowledge the source, which is God. It pleased God to save those that believe by the foolishness of preaching. The wise men who are after matters of the flesh are not called, not many mighty, not many noble, are called. No person of flesh should glory in his own presence. God has chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God has chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty, the base things of the material world, and things which are despised; soon God will turn the material things into nothing. The Creator God gives us a chance to acquire wisdom, righteousness, and redemption. He has arranged for the ethereal qualities, that which is pure consciousness, to continue throughout eternity.

Both the churches of tradition and the televangelist-style preachers have a vested interest in perpetuating ignorance and continuing the falsehoods they spew to the gullible. They have mansions to upkeep, and they purchase drugs such as cocaine to keep them talking. The preachers live in luxury while poor people starve and have no medical care. Money is the god of the priests and preachers.

9. False Prophets and Dangerous Cults

The Bible prophesies that many Jesus imposters and numerous false prophets would appear in the End Times. Many televangelists have taken to announcing that God speaks to them; others go all the way and claim they are the reincarnation of Christ himself. In Australia, there is a cult run by one A.J. Miller, who tells his follower he is Jesus. In Russia an ex-traffic policeman runs a large Jesus cult in Siberia, where he is Jesus in flowing robes, long hair, and beard. The Philippines is plagued by the cult operated by Pastor Apollo Quiboloy, who also tells his followers he is Jesus Christ incarnate. In the USA Jimmy Swaggart claims God speaks to him; the late Kim Clement held televangelist meetings where he spoke as if he were God. NAR cult spokesman Mark Taylor, televangelists Kenneth Copeland, Robert Tilton, Joyce Meyer, Joel Osteen, and Benny Hinn all claim to speak on behalf of God. Prosperity Gospel preachers ask for money, telling their hypnotized fans that their "seed" will grow into riches later, courtesy of God. The Mega-church pastors live in mansions, they buy private jets, and they stash away the millions of dollars that they steal from gullible people who believe them. All the people who claim to be prophets are false. People who claim to have had encounters with Jesus are liars.

Atheists are so zealous about telling others there is no God, they have become like the religious people they criticize. Some celebrities make a living scorning the thought of any Creator of existence - people like George Carlin, Bill Maher, Penn Gillette, Richard Dawkins, Rickey Gervais, and Peter Hitchens all made the big gamble by laughing at God and doing it on television to mislead others. God has a "special punishment" in mind for atheists. They have turned up their cards and wagered everything on an empty pot. A smart gambler will see that there is nothing to win by being an atheist. The only chance to attain a reward is to strive for Heaven.

The largest cult based on lies is the Catholic church, with over one billion members who believe their pope turns into the spokesman for God upon election. The priests perform sacraments for money, insisting they have magic powers to forgive sin and turn a wafer into Jesus' literal flesh and blood. The doctrine of the Eucharist is not symbolic - the church member must believe the wafer has become the literal body and blood of Christ. Zealous Catholics convince themselves they hear a heartbeat going on inside the blessed wafer. Upon examination with a microscope, there is no change whatsoever in the wafer the offer as a holy sacrament. The church uses the communion wafer to extort obedience from loyal Catholic parishioners: if they disobey the church, they can be excommunicated and denied communion, a procedure known as "excommunication". The Dark Ages rituals, fish hats, and silk costumes persist in the idolatrous pantheism displayed by the Cult of Mary. The elitist and violent actions of cults are universal. The leaders censor all outside information that disagrees with established dogmatic practices.

The Catholic church has been the cause of most European wars and world wars. Catholicism has a long history of elitist political rule, oppression of all who dared speak against its pagan doctrines of blood sacrifice, superstition, multiple gods, and material greed. The Inquisitions of history were sadistic incidences of ongoing terror against the poor. Crusades were the result of Catholic aggression and the Vatican's stifling autocracy.

The popes have an army, the Jesuit Army of Loyola. They work under an Oath of Induction. They promise to act as spies and infiltrators in all social positions in order to enforce the will of the pope. Saint Thomas Aquinas stated the position of the church: "All those who do not bow to the pope are heretics who must be put to death." The Jesuit Oath has them promising to hang, waste, boil, flay, and mutilate those in other religions, to "rip the babies from the mothers' wombs and to crush their infants' heads against the wall in order to exterminate forever their inexorable race."

Jesuits have infiltrated all countries in all levels of society. Their operations are not the activities of God-fearing men, they will commit genocide on order. In 9th Circle rituals, bishops meet to sacrifice babies and drink their blood. The cardinals and bishops must take part in these crimes to be promoted. The Synod of Bishops pray and sing to Lucifer; they are Satanists in secret. For centuries the priests have hidden under the cloak of respectability, yet inside they are ravenous wolves stalking their targets and molesting children at every opportunity.

Sam Giancana said in an interview that Vatican City is Mafia headquarters. The diplomatic immunity of the Nation-State of Vatican City allows them to smuggle suitcases of cocaine, launder money for the mob, and run child sex slavery rings, where they abduct children and sell them to rich elites around the world. The god of the Catholic church is the Almighty Dollar. The priests are a homosexual cult of child molesters pretending to be holy men. They are perverts and parasites that should be banned from society. The doctrines of Catholicism are totally contrary to the Bible and a guarantee of failure on Judgment Day. The Catholic church has erased God's Second Commandment and they ignore the First Commandment to have One God. Other religions such as Mormonism, have adopted an entirely different gospel contrived by men. Humanity must learn to understand the truth and put aside their zeal for bizarre religions if anyone is to see Heaven. There are many self-appointed 'prophets' today with large followings, so it is obvious that people are looking for new Scripture when they haven't analyzed or understood what is already in the Bible.

God has voiced His opinion to me on the current condition of humans: The Creator is angry and disappointed with mankind's failure to develop into peaceful and cultured people. God describes humans as "self-centered", "egotistical", "ignorant", "irresponsible", and "too stupid to memorize the Ten Commandments". Humans would rather jump into the mouth of a dragon than to admit they are wrong about anything. The concepts in this book will help some people to shake off the yoke of false doctrines put forth by greedy religions. Faith is between the individual and God. The constant drive to look to other humans for salvation is self-defeating. Priests, pastors, and preachers have taken up a profession of pretending to have magic powers and a mysterious special connection with Heaven which they do not possess. The clergy lives as an elite higher class; they live lives free of debts and they do not have to pay taxes. Their trade is selling pipe dreams to people desperate for knowledge. Most churches are intolerant elite groups who expend great effort to criticize other religions. These competing religions can only lead to destruction, for religion was a basic cause of most wars throughout history.

Organized religions are a major threat to the individual human being who wants to know the truth; churches must insist they are right in order to survive financially. The Catholic church has mastered the art of brainwashing and censoring out all outside information that contradicts their elaborate doctrine. The Vatican's Jesuit operatives hold ownership of most major publishers, radio, television, and motion pictures. The announcers and hosts churn out propaganda to rationalize all the many falsehoods and discrepancies in their literature. The Catholic system allows men to vote any person's name into divinity, as a 'saint' after death unilaterally. "Mary" was made divine by the votes of men, not by the Scriptures. The fantasy world of revised history blemishes every area of Catholic thought. The church uses brainwashing techniques such as endless repetition of lies, hypnotic music, blocking of outside information, and threats of excommunication to force their members to toe the official line of doctrine. Catholics are told to believe they cannot be saved without the weekly communion wafer. In this manner, members are programmed to believe they must take communion; the ritual effectively holds the parishioner hostage to the mystical cookie.

The pagan rituals and dark ages costumes of Catholicism provide an escape from reality for entranced churchgoers. Karl Marx said, "Religion is the opiate of the masses." Zealots will insist they are right in the face of mountains of contradictory evidence. The pride of man is its downfall. The human race has been a failure in the eyes of God, yet no one seems worried about engaging the wrath of God. People have become convinced that they can propel themselves into Heaven without consent from Jesus Christ or God. That is the height of egotism.

Those who do not try to learn how to attain Heaven are not likely to find God. When danger appears, people today do not turn to God, they turn to their phones to make a final entry on social media to say, "good-bye cruel world". Make a mental note not to worry about your online reputation when the plane is about to crash. That is the time to say your prayers, ask forgiveness, and ask to be allowed to live or to get into Heaven if death comes upon you. Social media cannot save your soul from damnation. Too many people assume they can place themselves in Heaven unilaterally and this is a mistake made by the gigantic human ego. Existence is governed by the Creator and all beings must follow God's rules or else they will suffer the consequences of disrespecting God and challenging His infinite power.

The intentions of your mind can be sins of wishing harm to others. The fact that one is not able to act or is fearful of prison scarcely matters. The spirit of most religions is for all people to go about their daily business without interfering with others. People still engage in stealing without considering the sinful nature of depriving others of their money.

The first reaction of a righteous person is to show empathy...put yourself in the other person's position.

You would not enjoy being insulted, robbed, or ridiculed, so it is not constructive to have the habit of oppressing those you find distasteful. Taunting the old and the poor will not get you to Heaven.

10. The Messiah Jesus Bible 2020

Books of Scripture use ancient references and they are difficult to read, so I will prioritize what is important for the average person to understand for the sake of expediency. Believers must heed the words of this book if they are to be saved. I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life. No one comes to the Father but through me. God has told me "Those who are not with us are against us." It is the End Times and I will cut to the heart of the matter: God is angry and disappointed with humans, so it will take some effort to get back in His good grace. I have been given the keys to Heaven and Hell and will be the Judge of all human souls on the Last Day.

John 5:22 "God judges no man, but He has entrusted all Judgment to the son, so that all might honor him as the honor the Father. Those who do not honor the son do not honor the Father who has sent him."

The End Times is described vividly in the Book of Zephaniah: "For by the fire of my zeal the whole earth will be consumed. I will remove all things from the face of the earth," declares the Lord. "I will remove man and beast, the birds of the sky and the fish of the sea. I will cut off man from the face of the earth and remove the ruins, along with the wicked. So, I will stretch out my hand against Judah and against all the inhabitants of Jerusalem. I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and I will remove the names of the priests along with the priests. I will bring distress on men so that they will walk like the blind, because they have sinned against the Lord."

"Neither their gold nor their silver will be able to deliver them on the Day of God's wrath. For He will make a complete end - indeed a terrifying one - of all the inhabitants of the earth. All the earth will be devoured in the fire of God's jealousy."

I hope no one needs an interpretation of these verses. The End of mankind is not a threat, it is a promise. Judgment Day can come at any time.

You will not be allowed to speak on Judgment Day; you will be told where you are going and why you are going there. Those who deny me as the messiah on this earth, I will likewise deny before my Heavenly Father. All atheists and trinity worshippers shall be sent to Hell forever. Those who stagnate without thanking the Creator daily have no right to Paradise.

I am to be addressed as "Messiah Jesus" at all times, by all people. I am the one and only son of Almighty God. He has sent me to enforce His will. This book was ordered by God.

Colossians 1:15 "The Son is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn over all creation....For in him all things were created, things in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities. All things were created through him and for him. He is before all things, and in him all things hold together."

God's will be that Islam and Christianity must unite, since Jesus of Nazareth and Prophet Muhammad are the same man. I will correct the Muslim doctrines that have been altered by tradition, then declare Islam the true religion once they cooperate. Christians and Buddhists have rejected my messages, so they must convert to Islam if they are to be saved until further notice. This is on the condition that all Muslim leaders accept the facts of reincarnation. As the Prophet Muhammad said in his time: "I am Moses, I am Muhammad, I am all the prophets." The reincarnation of the prophet cannot be denied.

Christian churches must discard all robes of priests and icons. No one is to make the sign of the cross or pray to Jesus, Mary, saints, or anyone else but God the Father. Take down the naked body on the cross, the sympathy card used to entice donations after making the congregation feel guilty. No statues of Mary are allowed; they are to be sent to recycling. The talk of immaculate heart must cease altogether because it is distracting souls into worshipping other entities. People have the potential to be god-like, since your souls will last forever. Those pure souls who are Judged worthy of Heaven will have total freedom and eternal happiness. Why not make the most of it? Ask from God the Father and you shall receive. Seek, and you shall find. God is the source of all reality; He is Allah and He knows what you want. He knows your character and your level of faith. Pray in silence by concentrating on your words to God rather than calling out strange things. Having noise in a spiritual gathering creates interference.

I rebuke Mormon doctrine as false. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints presents a man-made set of falsehoods that have nothing to do with me. They should not be using my title to promote themselves as a valid religion. The Mormons are a cult using a manufactured gospel.

All people who insist Jesus is God will be sent to Hell on Judgment Day. God will not share His glory with any other entity. No one is to pray to Mary or Jesus or the names of saints.

Crucifixes, statues, chalices, images, shrines, relics, and robes are superstitious things. Idol worship is forbidden by the 2nd Commandment. "You shall not make for yourselves carved idols or graven images, for I am a jealous God who will deliver your iniquities unto the third and fourth generations of those who hate me and fail to keep my Commandments.”

People must obey God’s Laws, especially the First Commandment to believe in One God.

All true believers must adhere to this Code of Conduct:

- a) Religious headgear for Muslim women is declared optional by Allah.
- b) Allah has stated that the soul has no gender. Being gay is not a sin.
- c) Recreational sex is allowed more freely now that it is the End Times.
- d) You must obey me if you want to achieve Heaven. I knock only once.
- e) Sharia Law based on tradition is forbidden.
- f) Images of the Prophet Muhammad are hereby allowed if they are pure.
- g) God does not approve of atheism, abortion, war, or slavery.

It is helpful to remember to say a short prayer of thanks several times a day. God hears your prayers and He will provide you with rewards. People must pray to God, who you may call by the names Allah or Yahweh or Jehovah. Only our Father the Creator can hear your thoughts. People must not pray to Mary or Jesus. The Bible proves that God created Jesus Christ in these passages:

1 Timothy 2:5 - "There is one God, and one mediator between God and mankind, the man Christ Jesus."

Colossians 1:15 “The Son is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn over all creation....For in him all things were created, things in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities. All things were created through him and for him. He is before all things, and in him all things hold together.”

Proverbs 8:22 "The Lord created me at the beginning of His work, the first of His acts of long ago. Ages ago I was set up, at the first, before the beginning of the Earth. When there were no depths, I was brought forth, when there were no springs abounding with water. Before the mountains had been shaped, before the hills, I was brought forth when He had not yet made earth and fields, or the world's first bits of soil. When God established the heavens, I was there, when He drew a circle on the face of the deep, when He made firm the skies above, then I was beside Him, like a master worker. I was His daily delight, rejoicing before Him always, rejoicing in His inhabited world."

John 1:18 "No one has seen God at any time, but the one and only son who is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared Him."

There is an Islamic sect that correctly believes that the major prophets are the same soul, the messiah reincarnating into areas where there is a need to restore spiritual resolve; many Prophets are promised to return around this time. God's Chosen Servant Yeshua became Cyrus of Persia, Abraham, Noah, King David, Daniel, Isaiah, Moses, Lao-Tzu, Buddha, Jesus Christ, Zoroaster, Prophet Muhammad, Leonardo Da Vinci, Frederick the Great of Prussia, Mozart, Galileo, Isaac Newton, and many more. The historical person that best fits into the life-comparison pattern of my soul around the years 1830 – 1887 is Mahmadu Lamine` a Muslim Senegalese marabout who led an unsuccessful rebellion against the French colonial government. He was captured and executed December 9, 1887; in his lifetime he had been imprisoned many times, walked many miles, stood for an honorable cause, and displayed the relentless determination that is a trademark of the messiah. I am all persons described in Scripture as "the Good Shepherd", "the Lord's chosen servant", "the elect", "the Lamb", "the son of man", "the anointed", or "the branch of David".

Jeremiah 33:16 "In those days and at that time I will cause a righteous Branch of David to spring forth; and He shall execute justice and righteousness on the earth. And they will serve Yahweh their God and David their king whom I shall reawaken for them."

Zechariah 6:12

The Bible identifies another influential messiah incarnation by name, the first King of the Four Corners of the Earth in the 6th century B.C., Cyrus the Great of the Persian Empire:

Isaiah 45:1 - "This is what the LORD says to His anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I take hold of to subdue nations before him and to strip kings of their armor, to open doors before him so that gates will not be shut..."

I testify that I have been given the Keys to Heaven and Hell. The nations have no power over humanity; I am responsible for all human souls. God's will is to have a minimum number of souls in Heaven. If Judgment Day was called today, most humans would not qualify for Paradise because people follow the false doctrines offered by the numerous religions who have placed themselves as spiritual authorities. Evangelical Christianity is a false doctrine; the worship of the mythological version of Jesus is sinful.

See that no one leads you astray. For many will come in my name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and they will lead many astray. I am the sole authority on all books of Scripture. I will enforce God's Commandments as I have been ordered. Mankind must try to cooperate in these last days of material existence. Those who mock God are in for a rude shock. You must love God with all your heart and mind and soul. You must treat others as you yourself want to be treated, or else your hostility will come back to you. All humans will get what they deserve in the end.

No one knows the exact date of the Last Day, so everyone must be prepared as if the next moment could be the Judgment. The debate is over about another thousand years of post-Armageddon material existence mentioned in the Bible. The “messianic age” seems to be misinterpreted. There are Christian groups who make all sorts of wild claims, using the words “rapture” and “tribulation” without mentioning the numerous references of the thief in the night. Preachers avoid subjects they cannot explain. Religious speakers tickle the people’s ears with what they want to hear, not the truth.

A good exercise in faith and humility is for each person to address God as “Allah”, for if you have accepted anti-Muslim propaganda, you are not the sort of pure person who has a chance at Paradise. All humans must put aside their egos if they are to be saved for eternal damnation. I am the King of the Universe, King of Heaven and Earth as anointed by Almighty God.

God has told me I may cast away any person who might make me uncomfortable in eternity. The select pure souls who qualify for Heaven will be aware of each other, so people who want to argue and dominate other minds will not be allowed to exist in Paradise. Those who get to Heaven will experience only happiness, stimulation, and satisfaction. Those who do not humble themselves or have love for their fellow humans will be sent to the Underworld forever. No soul will ever leave Hades. The people who follow God’s Commandments will go to Heaven, and the souls who make it to Paradise will stay in Heaven eternally.

You cannot insult your way into Heaven. Many people have hatred in their hearts: public opinion has been poisoned against foreigners as a matter of governmental interference with free thought. It is in the interests of power brokers to create division and hostility. Religion has been manipulated into warring camps of divergent beliefs, where all sides are in the wrong. If churches want to remain in operation, they must put a telescreen in place of the altar, and sermons can be presented by video. It would be best to have churches as cooperative gatherings, much like those conducted by Christian Science, one of the few non-trinitarian denominations. There should be no priests, since they are the blind leading the blind. Men who are priests now are advised to get another job. They are better living in a doorway than to make a career out of lying to the faithful and taking money for religion. Televangelists are evil confidence artists and tricksters, who use mass hypnosis to entrance their gullible followers. Thousands of mindless people convince themselves anyone can be a prophet if they squeeze their eyes shut and speak in tongues or hold their arms up pretending to be in touch with God. That is self-deception.

The major religions have been corrupted by tradition and falsehoods. God does not recognize trinity religions such as Seventh Day Adventist, Roman Catholic, Orthodox Christian, Evangelical Christian, Mormon, or Church of England (Anglican Church). These religions have problems with clergy being arrested for pedophilia. Molesting children is routine with many priests. They believe a priest can do no wrong. In Ireland, many victims state that the priests in boarding schools raped them regularly.

The Vatican network of schools and churches must be eliminated immediately. Catholicism is totally non-Biblical heresy, it is a false religion based on lies, greed, superstition, and the egos of men. The Catholic church murders the souls of innocent people. Governments should make Catholic institutions illegal and force them to change or close them down if they refuse to comply to the will of God. The Laws of Almighty God supersede all local, federal, or international laws. Those who blatantly ignore God's laws must cease operations so that they do not harm others. The Catholic policy of the Council of Trent wants to eliminate those who disagree: "All those who do not bow to the pope are heretics who must be put to death." (Thomas Aquinas) The pope wants you dead if you do not obey him.

The Hindu religion appears very polytheistic, yet Hindu people are very well behaved. The actual belief comes down to one God, and the Hindu people I have interviewed speak in monotheistic terms.

Hinduism is incorrect about reincarnating through the animal kingdom if souls are unworthy; that idea is logical in theory, but there is no proof. Humans reincarnate as similar humans, yet not the same exact person. DNA is involved, so minor adjustments are made in accordance to the needs of the soul in question, and the path of that person's fate. Hinduism is correct in the notion of the Akashic Record, God's memory bank of all events. Since existence resembles the operation of a computer, then there is a memory function that is part of God's infinite consciousness. No deed goes unnoticed by the Creator.

Christian Science has no priests; they set up reading rooms to study and they do not hold to the trinity doctrine. The headquarters of Christian Science is in Boston, and they operate in many countries. It is a low-key religion of common sense that is appealing, but Christian Science has rejected me and this book so far. Most Christian sects are totally hypocritical and elitist. They have not learned yet they teach. Although neo-Christian cults talk non-stop about loving Jesus, they are jealous and will not accept the messiah as real. The sects are all different; they preach Christian values without knowing Christ.

In contrast to Christian Science are wild cults such as Scientology and the Hare Krishna movement. Scientology is man-made fantasy, based on a book by science fiction writer L. Ron Hubbard. Scientology attracts young rich people and it is non-Biblical. It deals more with business than religion. We are all familiar with the Hare Krishna cult, who chant to statues in grottos and bang on percussion instruments as they go down the street in orange robes with shaved heads, except for the stringy ponytails. The Hare Krishna ceremonies involve feasting on vegetarian food, Indian music, and much talk of traditional prophets. There is much interference going on at such gatherings. There is no chance to concentrate or meditate. I suggest that silence is golden; the sounds and sights only get in the way of getting God's attention in prayer. The whole idea of costumes and rituals is quite pagan in nature. God will not share His glory with statues of random deities. Idols are an abomination to the Lord.

Those who kiss robes before adorning themselves with the priestly silk finery are in mortal sin. The priests have stolen valor that is not theirs to claim. No man can forgive sin and no man can claim magic powers of transubstantiation of the flesh in the ridiculous communion ritual. Jesus is not hiding in the wafer, no matter what anyone tells you. People are habitual liars and deniers of truth and common sense. True believers in God will not need to dwell on death, nor consult with the names of dead people in prayer. The state of Limbo between reincarnations is unconscious, much like surgery. The space in between lifetimes is about fourteen months on the average, and humans do not reincarnate through the animal kingdom as Hindu doctrine suggests.

You must accept the biological fact of reincarnation if you wish to apply for Paradise. Heaven is not a right, it is a privilege which must be earned through righteous behavior and thought. Many hypocrites go through the motions, while others depend on good works rather than faith in God and saying daily prayers to thank Allah for life and the treasure of knowledge our God has provided for us.

Tight censorship is the hallmark of a false religion such as Catholicism. Commercial churches purchase media time, they run blogs and magazines, and they monitor information to block out any ideas that conflict with the rubbish they are selling to the public. Catholic schools brainwash their students from Kindergarten to obey the dogma of the trinity, to eat wafers of Jesus as God, and they teach that priests can forgive sin. I never understood why religious people have so many sins to confess to the man in the dress hiding in the dark booth. You should not be sinning in the first place. The masses are fashion show, with parades of old men in pagan fish hats and flowing dresses walking around as if their actions have significance, which they do not. Some Catholics pray only to Mary. The adoration of the faces of Mary or Jesus is idol worship, a mortal sin. No one knows what Jesus or Mary looked like...people must get over their adoration of mythical legends.

Mary is not divine. Jesus is divine as the son of God but does not need adoration, only the approval of the Father. God the Father is the Supreme divine being. I am the true chosen one described in the Dead Sea Scrolls. I am Christ, the soul of light, and Allah sends me where He wills. I have no power of memory other than what God allots me for each lifetime. My final task is to judge all human souls based on all previous reincarnations. The thoughts and deeds will be uploaded into my consciousness on Judgment Day so that I will judge all souls fairly and render to each person according to what they have done.

I have no illusions that rabid Catholics will ever change, so they will be written off as lost souls. The Geneva Rules of War forbids brainwashing, yet the Catholic church and other cults use brainwashing to maintain their grip on the hordes of zealots who need physical god idols. Several countries have succumbed to the mania for a goddess, and they have dedicated their respective countries to the worship of Mary. Praying to Mary is pointless, since only God knows your thoughts. Only God can hear and answer prayers. Mary is not a deity, just an image of a woman holding a helpless baby.

The worship of other gods or entities is strictly forbidden. Those who pray to Mary will not see Heaven. Those who call on the false gods of the trinity will never enter my Kingdom. Traditions of man will not supersede the will of God and the doctrines of truth contained in this book. Throughout history, men have been trying to take the place of God or to hold up a physical idol as a God. Religious leaders constantly convince themselves and others that they have authority from God when they do not have any such authority. I will express God's policies, no one else. I will enforce God's Commandments.

God has anointed me as the sole authority over the nations and over all human souls. I am not only the King of Heaven, but the King of Earth. I am above all rulers and authorities except God. I will always be God's willing slave, soldier, and messenger. I will carry out God's will as it is written. All people must heed the warning I give to you, for no one knows when the Last Day is coming. Everyone must make an effort to be prepared. The End Times is not a time for procrastination. Pray to Allah in the morning and in the evening to thank Him for your existence. If you love God, He will return your love. If you ignore God, He will punish you for being ungrateful.

No one can get to Heaven without my permission. Those who are sent to Hell will stay there forever, in fear, pain, and humiliation. All those who hamper my progress or censor my words will receive severe punishment. I have the full authority of God over all Scripture, and I am responsible for all human souls. I knock only once; those who disobey me will not be forgiven. The Gate to Heaven is very narrow.
