

Where To Find Minecraft Saved Game Files On Mac & Windows

If you or a loved one are a Minecraft user, you may be interested in tracking down game save files on a Mac or Windows PC.

You can save game files to your computer and store them in the cloud. The importance of saving game data is important considering how much time people spend on Minecraft. So, let's dig into where these files are located on Mac and PC.

Minecraft Save Game Files location on Mac OS

On all versions of MacOS and Mac OS X, you can find saved games at the following location:

```
~/Library/Application Support/minecraft
```

To quickly jump to that destination, you can paste the file path into Finder's Go To File command (Command+Shift+G), Spotlight (command+spacebar), or both.

This can also be accessed from Finder. Minecraft servers To do this, pull down the Go menu and hold down Option. Then select "Library" and navigate to "Applications Support" and "Minecraft".

Minecraft Save Game Location on Windows PC

For a Windows PC, you can find the location of Minecraft saved game files at the following location:

```
C:\Users\USERNAME\AppData\Roaming\.minecraft
```

Replacing USERNAME with your user account.

You can also manually navigate to the directory by opening Windows Explorer.

Whether on Mac or PC you can add or remove saved game files into these directories, and they'll be available when you open Minecraft into single player mode.

Happy minecrafting!
