The purpose of the council meeting is to discuss three important issues facing that body.

The first issue involves Tony Costa, proprietor of the concession stand on Pier One who lost his bid to remain in the Navy Yard in Building 10 through a selection process by the National Park Service. Costa will be present as will be representatives of the National Park Service who will explain the reasons for their decision on a concessionaire for the site.

Criteria for the selection of seven organizations that will each delegate a representative to the Neighborhood Council will also be on the agenda.

The third issue is on residential concerns regarding the construction taking place on Chestnut Street.

REMEMBER OUR SHUT-INS AT CHRISTMAS

The "Townie Santa" Committee is seeking the names of needy, elderly Charlestown shut-ins who may benefit from a visit from "Townie Santa" at Christmas.

The committee asks that individuals and organizations submit names by Tuesday, November 4 to allow the selection committee to begin their arduous task. Time is also needed to purchase the items to fill the baskets and to make plans for delivery.

The committee requests that the names of eligible recipients who received a basket last year be re-submitted, as well as the names of any elderly, needy shut-in of whom you may be aware.

Don't assume that someone else will take care of this person - the committee needs the help of everyone.

REAL ESTATE

By Joseph P. Gannon III Century 21 Silva Realty Associates

ESTIMATING CLOSING COSTS

When you buy a home, there are charges in addition to the down payment called "closing costs." These include the "points" you pay on your mortgage loan, state or local transfer taxes, title and hazard insurance, the title search, legal fees and other charges imposed by the lender. These charges vary by state and county, and they are usually a considerable amount of money.

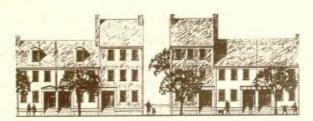

When you begin your search for a new home, your Realtor can give you information about the closing costs for your area, and you can use this to decide how much house you can afford. When you apply for your mortgage loan, the lender is required to provide you with a good faith estimate of what your closing costs will be, and this is usually very close to the actual amount, since you will have a ratified contract with the price and terms of your new home spelled out. Finally, as your settlement day approaches, the attorney handling the paperwork will give you a final figure, and that will be the amount of the check you bring to closing.

For solid advice on buying or selling real estate, consult the professionals at Century 21 Silva Realty Associates. Please call us at 242-7470 or stop by our offices at 142 Main Street in Charlestown.

Each office is independently owned and operated.

Life Behind The Wall

by Ronan FitzPatrick

Informing their clients with a concise pamphlet, the Boston Water and Sewer Commission's "Straight Talk About Rates" detailed the five paramount points for water conservation. Most importantly they hailed that Boston's rate will increase by only 27.8 percent. Prudent fiscal policies allowed BWSC to water down the 44.1 percent increase assessed by the Massachusetts Water Resource Authority. As the waves of appreciation are upon the majority to enjoy, for the minority, don't despair. Problems can be directed to Ronald Catena, BWSC Office of Community Affairs, 425 Summer Street, Boston, 330-9400. Whether you are ranting or raving about rates, the blue and white bulletin is rate free.

Construction is abounding on several streets and avenues, attested to by the concrete trucks. Boston Sand and Gravel truck 139 was finishing its project in front of Dry Dock Two, the anticipated future home of the New England Aquarium. Not to be out produced, McNamara Concrete had trucks 161 and 191 pouring at the Second Avenue development, which is approaching the last stages. The tempo has increased at the southern end of Second Avenue where the members and not the workers were pumping iron.

Business is brisk and brawny as the Ironsides Nautilus continues its grand opening festivities. In their first floor operation, Ironsides has an enormous line of exercise equipment to fit the faint and hearty of heart. It is encouraging to witness the transformation of the vacant buildings into productive economic entities.

"Townie" Joe Hingston shared a concern during the Charlestown Voter Registration Day held at Building 34. What does a visitor do when Mother Nature calls? Public rest rooms are nonexistent to date. Every need has been addressed in this burgeoning area. Why not public rest room facilities? A justifiable expenditure, but who will fund this capital project? The Boston Redevelopment Authority should devise a plan to accomplish Joe's most appropriate suggestion. Once again, input from the masses is sought to make public rest rooms permanent fixtures before the remaining available sites are flushed away.

It wasn't to see the "Phantom of the Opera" that Ruth Duffy was waiting so patiently for in the lobby of the Anchorage last Saturday; instead she was off to see the Boston Opera's afternoon session. A long-time aficionado of the Opera Company, Ruth finally boarded the van from The Ride to her beloved destination, although somewhat tardy. The Ride program has served Ruth and other residents of the Anchorage well. Continued enjoyment, Ruth, in all the arias throughout the season.

Accompanied by tugs Vincent D. Tibbetts, H. J. Reinauer and the Jason Reinauer, the oiler Iver Hawk entered the inner harbor effortlessly. With its soon-to-be deposited contents of winter heating and other oils delivered at Chelsea, the Iver Hawk would once again sail smoothly from port.

Smooth was indeed the word to describe the actions of the staff at the Parris and Billings Buildings on Charlestown Voter Registration Day, October 8. Navy Yard Plaza Associates, which operates both facilities, deserves praise for the granting of the foyer to register eligible voters for the national election on Tuesday, November 8. Assisting the voters was the affable security team of Frank Connolly and Tom Hickey. Longtime "Townies," Frank and Tom were a great help and most entertaining. They made the day enjoyable for Boston Election Registrar Kathleen Twoomey Dubarno, who demonstrated her expertise in election law to the grateful satisfaction of the newly registered. At Building 34, two former Colorado residents registered, one from Boulder and the other from Steamboat Springs, both areas known for their superb winter skiing. Kathleen was looking forward to the warmer weather for sun and water skiing in good old New England. As honorary chairman, my thanks to the many participants who increased Charlestown's voting rolls 公立公立

Off First Avenue at Pier 4, the newly established water shuttle boat is transporting its maximum of 30 passengers to Long Wharf for a fare of $1, operating every half-hour between 6:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. during the week and on the weekends between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Under the direction of the State's Department of Public Works and managed by Boston Harbor Cruises this service at a great price is hassle free. Heralded to be the link to downtown, the shuttle arrived at the right time.

Proud Of Our Native Sons

Dear Gloria,

Thank you for your very fine coverage of local news. The issue of October 6 was especially heartwarming with the news of the Bunker Hill Council 62, Knights of Columbus' newly elected officers and the retiring Grand Knight Tom White. These men are certainly representative of Charlestown's young men.

The incoming officers, Bill Boyle and Paul Herrick, pictured with Tom and Ed Lynch, bring a burst of pride. These are men who "grew up" in this town, men who continue to work for their neighbors and friends. Good luck and continued success to them, and may I add, special congratulations to Dodie and Bill.

Please, keep this good little newspaper coming. Sincerely yours, Agnes O'Neil

Many Thanks

Many thanks to all my friends for remembering my birthday and making it such a special event.

Costa Responds To Burchill Letter

60 College Avenue Arlington, MA 02174 October 17, 1988

Gloria Conway, Editor The Charlestown Patriot

Dear Mrs. Conway,

I am writing in response to the letter published in your "Letters to the Editor" column of October 6, 1988 from Superintendent Burchill of the Boston National Historical

I agree with the Superintendent that a newspaper is not the appropriate place to debate specific aspects of the proposal submitted by me; however, I feel that I must respond to clarify statements made by him in his letter. It is true

The Aquarium Must Stand Or Fall On Its Own

Steve McHugh is absolutely correct when he states in his recent letter that after eight long months of study, a report was the product of the Planning and Zoning Committee/Panel originally set up to work on an IPOD for Charlestown. The committee/panel concentrated its efforts in the Navy Yard. An amendment was added to the report requiring some flexibility in order to insure that the cap suggested by the BRA proposal was attainable. The amendment was added so that those council members concerned with the issues of community benefits, affordable homes, moderate rentals, jobs and linkage funds directed to Charlestown would not be compromised by voting for the report. The vote for the report and the amendment stands!

I am, frankly, perplexed by Steve's position that in order for the council to take up the issue of the proposed aquarium the report should be cast aside, and the level of development at Yards End should be reduced to accommodate an aquarium. It would appear he is taking two opposing positions at the same time.

It is my feeling that the aquarium must stand or fall on its own merits. I say this even while taking the position that the aquarium is probably, next to our historical treasures. one of the most prestigious prizes we could have in Char-

If the issues raised by the aquarium cannot be resolved or mitigated, then the proposal should fail. I can assure Steve and anyone else concerned with the efforts of the Planning and Zoning Committee/Panel that their report stands as voted upon, and as long as I serve on the council I will fight any efforts to change it.

It is my personal intent to support the effort to bring the aquarium to Charlestown. I will add, however, that I would not be supportive if the aquarium comes at the expense of those community benefits spelled out in the committee/panel

Again, let me state that I believe that the aquarium must stand or fall alone, and any benefits to Charlestown must be in addition to the benefits already fought for in the committee/panel process.

> Sincerely, Dennis McLaughlin

that my proposal indicated that in order to efficiently operate the facility, and justify the large costs to be expended by the concessionaire, certain matters needed to be addressed. We therefore requested that several items be considered or reconsidered with respect to the revised statement of requirements. These requests were made after much time, effort and expense for expert advice on the total proposed operation, and after discussions with Park officials who stated that these items were reasonable requests and could be negotiated with the Park Service. None of the requests were unreasonable for an operation such as the contemplated one. To specifically address the Superintendent's points:

1. With respect to the matter of public rest rooms, because the Park Service insists that the present structure be preserved as it exists, access to the building will be limited. In order to provide the rest room facilities, members of the public would be required to congregate in the entrance area, thus disrupting the operation of the food service. And yes, we do feel that sufficient facilities are available.

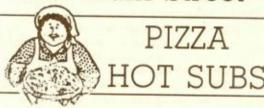

2. The Superintendent quoted a portion of my proposal indicating that for the operation to be successful, the Park Service should prohibit any competing business in the Yard area. He failed to quote the rest of our statement which stated, "with the exception of special events where outside catering by the sponsor of the event will be permitted." A great deal of expense will be required to establish and maintain the food service; we feel that the Park Service should make a commitment to the concessionaire not to allow competition within the Park. Again, if the concessionaire is willing to make such a substantial commitment to the Park, it does not appear to be unreasonable to ask the Park Service to support the concessionaire in his efforts.

I apologize for the length of this letter, but this entire enterprise is of vital importance to me and the proposal was the result of a tremendous amount of in-depth study and research by myself and by experts hired by me. The operation of the food service requires the very best management by people whose every action is governed by the answer to the question . . . Will this be a good reflection on the Navy Yard and the Charlestown community? I have for over 40 years conducted myself according to that principle and I feel that my experience and dedication to the community and to the Navy Yard should have been considered in the evaluation process.

> Very truly yours, Anthony J. Costa

Question 4's electricity shutdown would be expensive – economically and environmentally

ECONOMIC COSTS

Question 4 would:

Cut off nearly 20 percent of our in-state power supply-forcing expensive power shortages.

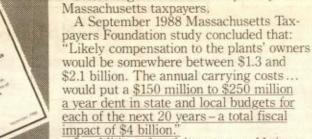

Our state already faces the prospect of serious electricity shortages this winter.

Question 4's shutdown would cut off over 4 billion kilowatt-hours of electricity annually – nearly 20 percent of our in-state power supply – and make our electricity supply problems even worse.

Cost taxpayers and ratepayers billions of dollars.

If Question 4 passes, the State of Massachusetts would have to pay for the arbitrary shutdown of the power plants.

These huge costs would be paid by

In addition, electricity rates would rise to pay for the high costs of replacement power.

Cause thousands of Massachusetts workers to lose their jobs.

Question 4's shutdown would cause the more than 1,000 men and women who work at the plants to immediately lose their jobs.

The increased electric bills and taxes that would result from the shutdown would increase business costs and damage our state's economy – putting thousands of other Massachusetts jobs at risk.

ENVIRONMENTAL COSTS

Question 4 would:

Increase oil and coal burning: adding as much as 44 million pounds of sulfur dioxide and 7 billion pounds of carbon dioxide into the air every year.

If our state's nuclear electricity plants are closed, most of the replacement power would come from oil and coal plants.

By forcing this switch to oil and coal burning, Question 4 would add to already serious air and water pollution problems – including ozone pollution, acid rain, and the global warming Greenhouse Effect.

Increase Acid Rain.

Sulphur dioxide pollution is a major cause of acid rain – which is destroying our lakes and streams, and agricultural and forest resources.

Question 4 would lead to increased sulfur dioxide pollution, making our acid rain problems even worse.

Add to the Greenhouse Effect.

By forcing a switch to oil and coal, Question 4 would increase the carbon dioxide emissions that are creating the global warming Greenhouse Effect – a problem which could have worldwide environmental impacts. As the Boston Globe stated in an August 15, 1988 editorial: "If (Massa-

As the Boston Globe stated in an August 15, 1988 editorial: "If (Massachusetts' nuclear electricity plants) were replaced by fossil-fuel plants the emission of gases that cause acid rain, as well as the warming of the atmosphere would be increased by 15 percent – at a time when every effort should be made to reduce such emissions."

Question 4 would permanently shut down the generation of electric power by Massachusetts' nuclear electricity plants.

The Last Ride Up The Ramp

An inspiration - a suggestion - a reality.

That was the progression of events over a 24-hour period last week when North Area Task Force (NATF) Co-Chairman Ken Stone came up with the idea that Charlestown residents should be in the last cars up the Park Street on-ramp. This connector to the Central Artery and I-93 would be closed forever on Wednesday, October 12 as part of the Central Artery North Area (CANA) roadway reconstruction project with the ramps being replaced with a tunnel system under City Square.

Stone made the suggestion to Massachusetts Department of Public Works (MDPW) Commissioner Jane Garvey at the christening of the expanded water shuttle at Pier Four in the Charlestown Navy Yard on Tuesday noon. She thought it was a great idea and told Stone to talk to MDPW Community Liaison David Flanagan.

Flanagan questioned the feasibility of such an activity but went to work on the suggestion and, with the cooperation of engineers on the CANA project, it became a reality.

Stone made arrangements for a video camera and a car with a sunroof, called various residents who have been involved with the CANA project over the years and even ordered a bunch of balloons to be attached to the last car.

Flanagan stated that the on-ramp closed officially at 11:30 a.m. on October 12 and demolition of the structure began immediately. He requested that the demolition efforts be slowed and, according to Flanagan, the engineers were most cooperative and even moved construction equipment and barriers to allow the "last cars" to ascend the ramp. So, promptly at 12:30 p.m. on Wednesday, October 12, the three-car entourage met at City Square. Stone, standing in the first car to record the event through the open sunroof, along with Steve Ozer and Muffy Fuller, led the procession, followed by Annette Tecce and Dan Kovacevic in the second car. The third car, which won the balloons was driven by Gloria Conway and carried Kay Whelan, Elaine Mc-Carthy and David Flana-

The cars passed the barriers, continued past the demolition in progress and up onto the Artery connector, parking just before the roadway turned onto the Central Artery - an area where most have spent time just sitting in traffic.

Workmen were in the process of removing the signage from the roadway and demolition of one of the overpasses was progressing at a rapid rate. The group took the opportunity to view the new temporary detour structure and took photographs of the demolition and City Square from this unique vantage point.

Before the small motorcade made their way onto I-93 and back into Charlestown, each gathered a souvenir from the ramp - a variety of coins, small metal pieces and even a pair of

The Park Street on-ramp will be only a memory in a short while as the MDPW expects it to be demolished within two weeks.

Much of City Square will be opened up within the next six to eight weeks with the demolition of most of the overhead ramps in that area. This will be the first time since the elevated transit system was constructed at the turn of the century that there will be no overhead ramps in the square.

During this six to eight week period, a relocated Gray Street off-ramp from the Tobin Bridge will be created. This will replace the Henley Street off-ramp, which will subsequently be demolished. MDPW's Flanagan stated that the Henley Street off-ramp will remain open until the Gray Street off-ramp is in place and that there will always be access to Charlestown from the bridge.

Several engineers from the CANA project were NATF for "thinking of this most helpful in arranging the "last ride up the ramp." These include CANA Coordinator Paul Carr, Traffic Engineer Terry Smith, Resident Engineer for the Temporary Detour Bill Rogers, who allowed the event to happen, assisted by Resident Engineer on the Early Viaduct Contract Tony Petronio.

Flanagan expressed thanks to Stone and the great idea." He added, "It let community residents share in this history-making

Stone and the participants are now serving notice to the MDPW that last residents traveling up the onramp would like to be the first residents through the new tunnels. Stone will even order another bunch of balloons!

by Charlie McGonagle

The past is not a place in which any of us should permanently reside, but it is certainly a place where we should have the privilege of visiting when we so desire.

When I see the girls, young women now, I hope desperately for their future, and thank them deeply for the past. The memories they have personally sculpted into my bank of remembrances were not taken from the shelves of even the most exclusive of stores, for they are precious and far too valuable to carry a price.

Each contribution is draped in its own significance, and some come more readily to mind than others, but none, good or bad, can ever be totally erased by time. At any moment, and in any place, a simple sound, scent, song or sight may spark a memory that for some time has been buried deep within one's self. And it is at these moments that we take time to travel into time gone by to taste the sweetness of a once worn smile or the bitterness of tears once shed.

Revere Beach with its cold, tumbling waves tossing two laughing little girls shoreward, the mother looking on cautiously, while peanut butter and jelly sandwiches patiently awaited the swimmers.

A long planned trip to New Hampshire's Polar Caves, which resulted in a near panic when both girls refused to test the Orange Crush or the Lemon Squeeze and had to be carried down the face of the granite wall by a strong-armed ranger.

A week at a resort which included pony rides as part of the babysitting services. Perhaps they remember nothing else about the week, but both remember Sue and the ponies

A year of saving bills and coins in a bank, a replica of a large life saver roll, to be used in financing a trip to Disneyland. There were quiet trips to their bedroom to make secret contributions to the cause.

The young voices chanting, "We did it, we did it!" and the joy and satisfaction they shared when the donations were tallied and found to be enough.

The ride on Space Mountain which I coaxed my reluctant daughter into taking, and the genuine fear she suffered both during and after the experience. Even now, these many years later, I can close my eyes and feel her trembling and hear her crying. Time does not make me feel better about this.

The many summers we shared at a lakeside cottage, which came to-us in an inexplicable and extremely fortunate fashion. There I could watch them enjoy the pleasures of growing toward adulthood while sharing their childhood times.

All the times when "yes" would have been so easy to say, but "no" was the more difficult but wiser answer.

Wondering why a ride to New Hampshire was so quiet,

Wondering why a ride to New Hampshire was so quiet, only to discover, upon arrival, that two brand new pairs of sneakers had been tossed out the back window.

Summer nights at the drive-in movies when the back of a Volkswagen squareback served nicely as a bed while Ma and Dad enjoyed the picture.

The aftermath of the Blizzard of 1978 when pictures were taken of two little girls touching the roof's edge from the top of a snowbank.

The terrible, sick feeling of helplessness when the voice at the other end of the phone says, "There's been an accident"

The incredible feeling of relief when, after driving to the hospital late at night, the doctor greets you with, "She was very lucky. It is nothing serious."

How suddenly the little girls became women on high school prom night.

Wondering if they were really ready to drive a car. Fighting back a tear at high school graduation exercises. Just hearing the work "Dad" from either of them.

The horror of hearing a smoke alarm and screaming at 6:30 a.m. on a cold December morning. The absolute terror of finding one daughter's bed afire, the result of a faulty electric blanket, and finding her cowered against the headboard attempting to fight the flames with a bedspread.

The feeling of gratitude when a few minor burns and a broken wrist were weighed against what might have been.

Leaving two young girls and their mother in a barn-red cottage one morning, and returning later that evening to find three smiling faces and a freshly painted yellow cottage.

A fantastic day at a place called "Wet and Wild,"

Greeting cards on special days which carried words that were sometimes difficult to say.

Arguing over who would be the one to go to the store for Ma or Dad when both were young and just recently placed with that responsibility.

Arguing over who would be the one to go to the store for Ma and Dad when both were much older and had better things to do.

"Wake me when the girls get in," the mother would say. "Why?" she would be asked.

"So I can sleep," she would answer.

Wondering where they were spending all their money while forgetting that a slice of pizza now costs more than the entire pie of our day, and the price of a pair of today's sneakers rivals a week's pay of other times.

Thinking of the relaxation provided by the family's designated head and back scratcher.

The sad look of disbelief on two small faces when somebody stole a carefully carved jack-o-lantern from the steps.

Being upset when forced to come to the rescue of one whose car had run out of gas, only to melt when met with, "I'm sorry, Dad."

Feeling, no, knowing, that the raft was much too far off shore for her to swim, but being proven very wrong.

The summer when one girl was the best pitcher of the group, which included both boys and girls.

Another summer when the girl's division of a local Labor Day road race was captured.

College, and wondering if it would ever end.

College, and wondering how it could go by so quickly. I have been taken through all of this by them. It is here where we now stand, and it is from here that I would wish them to continue, so that on another day I may once again reflect on what they have given me.

After 10 months of untiring work by the Boston Fire Department's Fire Investigation Unit, the arsonist arrested for the $250,000 fire at the Charlestown Headstart Program building in Hayes Square, was convicted and sentenced to six to eight years, at a hearing held at Suffolk Superior Court on October 12.

Brenda Stangle, a 23year-old South Boston resident, was found guilty of causing the devastating fire that totally demolished the classrooms in the three-story building at 23 Moulton Street on December 17, 1987. Stangle had confessed to the crime but refused to reveal the names of her accomplices. Her sentence was suspended due to her allegation of being two months pregnant, but the court ordered her to submit to a bi-monthly urine analysis for drug and alcohol testing and continue to receive counseling. Failure to pass the urine test or to appear for counseling would force Stangle to fulfill her sentence at Framingham State Prison.

The arson investigation was conducted by Inspector John O'Sullivan and Lieutenant Henry Hickey of the Fire Investigation Unit (Arson Squad). The investigators started in the early morning hours of December 17 by searching through the ashes of the burnt out building for evidence. They were joined by detectives from the Boston Police Department, Robert McAleese and Lieutenant Ray O'Keefe. These four men went door-to-door and interviewed residents and staff members of the program in search for leads to an arrest. A telephone number was published in the Patriot for anyone to call with information. Through these efforts, all leads were followed until the arrest was

The building at Haves Square still remains vacant and devastated by the fire. An estimated $1 million has been raised, but an additional $300,000 is needed to restore the building to meet all the required codes.

At the present time, many students of the Headstart Program are at home and receiving visitations from their teachers. One program is in operation at the Baptist Church which can accommodate 20 children for day care purposes.

It is expected that by the first week of November, 80 children will be allowed to attend classes at Saint Catherine's School, where space has been made available for them. This program will include four classes - two Headstart classes and two day care classes. The Flatley Company had provided space for the program at their Sullivan Square facility until June 30. This space is now being utilized by their own day care facility.

According to Kate Mc-Donough, director of the Kennedy Center, work on the Hayes Square Building is expected to begin in midwinter with a completion date of June 1. The process of raising the additional funds continues.

The scars will not be fully healed until all the children displaced by the fire are back in their classrooms and receiving, once again, the early childhood educational advantages that were once available to them.

Matt O'Neil Senior Hockey League

League Anxiously Awaits MDC Rink Early Season Opening!

by Bernie "Scoop" Kelly

With the advent of winter approaching, it appears the powers-to-be are hedging about opening the MDC Rink a few weeks ahead of schedule as they do in some of the surrounding towns. It seems unfair since we have a healthy youth program biting at the bit to commence Charlestown's youth hockey just as our nearby neighbors, who deemed the early opening of their rink for their youth hockey program a must. Well, so do we. Therefore, fairplay should be fairplay at all MDC Rinks!

Our League Commissioner, Eddie 'LeBaron' Johnson, and the entire staff of the Senior Hockey League bid a hearty welcome to our 5th Annual Senior Hockey League season players joining the league for the first time. They're about to engage in classy semi-pro hockey that is loaded with many high school and college all-stars, who are still capable of lighting the light and still possess the quick moves they showed during their haydays at their alma maters. They're proving that this experience of earlier days still works, that is until we see what the new blood, or the younger players, have to offer. Alas, experience against youth will be the real test — are you ready "old ones?"

Needless to say, the "older players" are bordering on the "blubs" or "blimps" catergories, while the younger, more muscular players are snickering among themselves. They're watching the "paunchies"
putting on their skates ...
tsk, tsk, those poor "paunchies." No names please.
We must protect the "aged,"
right "Mugsy?"

The scuttlebutt coming from the younger less salty, less experienced new "Bush Players," or as they say "Rookies," is full of fire and brimstone. In clear cut tones they're loudly predicting that the "Man'ly Cup" will change hands this coming season, for sure, indicating last year's "Champions" will need a "miracle" to reclaim it. Two years in a row. Wow, those used to be be fighting words to certain players, (right, "Mugsy?"). Unless they lose their "love handles" in time to stay on top of the league "the die is cast!"

The word is out "Champs," the vibes are there. Sounds like these "Bush Players" mean business. Boy, oh, boy whatever happened to respect for your fellow players? These "Rookies" are still wet behind the ears, and here they are pushing their weight around, making these tall predictions, taking the "older guys" for granted. They must think the extra weight around the midriffs of last year's "Champions" is a mark of the "Over the Hill Gang" who still play at Rink 3, Saugus. You know, guys like Richie Maxwell Smart, the "Dinosaur," and Timmy, the Barrister, aka "Cheap Shot," along with the "Bruiser," who finally came back to the fold, etc. They should not be taken for granted because, remember, these guys have plenty of experience, and they have the moves. So, vou "Bush Leaguers," beware. Don't take them lightly. They're the "Champs."

Just my opinion, "Scoop!"

NOTICE

As of this writing the unofficial date of the MDC Rink opening is still November 5, unless we hear otherwise. Remember to read the Patriot Sportsline, which will carry any changes to the contrary should they occur!

DUES

All dues will be paid

($100) before any player is allowed to play a league game.

CHANGES

The league's team names will change this year from the Crusaders, Huskies, Eagles and Terriers to the Irish Rebels, Black & Tans, Colonial Boys and Baron's Bullys for some added color to our fine Senior League.

REMEMBER

Full uniform to play and get your skates sharpened early!

East Boston Tops Charlestown In Battle Of Undefeated

by Bob DeCristoforo

There is a big game every week, but this week was the biggest game to date for our Charlestown High Football team.

The opponent was undefeated East Boston, and the young men from the other side of the Tunnel went home still undefeated with a 22-12 win.

No, our guys didn't roll over and play dead, and it took a superlative effort by Eastie in the fourth quarter to win it.

Tommy Allen's 13-yard touchdown pass to John Crilley put Charlestown ahead early in the second quarter, but Eastie tied it before halftime as Troy Parks went in from the 28 yard line.

After a scoreless third quarter, dominated by some healthy defensive play on both sides, East Boston's offense got back on track.

Two fourth quarter touchdowns, another by Parks and the third by East Boston Quarterback Dexter Young with less than two minutes to go, put the game out of reach. A key Parks' interception was the game football buster.

Charlestown got on the board one more time as Allen threw his second touchdown pass of the day, again to Crilley, from the 36.

Today, Thursday, October 20, Charlestown will be hosting Dorchester.

Columbus Rally Falls Short

by Kevin "Hoop" Kelly The Christopher Colum-

the Christopher Columbus girls volleyball team couldn't pull off another miracle comeback and lost 2-1 to a determined Saint Patrick's of Watertown. The Lady Friars were repeatedly foiled and had to earn their points with hustling play.

Saint Patrick's (4-4) took set one 15-11. Sophomores Theresa Frawley and Alicia Fay played well for Columbus. CC bounced back in set two, winning 15-7. Senior captain Sharon Fidler of Charlestown (game high eight points) and Frawley (seven points) were solid. Saint Patrick's showed tremendous poise as Columbus mounted numerous great volleys. The opponents perseverance paid off to the tune of a 9-2 lead in the third set.

Undaunted and having won two previous games under much more adversity, CC responded with a Fidler seven-point serve to tie the game at 9-9. However, that was to be it for the Friar offense as Saint Patrick's won the set and game 15-9. Sophomores Josephine Barriero and Fay (seven points) played great. Coach Jack Torosian hopes Columbus can cause a stir in the Catholic Suburban (Large) League since the next four games are against division foes.

Surplus Food Distribution

Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD) and the Kennedy Center announce that the Surplus Food Program, a federally funded distribution of FREE dairy food products for income-eligible Charlestown residents, will take place in Charlestown on Wednesday. November 2. Due to federal funding cuts, only butter, flour and dried milk will be distributed. The Charlestown distribution will be at the Saint Catherine School Hall, Tufts Street, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Fuel Assistance Alert!

The ABCD Fuel Assistance program will begin November 1. Applications are being accepted at the Kennedy Center, 27 Winthrop Street.

Due to budget cuts in the program at the federal level, the hours available for filing an application have been reduced this year. Applications can be filed on Tuesday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. and on Thursday from 2 to 4 p.m. each week starting in November. You are encouraged to call first and make an appointment.

These same budget cuts have resulted in other program changes: the program will not begin until November 1 and will end on March 31, 1989. Benefits will also be less than in previous years.

If you are an AFDC, General Relief, Social Security, or Supplemental Security (SSI) recipient, and were eligible for fuel assistance last year, you will receive a fuel assistance application in the mail. Be sure to read and follow the instructions included with that mailed application. If you have any questions about how to complete the application call Denise Maher at the Kennedy Center, 241-8866.

If you think that you may qualify for fuel assistance or if you qualified last year and received wages as income you must bring the following to the Kennedy Center: four weeks of income documentation, a current heating bill and one month paid rent receipt or mortgage statement. Homeowners should also bring tax and water bills.

The federal guidelines for eligibility are as follows:

Household Size	Total Yearly Income	Household Size	Total Yearly Income
1	$10,098	5	$20,415
2	$13,528	6	$23,355
3	$14,535	7	$26,295
