ROSA CLARA

Lace embroidery with floral motifs, touches of precious stones and sensational backlines are the key elements of the new bridal collection from Rosa Clará for 2015, a collection inspired by women's sensuality and defined by four key lines: The first line is made up of long flowing dresses with romantic embroidered details on sheer tulle and subtle touches of precious stones. Narrow skirts combine with wonderful bodices, revealing spectacular backlines which add simplicity and elegance.

PATRICIA AVENDANO

GLAMOUR is the term that Patricia Avendaño feels best describes this new collection, which is made up of creations in which the design and the fabrics are combined to obtain the best results. There is a common denominator in all her dresses, a particular essence that differentiates and highlights them, but within this philosophy, in which the quality of the dressmaking and the care taken in the selection of fabrics is vital, there is a feeling of plurality that makes them appeal to a different public.
