A ribbon cutting ceremony was held last week to dedicate a new basketball court in the Bunker Hill Housing Project. For the most part, the ceremony was routine, complete with ribbon, public officials and people but the story behind the ceremony was unique and moving, because it was a lesson in determination.

"We got the satisfaction that we can accomplish something; that with a little cooperation, we will 'give', if someone else is willing to also," said Danny Callahan, one of 17 youths who are responsible for getting the court built in the Corey Street/Walford Way area.

It took nearly three months to see the dedication finally take place and it took plenty of hard work by the boys and girls ranging in ages 17 to 20.

Initially, the boys approached members of the Tenant Task Force and asked about their idea. With the help of Martha Jones and Tom Jackson, the youths then presented their idea to Project Manager Joe McNamara. Meetings then took place with Boston Housing Authority Officials Robert Gilmore and Harry Spence who all thought the idea was great but unsure about its feasibility.

The youths wrote a proposal to more formally present their idea. Said Charlie Clabaugh of the Kennedy Center, who helped steer the teenagers, "They

Nelson Named Director Of School Volunteers For Boston

Mrs. Betsy Atwood Nelson has been named Executive Director of School Volunteers for Boston, Inc., according to Edward Leitz, Vice President, Prudential Life Insurance Co. and Chairman of the Board of School Volunteers for Boston, Inc.

Mrs. Nelson will assume her new duties with the private, non-profit agency on Sept. 1, 1981. She succeeds Mrs. Isabel G. Besecker, who is retiring after serving as Director for the past 12 years. A total of 2,853 volunteers assisted teachers in the Boston schools during the past school year. Volunteers tutor reading, math and English as a Second Language, assist in classrooms and school libraries, help with art, music, science and drama, give career education, special enrichment and oral history presentations and help with many special projects.

A former staff member of School Volunteers for Boston, Mrs. Nelson has just completed a two-year term as President of the Junior League of Boston, Inc., where she guided the efforts of 1500 volunteers working on 22 direct service projects. She has worked in Boston for 10 years and has focused on urban needs and community involvement.

Mrs. Nelson initiated and developed WIRE, the Women's Referral and Education Service of the Junior League. A major WIRE component is the Women's Van which visits many neighborhood locations throughout the Boston community each year to provide extensive information on available community resources including education and job opportunities, consumer and legal rights, health care and elderly services. Human service providers in each community work closely with Junior League volunteers in compiling resource information and in staffing the van.

WIRE components also include seminars and workshops, a 24-hour answering service and newsletters. Hyde Park, Jamaica Plain, Roxbury, Charlestown, Roslindale and Allston-Brighton are among the communities WIRE serves. The program services 15,000 people each year and often becomes a catalyst to start new community programs.

Mrs. Nelson also helped found the Charlestown Community Center through the Junior League. In addition to serving as Chairman of the Center and overseeing staff, budget, volunteers and directing fund raising, she also taught several courses at the Center including high school equivalency for adults. She developed the initial Board of Directors for the Center which is now an independent, non-profit agency servicing adults and pre-school children.

She was Chairman of the Boston School Fund Board from 1975 to 1977 and currently is on the Board of Boston Children's Service Association, the Advocacy Committee of the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities and the Boston Committee for Older Americans. She has also served on the boards of the Fenn School, Nashoba Brooks School and Concord Academy.

A graduate of Wheaton College, Norton, MA., she has served on the board of the Alumnae Association and developed the Career Assistance Program for both alumnae and students. The career program has become a model for similar programs at other colleges.

"Betsy Nelson has a strong sense of community involvement in a practical, grassroots manner. She is a well-balanced individual with an alert and caring attitude. She came highly recommended from diverse sections of the Boston community," according to Edward Leitz, who headed the Search Committee for the SVB Director.

Mrs. Nelson and her husband, Charles Peter Nelson, a doctor of veterinary medicine, and their two children live in Harvard, MA.

Seniors Receive Bargain Fare On MBTA

In response to overwhelming demand for Senior Citizen and Special Needs MBTA ID's, General Manager James F. O'Leary has ordered additional staff and equipment at the Washington Street Station Photo ID Office.

He said, "We are very pleased our senior riders are responding so enthusiastically to our new off-peak no fare discount. We normally process 75-100 ID's daily, but since this new discount was introduced, we have been processing over 600 daily."

In order to make applicants as comfortable as possible, the MBTA has provided chairs and benches to make the waiting easier at the Senior Citizen/Special Needs Office. O'Leary has also arranged for the Photo ID Unit to visit suburban localities in the next few weeks to register applicants closer to their homes.

O'Leary added, "We want to make this process as easy as possible, but we need everyone's cooperation. Applicants who live outside Boston should wait for our photo ID Unit to visit their area. This will make it easier for them to obtain their discount ID and eliminate some of the waiting that is occurring at our office at Washington Station Concourse in Downtown Boston."

Any person 65 years of age or older, who lives in the MBTA District is eligible for a photo ID which allows a free ride between 9:30 a.m. and 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, and a half-fare ride at all other times. Senior citizens, special needs and handicapped applicants who live outside the MBTA District are entitled to a half-fare only identification card.

Internship Office Prepares For Students' Return

August signals the last month of summer vacation and the return of thousands of students to their apartments and dormitories. As colleges and universities gear themselves for the first day of classes, so does the Mass. Internship Office.

Presently underway at the Internship Office is their annual update. This happens each summer so that all the internships listed for the coming academic year are current.

The Mass. Internship Office, located in the State House, is a referral agency and clearinghouse for students seeking the chance to apply their academic studies in a professional setting.

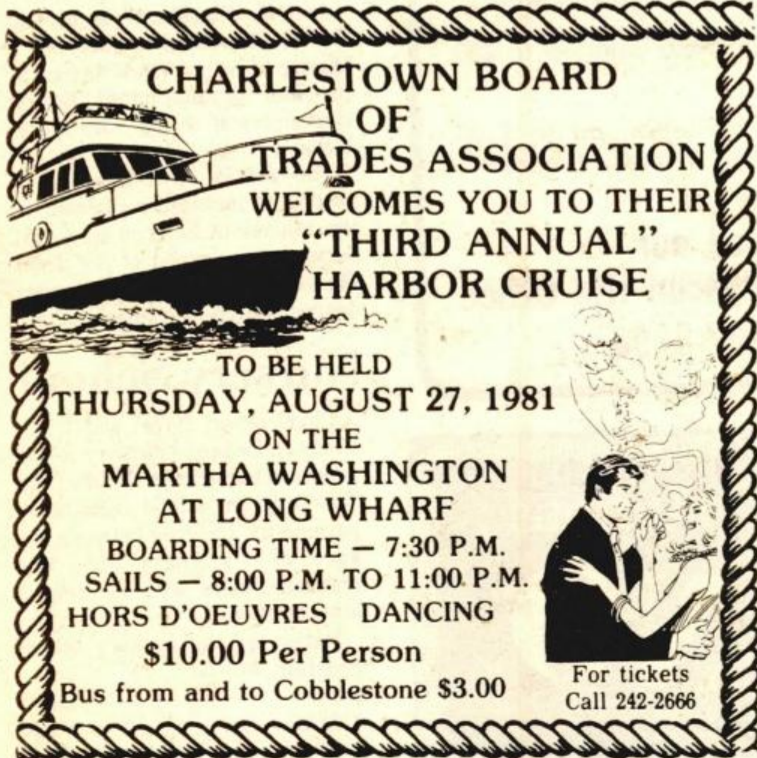

"We list opportunities in nine different interest areas," notes the director of the Office, Nancy Spadorcia. "By the end of August we will have all 450 internship positions updated." She adds, "among the most popular are positions in law and government,

Renters May Recover Fuel Benefits

Renters may now be able to recover up to $600 of fuel benefits from the winter before last.

As the result of a recent court decision, the Renters Assistance Program for the winter of 1979-80, administered locally by Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD), has been "reopened" as Project RECAP.

This new payment program means that renters are eligible for retroactive fuel assistance payments for a period from October 1, 1979 to June 30, 1980. Individuals and families whose heat was included in their rent between these dates may now be eligible to receive a cash reimbursement of up to 35 percent of the total rental expenses for that period, to a limit of $600.

ABCD, one of 24 Project RECAP sponsors in the state, is responsible for identifying qualified renters from Boston, Brookline, Dedham, Needham, Newton and Waltham.

The civil suit, filed after last year's fuel assistance program ended, claimed that the state fuel assistance plan did not adequately provide for renters whose heat was included in the rent. During the winter of 1979-80, renters who paid for their heat indirectly were at first not able to receive assistance of any kind. This was the result of an oversight in the program guidelines, and it meant that many people did not receive heating assistance money until April. It also meant that many who applied for heating assistance during the coldest winter months were denied benefits.

The state was ordered, by the court's decision, to remedy the situation by paying renters for the portion of rent money spent on heat, using a formula to determine that amount in the absence of itemized bills. To find eligible tenants, all fuel assistance agencies in Massachusetts were required to reopen the 1979-80 program.

To qualify, applicants must have been renters at some time between October 1, 1979 and June 30, 1980, with heat included in their rent. They must not have been living in public housing or receiving rent subsidies. In addition, they must be able to prove that their income, based on family size, does not exceed 125 percent of the poverty level. The federal guidelines are as follows: for one person, less than $4,738; for a family of two, less than $6,263; three, $7,788; four, $9,313; and for five, less than $10,938. Renters may be eligible for assistance even if they are not renting the same place now.

Residents of Charlestown can apply at Charlestown NEC, 27 Winthrop Street, (241-8866) from 8:30 to 4:30 p.m., or they can call Project RECAP at 426-8919 for the address and phone number of the nearest intake site. Project RECAP staff can explain the program in greater detail, assist with completing the application, and provide additional information.

Actual payment and processing of applications will be handled by the Montachusett Opportunity Council in Fitchburg. Tenants are encouraged to apply immediately.

Footlight Parade To Light Up Boston's Theatre Season

In 1978 it was hailed as "The Party of the Year." In 1981, it might well be the Party of the Century!

The Third Annual Footlight Parade, a benefit for the Boston Theatre District, will be held this year at the Boston Park Plaza Hotel in Park Square on Friday, October 2nd.

Beginning at 9 p.m. when the house lights go up, guests costumed as their favorite personalities will be the stars of the evening as they promenade before a panel of celebrity judges to compete for prizes. The celebrity judges include John Brenner, popular Post Gazette columnist, and the ubiquitous Martin Slobodkin.

According to Smoki Bacon of Bacon Concannon Associates, coordinators of the event, "This Footlight Parade will be the most exciting of all. A special added attraction this year is Quincy born actress Lee Remick, who will be the guest of honor. She will be the recipient of the first annual Boston Theatre District Award given by the Planning Committee.

"The purpose of the celebration is two fold. It will salute the start of the 1981-1982 theatre season and will serve to heighten awareness of the performing arts in Boston."

Because the most important part of any theatrical performance is the audience, the event was conceived to include the public. Everyone is encouraged to be a celebrity for the evening, either in formal attire or costumed as their favorite stage and film personalities. Two full piece dance orchestras will add to the gala atmosphere of the evening.

Tax deductible tickets are $20 each and are available by calling 536-1448 or by writing Footlight Parade, P.O. Box 246, Boston MA 02199. Tickets are limited and will be sold on a first come-first served basis. All proceeds will be used for the beautification of Boston's historic theatre district.

Internships

communications, and environmental affairs. Some students do an internship for the experience and others are able to get academic credit from their schools."

Nowadays, most students are familiar with the concept of an internship but have no idea how to arrange for one. Established in 1972, this state agency has been a counseling center for interns for nearly a decade.

Anyone interested should call the Internship Office for an appointment at 727-8688. Participation in the internship program is on a volunteer basis and most positions require about 12 to 15 hours per week.

Nursery School

Charlestown Boys' and Girls' Clubs announces a nursery school program to begin on October 5th. This program will be available to parents for children between the ages of 3-5 years old. The program hours will be from 9 a.m. to noon.

Rates for the nursery school program will be:

5 days	$16.75
3 days	$12.50
2 days	$9.00

Registration fee will be $10.00. As a result of a recent mailing to the Charlestown residents, a proposed day care center was scuttled. Only a handful of families indicated a definite interest in an eight hour day care program. The planned morning nursery school will help those parents who want some structured activity for their children in a supervised group setting.

To register your child for the nursery school program, or to get more information, please call the Club at 242-1775, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Adult Film Program

The Adult Films Program will present "Kes" on Monday, August 24, 1981 at 2 p.m. at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street.

This story of an English boy's discovery of a small hawk and his subsequent training of the bird is a moving portrayal of the maturing process.

CONGRATULATIONS, BOSTON. You built a fine school system.

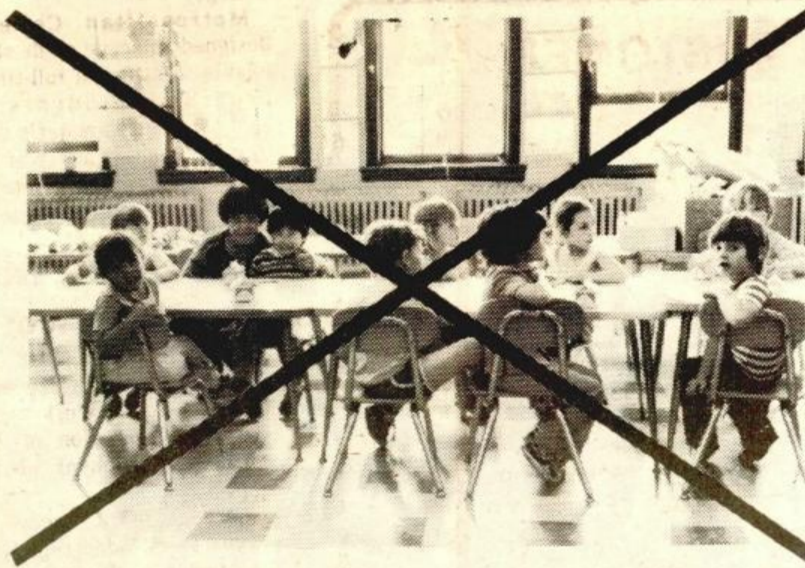

NOW IT'S BEING DESTROYED.

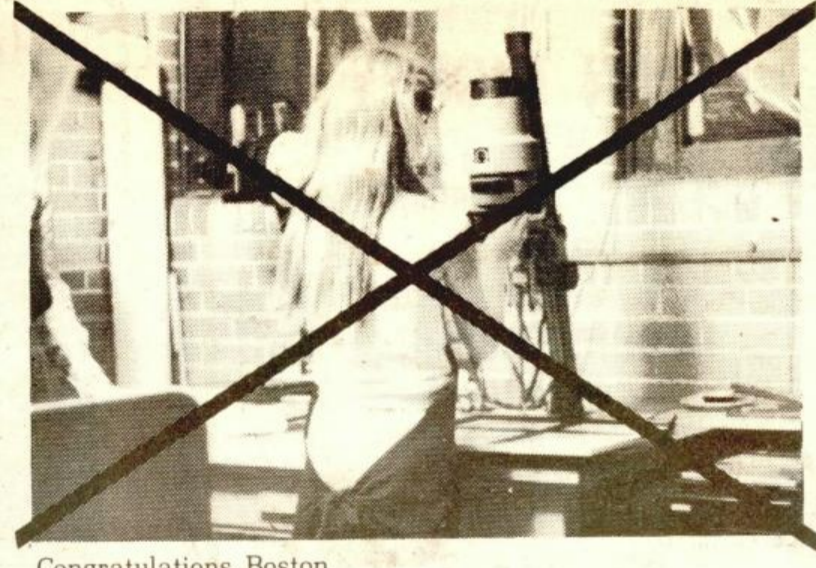

Congratulations, Boston. You stepped up your reading program two years ago. Because of that program, reading scores are up. Now, the School Committee is dismissing 69 elementary reading teachers. Only 14 will be kept.

Congratulations, Boston. You launched America's first music education program. Then you added art studies. These programs permit new generations to enjoy Boston's cultural greatness. Now the School Committee is eliminating art and music education in 106 out of 126 schools.

Congratulations, Boston. You pioneered the K-1 program. Each year classes are filled to capacity. That's how successful the program has been. Now, the School Committee is eliminating K-1, completely.

Congratulations, Boston. You built the $39 million Hubert H. Humphrey Center. It is renowned nationally as a model for vocational education. Now the School Committee is eliminating 10 shop programs, and decimating 15 others. That leaves only 6 intact.

DID YOU KNOW THE MUSIC RECORD BUSINESS IS A TWO-BILLION- DOLLAR- A- YEAR INTERNATIONAL INDUSTRY?

I didn't either until NBC Television came up with that figure as well as these gleanings from BILLBOARD Magazine:

The first Number One album on the Billboard charts was that The King Cole Trio in March, 1945. Shortly after that Nat Cole went solo.

The first album to appear on the charts for 100 weeks was that of the Glenn Miller Orchestra—from March, 1945 to January, 1952. All the more remarkable when you recall Miller had been missing in action since December, 1944.

The album which stayed the longest on the charts was "Johnny's Greatest Hits," (Johnny Mathis). His reign began in April, 1958 and lasted 490 weeks! It did particularly well in Boston where the dean of PR men, Harry Paul, had many occasions to "plug" Mathis at the Salisbury Beach Frolics and Blinstrub's Village.

Who had the most Number One albums? No contest there, it was The Beatles with 14.

Francis Albert Sinatra had the most "Top 10" albums with 33 while Elvis Presley had the most charted LPs with a whopping 59!

The longest LP in Number One position: Fleetwood Mac's "Rumors" which stayed up there for 31 consecutive weeks.

Dick Hunt, the affable, personable manager of Kennedy's men's clothes shop on the South Shore, predicts that soon many clothing stores will put in their own pet shops.

Then, Dick explains, you can get any animal emblem you want for your knit shirts.

Lots of talk in publishing circles today about a new novel from New American Library titled "Women's Work" by Anne Tolstoj Wallach which evokes in pretty shocking detail the inside world of the advertising industry.

What's it all about, Alfie? Well, briefly, it's about Domina Drexler, 37, beautiful, divorced, vice president and creative director of a powerful, old guard advertising agency she has been with for 10 years.

Domina is paid well enough to own a luxurious apartment and send her two teen-age children to the best schools, but she wants more. She wants what the agency has awarded men in comparable positions—a senior vice presidency and membership on the board. However, her boss, whom you're going to like, manages to keep her just one notch below the men at the top.

Frustrated by the boss's manipulations, Domina becomes dangerously vulnerable to the charms of a handsome, dynamic co-worker with whom she is working on a major assignment. Despite the many complications of the promotion, they fall in love. You take it from there... Five stars. Five BIG ones.

So you want to know what song Mom and Dad were swinging and swaying to 40 years ago this month, ey?

The song was "Wasn't It You?" The vocalist was Tommy Ryan and the band was that of Sammy Kaye. Five months later Tommy Ryan lost his voice and didn't regain it until he surprised a prowler in his home a year later.

I like the story Hyde

Park's Rose Padrevita Murphy tells about the little girl was curious about her father often working evenings "at the office."

The mother attempted to explain "Daddy is very busy. He has so much to do, he can't finish it in eight hours. So he often works nights."

"So why don't they put him in a slower group," asked the daughter?

Ever wonder what the starting salary is for a graduate of the Massachusetts Maritime Academy?

According to a spokesman for the fine school, MMA grads start at an average pay of $2,000 a month. However they work only six months each year with mandatory month-long vacations.

The MMA class which graduated this summer had five females, four engineering students and one nautical science major. Shipping officials predict that eventually the American merchant fleet will have 50% women aboard.

Are you aware the first names of the Aldrich Sisters who appear on the Lawrence Welk Show are Sheila and Sheri?

Okay, well then did you know Sheri's husband, Bob Davis, plays in the reed section of the Welk orchestra?

 Okay, so you MCA Records fans want to know the names of that audacious band called "Bad Manners." Here goes:
 Fatty Buster Bloodvessel, the lead singer, Andrew "Marcus Absent" Marson, Gus "Hot Lips" Herman, Louis Alphonso, Brian Chew-It, Chris Kane, David Farren, Martin Stewart and Winston Bazoomies.

Basketball Court Dedicated

Cooperation Was The Key To A New Court

realized that they just couldn't ask for something without giving anything in return. So then we tried to think of what we could do for BHA in return for the basketball court."

What they came up with and wrote into their proposals was this:

- the painting of bases of these buildings;
 - an effort to minimize vandalism, apartment burning, window breaking and graffiti;
 - will run car washes on Corey Street should funds be needed for the project;
 - will form leagues in which all gangs and ages could participate.
- "This court could be the start of a good thing that can go to many other projects and make them a little better than they are now", said the proposal. Thirty signatures of area residents were collected in favor of the group's idea.

The court was dedicated to Robert Kane, a teenager who lived in the Corey Street area until his accidental death, August, 1979. He was a friend of those who saw the court built. "We thought of dedicating it to him after it was built and everyone agreed that it was a great idea. We're going to get a plaque and place it on the wall in his memory."

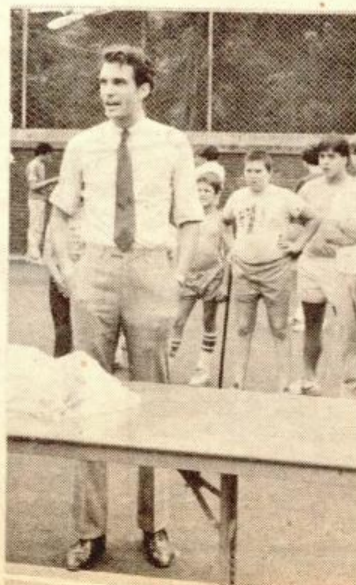

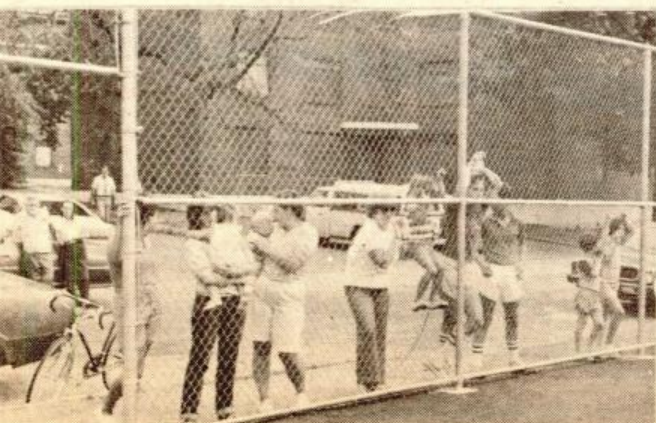

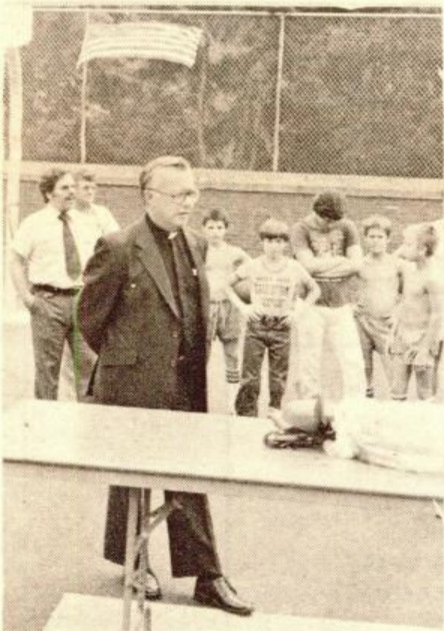

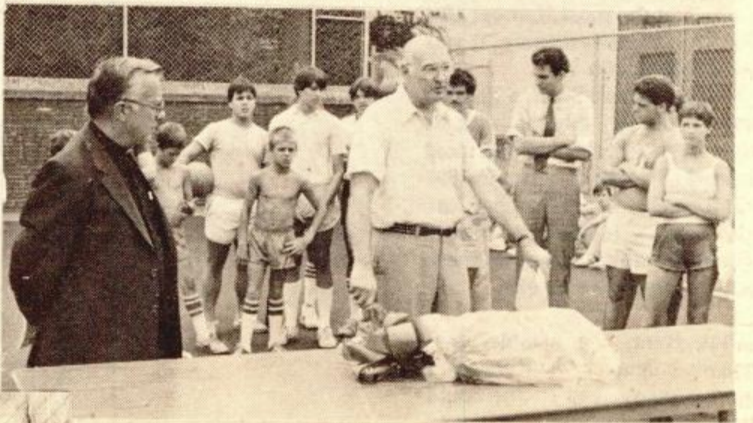

The Kane family was present at the dedication and his mother received a bouquet of flowers before cutting the ribbon. Also on hand, and obviously very proud, were several Headstart classes and their instructors, there to see Judy Kane, a Headstart teacher, cut the ribbon.

Two Certificates of Participation were awarded, one to the Task Force, and received by Martha Jones and the other to the "Concerned Project Youth" received by Danny Callahan.

"We were surprised that it got done," said Danny, "but it took a lot of hard work, especially from Marty (Martha Jones) and Tom (Jackson).

Those youths involved in obtaining the basketball court were: Bobby Byrnes, Robert Cucinotta, Irving Lee, Jeff Erardi, Steven Connolly, Jimmy Jones, Frank Longergan, William Allen, Cecil Jones, Robert Stingel, Steven Cucinotta, Danny Callahan, JoJo Burns, Robin and Bobby McGoff, Sheila Travis, and Ann Yandle.

BUNKER HILL SCHOOL BLUES?

The Bunker Hill Elementary School, one of the 27 public schools closed this summer, is somewhere in the process of being sold by the city's Public Facilities Department. Many "Townies," especially abutters of the school, feel they are left in the dust on deciding what the future holds for the building.

Many in the town have expressed their views on the school building's future through petitions. They feel it would make a great community center. The People's Fire House No. 2 Committee supports such a multi-service facility, one that would house the Life Focus Center (special needs program) among other community organizations.

Many ask why the city is rushing to sell these 27 school buildings, particularly the Bunker Hill. It was one of the few schools still producing a high quality education up until its closing. I believe the answer lies in the fact that Charlestown is becoming THE neighborhood to live in. The new urban gentry have been invading the community recently and the city's urban policy is to cater to them. The city and private developers smell lucrative deals. I, for one, do not want to see the school go from classrooms to condos, another in a series of steps forcing people out of their own neighborhoods.

To prevent this, people must organize and stand together. They must overcome efforts to divide them. They must stand firm and demand from City Hall what is their right — that government should act according to public needs and interests as decided by the people!

HICKEY CAMPAIGN MARCHES ON!

Brian Hickey's campaign for a seat on the Boston City Council is picking up steam. He had an excellent turnout at his downtown reception at Soupcon Restaurant this past Monday night. And Brian has been making the rounds across the city, attending umpteen community functions and ethnic festivals. He'll surprise lots of people and will make the cut with no sweat. He is getting his act together - better all the time.

He has a humungus task in front of him, but I believe he can do it!!

TOWN COUNCIL PRINCIPLES

The Charlestown Town Council is a non-partisan, non-political civic organization whose main interest is to provide information to the neighborhood on the issues of the day.

The Town Council doesn't endorse candidates but encourages people to register and vote. The Council's monthly meetings are forums to focus on those issues like public safety, condos, cable television or street crime and how they impact upon Charlestown.

Individual members of the Steering Committee may work for particular candidates but it is done on an individual basis! Thought, I would just repeat the above to lay to rest any rumors floating around Town!

THE NAME GAME

Hearing those plans for a new arena complex to replace the ancient Boston Garden just make me laugh. Tsongas is wrongas again! This new plan is just as funny as all the rest of them back to 1960. And now the Sheraton Corp. wants to pay a measly $2 million to name the new North Station arena, the Sheraton Garden. I agree with Mayor White on this. Kevin disapproves of selling the nameplate to the hotel firm. Kevin probably wants it named the Mayor White Garden!

But seriously though, if taxes are going to build it, then the people ought to have a say in naming it. After all, their share of the costs will far exceed $2 million.

If Sheraton wants to name it, let them finance and construct it!

THANKS FOR NOTHING DEPT.

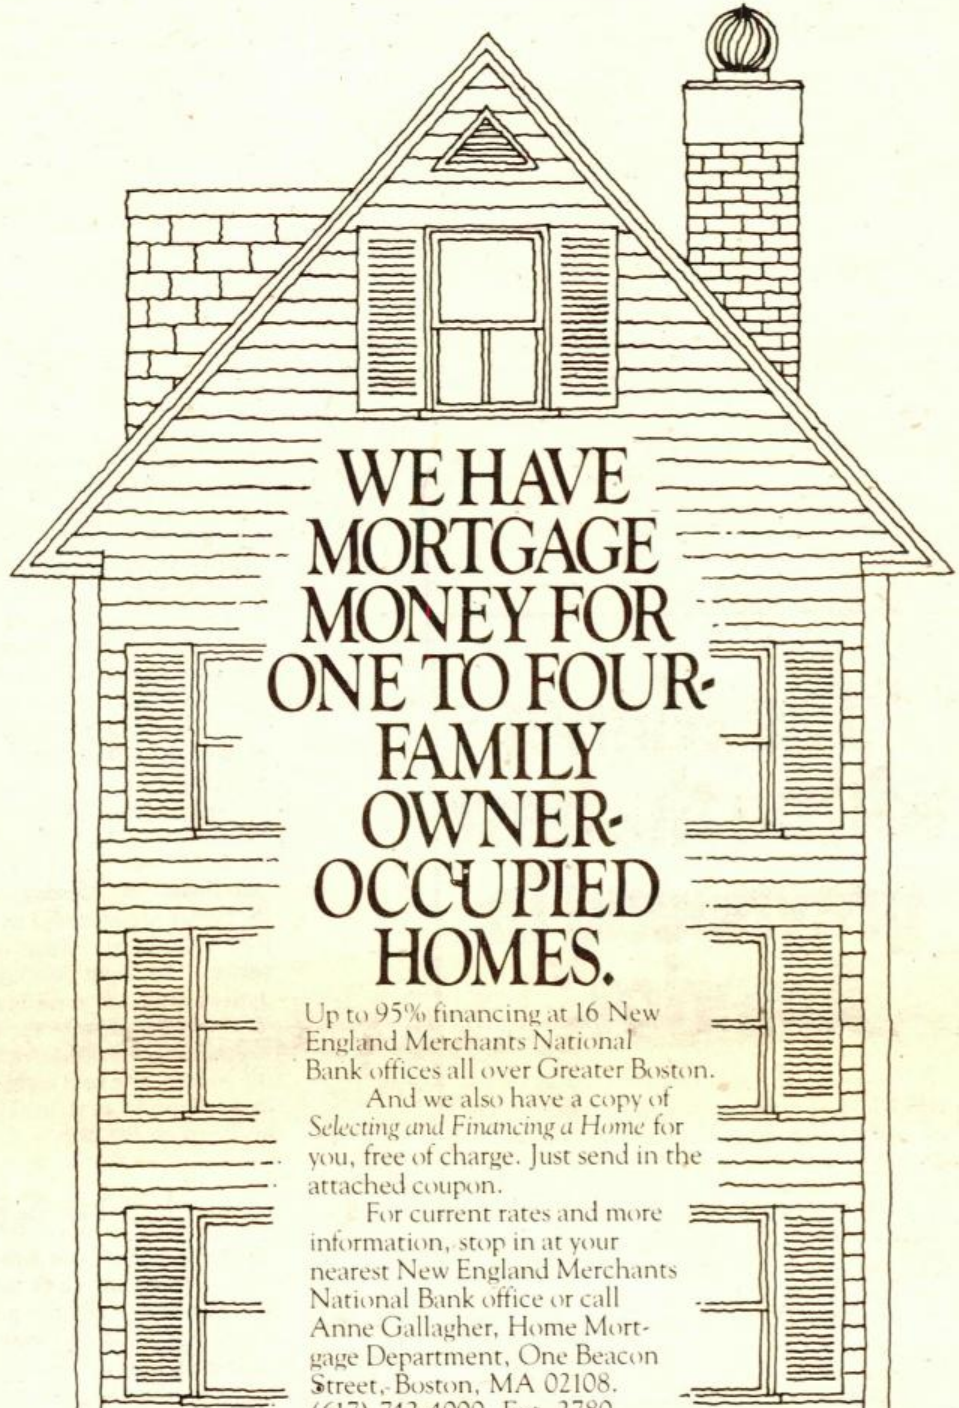

Wanna thank T General Manager Jim O'Leary for nothing. All that Charlestown received for getting a public hearing on the T's service is a two paragraph letter to the editor saying nothing we didn't expect. He could and should have saved the cost of mailing the letter.

Charlestown gets dumped by government again!

Odds Against "5" Dog In Revere Derby

If you're a strong believer in the law of averages, betting the "5" greyhound in the 47th annual $125,000 Wonderland Derby on Saturday night, August 29th, is a natural.

The five blanket never has made it to the winner's circle and has been in the money only 14 times.

The odds also are against a favorite winning the richest Wonderland Derby ever. In 46 previous runnings of the BIG ONE, the favorite in the final has won just 11 times. Oddly enough, there have been only four double figure winners.

The "3" box has produced the most winners (12) and most in-the-money finishes (22).

Other odds and ends — fastest time, K's Flak, 38.53 in '79; biggest winner, Corbin, 75 pounds in '80; smallest, Bess Maris and Gypsy Band, 51 pounds in '40 and '43, respectively; biggest winning margin, Never Roll, 12 lengths, in '42; longest price winner - Apparent ($38.20) in 63; shortest price, Never Roll ($2.60) in '42; 25 dogs and 21 bitches have been winners; two-time winners — Reba Nell ('37 and '39) and Canadian Pacific ('57-'58); kennel with most Derby wins — H.E. Alderson, five.

The third round will be on Friday, August 21. The field then will be cut to 32 for the semifinals on Tuesday, August 25. Points are awarded on a 16-8-5-3-2-1-0-0 basis throughout the series. The eight leading point getters after the semifinals will make up the championship field which has a $35,000 prize tag for the winner. The next eight will be in the consolation which also will be raced on the 29th.

"The winner will be the best greyhound in America."

By definition: The dog that wins the Wonderland Derby is like the horse that wins the Kentucky Derby. Only the top greyhounds in the world are even allowed to enter: a maximum of 64. Then four tough qualifying rounds separate the best from the rest, over Wonderland's grueling 8 mile course.

Until finally, only eight great greyhounds are left to battle it out, in America's oldest and most prestigious greyhound event.

So if you couldn't make it to The Kentucky... Join us now at The Wonderland.

CAPS-CROWNS

When a bad tooth is badly broken due to extensive decay or being filled many times, crowning can sometimes be the only method to restore the tooth. Thus a crown can be used where there is little natural tooth left, whereas the tooth could not be saved with a regular filling.

Back teeth can be restored with gold crowns which of course can not be used in the front of the mouth because of their appearance.

To The People Of Charlestown

Dear Friends:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you, the wonderful people of Charlestown. The merchants gave and gave. Father Conway for the use of the rectory. John Dillon for photos. Gloria and Jim Conway for the coverage in the Patriot and to all who helped in some way to make our carnival a success.

I have been in this organization for the past seven years, when we started with a back yard carnival making our first $500. It ceases to amaze me how wonderful and generous you are when it comes to raising money for this terrible crippling disease. All of us work very hard giving our time and energy so that some day with God's help this terrible affliction will be a thing of the past.

To our old members a special "THANKS" and a job well done. To our new members, Welcome. Thanks especially to the Parents and Friends of the Exceptional Children who stepped in to help us.

I have lived in Charlestown for 40 years. Married and raised a family here. My wonderful Dad, Alfred Snow was born on Brighton Street in 1898. I am very proud and honored to say I live here. Thank you, because of you there is hope for the future of all our children.

Respectfully,
Marilyn Rogers,

Can We Keep The Streets Clean?

"Last year's Clean Sweep Days were a total success" (Charlestown Patriot, August 13). Great, the streets were clean; but how long did they stay that way? Twenty minutes, half an hour until somebody drops his/her potatoe chip bag on the sidewalk, or candy and gum wrapper, ice cream carton, beer can, the morning paper - you name it. How about keeping our streets clean?

Eating and drinking on the streets is here to stay. Since no city collection service could possibly keep up with this steady rain of discarded containers at the present tax rate, isn't it up to us who live here to try to find a solution?

Waste cans in appropriate places don't seem to be the answer. Just take a look at the heavy vandal-proof receptacle at the entrance to our Bunker Hill Shopping Mall. An incredible amount of litter surrounds it, dropped on the bricks by passers-by who haven't troubled to use the trash can provided.

This year's Clean Sweep Days (August 17 and 18) where everyone joined in could be a wonderful fresh start. Clean Streets! Can't we keep them that way? Suggestions, anyone?

A refugee from Beacon Hill

Thank You, Charlestown

The cast and crew of Still River Films would like to thank the residents of the Bunker Hill Housing Project for their patience, friendliness and cooperation during the filming of our motion picture at the Housing Project this summer. The scenes we shot there look and play very well and are an important part of our movie. The courtesy and cooperation extended to us by everyone in Charlestown helped our work there go smoothly and contributed to the quality of our film.

Thank you to ALL!

Increased State Funding Of BPL Essential

August 12, 1981

To the Editor:

The financial crisis at the Boston Public Library is far from resolved. 9.1 million dollars is not enough to run the library system. It may represent an improvement over the 5.1 million dollars "worst case" budget but, in fact, it is 2.1 million dollars less than the Library was allocated in 1979 - less than the library received in 1973.

We fear that 9.1 million dollars for the BPL will mean even more drastic cuts for the library system, especially at the branches, which are used by and large by city taxpayers. With a 9.1 million dollar budget, the BPL shut down 2 branches and the multilingual library, turned 3 others into reading rooms without professional staff, eliminated bookmobile and hospital-services, and cut back hours severely in other branches implementing 2 and 3 day weeks and the cessation of Saturday hours in all but three of them. Book and periodical budgets were slashed and no book orders submitted after April 29 have been completed for branch libraries. Personnel levels, through attrition alone, have plummeted from 552 to 381 leaving all libraries short-handed and some totally bereft of professional staff. The entire Dudley region has only 1 children's librarian - Children must have their own librarians if they are to acquire the essential skills and love of reading and learning.

Buildings are poorly maintained and are subject to increasing levels of vandalism when they are open on reduced schedules.

When members of The Examining Committee of the Boston Public Library visit the branches as they are scheduled to do this summer, community residents should be there to provide their assessment of neighborhood library services.

If Boston is to continue its reputation as the Athens of America it must increase its funding base for the Library and insure that a more equitable share of the library budget be spent in the neighborhoods. We support the concept of having the tax-exempt institutions contribute their fair share toward the sustenance of the Boston Public Library such as outlined in the home rule petition for a university excise tax. And, indeed all of the citizens of the Commonwealth should be contributing more than the present million or so dollars to the Copley Central and Research Libraries as they are resources for all of Massachusetts and New England. Increased state funding of the BPL is essential.

Sincerely,
Marie Alves

Public Safety In Boston

It took the current budget hearings to discover what Mayor White and the unions appear to have agreed on by way of manning levels in the Boston Fire and Police Departments.

Whereas we had 1982 uniformed firefighters authorized in July 1980, there are 1468 on board today. The Mayor is asking for supplemental money and for bond money which will rebuild the force to 1673. The union and senior fire department officials believe we need 1760.

To reach that number, we must either find another $2 million or make substantial cost savings in such items as overtime, holiday pay, and "buy-backing" of sick time. It is obviously vital to stretch the work of each firefighter, so it goes further, and to find ways to gain economies of scale and get "more bang for the buck".

As was clear to everyone at the hearing (except for Councillor O'Neil), one way to do this is to restore mutual aid, so the firefighters in neighboring towns cooperate to save lives and property.

The Boston Police have declined from a billeted 2160 during 1980 to 1780 uniformed officers today. If the Council does nothing, it will continue to sink toward 1163, the manning level supported by the White "worst case budget". If the Council passes the "supplemental", about 1600 police can be supported. Passage of the Tregor bond issue allows us a level of 1914, which is near to the figure which satisfies the Mayor and the unions.

Here too it will be essential to reduce featherbedding, tighten up on plush working arrangements, and deploy the resources much better than they have been. If this is done we satisfy, for this year anyway, the tough requirements of Proposition 2 1/2.

Youth Is Found Guilty In Holdup

An 18-year-old Charlestown youth was found guilty on August 11 in Suffolk Superior Court in an armed robbery at a doughnut shop.

Patrick J. Durham of 121 Walford Way will be sentenced August 24 for the January 25, 1981 holdup of The Donut Maker, 99 Cambridge Street, Charlestown. He also is charged in a separate incident with assault with a knife on Mary Theresa Burhoe, 14, of Charlestown, who was murdered July 11.

Durham and two accomplices robbed Donut Maker owner James DeVellis and employee Shelia Nickell of over $1,000 in receipts from a safe and cash register.

DeVellis chased the suspects and recovered some $600 in a getaway car parked several blocks away on Crescent Street.

Durham was arrested at his home six hours after the robbery by officers of District 15.

He is awaiting trial for assault by means of a dangerous weapon, a knife, on Burhoe, who was found murdered in a City playground.

Police at first believed Burhoe was killed with a shotgun, but an autopsy revealed she had been stabbed more than 100 times in the chest.

Det. John Ridlon and Mike Ingemi of Area A are investigating the murder.

Judge Domenic F.X. Russo

revoked Durham's bail and sent him to the Charles Street jail to await sentencing.

Security Increased In Mishawum

by Maria Girvin

The story entitled, "Mishawum Park Faces A Rise In Crime" (August 13th) was erroneously reported, based on a report from Bob Schiveink.

According to police, the July 4th incident involved one 6 year old girl who reported to her mother that an obscene statement was made to her after she happened upon a teenager urinating, and that the boy had tried to entice the little girl into the Phipps Street Cemetery. A complaint was filed. However, upon testimony made by the minor and an investigation by the police, it was found that only the obscene remark had been made and the complaint was withdrawn by the mother in court.

On a related event which followed on July 26th and involving the 6 year old's father, part of the story in last week's Patriot was correct. However it was not he, but a Mishawum youth who was allegedly chased through the front room window by the 6 year old's father. According to police, no charges were pressed and the incident was settled out of court.

To date, Phipps Management has increased the security in Mishawum Park, hiring a paid police detail, which began last week. According to a spokesman for the management company, this was done in recognition of the summer problems with youth gangs and in response to the above incidents.

According to the spokesman, arrests will be made of those "trespassing" in Mishawum which is a private housing complex and not public like the Bunker Hill Street Housing Project. This includes passageways and doorways.

"We recognized the problem all along and tried to work it out with the police and a special motorcycle unit but with the loss of patrolman we have resorted to this."

Meet The Candidates

(The announcements below are excerpted from releases submitted by the campaign organization of the respective candidates)

Terry Mc Dermott - City Council

TERRY McDERMOTT

Terry McDermott announced this week that he is a candidate for Boston City Council. McDermott made his candidacy official in a statement delivered August 17. The life-long Dorchester resident entered politics two years ago, finishing 12th in the City Council race, polling 40,000 votes.

In announcing his candidacy McDermott said, "I'm running because I'm concerned about the quality of life in this city. The city's fiscal crisis, the housing shortage, and the financial, political and educational problems in the school system continued to plague the city.

Some, if not all, have grown worse. We have a chronic lack of communication in city government and between the city and state. In the wake of Proposition 2 1/2, this failure to communicate has been devastating," he said.

McDermott has had quite a bit of experience communicating with state legislators. Until he recently resigned to run for City Council, McDermott had been serving as Legislative Counsel to the Lieutenant Governor.

McDermott endorsed the concept of district representation for the School Committee as well as for the City Council. "Since 1951, 90 percent of the City Councillors and 82 percent of the School Committee members have come from just seven of Boston's twenty-two wards," he said.

McDermott said he will devote full time to the race and that he is confident that his city-wide effort will be successful. The McDermott campaign will be head-quartered at 6 Minot Street in Dorchester.

Terry McDermott is a native of Dorchester. He attended local grammar schools there and went to Boston College High School and Northeastern University's College of Criminal Justice. He graduated from the University of Miami School of Law, and is a member of the Massachusetts and Federal Bars. He is one of six children of a retired 32-year veteran of the Boston Police Department.

Albert L. O'Neil - City Council

I want to take this opportunity to announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the Boston City Council. I have been a member of this Council for the past ten years, and have not missed a meeting in ten years. I have never had another income since I have been on the Council and have attended night meetings in the areas all throughout the City of Boston relative to local problems. I have been a full time Councillor, and in my honest opinion, not too many people can deny that I have done my job.

I know that I am not very popular with this administration, and I have more or less been a thorn in their side, but I shall continue to be a thorn in their side as long as I am here on this Council. I voted against the creation of the Sewer and Water Commission. I voted against Condominium conversion, and I am proud of those votes.

As we get under way in this campaign, you will hear more lies told about what this one did, and the other one did, that the public will be up to their ears in a lot of hog wash. Then you will hear from a lot of the new candidates, blaming the Council for everything that is wrong in the City. I get a real kick out of listening to some of the new candidates, but none of them will tell you that they are the Mayor's candidates, and I can assure you when this campaign gets under way, I will name everyone of them so that the public will know just who they are. I know I have worked hard for the people of this City, and when they start on me, they better know what they are talking about, because I will tear into everyone of them - and they know it.

As far as increasing this Council to 13 or 14 members, I say hog wash. It will cost the taxpayers another million dollars to do this, and the way the re-districting plan will be drawn up is to have the so-called minorities only run in their own districts, and a man like myself, would have to run City wide. This is outright discrimination, and you know it. So when you see that question on the ballot vote NO.

So, in conclusion, I have done my job here in the Council, and I say it will all sincerity. It gets very frustrating here on many occasions, but I will weather the storm, I always have. I would appreciate one of your nine votes on September 22, 1981. I will never back down from this administration, and they know it. I am the one they would like to get rid of, but the public has always been on my side, and I have been on theirs.

Albert L. "Dapper" O'Neil
Boston City Councillor

John Melia - City Council

JOHN MELIA

Former State Representative John Melia announced his candidacy for election to the Boston City Council. Melia was born and has lived all his life in the Brighton section of the City of Boston. He is a graduate of St. Columbkille's Grammar School, Brighton High School, and the Boston High School of Commerce Graduate School.

As a member of the business community in the Brighton section of the City, Melia was active in the Brighton Board of Trade where he once served as its president. As a State Representative from the Allston-Brighton section, Melia served on the committees of State Administration, Legal Affairs, Public Service, Transportation and Urban Affairs. Melia has always been a strong advocate for pro-life legislation and was a co-sponsor of several bills furthering the right to life movement. Melia has strongly supported rent control and has taken an uncompromising position in opposition to condominium conversion. In 1980, Melia filed legislation to control and regulate condominium conversion. Melia has also been a strong proponent of district representation for the City of Boston and has filed legislation in 1965 which would allow for district representation on the Boston City Council.

Melia has been active in local politics for years and has maintained the Chairmanship of the Ward 22 Democratic Committee.

Althea Garrison - City Council

Althea Garrison, a twelve-year resident of Jones Hill in Dorchester, has announced her candidacy for the Boston City Council.

Garrison has spent seven years majoring in business management at Newbury Jr. College of Management. She has worked two and a half years for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and one year as a member of the executive committee for union negotiation.

Garrison knows how to get tough when negotiating, but also knows how to compromise when necessary, when it is in the best interest of her constituents. She demonstrated that during one year of tense and tough negotiations in the Unit 1 contract.

Althea Garrison believes that if Boston is to survive its mismanagement and its financial crisis, that the Boston City Council and the Mayor must mend their differences and put personalities and power struggles aside, and work together and do the job they were elected to do. "United we stand, divided we fall, and if we are united and working together in harmony it's impossible to fail for it is with strength, that we build a strong and healthy city, and it is with unity we will be bonded together," Garrison said.

"To those who are concerned about whether I am too liberal, or too conservative, I am neither. But I do consider myself, and others consider me, moderate," Garrison said. She believes the time is now for new leadership, and she believes she can give Boston that leadership. She believes elected officials should listen to their constituents and be held responsible to their needs. She asks that voters give her a chance to be responsive and work for neighborhood needs. She sup-

Autograph Session Set For Boston Brunch Book

The Authors of the Boston Brunch Book, The Ins and Outs of Brunch, will be autographing their new book during brunch at the Bookstore cafe at Faneuil Hall Marketplace August 23 from noon to 2 p.m. The Boston-based authors also promise to divulge their favorite brunch spots and recipes from their new $2.95 paperback.

The book offers details on: Brunching Out at 60 local establishments; Brunching In with menus and recipes for 10 unusual brunches to cook yourself; and catered brunch delivered to your doorstep, or by way of a chef who cooks in your own kitchen.

Authors Sandy Yagendorf and Lynda Diane Gutowski visited more than 60 restaurants to develop the dining out section. They describe the menus, atmospheres, and typical brunches with prices. There are four sections including: Just Plain Brunch, Entertainment Brunches (complete with jazz, swing music or belly dancers), Ethnic Brunches (including Chinese, Russian and Italian), and Buffet Brunches. The Brunching In section with recipes highlights ethnic and regional American foods and offers suggestions on how to create a special atmosphere for each. There are the Boston Brunch, Irish Brunch, and Quiche for a Crowd, to name a few. The section on catered brunches details this unique service, the menus and their prices.

All sections of the book are illustrated by pen and ink sketches by Ms. Gutowski.

Voike Supports Residents On City Square Project

Representative Richard Voike announced his intent to support Charlestown residents in a dispute with the Department of Public Works over design plans for the City Square Highway construction project. Several residents have been hard at work for many months in an attempt to develop a plan which provides opportunities for the future development of the area and protects the sanctity of the neighborhood for residents living near the project's site.

In a letter to Commissioner Amidon of the DPW, Representative Voike asked the department not to adopt the plan as recommended by the DPW consultants because that plan "is not in the best interests of the community."

Rep. Voike went on to assert, "Ultimately, it is the people of Charlestown who must live with the changes this project will bring upon the community. Certainly many other factors are deserving of consideration in planning a project as complex as the North Area project. However, I do not believe that the views of the citizens who worked on the Task Force were given the proper weight by your consultants. I hope that the Department will give more careful consideration of the arguments put forth by the Task Force before a final plan is adopted."

Rep. Voike commended the area residents serving on the project's Task Force for working in good faith with the DPW and criticized the tactics of the consultants who recommended a new plan at the last minute over the objections of Charlestown residents. Richard pledged to continue his support for the residents on the Task Force and credits them for warning the entire Charlestown community of the pitfalls contained in the current plan. Rep. Voike intends to work with the Task Force in an attempt to persuade the DPW to make some modifications of the plan.

Bostonians Urged To Register To Vote

With Boston's September 22nd preliminary election a little over a month away, Secretary of State Michael Joseph Connolly strongly urged the city's unregistered voters to register to vote before the September 2nd registration deadline.

"I cannot emphasize enough the importance of every vote cast in Boston's 1981 city preliminary election. Boston voters will be asked to further define the mandates of Proposition 2 1/2. Those decisions will be made at the ballot box, through the candidates the voters select," Connolly said.

On September 2, the last day of registration, the City of Boston's Election Department will extend registration hours from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. Additionally, special registration hours will be conducted on Saturday, August 29, from noon to 8 p.m. at various locations in Boston.

"There are few actions in our society that require less physical effort, yet have as great an impact or significance as voting," the Secretary said.

"It is the duty of every citizen to share the management and responsibility of Boston through voting," he added.

The state's registration process is simple, quick and accessible. Citizens of the United States who are Massachusetts residents and who will be 18 years old by Election Day may register at Boston City Hall during normal business hours and during the special evening and Saturday registration sessions at designated locations.

For additional information on the registration process, citizens are encouraged to call the Boston Election Commission at 725-4635 or the Secretary of State's Election Division at 727-2828.

Senior Citizen News

Our seniors have been busy for the past couple of months with a trip to Lincoln, N.H. for a four day stay at the Beacon Motel. Everybody had a great time. Roland and his family who manage this beautiful spot made everybody feel right at home (delicious meals, tours, and entertainment). Another group went to the Elms for a week had a great time there also. At this point everybody is thinking of going on a diet.

On July 26 three buses of seniors enjoyed a gorgeous day at Nantasket Beach. Everybody could do what they wanted for the day and enjoyed a concert all afternoon. We arrived back in Charlestown at 9 p.m.

On August 6 we had a nice day with 50 of our seniors going to Dunphy's in Hyannis for lunch and then to see Mitzi Gaynor at the Melody Tent. A fantastic show! All of us decided we should do this more often.

Well, on to our fall schedule. Get your tickets early for our September 10 Fall Get Together at the K. of C. Hall, West School Street. Buffet by Bob Scalli. Dancing with John Nolan. Deadline for tickets is September 4. Tickets are $5 and can be purchased from Helen Lawler at 242-1955, Ethel Hazelton at 242-0579, Betty Marshall at 241-9321, and Marion Considine at 241-9158.

A special thank you to Frank Leopold from Elderly Affairs for complimentary tickets to see the Netherlands Ballet.
