Best Game Hosting

Best Game Hosting is the go-to place for all things game server hosting. Blog about games compare and help you find the best game hosting providers worldwide. We help our find the absolute best host for their game server by tirelessly researching and reviewing available hosts. We also often work with the hosting providers to reduce server pricing and give our readers exclusive coupons to help reduce the price, giving your value for money. We include ServerBlend, DatHost, GameServers.com, Host Havoc, Zap Hosting, Ping Perfect, and Hosthorde. We've reviewed and investigated more than 200 hosting providers worldwide on over 220 games.

Once a new host appears, and every so often for existing game hosts, at Best Game Hosting we evaluate hosts and provide rankings so that we may provide you with an unbiased review of that game hosting provider. Many sites offering comparisons are biased and profit-centric. Instead, we carefully consider and weigh all options and lay them out in a way that should help you find the perfect host for you.

Best Game Hosting breaks down game hosting server providers based on a per-game and per-category basis, providing our readers with detailed reviews about the best game server hosting providers, such as Roxservers.com and Host Havoc. For instance, Host Havoc especially stands out when it comes to the best game hosting locations. Roxservers.com provides a great hosting option when it comes to CS:GO and Space Engineers. You can find more information around strengths and weaknesses of each host on their review page, or on a specific game's comparison page.

Find and Compare The Best Game Server Hosting Providers

If you're wanting to find the best game server hosting provider, we constantly maintain our comprehensive lists on each section. Make sure you review our frequently updated site for the best priced game hosting provider.

Some of the more expensive options are GameServers or Survival Servers, which both have 15+ server locations and a wide range of games. Other options like Host Havoc or PingPerfect come out a bit cheaper, but also have some trade-offs when it comes to choosing a game hosting provider.

How We Determine The Best Game Server Hosting

Most results found online are that of unbiased and corrupt listings with only profit in mind. As a website, we aim to be the most unbiased comparison and review website online. Please contact us if you've had a bad or good experience with any host to share your experience!

We have made our own guidelines to test & review different game hosting companies which makes a fair test to all hosting providers. Providers we list here need to meet a stringent criteria around these points:

- Price
- Performance
- Control panel
- Customer Service
- Modifications & Plugins
- DDoS Protection & Security

All of these must be met on some level by the host, all reviews discuss these in great detail on our 'reviews page.' We recommend before going with a certain provider you checkout our review and customer reviews which are attached to the page.
