Teen Connection Honors 'Stars' At Annual Appreciation Dinner

by Kathy Giordano

The Charlestown Teen Connection held its annual appreciation dinner on Oct. 19 at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Charlestown young people were honored as their families watched with pride and applauded their achievements. The Teen Connection referred to the honorees as the "Stars of Their Community" and the 200 or more at the reception agreed wholeheartedly.

The highlight of the evening was the awarding of plaques to 13 individuals who have proven themselves to be "outstanding in the community through their accomplishments" and were presented "the highest award a person can receive." The award winners were:

• Allied Plywood for its unselfish contributions to the teen-agers of Charlestown. The company not only hired four teen-age girls for part-time employment,

Committee To Recommend Tudor Wharf Proceed To Public Design Review Process

by Lynn Peters

In an informational meeting on Oct. 24 with representatives of Myerson/Allen and Company and the Charestown Neighborhood Council Housing and Development Committee on the development of Tudor Wharf, committee memers voted to recommend that the full council let the developer move ahead to the design review process.

Recently, Myerson/Allen submitted a volume of environmental impact information to the Boston Redevelopment Authority, the first progession of the Tudor Wharf project since the committee reviewed plans last winter. The city requires environmental impact information on waterfront projects from developers under Article 31 of the Boston Zoning Code, a separate report from the state's Chapter 91 guidelines, and both determine whether waterfront uses are acceptable.

According to Carol Matheson of the BRA, the BRA is concerned about keeping the Harborwalk accessible, whether views would be obstructed and how traffic is affected. Matheson said the BRA review process generally takes about 45 days and upward of six months before a final impact report is complete.

"When a project is near the water," Matheson said, "we have to be especially sensitive."

Myerson/Allen is proposing two buildings, 75,000 and 210,000 square feet, and a three-level underground parking garage for 300 cars for the former Rapids Furniture site next to the North Washington Street Bridge.

Myerson/Allen has also submitted a proposal to Massport for the adjacent Hoosac Pier site, although Massport has made no decision on who will develop that area. David Keller of Myerson/Allen told committee members that the extra 28,000 square feet of Massport property, which would create an additional 68,000 square feet, would allow for a public plaza and promenade on the waterfront.

"It's a persuasive argument (for Myerson/Allen to develop Hoosac Pier)," Keller said, "and not a bad deal."

Committee member and council chairman Dennis McLaughlin said he liked the "concept that the land be developed and be used with the Harborwalk."

The Myerson/Allen proposal also includes retail and office space, water taxis, an historic ship exhibit and a connection of the city's Harborwalk to the Freedom Trail Paul Revere Landing Park.

Committee chairman Tom Cunha said he was "upset that Massport hasn't come to some kind of decision (on the Hoosac Pier site)," and that Myerson/Allen's proposal is difficult to discuss without knowing if it will be a larger project.

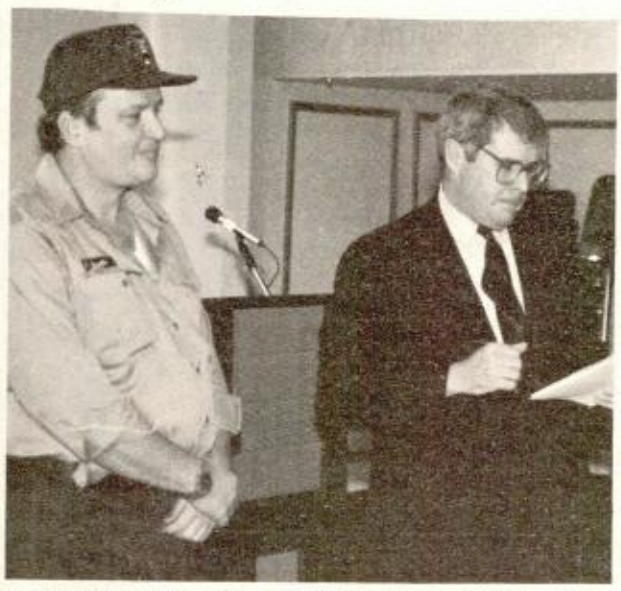
Cunha also questioned the fate of parking for Constitution Marina residents. Currently, the residents park their cars on Massport land that is slated for redevelopment. At earlier meetings boat residents were concerned about keeping their parking.

"The issue is a complicated one and not resolved," Keller said. "We've always maintained that we would make parking available (for the community) after hours, but weekdays it's not cheap and I don't think (the marina residents) necessarily have a right to free off-street parking."

Committee members will present their recommendations to the full council at the Nov. 14 monthly meeting. They said they hoped that they could soon discuss building heights, massing and other design concerns now that the developer has submitted the environmental impact information about the Tudor Wharf project to the city and the state.

Residents are encouraged to review the environmental impact document, which is available for public viewing at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St.

Coughlan Receives Award



THE BOSTON NATIONAL HISTORICAL PARK Incentive Awards Ceremony took place last week in the Hull Room at the Charlestown Navy Yard. The annual event recognizes employees who have displayed special leadership qualities and abilities through their dedication to duty and contributions to the National Park Service. Charlestown resident Ed Coughlan, a painter assigned to Building 107 in the Navy Yard, was among the recipients chosen to receive recognition and a monetary bonus for service. Pictured above are (l. to r.) Coughlan and John Burchill, superintendent, Boston National Historical Park.

Detour And Parking Restrictions Scheduled For City Square Area

by Kathy Giordano

Motorists will face a detour and parking restrictions starting Friday, Oct. 27 as the early viaduct contract continues in City Square as part of the Central Artery/North Area (CANA) roadway reconstruction project.

David Flanagan, community liaison from the Mass. Department of Public Works, announced that Front Street will be closed and traffic will be detoured on Oct. 27. The closing of Front Street will allow construction crews to position steel supports over the roadway connecting the loop ramp structure.

According to Flanagan, work will take place between 7 a.m. and 3 p.m. beginning Friday. Additional police details will be in place to help traffic get through the detour. Flanagan also stated that signs will be posted from Sullivan Square to Front Street to notify commuters of the change in traffic flow.

Traffic will be directed away from Front Street by rerouting it from Rutherford Avenue along Austin Street into Thompson Square. Vehicles trying to enter Route 1 north, Constitution Plaza or the Charlestown Navy Yard will travel down Main Street into City Square and onto Chelsea Street to make appropriate roadway connections.

Police details will be stationed at Sullivan Square, the Rutherford Avenue split in front of Bunker Hill Community College, Rutherford Avenue at the intersection of Austin Street and the Gilmore Bridge, Rutherford Avenue at City Square, and at Austin and Main, Main and Devens, and Main and Henley streets. Two additional officers will be stationed at the entrance to Front Street to detour traffic off that roadway.

Due to the increase in traffic entering Thompson Square from Austin Street, no parking will be allowed on Austin Street from Seminary to Main street and around the island at Thompson Square while the detour is in effect.

Flanagan stated that radio stations will broadcast the detour routes during morning traffic reports, and this, along with the announcement in the two Boston daily newspapers, should alert commuters to the detour route.

This scheduled detour is the second of five such disruptions in traffic flow, which will occur over the next few months to allow construction crews to erect the viaducts in the City Square area.

Flanagan stated: "Although it is unfortunate that motorists will be inconvenienced during this part of the early viaduct contract, it is paramount that the safety of the general public be our priority. This portion of the contract is scheduled to take only two days. We hope that this will prove to be only a minor disruption to motorists traveling through the City Square area."

It's A Boy . . .

Doris and Michael Solis of 43 Tremont St. in Everett are proud to announce the birth of their son, Michael Joseph, on Oct. 11 at the Malden Hospital Maternity Services unit.

The maternal grandmother is Doris M. Skeffington of 33 O'Meara Court.

The paternal grandparents are Jose and Marjorie Solis of Malden.

Mrs. Solis is the former Doris Skeffington of Charlestown.

Local Student Cast In Tilton School Drama

Melinda L. Walch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Walch of Charlestown and a sophomore at Tilton School in Tilton, N.H., has been selected for the cast of "Our Town," the fall drama production of the Tilton Players.

Walch will play the character of Mrs. Soames, and she will also be working as a crew member, helping with costume construction.

"Our Town," Thorton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize-winning classic of life in a turn-of-the-century New Hampshire village, was recently revived for a very successful Broadway run. Relying on the power of the actors to tell its story, the play shows the beauty of simplicity of life, love and death.

Reception Marks Opening Of World War II Photo Exhibit In The Charlestown Navy Yard's Preble Room

The Edward Steichen photo exhibit at the Boston National Historical Park in the Charlestown Navy Yard is a must-see. "Steichen and His Men — A Portrait of World War II," on display in the Preble Room of Building 5 until Nov. 12, is an incredible collection of real-war black-and-white and color U.S. Navy photos taken by Luxembourg-born Steichen (1879-1973) and seven of his men.

A reception on Oct. 19, co-sponsored by the Boston National Historical Park, Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion and the Bunker Hill Day Parade Committee, allowed guests an opportunity to preview this outstanding exhibit.

Davis Pratt, curator of photographs at the Fogg Museum, worked with Steichen in the 1960s at the Museum of Modern Art in New York and describes the artist as a marvelous and compassionate man. That compassion is reflected in the 60 photos on display which focus on the human experience in times of war.

His photos were used to promote the war effort in the '40s. Steichen was called out of retirement by the Navy in 1941 at the age of 62 to organize and direct a special naval photographic unit and was given the rank of lieutenant commander. He saw his photography as a vehicle to "lift individuals as subjects from the humdrum and turn them into symbols of universal humanity."

The current exhibit in the Navy Yard clearly emphasizes a certain realism, and each photograph is certain to leave the viewer affected in a special dramatic way.

Pratt agrees, saying "it's a crackerjack of a show." He remembers the artist, who died just two days short of 94 in 1973, and how the subjects of the photos reflect the passion of Steichen.

"He was a taskmaster," Pratt recalls, "but not in a negative way, just that he aspired to have people work as hard as he did."

Steichen worked 16 to 17 hours straight, Pratt says, and would take a "winnie," named after Winston Churchill and his legendary catnaps, and return to work.

"He had a dramatic affect on everyone who had contact with him," Pratt says.

"Steichen and His Men — A Portrait of World War II" is free and open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. through Nov. 12. See this exhibit and see war either for the first time or again from what will seem like your own eyes.

A RECEPTION, co-sponsored by the Boston National Historical Park, Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion, and the Bunker Hill Day Parade Committee, marked the opening of the Edward Steichen exhibit of World War II photographs in the Preble Room, Building 5 in the Charlestown Navy Yard. The exhibit will continue through Nov. 12. Shown (l. to r.) Cmdr. David Cashman, USN, Commanding Officer "USS Constitution;" James W. Conway, commander, Bunker Hill Post; John Burchill, superintendent, Boston National Historical Park; Thomas Materazzo, commissioner, Boston Veterans Service Department; and Peter Steele, curator, Boston National Historical Park.

Marchi's Campaign Gains Momentum

Since the September primary, District 1 School Committee candidate Roberta Marchi has received enormous support and believes she is gaining the momentum needed to win the seat.

Marchi, who has volunteered and worked for the Boston Public Schools for more than 15 years, has received the endorsements of the Boston Teachers Union, the Greater Boston Labor Council, and Hotel and Restaurant Workers, Local 26. Marchi's campaign has also received tremendous support from parents groups.

"The Boston Teachers Union has endorsed Roberta Marchi for School Committee because we believe that Roberta, through her record, has shown a commitment to students, teachers and paraprofessionals in the Boston School System," said Thomas Gosnell of the Boston Teachers Union.

Marchi has a degree in early childhood education and experience as a teacher in the Headstart program. She also has a bachelor's degree in human services from Lesley College and is enrolled in Lesley's Graduate School of Management.

The Boston Globe's Alan Lupo has described Marchi as "the star candidate in this district," and "one of the most qualified candidates to run for School Committee."

Marchi has also been a program coordinator for Boston Partners in Education, a chairperson for the Harborside Community School Council, a Headstart teacher, a member of the board of directors of the Citywide Educational Coalition, president of Boston Latin School's Home and School Association and a program coordinator of School Volunteers for Boston.

"The broad base of support my campaign has received from parents, teachers and business groups shows that I have been there for the Boston Public Schools long before this campaign," said Marchi, who has two children who graduated from the Boston Public Schools. "I have confidence that the voters of District 1 will elect me to the School Committee on Nov. 7.

"People are tired of committee members who don't really care about our schools. My opponent ran for office seven times before being elected to the School Committee. It's obvious he is trying to use the office as a steppingstone, and the voters are not going to stand for it anymore."

Marchi has also received the Citywide Parents Council (CPA) 1989 Award for Outstanding Contribution.

A Boston Herald editorial included Marchi in a description of School Committee hopefuls who are "no doubt, good and decent individuals who care deeply about the schools and about the children who attend them."

A Slide Show About The Great Boston Fire

In 1872 Boston had just completed an urban renewal plan that was the pride of New England. Brand-new white granite blocks covered most of the downtown, yet on Nov. 9 and 10 of that year a massive fire destroyed over 60 acres of the heart of the city.

Erik Anderson will present a slide show depicting the causes, effects and the best stories of The Great Boston Fire at the Charlestown Preservation Society meeting on Sunday, Nov. 5, at the Baptist Church, 5 Monument Square in Charlestown at 7 p.m.

Tour Of Charlestown Kicks Off Preservation Society Season

A WALKING TOUR kicked off the Charlestown Preservation Society's fall season. Co-sponsored by the Historic Neighborhood Foundation, the one-hour walk highlighted the varied architectural styles in Charlestown. Thirty-five attendees concluded the tour with a reception at Olives restaurant on Main Street.

Majestic Knights Reunion Nov. 18

The Majestic Knights, a Charlestown-based drum and bugle corps which achieved national recognition throughout the 1960s and early 1970s, is planning a first-ever reunion on Saturday, Nov. 18 at 7 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 75 West School St.

A buffet and brief ceremony will be followed by music for the dancing pleasure of those in attendance. Former Majestic Knights, staff members, families, supporters and friends are invited to attend.

Tickets are still available on a limited basis at $15 per person in advance, $25 if bought at the door. Ticket requests must be received by Nov. 1. Contact: Richie Powers, 31 Rawson Rd., Wollaston, Mass. 02170, 471-3665; or Warren Shanahan, 9 Richardson Circle No. 3, Framingham, Mass. 01701, 508-820-7334.

Tickets already purchased through the committee have been placed in the mail and should be received before Nov. 1.

Don't be left out. Reserve your ticket for this special reunion today.

City Council Candidates To Appear On 'Charlestown Topics'

"Charlestown Topics" will feature two candidates for at-large seats in the upcoming Boston City Council race. Appearing will be incumbent Councillor Michael McCormack and candidate Althea Garrison.

The show will be aired on cable channels A3 and A8 on Saturday, Oct. 28 at 8 p.m. and on Sunday, Oct. 29 at 7:30 p.m.

BHCC Students Reach Out To Hurricane Hugo Victims

Despite the fact that the majority of the students in the Office Education Department at Bunker Hill Community College take courses, raise families and work, they have still managed to find the time to help those in need. Last week the Office Education Club sponsored a fund-raising drive to help victims of Hurricane Hugo, and were able to present a check to delighted officials from the Red Cross.

"Bunker Hill Community College is the only school in Boston to have contacted us in this way," said Ann Keliher, associate director of financial development for the American Red Cross.

Community service projects are not uncommon for the members of the BHCC Office Education Club, an organization which provides the students with the opportunity to meet business and industry personnel during their program.

The Office Education Department offers programs ranging from one semester to two years in length. Degree options are available in the legal, medical, executive and word processing fields.

Third Annual Charlestown Christmas Walk Sunday, Dec. 10

★ HELP LIGHT UP CHRISTMAS ★

Adopt a Pole and help make the third annual Charlestown Christmas Walk a success.

Last year the Christmas Walk brought joy to everyone who attended. This year, we hope to make it even better with your help. You can take part in the Christmas Walk by "adopting" one of the many charming gas-lit posts along the walk route.

When you adopt a pole, it is decorated by one of our committee members with a ribbon, pine bough, bow and a card with the name of the donor. If you choose, you may adopt a pole in someone's name or as a gift!

Minimum donations are $10, however, the more you can contribute, the more events and festivities we can add to the walk.

Please fill out the form below and include it with a check payable to The Charlestown Christmas Walk Inc. and mail it to:

The Charlestown Christmas Walk
c/o Rosemary Kverek
Prudential Gibson Real Estate
6 Pleasant St., Charlestown, Mass. 02129

All donations are tax-deductible. Please do not send cash.

PLEASE PRINT

Name: _____

Donation: $_____
minimum of $10 per post

Name or names to be put on card

All donations must be received by Wednesday, Nov. 29

★ VOLUNTEERS ★

Volunteers are needed for many of the Christmas Walk committees, particularly in the areas of fund raising, entertainment, the door and boat decorating contest, lighting and the Adopt a Pole project. If you can spare a few hours, call Carol, Kathy or Kathleen at 242-7393.

★ BULL-MARKET CARTS ★

The bull-market carts will be available for individuals or groups to set up shop along the Christmas Walk and sell their wares to the many passersby. The number of carts is limited, so those interested should make their reservations now. The rental fee is $50 per cart. To express interest or to obtain more information, please call Missi Stern at 242-0316 or Barbara Riley at 242-1536.

★ FUND RAISING ★

An estimated $15,000 is needed to cover the expenses for this year's Christmas Walk. These funds must be raised through donations from residents, businesses and organizations, and the committee is requesting the support of the community to ensure the success of the Christmas Walk.

Money is needed for lighting, sound systems, entertainment features — and the committee welcomes all donations. Residents who have enjoyed this day in the past might consider sending $5, $10 or $25, which will go toward funding a relatively inexpensive afternoon of entertainment for the whole family. Naturally, larger donations or event sponsorships are welcome. The more donations received, the larger the Walk can be.

All donations are tax deductible. Checks should be made payable to The Charlestown Christmas Walk Inc., and sent to the Charlestown Cooperative Bank, c/o Jackie Latta, 201 Main St., Charlestown, Mass. 02129.

★ NEXT MEETING ★

The next meeting of the Christmas Walk Committee will be held on Monday, Oct. 30 at 5:30 p.m. at Otis & Ahearn, 90 Main St.

Anyone interested in helping with the Walk are welcome to attend.

Congratulations to . . .

Curtailing Dumpers And Vandals With Cars First Priority At CHS Field

by Kathy Giordano

Representatives of city and state agencies met this week to discuss the future of the outdoor athletic fields at Charlestown High School on Medford Street. Although the playing areas that include football and softball fields, tennis, basketball and racquetball courts, a running track, open space and a tot lot, are under the auspices of the Boston School Department, funding for the upkeep and needed renovations are not included in its tight budget. The School Department has asked other city departments and agencies to pitch in and combine their resources for a long-term commitment in upgrading the sports complex.

Representatives participating in the discussions came from the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, Parks and Recreation Department, Charlestown Community Schools, Boston Municipal Police, Boston Redevelopment Authority, School Department and Massport. They were joined by a representative from the Charlestown Neighborhood Council, Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force, Town Team, Boston City Councillor Robert Travaglini's office and School Committee Member Robert Cappucci.

This was the second meeting on problems at the playing fields. It was determined that the priority must be given to securing the area around the field by placing barriers to keep illegal dumpers and vandals from racing cars onto the field. A joint venture will be undertaken to place fencing, jersey barriers and boulders around the Terminal Street side of the field, and to beef up police patrols in the area.

Funding for further maintenance and refurbishing is not currently included in any one of the city department budgets. Methods of obtaining the needed money will be pursued by the departments involved and Councillor Travaglini's office. Until the necessary financial support is found, no further plans could be made for the area. The School Department, however, stated that its personnel will continue to maintain the football field and viewing stands.

Representatives were requested to return to their respective agencies and request the financial help and manpower to assist with the project. Another meeting will be scheduled in the near future to continue discussions on the field.

The Holden School Seeks Labels To Obtain Free Equipment

Students at The Holden School are collecting labels as part of a program called "Labels for Education." The Campbell Soup Co. is offering free audio/visual and athletic equipment, reference books and teaching aids to schools in exchange for labels from its products.

Labels from all Campbell's soups, beans, fresh produce, juice bowl and souper combo, tomato juice and V-8; all Prego spaghetti sauces; all Franco-American products; Swanson canned and frozen foods; Marie's salad dressings; Vlasic pickles; Mrs. Paul's frozen foods; and Pepperidge Farm cookies, crackers, bakery and frozen foods are all redeemable.

The Holden School asks its community friends to help. They can do so by saving the labels and sending them to or dropping them off at the school on 8 Pearl St. Students will also pick them up.

If you have any questions or suggestions, please call Alice at The Holden School at 242-3640.

The Raymond Group Hosts St. Catherine's Parish Fund-Raising Dance At The Atrium Of Building 149

The atrium of Building 149 in the Charlestown Navy Yard echoed with the sounds of laughter, talking and music as members, former members and friends of St. Catherine's Parish gathered for an evening of dancing to raise funds to support the parish. The event, which was sponsored by The Raymond Group, realized over $10,000 for the parish.

Among the evening's features was a raffle. Brian O'Neil of Corey Street won the first prize, a trip to San Franciso. The second prize, a television set donated by Boston City Councillor Robert E. Travaglini, was won by Jean Fitzpatrick of Bunker Hill Street. A gift certificate for dinner for two at Joseph's Aquarium restaurant was won by Jay Greene of Boston.

Backstage At The Charlestown Working Theater

CWT

442 Bunker Hill St. 242-3534

• The last two performances of "Fo's Fables" will be held this Friday and Saturday, Oct. 27 and 28 at 7 p.m. at the Charlestown Working Theater. Actors Thomas Derrah of "The Story of the Tiger" and Leora Rivlin from "The Diary of Eve" have been acclaimed by critics. Tickets to the performances are $13.50 or $11.50 for Charlestown residents. Call 242-3534 to make reservations. MasterCard and Visa are accepted.

• And remember, Season Subscriptions are still available and are quite a bargain, starting as low as $30 for four plays. If you've attended "Fo's Fables," you can apply what you paid for your single ticket toward the cost of a season ticket.

• Auditions! Auditions for CWT's next production, "The Construction of Boston," will be held at the theater on Tuesday, Nov. 7 starting at 6 p.m. Call the theater to schedule an audition appointment. You must be able to sing. Roles to be filled include paid soloists and chorus members in this whimsical musical tale about the creation of our city.

• Community Events . . . Tuesday, Oct. 31 from 3 to 5 p.m. marks the continuation of an annual CWT/community tradition: Halloween Faces. Master face painters will create a unique face to complement each little one's costume. Face painters will create a masterpiece for only $1 a face.

Plan ahead for another great CWT/community holiday event: Breakfast With Santa on Saturday, Dec. 9.

• VOLUNTEERS NEEDED! Community volunteers can enjoy working at a great variety of tasks and projects at the Charlestown Working Theater. For more information about volunteering, call Pat Johnson at 242-3534.

For more information on happenings at CWT, call Nancy Lee Kathan at 242-3534.

Children's Films

The Film Program for Children will be presented at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St., on Tuesday, Oct. 31 at 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The features will be "Lonesome Ghosts," in which Mickey, Donald and Goofy become the Ajax Ghost Exterminators; hear a bright and colorful Listen to the Mockingbird in "Fiddle De Dee;" and find out if the children or their pet cat get a bath in "Let's Give Kitty a Bath."

A meeting with idol SuperDuper leads to a surprise for Homer Price in "The Case of the Cosmic Comic." This feature will be shown only at 3:30 p.m.

Catholic Memorial Open House

All eighth-grade boys and their parents are invited to Catholic Memorial's open house to be held on Sunday, Oct. 29 at 1 p.m. at the school on 235 Baker St. in West Roxbury. Interested seventh-graders are also welcome.

The afternoon will feature guided tours by members of the National Honor Society, and provide an opportunity to meet and speak with administrators, teachers, parents and students. Light refreshments will be served.

SAINT JUDE'S NOVENA

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever. Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us. St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us. St. Jude, help of the hopeless, pray for us. Say this prayer nine times a day and by the eighth day, your prayer will be answered. It has never been known to fail. Publication must be promised.

Thank you, Saint Jude.

Rolinson To Play In National Competition

Amy Rolinson of Charlestown, a senior at Winthrop High School and a field hockey goalie on the gold medal-winning Metro Team at the Bay State Games, will attend the National Competition of High School teams Nov. 22-26. Rolinson joins other talent from throughout the United States.

Rolinson's team consists of high school girls from Winthrop, Malden, Watertown, Winchester, Belmont and Arlington and is coached by Loretta Fahey of Medfield High School and Dianne Piccioli of Ashland High School.

During the summer, the Metro Team was also recognized by the governor. He awarded the team a citation for its gold medal performance in the Bay State Games.

Charlestown Youth Hockey News

The ice chips will be flying this weekend as Charlestown Youth Hockey starts its 1989-1990 hockey season. Four Charlestown teams will see action in the Greater Boston League.

Come to the games and see the stars of tomorrow. You'll be glad you did.

Schedule

Saturday, Oct. 28

- 3:45 p.m. — Squirt A vs. Dorchester at the Walter Brown Arena at Boston University
- 8:25 p.m. — Squirt B vs. South Boston at the Boston Skating Club

Sunday, Oct. 29

- 10:20 a.m. — Bantams vs. Belmont at the Walter Brown Arena at BU
- 12:50 p.m. — Peewees vs. Dorchester at the Quincy Youth Arena

Late Flash: The Bantams, like the Marines, are looking for a few good men. Interested players, ages 14 and 15, should contact Anne Considine or David Hansen.

Skating Rink Wins Final Enactment

Legislation co-sponsored by Rep. Richard Voke and Sen. Fran Doris to open skating rinks throughout the Metropolitan District Commission (MDC) system early has received the final approval from the state Legislature.

The legislation now awaits the governor's signature. Both Voke and Doris are continuing their advocacy at this stage and anticipate the bill being signed into law shortly. In the meantime, they have been working with MDC officials to get the rinks operational and open at the earliest possible date.

"Simply put, the present skating season is just too short for our young skaters and does not meet the needs of our youth hockey programs," Voke said.

According to Voke and Doris, the legislation allows the MDC to use proceeds from rink rentals to pay for the coast of operating the facility during off-season hours. Currently, rental fees go into the state's general fund and are not accessible to pay directly for rink costs.

"We were faced with a challenge of finding a solution to a problem that was more difficult than it appeared," Doris said. "Everyone's goal was the same: our kids should get full use of our facilities. However, getting to that point meant we had to use a creative solution to a bureaucratic budgeting problem."

News From The Charlestown Boys & Girls Club

15 GREEN ST. 242-1775

• HALLOWEEN PARTY

The club's annual Halloween Party will be held Friday, Oct. 27 from 6 to 8 p.m. There will be games and prizes for all, and our famous Haunted Hallway is back for those who dare. There will be a costume contest with awards for the Scariest, Funniest, Most Original, Prettiest, Weirdest and Ugliest. You don't need to be a club member to participate, but the party is for children between the ages of 6 and 12. This is a good chance for non-members and their parents to come and experience the fun and excitement that surrounds the activities at the clubhouse. See you all there.

• HALLOWEEN NIGHT

The clubhouse will be open Halloween night, Tuesday, Oct. 31. We will be showing horror films in the Games Room and Teen Center, so if you are looking for a safe supervised place for your children on Halloween, the club is the place!

• SPLASH PARTY

There will be a Splash Party on Saturday, Oct. 28 in the clubhouse pool at 12:30 p.m. Before summer completely fades from our memories, let's bring those swimsuits up to the clubhouse and have some more fun in the water.

• THANKS

A special thanks to all the women of the Girls' Club for their sponsorship of the Graham-Redgate-Wall Scholarship, which was awarded at this year's Awards Night. Through the efforts of the Girls' Club alumnae and their spring reunion, four current Boys & Girls Club members were able to receive scholarships for their first year of high school. These women have not forgotten the help they received when they were young, and they are now doing everything they can to help today's young women of Charlestown. The Girls' Club lives on!

• ICE CREAM FESTIVAL

Our Ice Cream Festival last Saturday was a great success, as more than 90 club members took bananas, raspberries, almonds, cherries and more to make some fantastic creations. We hope no one showed up sick at home that evening. Thanks go out to the volunteers from the Harvard Business School who donated the ice cream, fixings and their time.

• SPORTS HAPPENINGS

The 13-and-Under boys hockey team finished as runner-up at the New England-area club tournament. The boys made it to the finals with victories over Nashua, N.H., and the Salesian Club from East Boston. The boys fell on the short end of a 6-5 score to the Dan Marr Club of Dorchester in the finals.

The team members are: Paul Allen, Adam Jaena, Mark Mansfield, Joey Lawler, Brendan Brennan, Michael Collins, Jamie Carroll, Paul Myers, Jeff Houlihan, Eric Gould, Brendan Houlihan, Mark Saitta, Michael Upton, Matt Mehigan and Jason Scales.

The girls hockey team continued to be impressive with an exciting 10-6 win over hosting South Boston. The girls found themselves down entering the final period but came storming back to hand Southie the defeat. The girls will host the Dan Marr Club this week.

• BASKETBALL CLINIC

Bobby Smith will be conducting a basketball clinic every Saturday at 11 a.m. at the club. Any teen-ager or high school player who's interested is welcome.

• FLAG FOOTBALL

The boys 16-and-under flag football team will be participating in the New England-area club tourney this Saturday at the Nashua, N.H., Boys & Girls Club. Good Luck!

Ironside Nautilus Celebrates Its First Year

IRONSIDE NAUTILUS staff members celebrated their first anniversary of the fitness center's opening in the Charlestown Navy Yard, while working to raise money for the American Heart Association with an aerobathon. Retired Boston Bruin Bobby Orr stopped by to sign autographs and WZLX 100.7 radio's DJ Jeff Gonzer broadcasted live from the center from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Shown here are just some of the Ironside Nautilus staff members (l. to r.) Lisa McAdams, Phil Morris, Kris Picarski and Greg Quercia. (photo by Lynn Peters)

BOBBY ORR made an appearance at Ironside Nautilus last weekend to help celebrate the first anniversary of the fitness center's opening. Orr signs souvenirs for young Danny Considine, while Brian Burke waits his turn. (photo by Lynn Peters)

A CHARLESTOWN FAMILY and former Boston Bruins Bobby Orr met at Ironside Nautilus in the Charlestown Navy Yard for the center's Oct. 21 first anniversary celebration and American Heart Association aerobathon fund raiser. 18-Wheel Theater Coming To CHS

An Air Force theater van will present the 10-minute multi-image presentation "Legacy" on Thursday, Nov. 2 to students at Charlestown High School.

"Legacy" will give students a glimpse of aviation history and the latest aerospace technology available. It emphasizes the influence of flight technologies on today's and tomorrow's living and working environment.

The show features eight flight technologies, and discusses how their spinoffs affect society.

The 18-wheel mobile theater van from the Air Force Orientation Group in Dayton, Ohio, transports the show to display sites throughout the 48 continental states.

College Handbook Now Available

Rep. Richard Voke has the 1989-90 edition of "College Admissions and Financial Aid in Massachusetts" handbook available through his office. It provides a profile of over 60 colleges and universities, and introduces prospective students and their parents to available sources of financial aid.

Prepared by the Association of Independent Colleges and University of Massachusetts, the handbook, subtitled "You Can Afford the College of Your Choice," briefly explains a number of financial aid programs and how to apply. In its profile section, the handbook provides useful information about tuition and fees, application requirements and enrollment sizes of independent institutions throughout the state.

To obtain a copy of "College Admissions and Financial Aid in Massachusetts," students or parents should write: Rep. Richard Voke, State House, Boston, Mass. 02133.

Brown Bag Bookies

The Brown Bag Bookies will meet at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St., on Tuesday, Nov. 7 at noon. The book to be discussed this month is Banker by Dick Francis.

Participants are invited to bring a lunch if they wish.

Townie Santa Meeting

The Townie Santa Committee will meet on Monday, Nov. 13 at 7 p.m. at the Mary Colbert Apartments, 20 Devens St., to discuss delivery of the 1989 Christmas baskets to elderly, shutins of Charlestown.

The public is welcome to attend this meeting.

When The Ballpark Was Full

by Charlie McGonagle

It was the World Series, I guess, which prompted my thoughts when I saw the ball field was quiet.

I stopped for a moment that Saturday morning. Perhaps I should have gone by it.

But its emptiness slowed me, and I wondered just why there was no infield chatter,

No baseballs in flight, no pitcher in sight, no catcher, not even a batter.

I remember those Saturdays when ballparks were full and kids elbowed-in for a spot,

When the plate was of cardboard and baseballs were taped and often the heavy kid caught,

When games went for hours, till dark settled in and still we tried to play more.

Not really teams, just contests called "scrub," and nobody ever kept score.

When fielders from two different games would collide, while chasing two different spheres,

When baseball on Saturday, down at the park, was music to every boy's ears.

When the dress for the day was dungaree pants, sneakers, a T-shirt and hat.

When gloves were no more than pieces of cloth and a Louisville served as the bat.

When, if you arrived just a little too late, you'd find all the diamonds were taken,

When out in the "daisies" you'd lay out your field so your plans for the day weren't forsaken.

When everyone played, and not just the best, and innings went well beyond nine.

When a grounder was hit and a spat would ensue. (There was no foul ball line!)

When the ball would unwind and you'd reach for the tape and begin to play once again.

When the clouds would roll in to darken the sky and you'd play right on through the rain.

When you'd pencil a 9 on back of your shirt and pretend your name was now Ted.

When you'd swing "for the downs" three times with no luck. (No homer, a strikeout instead!)

When darkness would send you reluctantly home and you'd look forward to playing next day.

When you'd line up a game with kids down the block, "See ya tomorrow!" you'd say.

When you'd return to your home after hours of ball and your Dad would ask if you won.

When you'd think for a moment, before your reply, and say, "I don't know, but we sure had some fun!"

Children's Halloween Parade On The Boston Common

The Boston Parks and Recreation Department and WBZ-AM radio will host Boston's first annual children's Halloween Parade on Sunday, Oct. 29 from 2 to 4 p.m. on the Boston Common.

Children 13 and under are invited to participate and register to win any of six grand prizes in the Best Costume Design contest. Prizes include an all-expense paid trip for four to Busch Gardens in Florida, a weekend at The Lafayette Hotel in downtown Boston or a Schwinn bicycle.

Registration for the costume contest begins at 1:30 p.m. on the ballfield, where the first 1,000 registered participants will receive goodie bags.

The Halloween Parade will begin at the Boston Common ballfield, at the corner of Charles and Boylston streets, and wind through the Common, where children will trick or treat for candy, ice cream coupons and apples donated by members of Boston's business community.

The parade will continue through the Common and cross in front of Brewer's Fountain, where a selected team of judges will decide winners in the best design categories. An award presentation will follow a musical entertainment program at the Parkman Bandstand.

The children's festival will include clowns, singalongs conducted by Emerson College's Musical Theatre Society, and short Halloween acts presented by the Boston Conservatory. Featured guest Michael Lane Trautman will tell stories and perform magic skits based on mime and circus skills.

For more information about the Halloween Parade, call 725-4505.

British Lieutenant Commander Visits Charlestown Navy Yard

LT. CMDR. CHARLES P. ADDIS, former captain of the "HMS Victory" from England, visited the "USS Constitution" earlier this month as part of his extended tour of the United States. While visiting the "USS Constitution," Addis spoke with the crew, and maintenance, repair and National Park Service personnel. He had presented his lecture to the Roxbury Correctional Institution in Maryland just before visiting Charlestown. Although the "HMS Victory" boasts being the oldest commissioned ship in the world, it is no longer afloat. Resting on concrete slabs, "HMS Victory" remains in one spot in Portsmouth, England. The "USS Constitution" is still afloat and goes to sea annually on the Fourth of July. Shown are Addis (center) and Cmdr. David Cashman of the "USS Constitution."

Class Of 1974 Plans Reunion

The Don Bosco Technical High School class of 1974 reunion is scheduled for Nov. 25 at Florian Hall in Dorchester.

A reception starts at 7 p.m., followed by a dinner buffet at 8 p.m. Music and dancing will follow the dinner.

For more information on this or other classes planning reunions, call the alumni office at 426-9457.

Not For Nothin' . . . But Have You Heard . .

• Welcome Sight . . . was Susan Cannizzaro, newly assigned crossing guard in Hayes Square. Parents of children attending St. Catherine's School feel much safer now that she's on duty. They say it's the first time since last year that a guard has been stationed there.

• Note From Up North . . . postcard from Canadian visitor "Brig Rat" received at Patriot was much appreciated. Glad to see you home again, Paul Chaisson!

• Birthday Greetings . . . go out to Everett Thompson of Cordis Street, Fran Smith of High Street, Margaret Austin of Cambridge Street and Tom White of Mt. Vernon Street . . . Have a great year, folks!

• The Russians Are Coming . . . No — they were here! Visiting Russian engineers were seen touring City Square last Tuesday with CANA officials. Seems the tour included USA construction techniques at both the CANA project and Central Artery/Third Harbor Tunnel endeavor. Info was passed back and forth, we're told! . . . Question? Will we dig so deep in the "Big Dig" that we'll be combining efforts from their side of the world?! . . . Stay tuned!

• Rumor Control . . . Speaking of City Square — there is no truth to the story going around that Secretary of Transportation Fred Salvucci has plans to build a parking garage on the land designated for City Square Park. Where these stories start, nobody knows!

• Get Well Wishes . . . go to Mass. General Hospital patient Elizabeth "Betty" FitzPatrick, Anchorage Apartments resident, who is recuperating from a bad fall. Betty broke a hip and dislocated a shoulder and will remain hospitalized for a while. Why not drop her a note of good cheer to: MGH, Bigelow Building, Room 612, Boston . . . Get well and get home soon, Betty!

• Another Blackout . . . caused work to stop in the Charlestown Navy Yard last week, sending employees of numerous businesses home early on Wednesday and not to return at all on Thursday. A transformer burnt out, we're told, near the USS Constitution Museum putting the area in darkness. Final repairs were completed by noon on Thursday!

• Don't Look Now . . . But . . . Roberta Byington, assistant vice president and branch manager at the Charlestown Neworld Bank office will (ouch) turn 40 on Oct. 26. That's today, folks. If you see her, wish her a great year!

• Congrats . . . to Judy Evers, our community liaison from the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, who'll be receiving top honors Friday night at the ABCD awards dinner. Our best wishes to one of Charlestown's best.

• Combined Celebration . . . will take place Tuesday, Oct. 31 at the Senior Lounge, 55 Bunker Hill St. The 25th anniversary celebration of the Kennedy Center will kick off at the annual Halloween party for the seniors, starting at 1 p.m. Joining in the festivities will be first- and second-graders from St. Catherine's School who'll be entertaining the gathering. Sounds like a great time!

• Notes Of Some Interest . . . "Alphabet Soup," a new pamphlet from the City Waterfront Association explains the acronyms, abbreviations and argots used in the CANA and Central Artery/Third Harbor Tunnel projects, plus a lot more interesting info. To obtain a copy, call CBT/Childs Bertman Tseckares & Casendino at 262-4354. Copies cost $3 each . . . The search is on for Merchant Seamen during World War II who might not know that they have finally been granted veteran status by the Department of Defense. The Animal Rescue League of Boston is in need of blankets, towels and rubber-backed mats for their four facilities. If you can help out, call them at 426-9170 . . . WCVB-TV, Channel 5 will broadcast a live debate Sunday, Oct. 29 from 1 to 3 p.m., including candidates for School Committee and City Council . . . (There, that's cleared off my desk!)

• BOOOOOOO . . . Halloween is coming. Tuesday marks the annual night-crawl by monsters, devils, ghosts and what-have-you through our streets, knocking on doors and asking for treats with threats and tricks! Watch out for these little munchkins by putting on those outside lights and driving carefully through town! Have a great - no, SCARY - time, kids!

• Getting In The Spirit . . . will be the staff of The Charlestown Patriot who have promised to report to work in full costume this Halloween! Why not stop by and see for yourself! . . . Sure hope that there's no big news-breaking events that would force our people to show up dressed as ????? (I'll never tell).

Residents Get Information, Advice On Coming Central Artery/Tunnel Jobs

by Lynn Peters

Many different kinds of engineering and construction jobs will be available for the upcoming Central Artery/Third Harbor Tunnel and Boston Harbor Cleanup projects. Charlestown men and women were invited to an informational presentation, sponsored by the Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force, about apprenticeship programs and other available non-trade positions at the Kent Community School last week.

Chris Luongo of the East Boston Harborside Community School's Building Opportunities Project told nearly 100 job seekers that most jobs would be available in 1993 and 1994. Recruitment has started early, so that new workers will be skilled enough through training to do the jobs well.

"The construction boom of the last 10 years has lead to these megaprojects," Luongo said. "Most jobs require training."

Entry-level, year-round, indoor jobs, which do not require more than a high school diploma or GED, will be opening for junior drafters, graphics assistants, engineering aides and other positions.

Jobs in some 17 different trades will also be available, and three- to five-year apprenticeship programs are beginning in January. The Building Opportunities Project, which is sponsored by the state Department of Employment and Training, the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services and Employment Resources Inc. of Cambridge, is designed to help people decide on which field they want to be a part of.

In an effort to provide information about long-term career opportunities to residents, the project offers information about many different unions and how to join their individual programs.

Resident David Dow, and Bill Irwin represented the Massachusetts Carpenters Union and explained their program.

"We're training for a lifetime," Irwin said.

Dow advised that young tradesmen and women "be certain about what you want to do. We don't deal in jobs, we deal in careers."

For those who want to find out about other union opportunities, Wes Lee of the Building Opportunities Project said he is looking for a certain maturity from job seekers.

"We don't want to work with you if you have alcohol or drug problems," he said.

The Building Opportunities Project, through its 10-week program, will supply information on jobs in engineering and construction, help people find out what their skills and interests are, offer training, arrange on-the-job training in engineering and design firms and provide apprenticeship preparation.

Anyone who missed the presentation last week in Charlestown but who wants to find out more, should call Cyndie Cota at the Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force, 242-3200, or Chris Luongo at 567-6800.

Terrifying Tales At The Library

A CHURCH WITH DISTINCTIVES

We would like to invite you to our Church because we believe we are different from most other "Christian" churches. When you come to our Church you will hear messages from the Bible, King James Version. No appeals are made for you to give money. God has provided for all our needs each day. We offer you no gimmicks or prizes for coming. We simply invite you to come and hear what God's Word, the Bible, has to say to you in this Modern Age. What all people need today, more than anything else, is the message of the Bible with its negative and positive aspects. We preach, without reservation or apology, what God's Word says. We do not support any trends in religious circles today not found or not approved of in Scripture, such as present-day tongues speaking, women preachers, baptizing babies, worldly Christian Rock music, new Bible versions, etc. We are an old-fashioned Church preaching the old-fashionod way of Salvation. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved" Acts 16:31. Why not come this Sunday?

A Heartfelt Thanks

A heartfelt thanks to my family and friends who remembered me during my stay at St. Luke's Hospital.

Townies never change, nor stop caring for their own.

Although I live far away, my heart has always been in Charlestown.

God bless you all,
Dick Gauthier

Brings Back Memories Of Another Heated Campaign

To the Editor,

The race for District 1 City Councillor this year pits three-term incumbent Bob Travaglini against Charlestown's own Brian Callahan. Back on Sept. 26, Travaglini topped the District 1 ticket by more than 2 to 1 but lost Charlestown to Callahan by a 3-1 margin. Apparently, Charlestown voters have decided to wholeheartedly back their own neighborhood candidate or, at least, that is the message being given out by many Callahan supporters. However, I do not necessarily subscribe to that political theory, which states that only a Charlestown resident can adequately represent Charlestown in City Council chambers. Sharing the same values is more than sharing the same neighborhood residency, and the best example of this is City Councillor Albert L. O'Neil. Dapper tops the ticket in Charlestown every time because he shares, understands and appreciates Townie values. There is a bond there, and it doesn't matter that the closest Dapper has ever lived to Bunker Hill is Roxbury's Dudley Street.

This year's district council battle brings back memories of another heated campaign fought in the shadow of Bunker Hill. Who still remembers 1974 when Charlestown's Jimmy Cushman battled future Suffolk County Sherrif Dennis Kearney for the vacant Charlestown-East Boston State House seat? In that political campaign, Kearney started out as the underdog from East Boston running for a state rep seat that still was overwhelmingly considered a Charlestown seat. But Kearney resurrected images of another non-Townie, Jack Kennedy, who campaigned all across Charlestown with Dave Powers at his side. That strategy appeared to work because, when the 1974 September Democratic primary was over, Kearney was elected state representative. Kearney may not have been a Townie, but he certainly showed Townies that he shared their feelings and wanted to be their voice up on Beacon Hill.

But getting back to this year, I believe that Bob Travaglini has been one of the best district councillors elected since the district system began six years ago. Travaglini may live over in East Boston, but he isn't merely an East Boston pol. Over the past six years, when Charlestown had a problem, the people could always call on Trav and he would respond immediately. He has never taken Townies for granted and works as hard at being a voice and vote for Charlestown as he is for East Boston and the entire district.

Now, there may be some out there who might think my support for Travaglini over Callahan is due to my Italian surname, but that is not the case at all. For me, the bottom line is this: Travaglini is a tested voice with the commitment to represent the best in all of us, from Orient Heights to Sullivan Square.

Sincerely,
Sal Giarratani

Neighborhood Council Is Outraged

Mr. David W. Davis, Massport
Ten Park Plaza
Boston, Mass. 02116-3971

Dear Mr. Davis:

The Charlestown Neighborhood Council is outraged at the process Massport followed in the beautification project under the Mystic Tobin Bridge. There was no community process or input.

I expect to receive an update as the improvements progress. The neighborhood council would like something in writing stating that Massport has no intentions now, or ever, of using the space beneath the bridge between Decatur and Chelsea streets as a parking lot. The council also feels that Charlestown residents should be entitled to reduced bridge tolls.

Sincerely,
Dennis McLaughlin, Chairman
Charlestown Neighborhood Council

Sincere Appreciation

Charlestown Teen Connection,

Sincere appreciation for the award, presented to me by my brother Danny Marsden, from the Charlestown Teen Connection at Thursday night's annual banquet. It shows me that there is a real need in this town for more outreach and prevention.

I will continue to do whatever I can to help anyone, anywhere who needs help. It's the least I can do now that I have found I have a choice between being high or being free. One day at a time.

With deep gratitude,
Jack Marsden

Adult Discussion Group

The Adult Discussion Group of the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St., with meet on Wednesday, Nov. 1 at 10:15 a.m. The topic of discussion is Cooking with Kids.

The speaker will be Tess Nesbit, Adult Librarian at the Charlestown Branch. Nesbit will discuss kitchen safety, recipe and cookbook selection, and kitchen etiquette for the very young.

Participants are invited to bring favorite recipes or cookbooks that have been used with children.

The suggested reading in conjunction with this discussion are: Holiday Cooking for Kids by Janet Wilk; The Illustrated Step-by-Step Beginner's Cookbook by Paul C. Huang; and The Munchy, Crunchy, Healthy Kid's Snack Book by Roz Abisch and Boche Kaplan.

Parents are invited to register their 3-year-old and older children for Preschool Story Hour, which meets at the same time.

Bunker Hill Associates To Honor William McCabe

The Bunker Hill Associates will pay tribute to 1990 Bunker Hill Day Parade Chief Marshall William "Bill" McCabe on Saturday, Oct. 28 at the Knights of Columbus Hall with a parade kickoff event that will feature the big-band sound of Angie Bergamini and his 11-piece orchestra. The event, as expected, has been sold out.

The Associates have stated: "Our pride and joy, William 'Bill' McCabe, is a lifelong resident of Charlestown. After graduating from St. Francis de Sales grammar school, he attended and graduated from St. John's High School in Cambridge. He obtained a bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice from Northeastern University and a master's in education from Boston University.

"In 1960 he enlisted in the Massachusetts State Police as a trooper. He rose through the ranks during his career and retired with a commission of lieutenant colonel, after an honorable career of more than 27 years.

"Recognized as an expert in the field of airport security, he was the officer in charge for the safety and protection of Pope John Paul II during his October 1979 visit to Boston.

"Upon McCabe's retirement in December 1987, he was immediately selected by Gov. Michael S. Dukakis to be commissioner of public safety. His duties are many and varied, including providing for the security, protection and well-being of all the people of the commonwealth.

"With the possible exception of the registrar of motor vehicles, the signature of William McCabe appears on more licenses, registrations and certificates of competency than any official in state government.

"Billy McCabe resides at 269 Bunker Hill St. with his mother Rose, wife Peggy, and daughters Maureen and Lynda."

Proceeds from Saturday's tribute will benefit the June 17, 1990 parade. Raffle tickets will be sold during the evening to raise additional funds.

As the swing era big band sound fills the hall starting at 8 p.m., the night promises to be memorable for the McCabes and their many friends and neighbors for many years to come.
