Let There Be Peace

Santa Charms Youngsters At CWT

SANTA CLAUS scratches his head wondering how he can brighten up the day for this little one who greeted him with tears. Santa was on hand at the Charlestown Working Theater as local youngsters had breakfast, talked to the Old Gent (a.k.a. as comedian Tony V), had their pictures taken and received a gift from Santa's elf at the annual holiday feature "Breakfast With Santa."

NEA Trustees Give Nod To Proceed On Dry Dock 5

The cold winter winds of Dec. 18 were in sharp contrast to the late summer day in 1988 when the tentative plans for a new world-class aquarium within the Charlestown Navy Yard were presented to a handful of community residents by New England Aquarium and city representatives at the Parkman House.

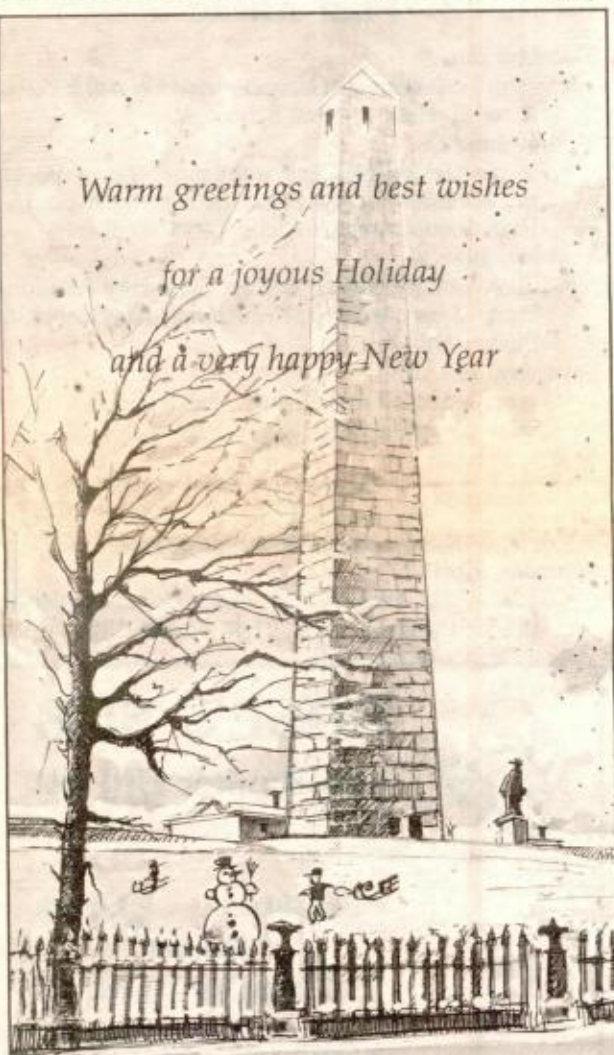

Since that original proposal for a Dry Dock 2 siting was made public, community residents have recorded hundreds of hours of meeting time, some vicious public and private attacks on individuals supportive of the project, and a threatened law suit that made continued planning for Dry Dock 2 an impossibility.

Some residents had suggested consideration of Dry Dock 5 in the Yard's End portion of the Navy Yard as a preferable site. This would leave historic Dry Dock 2 intact and preserve the adjacent Shipyard Park for public use. Aquarium planners determined that Dry Dock 5 alone would not provide adequate space to build the facility and include necessary education and research components.

In August of this year, Boston Redevelopment Authority officials announced that negotiations with The

Raymond Group were underway to include Parcel 5 with the Dry Dock 5 site to allow space for construction of an aquarium within the dry dock along with four and a half acres on Pier 11.

Since the late summer, aquarium planners have been working to develop a plan that would include the major exhibits originally proposed for Dry Dock 2. In the last 90 days aquarium planners arrived at preliminary plans and a model for a facility at Dry Dock 5/Parcel 5 that was presented to the aquarium's trustees this past Monday.

The aquarium board of trustees voted unanimously to pursue the relocation of a new aquarium and aquatic research center at Dry Dock 5/Parcel 5. In making the announcement, Dean W. Freed, president of the board stated, "The trustees are fully confident that a world-class facility can be built at this location which will be superior to our proposed plan for Dry Dock 2. This action will enable us to go forward with the development process."

Just prior to the public announcement of the board vote, Aquarium Project Manager William Whitney outlined the Dry Dock 5/Parcel 5 proposal for members of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council. Council chairman Dennis McLaughlin noted that this was an informational meeting for neighborhood representatives conducted as a courtesy to the council before the aquarium released the board's vote to the press. He stressed that members were there to listen and ask questions, but no action by the council would be taken until the proposal was presented to Charlestown, along with a traffic and parking management plan and a community benefits package.

A MODEL of the proposed New England Aquarium was on display following the vote by the aquarium trustees to go forward on the plans for construction of a new facility on Dry Dock 5/Parcel 5 in the Charlestown Navy Yard. Shown (l. to r.) Charlestown Neighborhood Council Chairman Dennis McLaughlin, Aquarium Trustees President Dean Freed, Aquarium Executive Director John Prescott, BRA Director Stephen Coyle and Mayor Raymond L. Flynn.

In describing the preliminary architectural plans, Whitney said the structure was designed to be industrial in character, appearing as though it fit into the Navy Yard. It would feature gabled roofs on the building along First Avenue, with a glazed roof over the exhibit area, providing natural sunlight for the animals and their visitors on the building's second floor. A suspension system would be developed for this glazed roof to avoid numerous columns, thus there would be only eight support columns placed 90 feet apart and 150 feet across.

The 280,000-square-foot facility would encompass two levels of aquatic exhibits. Visitors would enter through a concourse that maintains the original shape of the dry dock and includes an exhibit dedicated to the Navy Yard workers. They begin their travels through a diversity of marine habitats and life, ranging from the deep ocean to the coastline and the arctic to the tropics.

As visitors proceed into the aquarium, they would find a seal pool and an opportunity to see ocean waves from a fish-eye view. There would be a bird exhibit and conveniently located workshop areas and classrooms. Passing the salmon exhibit, the visitor would enter an amphitheater with an unobstructed view of a giant ocean tank, with such fish as tuna and mola mola, through an 80-foot window. This would be

THE BANK OF MOM AND DAD

With escalating home prices, many first-time buyers are getting help from their families for their down payments. If you're seeking help from parents or if you're planning to assist your children, it's important that you have very clear agreements about the conditions under which the help will be provided.

Sit down together for a frank discussion about how you will work out this assistance. Is it a gift or a loan? If it is a gift, check with a tax expert to minimize the tax implications. If it is a loan, how will it be paid back? Will the parents be named with the children on the ownership papers? Do you want to arrange an equity sharing agreement that is a type of joint ownership? Will it be necessary to draw up special papers, and if so, will the title attorney draw them up as part of the settlement package? Parents who help their children give them an incredible gift, whatever form that help may take.

If there's a move in your future, the real estate professionals at Silva Realty Associates are ready to serve you. Call us at 242-7470 or stop by our offices at 371 Somerville Ave. in Somerville.

'Townie Santa' Volunteers Deliver Christmas Packages To Elderly, Needy Shut-Ins

This past Sunday dawned clear and sunny, with the predicted snowstorm of the early weekend being just an underfoot annoyance. Once again this year, the day for the delivery of Christmas packages to some 120 elderly, needy Charlestown shut-ins had escaped a major winter onslaught, and volunteers gathered to be Townie Santas for a day.

Last minute packing of fruit, juice, milk and bread was undertaken by a crew at the Mary Colbert Apartments while packages were arranged for easy pick up. A last-minute check of the names and addresses of the recipients was made, delivery teams were organized and Townie Santa was ready to go.

Meanwhile, at the headquarters of Scalli Caterers on Sackville Street, family and friends gathered to assist Bob and Carol Scalli in the preparation and packaging of nearly 150 hot turkey dinners that would be delivered along with the Christmas packages. Mayor Raymond Flynn joined the volunteers at the Scalli home, donned a red and white Santa hat and apron and, rolling up his sleeves, joining the assembly line to package the dinners.

Teamsters Local 25 provided its van, and retiree Roy Herrick drove. The crew loaded the van and began delivery to recipients in the Bunker Hill Housing Development.

Volunteers began delivery at 11 a.m. People from all walks of life, ranging in age from 7 to their 70s, were all there to help in any way they could. Many businesses and organizations were represented, as well as individuals and families who just wanted to help.

The volunteers were faced with the awesome task of delivering two boxes containing food items, toiletries and gifts, along with two plastic shopping bags and a turkey dinner.

As with any task, willing hands make the project easier and Sunday was no exception. The volunteers included representatives from the Teen Connection, the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club, a team from the USS Constitution, led by Commanding Officer David Cashman, as well as a team from the National Park Services, led by Bill Foley. Rep. Richard Voke was on hand, leading a team in deliveries, as were Boston City Councillors Michael McCormack and Robert Travaglini. Travaglini also brought his wife Kelly to work on this year's delivery.

It was not an easy task, but as the volunteers returned to the Mary Colbert Apartments to enjoy a sandwich and a cup of coffee, each and every one of them expressed delight in being able to take part in this holiday program.

Thanks from the recipients has been arriving at the Patriot office and, in turn, is being forwarded to the Townie Santa committee. Several recipients stated that their cupboards were bare, and this delivery of food and toiletries would tide them over during this cold winter.

This program would not be possible if it were not for the generosity of the residents, former residents, businesses and organizations that donate money, goods and services each year. The Townie Santa committee extends its thanks to all who participated in any way, and wishes all a Happy Holiday!

THE MARY COLBERT APARTMENTS was the scene of much hustle and bustle this past Sunday morning as bags of fruit were tied with Christmas ribbon and perishable foods were bagged for Townie Santa delivery. Among the volunteer crew on hand for the

Design Contest*

"CHRISTMAS IN BOSTON" was the theme of the 1989 Holiday Greeting Card Design Contest sponsored by Supreme Court Clerk Richard J. Rouse. Catherine O'Brien of Elm Street, a fifth-grade student at St. Francis de Sales School, won this year's contest with her design shown above. O'Brien, whose sketch was chosen from over 1,000 entries submitted by fourth- and fifth-grade students in the elementary schools of Suffolk County, will receive a $200 U.S. Savings Bond for her prize-winning entry. Rouse began the design competition eight years ago when he was first elected to the Massachusetts Legislature.

Not For Nothin' . . .
But Have You Heard . . .

- Merry Birthday Wishes . . . go out this week to Judge Mary Brennan, who celebrated her birthday on Dec. 13 with a double-festive occasion — she retired from the Charlestown District Court the same day! Many happy years of retirement, Your Honor! We know you'll remain an active part of the community . . . Judy Evers spent time away from her duties as community liaison for the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services to receive much-deserved royal treatment from her family on Dec. 16 . . . Dorothy Connolly of Massport was treated to a gala evening to celebrate her big day on Dec. 18 . . . Jimmy Walsh of St. Martin Street, also known as Congressman Kennedy's aide extraordinaire, will turn 33 years old on Christmas Eve . . . 61 Baldwin St. will be humming on Christmas Day as the Quinn and Doherty families gather to celebrate the holiday and the birthday of Ginger (Quinn) Doherty . . . and Dec. 26 will see a bustle of activity at Constitution Cooperative when Betty Dunphy turns another year younger to the delight of her son Pat, daughter-in-law Judie (Thompson) and grandchildren Shaun and Tricia . . . Have a wonderful year, each birthday celebrant!!!
- OOPS . . . We wished the wrong Wilkins a Happy Birthday last week! It was Chris that turned 27 on the 14th — not his brother Greg as we reported . . . We think that you should be treated to another birthday gala, Chris! Nan said she'd foot the bill!!! Have a great year!
- Happy First Birthday Wishes . . . go out to Christmas Eve baby David Ryan Flanagan, son of Linda and David of Marshall Block. Papa David will take time away from his CANA duties to see to it that the event is duly recorded and celebrated.
- Wedding Anniversary . . . festivities were observed on Sullivan Street by Bunker Hill Community College president Piedad and husband Bill Robertson on Dec. 15th. Have another great year, Robertsons!
- Celebrating Their Silver Anniversary . . . on Dec. 27th will be Jim and Carol Barker who were treated by family and friends to a gala party a few weeks ago, at which time they renewed their vows for at least another 25 years . . . Jim, as you know, is the zany member of the dynamic duo at the Charlestown Post Office. Never one to let any holiday go by without a celebration of some sort, Jim could be seen dressed as Rudolph this week — red plastic nose in place and antlers properly adorning his golden tresses . . . Can't wait to see his performance for New Year's!!! . . . Carol, we wish you all the best in the next 25 years!
- Sending A Note Of Cheer . . . to hospitalized Townies at the Mass. General. Barbara Gould, Johnnie Greatorex, Nora Graham and Helen Myers will most likely be spending the Christmas holiday away from their loved ones . . . Why not drop them a note? It would most surely brighten their days.
- Mabel Egan Is Wonderful . . . As are all the women answering phones at the Edward's and Harvard-Kent schools and the Charlestown Branch Library. They came to our rescue last week in our search for the right words for Santa Claus Is Coming To Town. Mabel not only located the song in print, but sang it very well . . . Merry Christmas, Mabel — you certainly brightened our day. Santa better visit you! (or is it had better?)
- Second Smoke Shoppe Drawing . . . for a $25 Mass Millions season ticket from all those losing lottery tickets bought at the store was won by Margaret Hansen. Picking the ticket from the special box was Arthur Fidler. Congratulations, Margaret!
- Sledding On The Monument Can Be Hazardous . . . As anyone who grew up in this community knows too well and as this generation is finding out! That fence around the sidewalk comes up awfully fast when you're sliding down that hill. The Park Rangers have been warning youngsters of the danger — and on occasions when the hill has been more icy than snowy have forbidden them to take the steep slope . . . Parents take note! We would hate to report on an intended afternoon of fun turning into a tragedy.
- Much-Deserved Promotion . . . has been attained by Chelsea Police Detective Lt. Frank Garvin, formerly of Charlestown. Franky is another born-and-bred boy who's done good! Congrats, Frank, to you and the lucky people of Chelsea!
- Delayed Mail Update . . . Councillor Travaglini reports that he has received correspondence from the U.S. Postal Service to inform him that an investigation has begun on the complaints of poor service to customers in Charlestown and delayed mail deliveries. Results will be forthcoming — only hope the mail does the same! Stay tuned!
- Could've Had Me Fooled . . . But TODAY is the first day of winter!

The holidays will bring a little extra joy for at least two Charlestown families who share their homes this Christmas with European au pairs. Nadja Mack, 20, and Alice McCarney, 19, have become more than just live-in nannies for the McGraths on High Street and the Stantons from Constellation Wharf in the Navy Yard. They're like new members of the family.

Mack is a law student from Bavaria, an area near Munich in West Germany. Her charge is 7-month-old Ryan McGrath, and her host parents Todd and Maureen depend on her to provide companionship and care for him while they work.

McCarney, a hairdresser from County Tyrone, Ireland, looks after 6-month-old Billy Stanton. Bill and Colleen Stanton in turn provide room, board, a small monthly stipend and a family away from home for McCarney.

Colleen Stanton, who works for the MSCPA, can't say enough good things about her au pair.

"I feel like she's my little sister," Stanton says. "It's one of those matches that happens only once in a while."

McCarney has become such an integral part of the family since she arrived in September that Stanton occasionally hires fill-in babysitters so they can go to movies and plays together.

Mack, who has been with the McGraths since July, has also found a new family on High Street. According to Maureen McGrath, Mack has fast-become part of her family tradition.

"Ryan is our first child, and Nadja always has the baby's interest at heart," McGrath says. "She eats with us, does our schedule

"Americans are work horses," Mack says, "and and we try to make her part of the family."

Mack has taken up French at Harvard University as part of her student visa in the Au Pair in America Programme. She came to the United States to improve her English, learn another foreign language and see the country. Although Mack admits to becoming attached to young Ryan, she will return to law school in West Germany when her exchange is completed.

have different ways of doing things."

For McCarney, Charlestown reminds her of home.

McCarney says she will return to Ireland, having had a hard time leaving her family to come here. After spending the holidays and a full year with new-found families, the two au pairs may find it just as hard to leave Charlestown.

"It's not like a job because it's enjoyable," McCarney says.

Miracle In Charlestown

by Katie Dickens Day

Daniel, age 3, lives on Russell Street in Charlestown. Late one afternoon, he and his Grandma trudged up Mead to Bunker Hill Street. From there they walked down Concord to Monument Square. Something special was in the air. Everywhere.

Evergreens and holly, wreaths and red ribbons decorated doors. Mangers with Mary and Joseph and baby Jesus were displayed in windows. The celebration of Christmas brightened most houses in Charlestown.

Passing children had happy eyes. Older people with stiff bones moved sprightly. Cheerful hope and love hummed in every Christmas message.

Near the Bunker Hill Monument, Daniel and Grandma rested by Colonel William Prescott's statue. Chilly shadows slanted along buildings as the afternoon faded. Christmas lights switched on, one by one. Daniel and Grandma watched the city glow at the end of a cold December day.

Suddenly something moved above them. They both looked up at Colonel William Prescott. He smiled, casually climbed down from his pedestal, crossed his arms and leaned on the base. He glanced around the Square. "It's nice to have company on a cold evening."

Daniel offered Colonel Prescott a cookie from his pocket. Grandma said, "We're happy to see you relax, Sir."

"It's something I do once in a while. Especially for little boys and girls and grandparents. They have time to talk. Would you like to walk down Main Street with me? I haven't seen it for a hundred years or so."

Daniel, Grandma and Colonel Prescott slipped and skidded down Monument Avenue to Main Street. Turning the corner, a big fat man with a beard and a red suit bumped into them. "Oops! Colonel Prescott! I was on my way to see you."

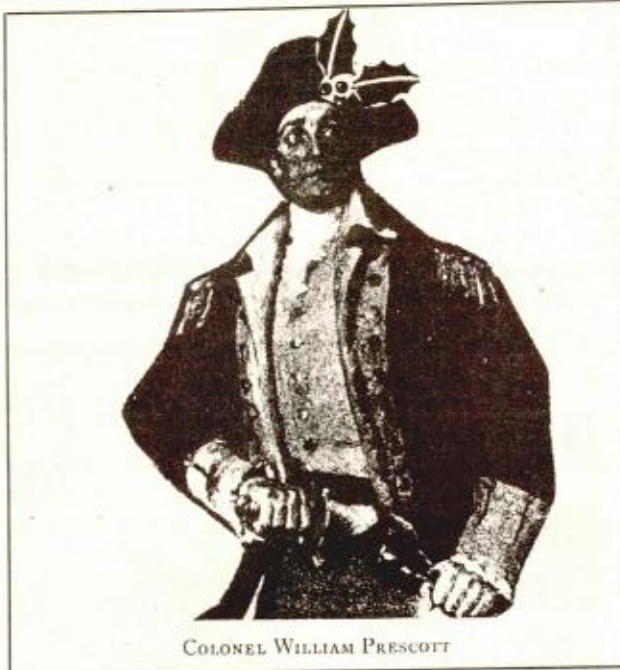

Prescott introduced Daniel and Grandma to Santa. Santa turned to Daniel, "What would you like for Christmas?"

Daniel thought a minute, then said, "A seashell!"

Santa patted Daniel's head. "Sorry I can't stay longer. Busy time of year. You understand." He winked, whistled, and called some names. A sleigh with eight reindeer pulled up to the curb. Santa hopped in the sleigh and off they dashed in a jingle of bells.

By the Post Office, car horns started beeping. Drivers poked their heads out car windows, staring in surprise. A man with a copper teapot under his arm rode a horse across Thompson Square.

"That's Paul," said Colonel Prescott with a chuckle. "Over here, Mr. Revere." The man on the horse rode across Main Street, dismounted, tied the reins of the horse to the street light, and started walking with Daniel, Grandma and Colonel Prescott.

COLONEL WILLIAM PRESCOTT

Daniel was hungry, so they entered an old tavern for bowls of clam chowder. Paul Revere poured tea for all the folks there.

"You live in the heartbeat of America's history, right here in Charlestown," said Paul Revere to Daniel. "Charlestown is the cornerstone of our country's independence." He and Prescott told about the early colonists struggles for freedom against the British.

Five bowls of clam chowder later, Colonel Prescott said he must return to his pedestal on the hill. Daniel and Grandma said goodbye to Mr. Revere and walked to Monument Square with Colonel Prescott.

"Thank you for your company," he said. "Come back for another visit."

Prescott climbed on the pedestal with a laugh. "Some things never change, you know. Merry Christmas!"

Daniel and Grandma walked home, past humble and dignified buildings, down streets from other generations. Old and new Christmas seasons sparkled in life and love and hope.

A small boy's hand held his Grandma's. The stars above twinkled in knowledge of the ages. Grandma said, "You see, Daniel, many years ago a baby was born in a far away place called Bethlehem..." Daniel listened all the way home.

Their steps slowed on Russell Street. Snowflakes started falling. When Grandma turned the front door latch at Daniel's house, he suddenly stopped and laughed with joy. "Look, Grandma!"

There it was. On the doorstep lay one small seashell. Small bell-tone voices of the snowflakes sang, "Merry Christmas, Merry Christmas, Merry Christmas, Everyone."

Memories Of Christmases Past

by Charlie McGonagle

I remember the dish. It was yellow, it was purchased at the Five and Ten on Main Street near Thompson Square, and it cost 20¢. I remember it because it was the first Christmas gift I ever bought for my parents with my own money. The fact that it matched nothing in my mother's cupboard meant not a thing to me, but because I don't really remember it being there very long, it must have meant something to Ma. The dish was part of a Christmas more than 40 years ago, and I am sure that neither Ma nor Dad remember it, but I know of one gift they most certainly do remember.

It was the clock, and it was found in the window of a cut-rate jeweler on Washington Street, just up from Haymarket Square in the days long before City Hall Plaza. It was gold with a pendulum swinging slowly and quietly back and forth. It was bedecked in diamonds and rubies, or so I thought, and it cost $16. It was the winter of my first after-school part-time job, and when I first saw the clock, I only hoped it would still be there long enough for me to save the $16. My hourly salary at the stationery company was $1, and I worked 10 hours per week. After the basic deductions, I guess I realized about $8 and change per week. Saving $16 from that little bit was no easy task.

Of course, Ma and Dad both thought it much too extravagant, but after some discussion, they reluctantly decided to keep it.

The reason I am absolutely certain they remember that gift is because today, a full 33 years later, the clock they both wanted me to return, sits in its place atop the television set, pendulum still swinging, and never, ever losing a second.

Back when the outer limits of my world reached from Elm Street to St. Francis de Sales School, Jack "Cooka" Lynch was a neighbor and one of my very closest friends. We were both altar boys, and the annual tradition called for all altar boys to don cassock and surplice and appear as a group at Midnight Mass. Just prior to this particular Midnight Mass, "Cooka's" mother thought it would be a good idea to give him a glass of warm milk. "Cooka's" digestive system, however, disagreed, and part way through the Mass, the warm milk found its way to the floor of the altar. Being his closest friend, I was assigned the unenviable task of cleaning up the results of this war of warm milk versus rebellious stomach.

Boxes of hard Christmas candy at St. Francis de Sales School are always part of my yuletide memories, especially the striped, clove-flavored variety.

The Jordan Marsh Christmas Party at the Boys' Club was a time-honored tradition. There were always puppets, a magician, and more of that delicious hard candy.

I remember well the Christmas I so badly wanted a "Photo Electric" football game, but because it cost so much, $10, I kept my secret wish to myself. I did, however, make it a point to add it to my ever increasing list of requests to the good Lord above. I had long given up placing my requests with Jolly Ol' Saint Nick.

If you've guessed I did get the "Photo Electric" football game that Christmas, you've guessed wrong. It is funny, though, because I don't remember being disappointed with whatever I did receive.

And how about these favorites from Christmases of your childhood? Four crows sitting on a fence just waiting to be struck by a rubber suction-tipped missile fired from a spring-operated dart pistol.

Lincoln Logs. If one was careful, one could accumulate enough logs from one Christmas to the next to build a small village of rural cabins.

Didn't everybody have an erector set, tinker toys, a Monopoly game, and a chemistry set?

If one was lucky enough to receive a pair of roller skates, those that were clamped to the shoes and tightened with a skate key, he would immediately begin hoping for warm weather.

Think about this, though. After a certain age, didn't you seem to begin to more readily remember Christmases of other years by recalling what you gave rather than what you received?

I think, too, of other Christmases when I look across the table and see adults where children used to sit.

December brings me back to a cold Sunday morning of a few years ago, when, with Christmas only a couple of days away, a fire came very close to altering the holiday mood.

And so once again, Christmas is upon us, and I sincerely hope that something nice, be it big or small, will happen this year so that on some future Christmas Day you will be able to look back to this Christmas of 1989 and revel in its memory.

A very happy and safe holiday season from all of us to all of you.

Second Annual Boys Club Reunion

Last January, upward of 250 men gathered at the Boys & Girls Club High Street building to reunite with old friends and travel down memory lane. The evening proved to be an overwhelming success. All in attendance left that evening looking forward to the next gathering.

In the weeks following the reunion, dozens of calls were received from former members who had not been made aware of the evening, and who were interested in being informed of future plans.

Well, the future is now upon us, and the second Annual Boys Club Reunion is to be held on Saturday evening, Jan. 20 in the Boys & Girls Club building on High Street.

Because of the success of last year's event, the entire format will remain the same. The evening will be informal. Bob Scalli will once again serve the buffet dinner, and a cash bar will be available.

Although the affair is designed to bring old friends together for an enjoyable evening, one of the event's highlights will be recognizing an alumnus for his contributions to the club over the years. The recipient will be honored with a lifetime membership, and his name will be added to a plaque which now is located in the foyer of the Boys & Girls Club on Green Street.

Tickets for the second Annual Boys Club Reunion are inexpensively priced at $10 per person and are available at various locations around town. They may also be purchased from Jerry Stiemel, clubhouse director. He can be reached at 242-1775.

Tickets are also available through members of the Boys & Girls Club Executive Board.

Based on the positive reactions from those who attended last year's affair, and on the inquiries from those who, for one reason or another, were not able to attend the first reunion, a huge turnout is expected. Because of the event's popularity, it would be advantageous to those planning to attend to purchase tickets as soon as possible.

A few of the Executive Board Alumni Committee members, who may be contacted for tickets, include Steve Kenneally, Pat Sweehey, Paul Collins, Dan McGoff and Charlie McGonagle.

One of the reunion's staunchest supporters has been Jimmy Connors. Although not a board member, he has put much time and effort into making the affair the huge success it has become. If you are looking for a ticket or two, and happen upon Jimmy, he travels nowhere without a dozen or more in his pocket.

We look forward to seeing you on Jan. 20.

The Boys & Girls Club Executive Board Alumni Committee

CANA Project To Be Shut Down Until Jan. 16

by Kathy Giordano
The Perini Corp., principal contractor on the Central Artery/North Area project in City Square, will shut down operations between Dec. 22 and Jan. 16, losing three weeks of work on the multimillion dollar construction job.

According to CANA spokesperson John McDermott: "The decision to stop operations is Perini's. The DPW is only one portion of the total contract, and we have no power over Perini's decision. He has met all the scheduled milestones of the contract and he must feel comfortable with this to allow his operation to stop. However, if we feel he is falling way behind in the contract schedule, there will be no extensions granted. When the final date comes, he will pay $10,000 for each day the project is overdue."

McDermott stated that CANA officials should have notified the community of the work interruption, a point Ken Stone, co-chairperson of the North Area Task Force, agrees with. Stone was not aware of Perini's decision, and his attempts to obtain a reasonable explanation were unsuccessful.

CANA coordinator Ed Barr stated: "This is no big deal. Most contractors do it. It happens every year, and it won't interfere with the work schedule. There are two holidays during that period, plus half-days on the day before each holiday that would be lost anyway."

Community liaison for the CANA project David Flanagan stated that Park Street will be reopened for traffic before work is stopped.

"Park Street will officially reopen for traffic on Dec. 21," Flanagan said. "No parking will be allowed on one side of the street to allow for two lanes of traffic entering from City Square onto Warren Street. New signs should be in place before the scheduled reopening, and pavement markings will be done by Friday."

The community wonders why there was no notification of work being stopped and what will happen when winter storms hit in February and March.

As one area resident put it: "We are forced to endure the traffic headaches and inconveniences with patience and understanding. The project will take enough time before we see any relief. Why should we have to suffer longer than we were told? There will be many winters with many winter storms that will, I'm sure, give the contractor unwanted delays."

Lee Elected Second Vice President At John Hancock Financial

Charlestown resident Thomas J. Lee has been elected second vice president, policy collection and control, at John Hancock Financial Services, effective Jan. 1.

Lee has held various actuarial positions since joining the company in 1976. He was named actuarial fellow in 1978, assistant actuary in 1981 and associate actuary in 1985. He became general director, policy collection and control, in 1987.

He earned his bachelor's

degree from Pennsylvania State University.

It's A Boy . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hodgdon of Revere proudly announce the birth of a son, Bryan Patrick, on Dec. 15. The baby weighed 7 pounds, 11 ounces and was 20 inches long.

The maternal grandfather is George Peters of Charlestown.

The paternal grandparents are Caroline Hodgdon of Weymouth and Harold Hodgdon of Brockton.

Bryan was welcomed home by his 12-year-old sister Karianne.

Winners Drawn In Christmas Raffle

A raffle, sponsored by the Constitution Cooperative Apartments, was held in conjunction with the tenants' annual Christmas Party.

The winner of the first prize of $50 was Gert Sugarman of the Co-op; the $25 second prize was won by Mary Dearing, also of the Co-op; and William Marsden of Mystic Street was the winner of the $25 third prize.

The one-hour broadcast is considered the best dramatization of the Dicken's Yuletide story ever performed on radio.

• Grinch Report . . . Kind hearts and the spirit of the holidays has overcome the Grinch's apathy. We are happy to report that the residents of Charlestown's newest neighborhood, as it has been referred to by city agencies and developers alike, — the Navy Yard — have been treated to a 20-foot, fully lit Christmas tree on First Avenue at the edge of Dry Dock 2. The tree is a gift to the neighborhood by Constellation Wharf resident Judith Chapin. It took many hands to secure its placement and lighting, and a full report on who's who in this Christmas Spirit Project will be in next week's edition of the Patriot.

DOR Has Refunds For Local Taxpayers On Annual 'Christmas List'

Five Charlestown residents are among nearly 3,000 taxpayers from throughout the state with unclaimed refund checks issued by the Massachusetts

Department of Revenue. The checks were all returned to the Department by the U.S. Post Office as undeliverable.

Local taxpayers on the list are: Robert and S. Brady, 18 Essex St.; Donna S. Cummings, Rutherford Avenue; Robert E. Griffin, 5 Salem St.; Thomas J. McLean, 42 Park St.; and John F. Walker, 3306 Eighth St.

Residents may claim their refunds by contacting the Boston headquarters of the DOR at 100 Cambridge St., Boston, telephone 727-4545.

Brown Bag Bookies To Meet

Amy Tan's novel The Joy Luck Club will be the subject of discussion at the next Brown Bag Bookies meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 2 at noon at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St.

A June 11 New York Times book review stated that "this first novel about women born in China before 1949 and their American-born daughters is a meditation on the divided nature of emigrant life." The characters "sing with a rare fidelity and beauty."

The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Loan Sr. of Charlestown.

The maternal great-grandmother is Agnes Sullivan of South Boston.

Keleigh was welcomed home by her 5-year-old sister Kaitlyn.

Construction Worker Dies In Fall

Francis Lawton, 55, of Dedham died Tuesday morning at 10:45 a.m., after falling five floors at a construction site in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Lawton, a roofer employed by Hartford Roofing Co. and contracted to Turner Construction, had been working on a scaffold at the Flagship Wharf condominiums when he fell from the ninth floor to a fourth-floor balcony. No one witnessed the fall, and a fellow worker who discovered Lawton's body was treated for shock.

The incident is being investigated by the police and construction company.

Doherty Honored For Service In Aftermath Of Hurricane Hugo

by Kathy Giordano

The U.S. Department of Justice has awarded Charlestown resident Deputy Marshal Walter Doherty the 1989 Director's Special Achievement Award for his service to the people of the Virgin Islands in the aftermath of Hurricane Hugo. A Director's Award is the highest award an employee of the Marshals Service can receive. Director of the U.S. Marshal's Service K. Michael Moore made the presentation during a ceremony in Arlington, Va. on Nov. 28.

Doherty was chosen for the award for the exemplary attitude and service he demonstrated as a member of the Special Operation's Group of the U.S. Marshals Service when the group was activated to help secure the island after the hurricane. Along with officers from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the National Guard and the Virgin Island Police, the Marshals worked around the clock to quell disturbances and looting.

Doherty has been a member of the U.S. Marshals Service since September 1979. He graduated from St. Mary's Grammar School, Boston Latin and St. Anselm's College. He was the 1972 recipient of the Michael Quinn Scholarship.

Doherty, known to his family and friends as "Fuddy," is married to the former Mary "Ginger" Quinn and has two children, Michael, 6, and Aislinn, 4. He is the son of Walter and Agnes Doherty of Monument Avenue.

According to Tom Nixon, chief of the Boston bureau of the U.S. Marshals Service, the Director's Award is the most highly regarded and strived for among members of the Service, and he praised Doherty for his service.

New England Aquarium Trustees Vote To Begin Planning For World-Class Aquarium At Dry Dock 5

one of the two exhibits within the 528-foot dry dock.

A technology center is planned between the ocean tank and the whale walk, allowing visitors a hands-on experience with high-technology marine equipment, such as a Rover that was used in obtaining artifacts from the Titanic.

A 20-foot wide concourse would bring the visitors into the walk with the whales — what Whitney calls a "show-stopper exhibit." The aquarium visitor would traverse the 100- by 200-foot exhibit on an acrylic and concrete walkway, with whales and dolphins swimming above, below and beside them.

High speed elevators would bring the visitors to the second level overlooking the whale and dolphin exhibit. There would be expansive views of this level from balconies as well as several seating areas for programs and viewing. Diving birds, seals and breaking waves would enhance the marine atmosphere. Also included would be an area so that visitors might observe the care of animals that have been saved by the aquarium.

A cafeteria on the second level is planned, as is a restaurant on the harbor side of the facility. Administrative offices would also be included on the second level, along with a book store and gift shop.

Visitors would complete their visit to the facility by descending a circular walkway around a coral reef, similar to the one that has been the centerpiece for the aquarium's Central Wharf facility for the past 20 years.

The exterior of the facility will feature windows at various locations and levels to allow the public to ob-

THE PLANNED New England Aquarium at the Charlestown Navy Yard is shown from facility designed for Dry Dock 5/Parcel 5 the northwest perspective.

NEIGHBORHOOD COUNCIL members met with New England Aquarium and BRA representatives on Monday for a presentation on the proposed aquarium for Dry Dock 5/Parcel 5 in the Charlestown Navy Yard. serve some of the aquarium's displays from the piers. Whitney added that it will be necessary to completely rebuild Pier 10. A pocket park is planned for the harbor side of the structure, the integrity of the harbor walk along the piers will be maintained and there will be sitting areas and opportunities for bull-market carts to be set up in warm weather. Whitney stated that it is planned that four boats will be able to dock at the pier, and offered the possibility that marine research vessels could tie up at that deep-water pier.

Both Whitney and the aquarium's executive director John Prescott have expressed great enthusiasm with this new aquarium plan. Prescott noted that they would be doing more in less space, focusing on education. He said that the visitor will be afforded more choices in the new plan.

Aquarium officials are budgeting the construction of the facility at $150 million. However, Whitney explained that some $14 to $15 million will have to be allocated for foundation work and to reconstruct the dry dock. Construction is tentatively set to begin in 1991, with completion in 1995.

Mayor Raymond Flynn joined Freed, vice president George Lovejoy, BRA director Stephen Coyle, McLaughlin and Prescott on the aquarium's ship Discovery on Monday following the board's vote.

The mayor opened his remarks by noting that "America's most historic neighborhood, and that's what Charlestown is, will

New England Aquarium Trustees Vote To Begin Planning For World-Class Aquarium At Dry Dock 5

(continued from page 26) have America's finest aquarium." He went on to say that it will be good for Charlestown, the city and the state. He stressed the importance of community process in bringing the project to fruition. Flynn added that with the focus on education today, "what better chance do we have to teach the young people of today" than through the development of such a facility. He noted that concerns were raised by the community on the aquarium coming into Charlestown, adding "when those concerns are addressed we will have a better project."

Lovejoy stated that it has been found that the project is feasible and affordable and the aquarium can have an improved facility at Dry Dock 5. He said that it has expansion capabilities within the planned facility, giving more flexibility to future programming. He expressed gratitude to the Charlestown community, noting that "it is never easy to have someone come into your backyard." Lovejoy stated that the next step will be to finalize arrangements with the city for purchase of site and plan for the disposition of the Central Wharf site.

Coyle spoke of the 15 months of meetings on this project. He stated that now that the aquarium trustees have decided to go forward with Dry Dock 5, the BRA wants to work with the neighborhood council and the community to approve a master plan and a zoning plan for the Navy Yard. He said that the BRA will have a plan ready the first week in January that will address all of the issues of concern to residents, including traffic, parking and design — issues the have been raised and subsequently put on the table until the aquarium siting was determined.

Coyle told the gathering that it was the city's commitment to the community and the aquarium to get the facility built, a facility that would generate $100 million a year into the city's economy. He said that the trustees' vote indicates that the project is economically feasible; the neighborhood council and community residents have identified areas of concern; and the responsibility is on the city, the community and the aquarium trustees to take up the challenge and make the aquarium happen in Charlestown.

McLaughlin stated that the council hasn't had an opportunity to discuss this new proposal, adding that the council has its job cut out for them regarding traffic and parking. He said that the council has asked the BRA for a document on the master plan including all developments relative to the Navy Yard for the members to review. McLaughlin did state that in general conversations, residents felt that this was a better proposal than the one for Dry Dock 2 and that some of the issues had been addressed, noting in particular Shipyard Park.

Prescott briefly outlined the plans for the facility using sketches and a model.

He said that the exhibits will be exciting and it will be a great opportunity to teach about the sea and that is what the aquarium is all about — education and research.

At the end of what was a busy and tension-filled day, Prescott remarked, "There were struggles to get here but I feel that the whole process has led us all to a better facility."

SEVERAL MEMBERS of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council met with Channel 7 newsman Gary Armstrong on Pier 11, adjacent to Dry Dock 5. The members spoke with him about the community benefits, such as employment, that would result from the New England Aquarium's proposed move to Charlestown, as well as problems, including traffic and parking, that have yet to be resolved. OUR FEELINGS ABOUT CHRIST-MASS

Christ-mass is a Roman Catholic Church tradition. Most early New Testament Christians did not celebrate it. There is no Scripture indicating the Christians' obligation to observe it. Nowhere in the Bible are we taught that Dec. 25 is Christ's birthday. In early America many Protestant settlers purposely worked on Dec. 25 in order to dispel any rumors that they were even privately observing Christmas. As Fundamental Christians we rejoice because of "NOEL" or Christ's birth all year long. We also believe other things should be observed all year long such as: "It is more blessed to give than to receive" (Acts 20:35), spreading glad tidings — "And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call His name JESUS: for He shall save His people from their sins" (Matt. 1:21), etc. We invite you to attend our Church where we celebrate Christ's birth all year long and not just when you are supposed to in order to keep tradition. We preach Christ's birth, life, death, burial, bodily resurrection, ascension to heaven and second coming. Have you trusted Him as your Savior from sin?

To Be Featured On 'Moments In Charlestown'

"Moments in Charlestown" on Cable Channels 3 and 8 will present two interesting and enjoyable features this week.

The first offering is a one-hour Christmas special entitled "The Third Annual Charlestown Christmas Walk," airing at 10 p.m., tonight, Dec. 21. The special will allow all those who attended the Walk to enjoy the highlights of this extraordinary neighborhood event, and those who were unable to attend, the opportunity to share in Charlestown's spirit of Christmas. Staying in the spirit of this holiday season, the second offering, to be shown on Friday, Dec. 22 at 7:30 p.m., will take residents to the Life Focus Center at One City Square. The interviews were conducted by Francis Kirk, who is a client of the center and now a fully certified member of the Cablevision staff. Life Focus offers mentally retarded and physically handicapped individuals opportunities to truly become a giving and productive part of the community, which is what the Christmas season is all about.

Children's Films

The Film Program for Children will be presented at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St., on Tuesday, Dec. 26 at 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The features will be "Drummer Hoff," in which a new cannon is set off by Drummer Hoff; find out if the little pigs escape from the big bad wolf in "The Three Little Pigs;" and someone is "stealing" from Grandma's snowman in

"Carrot Nose."

Captain Nemo and his submarine Nautilus threaten the world in "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," shown only at 3:30 p.m.

The suggested readings in conjunction with these films are: Drummer Hoff by Barbara Emberley; The First Snowfall by Anne Rockwell; and 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea by Jules Verne.

Basketball Clinic Returns Jan. 12

Boys and girls 6 to 16 are invited to learn the secrets of better basketball from Jamie Most, Johnnie's son, and neighborhood enthusiasts at a Friday, Jan. 12 basketball clinic from 7 to 9 p.m. at Charlestown High School Athletic Facility, 255 Medford St.

The clinic is free and is designed to give kids a chance to learn the game or play better. The clinic will emphasize certain skills, such as lay-ups, passing and how to handle the ball. This second clinic is a Charlestown Against Drugs-sponsored activity, developed by local volunteers in conjunction with The Raymond Group.

To register for the Jan. 12 clinic, call Tom Desmond at 241-8932, Bob McGann at 242-2770 or Linda Smith at 241-7700 with your name, age and address.

News From The Charlestown Boys & Girls Club

15 GREEN ST.

CHRISTMAS VACATION HOURS

The club will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. during Christmas vacation week, Dec. 26 - 29. Also, please note that the clubhouse will close at 5 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 22 after the Christmas Party and will be closed on Saturday, Dec. 23 and also on Saturday, Dec. 30. Because Christmas and New Year's Day fall on Monday this year and the club is always closed on Monday, the staff will be taking the Saturdays before the holidays off.

MEN'S ALUMNI REUNION

Mark your calendars! The annual Boys Club Reunion will be held Saturday, Jan. 20 at the Boys & Girls Club, High Street building. Everyone had a great time last year, and we are expecting an even bigger crowd this year as we gather to share memories. Tickets are $10 and can be purchased at the front desk at the clubhouse.

A CHRISTMAS TREE THANK YOU

Thanks to everyone who supported the clubhouse by purchasing a tree or wreath at our High Street stand. Every year we increase the number of trees we sell, and every year we sell out early. We hope everyone is happy with the quality of their trees, and we'll see you again next year.

COLLEGE CLUB CHRISTMAS PARTY

The eighth annual Christmas Party for the College Club will be held Wednesday, Dec. 27 at 6:30 p.m. All high school juniors and seniors are encouraged to attend to learn more about college opportunities and experiences. The party is sponsored by Community Schools and the Boys & Girls Club.

GIRLS WIN HOCKEY CHAMPIONSHIP

The Girls Hockey Team brought home the championship trophy last week with a stunning 7-5 victory over previously unbeaten Waltham. The girls team, with only one defeat this year against Waltham, avenged the loss with a solid two-way performance. Julie Treanor was outstanding in turning away Waltham's scoring opportunities.

The Townies' scoring punch was provided by Melissa Doherty and Helen Scales with two goals each, and Colleen Hanlon, Shannon McLaughlin and Mary Kay Tkachuk. The Town team dominated the first two periods thanks to the defensive help provided by Michelle Macomber, Corey Gallagher, Kolleen Hayes, Kelli Doherty, Jolie O'Brien and Kelly Maloney. The offense put constant pressure on Waltham thanks to the stellar play of forwards Jodi Neff, Marnie Ryan and Linda Howell.

SWIM TEAM DOMINATES

It wasn't a very good week for Waltham. Not only did the Hockey team fall to the Townies, but the swim team had to come in and face an inspired Charlestown team. The Townies put forth a great performance and downed the Waltham club 223-100. Coaches Anne Connolly and John O'Donnell had their team well-prepared and motivated, and it showed as Charlestown took event after event. The swim team will be on the road this week to take on Southie tonight, Thursday.

SIGN-UPS FOR GIRLS BASKETBALL

Sign-ups are now taking place in the gym for the girls traveling basketball team. Any girls 15 or younger as of Jan. 1 are welcome to try out.

ATTENTION ALUMNI

Christmas Week Schedule

The gym will be open for the Alumni Supper Club Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 5 to 6:30 p.m. The weight room will be open on the same days from 4 to 8 p.m.

HOLIDAY WISHES

Best wishes from everyone at the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club for this holiday season. We deeply appreciate all the support everyone in the community has given us this past year, and we are looking forward to another exciting and challenging year of serving the young people of Charlestown.

Police Line

From the desk of
Deputy Superintendent Robert P. Faherty
Area A, Boston Police Department

Monday, Dec. 11

Detective Langlois arrested an 18-year-old resident at Charlestown District Court on an outstanding warrant.

A stolen automobile was recovered on Park Street by Officer Mokler at 7 p.m.

An automobile parked at Monument Square was broken into during the evening. The rear window was smashed, and the stereo and tapes were stolen.

At 8 p.m., a resident was stopped at Bunker Hill and Main streets when another vehicle, driven by a 42-year-old resident, struck the vehicle in the rear. The driver of the second vehicle got out and began to assault the other driver. When police officers responded, they found the driver to be intoxicated. He was placed under arrest for operating under the influence and for assault and battery.

A stolen automobile was recovered by Officer Miller at 10 p.m. on Bunker Hill Street.

Tuesday, Dec. 12

A stolen automobile was recovered at 1 a.m. on Old Ironside Way by Officer Marzano.

An automobile parked on Eighth Street was broken into during the evening, and the stereo was stolen.

Wednesday, Dec. 13

At 11:40 a.m., the Boston Fire Department and the Boston Police Department responded to 90 Medford St. on the report of a fire. An apartment was found to be engulfed in heavy smoke. The occupant was questioned, was found to be responsible for setting the fire and was placed under arrest by Officer Pendergast.

An apartment at 25 Main St. was broken into during the day. The front door was forced open, and various camera and jewelry items were stolen.

Thursday, Dec. 14

At 1 a.m., officers were summoned to Tremont and Lexington streets on the report that someone was breaking into an automobile. As the officers approached, three individuals fled on foot. One of them, a resident, was placed under arrest after a brief foot chase.

Friday, Dec. 15

At 12:30 p.m., Officers Hennessey and Hogan responded to the rear of 74 Medford St. where they observed two teen-agers removing the tires from a stolen automobile. They fled on foot into the Bunker Hill Housing Development with the officers in pursuit. Both of the individuals were identified by the officers, and warrants will be sought for their arrest.

At 1:45 p.m., Officer Bollen stopped an automobile on Perkins Street that was being operated in the wrong direction. The driver, a 43-year-old Malden resident, was found to be operating the vehicle without a license. The driver was placed under arrest.

At 9 p.m., two teen-agers were seen attempting to break into the parking garage at 88 Main St. They fled on foot.

Saturday, Dec. 16

A stolen automobile was recovered on Old Ironside Way at 10 a.m. by Officer Bollen.

At 2 p.m., Officer Bollen stopped an automobile at Sullivan Square for a violation. The operator, a 20-year-old Cambridge resident, was placed under arrest when the officer found him to be operating with a suspended license.

An automobile parked on West School Street was broken into during the day. The side window was smashed, and a stereo was taken.

These incidents are under investigation by the detectives of Area A.

Residents are reminded: If you know of any drug activity in your neighborhood, call the Boston Police Hot Line at 247-4697. It is not necessary to give your name, and all information will be investigated.

Happy Holidays!

Deputy Superintendent Robert P. Faherty and the officers of Area A would like to wish all residents of Charlestown a Merry Christmas and a joyous and safe New Year.

Boston Parks Department Commended By Charlestown Residents

The Charlestown Neighborhood Council unanimously commended the Boston Parks and Recreation Department at its November meeting for its work on the Ryan Playground in Charlestown.

Chairman Dennis McLaughlin specifically praised James "Stretch" Walsh, the Parks Department's Regional Administrator, for the "superb job" he does on Charlestown's parks.

In a letter to Parks Commissioner Larry Dwyer, McLaughlin said, "The Neighborhood Council is a widely representative group and the unanimous vote to commend the Parks Department should be taken as a general feeling throughout the community."

The Ryan Playground received $560,000 in renovations under Mayor Raymond Flynn's five-year capital improvement plan.

Renovations to the Ryan Playground included refurbished baseball, softball, little league and utility playing fields, a new tot lot and passive area, perimeter fencing, a running/walking track, and extensive landscape and drainage work.

n. A specialist in the diagnosis, treatment and care of the feet: Doctor of Podiatric Medicine (D.P.M.), a Foot Physician

Choose the Right Specialist to Treat Your Feet!

Your feet keep you going. Their care requires a specialist. Today's modern Podiatrists at Northeast Podiatric are specially trained for the task. We are State licensed physicians and surgeons of the feet. If surgery is needed, we deliver high quality surgical foot care on an outpatient basis either in an accredited hospital or in our own, accredited office-based, podiatric surgical facilities.

As Podiatrists we have completed 4 years of regular college, plus four more years of Podiatric Medical School, specializing in medicine and surgery of the feet.

If you have questions about a foot problem, make an appointment or call and ask to speak with one of the doctors. Call us today.

Certified office-based, podiatric surgical facility by the Accreditation Association for Podiatric Surgical Facilities.

- Treatment of bunions, hammer toes, ingrown and fungus nails, warts, fractures, diabetic and arthritic foot problems, heel pain.
- Modern equipment and treatment
- Laser surgery available
- New patients usually seen within 1 to 3 days

Thank You

Dear Gloria,

Our family wishes to express our thanks to Boston and Cambridge Firefighters for their concern when a fire occurred recently at 27 Allston St.

Thanks go in particular to Father Daniel Mahoney who showed concern for our welfare, to Claire Lundin, to our neighbors and to the Red Cross.

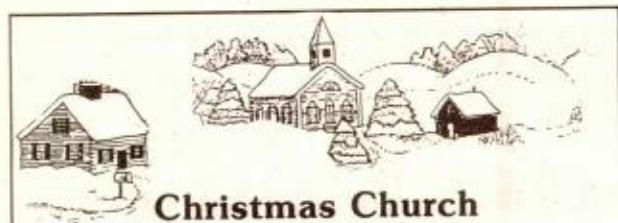

Also, our thanks go to the Carroll family; the Mirdik family; Charlestown Community Schools, especially Bev, Patty and Peggy; Little Flower School; and the Stadium Cafe in Everett for their generosity.

Wishing all a joyful and happy Christmas.

The Southernns

29 Allston St., Charlestown

P.S.: A special thanks to Eddie Connolly of the I.L.A. from our children Christine, Lesley and Andrew.
