Hayes Selected 1994 Charlestown Rose

It was a standing-room only crowd at the Knights of Columbus the evening of June 3, as the families and friends of the eight young women competing awaited the results of the judging of this year's Charlestown Rose Contest. Shortly after 9 p.m. the name of Kolleen Hayes was removed from the sealed envelope and announced as the 1994 Charlestown Rose.

This is the 12th year that the Charlestown-to-Charlestown Committee has sponsored this event where a young woman of Irish heritage from the community is selected to represent Charlestown in the Western Rose Festival in Charlestown, County Mayo, Ireland in August. Hayes will receive a trip to Ireland for her and her chaperone to tour the country and attend the festival.

Besides Hayes, this year's contestants included Kellie Burke, Sharon D'Urbano, Elizabeth "Beth" Golden, Christy Marie Lane, Margaret "Meg" Lillis, Suzanne Melanson, and Kelly Moloney.

The contestants arrived at the hall shortly before 6 p.m. on Friday night and drew numbers to determine the order in which they would meet the judges and be presented to the audience.

The judges were Ciaran Byrne, vice-consul general of Ireland; Lorraine Harris, New England Manager of AER Lingus; and Alice Phelan, travel agent for Brian Moore International Travel.

Following a three- to five-minute interview with each of the contestants, the judges turned their scoring sheets over to the tabulators and the winner and runner-up were determined. The tabulators were Dana Eisenberger, Investment Banking Consultant; Margaret Feeney of the Flatley Company and an Irish culture enthusiast; and Barbara Moritz of the Schrafft Center.

As the gathering awaited the announcement, a buffet was served by Scalli Caterers, and Andy Healy and his band began the entertain- (continued on page 7)

Conway Appointed Trustee At Chelsea Soldiers Home

James W. Conway has been appointed a member of the Board of Trustees of the Soldiers Home in Chelsea by Gov. William F. Weld.

Conway, a lifelong resident of Charlestown, served as a sergeant in the U.S. Marine Corps during the Korean War. He has been active in a number of veteran organizations on the local, district, state and national levels, and has long advocated for the rights of his fellow veterans, working to forge a link between the people of Charlestown and those from the town who served in the U.S. Armed Forces.

On the local level, Conway has served as commander of Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion and presently heads its Building Association and Killilea Fund; and, in the past, was commander of the Borden-Fields Post 544, V.F.W. and the David M. Cleary Chapter 109, D.A.V.

Conway has been the District Commander of the AM-VETS and Suffolk County Council, The American Legion. On the state level, he served the American Legion as its Historian, Vice Commander and Department Commander. He is presently the state's High School Oratorical Contest Chairman.

The highlight of his involvement with The American Legion on the national level was his election as National Historian at the organization's 1982 convention in Chicago. Conway is presently a member of the National Magazine Commission.

During his over 30-year

involvement with veterans and veteran organizations, he has been a member of numerous committees and has lobbied on behalf of his fellow veterans on the city, state and national levels. He was also instrumental in securing the necessary approvals to bring the Korean War Veterans Memorial to Shipyard Park in the Charlestown Navy Yard and has acted as a liaison between veterans and the community through his chairmanship of the Veterans Committee of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council.

Conway is chairman of the Charlestown Veterans Committee and, as such, is the prime organizer of the Bunker Hill Day Parade and the June 17th Commemorative Exercises, a task he

HOW TO HELP YOUR REALTOR SELL YOUR HOME

Once your home is listed for sale, it may be difficult for you to step aside and let your agent take over. When prospective buyers arrive, you may want to stand by to point out the closet extenders, the hidden spice cabinet behind the kitchen door, the energy-saving storm windows, or the updated copper plumbing. If you really want to help, however, you'll leave the house whenever it is being shown.

We've found that the sales process does not really begin until buyers begin to voice their objections about a property. Sometimes these concerns are serious and would remove your house from consideration. Often, however, people voice objections as a defense mechanism because they really love the house and they want to buy it. We're trained to know the difference. If a seller is standing at the agent's elbow, the buyer won't be comfortable enough to let this process take place, and we could lose the sale. It may be hard for you to do, but it's crucial that you get out of the way and let the agents go to work.

The guns on the bluff were firing full blast at us, hitting craft left and right. There were bodies in the water. Our LST was hit by an '88.' A shipmate was half standing. His side was gone, and he was dead. Counting that day and the next few days, our ship made 16 landings. Me - I was 19."

Arthur Hurley, Charlestown-to-Charlestown Committee chairman, greeted Rep. Richard A. Voke, House Majority Leader and welcomed the gathering. He extended thanks to the Knights of Columbus for the use of the hall and Jay Farris for the decorations. Hurley then presented master of ceremonies, Peter Looney, former chairman of the Charlestown-to-Charlestown Committee.

The former Charlestown Mayors were introduced by Looney. Those present were Lillian Boutilier – 1983, Marty O'Brien Sr. – 1984 (and 1994 Chief Marshal of the Bunker Hill Day Parade), Joe Crilley – 1986, Claire Lynch – 1988, Florence Johnson – 1990, Linda Howell – 1991 and Pat Harty – 1992.

The contestants were individually escorted into the hall and introduced to the gathering and then seated with their family to await the announcement. Contestants and their escorts were: Kellie Burke and her father William Sr.; Sharon D'Urbano and her father John; Beth Golden and her father Peter; Kolleen Hayes and her father William; Christy Marie Lane and her father Michael Hickey; Meg Lillis and her father John; Suzanne Melanson and her father Thomas; and Kelly Moloney who was escorted by her uncle Joseph O'Donnell.

Following the introductions, 1993 Rose Julie Treanor addressed the gathering. Treanor expressed her thanks to those who made her year as Rose so memorable. She thanked her Mayor Erin Sullivan, the Charlestown-to-Charlestown Committee for making possible "my trip to Ireland and a wonderful year." Treanor went on to thank The Charlestown Patriot for the coverage given to her this past year; her father, family and friends for all their support. In conclusion, she extended best wishes to Michele Cannizzaro and the new Rose for a great year.

Cannizzaro was introduced to bring her greetings and announce the results of the Rose contest. She first read the name of this year's runner-up – Kelly Moloney, who would carry out the duties of the Rose if she were unable to serve her term. When Treanor saw the name of the new Rose – Kolleen Hayes – she blurted it out before the Mayor could make the announcement.

The new Rose made her way to the stage to accept her crown, sash and of course a bouquet of roses, to a tremendous ovation from the crowd. Hayes then took the traditional walk down the runway, waving to the audience.

The selection of the Rose is based on her interview with three judges. Hayes said that she was well prepared for the interviews because of tips given to her by her friend and 1993 Rose, Julie Treanor. She said she was really nervous before going into the interview but the judges put her at ease and made her feel comfortable. She said she left the interview feeling that she did really well. Hayes stated that she appreciated all the support given to her by her family and many friends.

Hayes, 18, is a 1993 graduate of Pope John XXIII High School and has been accepted to Bunker Hill Community College and Bridgewater State College for enrollment in January 1995. Hayes' ambition is to earn a degree in elementary education. Her hobbies include teaching dance at the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club, ball hockey, volleyball, flag football, cheerleading, public speaking and softball. Her special interest is working with children and this past year she has worked as a full-time volunteer with the Urban Peace Corps "City Year," assigned to Kennedy Center Head Start program. She will graduate from City Year with a $5,000 scholarship next Monday.

Hayes was the Paul Jackson and Fred Church award recipient and was the 1991 Youth of the Year, all as awarded by the Boys & Girls Clubs of Boston. Hayes was also the 1991 CYO Cheerleader of the Year, she received the Youth Service Award from Mayor Raymond L. Flynn in 1993 and from Mayor Thomas M. Menino in 1994; and was the recipient of the 1994 Charlestown Community Appreciation Youth Award.

Hayes is the daughter of Kathleen and William Hayes of Elm Street. She has two brothers, Bill, 22 and Ken, 20.

Hayes related that she always wanted to enter the Rose contest but Treanor, the 1993 Rose and her good friend, really got her "psyched" for this year's contest.

She told of sitting with her family on Friday night waiting for the results to be announced and hearing her good friend Moloney named runner-up. Hayes said she was thrilled for Moloney and never expected that she (Hayes) would have a chance to win. As she saw Treanor open the envelope with the winner's name, and start jumping up and down, she knew it was her.

Hayes continued, stating that when she finally heard her name, she just sat stunned and it was her family and friends who were jumping up and down. She said, "I just can't believe it – it's unreal."

Hayes said she is "very excited" about the coming year and expects a tremendous year with Mayor Michele, whom she said she "has gotten to know this past week and really likes – we will have a great time."

Hayes will begin her official duties in Charlestown this week, which includes participation in the Bunker Hill Day Parade on Sunday and she looks forward to the event. And in August it will be off to Ireland, accompanied by her cousin Jodi Neff, as she represents Charlestown, Mass. in Charlestown, County Mayo..

Birmingham Announces Senate Ways and Means Budget Proposals to Benefit Charlestown

The Senate Committee on Ways and Means this week takes up a $16.3 billion proposal for the next fiscal year that keeps faith with legislative commitments, eschews expanded gambling and gambling advertising and provides a tax credit for low-income working families.

"This budget is particularly relevant to the working families of Charlestown," stated Senator Thomas F. Birmingham. "It lives up to our commitments," the Charlestown native, who is also chair of the Ways and Means Committee, said. "The budget plan also promotes values — supporting education, work and family, while opposing state-sponsored advertising aimed at undermining those values," said Birmingham.

"We hold ourselves duty-bound to adhere scrupulously to promises already made through the legislative process," he avowed. The commitments met or surpassed include full funding of the second year of education reform; providing more than the agreed upon $40 million increase in unrestricted local aid; improving upon last year's commitment to MWRA rate relief; funding loans for lead paint removal; and a three percent cost of living adjustment on the first $9,000 of pension income for state and municipal employees.

Birmingham noted that the Governor's proposed budget was balanced on "illusory revenue sources. We reject the temptation to balance our budget by counting on long-shot bets paying off," he said referring to the Governor's reliance on revenues from state-sponsored casino and riverboat gambling to balance his budget. "An honest, fiscally responsible budget is always my top concern in crafting a budget," he added. Birmingham noted that without this $125 million in "illusory" revenue, the legislature is able to provide for expansion of far fewer worthy programs.

Birmingham pointed out that the legislature last year acquiesced to the Governor's expansion of the lottery to include Keno games and accepted the Governor's revenue estimate of $50 million. "We lived to rue the day," he said, indicating that the Weld administration now admits Keno will fall about $30 million short of that figure.

"Perhaps we should not be surprised that the administration is prepared to continue to rely on speculative gambling revenues as a substitute for responsible budgeting," Birmingham suggested. "That's precisely the type of false hope we spend millions of dollars a year to encourage through our lottery advertising expenditures." Birmingham proposes eliminating lottery advertising spending, for a savings of $5.2 million. Five million dollars of this savings is returned to cities and towns in the form of increased local aid. Despite the fiscal constraints imposed by meeting legislative commitments such as the local aid increases, Birmingham noted that the budget expands community policing; provides a significant increase for public higher education; and funds bail reform legislation, which he supports.

Birmingham's spending plan also returns some tax dollars to taxpayers. "We seek to give a break to the working poor, to reinforce the message that work does pay," said Birmingham. The proposal increases non-taxable income from the present level of $8,000 to $9,000 and creates and new Head-of-Household tax status to extend to single parents the tax advantages afforded to other family heads. The budget plan also includes a correction in the investment tax credit for the acquisition of equipment. "This targeted tax cut should prove to be a benefit to the high tech industry — perhaps the sector most important to the economic future of Massachusetts," said Birmingham.

As chair of the Senate Ways and Means Committee, Birmingham is charged with drafting the Senate version of the Commonwealth's budget for fiscal year 1995, which begins July 1, 1994. Following the Committee's action on the bill, it will proceed to the Senate floor for debate. From there it will move to a House and Senate conference committee to iron out differences between the two versions of the budget.

The Greater Kensington String Band To Appear In Concert At The Bunker Hill Monument On Saturday, June 11

CAPTAIN SCOTT MOYER will lead the Greater Kensington String Band from Philadelphia in concert on Saturday, June 11 at 5 p.m. on Monument Square in front of the Bunker Hill Museum. The theme of its presentation is "Plane Crazy!" The band will also be in the line of march for the Bunker Hill Day Parade on June 12.

A foot-tapping, hand-clapping good time is in store for residents on Saturday, June 11 at 5 p.m., as The Greater Kensington String Band from Philadelphia presents a concert on Monument Square in front of the Bunker Hill Museum.

This concert, sponsored by the Bunker Hill Day Commemorative Committee, is part of the celebration marking the 219th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill and the 200th anniversary of the construction of the original wooden Bunker Hill Monument by King Solomon's Masonic Lodge. It will feature the colorful costumes and award-winning music of the famous Greater Kensington String Band.

A mummer is defined as "one who goes merrymaking in disguise during festivals." Mummery can be traced back to medieval Europe when men and women would lead festal rites during the Christmas holiday season. History records that when the pioneer Swedes came to this country, they settled in an area known as Tinicum, bringing with them many customs of the old country. Important among them was the age-old habit of visiting friends the day after Christmas through the first day of the new year. They would travel in bands of men through South Philadelphia engaging in a series of festivities. This informal celebration continued until Jan. 1, 1901 when the first organized parade was established, and hence, tradition was set.

Strutting your way, with its 1994 theme of "Plane Crazy," are the brightly-costumed members of the Greater Kensington String Band, one of Philadelphia's most recognized Mummer organizations.

Philadelphia's Mummer, who have their roots in medieval folk traditions, appear in the spectacular New Year's Parade in the City of Brotherly Love. The parade boggles the senses and tests the stamina — lasting as long as 10 or 12 hours.

Greater Kensington is one of 23 string bands who participate annually in the parade, along with a multitude of non-musical brigades and clubs. Unlike the Rose Parade and other famous marches, the Mummers' Parade is not commercially-sponsored, instead the elaborate costumes are purchased by amateur marchers.

String band members wear expensive feathered costumes and play a blend of music heavy on saxophones and strings (no brass is permitted by tradition). The style of music dates back to the first official (continued on page 24)

Notice To Residents Of Monument Square

Parking will be prohibited on Monument Square between Monument Court and Pleasant Street from 3 to 6 p.m. on Saturday, June 11 to allow for the performance by the Greater Kensington String (Mummers) Band from Philadelphia as part of the Bunker Hill Day celebration. Your cooperation will be appreciated.

"LITTLE ANGELS"

In memory of our Baby Kyle on his Second Birthday, June 15, 1994

*When God calls little children to dwell with Him above,
We mortals sometime question the wisdom of His love.
For no heartache compares with the death of one small child
Who does so much to make our world seem wonderful and mild.
Perhaps God tires of calling the aged to His fold,
So he picks a rose bud before it can grow old.
God knows how much we need them, so he takes but few,
To make the land of Heaven more beautiful to view.
Believing this is difficult, still somehow we must try,
The saddest word mankind knows will always be "goodbye."
So when a little child departs, we who are left behind
Must realize God loves children, Angels are hard to find.
You are, and always will be, our Little Angel!
We love you . . . Love, Mommy & Daddy* executives, the sentiment and personality described in "If" are much more fittingly applicable to the principal of an elementary school, and never have they been more exemplified than by Sister Lois Lyons, principal of Charlestown Catholic Elementary School.

For the past two years, Sister Lois has admirably served as administrator, mentor, confidante, and caring moderator for staff, students, parents and all involved with Charlestown Catholic Elementary. During the first year of the consolidation of St. Francis de Sales and St. Catherine of Siena schools, she has been the inspiration for the harmony and the integration which has led to Charlestown Catholic's becoming an academic institution which is a positive reflection of the Charlestown community.

Throughout her administration Sister Lois has been found, in the space of a few minutes, focusing her complete attention on an academic concern of one of her teaching staff, comforting a sick child while he waits for his parent, giving firm but compassionate direction regarding discipline to a student sent to her office, tirelessly working on budgetary matters and maintaining home/school communication which is centered on keeping parents informed of their child's development. All of these tasks she has performed with a sense of justice and a spirit of harmony which can come only from one who is at peace with herself and confident of her direction. In short, Sister Lois has personified the imperative of Catholic education - "To Teach as Jesus Taught."

Unfortunately for Charlestown Catholic, the time has come for Sister Lois to move on. It is with great sadness that her staff must yield their own desires for Sister Lois to remain, to the more important issues surrounding Sister's need to leave for the sake of her health. Also, parents and others with whom Sister Lois has worked in her capacity as principal will feel a great void. One is reminded of the Gospel Story when Jesus has preached and healed multitudes resulting in a great following. After His early rising and prayer, He tells the Apostles it is time to move on. The Apostles don't want Jesus to go, Jesus has been such a success in Caphernaum - yet Jesus tells them He must move on to continue His ministry in other places. Amid the sense of loss at Sister Lois' leaving, there is also a celebration of her good works.

Sister Lois has followed the teachings of Jesus and completely and lovingly given of herself as principal and we at Charlestown Catholic Elementary School prayerfully wish her "all the best" in her next assignment.

Other news from Charlestown Catholic, the results of the Student Council election for 1994-1995 are in - and the following young people will be serving as emissaries of Jesus, each according to their abilities: Denise Devlin, commissioner general; Aileen Gorman, assistant commissioner general; Stephen Flynn, commissioner of finance; Melissa Missett, secretary; Lauren Kate O'Hearn, commissioner of publicity; Jessica Bras-sil, commissioner religious affairs; Jean Wall, commissioner of ecology; Corie Hollien, commissioner of spirit; Kathleen Lacey, commissioner of safety; Kathryn Garvey, commissioner-at-large, grade K; Kristie Donahue, commissioner-at-large, grade 1; Jason Tamburello, commissioner-at-large, grade 2; and Michelle Kane, commissioner-at-large, grade 3. Congratulations to all of the newly elected officers!

The winners of the Charlestown Catholic lottery calendar were: Danielle Whalen of 106 Old Ironside Way; Tony Santiago of 141 Spring St., Cambridge; Trudy Palingo of 62 Washington St.; Sandra Moccia of 28 Monument St.; Chris Hickey of 48 Lincoln St., Hyde Park; Dorianne Griffen of 48 Coolidge St., Everett; Denise Reynolds of 44 Loomis St., Malden; Margaret Forrest of 106 13th St.; Velma Glynn of 42 Park St.; and Ryan Hickey of 26 North Mead St.

Bunker Hill Day Commemorative Exercises on June 17

The Bunker Hill Day Commemorative Exercises, sponsored by Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion under the auspices of the city of Boston, will be held on Friday morning, June 17. These ceremonies will mark the 219th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill, the 151st anniversary of the dedication of the Bunker Hill monument and the 200th anniversary of the construction of the wooden monument by King Solomon's Lodge of the Masons.

The program, according to Standing Committee Chairman James W. Conway, past commander of Post 26 and Past National Historian of The American Legion, will begin with an Ecumenical Service at St. Francis de Sales Church, 313 Bunker Hill Street at 9 a.m.

Following the service, the veteran, military, militia and patriotic organizations will assemble outside the church and form a procession. The participants will march to the Bunker Hill Monument grounds to the music of the Colonial Band of Lawrence for the Patriotic Exercises, commencing at 10 a.m.

The Monument Orator on this, the 219th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill, will be John Burchill, Superintendent of Boston National Historical Park.

Burchill, a Boston native from the West Roxbury section of the city, is a career employee of the National Park Service. He has worked in and held management positions in a variety of National Parks throughout 27 years of service, including: Yellowstone National Park,

MONUMENT ORATOR JOHN J. BURCHILL

Wyoming; Yosemite National Park, California; Cape Cod National Seashore, Massachusetts; Big Cypress Preserve, Florida; and most recently, from 1981 to 1984, as superintendent of the recently authorized National Historical Park in Lowell, Massachusetts.

He has been superintendent at Boston National Historical Park since 1984. This park includes Faneuil Hall, Old North Church, Old State House, Bunker Hill, Old South Meeting House, Charlestown Navy Yard, berth for the USS Constitution, Paul Revere House and Dorchester Heights. Burchill also serves as superintendent for the Boston African-American National Historic Site. The park consists of The Black Heritage Trail, which is a walking tour that explores the history of Boston's 19th century African-American community.

Burchill holds a BBA degree from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, and a J.D. from Suffolk University Law School. He is also a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association.

He is married to the former Ann Dwyer and has two daughters, Ann Margaret, 27, who is employed in Boston and Mary, 29, who teaches chemistry at Skowhegan High School in Skowhegan, Maine.

Burchill's knowledge of the history of the Bunker Hill Monument will provide the framework for a truly noteworthy oration.

At the conclusion of the formal ceremonies, a wreath will be placed at the base of the statue of Col. William Prescott on the Monument grounds.

Conway and the committee, extend a warm welcome to all residents, organizations from within and outside the community, to join with them on the morning of the 17th of June - the 219th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill, at both the Ecumenical Services at St. Francis de Sales Church at 9 a.m. and the Patriotic Exercises at the Monument at 10 a.m.

With the cooperation and attendance of all, these commemorative exercises will truly be a fitting tribute to our fallen heroes of Bunker Hill and to those whose dedication saw the completion of the Bunker Hill Monument 151 years ago.

Ceremony Marks Beginning Of The Bicentennial Of The USS Constitution

photos by Michael Tognarelli and Bill Foley

The United States Navy celebrated the 200th anniversary of the Naval Armament Act of 1794 recently. The act authorized the construction of the first six ships of the Federal Navy, including the frigate USS Constitution.

The Commanding Officer of USS Constitution, Cmdr. Richard B. Amirault, and Charles F. Adams, chairman, Old Ironsides Bicentennial, hosted the Charlestown Navy Yard event which featured a special ceremony, and a series of displays and demonstrations in Building 24.

Approximately 500 invited guests enjoyed the Navy Band Newport, one of the 17 official bands of the U.S. Navy, performing a program of patriotic music. An historic color guard and a performance of the National anthem by professional singer Sandy Martin were a part of the afternoon's festivities.

Amirault introduced dignitaries who gave brief remarks. This was followed by the presentation of a special Constitution memento to Edmund Hartt, namesake and direct descendant of the man whose Boston Shipyard built "Old Ironsides" back in the 1790s.

Guests at the event had the unique opportunity to make their names go down in history by signing pieces of copper sheathing. Old Ironsides is currently undergoing a major preservation in the John Quincy Adams Drydock at the Charlestown Navy Yard, the same drydock where she underwent her first drydocking in 1833. In the great tradition established by Paul Revere, who procured the original copper for the ship in the late 1790's, Old Ironsides' hull will be sheathed with pieces of corrosion-resistant copper that will cover her below-the-water-line.

The purpose of the copper sheathing is threefold. First, it serves as an "anti-fouling" agent to resist wood-damaging marine growth on the hull of the ship. Second, the copper provides protection for the hull's caulking. Third, the sheathing smooths out and streamlines the underwater hull to allow for more speed through the water.

Each piece of 30-gauge copper to be nailed to the ship's hull will be punched with holes by feeding it through an antique hand-cranked press. Several punched sheets, each measuring 14" by 48" were signed by attendees using electric etchers. These signed pieces of sheathing will be among the 3,400 sheets that will affixed to Constitution's hull with well over a half-million nails before she leaves the drydock as she prepares for her 200th birthday.

Refreshments, reflecting the taste of the past, were served courtesy of The Warren Tavern, the Union Oyster House, Durgin Park restaurant and Carlson Orchards.

Graduate From Don Bosco

Six students from Charlestown recently graduated from Don Bosco Technical High School in Boston at the 44th commencement exercises held at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross.

They are: Philip F. Coleman, Mark J. Collins, William J. Getchell, Mark A. Mansfield, Robert W. Marcella and Matthew P. Mehigan.

Coleman received the Brother Julius Award for outstanding effort in woodworking, and Mehigan was the recipient of the Scholastic Award for Excellence in English.

Brother Thomas Sweeney, SDB, the chairman of the religious education department at the Salesian High School in New Rochelle, New York, was the principal speaker. Brother Tom was on the staff at Don Bosco for 12 years, serving as the chairman of the graphic arts department.

The diplomas were awarded to the graduates by Fr. Richard J. McCormick, SDB, director and superior of Don Bosco, Charles A. Schuetz, president and John J. Goff, principal.

The Most Revered John F. Boles, D.D., auxiliary bishop of Boston, was the principal celebrant at the baccalaureate mass at St. James the Greater Church on the morning of the graduation.

Close to 80 percent of the graduates will enter two or four year colleges or universities in the fall. Others will enter the job market generally in the technologies for which they have been trained and some will enter the military.

Owned and operated by the Salesians of St. John Bosco, the school offers a dual college preparatory program and training in the technologies of computers/electronics, construction technology, drafting and design, electricity and science.

Charlestown To Commemorate The 219th Anniversary Of The Battle Of Bunker Hill

Committee, Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society, Friends of the Charlestown District Court, Community Appreciation Awards Committee, Charlestown Emergency Fund, St. Francis de Sales Parish Council, Old Charlestown Schoolboys Association and the Charlestown Youth Athletic Fund.

He was also elected Mayor of Charlestown in 1984.

The Chief Marshal's Band, leading off the parade, will be one of Charlestown's favorites - the Joseph F. Hill Post 156, American Legion Band of Waltham, under the direction of Dorothy Slamin Hill. This band made national headlines in May 1990 when it marched and performed concerts in Russia. Community residents continue to be thrilled by the spirit and music of this outstanding band.

Other stellar attractions in this year's parade will include:

- the Greater Kensington String (Mummers) Band of Philadelphia;
- the Boston Crusaders Drum and Bugle Corps;
- the Boston Crusaders Senior Drum and Bugle

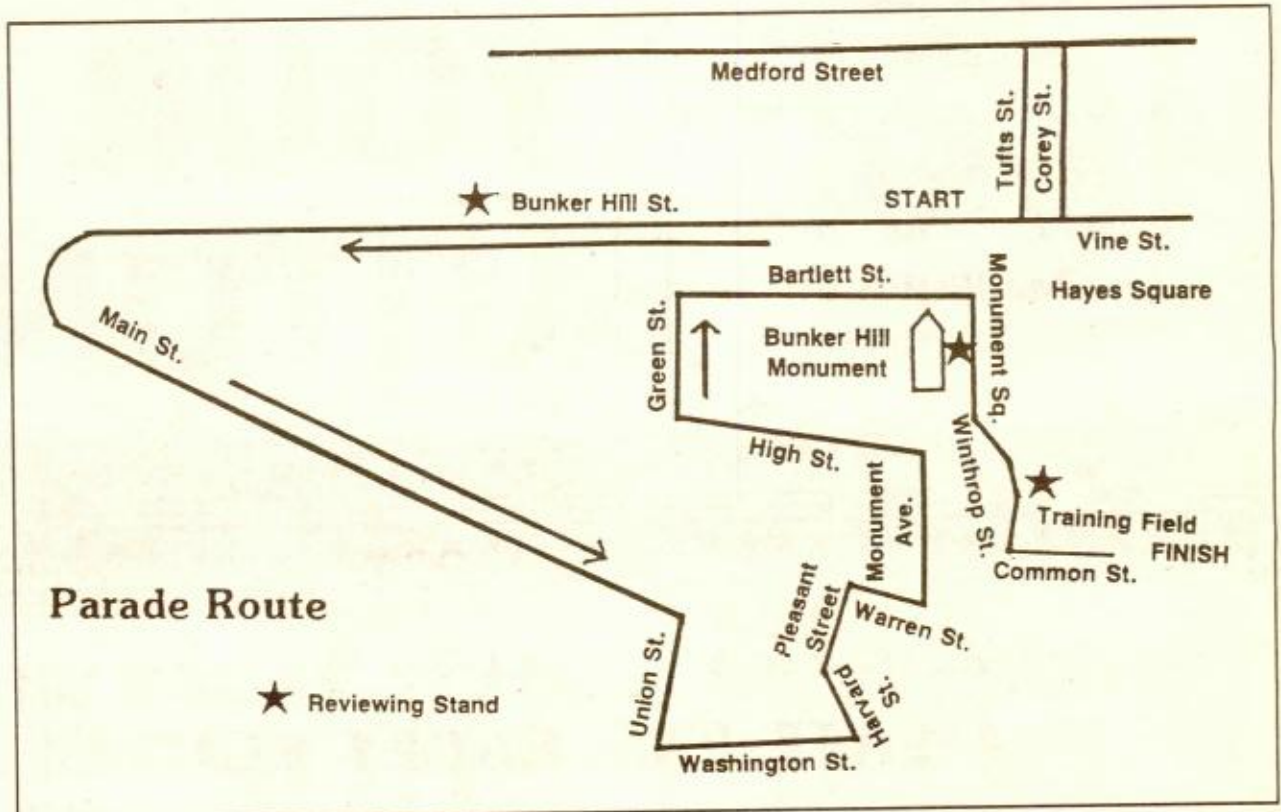

Corps; and

- the Kevin Barry Irish American Pipes and Drums.

O'Brien expresses his thanks to the dedicated few who work diligently each year on the Bunker Hill Day Parade Committee in the organization of the parade and on the fund-raising committee, for without them there would be no parade.

Through its hard work and tireless efforts, and with the generosity of the residents, businesses, clubs, organizations, elected officials and candidates for public office, the Parade Committee is close to raising the necessary funds to supplement the limited budget provided by the city of Boston to put a great parade on the streets of Charlestown.

Residents, guests and visitors are requested to clear the cars from the parade route and assembly area on Sunday by 9 a.m. Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated in order to facilitate the formation and the movement of the parade through the streets of Charlestown. (See map of parade route elsewhere on this page and the article on the streets posted: no parking.)

NO PUBLIC DRINKING

On Sunday, June 12, the annual Bunker Hill Day Parade will be held, a celebration enjoyed by young and old alike. The parade will mark the 219th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill and the 200th anniversary of the construction of the wooden monument by King Solomon's Lodge A.F. & A.M.

On this day, the police officers of this district have been requested by the Bunker Hill Day Parade Committee and Charlestown Against Drugs to strictly enforce the No Drinking Ordinance.

There will be no drinking allowed on the streets of Charlestown. Those drinking in public will first be warned, and if they persist, they will be arrested under the provisions of the city of Boston Ordinance Number 14 which reads as follows: "No person shall in any public way or public alley, whether in or upon a vehicle or on foot, drink any alcoholic beverage."

This city ordinance will be strictly enforced on June 12, the day of the Bunker Hill Day Parade, so that the community may have a pleasant day, a successful parade, and a celebration not marred by any unpleasant incidents.

(by Melissa Doherty)

The Revolutionary War in America raged fiercely throughout the 13 colonies until the ultimate goal of freedom was obtained. In the struggle to break free from the British Empire, many brave men lost their lives defending their nation.

The battle of Bunker Hill, which was called the "first great battle of the contest", was one in which over 440

Americans were killed, wounded or captured. This contest put the amateur American militia against the seasoned British troops, and at first it appeared that America could not win. Among those killed on June 17, 1775 was Major-General Joseph Warren, whose part in the battle and American history evoked a special kind of praise from those he left behind.

The colonists began their preparation with the fortification of Breed's Hill. They built a redoubt, which is a small fort, and an entrenchment around the area spreading from where the Monument now stands to Concord Street. This action defied the orders of the British and their threats of burning Charlestown to the ground.

Warren, who had pushed for the revolution, had arrived at the battlefield on June 17. He had not yet received his commission on that day so he graciously took orders from General Putnam.

Warren told him "Don't think I come to seek a place of safety, but tell me where the onset will be most furious." Putnam pointed to the redoubt saying "That is the enemy's object, and if that can be defended the day is ours." Warren fought bravely, and was one of the last men to leave the redoubt. When the time came to retreat, he did so, but soon after a ball struck him in the forehead and he fell dead on the battle field. His body was buried on the spot where he died, but it was reburied the following April, after the British evacuated Boston.

Warren was finally laid to rest in his family vault under St. Paul's Church in Boston. At the ceremonies Perez Morton delivered an eulogy to this patriot and martyr who was "widely beloved [and] more highly valued." Morton said "Among the dead was Major-General Joseph Warren; a man whose memory will be endeared to his countrymen, and to the worthy in every part and age of the world, so long as virtue and valor shall be esteemed among mankind."

The passing of Joseph Warren made a lasting impression upon the society and people he left. At the time of his death, Warren was Grand Master of the Free-Masons for North America. In recognition of his position in the Masons and his bravery on the battlefield, the King Solomon's Lodge of Free-masons of Charlestown erected the first monument on Bunker Hill in honor of their fallen brother.

On December 2, 1794, a monument, of wooden construction, was placed at the site of the battle and dedicated. There was a procession of Lodge members, citizens, town officials and clergy. John Soley, Jr., Master of the Lodge, delivered a dedicatory address which was followed by the discharge of nine minute-guns. The procession then returned to the Lodge, located at One Thompson Square, where Past Master Josiah Bartlett delivered an eulogy on Warren.

f The Construction ooden Monument

The monument, which cost about $1000, was a wooden Tuscan pillar, 18 feet high, placed on a brick pedestal two feet high, with a fence around to protect it. On top of the monument was an urn which read "J.W. aged 35". On the south side of the pedestal was the inscription:

ERECTED, A.D. MDC-CXCIV

By King Solomon's Lodge of Free-Masons, Constituted in Charlestown, 1783,

In memory of Major-General Joseph Warren, and his Associates, who were slain on this memorable spot, June 17, 1775.

The next year, the monument was damaged and the Freemasons decided to raise the height of the pedestal to protect it. They increased it six more feet, and a tablet was placed on the pedestal with an additional inscription from Warren's oration at the Old South Church on March 5, 1772 on the second anniversary of the Boston Massacre. It read:

"None but they who set a just value upon the blessing of liberty are worthy to enjoy her.

In vain we toiled; in vain we fought; we bled in vain, - if you, our offspring, want valor to repel the assaults of her invaders.

Charlestown settled 1628; burnt 1775; rebuilt 1776.

The enclosed land given by Hon. James Russell."

On March 8, 1825, the Lodge voted to present the land to the newly formed Bunker Hill Monument Association and subsequently vandals destroyed the monument. This association had plans to build a "more enduring" tribute to the battle which was called the

"grand opening scene in the drama of the American Revolution."

On June 17, 1825, the Bunker Hill Monument Association, with the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts and King Solomon's Lodge on attendance, laid the cornerstone of the present Bunker Hill Monument. This ceremony was attended by over 100,000 people, including such notables as General Lafayette and Daniel Webster, president of the Bunker Hill Monument Association who delivered one of his greatest orations during the celebration.

Today, a marble model of the first monument sits in the well room of the new monument directly in front of the entrance. The inscription on the model reads:

"This is an exact model of the first monument erected on Bunker Hill which with the land on which it stood was given A.D. 1825 by King Solomon's Lodge of this town to the Bunker Hill Monument Association that they might erect upon its site a more imposing structure. The Association in fulfillment of the pledge at that time given have allowed within their imperishable Obelisk this model to be inserted with appropriate ceremonies by King Solomon's Lodge. June 24 A.D. 1845'

The granite Monument that stands today was dedicated in 1843. This simple obelisk atop Bunker Hill, which evolved from a plain wooden pillar, remains a fitting tribute to the men who fought and died that we might enjoy freedom from tyranny.

The Greater Kensington String Band To Appear In Concert

parade in 1901, but is applied to both old and new tunes. Band members range in age from teens to people in their 70s.

"It takes a minute or two for people to absorb what we are, but once they do, they understand it and enjoy it, and in a minute or two they're clapping along," says band captain Scott Moyer.

The 1994 repertoire includes aviation tunes such as "Off We Go Into The Wild Blue Yonder" and "Blue Skies." But the band also plays the "Mummers National Anthem," a spiritual-inspired tune called "Oh, Dem Golden Slippers."

The Greater Kensington String Band has traveled extensively, appearing recently in Hibbing, Minn. to honor the town's founding and in the annual Christmas parade in Knoxville, Tenn., last December. The band has a strong following in New England where it has often helped celebrate Independence Day, and in New York City, where it has participated in the Hispanic celebrations.

The band's history includes appearances at the US Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., various functions in Washington D.C., and even a trip to pre-communist Cuba.

Philadelphia sponsored the first Mummers' Parade at the turn of the century, but working class Philadelphians gathered for many years prior to that on New Year's Eve to mimic public officials, shoot off guns (Mummers are sometimes called "Shooters") and greet the new year. These traditions are traced back many centuries to a mix of European folk cultures.

Today, the blue collar imprint of the parade has given way to sophisticated costuming, which can cost up to $70,000 per club. Parade rules require that new costumes be presented to the judges each year.

"That's why we are in a constant state of practicing, performing and fund-raising," says Capt. Moyer. "We owe it to our fans to offer great costumes and entertaining presentations."

Competition in the parade is fierce, not so much for the prize money (first prize money of $7,000 merely dents the costume bill), but for bragging rights within the proud Mummers community.

Greater Kensington is among the cream of the Mummers crop, having finished in the coveted Top 10 ranking of bands 12 times in the last 13 years. It won the championship in 1979 and 1988 and finished a strong seventh in 1994.

"By the time our performance is over, everyone will know what a Mummer is," says Moyer. "And we'll do our best to make sure they are happy to meet us."

In addition to Saturday afternoon's concert, the Greater Kensington String Band will strut through the streets of Charlestown during the Bunker Hill Day Parade on June 12.

All are welcome to join the Greater Kensington String Band in concert on June 11 at 5 p.m.

Harvard-Kent Students Visit Warren-Prescott School

During Violence Prevention Awareness Week, the Harvard-Kent Second Step Players, Christina Ramirez, Karlenys Nunez, Tashiana Wolfe, and Meghan Buckley, visited two second grade classes at the Warren-Prescott School and presented two skits, thanks to the efforts of Ms. Olesky and Ms. Isbitsky.

The skits emphasized the importance of talking things out and of respecting one another.

The troupe's name comes from a violence prevention program that the Harvard-Kent third graders have been working on this year. The program teaches children to change the very attitudes and behaviors that contribute to violence. The programs also teaches positive social skills which build self-esteem.

The USS Constitution Museum, one of Boston's premier historic destinations, has announced an innovative fund-raising initiative as part of its current expansion and renovation project. Visitors and supporters of the museum will have the rare opportunity to purchase personalized, engraved bricks which will be used to pave the new museum courtyards.

"This is a terrific way for friends of the museum to leave a permanent record of their support or to honor a family member, friend or associate while contributing in a very real way to the future of the Museum," stated Samuel Thorne Jr., chairman of the USS Constitution Museum's fund-raising efforts. Bricks are available for a donation of $100 each and can accommodate 15 characters per line, two lines per brick.

The brick project is just one of the many activities planned as part of the Grand Opening Celebration for the completion of phase one of the New USS Constitution Museum. Developed in response to the museum's increasing number of visitors and to care for its growing collections, the expansion includes a 200-seat multipurpose theater, new permanent exhibitions, lobby and gift shop, and a new connecting gallery attaching the museum's existing building to a 12,500 square foot historic building, a library complex and exhibit gallery (to be completed in phase two).

A week-long series of entertainment, lectures and events is planned and will kick-off on Friday, June 24 with an old-time chicken barbecue and reception.

The USS Constitution Museum is a non-profit educational foundation created to collect, preserve and display objects related to the sailing frigate USS Constitution, or Old Ironsides as she is widely known. The museum provides educational programs and exhibits for the general public, and plays an important role in preserving the oldest commissioned ship afloat in the world.

Menino Announces Coupon Program For The Homeless

Harry Main, executive director of the Homeless Empowerment Project, recently presented Mayor Thomas M. Menino with a coupon which will be used to help the homeless.

The coupons can be bought from several retailers in Boston and given to homeless individuals who can redeem them for food and necessities.

Participating retailers include Store 24, Au Bon Pain, Christy's and the Harvard Coop. Merchants will display signs identifying whether they sell or redeem coupons. Several religious groups will also participate, selling coupons to members of synagogues and churches.

The coupons will cost 25 cents each. Individuals can give them to the homeless in place of cash.

Mayor Menino Presents Awards

Two Charlestown students recently received the Max Warburg Award from Mayor Thomas M. Menino.

Narkeya Washington and Nkenge Sekka, students at the Edwards Middle School, received the honors along with 24 other Boston public school students.

The Max Warburg Courage Curriculum is a literary-based, values and writing curriculum which focuses on courage in the lives of children. 4,000 Boston public school sixth graders took these courses this year.

The curriculum was set up to honor Max Warburg, an 11 year old boy who died from leukemia in 1991.

Police Lanterns Return To Charlestown

It has been about 20 years since the police lanterns that once marked the entrance to Division 15, the former police station in City Square, were discarded during renovations to the building. Fortunately, the lanterns are intact today, thanks to the efforts of a carpenter who saved them during the renovations, and a preservationist who bought them and tried to find them a home for the next 20 years.

Nan Fleck recently presented the pair of 30 inch metal and glass lanterns to Rosemary Kverek, president of the Charlestown Preservation Society. Fleck drove from Florida to Boston for a visit and gave the lanterns a safe return to Charlestown. The two lanterns have metal arms and large blue glass globes, with the words Police etched into them. Each one weighs about 15 pounds.

The route these two lanterns took to return home to Charlestown is a story in itself. Fleck described the distance the police lanterns had travelled, "when I was renovating a house in South Natick...I purchased them and never used them. In 1977, I moved to Indiana, to the farmhouse my great-grandfather built and proceeded to start renovation work, intending to use them in the library." For a number

*AFTER OVER 20 YEARS of being moved around the country, the lanterns originally guarding the doorway of Boston Police Station 15 in City Square have been returned to the community. Shown (l. to r.) of reasons, she eventually sold the farm and stored the lanterns for another 10 years. Finally, she moved to Florida, and early in 1993, retrieved them from Indiana. By this time, she decided it was time to return them to Charlestown. Then Fleck began to try to find a Charlestown preservation group.

Fleck's search ended in St. Louis last October, at the National Trust for Historic Preservation Conference. More than 2,000 people were at this week long conference. By chance, Fleck sat down next to Carol Bratley, a Charlestown resident and vice president for Endangered Properties of Historic Massachusetts, Inc. and struck up a conversation about Boston. She asked whether Bratley knew anyone from Charlestown, because she wanted to return two police lanterns to the place they belonged. Fleck could not believe her luck.

Eight months later, after numerous letters and telephone calls, Fleck and the police lanterns arrived safely in Charlestown. Today, the lanterns are being stored until a police station returns to City Square or an appropriate place for their display can be found.

since it opened its doors in 1988.

Among those graduating was Stephen Scalli of Sackville Street in Charlestown. He is the son of Carol and Robert Scalli.

Davie Graduates From Merrimack College

Julianne Davie of Charlestown was one of 532 students who received degrees at Merrimack College's 44th commencement on Sunday, May 22 in ceremonies at the college's S. Peter Volpe Center.

Presiding at his first commencement as college president was Richard J. Santagati, who was elected interim president of Merrimack in February.

The main speaker at graduation was Peter R. Kann, chairman and CEO of Dow Jones & Company, Inc. and publisher of The Wall Street Journal. Kann was also awarded an honorary doctor of journalism degree.

JULIANNE DAVIE

Other honorary doctorates were awarded to Wayne A. Budd, former associate Attorney General of the United States; Dr. Margaret MacCurtain, O.P., of Dublin, an international history scholar; and philanthropists Richard and Janet McCoy.

Richard Bradley, president of the Boston Police Patrolmen's Association, announced the endorsement of the more than 1,800 member group, for Gerry Malone, democrat, for Suffolk County District Attorney.

"Gerry Malone has demonstrated his effectiveness as a prosecutor. In almost 20 years in law enforcement, he has time and again proven himself to be smart, fair, ethical, and a tough prosecutor. Despite his strong positions on crime and criminals, Malone has shown understanding and compassion for the victims of crime and their families. Police and other law enforcement officials respect him, community groups trust him. Everyone who has worked with Malone, as I have, knows that he will never make tough, law enforcement decisions based on what's 'politically correct.' Gerry has the talent and experience to know what is right ... and the courage to do it. The Boston Police Patrolmen's Association is proud to endorse our unqualified choice for Suffolk County D.A., Gerry Malone. We want him at our side in the continuing war on violent crime in Suffolk County."

In accepting the BPPA endorsement of his candidacy, Malone said, "The public is fed up with leniency. Victims and families do not want a D.A. who will cut deals favoring the criminals. I am strongly in favor of community policing. Yet, I know just as the police officers standing here are painfully aware, that it won't work with the present appointed District Attorney holding the vital prosecutor's job. As D. A., I will be at the side of the police ... not only when the TV cameras are rolling, but whenever needed. My door will always be open to victims of violent crime, and their families."

Youth Fund Grant Applications Available

Youth Fund grants complement the city's many youth programs by providing Boston's neighborhood groups with the opportunity to work closely with teenagers on their blocks. Because of this direct involvement, these small grants have a big impact for the kids in our neighborhoods."

Youth Fund grants ranging from $3,000 to $7,000 will be awarded in three funding cycles beginning July 1, 1994. The deadline for applications for the first funding cycle is June 10, with additional funding cycles occurring in the fall and winter.

The Youth Fund supports innovative community-based efforts to promote life skills ranging from job-training to parenting skills, violence prevention and conflict resolution, and an appreciation for the diversity in Boston's communities. Applications will be strengthened by including collaboration with other non-profit organizations and community-building efforts.

Ted Landsmark, director of the Safe Neighborhoods and Healthy Boston programs, stated "Due to the flexibility of the Youth Fund, we've been able to provide about 150 grants each year to innovative projects and informal organizations which wouldn't ordinarily be eligible for city funding. We strongly encourage innovative approaches."

Applications may be picked up at the Mayor's Office, Fifth Floor, Boston City Hall or by calling Boston Safe Neighborhoods at 635-3159.

BOB D'S BEAT BY BOB DeCRISTOFORO

◆ Charlestown Wins Opener . . . Andrew Ray made his rookie debut with the big boys. Jason Gallagher set a new record for personal fouls some called, most not, and Stephen Fabiano made a surprise guest appearance. Most important, Charlestown, A.K.A. Neezo's Variety, came from behind to defeat a young, scrappy Amrheins' team 62-52 in the South Boston Old Colony Hoop League. Participating on the Charlestown team were: Leo Boucher, Jason Gallagher, Derek Gallagher, Joe Fitzpatrick, Danny Ryan, Greg Jackson, Andrew Ray, Mike Connell and Stephen Fabiano. This is the second year Charlestown Pride has participated in the league.

◆ Charlestown Cardinals . . . Happy to report that the new Charlestown Cardinals RBI Baseball Franchise is in accelerated gear. Robbie McIntosh, freshman baseball coach at Don Bosco High School, has accepted the manager position, and is now in the process of putting the team together. Rob is no stranger to Charlestown baseball, and his experience and enthusiasm is what I have been looking for. RBI Baseball will give our 16 to 18 year-old baseball players a great opportunity to show off their talents right here in Charlestown all summer long, and with the fine CYO program already in place, more and more young people will have a chance to participate. My long-range goal is to see that we will be able to return a Charlestown team to the Yawkey League in the very near future.

This Saturday, the Charlestown Cardinals will be participating in the RBI inaugural event in Jamaica Plain. RBI baseball is funded by the Boston Red Sox and Major League Baseball.

◆ Bowling Fun . . . Charlestown youth from the Bunker Hill Development joined youngsters from the Maverick Development in East Boston for an afternoon of fun at the Boston Bowl in Dorchester for the BHA Youth on the Rise playdowns. Charlestown youngsters participating included: Geraldo Grasaes, Sugeily Saez, Yelitza Rivera, Manuel Aguilar, Share Weaver, John Cepada and Joe Awbrey. The top bowlers will advance to the Youth on the Rise BHA Tournament.

◆ Kick The Habit . . . All teams are welcomed to attend today's "Kick The Habit" workshop at the Bunker Hill Teen Center. This is the third session and we were very pleased that 20 young people attended last week's workshop. The Healthy Charlestown Coalition is hosting this workshop from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

◆ Bunker Hill Junior Ball Hockey . . . The Commish tells us that weekend action saw the Bruins defeating the Maple Leafs, but falling to the Red Wings. The Mighty Ducks had a very tough stretch, losing to the Nordiques, North Stars and Red Wings.

Cheers to the league's most improved player, Sherina Pumell, and a reminder to take a chance at the candy table for the Cam

Neely hockey stick, and the Commish also thanks everyone for their help. By the way, chances are three for a $1.

◆ Rookie Ball Returns . . . Glad to announce that Boston Red Sox Rookie Ball will be returning to Charlestown this summer for its fourth season. Rookie Ball is a program where the emphasis is fun. Boys and girls should register at the Charlestown Community Center beginning today, Thursday, June 9. Age eligibility is 7 to 12-years-of-age.

◆ Tidbits . . .
- Rumor has it that Mike Gautreau has roots in Chelsea.

- Congratulations to the new Mr. and Mrs. Billy Nolan.

- Did Mark Mansfield get home? Your "friends" from Southie would like to know.

Last Week's Scores And Highlights

On May 31, winning pitcher, Joe Roche, had two hits and along with big doubles by Liam Lynch and Dan Devlin led the Cronin Club over the McKeon Club, 6-3. Eddie Kelly pitched well for McKeon.

On June 2, Michael Powers' sharp single up the middle provided the winning hit as the Teamsters rallied for four runs in the sixth inning to beat Peg & Al's, 10-9. The win was preserved in the last of the sixth when first baseman, Brian Burke, snared Mike Carey's two-out line drive with men on base. Winning pitcher Mike Wilkins' cause was aided by Fred Arroyo's sixth home run of the season. Peg & Al's pitcher, Ian Burke, helped his own cause with three hits.

On June 3, trailing 9-5 entering the fifth inning, the K. of C. rallied for 12 runs to post a 19-9 win over the Boys & Girls Club. The rally was highlighted by a Joe Mikenas grand slam, his third home run of the year, and two hits each by Vinnie Donovan and Jim McGonagle. The K. of C. used the combined pitching of Vinnie Donovan and Derek Staples, the winning pitcher. Offensively, the Boys & Girls Club had two hits each from John Jones, Adam Fomash and Ryan Mainey.

On June 4, Memorial Hall outlasted the Boys & Girls Club 12-7, as winning pitcher Corey Hollien out-dueled Adam Smith.

Peg & Al's offense was highlighted by Colin Smith's four hits. Also chipping in two hits each were Ian Burke, John Tobin, Sean Noonan, David Bryson, Mike Carey and Andrew Brennan.

On June 4, Kane Construction forfeited to the K. of C.

Money matters

by Nicholas C. Pino

"Let us assist you in your financial planning"

MAKE SURE YOU ARE FULLY COMPENSATED IF YOUR PROPERTY IS CONDEMNED

Government, whether it be local, state or national, has the right to take property from private owners. And, as long as the property is being taken for a legitimate public purpose (such as a new highway, prison, school or landfill), there's really not much that citizens can do about it.

As a property owner, however, you have the constitutional right to be paid full price for your loss. And if you can't agree with the government on what that amount should be, you're entitled to your day in court. Unfortunately, most people don't bother to exercise their rights. Instead, they accept the first offer that's presented to them, even if it's lower than they think it should be. That's almost always a mistake.

Property owners, for instance, are entitled to compensation based on appraisals often made months or even years earlier. Such offers may be off the mark by thousands of dollars.

It's important to hire an attorney as soon as you're aware your property is being taken. An attorney who specializes in eminent domain can advise you of your options. And, if your attorney can't prevent your property from being seized, you will at least be secure in the knowledge that you will receive full price for your real estate.

Hiring an attorney to represent you may not be as costly as you might expect. In fact, it may not cost you a single cent. These cases are unlike personal injury cases where the lawyer may get a third of the amount he recovers. In many states, reasonable legal fees are awarded by the court over and above the amount finally settled upon and must be paid by the agency that took your property.

Voke Calls For A COLA

Rep. Richard A. Voke announced that there is great news for state, county and municipal retirees contained in the budget proposal for the state's Fiscal Year 1995. Included in the $16 billion spending plan was a provision which calls for a 3% cost of living adjustment for their pensions.

"I am pleased to see the retirees receive a modest, but well-deserved, COLA increase. Many pensioners are living on fixed incomes and are struggling to make ends meet. This measure is aimed at assisting thousands of retired workers and their families," stated Voke.

Retirees last received a COLA in 1992 after two gubernatorial vetoes were overridden by the legislature. While budget funds continue to be tight, Voke said he made it a priority to secure the COLA increase.

Voke stated the COLA was not the only provision in the budget which strives to assist pensioners in maintaining a quality standard of living. Through the efforts of Voke and other senior advocates in the House, the Council on Aging's budget was increased 100% and the home care services account was also increased by over $2 million dollars.

I would like to congratulate the 1994 Charlestown Rose, Kolleen Hayes.

I am looking forward to becoming good friends as we spend time together this year in Charlestown and in Ireland. Congratulations Kolleen!

Sorry And Thanks

Dear Editor,

There is one person whom I forgot to thank for making the Benefit Hockey Game a success, Michelle Lynch. Michelle is employed in Charlestown, and like the others who donated, she gave back to the community in which she lives. I know she is not looking for any recognition, but she has done so much recently that I hope this letter makes up for her hard work and my mistake.

Thank you,
Pat Considine, Jr.

Camp Bunker Hill Requests Support

Dear Patriot Readers,

We are writing both to inform people about Camp Bunker Hill and to ask their support for our fall fund-raising event.

Historically, the camp began over 20 years ago. It was started by Tom Panowicz, a psychologist at the Bunker Hill Health Center. The initial focus was on children and families who were at risk with behavioral, academic or family difficulties. For many years, the camp functioned with only the support of MGH and a few foundations and state agencies. Using Hale Reservation as our primary site, children were transported from Charlestown to Westwood for rural day camping. In 1990, because of funding cutbacks and a series of cost overruns, the hospital announced the closing of the program. Several Charlestown residents banded together to save Camp Bunker Hill. Through their efforts, our primary site has been secured in partnership with Community Schools of Charlestown. Additional funding resources from foundations to local raffles and fudge sales have proved invaluable. The camp has not only been resurrected, it has expanded to serve 45 to 50 campers. A small after school program has been started with the support of St. Catherine's Church. A small in-home parenting program has also begun. So while the support has been wonderful, there is still much to be accomplished. In fact, the camp has more applicants than it can handle.

Because we want to be able to support and service more children, there will be an auction on Sept. 30 at the Navy Yard. The goal is to raise $10,000 via a live and silent auction. Food and entertainment will be provided. However, to undertake such an event, there is much to be done. We urgently need volunteers to help organize and operate the event. A volunteers meeting will be held on Monday, June 20, at 7 p.m. at 76 Monument St. If you are interested, please call Terry Ring at 241-9487, Mary MacInnes at 241-8592 or Michael Cauley and/or Scott McLeod at 242-5760. Thank you all for your continued help and support.

Sincerely,
Michael J. Cauley, Ph.D.
Director
Scott McLeod, M.A.
Co-Director

Head Start Says Thank You

As part of the Kennedy Center's 30th anniversary as well as the end of the school year, the Head Start and Day Care programs will be having a sing-a-long on June 15, for the center's children and parents. St. Catherine's has kindly donated their hall for the event and Andy Holinger will be performing. Andy is well-known in Boston and has appeared nationally on Public Television's "Mr. Rodgers' Neighborhood." The children will be able to sing, dance and play musical instruments. The event will culminate with the names of the winners of the Bola Raffle.

The raffle is raising money to purchase new playground equipment for the Old Kent School. There are over 50 items being raffled off. Prizes are varied and there is something exciting for everyone. The majority of the prizes have been donated by local Charlestown businesses and residents. Currently, the parents are busy selling raffle tickets and will be selling them at Johnnie's Foodmaster on June 10 from 9:30 a.m. to noon for those interested in purchasing tickets.

The staff and parents of the program thank the following groups and individuals for their donations. Without their support, this raffle would not have been possible.

Saint Catherine's Church, The Flatley Company, Barrett's on Boston Harbour Restaurant, Bunker Hill Florist, Armed Services YMCA of Charlestown, P.S.
