☆ ☆ Memorial Day 1996 ☆ ☆

My fellow Americans - we hope you will take the time this weekend to attend the Memorial Day Mass at 11 a.m. on Sunday at St. Francis de Sales Church, sponsored by Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion to show our fellow citizens - we do remember.

The American Legion, represented by 3.1 million men and women who served this nation during a time of war, know firsthand the sacrifices all of America's veterans made to preserve our way of life - our blessed freedoms - in America.

Once a year, countless Americans gather across our land, just as the members of Post 26 have, to remember those who gave their lives so that we might be free. On this day, the feelings and emotions run high. For it is difficult to live with the reality that any war is nothing more than a failure of diplomacy on the part of governments.

Those we remember on Memorial Day did not make government policy. Rather they answered the call of human beings being persecuted and slaughtered by others who sought to dominate the world. Our sons and daughters, fathers and mothers, brothers and sisters who gave their lives - did not roar off seeking fame and fortune. No, they just wanted to keep America free - and to give others the same freedom they cherished so much.

Today, the world is rapidly changing. Citizens across this land are calling for sweeping changes in the social programs as a

Memorial Day Service At St. Francis de Sales Church

Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion will hold its annual Memorial Day Service on Sunday, May 26 at 11 a.m. at St. Francis de Sales Church, 313 Bunker Hill St.

All are welcome to attend the service, which will be followed by a collation in Bishop Lawton Hall.

One Hundred Fifty Names Drawn In 'Salute To Charlestown' Lottery

DRAWING 150 entries from the ship's historic sandbox containing the names of Charlestown residents who will be invited to participate in the "Salute To Charlestown" turnaround cruise on June 15 are (l. to r.) Commander Robert L. Gillen, USN (Ret.), the 59th commanding officer of USS CONSTITUTION; Commander Michael Beck, USN, commanding officer of USS CONSTITUTION; and James W. Conway, chairman, Charlestown Veterans Committee and registration coordinator.

Several weeks ago, Cmdr. Michael Beck USN, commanding officer of USS Constitution, invited Charlestown residents who were registered voters to submit their names and the name of one guest to board USS Constitution for a special "Salute To Charlestown" turnaround cruise on June 15.

There was tremendous response from residents as they checked in at Bunker Hill Post 26, the American Legion on the registration days, placing the entries into one of the ship's historic sandboxes.

On May 18, many of those who had registered, came along to the Constitution commander's conference room as Beck and Commander Bob Gillen, USN (Ret.) extricated the entries from the box and began the process of drawing 150 names.

As the names were read aloud, cheers went up when lottery winners in the room heard his or her name called.

Each of the 150 persons whose name was drawn and his or her guest will receive a written invitation by mail to board Constitution on June 15. According to Navy regulations, each winner and guest will have to present the invitation prior to boarding, and no substitutes will be allowed.

From Union Street To Moscow

by Father Patrick F. Healy, O.M.I.

As Townies, we are always proud when one of our own distinguishes himself in his chosen field.

In 1941, Father John Donaghy, SVD, formerly of Union Street, graduated from St. Mary's School. Upon graduation, he chose to enter the Divine Word Prep School. After completing his Prep School, Father John entered the seminary of the Divine Word Missionaries.

In 1954, Father John completed his Theological studies and was ordained to the priesthood. Recognizing his many talents and intellectual gifts, Father John was sent for advanced studies. He became an international student and earned a Doctorate in Philosophy at the Gregorian University in Rome.

The new Ph.D. became a seminary professor in Techny, Illinois. He was a much sought-after lecturer and preacher. It was not long before this gifted Townie was chosen for many important posts in the world-wide Society of the Divine Word. He became Provincial, which in laymen's terms is CEO of the Society of the Divine Word in the United States. Upon completion of his term, Father John went to Taiwan where he drafted a handbook for Fu Jen University. This has become the standard text for the administration of that university. Fu Jen University has an enrollment of 20,000 students.

FATHER JOHN DONAGHY

On May 16, Father

John Donaghy left Chicago for Moscow. The task assigned to Father John is to prepare an administrative handbook for the new major seminary in Russia. The seminary will be comprised of four large Russian Dioceses. The invitation was extended by the Papal Nuncio to Russia.

As Father John leaves for his new assignment, we have been notified that his brother, Father Bernard Donaghy, SVD, is recuperating from quadruple by-pass surgery in Riverside, California.

We congratulate Father John and as Townies, we share vicariously in his many achievements.

★ Massport To Hold Bid Workshop For Small Local Construction Contractors . . .

In an effort to encourage small local contractors to bid on the Residential Sound Installation Program construction projects, the Massachusetts Port Authority is sponsoring a workshop on Massport bidding procedures and requirements on Friday, May 31 at the State Transportation Building's (10 Park Plaza) Conference Room No. 4 from 9 to 11 a.m. Citing the current residential sound insulation program as a prime example of available opportunities for local contractors, Massport Executive Director and CEO Stephen P. Tocco said that the preparation of bid documents should not deter local companies from bidding on Massport jobs.

"Many times, small firms which might qualify for a Massport project don't submit a bid because they perceive the bidding process to be difficult and time consuming," Tocco said. "We are here to show contractors the ropes. Our team of Massport engineers and attorneys will show you the process step-by-step."

In an effort to encourage small local construction companies to participate in the soundproofing program, the Authority will bid a number of small construction contracts this summer with simplified bidding requirements. Contractors are encouraged to attend the workshop to become familiar with the program and bidding requirements.

Representatives from Massport's Capital Programs and Legal Department, a bonding company representative and principal product suppliers will discuss the soundproofing program and answer questions. For further information, call Susan Coppenrath at 973-5322.

★ 'Charlestown Then And Now' . . .

A slide show to be presented by the membership committee of the Friends of City Square Park, originally scheduled for June 6, has been postponed until 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, June 25. It will be held at the American Legion Hall, 23 Adams St.

★ At Bunker Hill Heights . . .

St. Martin Street neighbors were shouting from the top of the hill on Monday evening, the first hot day of the year when there was no water for their baths and dishes. Word has it that Boston Water & Sewer was called to do a fire pipe repair when a crew broke a "spigot" and emergency repairs were necessary. Parents were unhappy, but the kids enjoyed a grubby night.

★ And Speaking Of Bunker Hill Heights . . .

Seems that there has been numerous sightings of raccoons at the top of the hill. Code enforcement has been notified. Residents are advised to stay clear of these very large animals and securely cover trash.

The doors are open...

'Nunsense' Comes To Charlestown This Weekend

The zany nuns who have been wowing Boston crowds are taking their habits, good and bad, to Bunker Hill Community College. That's right, in an exclusive area theatrical engagement, the hugely popular Nunsense comes to Charlestown for four performances starting tonight, Thursday, May 23 through Sunday, May 26.

It started over eight years ago when five actresses began what is now Boston's longest-running musical. The crazy antics of these singing, dancing nuns, as they try to raise funds for a dubiously religious cause, will carry Catholics and lay people back to those glorious years of religious training. It all started when Sister Julia Child of God, the cook of the convent, had that killer recipe which put five nuns in a horrible dilemma.

This cast of Nunsense is delighted to have a run "at home" in Charlestown. Class Act Productions is a

MATTERS OF THE HEART

NEW STUDY TO TRY TO PREVENT DIABETES

More than 16 million Americans have adult-onset diabetes, and that number is on the rise. Diabetes is especially common among older adults, overweight individuals and minority populations, particularly African-Americans, Hispanic-Americans, American Indians, Asian-Americans and Pacific Islanders.

People with diabetes have too much sugar (glucose) in their blood. Over time, this extra sugar in the blood can cause blindness, heart attacks, strokes and kidney failure. Diabetes has become the sixth leading cause of death by disease in the U.S.

Because diabetes is such a serious health problem, the Mass. General Hospital is involved in a nationwide prevention study that is looking to find out if people can be stopped from getting adult-onset diabetes. This study is for people age 25 or older who don't have diabetes but have a condition called "impaired glucose tolerance" (IGT). IGT or pre-diabetes means that a person's blood has more sugar in it than normal, but not as much as in diabetes. People with IGT have a greater risk of going on to develop diabetes. The study will see if people with IGT can lower their sugar by losing weight and eating healthy foods, or by taking medicine to lower the level of sugar in their blood.

If you are overweight, if someone in your family has diabetes or if you got diabetes while you were pregnant, you may have IGT now, putting you at greater risk for getting the disease in the future. But there may be something you can do about it. The study staff will have an information table set up on Charlestown's "Healthy Heart Day" between 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Thursday, May 30 at Johnnie's Foodmaster, to answer questions and to give you more information about preventing diabetes. Stop by or call 724-3197 to find out how you might protect yourself from this serious health problem.

God Bless Our Veterans

God bless our American veterans,
And all that they stand for -
Freedom for our beloved country,
Fighting wars that all abhor.
Because of them our flag waves high
The symbol of liberty for you and I
And may that banner forever wave,
For those who survive,
For those in their graves,
For those who volunteered to fight.
For those who had no choice
There are legions of Americans
Who are united in one voice.
For the suffering through the years,
Of families' fears and tears.
Peace of mind may they attain
Feeling that their loved ones
Haven't died in vain.
May God guide our Legionnaires
Who keep us all aware,
Of our country's veterans' needs
Of which we may be unaware.
A Legionnaire does not forget
The torpedoes - bombs and bayonets.
Our veterans faced for freedom's cause
America is truly in their debt.
So God speed all Legionnaires,
You're our nation's tower of hope,
And constant vigil shows the care
That all Americans with you should share.

Money Matters

by Nicholas C. Pino

"Let us assist you in your financial planning"

INSTALLMENT SALES: ONE WAY TO DEFER TAXES

It's not too often that the IRS says, "Don't pay us now. Wait until you have the cash." But that's the idea behind the installment sale method, which is required for certain property sales when at least one payment is received in a year after the sale.

Installment sales occur when the seller agrees to finance the buyer's purchase, instead of requiring the buyer to obtain a loan. The buyer then makes periodic payments to the seller, with interest, until the purchase price is paid.

Under the installment sale method, the seller reports capital gain as payments are received, instead of reporting the entire gain the year of sale. The tax on the gain is due only as payments are received from the buyer.

Installment sales offer advantages to both the buyer and the seller. The buyer can avoid the extra costs of a bank loan, and the seller can enjoy a stream of interest income while deferring taxes on the gain. However, if the seller needs the cash all at once, an installment sale doesn't make sense.

The installment method isn't available for all sales. For example, it can't be used on sales that result in a loss, sales of inventory, sales by dealers, or sales of publicly traded securities. And the installment method does not apply to gain triggered by recapture of depreciation, which is taxed as ordinary income.

Sometimes, you may not want to use the installment method, in which case you must elect not to use it. For example, if you have offsetting capital losses, you might want to report your entire gain in the same year. The same is true if the property you sold was a passive activity with suspended passive activity losses.

"so-called Peace Dividend" from the thawing of the Cold War. Yet, as we remember those who have given their lives for our freedom, we must raise a cautionary voice.

It was not a cold war that sent thousands of Americans, and those from more than two dozen other nations, to the blistering sands of the Persian Gulf. No, it was a brutal dictator who still remains in power. More than 260 Americans died in Operation Desert Storm. We remember them today.

It was not the Cold War that sent many of our sons and daughters into Panama to oust a dictator whose soldiers had become aggressive and abusive to American citizens. Nearly two dozen Americans died in Operation Just Cause. We remember them today.

It was not the Cold War that sent troops into Grenada to stamp out a repressive regime and rescue American citizens. Eighteen Americans died there. We remember them today.

And it was not the Cold War that motivated a terrorist to drive a bomb-laden vehicle into a Marine barracks in Beirut, Lebanon in October 1983. More than 250 Americans died. We remember them today.

There seems to be a feeling among many citizens that this nation has not been at war since the long struggle in Vietnam came to a close for America. Yet, nothing could be further from the truth.

On Memorial Day, we gather to remember all those who have fallen in defense of freedom. As we do, let us also remember what history has taught us about our need to maintain vigilance. And, if there is a "Peace Dividend" to be enjoyed, may the first to enjoy that dividend be America's men and women of the military who made it possible for the world to move away from the terrifying threat of a nuclear firestorm.

It is difficult for Legionnaires and all veterans to listen to the plaintive notes of Taps echoing. Or hear a rifle salute. Or watch as a missing-man formation of planes roars overhead.

As we stand tall at those sights and sounds, a lump forms in our throats, and tears well up in our eyes. For we know, we are remembering those who left with a smile on their face, ready to do what America had asked them to do.

Those smiles live on in the memories of their families. Memories! What would we, as a people, be without our memories?

Memorial Day is a fitting time to remember those who paid the ultimate sacrifice. It is also a fitting time to remember those whose fate is unknown - our Prisoners of War and those Missing in Action.

Memories! We hold them dear to our hearts. We know that the citizens of America are thankful for the sacrifices of these men and women. On Memorial Day, we pause to bring meaning to that sacrifice - by remembering them and thanking them for making it possible to live in the greatest nation on earth - the United States of America.

The Charlestown Working Theater Presents 'The Barhoppers Series'

The Charlestown Working Theater (CWT) is pleased to present the Offstage Theatre Company, in collaboration with Cool Root Theatre, in their production of "The Barhoppers Series." The Series will run from May 30 through June 15 with performances Thursday through Saturday at 8 p.m. There will be one matinee on Sunday, June 9 at 2 p.m.

"The Barhoppers Series," directed by Offstage Theatre's Artistic Director John Quinn, is the first in CWT's Emerging Artists Series, which aims to produce the original work of promising New England theatre artists.

"The Barhoppers Series" is comprised of hilarious one-act plays by several local playwrights: Well Done Poets by Laura Quinn, a dark comedy in which two women discuss famous female authors who killed themselves; Tragic Hero by Joel Jones, a tragicomedy out of time and place in which a woman must choose between two men, a computer programmer and a 15th century warlord; Every Other Weekend, also by Joel Jones, a farce in which a divorced couple meet at a bar to exchange their son for the weekend and all heck breaks loose; La Vie en Rose by Elizabeth Harris, managing director of Offstage Theatre, about an insane bartender for whom news of the world becomes fantasy and everyday customers become people they are not; and Wrestlin' by Cool Root Theatre's Artistic Director Aidan Parkinson, which revolves around the conflicts between two aging spinsters hashing it out while watching a professional wrestling match at a local bar. These plays will be performed in repertory; that is, three will be performed per night. The CWT will be transformed into a neighborhood watering hole to become home to "The Barhoppers Series."

Offstage Theatre has

CAST MEMBERS from "The Barhoppers Series" rehearse for a May 30th opening at The Charlestown Working Theater, 442 Bunker Hill St.

been producing its Barhoppers Series in Virginia since 1989, and has performed its work in Mass. since 1993. Offstage's mission is to provide professional quality, low cost theatre to the local area by producing site-specific one-act plays in non-traditional locals. The company solicits plays from mostly local playwrights and performs in the environments the plays are written. For this series at CWT, however, Offstage will be on stage.

Cool Root Theatre Company was founded with the objective of producing the dramatic works of emerging playwrights. These works are concerned to be both finely wrought and given to understanding and grappling with the realities of the world we live in.

The CWT is located at 442 Bunker Hill St. Ticket information may be obtained by calling the CWT at 242-3285 or the Offstage Theatre at 522-8836.

Safety First!

With the long-awaited holiday weekend finally upon us, the Boston Fire Department has issued several tips for your safety and well-being.

The following regulations apply to the use of portable charcoal and gas-operated cooking grills within a building or structure, and includes balconies, fire escapes, porches and roofs as a part thereof:

Article 1, section 1.05 (b) of the Boston Fire Prevention Code states the authority may act on any unsafe or dangerous condition not specifically provided for in the code.

Under this authority, the Boston Fire Department disapproves the use of portable charcoal cooking grills within a building or structure for the following reasons:

- Improper use of starter fuel resulting in burn injury to persons and/or resultant fire involving property;
- Numerous fire safety complaints to the Boston Fire Department by persons within or near the building;
- Wind velocity affecting open flame;
- Fire hazard conditions, high or extreme;
- Resultant Fire Department response due to persons observing assumed building fire from a distance and/or reports of smoke odor from an assumed building fire in the area; and

- Lack of attendance resulting in unwarranted smoke pollution.

Gas Operated Grills

The Commonwealth of Mass. Board of Fire Prevention regulation 6.07 (5)(a) prohibits the use or storage of Liquefied Petroleum Gas containers above the first floor of a building used for habitation. This regulation includes so-called "propane" cylinders attached to portable cooking grills.

A permit is required for the storage and use of LP gas (propane) cylinders on the first floor of a building. Except in quantities in the amount of 42 pounds (10 gallons), a permit is required for the storage and use of LP cylinders.

Under no circumstances are LP gas cylinders to be stored in buildings used in whole or in part for human habitation. LP gas is to be used only on the outside of buildings on level, sturdy ground.

Always follow ALL of the manufacturers' instructions and keep written materials and manuals in a safe, accessible place.

It always pays for consumers to be aware that following a few simple safety precautions will help ensure that their outdoor cooking remains trouble-free and enjoyable.

Rose Receives Achievement Award

RICHARD ROSE of Charlestown, received the Outstanding Student Achievement Award from Mark Dugan (left), president of the Mass. Association of Private Career Schools, and Michael Sentance (right), Secretary of Education, at the State House on May 7. Rose attended Boston Technical Center in Boston. The awards are presented yearly to career school students who exhibit outstanding professional potential, scholastic achievement despite adversity, or outstanding service to school and community.

Warren-Prescott To Celebrate 'Stand For Children Day'

June 1 will mark the first national Stand for Children Day. It will be celebrated by a gathering of people all across America meeting at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C.

The Warren-Prescott School third graders have decided to also celebrate the importance of this day by taking a Stand for Children. Parents, neighbors and people throughout our community have been asked what they could do to improve the quality of life for all children in our community. The response was overwhelming. The school wanted to share some of these ideas with everyone because only with everyone's involvement and commitment will the goal to improve the quality of children's lives, their health, safety, school readiness, education and future be reached.

Among the wonderful, supportive responses from parents and neighbors were the following:

"To encourage children not to start smoking. Also to keep our streets clean by not littering." - Jenny F.

"To encourage our children to read and be individuals and to use all the community has to offer." -

Diane F.

"All neighbors, friends and families should plan holiday activities and community outings together with the children." - Trina C.

"To have social events so the children would not have so much free time." - Roxie C.

"I enjoy helping by coaching a team." - Paul B.

The Warren-Prescott third graders will be having a symbolic Stand for Children ceremony at 1 p.m. on Friday, May 31. Please come and join them at the school playground on Pearl Street and take a Stand for Children.

News From Charlestown Catholic Elementary School

On May 10, the second graders at Charlestown Catholic Elementary School shared the special joy of receiving First Communion with their families as well as with the total school community. During the Mass, Leeanne Lakeman crowned Mary as our Mother and Queen. Their pen pals from Rochester Catholic Elementary School in Rochester, N.H. joined the boys and girls at Mass. These second graders had recently celebrated their First Communion also.

April 24 through 30 was National Turn Off the TV Week. Third graders in Mrs. Cronin's room took up the challenge to shut off the TV.

Taylor Murphy said, "It was a hard thing to do, because I missed all my favorite shows." Danielle Whalen observed, "It was easy for me, because I don't watch very much television." Nolan Burns felt that it was easy over the weekend because he had so many other things to do. Many others found going without television hard because everyone else in the family was watching television, while they were trying not to. Boys and girls in other grades followed their example. Thirty-one children made it through the week.

Congratulations to:

Grade 1: Casey Durham, Brittany Pritchard and

Meaghan Borden.

Grade 2: Casey Schievink and Kristen Connolly.
Grade 3: Shawn Doherty, Patrick Langan, Nicole Reynolds, Robert Hoell, Terrence Mahan, Danielle Whalen, Kristin Gomperts, Kevin Walles, Jillian MacCormack, Melissa Sanchez, Padraic Lacey, Danielle Duncan, Taylor Murphy, Joseph Marchesi, Kristen Evers, Sean Matthews, Kelly Gouthro, Kathleen Eddy and Kristine Costa.

Grade 4: Stephanie Saccardo, Hillary Rudder, Courtney Schievink and Caitlin Greco.

Grade 6: Kathleen Lacey, Malorie Doherty and Christopher Schievink.

Law Day Is Celebrated At Charlestown District Court

photos by Kathy Whitehouse

Charlestown District Court was the scene of considerable activity on May 2 as students from local schools celebrated Law Day by conducting mock trials. Hon. Peter W. Agnes Jr., presiding justice of the Charlestown District Court, presided over the three trials. The event was coordinated by Attorney Colleen Meyers, William Brassil and Mary Jo Kilmain.

Attorney Charlie Clifford coached the Charlestown High School team which faced off with the Back To School program, coached by U.S. Attorney Sheryl Dennis.

The Clarence R. Edwards Middle School team was coached by Attorney Michael Cerulli while U.S. Attorney Neil Crowley guided the Charlestown Catholic Elementary School.

Attorney Sally Ann Janulevicus worked with the Harvard-Kent School team while U.S. Attorney Steven Brooks coached the Warren-Prescott School team.

Awards were presented at a late afternoon ceremony. Winners of the essay contest, based on the question whether the U.S. Constitution should be re-written in more modern language, were given prizes. The winners, who each received a savings bond, were: Candace Griffin of 74 Bunker Hill St., Kelleigh Mahan of 10 Carney Court and Jessica Brassil of 49A Dunstable St., all students at Charlestown Catholic Elementary School.

 There isn't a minute of time that goes by when you're not on my mind. Often I look back on the good and bad times we had together. Sometimes it makes me sad, other times it makes me full of joy, but I'll always remember you as my little boy.

Letter Of Clarification

Dear Editor:

I would like to clarify an item that appeared in the May 16th Police Line regarding a student being assaulted at the Edwards Middle School. After an investigation by Boston School Police and school department officials, it was determined that an assault had not taken place. The young man had tripped over a book bag while moving about his homeroom. As a result of hitting his head when he fell, he had a seizure. This occurred at dismissal time, therefore witnesses could not be immediately interviewed. There was confusion as a result, as to what had occurred and misinformation was conveyed that led to the report to the Boston Police.

On Monday, May 13, I met with the boy's parents and presented them with the witness reports and statements of all involved. These supported the fact that the incident was an accident. At this time the young man has returned to school and appears to be doing well.

Sincerely,
Charles E. McAfee, principal

Thank You For Your Support

Dear Gloria and Dorothy,

Thank you for your support at this year's vigil. It is so important to see the community supporting families that have had tragic losses due to murder. As a member of such a family, I know too well the pain of losing two sons to the hands of murderers and I can only hope that the community will continue to speak out against these atrocious acts.

The Charlestown Patriot has been an important source of information and your coverage of past and present vigils shows the impact that murder has on each and every one of us.

Although there are people who continue to defend murderers and blame the victims, The Charlestown Patriot, led by the courage and conviction of Gloria Conway, has been a leader in changing the attitudes regarding homicide in Charlestown. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Sandy King, mother of Chris and Jay

Doherty Completes Junior Season For Connecticut College's Lacrosse Team

Siobhan Doherty, a junior attacker on the women's lacrosse team at Connecticut College, has recently finished her third season for the Camels.

Doherty played a decisive role in the Camel lineup this season. The Charlestown woman and her teammates fell 9-8 to Middlebury College on May 11 in quarterfinal action of NCAA Division III Women's Lacrosse.

Doherty had three goals in the first-half of that game, but was unable to find good scoring opportunities in the second-half.

Under the direction of head coach Anne Parmenter, the Camels finished the season with a record of 13-2, best in the program's history.

Doherty, who is next season's co-captain, had her most productive day on April 18 versus Smith College where she tallied five goals in the 15-4 win. She was the Camel's third leading scorer this season with 22 goals and seven assists for 29 points.

A 1993 graduate of Concord-Carlisle, Doherty is an anthropology major with a minor in sociology. She is the daughter of Millicent and Hugh Doherty of Charlestown.

management by attending classes once a week for 18 months.

Founded in 1919 by evangelist Dr. John E. Brown Sr., the university is an interdenominational Christian liberal arts college comprised of over 1,100 students from 44 states and over 40 countries.

$35,000 is needed to put the Bunker Hill Day Parade on the streets of Charlestown on Sunday, June 16. With the fiscal constraints on the city of Boston, only a limited amount of money is being allocated to the celebration by the city, and each unit is asking for an increase in its fee. Thus, the success of the celebration depends on you - the residents, merchants and organizations. Donations of $25 and over will be publicly acknowledged.
