Whenever you need air freight service, we are here to help

Preparation of transport documents

For air freight, a number of documents need to be prepared. Internationally, these forms are called Direct, Back-to-Back, Master and House AWB. We are happy to assist you in this regard, so we will gladly take care of preparing the Air Waybill and the corresponding customs documents, such as the Export Accompanying Document or EUR1 Movement Certificate. As well, we can offer you advice on the preparation of documents relevant to your country.

Onboard courier service

Air freight terminals are not the only place where we offer services. Upon request, we can offer you an onboard courier service which enables you to take your goods directly to the aircraft. In most cases, these consignments are small in size and can be fit into your hand luggage. Parts for machines, spare parts, and luxury items are all tracked by the onboard courier during the flight and reach their destination on time and in good condition. We either take care of the transportation of your goods to the final destination or your customer takes the goods over directly at the airport.

Goods that are temperature-controlled that are cooled actively and passively

When cooling temperature-controlled goods, active and passive cooling are distinguished.

Active cooling maintains the temperature of cold-sensitive products throughout their transportation route. For example, we can keep a temperature specification of +15 to +25 degrees Celsius.

Depending on the product and the packing, passive cooling can be used for shipments. In any case, the temperature specification is only guaranteed during flight and storage in the airport warehouse. The temperature of the shipment cannot be guaranteed on the tarmac, even though the shipment is delivered by a temperature-controlled vehicle. Because of time delays, it is not possible to guarantee that the temperature of the shipment will be set at the specified level.

Shipment tracking

Would you like to know exactly where your air freight is at any time? We keep an eye on your shipment with our shipment tracking. We keep track of everything for you and let you know what you need to know. Fast and uncomplicated.
