Public Welcome At Cable TV Task Force Meeting

The next meeting of the Charlestown Cable TV Task Force will be held on Thursday, September 23, at 7:00 p.m. at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street.

This meeting will be a cable education session featuring the following speakers: Peter Scalafani, Chief Engineer for Cablevision of Boston, will discuss Cablevision and its plans for the Boston cable system as it relates to Charlestown; Marylou Batt, Cable Consultant for the City will outline the City's role in the cable process as well as municipal programming; and Daniel J. Finn, President of The Board of Trustees of the Boston Community Access and Programming Foundation, will discuss the Foundation's goals and plans for the public access channels and the Public Institutional Network.

The meeting is extremely important for determining the next steps of the committee. All Task Force members are urged to attend.

The public is welcome to attend.

Open House For Latin School Parents

The Boston Latin Home and School Association of Charlestown will hold an Open House for Headmaster Michael Contompasis on Monday, October 4th at 7:30 p.m. at the Mary Colbert Apartments, 20 Devens Street.

The current school year, athletic teams and other extra curricular activities, information on getting into Boston Latin School, i.e., examination dates, and locations, student support services, transportation and other school concerns are among the topics to be discussed.

Boston Latin parents and parents interested in placing their children in the school are invited to meet with Mr. Contompasis.

For more information call G. McGonagle at 242-4724.

Two Townies Honored By Patriots

On Saturday, September 4, the New England Patriots presented scholarships to three members of the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston. Two of these are members of the Charlestown Clubhouse.

Jay Ryan of Warren Street, Charlestown and

Diane Brooks of Oak Street, Charlestown, received the Patriot's Miller Man of the Year Scholarship during half-time of the New England Patriots/Green Bay Packers exhibition game.

Jay and Diane, together with Yvette Foster of Roxbury, were presented their scholarships at midfield by Steve Nelson, New England Patriots linebacker and this year's Miller Man of the Year.

The three club members were chosen for their academic and athletic accomplishments. Both local club members are attending Northeastern University.

RECIPIENTS of the 1982 New England Patriots Miller Man of the Year Scholarship were (l. to r.) Yvette Foster, Diane Brooks, and Jay Ryan.

Mayor White Announces Revaluation Will Be Completed In Fall

Mayor Kevin H. White has announced that Boston will successfully complete its revaluation of all real estate property in the City this fall. The Mayor disclosed that preliminary revaluation figures clearly show that the large majority of homeowners will receive a reduction in their tax bills for fiscal 1983.

He said six-month tax bills for the first half of fiscal '83, which will be based on the new assessments, will be mailed to property owners in early December.

In correcting some public "misconceptions," Mayor White said: "Revaluation does not mean that all property taxes will double or triple. It will not mean that it will destroy local business. It does not mean a person will be forced to lose a home or leave a neighborhood because they cannot pay—that is not going to happen to anyone."

"What revaluation is is a long complicated process that is difficult to do," the Mayor continued, "but when done, for the first time everyone's house will be fairly valued and everyone will have a fairer tax bill. And what is more important is that for a majority of our homeowners, revaluation will mean lower tax bills for the second year in a row."

The three-year-long revaluation, conducted by the City's Office of Property Equalization (OPE), involved the gathering and analysis of more than six million items of information on Boston's 105,000 parcels of residential and commercial property. The parcels included more than 70,000 residential buildings of one, two and three units.

The Mayor ended the strong and widespread doubt that the City could meet its fall of 1982 revaluation deadline, which had been set in 1979 through an agreement between OPE and the State Department of Revenue.

In announcing that revaluation will soon be a reality in Boston, Mayor White gave much of the credit to the City's property owners. "The success of revaluation is due in large part to your cooperation and support," he said. "And I am grateful for the help that many of you gave the men and

BRA Votes Funds For Chelsea-Water Street Connection

The Chelsea-Water Street connector, a project that will eliminate heavy truck traffic from residential streets of Charlestown, moved one step closer to construction this week when the Boston Redevelopment Authority voted to provide $84,000 towards the cost of the project.

The cost for designing the project has been jointly shared by the BRA and the Massachusetts Port Authority since the new roadway will provide direct access to the Charlestown Navy Yard and Massport's Moran Terminal. However, major funding for construction of the $4.9 million project will be provided by the Urban Systems program, which is a combination of State and Federal funding.

The BRA funds were necessary because some of the items in the construction program—mainly landscaping work—were not covered by Urban Systems.

BRA Director Robert J. Ryan said, "For several years the people of Charlestown have worked with BRA and Massport on this project because it would provide a new route for trucks using the Massport properties. Recently, the State DPW awarded a contract for the project, and now with the addition of BRA funding, construction should start on this project in the near future."

Chelsea-Water connector will provide a direct route from the Expressway to Water Street. A new bridge will be constructed over Little Mystic Channel so that Water Street will be directly connected to the Moran Terminal.

Reconstruction of Water Street will also provide improved access to the Navy Yard through Gate 4 and Gate 5.

Legion And Auxiliary To Install Officers

Both the officers of Bunker Hill Post 26, American Legion and its Auxiliary will be installed at the Legion Hall on Friday evening, September 24th. The Auxiliary, with Mrs. Mary Luce of Bunker Hill Street going in for her second term as President, will install at 7 p.m. while the Legion Officer's Installation will be held at 8 p.m.

Edward A. McGuinness of Cedar Street, Charlestown, active in many civic organizations, will be installed as Commander.

The public is cordially invited to attend the installation which will be followed by a collation and dancing.

Classes In Dance, Acting, And Art At CWT

Registration will take place at the Charlestown Working Theater, 442 Bunker Hill Street on Saturday, September 25 from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. and on Monday, September 27 from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. for the following classes:

Tap and Ballet (ages 3-12 Note: Due to popular demand, the age has been changed from 10 to 12). Dance classes will be taught on Saturdays by Bobbie DeCarlo and will begin on October 9. Price per lesson is $2.75.

Acting Workshop (ages 15-21). This class will be taught in the evening by Laurie Zallen. The price is $45.00 for eight week session (1½ hours per session).

women who came to your homes."

Mayor White also announced these final steps in the City's revaluation process:

*Property owners will be advised by mail of the fair market value of their property, beginning in mid-October and continuing over a six-week period.

*Temporary neighborhood revaluation information centers will be established across the City to hear firsthand any concerns of property owners.

*Actual tax bills for the first six months of this fiscal year, which began July 1, will be sent out in early December.

*Taking a broad perspective of what revaluation means to Boston, the Mayor termed it "a fourth cornerstone" to a stable future. He said: "The stabilizing of property taxes, restoring of neighborhood services, and the continuing boom in construction are three of the four cornerstones of Boston's future which have been carefully and firmly put into place."

"The fourth is a permanent and sound property tax structure. I am announcing that we are ready to put this fourth cornerstone in place with the successful completion of property revaluation this year. Accomplishing this, Boston will have done everything solely within her power to guarantee a stable and strong financial future."

Retracing the history of revaluation in Massachusetts, the Mayor noted that the State Supreme Judicial Court in 1974 ordered all cities and towns in the Commonwealth to reassess all of their properties at 100 percent of the fair market value.

He pointed out that mayors in Boston and most other cities had been putting off revaluation for half a century because they thought it unfair to tax homes like businesses.

without reforming the state's entire tax structure. But the court's mandate, the Mayor explained, was to "either change the law, or obey the law."

So Boston in 1978 led the successful statewide battle for the Classification Amendment that allows cities and towns to tax residences at a lower rate than commercial properties.

Crime Down? Doubts Statistics

Dear Editor,

I read, with some amazement, the Charlestown Police Line "from the desk of Deputy Superintendent Joseph V. Saia, Jr." in the September 16 issue of The Patriot.

Having witnessed a spring and summer of car thefts, extensive vandalism of property and autos, house and car breaks of friends and neighbors, as well as flagrant drinking on our streets and in our parks—I can only conclude, that the reason that the statistics indicate crime is down is that police officers assigned to this area have not been visible or have "looked the other way."

Night after night, cars race up and down our streets with tires screeching and the occupants displaying bottles of beer. We, the residents see this, why can't the police?

Police and community meetings have deteriorated from those of past years where there was meaningful dialogue between residents, businessmen, and the police to strictly a public relations show with the police telling the residents how good things are in Charlestown—citing statistics as to the decrease of crime in the community.

The vast majority of Charlestown residents care about their community. What is needed are police who know and care about Charlestown. Thorough investigations, apprehension of suspects, and the prosecution of same should be the rule rather than the exception.

A Concerned "Townie"

Where Is Charlestown's Community Pride?

To the Editor:

I visited Charlestown on Thursday, September 16th.

My first impression was "Oh look at these beautiful old buildings and narrow streets - this is where history was made!!" This impression soon changed.

I was there to look for the grave of one of my ancestor's - my great great grandfather - who died in Charlestown while working on the construction of the Bunker Hill Monument about 1828.

I was appalled at the condition of the cemeteries. Where is Charlestown's community pride? Isn't there any thought given to these "hallowed Burial Grounds?" What kind of people walk their dogs in cemeteries? Don't they have any respect at all?

Needless to say I was unsuccessful in my search for my ancestor's grave - I guess I shouldn't be disappointed when the "historical site" marker showing where the British line was during the Battle of Bunker Hill is overgrown with bushes and surrounded by rubbish!!!

This is all in the shadow of the Bunker Hill Monument on the Freedom Trail!!!!

In respect and patriotism gone forever?

Sincerely,
Ida Pike Barber

Afterschool Day Care

Are you a working parent? Are you needing quality care and supervision for your 6 - 12 year old child during afterschool hours and when school is not in session?

The Afterschool Day Care Program at the Charlestown Boys and Girls Club has spaces available right now for children in grades one through six. To be eligible for enrollment, parents must either be employed, in a school, or training program.

Afterschool Day Care runs Monday through Friday from 2:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. when school is in session. During school vacation weeks, full-time day care is provided, from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Breakfast, lunch, and many recreational activities including field trips are provided. Throughout the school year, children receive a daily afternoon snack, and can participate in one or more of the many well programmed activities at the Boys and Girls Club. Some of these include swim instruction, an athletics program, educational assistance, field trips, and more. During the summer months, Afterschool Day Care becomes a full-time summer day camp program at no extra cost.

The fee for your child to be enrolled in day care is based upon a sliding scale. One weekly cost covers all activities.

If you are interested in enrolling your child, or you would like more information about the program, please contact Nancy Bean, Day Care Director, at the Boys and Girls Club (242-1775), Monday through Friday between 12:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.

Requests Patriot Cease Publishing "Irish Update"

Dear Gloria,

Again I feel compelled to write to the Patriot. This time I am requesting that the Patriot cease publishing the "Irish Update" column, temporarily. I am making this request because the column has repeatedly made statements that are totally false. I am asking you to stop using the column until you can investigate my accusations against the column.

The most recent false statement in the column involved the so-called Installation Dance Committee. The truth of the matter is that I, and other people named as members of that committee have had no connection with the committee whatsoever. In fact I, and many other members, feel that the Installation is being handled in an obnoxious and embarrassing manner, and do not want to be associated with the Installation at all.

Some of our reasons are:

1. The Past National President of the Hibernians, John Connolly, has been named to officially "seat" the Board while the founder of the Society (and first president), Arthur Hurley was not even invited to attend, much less participate. I believe that Jack Connolly of the Hibernians is not fully aware of the circumstances. I have known and worked with Jack for many years and know that his commitment to Irish organizations has no equal.

2. The date selected for the Installation is the same night that Post 26 of the American Legion is having their installation. In view of the Post's generous co-operation with the Society (they provided a meeting place at no cost), we should be supporting their endeavors, not competing with them.

3. The Board of Directors was not consulted on any matter with regards to the Installation, therefore what constitutes the "official seating" of the Board and who decided the Installation procedures? It is my belief that unless the Board is consulted, any Installation would not be official by any means.

4. After not having been consulted, I and other members found twenty tickets to the Installation Dance thrown in our doorways without the slightest explanation (no note or phone call).

Gloria, in view of the above facts I am embarrassed and resent that I was named, falsely, as a member of the Installation Committee. I will gladly sit down with you and those responsible for the statements in the "Update" column so that you may ascertain the truth.

I consider the false statements in the "Irish Update" column to be a breach of faith with the Patriot and it's publisher. Those people responsible for falsehoods in the column are putting a stain on the honor of the Society and it's members and should be stopped.

Respectfully,
Dennis McLaughlin

Time For A Flat Rate Tax System

Dear Editor,

The Conservative Caucus has launched a National Tax Reform Campaign intent on informing the American taxpayers of the virtues of a Flat Rate Tax Act (S 2200) introduced in Congress by Senator Jesse Helms of North Carolina.

In his message to the people, Howard Phillips, National Director of the Caucus stated, "Americans are overtaxed and it's time to do something about it."

If enacted into law, it is estimated that the average American household will save from $800.00 to $1,000.00 annually. The bill is designed to abolish all tax loopholes, deductions, credits and exclusions. Each taxpayer would be taxed at a flat rate of 10% minus a personal exemption of $2,000.00.

In addition to the tremendous tax savings, the congress would be able to cut substantially the present I.R.S. budget of $4 billion while eliminating most of the 47 forms and schedules now used to file income tax returns.

Consider the benefits of this reform:

*taxes can never go up faster than a person's ability to pay:

*no more complicated income tax forms;

*no need to hire an expert to figure out your taxes;

*every American will pay his/her fair share/no more.

Who could quarrel with this plan? Sounds great, should breeze through the Congress...WRONG, DEAD WRONG! Virtually every liberal in the Congress is geared up to oppose this bill, and here's why:

The bill would end the re-distribution of wealth from the productive Americans to less productive Americans through the tax system. Under today's graduated system, productive Americans are forced to pay MORE than their share for government services.

Today's graduated system allows you to be pushed into higher tax brackets by inflation. The tax reform bill will eliminate this as you will only be required to pay 10% of whatever your income level is.

If overtaxation to fuel the federal bureaucracy has the taxpayers upset, perhaps in this election year they will insist that their elected representatives in both the US House and US Senate support this tax reform bill. And, if they fail to respond to the will of the people, there will be many voters who will seek out alternative candidates who will respond to their will.

Middle America proved in 1980 they were fed up with the liberal philosophy of big government, and they might just finish in November of 1982, the job they started in 1980.

Watch out Ted, Tip, Barney, et al.

Views On Dental Health

by Jeffrey D. Cohen,
D.M.D.

PORCELAIN COATED GOLD CROWN

If you have a chipped, discolored, broken, poorly shaped or badly decayed tooth - as long as the root remains - there is still hope for restoring its natural appearance and function. An artificial crown does the job.

The veneer crown actually comprises a jacket of porcelain fused to gold, cemented in position to replace the enamel of the tooth. It fits over the natural tooth surface which is prepared in such a way as to provide a strong base for the crown.

The cosmetic result of this procedure is beautiful. Tooth shade is carefully analyzed and the shade determined by taking into account such considerations as stains, grooves, enamel thickness, complexion and age. Carefully matched veneer crowns many times resemble the adjoining natural teeth so closely that it is possible to fool even a dental hygienist who is cleaning the teeth.

Laboratory techniques now enable us to do marvelous things with porcelain that were unthinkable not too many years ago. Further, porcelain is color stable. It will not change color with time.

A public service to promote better dental health.

Newworld Bank Launches Second Annual "That's My House!" Contest

Homeowners in and around Boston can win thousands of dollars for their home improvement efforts in the second annual "That's My House!" contest sponsored by Newworld Bank (formerly Charlestown Savings). A total of $36,000 in prize money will be awarded to 16 neighborhood winners in the city of Boston and 12 suburban homeowners in designated towns and cities to the north, west and south of the city. Applications are available at any of the Bank's 14 offices or by calling the Marketing Department at 482-2600. The deadline for submitting applications is December 15, 1982.

"We're looking for examples of committed homeowners who take pride in their homes and

Children's Films

The Fall Film Program for Children will be held on Tuesday, September 28, 1982 at 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street. The features will be "Wonders in a Country Stream", "Little Red Riding Hood", and "Teeny Tiny and the Witch Woman."

Stroke Club To Meet

The Northeast Area Stroke Club which meets monthly in Malden and serves Charlestown will be the subject of a public service film by WXNE, Channel 25 television. The Club which meets at Suffolk Manor, 312 Bryant Street in Malden on Tuesday, September 28 at 7:30, will feature guest speaker, John L. Brenner. Mr. Brenner, who himself has had a stroke, is a well known Boston arts critic and columnist who writes for the Post Gazette.

Film segments from the Tuesday evening meeting will be used for future public service announcements for the Massachusetts Easter Seal Society, and some segments will be shown on the 1983 National Easter Seal Telethon.

The September 28th meeting is free and open to the public. Anyone in the Northeast Area who has had a stroke, family and friends are encouraged to attend.

College Fair

A "College Fair" for the greater Boston area will be held at Bentley College on Thursday evening, September 23 in the Charles A. Dana Physical Education Center on the Bentley campus.

Hours for the fair will be from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Over 200 representatives of admissions offices from colleges and universities throughout the Northeast will be on hand to answer questions and to supply information to high school students and their parents. Special areas will also be set up to answer specific questions related to federal and state financial aid opportunities.

the neighborhoods they live in," explains Robert Garver, President of Newworld Bank. "Last year, the 16 Boston winners represented an interesting variety of lifestyles and home improvement projects. By expanding the program to an additional 45 towns, we hope to involve thousands of additional Massachusetts homeowners. Newworld Bank wants to recognize their contributions not only to their own suburban neighborhoods, but also to the Boston metropolitan area as a whole."

"That's My House!"

honors home improvements that reflect a practical and architecturally-sound approach to solving a particular problem, while contributing to the quality of the entire neighborhood. The projects will also be judged on resourcefulness, craftsmanship and innovation.

Eligible home improvements may have been launched at any time in the recent past, but they must have been completed between October 1, 1981 and December 15, 1982. Entrants will compete with others from their neighborhood or region, and winners will be selected by a panel of local judges offering a variety of perspectives on housing issues. Judges will include architects, realtors and community leaders with interest and expertise in local housing concerns.

To be eligible for the "That's My House!" program, the entrant must be at least 18 years of age and own and occupy a 1-to-6-family home in Boston or one of the designated suburban towns. The home improvement must reflect an investment of at least $1,000 in supplies and/or labor. Do-it-yourself labor also qualifies. Home improvement loans, from Newworld or any other bank, are not a requirement for eligibility. In fact, if a home loan was obtained for the improvement in question, the entrant must not reveal the identity of the institution supplying the loan or the application will be disqualified. Only one entry per home will be accepted for the program.

"That's My House!" was the first bank-sponsored program of its kind to be offered in this country. The program was recognized with a national "Women in Communications" Clarion Award, and received extensive coverage from local and national media. Last year's 16 neighborhood winners were featured in articles in their local newspapers, as well as in the Boston Globe and Herald American. National banking trade magazines ran feature articles about the program, and several winners appeared on local television talk shows. In addition, a home improvement "primer" in the September issue of Women's Day magazine featured all 16 winners and their home improvements.

That's my bank?

Announcing a New World of banking.

For over 125 years, Charlestown Savings Bank has been a household name. But now, that name is changing. Because, frankly, we've grown far beyond Charlestown. And way beyond just savings.

So now we've got a new name to reflect our new horizons: Newworld Bank. For the new world of banking in which your money making options have never been greater.

And while you'll still find our wide range of personal banking services, you'll find we can now offer you more than ever before.

A New World of Trust Services.

We're proud to be one of the first savings banks in the country to offer our customers a professional trust department. We're now able to provide personalized service and expertise to investors who require independent investment advice and management under the supervision of a bank trust department. As well as to small and medium sized corporations in the formation and administration of corporate pension and profit-sharing plans.

A New World of Convenience

To make your banking easier and more convenient, we've harnessed the world of electronics. With our Newworld Banker Card, you'll have access to all of our new Automatic Teller Machines which allow you to conduct banking transactions any time of day or night, seven days a week, at your convenience. So, when you need a bank, you'll always have one at your command.

A New World of Commercial Services.

We're strengthening our ties with the local business community through a broad range of new commercial banking services.

Our total corporate banking program includes commercial checking and investment opportunities, corporate lines of credit, equipment leasing, pension and profit-sharing plan management, payroll processing, extensive banking services for company employees and increased commercial lending activities.

And we're always prepared to lend our expert guidance and financial planning, as well as cash, to our business customers.

It's a new world of banking. A new world of finance. And we're ready for it. Charlestown Savings is now Newworld Bank.

And now, when you say "that's my bank", you'll have more reason than ever to point to us with pride.

"Greater love hath no man than this: That a man lay down his life for his friends."

That is precisely what prisoner number 16670 did in August 1941 in behalf of fellow prisoner Francizek Gajowniczek, a married man with two sons. The "man" we refer to is, of course, Maximilian Maria Kolbe, a Pole and Conventual Franciscan Priest, who was beatified (named "Blessed") October 17, 1971, and one who will be canonized a Saint at Rome next month, on October 10th.

Father Kolbe was ordained to the priesthood at Padua, Italy in 1919. He then returned to his native Poland where, in spite of ill health and poverty, he eventually founded the Militia of the Immaculate Conception (now known as The Knights of Immaculata). This movement is now a worldwide apostolate of some 2 million members, and was stated to be "ecumenical in purpose, spirit and action" by Clementine Lenta (in a current issue of The Wanderer). This pious association spreads devotion to Mary through the communications media, and the following words are attributed to its Founder, Father Kolbe: "The Knight of the Immaculata does not confine his heart to himself, nor to his family, relatives, neighbors, friends, or countrymen but embraces the whole world, each and every soul, because without exception, they have all been redeemed by the Blood of Jesus. They are all our brothers..."

After a six year tour as a Missionary in Japan (1930-1936), he returned to his homeland, and was arrested by the Nazis shortly after the German occupation of Poland in 1939. He was given his freedom, but was rearrested in February of 1941 and interred at Auschwitz.

As a result of the successful escape by a prisoner at this camp, the Commandant ordered that 10 men die of starvation in retribution. It was then that Fr. Kolbe interceded in behalf of Mr. Gajowniczek's cry of desperation for his family by stepping out of line, saying: "I am alone, a priest, and he has a wife and children. Let me take his place." His wish granted, he was locked away with the other nine in a windowless cell, where he often led them in the Rosary. He and three others survived after two weeks, but were killed by an injection of carbolic acid.

There is much, much more to be said about this Saint "of our times," which neither our inadequacies or space will permit here, so please allow our suggestion that further interest can be best satisfied by contacting the American Center of The Knights of The Immaculata, 1600 West Park Avenue, Libertyville, Illinois 60048 who will gladly provide detailed information, on the award-winning biography entitled "The Death Camp Proved Him Real."

This article represents a departure from our usual norm, but we know our readers (of whatever faith or conviction) will appreciate the attributes found in this former human being, recognizing that he exemplifies that goodness to which we all aspire. Much will be said of him in the coming weeks, and it is expected that drug abusers and the families and friends of those so addicted will turn to him in prayer because of the nature of his death.

While writing this piece we were mindful of a work associate who recently asked if we thought the day would ever come when we'd have a saint in a business suit. Yes, Eddie, and very likely he will be one of the many inspired by the life and devotion of this contemporary Martyr of Charity, Saint Maximilian. Pax!

A TIP OF THE HAT, AND BEST WISHES, TO....

Buddy Manning of "Southie," Warrie Dalton of Winthrop and Jimmy Pinto of Revere, retiring members of the I.L.A., whose combined service totalled well over 100 years at Castle Island, "Easta Bos" and "C-Town", to Reverend and Mrs. Douglas Auld of First Baptist Church, Weymouth, celebrating their 40th year as "newlyweds"; to June Tammi and the Dorchester Group to Save the Bottle Bill for their recent Dorchester Avenue "Clean-a-thon"; to "Cheryl" of Mattapan for her patience with customers at Rix in Harvard Square; to Harold F. McKinney of Dedham (Director of radio's "A Catholic Speaks Out") for his "calling" to Rome for seminary training; to Russell Foote of Woburn for his provision of research material for our recent "Toughlove" column; to Lynn and Elaine Mahor (Mother and Daughter) of Hyde Park for their efforts in the Pro-Life movement; to Ed Shallow of Dorchester upon his election as a National Director of the National Association of Neighborhood Schools (NANS); to "Sailor" Noreen McCluskey (sister of Kevin) for providing this "old salt" with a night at sea; to Margaret Charlebois of Charlestown for her picketing prowess at the Boston Globe Saturdays with "the Irish being Irish," and to Representative Kevin P. Blanchette (D-Lawrence) for his strong legislation combatting child pornography, aka "Kiddie Porn."

WE CAN ALL HELP ON THIS ONE....

Congressman Siljander (R-Michigan) recently introduced a Bill into Congress (H.R. 6751) which, if passed, will establish a National Commission on Neurofibromatosis (NF), to exist for the limited period of 15 months...on a proposed budget of $1,200,000. It is important - most important - that we all inform our Representatives of this fact, asking they they act as co-sponsors of the bill. Please write or call them at once...time is of the essence!

The recent stage production and movie portrayal of the life of John Merrick (The Elephant Man) brought attention of the public to the plight of some 100,000 Americans who are also suffering tumor growths, blindness, paralysis, deafness, learning disabilities and many other problems, and the national news coverage of the successful operation on "Lisa H." brought home the fact that there is no treatment other than surgical intervention...which helps the immediate problem but does not cure the disease."

It can be expected that this new Commission will complement the accomplishments of the already existing National Neurofibromatosis Foundation at 180 Riverside Drive, N.Y., 10024, and will have the full support and cooperation of the Mass. Chapter of N.F., presently located at 75 Laurie Lane, Lowell, Mass. 01854, as well as other State Chapters.

Our periodic columnizing on this subject has brought us into contact with many families who are "making the good fight" against NF...and we're the better for it! PLEASE help by writing that letter, or making the phone call - TO-DAY. And, by all means, contact the local branch of NF if you are able to be of further assistance. Thank you.

Story Hour And Discussion Group Resumes

The Charlestown Branch Library is pleased to announce the beginning of the Children's Story Hour and Parents' Discussion Group for the 1982 - 83 season beginning on October 8th.

The Pre-School Story Hour, which meets on Fridays at 10:00 a.m., is an excellent opportunity for children who are at least three years of age or older to develop the necessary skills used in learning to read. The desire to read must be encouraged today more so than at any other time. Story Hour attempts to do this by stimulating the child's listening skills, emotional development and imagination by an exposure to the exciting world of books and stories.

The popular Parents' Discussion Group will also be resumed at the same time - Fridays at 10:00 a.m. This program is open to any member of the community interested in informative and entertaining discussions on such varied topics as: Astrology, Bio Feedback, Social Security, Toy Safety, Crafts etc... So plan on joining the group and bringing a friend for stimulating discussions over coffee on Fridays at 10:00 a.m. beginning October 8th. Both these programs are free of charge.

To Be Honored

Helen Lawler has been voted as this year's local recipient of the ABCD Community Award. The banquet will be held on Thursday, October 21, 1982 at the Sheraton Boston.

Charlestown Residents Graduate From Wentworth

Local seniors were among the 157 students awarded degrees and certificates at the Fall commencement exercises at Wentworth Institute of Technology recently.

Dr. Robert E.L. Strider, Dean of Wentworth's College of Arts and Sciences, told the graduating class that the quality of life should be our highest priority.

Most of the students receiving degrees were in the cooperative education program. In this program the students alternate semesters between class/lab study and employment in industry during the junior and senior years. These students, who earned more than $1,000,000 collectively during the semesters devoted to working in industry, received a Bachelor of Science in Engineering Technology degree.

Dr. Edward T. Kirkpatrick, Wentworth

president, conferred the degrees. Vice President Carl A. Swanson served as Institute Marshal and Dean Rolf E. Davey, was the President's Marshal.

Local graduates included: Timothy W. Buckley of 35 Monument Avenue who majored in Electronic Technology, received an Associate in Applied Science Degree; and Joseph Francis Doherty, Jr. of 43 Mt. Vernon Street, who majored in Electronic Engineering Technology, received a Bachelor of Science in Engineering Technology Degree.

Parish Mission Meeting

The first of four evenings planned by St. Catherine's Parish Mission Committee will be held Wednesday, September 29, 1982 at 7:30 p.m. in the Lower Church.

Marilyn "Mal" Goggin, known in Charlestown as friend and neighbor, wife and mother, and active parishioner, will speak on "That Was The Week That Was...A Week That Changed My Life."

Discussion and refreshments are included in the evening. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Holy Name To Meet

Lt. Col. Joseph Amadore, USAR, Engineering Inspector for the M.B.T.A., will be the speaker at the Holy Name Meeting to be held on Sunday, October 10, 1982 in Bishop Lawton Hall, St. Francis de Sales Church, 305 Bunker Hill Street following the 8:30 a.m. Mass.

Completes Intensive Program For Stutterers

Don F. Travis of Baldwin Street, Charlestown, a Northeastern University honor graduate, has completed an 18-day intensive therapy program for stutterers at New England Rehabilitation Hospital, Woburn, and wants the multitude of stutterers out there in the world to know about the 93 percent success rate.

Stuttering is a relatively mysterious affliction often striking one of several children, resisting early efforts of therapy, but a new technique has been discovered which requires hard work and concentration. Those who test the procedure are singing the praises of relief and self-confidence.

"I was a stutterer since my early childhood," said Travis. "In later school, even if I knew the answer I would never raise my hand."

"I have just finished the program and my wife, my friends, and my family are very impressed with my speech improvement."

Travis has completed the new therapy known as the Precision Fluency Shaping Program, unknown until recently and bringing new hope for an estimated two million stutterers in the U.S.

Travis is a graduate of Charlestown High School, class of 1975, where he was a member of the National Honor Society, and won his letters in baseball and track.

He graduated with honors in 1980 from Northeastern University where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in business management.

Travis is married to the former Arlene Doherty of Charlestown who graduated from Charlestown High with him in the same class.

Strangely, Travis seldom had a stuttering problem while talking with his wife, and during the years of their courtship.

His wife believes it is because he is relaxed, and at ease when he is with her, more so than with strangers.

Travis has worked for the U.S. Department of Labor in New York City, and was recently associated with the Purdy Vantine Studios.

ROBERT PIEPER AND LINDA D'AMATO

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Pieper of Charlestown are proud to announce the engagement of their son, Robert M. Pieper, Jr. to Linda M. D'Amato, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry D'Amato of East Boston. A May wedding of 1983 is planned. The couple will honeymoon in Bermuda.

Sterling Resigns From USS Constitution Museum

Peter V. Sterling, Director of the USS Constitution Museum in Charlestown since 1978, has resigned to accept a position as Executive Director of the Children's Museum in Indianapolis, Indiana, effective in late October.

In his four years as Director, Mr. Sterling has seen the Museum's operating budget grow from $285,600 in 1978 to $600,000 in FY 1982, and has added three full-time positions to the staff, including directors of Educational Programs and Community Relations. He oversaw construction of three permanent new exhibits, "Building of Old Ironsides", "Life at Sea" and "Command Center", which were entirely funded by corporate and foundation grants. The 600-volume Samuel Eliot Morison Library, a valuable resource for maritime scholars, came into existence during his tenure, also funded by outside support, as did the Samuel Eliot Morison Lecture Series.

Since 1978, visitation at the USS Constitution Museum has grown from 87,000 to 125,000 visitors a year, and membership has more than doubled. Mr.

Sterling also instituted an internship program with local colleges, and secured funding for such educational programs as a sailmaking workshop in which local teenagers made CONSTITUTION's first new sail in 50 years.

Mr. Sterling came to the USS Constitution Museum from Colonial Williamsburg where he was Director of Group Visits and Educational Programs. He was Director of Curricular Activities at Davidson College from 1970 to 1973 and was a teacher of American history in New England schools for nine years. A native of Springfield Massachusetts, he attended Hingham schools and graduated from Davidson College. He received a master's degree in American Studies from Georgetown University under a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship. He and his wife Leslie live in Cambridge.

Mr. Sterling has been a frequent consultant and lecturer for the American Association of Museums, the American Association for State and Local History, the National Council for the Social Studies and the New England Museum Association. He is a Trustee of the Council of American Maritime Museums.

Alexander D. Washburn, President of the USS Constitution Museum Board of Trustees, in making the announcement remarked, "Peter Sterling has, in four short years, brought the USS Constitution Museum into the front rank of American maritime museums. During his time here the Museum has grown in both visitation and membership, and has entirely eliminated its long-term debt. We have operated in the black for five out of the past six years.

More important, perhaps, than Peter's fiscal achievements are his contributions to the understanding of CONSTITUTION's role in American naval history. The new exhibits built under his direction and, most particularly, the Samuel Eliot Morison Library, have made our knowledge and appreciation of America's oldest commissioned warship more complete. For that we, the Trustees of the Museum, are in his debt."

"Please Come And Help Us To Help Our Youth"

At Aquinas Junior College

Aquinas Junior College, Newton, welcomed its students on September 13, 1982 to begin the academic year 1982 - 1983. Sister Julia Ford, President, greeted the students at an assembly and encouraged the "women" to take the challenge of an education at Aquinas. Charlestown residents attending Aquinas are Karen Kelly and Ann Marie O'Brien.

Aquinas is a personal and professional independent two-year College and has as its primary aim learning at the post-secondary level and the promotion of the growth and development of persons responsible to God and to society.

The largest number of students this year will pursue the Executive Secretarial program followed by the Legal Secretarial program. Business Administration and Management, a program of study offered this year for the first time at Aquinas, has taken third place among the most highly populated majors.

Pop Warner Corner

This past Sunday, Pop Warner Football played four games.

In the first game, the B Team won 19-2 (Charlestown 19 - Malden 2). The first score was on an option pass from Jimmy Donovan to Danny Tucker.

The second touchdown came on a run by Jimmy Donovan. The third touchdown was scored by Kevin McGonagle on a run of about thirty yards. The entire defense played an excellent game.

In the second game, in a defensive battle, the Charlestown D Team lost to Everett 6-0. The Charlestown D Team played much better in this game than they did the previous week. Keep up the good work!

In the third game, the Charlestown C Team lost to Malden 20 - 6. The Charlestown touchdown was set up on two long passes from Chris Goggin to Robert Melendy. The touchdown was scored on a run by Donald Doris.

In the A Team game, Malden won 18-0. The Charlestown kids looked pretty good in the first half, but were beaten later in the second half by a big Malden fullback who was hard to bring down.

Three games will be played in Everett this week beginning at 11:00 a.m. The D Team will play in Belmont. Mr. Boyce will get directions to the field for the players.

We would like to thank Ed Nice for all the work he and his family did on the concession stand. Thanks, also, to Ronnie Raymond and the kids who helped mark the field and to Matt Stillman and the D Team boys for cleaning the field.

Columbus Sings Opening Day Blues, Shut Out 8-0

by Bob DeCristoforo

The only thing wrong with Saturday's Christopher Columbus High Football opener was the fact that our boys lost to Blue Hills of Canton 8-0.

One costly error set up the winning play as Blue Hiller Kevin Starr (rightly named) bolted over from the two yard line for the winning touchdown early in the third quarter. QB John Geary passed for the extra two points to a jubilant wide open Mark Harrison.

Note well that we said "one costly error" because despite the score, the Friars did play a decent ball game against a team which some say is Super Bowl bound, and the coaches not pleased with the outcome, were pleased with the performance.

A lot of positive things happened, maybe even more than was expected, and that is good when you consider that the '82 Friars have a lot of new faces, and with this fact you might begin to see the overall picture.

Of course some will call the above "excuse making" for an 8-0 loss, but watch out as this club will be winning a lot of games before the year is out.

NOTES FROM THE FRIAR-ing PAN: Coach Alessandro Campea begins his second year at the helm. Joining him are assistants John LoPresti, Fred Montiero, John Awbrey, and the welcome return of Don Stevens.

Three solid Captains lead the Columbus charge in Michael Yandle of Charlestown, Paul Graham of South Boston, and Bob Buckley of Dorchester.

Returning as the "Voice of the Friars" is Bobby Mitchell. Robert went through a serious operation over the summer and we are pleased to see him back in action.

Joining the many in the stands for the opener were Columbus' '80 Superbowl quarterback Michael Charbonnier of Charlestown, who is now attending school in Connecticut, and '81 Captain Ronny Curry of East Boston, who is attending Bowdoin University in Maine.

On Sunday the Friars travel to St. Patrick's of Watertown for a 1:30 p.m. game at Victory Field, a stadium filled with some very interesting Columbus football memories.

Next HOME game at Hormel Stadium will be on October 3, when the Friars host Hudson Catholic in a 1:30 p.m. kickoff.

C.Y.H.A. To Meet

The first monthly meeting of CYHA will be held on Wednesday night, September 29, 1982 at 7:30 p.m. at the Kent Community School (Hayes Square).

The parents and other members are invited to come and discuss the 1982-83 hockey plans. The agenda will be open to general discussion by members on ways to strengthen and improve the hockey program in Charlestown. Volunteers will be welcome to sign up to act as team managers, committee members or other supporters for activities which the Board and the members decide to try.

This is an opportunity for new people to learn about the organization. It is also an opportunity for veteran members to co-operate with the Board of Directors to build a stronger organization.

President Ron Vitale has set as one of his major goals the raising of funds in the community so that the cost of this hockey program can be kept within the reach of those families who want their sons to participate.

Wins Seabrook's Great Race

"OK TROY" pulled out all the stops to win the Fifth Annual Seabrook Greyhound Park's $100,000 Great Race easily defeating Pat Dalton's Little Genie and Flying Roger. The speedy canine (held by Lead Boy Bruce Averill of Seabrook) garnered $50,000 first prize money for his owner William H. "Billi" O'Donnell (second from right) who accepted the race trophy from Seabrook General Manager Joseph E. Carney, Jr., (right) and Seabrook President Edward J. Keelan (left) of the Granite State racing oval. (photo by Terry Harrington)

Your Child's Health

If you have brought your child to Bunker Hill Health Center in the last few weeks, you know that some changes are underway. Most obvious are the renovations. The Pediatric offices have been temporarily relocated to the first floor while the second floor is being redone. We are looking forward to moving into a new waiting area (not the hall) and new office space in early October. We thank our patients for being so understanding. If you have trouble finding us, just ask at the main desk. Our telephone number is the same as usual 242-5730.

The medical staff of Bunker Hill Pediatrics consists of four experienced pediatricians: Dr. Blitzer, Dr. Greenspan, Dr. Long and Dr. Minear. Dr. Greenspan is the newest member of the staff. He became Unit Chief of Pediatrics after Dr. Beyer left the Health Center in June. The regular staff is joined by senior pediatric residents from Massachusetts General Hospital, who spend five weeks at a time at Bunker Hill. They are supervised by the regular staff doctors. Appointments can be made with the doctor of your choice by calling the office.

Patients are seen between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. In addition, there is a Wednesday evening session from 5:30 p.m. - 9:00 p.m., and a Saturday morning session from 8:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon. Walk-in times (no appointment needed) are 8:45 a.m. - 9:45 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. - 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, 5:30 p.m. - 6:30 p.m. Wednesday evening and 8:45 a.m. - 9:45 a.m. Saturday morning.

After hours and on weekends one of the pediatricians is always available by calling the answering service at 726-3595. Please identify yourself as a Bunker Hill pediatric patient. The operator will take your name and number, page the doctor on call, and your call will be returned as soon as possible.

For appointments and any questions about pediatric services, please call 242-5730.

"Command Center" Exhibit Brings "Old Ironsides" Into The Computer Age

"It was fun and because of it I'm in trouble with maritime law!"

What had gotten a tourist from Ohio in trouble with maritime law while visiting Charlestown's USS Constitution Museum? A new "Command Center" exhibit! Museum exhibits do not usually get visitors into legal conflicts, but the Constitution Museum's computer simulation which opened last summer realistically put this visitor into the role of Captain Edward Preble when he sailed CONSTITUTION from Boston to Gibraltar in August, 1803.

Our modern-day "Captain Preble" got into trouble when he encountered an American merchant ship, SARAH, bound from New York to London. SARAH's captain and first mate had been swept overboard in a storm leaving her without skilled navigators. CONSTITUTION was about 15 days out of Boston and had discovered that part of her drinking water supply had been tainted with salty water.

Three choices appeared on the computer screen. "Captain Preble" had to select one of these options:

1. Put his fifth lieutenant aboard SARAH and let them continue on to New York.

2. Take the SARAH along with CONSTITUTION to Gibraltar which would slow the squadron down considerably.

3. Let SARAH fend for herself hoping that some other ship would assist her. At the same time transfer some water supplies to CONSTITUTION.

"Captain Preble" selected option No. 3 and was reprimanded for violating maritime law and his orders by not assisting a disabled American merchant vessel.

"Command Center" with its twelve problems involving navigation, supplies, training and discipline of the crew, and a possible engagement with British warships was designed to give modern-day "captains" an understanding of the skills and knowledge that were necessary to be a successful leader in our fledgling Navy.

"We wanted to engage visitors actively in the Museum experience," said USS Constitution Museum Director Peter Sterling. "It's one thing to look at Edward Preble's picture and read about his great leadership abilities. It's quite another thing to take on his responsibilities and actually 'sail' CONSTITUTION from Boston to Gibraltar."

"Command Center," which may be the only exhibit of its type in an American maritime museum, is proving enormously popular with Museum visitors. It is open during regular Museum hours: 9-5 Monday through Friday and 9-6 on weekends through October. Admission is $2 for adults, $1 for seniors and 50¢ for children 6-16. The USS Constitution Museum is located in the Charlestown Navy Yard just a few hundred yards from "Old Ironsides."

Columbus High School To Offer Adult Diploma Program

Christopher Columbus High School in collaboration with the Continuing Education Institute, a non-profit educational and training consulting firm, is offering an innovative program for adults who wish to earn their high school diploma.

This program is competency based and recognizes learning associated with adult life experience and past credit earned in high school or other educational institutions.

The Adult Diploma Program allows a person the opportunity to earn a high school diploma by demonstrating the learning that has been acquired in situations outside the traditional classroom. It is based on the philosophy that learning and knowledge are acquired throughout a person's lifetime and that those skills can be demonstrated and credited. In order to earn the diploma a person must meet certain requirements.

The Christopher Columbus Adult Diploma Program allows for flexible time, individualization and close contact with a teacher counselor who assists the motivated adult in obtaining a high school diploma from Christopher Columbus High School within a usual time span of four months to a year.

This program is open to anyone in the Greater Boston area without a high school diploma. Students who are employed in the First National Bank of Boston, Blue Cross/Blue Shield, and Massachusetts General Hospital are presently enrolled in the program through company funded tuition assistance or training programs.

Anyone interested in receiving additional information should call 396-8817 or write to the Adult Diploma Program, CEI, 33 Ship Avenue, Medford, MA, 02155.

Townie Tidbits

by Sal Giarratani

For all those people who are wishing me luck in the 1983 City Council District Race, they know more than I do. I have yet to make any such decision. Running for office can be a lot more trouble than its worth and is expensive to say the least.

Lots of people I know in Eastie think I'm doing columns over there to gain name exposure. I thought I was doing it for the sake of writing. Lots of people in Charlestown think Bob Cappucci took on Tip this year for the same thing. Maybe, he did, maybe he didn't. I wouldn't criticize him if he did. We need new voices in office, the current crop ain't no great shakes.

Eventually, I'll come to terms with being a candidate or not and when I decide, I'll clearly state so right here!

And from what I hear, there's another Charlestown name popping up as well. The North End and East Boston are taking us quite seriously and that is a good sign. We may be small and outnumbered population-wise but we are politically smart and that is to our advantage if we do things right as the Kentucky Colonel says.

HERITAGE SOCIETY FRIDAY

Friday over at the K. of C. Hall, the Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society is holding their Installation of Officers Reception/Dance. You can still get tickets at the door if you wish. The Society has been in a whirlwind recently but things appear to be calming down.

NOBODY IS PERFECT!!!

Each one of us is a mixture of good qualities and some perhaps not-so-good qualities. In considering our fellow man we should remember his/her good qualities and realize that faults only prove someone is, after all, a human being. We should refrain from making harsh judgements of a person just because he or she happens to be a dirty, rotten, no good... Remember, everyone isn't perfect. Right?

TALKING ABOUT DIRTY, ROTTEN....

Just came back from a holiday weekend in Vermont and Montreal and couldn't help but see just how dirty Boston is. The streets in Montreal were clean enough to eat off. None of that garbage mounting up by people littering at will. If they can do it, so can we. You never realize things about your own city until you leave it. Nobody does it like good ole Boston!

Dental Program Available To BHCC Students And Staff

President Harold E. Shively of Bunker Hill Community College has announced a new liaison dental program with Tufts University School of Dental Medicine.

Under this innovative program, BHCC students, employees and their families may be screened at the college by the professional staff from Tufts. During this free screening, questions relating to specific dental problems will be answered. If the patient has no dentist and desires referral for treatment, special access to services at the Dental School will be arranged. A pilot program, it may be changed according to needs.

Dean Erling Johansen of Tufts University emphasizes the unfortunate truth that only 40% of the adult population in the United States receives adequate dental treatment and both Bunker Hill and Tufts would like to help rectify this situation.

The program will start on Wednesday, October 6 and will be held at BHCC, Room E-233 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. It will continue each Wednesday at the same hours.

For further information, call Ms. Kathleen Elcox, the director of Health Services, 241-8600, ext. 273, room B-137-C.

Celebrate

Rose Kennedy's Birthday

ROSE KENNEDY'S 92nd birthday party, held at the Kennedy Compound at Hyannis Port, was enjoyed by "Townies" Helen Lawler, Kay Whelan and (not shown) Gen Zarcecki. Desmond Gallagher (right) of County Limerick, Ireland, was one of the talented entertainers with the Limerick Minstrals who performed for the gala.

Reception

Any Charlestown resident interested in participating in a reception being planned to honor John Gardiner may call Virginia Chiampa at 241-8866, ext. 61.

Enters Sweet Briar College

Cornelia R. Woodworth, the daughter of Mrs. Ivey St. John of Charlestown and Kennard Woodworth of Orinda, California, has entered Sweet Briar College as a member of the Class of 1986. Miss Woodworth is a graduate of Governor Dummer Academy.

Sweet Briar is a four-year, liberal arts college for women located on a 3,300-acre campus near the Blue Ridge Mountains of Central Virginia. The college offers 40 academic majors: coordinate programs in management, arts management, and environmental studies; dual-degree programs in engineering and business; internships, career planning, and other preprofessional programs.

Charlestown Police Line

From the desk of
Deputy Superintendent Joseph V. Saia Jr.
Commanding Officer District A
Charlestown, East Boston, Downtown

The primary was held on September 14, 1982. There were no problems at the polls with the exception of the Edwards School where the Police Officer on duty was forced to arrest a Charlestown resident for being a disorderly person and harrasing the voters.

The opening of school has gone very well and there have been no reported incidents to the Department. The Boston Police are covering as many school crossings as possible due to the lay-off of the school traffic guards. The only way they will be pulled off the crossing assignments is if they receive a priority one call.

As I stated last week, I have begun putting out officers on foot patrol. One officer is assigned to the Monument area during the day for 4 hours and one officer is also assigned to Bunker Hill Street, from Hayes Square to Elm for 4 hours.

From 4:00 p.m. to midnight, I have one officer assigned to the Monument area the entire tour of duty. The other officer assigned to the Bunker Hill Street area will also be there for the entire tour of duty.

The cycles cover Bunker Hill Street from Elm Street to Sullivan Square and also Main Street from Thompson

Square to Auburn Street both days and first halves (4:00 p.m. to Midnight). The sector cars cover all of Charlestown.

The following are some of the police related matters which occurred in Charlestown the past week:

ARMED ROBBERY

On September 15 at 7:20 p.m. 2 white males entered the Papa Gino's Restaurant at 14 Austin Street. The first w/m, a Charlestown resident, jumped over the counter and took money from the cash register while the other w/m (wearing a white T shirt and blue jeans) held a small silver handgun on the employees.

Police Detectives Myles McGrail, working a detail at the Bunker Hill Mall, observed what was going on. As the unidentified male fled the scene Detective McGrail was able to apprehend the suspect who was taken to District One and charged with Armed Robbery. The other suspect is at large with an arrest expected to be forthcoming.

This arrest was a tremendous piece of good police work.

KNIFE STABBING

Witnesses report that on September 12, at 5:05 a.m. an unknown w/m, approximately 19 years of age, 6' 0", 165 lbs., black hair, stabbed a Charlestown resident at a location on Medford Street. The unknown male stabbed him the chest. The victim was transported to Mass. General in stable condition. Detectives from Area A are investigating the case. It is believed that the victim knows the identity of the suspect who stabbed him, but he refuses to give his identity to police.

OPERATING UNDER THE INFLUENCE

A Brookline resident was arrested on charges of operating a M/V while under the influence. P.O. Keegan signaled the above to stop as there had been an accident at Alford Street. He refused to stop, sped up and headed North up Rte. 93. The M/V was pursued for approximately 3 minutes and was pulled over. The suspect was placed under arrest for operating under the influence.

MOTOR VEHICLE ACCIDENT

There was a M/V accident at Alford Street Bridge (Rutherford Ave.). Two vehicles were involved in the collision. The lone person in one vehicle was not hurt. The other vehicle driven by a Leominster resident was severely damaged and his passengers were all injured. Health and Hospitals transferred the injured to Mass. General.

RECOVERED MOTOR VEHICLE

A stolen M/V was recovered at 40 Corey Street, Charlestown. The Department urges anyone seeing a M/V (which does not belong to anyone in the area, or looks suspicious, stripped, etc.) to call 911 immediately.

MONTHLY MEETING

As I stated last week, I am looking forward to the Monthly meetings and the first date will be forthcoming very soon.

A Boost For Business In Charlestown

by Mayor Kevin H. White

There comes a time when an established business becomes so closely associated with its community that it is transformed into a neighborhood institution. Such is the case with the Schrafft Candy Co. factory located in Sullivan Square. Since 1928, the old, sweet-smelling edifice has produced tons of chocolates for shipment all over the world. Often, it has been Charlestown residents who have worked both on the assembly lines and in the front offices.

The company has provided jobs to the community as well as other means of financial support. As a major industrial force, it has been a solid factor in the tax base of the city. Without sounding too sentimental, the Schrafft Co. is one of our oldest and most important residents.

But, because of spiraling operational costs, it hasn't always been easy for the factory to operate at its full potential. The Sullivan Square plant, which once employed 1400 people, is now operating at reduced capacity with about 600 employees. In 1981, the losing concern was forced to shut-down and layoff workers for two months.

Shortly after the plant closed, it was bought by the American Safety Razor Co. Understandably, the new owners say the aging plant needs more than a facelift to bring it back to full swing. New equipment is desperately needed to modernize the facility and make it a money-making operation once again.

I have instructed city officials to assist the Schrafft Candy Co. in these efforts by applying for a $1 million Urban Development Action Grant that, if approved, will qualify Schrafft to borrow an additional $7 million in federally subsidized Industrial Revenue Bond loans. The money would be used to upgrade the chocolate and hard candy plant and to finance the purchase of modern, productivity enhancing equipment.

Schrafft officials tell me that if the loans and the grant are approved, they will introduce two more lines of chocolates at the Charlestown plant. Bartons chocolates and Pangborn candies are expected to be manufactured there. This addition will, of course, create more jobs in the community.

I have to admit that our efforts are not completely selfless. By obtaining federal help for the Schrafft Co., I feel we are, in essence, subsidizing the city. Schrafft will also demonstrate to other businesses that their investment in their Boston-based operation is a vote of confidence for the city.

This is a time, unfortunately, when many cities are finding it difficult to attract new business or to prevent longtime business residents from moving to the suburbs. I'm a strong believer in keeping our city industrially and residentially balanced. The Schrafft plan is just one way that we can offer a business enterprise the incentive to make Boston its business.

Honored For Service

The American Red Cross of Massachusetts Bay honored exceptional Red Cross volunteers with 40 or more years of service on Wednesday, September 22, 1982.

Approximately 60 volunteers from throughout the Massachusetts Bay Red Cross area received a Special Citation for Exceptional Volunteer Service for their extraordinary and loyal commitment to Red Cross programs. The services provided by those dedicated volunteers over the years range from the traditional Disaster Services to the making of surgical dressings and represents, conservatively, more than 600,000 volunteer hours.

Helen K. Priest of 57 High Street, Charlestown received a special citation for exceptional 40 or more years of volunteer service to Red Cross.
