

Crossovers

30 – 31 July
Here East

A weekend of arts, sound and technology, where these fields meet and collide.

Interact with the groundbreaking Polyphonic Playground from UAL's London College of Fashion, watch performances by young people from Studio Wayne McGregor's Summer School, take part in sound workshops presented by SPACE, and watch the live stream of a new 'telenovela' being made simultaneously in Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park and Rio de Janeiro.

Also happening in Hackney Wick: join our partners for Hackney WickED DIY Open Studios, and UCL's Painting Connections at Things.

#Foundations

Saturday 30 July

SPACE Summer School - Audible Information

1 - 5pm: Drop in workshops, Free, no booking required

Children and their families are invited to join artist group Owl Project for a drop in inventors' sessions using pre-steam and digital technologies to explore sound. Based on the summer school programme School's (Not Quite) Out for Summer, run by SPACE.

Studio Wayne McGregor: Dance Summer School Final Performances

2pm and 3.30pm: Performances Free, no booking required.

This is a standing performance.

Watch the culmination of a week of dance workshops led by Studio Wayne McGregor in collaboration with artist Verity-Jane Keefe and with music by Scanner. Students from Central Foundation School for Girls, Morpeth School, Petchey Academy and St Angela's Ursuline School perform alongside dancers from Company Wayne McGregor.

London College of Fashion: Polyphonic Playground

2 - 7pm: Open between performances and workshops

2.45pm: Tania Ortiz Zamorano 'The Princess of the Moon' performance

3.45pm - 4.15pm: Choreography workshop with Eleesha Drennan

4.45pm and 5.45pm: 'Thigmo', a dance performance by Eleesha Drennan, commissioned by Studio Wayne McGregor

Free, booking highly recommended via Eventbrite, visit out website for details

Polyphonic Playground, a groundbreaking, playable structure commissioned by Fashion Space Gallery, London College of Fashion and designed by Studio PSK invites you to interact with the structure and see it become a setting for a new performance, exploring connections between dance, sound and technology.

UP Projects: Contracorrente/Upstream

6pm: Streaming of first episode

Two Olympic cities, two time zones, two halves of one screen. The Park becomes host to the creation of the first English-Brazilian soap opera by artist Leah Lovett. Shot on the Park during Saturday afternoon and connecting live to performances in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil two halves of the screen will be streamed simultaneously.

View the live streaming of episodes at uprojects.com at 6pm, 7pm & 8pm.

Sunday 31st July

London College of Fashion: Polyphonic Playground

2pm – 7pm: Open between performances and workshops

3pm – 3.30pm: Choreography workshop with Eleesha Drennan

4pm, 5pm and 6pm: 'Thigmo', a dance performance by Eleesha Drennan, commissioned by Studio Wayne McGregor

Free, booking highly recommended via Eventbrite, visit our website for details
Polyphonic Playground continues on Sunday with more performances and workshops.

Visit our partner events in nearby Hackney Wick:

Hackney WickED DIY Open Studios

Friday 6pm – 9pm: HW Late Private Views Open Studios

6pm – 11.30pm: Grease Up at Mick's Garage with live art and music

Saturday & Sunday 12pm – 6pm: Open Studios

Hackney Wick artists are coming together to organise a DIY Open Studios event at locations in and around Hackney Wick & Fish Island, to celebrate the artist and creative community that currently resides in the area. Pick up a map from Mick's Garage Info Point in Queen's Yard and explore the intense diversity and sheer concentration of artists working in the square mile.

Painting Connections

Things, 64 – 66 Wallis Road, Hackney Wick

Painting Connections is a multi-media exhibition commenting on Hackney Wick & Fish Island's (HWFI) creative community's unique sharing economy. It is also the culmination of a collaboration between UCL research teams, Creative Wick and Affordable Wick. Responding to the findings of the research project Painting Connections: Sharing economies in the creative Wick, local artists Ansell Cizic, Marie Brenneis and Natalie Ryde have created provocations on the sharing ecosystem that is kept alive by, and supports, the creative community of HWFI.

For more details and ticket links, please visit:

Future.london/foundations

#Foundations

@FdnFutureLondon

Crossovers is a highlight weekend forming part of Foundations, a season of arts and culture hosted by Foundation for FutureLondon, bringing together engaging and experimental events to build the community footings for a new culture and education district in Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park.

Supported by Here East

Here East is London's home for making. It's a dedicated place for individuals, start-ups, companies and the local community to come together, share expertise and create the products of tomorrow. Here East is designed to facilitate collaboration and the exchange of ideas – and fostering a tight community is crucial to that vision.

FOUNDATION FOR FUTURELONDON

[space]

ual: london college of fashion

+ STUDIO +
ENJAYMC GREGOR

HereEast

QUEEN
ELIZABETH
OLYMPIC PARK

HMED

UCL

CREATIVE WICK

UP
PROJECTS