

Minecraft Realms Subscription Service Now Available

Mojang has launched its Minecraft Realms subscription service in North America, offering hosting and setup for multiplayer Minecraft worlds starting at $13 per month.

Mojang notes that the service is of particular benefit for parents as Minecraft Realms makes it easy to create an individual sandbox for children and limit it to invited players. A backup feature is included in the cost of the subscription that allows players to make changes that aren't wanted and restore worlds to a previous saved state.

Up to 10 players can join the Minecraft Realms-hosted world simultaneously, and the service will host minigames as well as other exclusive in-game events on a regular basis. Discounts are available to those who sign up for the three- or six-month subscription. The service is currently available for Minecraft PC however support for Minecraft Pocket Edition will be added in an upcoming update. [Image: Mojang]
