Sworn In As Officer In The Metropolitan Police

Calling the day "very special for all of us," Commissioner William J. Geary welcomed to the Metropolitan Police department thirty-five new officers, two-thirds of whom are sons and daughters of police or firefighters who died in the line-of-duty. Among those sworn in was Rosemary Chaisson of Charlestown.

Joining Geary at the Metropolitan Police Academy's 40th Graduation Exercises was Senator Edward M. Kennedy, Metro Police Superintendent Thomas E. Keough, as well as scores of law enforcement officials and friends and families of the graduates.

"We all know," said Geary, "that being a dedicated police officer sworn to protect the public's safety can be dangerous, but you are a class steeped in tradition, enriched by Academy training and on your way to working with the best and most seasoned officers around. You are already a source of pride to your families and your new department."

Senator Edward M. Kennedy gave the day's keynote address, congratulating the graduates and their families, and focusing on the unique responsibilities the thirty-five were about to assume.

At the end of the ceremony, family members pinned Metropolitan Police badges on the new officers.

WELCOMES NEW OFFICER: MDC Commissioner William Geary welcomes Officer Rosemary Chaisson to the ranks of the Metro Police. Officer Chaisson, a resident of Charlestown, has been assigned to the Revere District.

Complaints Of Unfair Ticketing On Walford Way

On April 18th, residents of Walford Way met with local public officials regarding resident complaints of unfair ticketing of parked cars on Walford Way.

The meeting was prompted by the issuance of parking citations for parking in the "wrong direction" on Walford Way during the month of March. By virtue of the uncertainty of the official direction of Walford Way and the absence of proper signs, it was generally agreed that the city was at fault.

At the meeting were Boston City Councillor Robert Travaglini; Deputy Commissioner of Traffic and Parking Jerry Connors; as well as Tom O'Loughlin and Earl Bolt of the Boston Housing Authority Public Safety Department.

After resident complaints were outlined by Kathy Hutchins of the Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force, the gathered officials generally agreed with the majority of the residents' complaints.

Tom O'Loughlin explained that the enforcement of parking laws will be increased in all BHA public housing developments, after years of minimal enforcement. Increased enforcement is largely prompted by increased concerns about child safety. O'Loughlin also promised that no car parked on Walford Way will be cited for parking in the wrong direction, until the proper signs are posted.

According to Traffic and Parking Deputy Commissioner Connors, city records indicate that Walford Way is a one way street. The section of Walford Way running from Tufts Street to Decatur Street is one way going east toward Decatur Street. The section of Walford Way running from Tufts Street to Polk Street is one way going west towards Polk Street. The purpose in making Walford Way a one way street, said Connors, is to reduce traffic flow through the development.

Task Force Community Meeting

The Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force will be holding a community meeting on Monday, May 6th at 6:00 p.m. at the Elderly Lounge, 55 Bunker Hill Street. Several major presentations will be made at this meeting.

A presentation will be made regarding the Code Compliance Agreement recently signed by the Boston Housing Authority and Tenants United for Public Housing Progress (TUPHP). Presentations by the manager and the Task Force will describe how this agreement will hopefully bring the Charlestown development into closer compliance with the State Sanitary Code and improve BHA maintenance services.

A presentation will also be made by the landscape architectural firm of Pryor, Geller, and Schriber. They will describe two master plan alternatives for major site improvements within the Charlestown development. The architects have been working with the BHA and the Task Force over the last six months in developing these plans. The Task Force will be seeking resident comments about the two master plan alternatives. The plans are on display in the manager's office and can be seen during regular business hours.

Updates about other Task Force activities will be given as well as information on how development residents can get involved. Refreshments will be served.

For further information, call the Task Force at 242-3200.

Victorian Thriller To Open At Charlestown Working Theater

Both the plot and the theater are set amid Victorian era architecture, as the Charlestown Working Theater presents "Gaslight" (otherwise known as "Angel Street"), opening May 10th. The play, written by Patrick Hamilton in 1939, was originally set in London in the 1880's and starred Vincent Price. It was also made into a movie starring Charles Boyer and Ingrid Bergman.

This spine-tingling melodrama is demonic story of the Mannings of Angel Street. At first, all appears to be normal, but it is soon apparent that Manningham, a suavely sinister and handsome man, under the guise of kindness, is slowly torturing his wife into insanity. The tension and suspense build to a climax after a police inspector arrives on the scene and convinces Mrs. Manningham that her husband has murdered before. They must build the evidence to prove his guilt and they manage this exciting game shrewdly.

The story moves from London to Beacon Hill for this production. "Gaslight" is directed by Jim Cooke, and produced by Mary Curtin-Stevenson, Charlestown Working Theater. It runs from May 10 through June 9, Friday and Saturday nights at 8:00 p.m. and Sunday afternoons at 2:00 p.m. at the Theater, 442 Bunker Hill Street. Tickets are $8.00, and $7.00 for students and senior citizens.

Reservations are available through the Box Office at 242-3534.

The courage and smarts of a 12-year-old girl rescued one resident from flames and may have saved dozens of other lives Friday night, April 19th, when a fire broke out at Hagen Manor in Somerville.

Charlestown resident, Angela Cimino, who attends the sixth grade in the North End, and her parents visited her grandmother, Patricia Sullivan, at the elderly housing complex at 268 Washington Street, Somerville, and went to a neighbor's apartment to watch television. The neighbor, Patricia Merrick, is disabled from muscular dystrophy and cannot walk.

Cimino said she was in the kitchen and Merrick was sitting in a recliner when Merrick asked her if she smelled smoke. Cimino saw a cloud of smoke around Merrick's chair and quickly pulled her out of it. Cimino then got Merrick into her wheelchair, and as she was wheeling her out of the apartment, the chair burst into flames.

"I ran out and pulled the alarm then," Cimino explained. "Then I ran upstairs and got my parents and then went downstairs and my father couldn't open (Merrick's) door more than three feet. (Merrick's) whole parlor was on fire then...."

"We all owe our lives to her," said Ellen Rourke, a resident of Hagen Manor, who added that Cimino went through the building shouting, "Fire! Fire! It's for real!" because sometimes there are false alarms in the building.

"She handled it beautifully," Rourke said of the young heroine. "Another girl would have just ran."

Rourke said she was one of the last ones out of the building and could barely see her way out because the smoke was so thick.

About five minutes after she rang the alarm, Cimino estimated, firefighters arrived and most of the tenants had vacated the building. Records indicate that the fire was doused in less than an hour.

According to Somerville fire officials, the cause of the blaze was determined to be careless disposal of smoking materials. The damage, basically confined to Merrick's apartment, was estimated at $5,000.

'Back To School' Program Hosts Open House

by Marianne Martin
"This has been a tremendous year of growth for our newest and youngest members of out of school programming," stated Barbara Machtinger, the Educational Coordinator of the Community School in Charlestown in reference to the Back to School program.
Residents and various educational and government representatives were invited to an open house at the Back to School facility at the Bunker Hill Tenants' Multi-Service Center at 76 Monument Street.

The program services students, 13 to 15 years of age, who are out of school. In January, the Community Schools assumed administrative responsibility for the program, whose goal, according to Michael Griffin, Coordinator of the Community Schools in Charlestown, is "a link for kids out of schools and the Boston Public Schools."

Previously, the program was supervised by the Life Focus Center. The transition to the Community Schools was made in an effort to mainline the programming.
The Community Schools also administers the City Roots program for those 16 to 21 years old who are out of school, to prepare them for either re-entry to school or for the GED or High School Extension Diploma test; and the Adult Literacy program.

Currently, there are 18 students enrolled in the Back to School program which consists of basic skill instruction, individual and group counseling as well as career and job development services.
The "school," which meets five days a week, is attended by "a terrific group of kids," eighteen in all, according to Head Teacher, Tish MacInnes.

MacInnes praises the students, "They are really something. I didn't expect to get this much from them."
The Head Teacher stated there is a "special sense of pride" in the students referring to their enthusiasm. "All of the kids are motivated. They are all ready to go."

While the emphasis of the program is educational, there is also personal and professional counseling. Eight of the eighteen enrolled in the program are currently working in various jobs. In May, an additional eight will be assigned jobs.
According to the teachers of the program, thus far, it has been successful, reporting twelve students will be returning to the public school system in the fall.

Three Alarm Fire Strikes The Schrafft Center

by Marianne Martin

An early morning three alarm fire, which lasted six hours, erupted on Friday, April 26, 1985 at The Schrafft's Center in Sullivan Square. The cause of the fire is being investigated by the Arson Squad.

The fire, which broke out at 5:30 a.m. on the sixth floor of the facility, is of "suspicious" nature, according to a Boston Firefighter.

The spokesman stated the fire may have been caused by acetylene, a colorless gas used in metal cutting and welding, for the torches being used in the demolition. Tanks of the gas were found on the floor.

The facility, which once served as a candy factory, is currently under renovation by the new owner, The Flatley Company. The building is in the process of becoming a multi-use high technology center.

Chuck Reilly, Industrial Leasing Agent for The Flatley Company, reports no structural damage to the building, stating the only damage was to the debris from the demolition.

"All the fire did was to create a nuisance and make a mess," stated Reilly.

According to Reilly, the renovations will not be delayed as a result of the blaze and no damage was reported by tenants of the building.

Complaints Of Unfair Ticketing

Councillor Travaglini promised that he would seek the dismissal of the improperly issued tickets, provided those tickets are turned over to him via the Task Force.

While there was some discussion about changing the direction of Walford Way, the audience generally agreed that the best step was to see what reaction residents have when new signs indicate the existing legal direction of the street.

In order to change the direction of a street, a petition signed by at least 51% of the affected residents must be submitted in support of a proposed change. If there are no problems after a 60 day trial, such a change becomes permanent.

On another issue, O'Loughlin stated that tickets will not be dismissed for those residents cited for parking along the yellow lines that indicate loading zones. When the faded conditions of these lines were described, O'Loughlin said that he would instruct local BHA management to repaint them. Whereas parking along these lines blocks dumpster pick-ups and emergency vehicle access, violators may have their cars towed.

The Task Force encourages any resident who was ticketed for parking in the wrong direction on Walford Way, to bring evidence of their citation to the Task Force office by Friday, May 10th at 5:00 p.m. Such evidence may include the parking ticket, an overdue violation notice, or anything else indicating the relevant ticket member and registration member of the affected car. The Task Force will turn the collected tickets over to Councillor Travaglini's office so they may be properly dismissed through a Traffic and Parking Department appeal hearing. The Task Force office is at 76 Monument Street.

Dr. Lonnie Carton for PERC

PERC is the Parent Education Resource Center developed by School Volunteers for Boston to address issues of concern to parents by providing a central information bank, public forums, workshops, and training courses for parents. Media personality, Dr. Lonnie Carton of "The Learning Center," a trusted authority on family relationships, is the expert advisor of the PERC program. She authors PERC columns for weekly newspapers and provides taped messages on parenting issues on the PERC hotline, 451-1151.

DR. LONNIE CARTON

Johnny's teacher saw him throw a crayon at Carmelita. Betty didn't do her homework and she tried to cover it up by copying the answers from a classmate's paper. Tony was caught smoking in the school lavatory.

Misbehaving youngsters should be promptly and firmly reprimanded BUT once the punishment has been meted out, the incident should be considered settled, paid in full...with no carry over charges. The adult doing the punishing should carefully explain to the wrongdoer that his or her slate is now clean...and no grudges will be held. Simple and logical as this sounds, it rarely happens. Either the young person isn't told what's done is done...and his or her misbehavior will no longer be held against him...OR, the teacher or parent doing the punishing is too small to forgive and forget.

A good memory isn't an asset when it's used as a punishing tool. Intentionally or unintentionally, countless numbers of adults simply can't let go: Their memories are too long and their patience too short. Let a child act up once or twice and he or she is automatically labeled as troublesome, or even impossible, to deal with. Once having developed this attitude about the child, the accuser lies in wait to PROVE the youngster can't be trusted to act any better. What the child DOES is never separated from what he or she IS...for the most part, a decent boy or girl needs affection, understanding and approval to behave more appropriately. Having made up their minds that crayon-throwing Johnny is hyperactive, homework-copying Betty is a chronic cheat, and cigarette-smoking Tony is on the road to being a juvenile delinquent, the adults communicate these expectations to the very children who deserve to be given a fresh start.

When something is over, it should be ended, and a new beginning allowed to emerge. No matter what misbehavior a child is guilty of, he or she should be taught two important lessons...1) that although his behavior is unacceptable and must be punished, he (or she) himself is still a loved and lovable person capable of learning from his mistakes and acting more appropriately, and 2) that once he or she has been reprimanded for the offense, no grudges will be held and the slate is clean for the youngster to start over again.

Boston parents are invited to attend Dr. Lonnie Carton's talks with public school parents. Call School Volunteers for Boston at 451-6145 to learn about available dates or to request Dr. Lonnie Carton to visit your school's parent group.

Ted & Son Challenge Is Risky

by J.J. Smith

Despite "on the record" disclaimers, Senator Ted Kennedy and his son, Edward Jr., obviously are seriously considering the younger Kennedy's immediate immersion into Massachusetts political waters.

No other conclusion is possible given the trial balloons launched both here and in Washington in recent weeks about Edward Jr.'s possible run for retiring House Speaker "Tip" O'Neill's seat - the same seat once held by the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

At least one survey of voters in the 8th District, conducted by Boston pollster Tom Kiley, suggests strongly that Ted Jr. will impact heavily on the race if he does jump in. The poll, one source said, shows young Ted near the front in a multi-candidate race.

Both Kennedys must weigh considerations that extend far beyond the 8th District before any final decision to run is made. Entrance in the race to succeed "Tip" O'Neill could be fraught with risks for each - a loss could affect Senator Kennedy's presidential prospects for 1988 while prematurely blemishing young Ted's political appeal.

Without question, here in Massachusetts, the Kennedy name possesses magic. In a multi-candidate race, however, particularly in the 8th District, that magic could be dissipated by the very variety of the field - and a talented and highly visible Italo-American candidate could send the whole field of mainly Irish Catholic political hopefuls reeling. Senator Michael LoPresti of Boston is just such a candidate.

It's not given, of course, that Ted Jr. will run for Congress - he's considering other possibilities, including the state senate seat now held by Sen. George Bachrach (D-Watertown), who is among those who want to succeed O'Neill.

If Ted Jr. runs and loses, the rest of the country will truly wonder about Ted Sr.'s clout in his own backyard, and that could hurt if he still cherishes the presidential dream.

"Tip" O'Neill's seat is drawing the attention of nearly a dozen top political names, including Democratic state party legal representative James Roosevelt, ex-Rep. Mel King, the first black mayoralty finalist in Boston's history, and state Reps. Thomas Gallagher, William Galvin, Sandra Graham and Tom Valley.

If Ted Jr. does run, he's got a lot going for him, and, from this distance, the race probably would boil down to a two-man contest between him and Senator LoPresti. LoPresti, as the only Italo-American in the contest, and with prior exposure at the ballot box, would amass heavy totals in Italo-American strongholds like East Boston, Cambridge and the North End as well as from similar enclaves in the other communities comprising the district.

Young Ted is energetic, articulate and courageous, and has done inspirational work for the physically handicapped. But he's also very young and politically inexperienced - he would barely be old enough at 25 to qualify to serve in Congress if he ran and won.

SOME BIG-NAME DEMOCRATS may surface in the next revelations of corruption from the office of U.S. Atty. William Weld, including those of a former state senator and a onetime intimate aide to one of the country's top political figures. Location of the alleged scam is a major private development in Chelsea, and the charges will include heavy theft of services from a state agency.

Sullivan Square Underpass To Remain Closed Indefinitely

The Sullivan Square Underpass, which has been closed since February 9, 1985 due to the repeated icy conditions experienced during the winter months, will remain closed until the cause of the problem has been determined.

Commissioner of the City of Boston Department of Public Works, Joseph Casazza reported the closure of the underpass has posed no major problem to the traffic of the area, thus he has decided to leave the access closed while the Boston Water and Sewer Commission investigates the drainage system under the roadway.

Casazza also reported the city has signed a contract with Hayden-Wegman, an engineering firm, who will check the construction of the tunnel for defects.

"After both are finished, and the work is done, we will give it back to the public," stated Casazza, however, the Commissioner did not state when the work would be completed.

Perhaps you sent a spiritual enrollment,
Or sat quietly in a chair,
Perhaps you sent a floral piece,
If so, we saw it there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words,
As any friend could say.
Perhaps you were not there at all
Just thought of us that day.

Whatever you did to console our hearts,
We thank you so much, whatever the part.

Six-Cent "Old Ironsides" Envelope To Be Issued May 3rd

A first day of issue ceremony for a new six-cent embossed stamp envelope featuring the famed frigate U.S.S. Constitution, will be held in the Charlestown Navy Yard on Friday, May 3, 1985 at 11:00 a.m.

The envelope meets the new minimum per-piece third class rate for bulk mailings by authorized nonprofit organizations.

Stephen E. Miller, Assistant Postmaster General, Department of the Controller, will be the principal speaker at the ceremony to be held adjacent to the Constitution's berth in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Collectors can obtain first day cancellations of the new envelope at a special postal unit which will operate from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. in the Constitution Museum and at the Philatelic Unit at the John W. McCormack Post Office at Milk and Devonshire Streets, Boston.

"Old Ironsides" won more battles than any other early American warship. She was built in 1797 at a cost of $302,719, including her 44 guns and equipment and copper bottom sheathing by Paul Revere. The vessel gained lasting fame during the War of 1812 when she eluded the British squadron for 60 hours in one skirmish, wrecked the frigate Guerriere in only 30 minutes in another engagement and captured the frigate Java, two sloops of war and several other prizes in separate encounters.

"Old Ironsides" received her nickname because her staunch oak hull received little damage in those actions. Nevertheless, she was condemned as unseaworthy and scheduled to be broken up in 1828 when Oliver Wendell Holmes Sr.'s poem, "Old Ironsides," aroused public sentiment to save her. The fully restored ship is now moored in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

The design and typography for the "Old Ironsides" envelope were prepared by Cal Sacks of Hilton Head Island, South Carolina.

SEVENTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF ARMENOCIDE

In between columns, on April 24th, our Armenian friends observed the 70th anniversary of the infamous Armenian Genocide, perpetrated by the Turkish government, which took the lives of 1,500,000. Families and friends marked this tragic blot on the history of mankind by prayerfully remembering, and those with businesses closed.

There is no way one can come even close - with words - in paying homage to the memory of those so mercilessly slaughtered; whose only crime was that they were Christians! The massacre, which took these innocent lives in 1915, was the forerunner of too many other holocausts, yet man's inhumanity to man seemingly ever continues. Ross Vartian, Director of the Armenian Assembly of America, has been quoted in the Congressional Record (in a letter to Brookline's "Facing History and Ourselves Resource Center") as saying, "Prevention of future tragedies like the Holocaust and the Armenian Genocide lies in educating young people about the two events and about the dangers of indifference." In that spirit, the Resource Center has developed a curriculum on these subjects which is being used by schools in Brookline and elsewhere around the country. Enough can't be said!

Beyond the Genocide, others fervently strive to preserve Armenian history and culture. SAVE (Salute Armenian's Valiant Existence) is one such group that accomplishes this through the photograph, and is under the direction of Ruth Thomasian, Historian, of Melrose. In the forefront of all such endeavors, however, are the Armenian Mekhitarist Fathers of Venice and Vienna, whose historical and continuing valuable service to the cause of Armenia is known throughout

Survivors Of World War II Naval Tragedy Hold Reunion At National Park

On May 3, 1945 the destroyer USS Little, was on radar picket duty at Okinawa to provide early warning of incoming raids. Being so separated from the fleet, picket duty was one of the most hazardous and nerve wracking duties of the war. The USS Little suffered mortal wounds at the hands of kamikaze aircraft that fateful day of 40 years ago.

Former State Senator and former crewmember Oliver Ames, and Boston National Historical Park Superintendent John Burchill, have announced that the officers and men of Destroyer DD803 USS Little will hold a reunion at the Charlestown Navy Yard on May 4th. The former crew mates will be hosted by the USS Cassin Young Association who will provide nostalgic tours of their ship, an exhibit at the Navy Yard Park.

The ex-USS Cassin Young also performed destroyer picket duty at Okinawa, but on May 3rd was undergoing repairs from her first kamikaze hit at Okinawa. She returned to Okinawa, but on July 30 she suffered a second and more disastrous hit that was to also end her World War II service.

The USS Little was named for Captain George Little of Marshfield, 1754 - 1809, a U.S. Naval hero from the earliest days of the Service. Captain Little's career was contemporary with the founding of the Charlestown Navy Yard in 1800.

Save The Date

The Charlestown Citizens for Rational Development (CCRD) will hold a meeting of community interest on Thursday evening, May 16th at 7:30 p.m. The location of the meeting will be announced in next week's Patriot.

Among the topics to be discussed will be traffic and parking in Charlestown with Lisa Chapnick, Commissioner of Traffic and Parking for the City of Boston.

Massport Commits $1,000 In Scholarships To Charlestown High School

Massport Executive Director David W. Davis has announced that the Authority has once again committed $1,000 in scholarships to Charlestown High School.

Davis said, "Massport is pleased to once again assist Charlestown High School students with scholarships to help further their all important education."

According to Davis, these scholarships can be divided into any amounts. The only restrictions are that students use the funds to tuition, books or required fees.

Davis added that Massport has delegated the responsibility of student selection for these scholarships to the school's headmaster and faculty committee. He noted that selection should be made on the basis of need and scholastic achievement.

Students And Host Families Sought For Student Exchange Program

The American International Youth Student Exchange Program is a non-profit high school foreign exchange program in the United States, Europe and other countries. AIYSEP believes a greater international understanding is accomplished among people and countries through cultural and home stay programs. It offers qualified students a chance to spend a summer or school year with a host family in America or abroad.

At present, American host families are being sought for 25 students from high schools in Europe and other foreign countries for the 1985-86 school year. Students will arrive in the United States in late August 1985, attend the local school and return home in late June 1986. The students, all fluent in English, have been screened by their school counselors in their home country and will receive medical insurance and some spending money.

Host families are also being sought for 25 European and foreign students, ages 16 and 17, for a duration of four weeks in the summer of 1985. American families with small children are welcome to participate in both programs. All families hosting a student for the school year can deduct $50.00 a month for income tax purposes.

AIYSEP is also seeking American High School students, ages 15-19 who would like to spend a high school year with a European family or to participate in a four week family stay in Europe in the summer of 1985. Students are screened by AIYSEP school counselors and educators in the local schools. Candidates who have evidence of maturity, superior character and knowledge of the English and foreign language can be finalists and become AIYSEP students.

Interested students and families are asked to please contact the AIYSEP International Headquarters, Office of the Director, 200 Round Hill Road, Tiburon, CA 94920. Call collect to 415/435-4049 or the local area counselor, Linda Jowett, 59 Forest Avenue, Southbridge, MA 01550, 617/764-4749.

the world. They are present locally in the person of Father Luke B. Arakelian, Pastor of Holy Cross Armenian Catholic Church in Harvard Square. Additionally, Father Luke serves as Chancellor of the Mekhitarists. On a personal note, we are extremely proud to inform that he honorarily baptized (in name only) this Irishman as "Garrabed Rossian" within the past month, and we were extremely privileged to be present at the High Mass, Commemorative Services and Dinner that marked the sad occasion of the anniversary of the Armenocide.

Under Father Luke's guidance, modern-day Armenians are striving to erect a four-floor Library, Museum and Monastery at their present church site. When it come to fruition, as it most certainly will, this Center will be available to all...and will forever serve as a visible reminder of Armenia's massive Christian Martyrdom.

SUSPICIONS CONFIRMED, SOMEWHAT...

While motoring on the South Shore recently, my radio dial chanced upon what was described as a "satellite talk show," hosted by an Ed Burns from the mid-West. His guest, Dr. Solomon (from wherever), was discussing his new book, "Exercise is a Myth," and up perked my ears.

Having lost a best friend over a week after an initial heart attack, which included "stress tests and exercise" before his hospital release, as well as personally witnessing the death of a "just over 40" jogger in Charlestown, my thinking process has always subconsciously questioned the propriety of strenuous exercise by those who otherwise lead a moderately sedentary existence and/or especially those with a known history of heart problems, or related disease.

Dr. Solomon emphasized that exercising makes one fit, but shouldn't be confused with the notion that it necessarily makes one healthier. One has nothing to do with the other! Among his supported statistics is that 1 in 3,000 dies while in the process of a supervised stress test, while 1 in 7,600 succumbs while in the actual practice of "jogging." This supports a theory many probably share with me — don't push your tired old carcass too far in the name of exercise, and exercise (no pun intended) a lot of discretion in the whole area of physical fitness. Those are startling figures when you appreciate there are "50 million joggers, or a combined 90 million people in some kind of prescribed or un-prescribed health training program."

At the risk of incurring the wrath of the medical profession, Jane Fonda, Raquel Welch and the sneaker industry, I'm going to procure a copy of "Exercise is a Myth" from a local bookstore or the library and read it as I WALK around Castle Island each day on my lunch hour. Join me!!!

A PUZZLE THAT'S "FOR THE BIRDS"...

A Whitman reader has sent along five questions, knowing full well that our intelligent readership and/or members of the Audubon Society will have no trouble with them. Give it a try:

1. In bowling, what's three strikes in a row?
2. In baseball, what's tapping the ball strategically?
3. In golf, what's two below par on a hole?
4. In sailing, what's a sail used in a light wind? (Are you listening, Harry McDonough?)
5. In chess, what's another name for the castle?

Clue: If your answers are correct, you'll fully understand the headline.

Post answers on the back of a postcard and mail to P.O. Box 133, South Boston, MA 02127-0133. Out-of-towners and out-of-staters welcome!

Charlestown High Students Attend Word Processing Seminar

Word processing is part of the new wave in office automation, and 19 business students from Charlestown High School recently received instruction on some basic concepts and a hands-on demonstration of word processing at Liberty Mutual Insurance Company's Home Office in Boston. Two seminars, run by Marilyn Iovine, Supervisor of Liberty Mutual's Career Center, featured a 15-minute slide presentation entitled, "Concepts of Word Processing" which dealt with the beginnings of word processing, duties of word processing employees, and described the hardware and software used with word processors.

The word processing program, offered as part of the ongoing CHS-Liberty Mutual Partnership program, allowed the students to get some hands-on training and Charlestown High business teacher, Terry Feeney, hopes that it will also generate more interest in a word processing program that is being planned at CHS for next fall.

Feeney, who escorted the two groups of students to the seminars, said, "There's a lot of interest in computers at Charlestown High, and there is a need for computer training. The students really didn't know what word processing was about, but through Liberty Mutual's program, they now possess some basic information."

During the hands-on demonstration, the students were introduced to the word processors by a 20-minute introduction program that appears on the display screen and instructs the user on how to operate and locate the function keys on the keyboard. The students then performed tasks, as directed by the introduction program, that they would encounter if they were actually using the word processors in a business environment.

Three of the CHS students had prior exposure to word processors through their work study jobs at Liberty Mutual. The students, Pam Boyden, Kelly Fitzgerald, and Joyce Mason, perform clerical duties in the Company's Message Center, the Premium Auditing Department, and in various departments within the company. Another student, Cindy Sealy, worked at Liberty Mutual last summer through the Boston Summer Jobs Program.

"I decided to get involved in business courses and computers because I figured that if I go into a job I'd have some knowledge and a little bit of experience. It will also help me in writing term papers," said the college-bound Sealy, who is waiting on an acceptance from Emmanuel College. "This program has given me a better understanding of word processing -- much better than I had before."

Iovine stressed the need for students to concentrate on basic English skills if they intend to use word processors correctly and efficiently.

"When you sit down behind a keyboard you're going to find that you need the good basic language skills - spelling and grammar - and students should concentrate on these areas," Iovine said. "After all, the equipment is only as good as the people who use it."

Finnegan To Present A Four-Part Series On Ireland

On Saturday, May 4 at 7:00 p.m., WNEV-TV's "Weekend With Dave Finnegan" will begin its four-part series on Ireland. "Weekend" recently traveled to Belfast and Dublin to tape the series about the conflicts and controversies of Northern Ireland.

Part One of this series will present an historical overview of Ireland and will detail the struggle with Great Britain. Featured on this show will be John Hume, moderate Catholic politician and the only Irish politician in the British Parliament; Andy Tyrrie, leader of the Protestant paramilitary group, the Ulster Defense League; and Jerry Adams, head of the radical Catholic political organization, Sinn Feinn, who is considered by some the covert leader of the illegal Irish Republic Army. "Weekend" also will take a look at the development of the conflicts in the early 20th century, to the 1969 Belfast riots, up to the present. Finnegan will talk with Una Higgins O'Malley, daughter of Kevin O'Higgins, the Minister for Justice who was murdered in 1927 during a resurgence of anti-British feelings, and Austin Currie, who worked closely with Bernadette Devlin during the Belfast riots of 1969, and the coordinator of a peaceful march in 1972 which turned into a riot, named "Bloody Sunday."

"Weekend With Dave Finnegan" airs Saturdays from 7:00 to 7:30 p.m. and Sundays from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Channel 7.

Constitution Properties Is Major Sponsor Of Boys And Girls Club Road Race

Constitution Properties, 227A Bunker Hill Street, is the major sponsor for the annual Charlestown Boys and Girls Club road race. According to Greg Leonard, President of Constitution Properties, "We're pleased to sponsor this year's race. The Charlestown Boys and Girls Club provides wholesome activities for youngsters in a pleasant environment and we're proud to support this important part of our community."

If you love the thrill of competition, you'll be happy to know plans are now underway for the annual road race to be held on Sunday, June 16th, before the start of the Bunker Hill Day Parade. No experience is necessary to join in the fun. All that is needed is a pair of sneakers, a competitive spirit and the motivation to try. In order to run, you'll have to register. But to watch, you just have to show up anywhere along the route and cheer on the runners.

Two races are planned again this year. For the runner of modest athletic ability, the chance to compete will be in the two mile novice run, starting at 9:00 a.m. Registration for the novice race is $5.00 and entrants will assemble at the Clubhouse, 15 Green Street, at 8:30 a.m.

For the more seasoned runner, a 10K T.A.C. Certified Race will begin at 10:00 a.m. Named The Battle of Bunker Hill to reflect the difficult course through the streets of Charlestown, this race has been designated by running professionals as THE TOUGHEST 10K IN BOSTON! Runners for the 10K race will meet at the Clubhouse at 9:30 a.m. At the sound of the starting gun, entrants follow a course that will traverse the streets of historic Charlestown and end on Austin Street at the Bunker Hill Mall. The 10K registration fee is $5.00 per runner, teams of five, $25.00. All registrants will receive a T-shirt.

Post race ceremonies at the Clubhouse will begin when all runners have crossed the finish line. Trophies will be awarded to men and women in several categories. To date, trophies have been donated by the City of Boston, Sawyer Funeral Home, Carr Funeral Home, Wizard Ice Cream, Reading Trophy & Shirt, Blowup Hair Design, Charlestown Jewelers, Tuttle Cleaners, Charlestown Vision Associates, Kerrigan's Flower Shop, Boston Police Department, Murphy & Turnbull Funeral Home, Video 12, The Print Stop, AFA Alarm Co., Everett Square Sporting Goods, Gibson Realty, Jenny's Pizza Parlor, City Square Shell, James Collins Memorial, Harry's Hardware, and Store 24.

The race committee is co-chaired by Clubhouse Executive Board members Denny Borden and Rob Ferris. Other Board members on the committee are Jerry Driscoll, Chris Haughey, Bernie Tuttle, Debbie Leonard, John McCullough, Ginny McGonagle, Kim Wright, Mike McHugh, Phil Carr, and Norita Lee. Rounding out the race committee are Paul Jackson and Tom King of the Clubhouse staff and community volunteers Marcia Brooks, Bill Lane, Liz Mansueti, Bill Stievater, Jay Parsons, Robin Donahue, and Leslie Dennis.

Proceeds will support programs and activities at the Charlestown Clubhouse which provides over one thousand boys and girls between six and 18 years of age with educational, physical and social development through a variety of programs and activities.

Volunteers are still needed for the day of the race. If you have a few hours to spare, call the Clubhouse for details. Entry forms for both races are available at the Clubhouse, 15 Green Street, Charlestown. For information, call Clubhouse Director Tom King at 242-1775.

The Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) announces that Ms. Edith Netter, nationally known expert in the area of land use law, zoning, and development has joined the staff as Assistant Director for Land Use and Environmental Policy.

BRA Director Stephen Coyle said, "Netter is an attorney with a strong planning background, and she will make an excellent addition to our staff. The BRA is currently engaged in a large number of land use planning initiatives, both in the downtown area and in the neighborhoods. Many of these projects will include the drafting of zoning amendments, supervision of land use plans, consultation, and recommendations to the Zoning Commission. Netter is a recognized expert in all the aspects of land use regulation and will be invaluable in developing and drafting land use policy for Boston."

Before coming to the BRA, Netter was attorney at Robinson & Cole of Hartford, Connecticut, representing both developers and municipalities in the land use area. Previously she worked for the American Planning Association, which is a national organization of planners, as a staff attorney and the editor of Land Use Law & Zoning Digest.

Charlestown Police Line

From the desk of Deputy Superintendent Ronald X. Conway
Commanding Officer, Area A
Charlestown, Downtown, East Boston, Beacon Hill

On April 18, 1985 at 4:14 a.m., Police Officers responded to a radio call for an alarm sounding at the Gibbs Gas Station on Cambridge Street. On arrival, the officers found the front door and frame forced inward and the interior ransacked. The suspects had fled the scene prior to the arrival of the police. A search of the area failed to uncover a trace of the perpetrators. The manager of the station was notified and responded to secure the premises. The manager informed the officers that three cartons of cigarettes were missing. No other property was reported missing at that time.

On April 18, 1985 at 8:30 p.m., a Police Officer responded to the rear of 66 Spice Street. On arrival, the officer observed three males exiting from a motor vehicle. Two of the males fled on foot while the third suspect was apprehended. After checking the vehicle, the officer observed that the ignition had been damaged. The officer also found two screwdrivers in the vehicle. The suspect, a 15 year old Somerville resident, was placed under arrest for attempted larceny of a motor vehicle and conveyed to Area A. The two suspects who fled have been identified and complaints will be sought in Charlestown District Court.

On April 21, 1985 at 1:28 a.m., an Officer responded to Medford Street on a vandalism report. On arrival, the officer spoke to a woman who stated that witnesses had observed a white male punch her living room window in an attempt to break the window. When the suspect was unsuccessful in this attempt, he picked up a tin ash barrel and used this to smash the window. The victim and witnesses were able to identify the suspect as a Charlestown resident. The victim was advised to seek complaints at Charlestown District Court for willful and malicious destruction of property.

On April 21, 1985 at 9:55 a.m., Police Officers responded to City Square for an armed robbery report. On arrival, the officers spoke to a man who stated that while inside his motor vehicle and parked at City Square, a male suspect opened the door, put a knife to the victim's throat, and told him to get out of the vehicle. The suspect then fled in the victim's vehicle toward the Constitution Marina. The victim furnished the officers with a description of the suspect. This incident is currently under investigation by the Detectives of Area A.

On April 22, 1985, a Charlestown resident reported that while her bicycle was parked on Green Street, it was stolen by person(s) unknown. The bicycle is a red and silver, ten speed, with black handle bars. At this time, there are no witnesses to the incident.

On April 22, 1985 at 8:09 p.m., a Police Officer observed a motor vehicle in the Edwards School Yard with the lights on an engine running. A check on the vehicle revealed that the vehicle had been reported stolen in Somerville on this same date. At this time, an unidentified witness approached the officer, stating that two males had just exited the vehicle and fled up Eden Street. The witness gave the officer a description of the suspects and a search of the area was conducted. One of the suspects was observed at the corner of Eden and Russell Streets and placed under arrest. The suspect, a 16 year old Somerville resident, was transported to Area A and booked for larceny of a motor vehicle.

On April 22, 1985 at 9:25 p.m., Police Officers observed two males sitting inside a motor vehicle on Water Street. A further check on the vehicle revealed that the vehicle had been reported stolen from Somerville. The officers arrested one suspect while the other suspect fled on foot. The first suspect, identified as a 17 year old Charlestown resident, was transported to Area A and booked for larceny of a motor vehicle and possession of burglary tools. The identity of the second suspect is known to the officers and complaints will be sought in Charlestown District Court.
