Nancy Brannon Disappearance

On the afternoon of November 25, 1986, Carl Brannon reported that his daughter Nancy Brannon was missing. Shrewsbury Officers responded to 7594 Watson Road and met with Mr. Brannon. Mr. Brannon reported that Nancy Brannon was last seen around 12:30 a.m. on November 25, 1986, when she left the Half Time Saloon in St. Louis City. Nancy Brannon's purse was found outside her apartment in the bushes by a resident of the apartment complex. Nancy Brannon's vehicle was found parked and locked in the parking lot of the apartment complex. Her apartment was searched and nothing appeared to be out of order. Several people she was last seen with were interviewed and no leads were developed. The resident that found the purse was interviewed and she showed officers where the purse was located. There was nothing missing from Nancy Brannon's purse.

Nancy Brannon's friends, co-workers, acquaintances, and neighbors were interviewed during the investigation and no leads were developed. During the interviews of close friends and co-workers, each of them told police that Nancy Brannon never spoke of having a boyfriend, nor was she ever seen with anyone they would consider a boyfriend.

During the investigation, several unidentified female bodies were located in Missouri and surrounding states. Through dental record comparisons, it was determined Nancy Brannon was not among them.

In 2010 Detectives of the Shrewsbury Police Department re-opened the case and several people who were interviewed in 1986 were re-interviewed in hopes of developing new leads. No new leads were developed. DNA was collected from all surviving family members and submitted to the National Missing Persons Program to be compared against all known unidentified DNA submissions. No DNA hits have been developed as of this time.

As of 12/11/2023, this is still an open and unsolved case. All leads that are developed will be investigated.
