★ CANA Update — The need for additional police protection in City Square during the Central Artery/North Area (CANA) project was expressed at a Public Safety/Police Community Relations meeting on Oct. 8 and was the subject of an article in last week's Patriot. As a result, requests were made for the return of adequate police coverage in the construction area for pedestrians and vehicles. CANA Coordinator Ed Barr has reported that "during the last month, after monitoring and analyzing the situation and listening to the community's concerns, the Department (Massachusetts Department of Public Works) determined that two locations warrant police officers during the peak commuting hours."

Barr stated: "As standard practice each summer, the number of police officers stationed at the CANA construction site were reduced because of a 25 percent decrease in traffic. At the same time," he added, "the department installed pedestrian activated signal lights. The signalization and reconfiguration of City Square, as expected, enhanced public safety and traffic flow."

This statement is contrary to complaints heard at the Oct. 8 meeting, complaints not valid according to Barr when asked for comment last week. Residents voiced concerns on the difficulty pedestrians, including tourists walking the Freedom Trail, found when trying to cross City Square. These residents stated that the new signalization was not an adequate alternative to a police detail in the construction area.

Stephen Collins, community liaison for the Central Artery/Tunnel (CA/T) project, stated: "I am pleased to announce that as of Oct. 15 additional officers will be stationed at the intersection of Henley and Main streets and at the crosswalk by Harvard Street in City Square." He said that these details were in response to concerns raised by the Charlestown Neighborhood Council Public Safety Committee.

Collins added: "When the Water Street on-ramp is used, which will be almost daily, two more officers will be employed. One officer will be assigned to the intersection of Water and Gray streets, and the other officer will be at the Water Street on-ramp."

Barr stated that the traffic and pedestrian pattern is scheduled to change at the end of November with the construction on Warren Street. At that time, the replacement of Gray Street with the extension of Warren Street will provide for even further improved pedestrian connections, according to Barr.

The return of two police details and the addition of two others while the new construction phase of the project continues was taken as good news by Judy Evers, community liaison for the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, who has been receiving daily telephone calls from concerned residents on this issue. She stated that Collins is scheduled to come before the Neighborhood Council at its November monthly meeting with an update on safety issues relative to the CANA project.

★ Neighborhood Council Election Oct. 26 — The Charlestown Neighborhood Council will hold an election for precinct representation on Saturday, Oct. 26 between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the Kennedy Center's Senior Lounge, 55 Bunker Hill St.

At stake are seven seats representing the seven Charlestown precincts. Included in the race to fill the seats are four incumbents, one newcomer and a former council member. No candidates have returned nomination papers for Precincts 1 and 4.

'Kids Advertising Competition' Participants Honored At City Hall

tional assistant at the Boys & Girls Club, Kim Weafer, Erin McDonough, Helena Reilly, Christine Locke, Rosetta Cannizzaro, Kelly Gilgunn, Corey Gallagher and Mayor Flynn.

Seven young people from the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club were among 80 honored at Boston City Hall recently for their contributions to the "Kids Advertising Competition," a program designed to teach young people how to use advertising techniques to communicate positive messages to their peers.

The youths from Charlestown, Helena Reilly, Rosetta Cannizzaro, Erin McDonough, Kelly Gilgunn, Christine Locke, Kim Weafer and Corey Gallagher, met with Mayor Raymond L. Flynn and received awards for their efforts.

The winning campaign — "Stay In School/Stay Out of Gangs," was produced by the Roxbury Clubhouse and began appearing on television, radio, newspapers and rapid transit lines on Oct. 1.

Director of Boston's Safe Neighborhoods Program Ted Landsmark, who presented the certificates of recognition to the youths, said: "Kids in Advertising" is an ideal example of how the business community can get directly involved in the lives of Boston's young people. Through their contribution of time, financial and technical assistance and professional expertise, Bronner Slosberg Humphrey has shown these young people that their ideas are not only worthwhile but can make a difference.

The Charlestown Preservation Society 1991-92 Music Series

At the urging of our subscribers, we are resuming our original custom of presenting concerts in private houses whenever possible. For this our 14th season, two of our concerts will be so sited. We are proud to present Charlestown audiences with consistently memorable evenings of fine classical music. We encourage you to subscribe early as seating in homes limits the number of tickets we can offer to 100.

• Janice Weber, Piano — Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 23 and 24, 8 p.m. at a Charlestown residence

Janice Weber first appeared at our concerts as a stand-in for an indisposed member of "The Gang of Four" piano eight-hands crew. On 24-hour notice, she learned the Liszt Don Juan Fantasy, a real knuckle buster, and played it thrillingly with Virginia Eskin. Acknowledged here and in England as a leading interpreter of Liszt's piano oeuvre and infamous as the author of lascivious mysteries, Weber is a force of nature.

• Esterhazy Baryton Trio — Thursday, March 19, 1:30 p.m. at St. John's Church

The baryton, a 12-stringed cousin of the viola da gamba, was the favorite instrument of Prince Nicolaus Esterhazy, Josef Haydn's patron. Haydn, himself, wrote 175 works for the instrument, including 125 trios. The Esterhazy Trio, which includes violin and viola, is under the patronage of a present-day Esterhazy princess. We are privileged to offer the sole public appearance by this group in the Boston area this season.

• Nancy Armstrong, Soprano, and Piano Trio — Wednesday and Thursday, April 8 and 9, 8 p.m. at a Charlestown residence

When Beethoven was commissioned to write accompaniments for Scottish and Irish folk songs, he expected to be doing highly remunerative hack work. Upon sending his scores back to his publishers, he wrote that he had devised his new arrangements con amore. We are confident that you will feel the same way about these performances interpreted by Charlestown's internationally renowned diva, Nancy Armstrong, and her friends.

Massport Sponsors Skateboard Program At Charlestown Boys & Girls Club

The Charlestown Boys & Girls Club is developing a unique skateboarding program for area youngsters, thanks to a $3,000 grant from the Massachusetts Port Authority (Massport).

A group of local kids petitioned Massport to provide them with a skateboard park under the Tobin Bridge. Although Massport was unable to permit such a use at the site due to safety concerns, the Authority worked with the group and Neighborhood Council member Peter Looney to pursue other alternatives.

The Charlestown Boys & Girls Club was selected to house the program after submitting a proposal that ensured an organized, supervised and safe program. The Massport donation will fund the construction of a ramp, the purchase of safety helmets, gloves, shin pads and skateboards. The ramp is expected to be completed sometime later this month.

Massport extends special thanks to the following skateboarders who were the original proponents of the idea: Patrick Owens, Jamie Poole, Jasper Britton, Vinnie Tamburello, Bobby Scadding, Paul Allen, Jason Smith, Roger Surette, Tho-

GREGORY A. LEONARD

The Constitution Companies Relocate To The Schrafft Center

The Constitution Companies, founded by Charlestown businessman and life-long resident Gregory A. Leonard, and the Law Offices of John C. Carleen have relocated their headquarters to newly designed office space at The Schrafft Center.

According to Leonard, the move was necessitated by the tremendous growth of both business and personnel and to better accommodate the company's clientele. "The move is a very positive one, not only for this company and our clients, but also for Charlestown," stated Leonard. "We began in this neighborhood, expanded the business here and will begin our most important phase within the Charlestown community," he continued.

The Constitution Companies, a major tenant at the historic Schrafft Center, occupies 6,000-square-feet of first floor space, three times larger than the company's former address on Bunker Hill Street.

The firm is comprised of the following divisions: Constitution Properties, which brokers both residential and commercial real estate; Constitution Financial Group, the mortgage and lending division; and College Financial Planning Services, which offers financial planning assistance and scholarship search to college-bound students.

IF YOU SMOKE

Yes, we know everyone picks on smokers these days, and we know that it's a hard habit to kick, even if you want to. If you do smoke, and if your home is now for sale, making it a temporary smoke-free zone may help it sell more quickly.

Remember that of all the five senses, smell is one of the most powerful. People can walk into an otherwise fabulous house that is exactly what they want, and if it smells like an all-night poker game, we just can't excite them. In fact, all they can think about is getting out into the fresh air. If you do smoke but don't want to use your house as an excuse to quit, keep it aired out. Try to smoke in other places; maybe on your back porch if the weather is good. If it's not, try the garage or taking a drive. Avoid heavily scented room fresheners. Their smell on top of musty smoke can be worse than smoke alone. Wash off walls and consider having your drapes and upholstered furniture professionally cleaned. If you are not ready for Smoke Enders, at least try to end smoke inside your house until it sells.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling a home, talk to the professionals at Monument Properties. Come by our office at 85 Warren St., Charlestown or call us at 241-5900.

Open House For Renovated BHA Building

Residents will get a chance to see firsthand the results of the Boston Housing Authority's modernization efforts on Saturday, Oct. 26, when the first of the completed buildings is opened up. The building, which is at 105 Walford Way and 146 Medford St., will be open from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

This is the first building to be completed under the Comprehensive Modernization Program funded by the U.S. Department of Housing & Urban Development (HUD). The BHA Construction Management Division developed a Force Account Crew made up of Union Craftsmen and Laborers to conduct the work.

Current funding levels provide for the completion of seven buildings. Future funding of the remaining 31 buildings is predicated upon the BHA success in making proposals to HUD. The quality of the work on the first buildings will have a great impact on BHA's proposals to HUD.

Task Force members and BHA officials will be on hand at the open house to answer residents' questions.

St. Francis de Sales School News

• A Surprise . . . The faculty and staff of St. Francis de Sales School and Parish recently had a surprise awaiting Father Daniel Mahoney, pastor. The students and staff were in the first floor corridor awaiting his arrival and as he came down the stairs the students yelled: "Surprise" and sang For He's A Jolly Good Fellow. Representatives of each class presented Father Mahoney with cards made by the students congratulating him on his new appointment as Chief Chaplain of the Boston Fire Department. Father Mahoney thanked the students and staff for their well wishes, cut the sheet cakes and the students joined him for some chocolate cake and juice. Our best wishes are with Father Mahoney on his new responsibilities as Chief Chaplain, B.F.D. We know that he will fulfill his responsibilities with the same zest and zeal he has given to his parish and the fire department in the past.

• A Visit To The Fire Station . . . The students of grades 1, 2 and 3 and their homeroom teachers, Mrs. Bergstrom, Miss Fopiano and Sister Mary Martin, O.P., along with Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Rae and Father Mahoney, visited Engine 32 and Ladder 9 at the Sullivan Square Fire Station during Fire Prevention Week. Lt. Richard Powers and Firefighter David Walsh from the Boston Fire Department Public Relations Office, along with Lt. Dennis Costin and the firefighters assigned to Engine 32 and Ladder 9, gave the students a tour of the firehouse and an educational lesson on what they should and shouldn't do in case of a fire. The students sat in the ladder truck and put on the firefighters' equipment, and were given coloring books. An enjoyable and educational time was had by all. A thank you is extended from the school to the Boston Fire Department Public Relations Office and to the officers and firefighters of Engine 32 and Ladder 9.

• All Day Vigil For Life . . . The entire student body participated in the parish's All Day Vigil For Life at St. Francis de Sales Chapel. The 8th grade class began the Vigil For Life at the 7:30 a.m. opening Mass, participated in the Recitation of the Rosary and Litany and then enjoyed breakfast in the Bishop Lawton Hall. After breakfast, they returned to the chapel for their half-hour vigil. Each class spent a half-hour in the chapel during the day. The Vigil concluded with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

• Catholic High School Awareness Night . . . Students and faculty participated in the Catholic High School Awareness Night on Oct. 10. • Sixth Annual Walk-A-Thon . . . The sixth annual Walk-A-Thon benefit for the school will be held on Sunday, Oct. 20 at 1 p.m. from the Bishop Lawton Hall. The students are seeking sponsors at $1 per mile for the five-mile walk. Please help sponsor the children in their school benefit. All are welcome to join us on our fun-family activity. Registration takes place at 12:45 p.m. The rain date is Oct. 27.

★ Street Reconstruction — Neighborhood Council Chairman Dennis McLaughlin will hold a meeting on Monday, Oct. 21 at 7 p.m. at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill St. to discuss the street reconstruction contracts for 26 Charlestown streets.

McLaughlin stated that personnel from the Boston Redevelopment Authority, Department of Public Works and Office of Capital Planning will address the status of the contracts. He said that residents of the 26 streets scheduled for reconstruction work and the three additional streets wishing to be included in the contracts should attend the meeting to request definitive answers from these city agencies on the proposed contracts.

The public is welcome to attend.

★ Charlestown Cemeteries — The Basic Services Committee of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council will meet Tuesday, Oct. 22 at 7 p.m. at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill St., to discuss the condition of Charlestown's historic cemeteries.

Committee Chairman Peter Looney has invited Parks Department Planner Kathy Kottaridis, garden liaison for the city of Boston, to attend the meeting and address the community's concerns on the condition of the cemeteries on Phipps and Bunker Hill streets.

The public is welcome to attend.

★ Cambridge Street — A fire of suspicious origin caused an estimated $100,000 in damage to the Laidlaw Corporation building at 66 Cambridge St., Charlestown on Tuesday, Oct. 15. Fire apparatus from Cambridge and Somerville assisted seven Boston Fire Department companies to extinguish the blaze discovered at 7 p.m.

Eyewitness reports of seeing a man flee from the area prior to the discovery of the fire were unconfirmed at press time. The Fire Investigation Unit (Arson Squad) is investigating the fire, believed to have started on the first floor of the building where recycled newspaper was stored.

★ Good Grief Program — St. Mary Parish is sponsoring a unique program on Wednesday, Oct. 30 geared toward helping children deal with the death of a friend or having a friend who is terminally ill.

Maria Trozzi from the Judge Baker Children's Center on Longwood Avenue, Boston, will present a workshop for parents, teachers and caring adults describing "Good Grief," and will present four psychological tasks young people must accomplish when a friend or relative dies. An open discussion period will follow. The "Good Grief" program is a preventive mental health effort designed to help schools and community groups become a base of support for children and adolescents. The program is free and open to all adults in the community.

The program will take place in St. Mary lower church between 7 and 9 p.m. For more information, contact Sister Ann Marie at 242-4664.

Headstart And The Community

The Charlestown Headstart/Day Care program has been very busy this past month. The Farmer's Market that takes place every Thursday morning in the facility's front yard has provided local residents with high-quality produce for a good price. The market's last day will be Oct. 31, so if you haven't already checked it out, there are several more market days to do so.

The children's play yard has a few new additions. A preschool slide has been installed along with benches located near the bus stop. These new items are open for community use, but the school is asking the residents to please help take care of the new beautiful yard. Much time and money has gone into making it a nicer place for the community and the program.

The program would also like to thank Boston Police Officers Kelly Tinlin, John Boyle and Mark Flemming for visiting classrooms 2 and 3 on Oct. 4. The children and teachers enjoyed the safety discussions about strangers, walking on the sidewalks, bike riding and Halloween. The children particularly enjoyed the tour in the police cruiser.

Charlestown Residents Participate In Ceremonies Marking Memorial's 10th Anniversary

Under the leadership of Tom Lyons, deputy commissioner of Veterans Services for the city of Boston and chairman of the South Boston Vietnam Memorial Committee, a very successful commemorative dinner was held at the Hynes Veterans Auditorium in Boston with over 1,000 people in attendance.

Observed in the crowd were several "Townies" including: Ronnie Ridings, Jimmy Gallagher, Ronan and Mary FitzPatrick, Tom and Diana White, Steve and Diana Driscoll, Arthur Hurley and Jim Conway.

The dinner was held on the eve of a rededication Mass at St. Bridget Church in South Boston and services at the South Boston Vietnam Memorial, the first memorial to be built in the country. There was an impressive headtable with many previous dedication speakers in attendance.

The guest speaker for the evening was Brig. Gen. Richard Neal, USMC of Persian Gulf War fame and a decorated Vietnam veteran.

Other speakers included: James H. Webb Jr., former Secretary of the U.S. Navy who served as a captain in the U.S. Marine Corps and was the leader of Lyons' platoon in Vietnam; Capt. Richard Stratton, USN (Ret.), a POW for six years in Vietnam; U.S. Senator and a Democratic candidate for President Robert Kerrey, who served with the U.S. Navy Seals in Vietnam and received the Congressional Medal of Honor for his heroism; Michael "Mac" McGarvey, Marine Vietnam veteran who also served in Webb's platoon; Capt. Tom Kelley, USN, a Vietnam Congressional Medal of Honor recipient; Maj. Gen. John J. Sheehan, USMC, a decorated Vietnam veteran who recently served as the Commanding Officer of the U.S. Marine Corps Amphibious Forces in the Persian Gulf War.

Sunday Mass at St. Bridget Church was packed with family and friends of the 25 men from South Boston who were killed in Vietnam. All the Vietnam Gold Star Mothers were escorted down the aisle to reserved seats. Among the mothers was Theresa Peterson, a frequent marcher in the Bunker Hill Day Parade and guest at Bunker Hill Post 26, A.L. when she served as the Legion Auxiliary's Suffolk County Director. She was escorted by Mass. Senate President William Bulger.

Despite drizzling weather, several hundred people attended the rededication at the Vietnam Memorial in M Street Park.

Lyons, his dedicated committee, the veterans, families and friends from South Boston are to be congratulated for this impressive commemorative weekend and their selfless work to never forget the supreme sacrifice made by the 25 men of South Boston who died serving their country in the Vietnam War.

It opened in Boston on Sept. 20, 1989 at the Colonial Theatre, prior to its Broadway opening.

"Grand Hotel," set in 1928 Berlin, is a musical about power and poverty, ballrooms and boardrooms, scandal and romance, swindles and confessions, lust and love, suspense and survival. "Grand Hotel,"

Fate does not always find itself showering gifts upon us, but every so often something happens for which we feel lucky, or perhaps even chosen. Such was the case with me last June when my name was drawn from hundreds of others. I was to be rewarded with a weekend for two on Martha's Vineyard, compliments of a generous sponsor.

The circumstances under which my name was drawn, the organization which sponsored the trip, and the hotel in which I was to stay are not important. What may be significant are the events which transpired during my "free" weekend trip for two.

First of all, let me emphasize that this was no, "You've won a prize!" promotion touting a far-off time sharing endeavor. A person would have to live in Outer Mongolia not to have received a couple of dozen or more of those promises of riches and trips to a tropical paradise. No sir, this was absolutely legit, and I was the lucky benefactor of one absolutely benevolent organization.

While Joe Montana and other well-known NFL quarterbacks were being seen on the small screen shouting proudly, "I'm going to Disney World!", I whispered to all who would listen . . . "I'm going to Martha's Vineyard!", and because I chose to go in the fall, I whispered all summer long.

As my only exposure to Martha's Vineyard was as an assistant baseball coach at Charlestown High School some 20 years ago, I felt the anticipation beginning to build as the days of summer began to wear down toward September. Finally, on Friday, the 27th of the month, my "free" trip was to become reality. With a bit of preliminary planning, I was able to begin my journey shortly after noon.

No sooner had my wife Mary and I settled back for the 80-mile drive to the ferry at Woods Hole when the radio announcer informed us and the rest of his listening audience that a crane had turned over in the South Station tunnel causing traffic both coming into and going out of Boston to come to a virtual standstill. I became aware of this situation as I sat motionless on Rutherford Avenue. By quarter of one I reached City Square, and by one o'clock I had made it to the Boston side of the Charlestown Bridge.

By this time I was beginning to feel a burning sensation running up and down my spinal column, but it seemed to subside a bit as I made my way on to the expressway at North Station. The burning returned, however, as I approached a wall of automobiles, all facing south, and all motionless.

Eventually, but moving only at a snail's pace (was it really that fast?), we were able to work our way through the tunnel. The lingering effects of the accident, though, kept all traffic moving slowly as we drove in a southerly direction toward our destination.

We arrived at Woods Hole somewhere in

The 'Free' Trip

by Charlie McGonagle

the vicinity of three o'clock, some three and one-half hours after leaving Charlestown. I say "in the vicinity of three o'clock" only because the fire in my eyes would not let me see my watch.

Once in the parking area at Woods Hole, I was instructed by one attendant to park in one place, and by another to park elsewhere. Needless to say, this only added to my displeasure. I opted to follow the directions of the second attendant, and backed my car into an available spot. After removing two overnight bags from the trunk, hoisting them over my shoulders, and walk about 30 feet from my car, the attendant caught up to me and asked if I would mind backing my car up another foot or so. I hadn't said a word for more than an hour. I was afraid to, afraid of what I might say, but I did ask the attendant as nicely as my temperament would allow, "What the Hell difference does a foot make?" Feeling a bit foolish, I returned to the car and backed it up a foot. He smiled, I did not.

It was at this point that I first realized that I was not at the ferry landing, but at a parking lot a good four miles from the dock. Like cattle we were marched onto a shuttle bus whose seats were so close to each other I could only sit with my knees stretching into the aisle. This, of course proved to be a severe detriment to all who attempted to walk up the aisle.

It was about a quarter to four when the shuttle pulled into the parking area at the ferry landing, and it was at this point that I discovered that I could have driven my car to the dock and parked here. I mean, it was going to cost me $21 to park four miles away, why not pay the $21 and park at the dock? How the hell was I supposed to know I could park right at the landing? Nobody bothered to tell me.

Soon we were marched, again cattle style, onto the ferry. It was a bit cool, and to combat the chill, I reached for my jacket, the very same one I had left in the trunk of my car some four miles from where I now sat! The weather forecast for the weekend was a chilly one, and I would be forced to face the elements without a jacket.

We enjoyed an event-free (thank goodness!) 45-minute trip across to the Vineyard. Upon arrival, we marched like obedient heifers to the awaiting taxi cabs. Now to me, a taxi cab has always been a four-door, two-seated automobile driven by a friendly person, eager to answer any questions passenger(s) might have. Our driver fit that description perfectly. However, the taxi was a van which would not leave until 13 people, complete with luggage, all going to the same location, were on board. I found myself looking for a giant shoe horn as the last two passengers boarded.

At five-fifteen, some five hours after beginning a journey which should have taken but three, we arrived at a beautiful hotel overlooking the water.

Feeling the worst was over, I decided that a warm shower would help to settle a set of rather frayed nerves. I turned the water to "hot" and placing my hand under the gentle flow, I waited, and waited, and waited. The cold water got only colder and finally I decided that if I was to take a shower it would have to be cold. Mary, who treats even the thought of a cold shower in much the same manner as people of biblical times treated lepers, followed reluctantly. It seems we had no choice.

After drying and dressing quickly, I noticed the message light flashing on my phone. Maybe, I thought, somebody was calling to apologize for the cold water, and to assure me that it would soon be taken care of, but this was certainly not my luckiest of days.

"Mr. McGonagle?", the woman's friendly voice asked.

"Speaking."

"Mr. McGonagle, it seems that we do not have any verification concerning your visit here. You did not supply us with a certificate from _____."

"Nobody told me that I was supposed to present a certificate," I countered.

"Well, Mr. McGonagle, until you do, we are going to have to charge you for the accommodations."

"Charge me for a free trip?"

It was here where I should have complained bitterly about the cold water, but I was shivering too much to do so.

I could straighten this out very easily. All I had to do was phone my contact person and let him explain the situation. Smiling, I lifted the phone to my ear. Frowning I returned it to its cradle. It was well after five o'clock. My contact person's office was closed for the day, and he was away for the weekend.

The message light on my phone flashed again.

"They straightened this mess out," I thought.

"Mr. McGonagle?" This time it was a man's voice.

"Speaking."

"Mr. McGonagle, you did not supply us with a certificate indicating that your accommodations were to be taken care of."

"Excuse me, but I just got this message."

"You did?"

"Yes."

"I am really sorry, but I would just like to remind you that we will have to apply the cost of your accommodations to your charge card before you leave."

It was as though the eyes of every employee of the hotel were focused on me and Mary. I envisioned being wrestled to the ground by Hulk Hogan like behemoths and having my credit card ripped from my wallet and held as ransom until the oh so valuable "certificate" could be placed into proper hands.

Quietly we tiptoed out of the hotel to a nearby restaurant for dinner. We were not accosted. We were grateful for that. Upon returning to the room, we found the bed turned down, and mints placed neatly on the pillow.

"It is the hotel's way of apologizing," I said to Mary.

"Not so fast," she cautioned from the bathroom. The water is still cold, and they took out the bath towels we used earlier."

"That's pretty normal procedure," I returned.

"But they did not replace them with clean towels."

"Now that's pretty abnormal procedure!"

Next morning we suffered the indignity of another cold shower, and were forced to use towels only slightly larger than face cloths, but this was to be the last indignity we would suffer for the remainder of the weekend. Somehow the hotel had become aware of our lack of hot water (it seems we were not the only people so inconvenienced, we were just stupid enough not to complain) and sent maintenance up to solve the problem. New towels were brought to the room, and finally, after returning to our home we were informed on Monday, that my charge card would be credited for the amount we had to pay for our "free" weekend on Martha's Vineyard. I anxiously await the outcome.

Charlestown Chiefs Win Hockey Championship

by Dan Awbrey

After winning its first championship series, the Chiefs were eagerly awaiting the second half of another season. With the sweet taste of victory still with the team, they still wanted more. Going through a tiring schedule with a record of 8-2, playoffs were just around the corner.

Two games were played in one night at the Kosabuski Rink. Winning the first game 5-3, the Chiefs were in the championship game. Playing the game with pure talent and confidence, the championship was won by the score of 8-3! It was another rewarding season for all members involved.

The Chiefs would like to thank McCarthy Brothers and Ironside Grille (Sweet Potatoe) for their sponsorship and the new "San Jose Sharks" hockey shirts!

It was a great 1991 season!

Huskies Sweep West Peabody

The A Team . . . ran its unbeaten string to six with a 22-6 win over West Peabody. The scoring started with an interception by Steve Howard, capped off with an eight-yard run by Paul Allen. Brian Glinner kicked the point after touchdown. P.J. Eason ran one up the middle five yards for another score. At the half it was 14-0 Huskies. Good defense was turned in by Roger Surette and Billy Getchell.

In the second half, Everett got the insurance they needed when C.J. Farmer ran 25 yards for the T.D. with Scott Sullivan and Shaun Berry doing good jobs on offense. On the last play of the game West Peabody scored on a long run. The final score was 22-6, Everett. Allen was the defensive star again for the A Team.

The B Team . . . increased its record to 5-1. Action started off with a fumble recovery in the end zone for a T.D. by Joey Lawler. Then Robert DiFrummolo scored on a 10-yard run plus caught the pass for the P.A.T. Larry Mulcahy and Bob Yandle did the blocking for DiFrummolo. On Everett's next set of downs, it was not different, DiFrummolo took off outside for 40 yards and another T.D. Helping along the way was Rob Murray. Sean Getchell ran for the P.A.T. but fell short on a good run.

The final was 40-6, Everett and the Huskies keep playoff hopes alive.

The C Team . . . led by Captain Art Cameron, shut out its opponents, and here's the rest of the story . . . Mark Dennebetto and Nick Nazzaro returned interceptions for T.Ds. Shaun Spaulding got the last one on a seven-yard run. Blocking well were Tim Getchell and Jimmy Kane, who also turned in a great game on defense. Everett ran their record to 5-1 and put themselves back in the playoff hunt. Somerville lost to Medford 14-13 to tighten up the G.B.L. race. Everett was victorious 20-0.

The D Team . . . also had it their way, beating West Peabody 21-0. Jeff Jagiello scored on a two-yard run and caught the P.A.T. from Jim Rabideau to open the scoring.

In the second quarter Matt Ryan deflected a pass which turned into a 40-yard T.D. interception by Jagiello. Pressure was put on the quarterback by Derek Surette. The score at the half was 14-0, Everett.

In the second half, David Matthews ran 25-yards for the T.D. lead in to the end-zone by Justin DiFrummolo. The D Team improved their record to 4-2.

On Sunday, Revere will come to Glendale Park and the games begin at 9:15 a.m.

Their families and friends are welcome to join us. We now have 24 altar boys.

• Celtics Tickets — We have 40 tickets now on sale for the Celtics opening game against the Charlotte Hornets on Friday, Nov. 1 at the Boston Garden. The tickets, priced at $17 each, are available at the rectory on a first-come, first-served basis. All ages are welcome.

We will then have dinner and a dance. Last year was our first year taking part in this event, and we are able to take 40 teen-agers this year. The cost is $16 per person, but we only ask each boy or girl to pay $5 and the CYO will pay the rest. If you want to go, you must leave $5 and your name at the rectory by Nov. 10. We also invite our elderly who may wish to receive the Sacrament of the Sick at this time for continued good health in these later years of life. The Mass is being celebrated in the school hall because there are no stairs and there is access for wheelchairs from the Tufts Street entrance. Refreshments will be served.

• CYO Basketball Coaches Meeting — There will be a meeting at St. Catherine Rectory, 49 Vine St. on Wednesday, Oct. 23 at 6:30 p.m. for all men and women who would like to coach CYO boys or girls basketball during the CYO season. This money will be divided in the following way: $600 gift to the Parish, $600 gift to the CYO, $600 gift to St. Catherine School and $600 gift to our girls color guard. We thank you.

• Girls Flag Football . . . On Wednesday, Oct. 2, the Teen Connection began yet another exciting season of girls gridiron action. Four teams will compete for the coveted championship trophy, presently held by the now-defuncted Silver Box team.

Newtowne, last year's runner-up and maybe this year's odds-on favorite at the start, matched up against Main Street in the inaugural contest of '91. The end result was a 6-2 victory by the more experienced Newtowne team. Crafty veteran Michelle Macomber, along with Jess Sweeney, led the way for the victors sporting two touchdowns each. Shannon McLaughlin and Kerry Wadman also contributed scores for Newtowne.

Although Main Street was on the short end of this encounter, they played well and may be a contender at season's end. Helen Scales and Janelle Pappas each had a touchdown to keep this game close.

During part two of the doubleheader, the new and improved Parkies found themselves in a tough matchup with the league's up and coming team of young stars on the Bunker Hill squad. Bunker Hill displayed a well-balanced scoring attack with one T.D. each from Nicole Matson, Courtney McLaughlin, C.J. Fornash and Rachael Britton. Their great effort would not be enough though as the Parkies came up with plenty of offense of their own. Plan B free agent Corey Gallagher, acquired from the disbanded Silver Box, was responsible for four scores to lead the Parkies on to victory. Kolleen (with a "K") Hayes also contributed three and Jodi Neff another to insure the win.

On Oct. 9 during week two, the season unfolded a little further. Game one featured a matchup between Bunker Hill and Main Street. This is only Bunker Hill's second season and Main Street's first and both teams are quickly becoming worthy opponents.

Bunker Hill jumped out to a 2-1 half-time lead on a T.D. run by Matson and a reception by Britton. Helen Scales scored Main Street's first-half touchdown and would add two more later. In the second half, Bunker Hill once again displayed versatility on offense as four players were accountable for five second-half scores. Shawna Pelton lead the way with two and Courtney McLaughlin, Christine Locke and Loreen Jones each crossed the goal line to pave the way to victory. Main Street had a gallant second-half comeback fall short; despite four scoring strikes from Linda Howell. Scales was on the receiving end of two while Amy Buckley and Pappas hauled in one each, but Bunker Hill hung on to move into second place.

Game two was a battle for the top spot between Newtowne and the revamped Parkies. Newtowne received some timely scoring from Macomber who contributed three scores and Shannon McLaughlin another to complete the offense. Sweeney used her on-field savvy to put the Parkies on the scoreboard and Gallagher one-handed a Mary Kay Tkachuck pass for another tally. Although Newtowne came out on top in this meeting, the Parkies should put it together later in the season and make this matchup a great rivalry come playoff time.

The next night of action will be Wednesday, Oct. 23 when the Parkies meet Main Street and Newtowne faces Bunker Hill. Games start at 7:30 p.m. down at the Charlestown High School gym.

Charlestown Co-operative Bank Rated Five-Stars For Four Quarters

Bauer Financial Reports, Inc., a Coral Gables, Fla. research firm, is pleased to announce that the Charlestown Co-operative Bank has been awarded its five-star rating. This is the fourth consecutive quarter in which the bank has received this prestigious honor.

The five-star rating identifies the institution as one of the safest, most credit-worthy savings associations in the United States.

The award is based on a zero to five-star rating assigned by BFR based on its analysis of the March 31, 1991 financial data as filed with federal regulators.

The five-star rating, for the safest savings associations in the country, indicates that the association's adjustable tangible capital exceeds 6 percent of tangible assets, its risk-based capital ratio exceeds 9.25 percent, that there are no excessive delinquencies or repossessed assets and that the association was profitable or suffered an insignificant loss for the quarter that ended March 31, 1991.

The rating is most often awarded to conservatively run, strongly capitalized, federally-insured savings associations that concentrate on traditional home financing and consumer services.

AWC/Test Date Announced For Non-Boston Public School Students

The Boston Public Schools has announced the test date for non-Boston Public School students, city residents currently enrolled in grades 3, 4 and 5, who are interested in applying for entrance into the Advanced Work Class Program (AWC) for grades 4, 5 and 6. Candidates should report to Boston Latin School, 78 Avenue Louis Pasteur, Boston, on Saturday, Oct. 26, at 8:30 a.m.

The tests to be administered free of charge are the Metropolitan Achievement Test in reading and math. Scores from both are required to be eligible.

The AWC Program now functions in grades 4, 5 and 6 in schools in each of the city's three school assignment zones. Eligible students will be mailed invitations. Parents of students now in grades 4 and 5 are advised that seat availability for 5th and 6th grade programs is rather limited because students currently in grades 4 and 5 of the AWC Program usually remain through grade 6.

Parents seeking a registration form and/or additional details of this special testing should call Shirley Burke at 726-6555.

Help Is Needed To Bring Back Pop Warner Football

To The Charlestown Community:

It has been approximately four years since we had a Pop Warner Football League in Charlestown. I would like to see one established here again. I was very happy to see some of our players going over to Everett to play and I appreciate the Everett organization inviting them, but I believe that we should try again here in Charlestown. It will be a very difficult task since our equipment was donated to the Everett organization. We are starting out with nothing, and I am asking for your help.

I have come up with a three-phase plan which I believe will tell us if we can put three teams on the field next year. The first part of the plan, and the most important, is to go out and see if we have the players who will commit themselves to playing next year. We need players from ages 9 to 14. We cannot do anything without the players!

The second part of this plan is to raise the funds that are needed to field three teams. As most of you are aware, equip-

The Charlestown Head Start/Day Care Program would like to extend a very big thank you to Ed Cahill, the uncle of a child in our day-care program.

Ed constructed a very large, beautiful wooden doll house. The house is complete with handmade wooden furniture that fills all of its rooms. The doll house was recently donated to the Head Start/Day Care Program and will be equally shared by all classrooms.

Ed has also constructed and donated a large collection of wooden animals and cars. These items have all been distributed to our classrooms and the children love them! Ed, thank you for thinking of us.

A Tribute To Al Shea

Words cannot express my feelings for my father-in-law Al Shea. Most son-in-laws usually say their father-in-law was OK, but you see I am different — my father-in-law was the best. If I could be one-tenth of a father-in-law to my son-in-laws, it would be great.

He will be missed by me and a lot of other people. To me and to my family, he was a giant of a man.

Teenage Minstrel Show Great Success

Friends,

Last weekend was a highlight of our parish social life for many. We presented our first annual Teen-age Minstrel Show and were successful in entertaining over 750 people through three performances of "Clowns-A-Poppin' '91."

We were not sure about the possibility of convincing enough of our teen-agers that they could get up on stage and forget about being self-conscious for a weekend. However, with the prompting of director Ed Rooney and choreographer Maryanne Dennis, we were able to create talent and abilities beyond our wildest dreams. The 30 teen-agers who starred in our show are "pioneers." They have paved the way for others who hopefully will say "if they could do it, I can do it."

We are also deeply grateful to the 35 children from public and parochial schools who joined us on stage for a good part of this show. They will look forward to growing into the teen-age cast.

The lights, cameras, projections, jokes, singing, dancing and laughter that filled our hall and our hearts will last for a long time.

This type of undertaking would never be possible without the financial support of our business community that was so generous to our plea for ads for the show book. We also wish to thank all the adults who worked backstage, on the tickets, with costumes and makeup, and with the lights.

What is a show if our faithful family, friends, neighbors and parishioners were not there to watch us and cheer us on? Your presence says so much to us and has assured us that there will be a show next year.

Finally, we cannot begin to tell you how wonderful it was to work with the young people of our community. They gave of themselves, not because they were being rewarded but because they wanted to reward our neighborhood for putting trust in them.

Our young people are our greatest resource and we will do all we can to instill in them a healthy self-esteem. They have convinced us that we are not making a mistake but that our investment is bearing rich dividends.

May God continue to enable us to offer our young people opportunities to center their lives around the church.

Sincerely,
Father Ronald Coyne
