

African & African Diaspora Studies Program
2014-2015 “New Directions in African Diaspora Studies” Lecture Series

“Fugitive Justice and Black Political Possibility: Art and Activism of Lorraine Hansberry”

Wednesday, 11 February 2015

Devlin Hall 101

4:30 pm

Open to the Public!

This talk explores how Lorraine Hansberry’s political vision emerges by way of her artistic practices to offer hope in the tumultuous years of the Civil Rights era.

Presented by:

Soyica Diggs Colbert

Associate Professor of African American Studies and Theater and Performance Studies at Georgetown University

Co-Sponsored by the Black History Month Committee

For more information, contact: (617) 552-3238 or aads@bc.edu