'When A Dream Becomes A Realty' ... Child Focus Center Opens At Bunker Hill Community College

The rooms are bright with splashes of brilliant color... the tables are set with imitation peanut butter sandwiches, apple sauce and even tacos... the sinks are just the right height for little folks to wash their hands and even be able to get their own paper towels.

This area, created especially for children, was officially opened on Jan. 19 with a ribbon-cutting ceremony and while adults toured it last Thursday, little folk started calling it "school" on Jan. 23. This was the opening of Child Focus Center, a subsidiary of Life Focus Center in conjunction with Bunker Hill Community College.

This was a very special occasion - one that has been many months in the planning. And while it was estimated that once

IT WAS A JOYOUS CELEBRATION on Jan. 19 as elected officials, representatives of the Life Focus Center (LFC) and Bunker Hill Community College (BHCC) and community residents gathered at the college to take part in the official opening of Child Focus Center, a progressive, developmental preschool that is a subsidiary of the LFC. Shown (l. to r.) cutting the ribbon that officially opened the center are June Reilly, president of the LFC Board of Directors; Mon O'Shea, vice president of academic affairs for BHCC; Sen. Thomas F. Birmingham, chairman, Senate Ways and Means Committee; John D. Millerick, executive director, LFC; Rep. Richard A. Voke, Majority Leader, Mass. House of Representatives; Sen. Robert Travaglini, chairman, Senate Committee on Commerce and Labor; Susan Shinker, director, Child Focus Center; District One Boston City Councillor Diane J. Modica; and Kevin O'Halloran, deputy director, LFC.

the funding was in place, it would take nine months to get the center up and going, the center's director Susan Shinker and her staff did it in 11 weeks.

Excitement permeated the air at the Child Focus Center as many of the guests had some part in developing the plans and/or securing the funding for the center. Jim Conway, community liaison for LFC, gathered the guests and introduced Jack Millerick, executive director of LFC, who acted as master of ceremonies.

Millerick first introduced Susan Shinker, the director of the center. She

French Outlines Plans For Bunker Hill School: Audience Votes Against Demolition

The Planning and Development Committee of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council (CNC), chaired by Tom Cunha, met on Jan. 19 at Bishop Lawton Hall of St. Francis de Sales Church for the first public presentation on the redevelopment of the St. Francis de Sales School site on Bunker Hill Street.

At the outset of the meeting, Cunha told the committee members that he did not plan to take a vote by the members during this meeting, adding that this would not be the last meeting on the site.

Father Daniel Mahoney, pastor of St. Francis de Sales Parish, said that he was present to learn about the plans for the site as all previous discussion has taken place between the Archdiocese and the real estate company. He said: "We're here to learn."

Jack French of J.W. French Associates at 5 Monument Square gave some background, explaining that he has lived in Charlestown almost 20 years and his firm employs between nine and 20 people depending on the scope of work at any stated time and they do projects from home additions to the $12 million YMCA in the Charlestown Navy Yard. He added that his firm has won citations for their work.

French noted that they first got a small parcel of land to develop at the corner of Bunker Hill and Sullivan streets and they built what they said they would. Most recently, the firm has restored the original mansion building of the former First Baptist Church on Monument Square and they are now renovating the building's recreation facilities for his home and office.

According to French, (continued on page 12)

CNC Seats Organizations, Elects Officers

The January monthly meeting of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council (CNC) was the best attended in many months with 20 out of the 21 members present. Members representing seven Charlestown organizations were seated and the officers for 1995 were elected. The committee chairmen will be appointed by the chairman and ratified at the February meeting.

The members and the organizations they represent, which were ratified at the December meeting are: Charlestown Boys

USS Constitution Announces 'Sailor Of The Year'

Petty Officer Second Class Anthony J. Rossi has been selected as USS Constitution's Sailor of the Year, Cmdr. Richard B. Amirault, the ship's commanding officer announced recently.

"Petty Officer Rossi's stellar leadership abilities, positive professional mannerisms and his sincere loyalty to his shipmates, were instrumental in his selection as Sailor of the Year," stated Amirault. "I commend Petty Officer Rossi for his dynamic character and strong moral fiber and his positive contributions to this illustrious ship and crew."

Rossi, who works on board Constitution as a boatswain's mate, was selected from among the ship's crew members in recognition of his superior performance as Deck Department division officer, chairman of the Moral, Welfare and Recreation Committee and duty petty officer. He was presented the award by Amirault.

Rossi played a pivotal role during the 200th anniversary ceremony commemorating the Naval Armament of 1794, which authorized the first six frigates of the Federal Navy,

He was also an integral part of the planning for the National Governors Association's visit which was held on board Constitution.

As duty petty officer, he supervises an eight-member duty section that provides tours, controls the line of tourists and guests, and ensures protocol matters are handled in a professional manner.

He has received four Letters of Appreciation in the past year in recognition of his participation in special events, including outstanding performance as the ship's boatswain's mate in numerous official visits and ceremonies.

Rossi reported to USS Constitution in June of 1993 from USS Sierra (AD 18). A native of Northeast Minneapolis, Minn., he now resides in Medford with his wife Paula and son Zachary.

"Old Ironsides," the oldest commissioned ship afloat in the world, is maintained by active duty U.S. Navy officers and enlisted members. The 197-year-old frigate is berthed in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

THE REAL ESTATE WEEKLY

Carolyn Sideman, Monument Properties

THE TITLE SEARCH

People who do title searches for a living don't have real estate's most exciting job, but it is an important one. They must ensure that the sellers really do own the property you're buying and that all liens against the property are taken care of before or as a result of settlement.

If, for example, your seller has had financial difficulties and didn't pay bills, there might be judgments that must be satisfied when the property is sold. Someone in addition to the people who signed the sales agreement may have a partial interest. If, for example, parents co-signed the mortgage for your sellers, they will need to sign the sales agreement and the deed that transfers ownership to you. In addition to looking at the current owners' situation, they go back many years, examining what is called the "chain of title," and they will send the results to the settlement office. If you learn that the property you're buying has title problems, don't panic. Most of them are resolved easily and in plenty of time to avoid settlement delays.

If there's a move in your future, the professionals at Monument Properties are ready to serve you. Drop by our office at 85 Warren St., Charlestown or call us at 241-5900.

Celebrating Excellence In Charlestown Catholic Education

There is much buzzing in the classrooms, teachers' room and office at Charlestown Catholic Elementary School as all prepare for Catholic Schools Week which will be celebrated Jan. 30 through Feb. 3. This is a yearly celebration for all Catholic Schools throughout the nation.

The theme for this year's celebration is "Catholic Schools: Schools You Can Believe In." Charlestown Catholic is a school in which one can believe and so it is with great enthusiasm that all in this school community look forward to celebrating during this special week.

Prior to the week's celebration, all the students will be invited to write their thoughts on what it means to them to be able to receive an education at Charlestown Catholic School. These papers will be put on display in the corridors during the week of celebration.

The week's celebration will begin with a Mass to praise and thank God for all the gifts bestowed on the school community. The theme chosen for the Liturgy is "Non-violence in Our World." Each grade will participate in a special way, reflecting upon this theme. All are aware of the fact that each one of us must be a non-violent person in our thoughts and our actions in order to contribute positively and help build a non-violent society.

Special scholarships will be awarded at the end of the Mass to the students who strive daily to do their best in their school work and who bear witness to the values taught and encouraged at Charlestown Catholic.

All are invited to the parish hall after the Mass to enjoy a treat of doughnuts, coffee and/or juice and to share in friendly conversations with one another.

On Tuesday, appreciation will be shown to the students. Some diversion of the regular is in order to show the students they are appreciated. A favorite diversion of the regular school day is for the students to be able to come to school wearing clothes other than their school uniforms. A crazy hat contest will add some excitement to this special day as will other surprises throughout the day.

A "Family Feud" is planned for Wednesday. The students in grades six through eight will participate in this famous game while the youngsters in kindergarten through grade three will be the enthusiastic audience cheering the participants on to success.

Thursday is the day to show appreciation to the teachers for making school a wonderful, successful and happy learning experience for all those attending Charlestown Catholic. A special luncheon will be served to the teachers.

On Thursday morning from 9 to 11 a.m., the doors of Charlestown Catholic will be open to all who would like to come to see what wonderful teaching takes place in each classroom. We welcome all, especially those who are interested in enrolling their youngsters in our kindergarten or in any of the other grades.

On Thursday evening, the Parent Board, the Consultative Board and the staff are looking forward to a get-acquainted gathering to take place in the school.

On Friday, the teachers will attend a special meeting in West Roxbury planned for all the teachers in the Archdiocese of Boston while the students take advantage of a day of rest after a week of educational and fun-filled activities.

Not for nothin' . . . But have you heard . . .

• The Race For Mayor Of Charlestown . . . has some of the candidates going full steam this weekend . . . Tommy Donahue will be running a dance at the K. of C. starting at 7 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 27th and will be at a Super Bowl party from 7 to 9 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 29th at the Ironsides Grille, 25 Park St. . . . Tom Jackson Jr. will be sponsoring a Dart Tournament at noon on Saturday, Jan. 28th at the Horseshoe Tavern on Bunker Hill Street . . . Watch for Danny Evers and Mary Lou Tracy as the contest moves along. For info, give Arthur Hurley a call at 242-2724.

• Looking Ahead To June . . . Bunker Hill Day seems a few snow storms away, but numerous questions have been coming in as to when the annual events will be held . . . The annual "Nite Before" Banquet, sponsored by Bunker Hill Post No. 26, The American Legion and the Parade Committee, will be on Friday night, June 16th at the K. of C. Hall . . . The Bunker Hill Day Patriotic events will be held on Saturday, June 17th . . . and the Bunker Hill Day Parade will step off on Sunday, June 18th . . . Save the dates and be part of the celebration . . . Updates will follow!

• A Word Of Caution . . . The self-sticking postage stamps may be easier to use . . . but they are easier to lose . . . A local family planning a shower wondered why there were so few responses and, asking around, they found the reason why - they used self-sticking stamps and so the invitations are probably floating around in postal never-never land with nary a stamp . . . Another local lady sent some money gifts along with her monthly bills and over two weeks later, the mail returned with the note "Postage Due." So, even though the books of stamps may be more convenient, they won't be if the letters are lost in the mail!

• It's A Busy Birthday Week In Town . . . and there'll be many a party . . . Bobby Borden's big day is today, Jan. 26th . . . Jan. 27th will be the special day for Teresa Pollack . . . Jan. 28th will be shared by Arthur Page and Helen Mahoney of Baldwin Street, who turns 92 . . . Jan. 29th will be celebrated by Bob Scalli . . . Dorothy Munroe will have a special day on Jan. 31st as she celebrates her 90th birthday . . . and Feb. 1st is party time for Ellen Mondri, Edna Kelly, Carmen Giordano and Stevie Giordano (who will turn 12) . . . Have a happy day, each and everyone of you!

• Anniversary Greetings . . . go out to Helen and Tim Conway of Mt. Vernon Street who will celebrate 68 years of wedded bliss on Jan. 30th.

• It Was Charlestown Pride In Action . . . this past Saturday, Jan. 21st, as the Townies and Little Townies Color Guards hosted a competition in the Charlestown Community Center. Every report was pride and praise for our local lassies. Congrats!

• Masters Ice Hockey . . . will be featured on Feb. 3, 4 and 5 at the Vietnam Veterans Ice Rink in North Adams . . . This is part of the 1995 Bay State Games, and four locals will be taking to the ice. On the Ice Meisters team is Hugh Curren, age 33, a graduate of Holy Cross . . . Four's Boston will feature Dan Finn, age 34, a Williams College grad, and Bill Shea, age 33, who served in the Army . . . Matt O'Neil, age 40 and a graduate of Amherst College, will play on the Ron's Mobil team . . . Here's wishing all a successful weekend.

• Come On Down . . . put those dancin' shoes on and give a helping hand to the Charlestown Youth Hockey Association program . . . The CYHA is sponsoring a dance to benefit the organization on Saturday, Jan. 28th at the K. of C. Hall starting at 8 p.m. . . . So for the very nominal fee of $10, it will be a night of music and fun!

• Friday Night Is Family Fun Night . . . at the Charlestown Community Center, 255 Medford St. The night of fun gets underway at 6 p.m. and there is a movie planned starting at 7 p.m. . . . BUT Louie won't tell us what the movie will be so you'll have to get down there and see for yourself!

• For Spacious Skies . . . Ralph Waldo Emerson called it "the daily bread of the eyes." How much do you appreciate the beauty and wonder of the ever-changing canvas of the sky? Bring family and friends to this eye-opening experience on top of Schoolmaster Hill in Franklin Park. Meet the Boston Park Ranger at noon on Sunday, Jan. 29 at the Valley Gates Parking Lot in Franklin Park . . . All of these Boston Park Ranger programs are free.

★ 105 Old Rutherford Ave. . . . A two-alarm fire gutted a three-story wooden house at 105 Old Rutherford Ave. on Thursday, Jan. 19. According to Boston Fire Department spokesman David Walsh, the box was struck at 9:50 a.m. with a second alarm struck at 9:56 a.m. Walsh stated that the fire, which was termed accidental, originated in the third floor living room and resulted from the use of a cigarette lighter by a 21-year-old man.

The building, which is owned by Samuel Folan, was occupied on the first floor by Hien Ho, his wife and 1-year-old daughter, and on the third floor by Mary Ann Pierce and Timothy Pierce. The second floor was vacant.

Injuries were suffered by three firefighters, two policemen and one civilian. The two police officers, John Boyle and Steven Green, were on patrol when they spotted the flames and rushed into the house when onlookers told them there might be other residents still inside the building. One officer was found overcome with smoke on the first floor landing and the second officer and the 21-year-old man were found on the second floor landing. A firefighter injured his shoulder while fighting the fire. All were treated at Mass. General Hospital and released.

Walsh stated that damage from the fire to 105 Old Rutherford Ave. has been set at $150,000.

Fire, smoke and water damage was also reported at 107 Old Rutherford Ave. in a three-story house owned by Laura Lindborg. There was also damage to 103 Old Rutherford Ave.

★ IRS Task Force Targets Restaurant Tip Reporting . . . The District Directors of the New England states have joined forces to combat the tip income gap which is estimated to exceed $100 million in New England. Since 1966, tipped employees have been required by law to report their tips to their employers at least once a month. Studies show that on average, less than half the tips are being reported.

"The law states you must report the full amount of tip income you receive," says IRS District Director Francine Crowley. "Workers need to understand they must do this, not just to pay their fair share of taxes, but to establish their future rights to Social Security, Medicare and other benefits which are based on their reported earnings."

Kindergarten Registration To Take Place Feb. 1 Through March 16

Registration for kindergarten for September will take place beginning Wednesday, Feb. 1 through Thursday, March 16 at the North Zone Parent Information Center at the Josiah Quincy School, 885 Washington St., Boston.

Children must be 5 years old by Sept. 1 to enter K2; 4 years old by Sept. 1 to enter K1; and 3 years old by Sept. 1 to enter K0. Applications are not processed on a first-come, first-served basis, so parents are encouraged to take the time to visit the schools that interest them and make careful choices before filling out applications. It is important not to miss the deadlines because parents who apply on time have a much better chance of receiving their top choices.

BPS students in all other grades will automatically be assigned to the same school for next year. If parents want their children to go to a different school, they should apply for a transfer during the period of Feb. 13 through March 16.

Parents whose children are not presently enrolled in BPS, and who will be entering grades 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 10, 11 and 12 should visit a Parent Information Center and fill out applications anytime between Feb. 13 and March 18. Late applications for students who will be entering grades 1, 6 and 9 in September will be accepted between Feb. 1 and March 16.

To register a child, the parent or guardian MUST bring the child's birth certificate, two pre-printed proofs of address and the child's complete immunization record, including a recent tuberculosis (TB) test result if the child is entering kindergarten or grade 1. Applications will not be accepted unless all these documents are brought in at the time of registration.

For further information, call the North Zone Parent Information Center at 635-8340.

'My Unhappy Brother' At Charlestown Branch Library

"My unhappy brother never knew what his sisters had done in literature," so wrote Charlotte Bronte, and since then, few have appreciated what Branwell Bronte achieved five years before his sisters.

Kathy Clancy and Colin Pinney, two British actors, give a new insight into the lives of the three younger Brontes: Branwell, mistaken for a doctor but dismissed from three posts; Emily, whose only friend when teaching was the school dog; and gentle, devout Anne, whom a reviewer accused of bringing her readers into contact with naked vice.

The performance, which will take place on Thursday, Feb. 9 at 7:30 p.m., at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St., includes comments made by the Brontes on one another's works and springs a few surprises in verse and prose from the Brontes, their friends and their critics.

Public Schools Athletic Director DiLorenzo Named State A.D. Of The Year

by Brian Wallace

Back in 1958, Rocky DiLorenzo was snapping the football at White Stadium to Southie High quarterback, Ray Flynn. Well, Rocky is still at White Stadium. Ray is not. Rocky is no longer snapping the ball however. He's taken over the role of quarterback and is now calling signals for the entire Boston Public School Athletic Department. He must be doing something right. He was recently named the 1995 Athletic Director of the Year, by the Mass. Secondary School Athletic Directors Association.

In his letter to participating members of the association, David Bach, awards chairman, stated, "Rocky DiLorenzo has been recognized by his professional colleagues for the tremendous contribution that he has made to the community, district and state. Donald Pellegrini, headmaster of West

Roxbury High School, in the same correspondence stated, "Mr. Di Lorenzo is fair, compassionate and always puts the needs of the youngsters first. He has truly made a difference to the students and athletes of the city of Boston."

I'm not surprised that Rocky was accorded this prestigious honor, I'm surprised that it hasn't happened sooner. Those of us who work or have worked with Rocky DiLorenzo, know what he has accomplished. Rocky and his competent and efficient assistant, Arlene Witt, run an incredible show.

He is responsible for 14 high schools and 19 middle schools. That is every sport, both boys and girls. Being an athletic director in the '90s is not like it used to be. When I played at Southie High, the athletic director was responsible for scheduling games and giving us bus transfers. Not in the '90s.

The athletic director is now responsible for scheduling of all games, transportation to and from all games, for all teams, hiring and assigning all referees to all games, preparing and administering a $2.3 million yearly budget, facilitating the purchase, storage and reconditioning of all athletic equipment and uniforms for all teams and arranging or leasing the necessary facilities.

If that sounds like a lot, it is. And that is still only half of what Rocky does. I don't have the time or paper to list everything. But, you get the message. This guy is no ordinary athletic director. He and Ray Flynn may have taken different paths to success since those afternoons in 1958 at White Stadium. Ray is in Rome where he wants to be and Rocky is still at White Stadium exactly where he wants to be. Neither would have it any other way.

CNC Seats Organizational Members, Elects Officers, Plans Busy Agenda

The officers, who were elected by a unanimous vote of the council are: Peter Looney, chairman; Tom Cunha, first vice chairman; Mel Stillman, second vice chairman; Jim Mansfield, clerk; and Nancy Keyes, treasurer.

Looney opened the floor for questions and/or comments from residents. A Warren Street resident related that he is part of a group that has not been part of the rezoning process and they would like to have a voice, particularly relative to the City Square parcels.

Conway pointed out that all meetings are given a two-week notice in the local paper. Looney added that the CNC doesn't want any part of the community to feel left out noting that every CNC meeting is open to all.

Cunha stated that there would be a meeting on the CANA parcels on Jan. 26 in the main hall of the K. of C. He suggested that those who want to catch up call agencies and departments involved in this process and ask for their handouts. He said decisions are now down to a couple of heights and where to put the parking lot, adding that it has been 31 months of meetings to reach this point. Sergeant noted that zoning is a "broad brush" and there would be an opportunity for change in the development guidelines.

Looney introduced Agnes Ricko who is "filling in" for Dorothy Steele, Massport's community liaison, while she is on sick leave. Ricko said that persons who want information from Massport can reach her at 973-5388.

The members brought up ongoing issues relative to Massport about which more information is needed. These include a report on Hayes Square, what land is useable and can be beautified; the failure of Massport to install the plaque for the Merchant Marine Veterans Memorial; and the future use for the Revere Sugar site.

Cunha said he sent a note to the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) for an update on Parcel R-87 on Tremont Street. He related that an RFP was designed and put out to bid. Two non-profits submitted bids and the RFP disappeared. He added that he has heard the BRA may be selling it off in pieces, adding "I'm putting the BRA on notice!" Conway related the history of the BRA promises, adding, "It's about time that the BRA starts responding."

Stone reported that the Mass. Highway Department is planning to construct a maintenance facility and a power station down behind Galvin Park near Miller's River, adding that a meeting on this should be held shortly. Concerns were also expressed on the haul road proposed to go through Revere Park.

Conway stated there is a problem with the birds. They have moved from the demolished ramp to the eaves of the court house bringing their mess with them.

Bill Galvin asked for public acknowledgement of the work Dan Kovacevic did on the CNC as the representative of the Charlestown Business Association.

'The Beef' And Aerosmith

Harvard-Kent Math Team Update

by Ken Preskenis

The November contest went well for the students. With 20 out of 24 students getting at least one problem correct, it showed they had the patience to read word problems, take in the ideas, piece them together in their mind and solve the problems.

The top gun was Tim O'Connell with four correct out of five, a brilliant performance! Getting two correct were: Sandy Ha, Van Hoang, Joshua Gans, Sheila Mai, Dennis Cunningham, Kevin Dacey and Megan Buckley. Those getting one correct were: Wei Lei, Chris Chiampa, Christen Rodriguez, Andy Wong, Nancy Lee, Jeanette Tam, Andy Yu, Tina Tsang, Karen Tam, Jackson Leung, Ailen Wong and Duyen Nguyen.

The December contest went even better than the first one, showing that practice and preparation pays off. Tim O'Connell had another great day for himself, but this time he was joined by Sandy Ha in getting four out of five correct. Getting two correct were: Chris Chiampa, Karen Li, Nancy Lee and Jeanette Tam. Getting one correct were: Joshua Gans, Andy Wong, Andy Yu, Kevin Dacey, Tina Tsang, Karen Tam, Jackson Leung, Janjae Willie, Ken Wong and Adrian Leung.

(continued from page 1) noted that it was "a very exciting morning as it is not often that educators get the opportunity to develop a center from the ground up."

Shanker went on to relate that through the efforts of many, the staff is thrilled to provide quality, early childhood services to the staff and students of Bunker Hill Community College as well as to children from the community of Charlestown.

Shanker told the gathering: "The Child Focus Center is a progressive, developmental preschool committed to the early intervention and education of young children and their families. It is not your average run-of-the-mill child care facility nor a place that offers baby sitting. It is a preschool that believes that children learn by doing, by playing and by experimenting. It's a preschool that allows the young child to take risks, become confident and grow at his or her own pace."

She then introduced the center's highly qualified staff which includes Christine King and Sally Gordon, the center's Lead Teaching staff. Shanker concluded by stating:

"While today marks a great beginning, we are all looking ahead to years of smiling faces and strong family education and partnerships."

Charlestown resident Mon O'Shea, vice president of academic affairs for the college, stated that for years the college has tried to establish services for children of the students and faculty, and now it is a reality. He spoke of this being a dream of former BHCC President and now the state's Secretary of Education Piedad Robertson.

O'Shea praised the hard work of BHCC's

Board of Trustees, including Charlestown resident Tom Cunha, and pointed out the "superb job" done by Sen. Thomas Birmingham and his work on behalf of center and the college. He noted: "College is a learning environment and this center is going to allow so much to happen." He concluded: "Children are our future."

Millerick told the guests that human services have to collaborate to survive. He pointed out that this center will not only provide progressive education for children, it will mean jobs for the handicapped and mentally challenged.

He told of sitting down with Birmingham and telling him that if the college and LFC could join together, there will be positive results and it will be a cost saver.

"In my institutional role as Chairman of Ways and Means, I often hear that investing in this or that program now will result in cost-savings down the road," said Birmingham. "As a rule, I have found these arguments to be dubious. Early education funding, however, is the exception that proves the rule. I am certain that the Child Focus Center is an investment that will pay off, both for the state and for the children who will attend classes here." As chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee, Birmingham appropriated the money for the Child Focus Center in the Fiscal Year 1995 budget.

Rep. Richard A. Voke, House Majority Leader, brought his greetings. "For 25 years, Bunker Hill Community College has been a great place for thousands of area residents to start the first leg of a journey toward a lifetime of fulfillment and achievement. Now with the opening of a new preschool, BHCC will be able to touch the lives of new generations of students at a much earlier and much more important time. I am proud to be involved in such a noble and worthwhile effort," said Voke.

Sen. Robert Travaglini, chairman of the Senate Committee on Commerce and Labor, stated: "We are all here as evidence of the reputation Jack Millerick has built . . . and the presence of these important people is due to the respect they have for Jack and his compassion." Travaglini, who is the father of two small daughters, said: "This new venture addresses one of the most important issues many people have to deal with and overcome, and that is day care."

District One Boston City Councillor Diane J. Modica stated: "I am honored to join my esteemed colleagues in government. Charlestown is quite fortunate to have two influential and powerful leaders in the State House who have the ability to make things happen for the people they serve. This partnership effort between the Life Focus Center and Bunker Hill Community College is a clear example of how organizations working together can maximize resources and serve a real community need. I will certainly offer support at the city level whenever needed to assure the preschool access to all available resources."

Modica told the gathering that Millerick and Conway are "not satisfied to rest on their laurels but continue to find new ways to meet the needs of the residents of this community. Society is judged by the way it treats its old and its young . . . and this program will reach out and grab the imagination as it fulfills the needs of the young."

Millerick thanked Birmingham and Voke for their tremendous leadership and involvement in this project and other projects on behalf of children. He praised both legislators for their foresight on such an efficient way of spending the same state tax dollar.

"Child Focus has been designed to produce multiple outcomes for the same dollar. Helping AFDC recipients get off of welfare, providing inner-city children with quality preschooling, opening up a spectrum of vocational and training opportunities for people with disabilities and extending 'real life' education to students in Bunker Hill's Early Childhood Education Program are all being made possible with the efforts Sen. Birmingham and Rep. Voke have made in order to make this visionary program become a reality," Millerick said.

As the dignitaries gathered to cut the ribbon officially opening the center, Millerick brought the best wishes of C. Scully Stikes, president of the college, who was ill. He also recognized the LFC Board of Directors present including June Reilly, president; Conway, clerk; Kevin O'Halloran, deputy director of LFC; Dickie Sexton and Gloria Conway.

Sen. Travaglini had seen the plans for the center when it was in its infant stage some months ago. Last Thursday as he walked into and looked around the Child Focus Center now ready to be officially opened, he related with much enthusiasm: "This is when a dream becomes a reality!"

Team Fleet Treats Head Start And Day Care Children With Christmas Stockings

THE KENNEDY CENTER'S Head Start and Day Care programs wish to thank Team Fleet, a volunteer organizations with Fleet Services and Fleet Bank, that Fleet donated 150 Christmas stockings to The Kennedy Center's Early Childhood Department so every child in the program would receive a stocking at Christmas time. Muriel Zaginailoff spearheaded the stocking drive and sent three Fleet representatives, Joan Gruner (center left), Patricia Newman (center right) and Joan Landoli to deliver the stockings. The children were very surprised and delighted that Christmas came early and they couldn't wait to show their parents what they found in their stockings. Each stocking was unique and special. In addition to the stockings, Team Fleet donated approximately 40 new hats, mittens and gloves for the children. Donations of warm winter clothing are always needed in the program as children lose or forget to bring these items to school. The Kennedy Center greatly appreciates the efforts of Team Fleet and hopes to continue to collaborate on such projects in the future.

French Outlines Plans For Bunker Hill School: Audience Votes Against Demolition

(continued from page 1) when the school closed, he expressed an interest in the building to the Archdiocese. When the Archdiocese put the building on the market, a real estate representative contacted him and asked if he was interested in the property. The firm in which French is involved has subsequently signed a purchase and sale agreement for the amount of $560,000. He later added that by the time the property is turned over the fees accumulating each month will push the cost to $580,000 to $600,000.

French stated that they have analyzed the school building. Its size and the total rehabilitation cost would be near to what the units could be sold for.

This, he said, would probably not make it "bankable."

He went on to say that if the land was cleared, 18- to 24-townhouse, reminiscent of historic Charlestown could be built. It would be possible to construct three- and four-bedroom houses if there is a demand.

As for rehabilitating the existing building, French said that 26 large condo units could be built with four custom-designed "spectacular" units at the roof level. There could be parking for 33 to 39 cars. French noted that it would not be feasible to create parking under the building.

Asked about prices of the units, French said that condos in the existing school would range from $140,000 to $290,000. He said that townhouses would sell for between $230,000 and $280,000. An average of one and a half spaces per house and some visitor parking would be provided.

French went on to say that the new houses would have brick toward the Bunker Hill Street side and glass on the back, giving outstanding views of the city. In response to a question from the gathering, he said that it would be possible to save bricks from the school to use on the facade of the houses along Bunker Hill Street. He added that an appropriate plaque in recognition of the school would be included at the site.

As to trash removal, he

would go along with the community's wishes. The two options would be a dumpster or compactors in each unit to decrease the volume and then people would put out their own trash for collection.

There would be no construction on the back slope where much of the land is owned by the Boston Redevelopment Authority, said French. The objective would be to stabilize the land which has seen problems with erosion.

Responding to a question on the comparison of bedrooms, French said the condo units if the school was retained would generally be two-bedrooms and tend to attract retired people or the young. The townhouses would range from two to four bedrooms and would allow flexibility for family living.

Cunha paraphrased the contents of a letter directed to Jim Walsh from the Boston Landmarks Commission. He noted that according to the commission, the building was eligible to be listed for registration on the National Register of Historic Places.

Peter Looney referred to two letters he had received. The first letter was from the Charlestown Preservation Society sent to the Archdiocese stating that its Board of Trustees voted against the building's demolition and recommended that an objective independent assessment be made of the building's potential reuse before demolition occurs.

The second letter, referred to by Looney was from the Boston Preservation Alliance, suggesting the developer meet with city officials to assist in finding a way to renovate the property. The letter goes on to say that the building is eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places which will allow for the use of the Investment Tax Credits in its redevelopment. It also noted that if the Boston Landmarks Commission designates the property a local landmark, demolition is not permitted.

Looney asked French to take a hard look at making the building available to our young people. French said that they both agree that the more children that could be kept in the town the better. He added that he "would be happy to work with the city and/or owner to mitigate in order to get the prices down."

One of the issues brought to the developer by the audience included the increase in the tax rate, noting that the development would raise the rate in the area. This presentation came shortly after the quarterly tax bill which saw increases for many residents.

The concern for parking was high on the list of priorities. Many residents spoke about the problems in parking and several noted that one and a half spaces was not enough.

French said that parking would be included with a unit and there would not be a separate fee.

Cunha stated that the CNC voted in 1986 and it was signed by the city that developments would require two parking spaces and any less would have to go before the city zoning board.

Water pressure and utility problems were brought up particularly the decrease in pressure on the hill when the Clougherty Pool is filling, causing problems now. French said that research has indicated that existing electricity, water and sewer in the area will meet the needs of the development. In fact, he said, the impact of water pressure with the addition of 26 units is almost zero.

French responded to questions about drainage in the area that the school is piped now and he would work with engineers and the abutters to see that it did not become a problem.

The comments from the gathering turned more and more toward saving the building. It was suggested that the building be saved and that it provide affordable housing for people who live in the town or who might want to return. French said he would like to make some units affordable, noting that $140,000 was not extraordinary. He stated that he would like to do housing that would benefit the community.

French, in responding to a question as to how the financing would be in place, said if the townhouses were to be constructed, the financing is in place. He went on to explain that the economics of rehabilitating the school with union contractors, which, he added is a must, makes it a "tough sell" because of the low percentage of return.

He said that he was seeing a strong affinity among the residents to keep the school. Cunha asked for a show of hands by the almost 200 people in the hall, and the vast majority voted to retain the building.

French pledged to work with the CNC on developing the building and addressing concerns of the area residents. Cunha said that the CNC could act in an advisory capacity and after several meetings a consensus will be reached and the plan will go to the regulatory boards. Cunha noted that any meetings with the CNC will be public.

Our "Little Townies" finished in fourth place in the Cadet Division and our "Townies" took the first place trophy. We are deeply indebted to our Color Guard Manager Susan Miller, our parent board, our parents and fans for the outstanding cooperation they showed. We thank the Community Center for welcoming us and supporting our efforts. Special appreciation to Bob and Jeff McGann for their presence and encouragement.

Our girls compete this Saturday, Jan. 28 at Woburn High School beginning at 5 p.m. and on Saturday, Feb. 4 in the New England Regionals at Salem High School.

UMass Basketball On Every Sunday

The University of Massachusetts, Boston, has entered into an agreement with the Boston Neighborhood Network, to air the entire home schedule of the Beacons Men's Varsity Basketball Team. The UMass games will be shown every Sunday morning from 10 a.m. to noon on BNN on Boston channels A3 and A23. This Sunday, Jan. 29, the game between Plymouth State and UMass-Boston will be shown on a taped delayed basis.

South Boston's own Brian Wallace will be doing the play-by-play for all the Beacons' games, and the veteran broadcaster will be joined in the booth by Skip Griffin and Coach Jim Bradley. Charlestown's own Kevin Burke, a highly acclaimed sports and special event producer, will direct and produce each of the UMass games.

UMass Coach Charlie Titus, who played his high school basketball at Boston Tech is looking for big things from this year's team. UMass will be very young, but very skilled. They combine some local, homegrown talent like James Gomes, who also played at Tech (now the John D. O'Bryant School), and Pedro Gomes, a 6' 7" swingman who played at Madison Park with some New York talent. Jose Melendez and Scott Rose, both from New York, add a flash of schoolyard basketball which is exciting to watch and very effective on the court. Throw in a guard from Hartford, Conn., and the UMass team is ready to take on all comers.

Brian Wallace stated, "Division 3 Basketball is the best show in town. It certainly is a well kept secret. It combines local players with a great college atmosphere. Catch the game this Sunday at 10 a.m., you'll be hooked."

BOB D'S BEAT BY BOB DeCRISTOFORO

◆ We Are The Champions! . . . Pat Walsh's team-pleaser, a solid point-blank shot from the blue line, halfway through the final period, was the championship game winner as Charlestown took the city-wide Friendship League Crown by defeating South Boston 5-2. It was the ninth straight win for the young Townies, and capped an undefeated season.

South Boston jumped off to a quick 1-0 lead on a superb effort by Todd Lewis, but league MVP Shane Fisher soon got the equalizer, and defenseman Joe Tallent's slapshot put us ahead 2-1 before the close of the period.

With Southie wisely keying on Fisher and Charlestown playing minus star defenseman Ricky Evers, Charlestown needed someone to bring his game to a new height, a higher level. Pat Walsh was that man.

Pat's first goal put us ahead to stay. He played his usual fine defense with a little more flair and his second goal was the game buster, dimming sharply Southie's hopes of a victory. Shane Fisher put the icing on the championship cake by scoring the fifth and final goal.

Teams win games, and great teams win championships. This was a great team and everyone together won and deserved the championship. Brian Dole, Paul Hennessy, Shane Fisher, Joe Tallent, Ricky Evers, Marc Russell, Mike Sweeney, Pat Walsh, Jamie Hutchins and Jimmy Tallent, who did a lot of coaching over the course of the year and helped me greatly, are the '94-95 Friendship City-Wide Champions!

Special thanks to all those who came to cheer and to drive the kids week after week, especially Mr. Tallent and Chris Russell. It's important that you were there, because it showed you cared.

On a personal note, three years ago a plan was put into place, and to that very first city-wide team, you started it all. Shane Fisher, Ricky Evers and Jimmy Tallent were there from day one and well remember those crazy, early morning trips on the T, never forfeiting a game, and often getting to the "rinks" well before the other teams who lived close by. Believe it or not, this is where we began to gain the respect of everyone and where we became a team. We have built upon this. Just the little, but important, fact that we've always been the first team to go over and shake hands after a game, no matter what the results, speaks volumes for who we are. These are a couple of reasons why this championship crown fits so right and why it will be the first of many more to come. Thank you for who you are, true Charlestown Pride Champs!

◆ Reminder: Family Night . . . Family Fun Night takes place tomorrow evening, Friday, Jan. 27, starting at 6 p.m. at the Charlestown Community Center.

◆ For Girls Only . . . It's been quite a week for the Bunker Hill Teen Center "For Girls Only" program. Carmen, our youth worker, has begun a great workshop on parenting and the girls have quickly learned that it is not easy being a young mother. On Thursday, the girls attended a workshop on AIDS. Knowledge is power and part of this new "For Girls Only" program is gaining that knowledge about many important and relevant issues. The girls also had a great time attending the movies in Somerville for their weekly off-site activity. The "For Girls Only" club meets every Tuesday and Thursday at the Bunker Hill Teen Center. Special thanks to Kenny Giordano at the Boys & Girls Club for helping out with transportation to the movies.

◆ All Star Game . . . Todd Sgro and Shane Fisher will represent Charlestown in this Saturday's noon Friendship League All Star Game at Columbus Park in South Boston. They will play the members of the Boston Parks and Recreation Department. Many of the "stars" who will be joining Shane Fisher in Philadelphia will be participating.

◆ Hometown Team . . . Charlestown High School basketball team defeated Madison Park 65-41. Shawn Brown and Harrison Bush led the 7-3 Townies.

In hockey action, Charlestown was defeated by Latin Academy 10-4.

◆ Pro Line . . . Keith Tkachuk's first goal of the season gave the Winnipeg Jets its first point of the season by battling Calgary to a 3-3 tie. The Anaheim Ducks grounded the Jets 4-3 in game two of the season. Keith picked up a goal and an assist. Three points, two games, not bad.

Jimmy Vesey is alive and well. No, we haven't forgotten Jim Vesey. In 32 games for the IHL Phoenix Roadrunners, Gentleman Jim has nine goals and seven assists for 16 points.

◆ High School Notebook . . . Catholic Memorial defeated BC High 3-1 in a big Catholic Conference matchup. Chris Lynch put the Eagles ahead 1-0, but the Knights came back with three third-period goals via the sticks of Joe Gray, Joe Savioli and Jason Urquhart, keeping CM alumnus, Father Coyne, smiling. On the basketball court, CM added Bishop Guertin to their list of victims, 79-63.

Over at Boston Latin, the hoopsters defeated Bedford 47-44 in a dual county game, but over at Don Bosco, the roundballers were defeated by BC High 65-37.

Malden Catholic topped Bishop Feehan 6-1, St. John's Prep edged Don Bosco 3-2 in another highly competitive game, and in the Central League, Arlington Catholic shut out Archbishop Williams 4-0.

Voke And Birmingham's Veterans' Protection Bill Is Now Law

Citing the need to protect the rights of veterans who served our country with distinction, Rep. Richard Voke and Sen. Thomas Birmingham announced that they were successful in enacting a bill aimed at allowing certain veterans to remain in their state-aided housing units. The new law corrects a language oversight which resulted in local housing authorities moving or evicting veterans from housing projects despite being current with their rent as well as being long-term residents. The governor signed the bill into law last week.

"Having championed yet another veterans' measure through the legislature, I am glad we were successful in convincing the governor's office of the bill's merits," commented Voke.

Birmingham added, "It was a matter of fairness to extend to certain veterans these housing protections. No one wants to see these vets evicted from homes they've lived in for years. The new law will ensure that they are not."

Charlestown's powerful legislative tandem expressed satisfaction as to the speed with which the bill became law. Responding to constituent requests in August, Voke, Majority Leader of the House, and Birmingham, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Ways and Means, were able to successfully tap their collective clout on Beacon Hill to address this matter in a

Money Matters

by Nicholas C. Pino

"Let us assist you in your financial planning"

IS YOUR BUSINESS READY FOR A CHANGE?

Should your business be a proprietorship, corporation, partnership or some other entity? Each possibility has advantages and disadvantages. Situations change, and so do tax laws. This year-end may be a good time to review your business' current structure.

Unincorporated businesses, such as proprietorships and partnerships, are easiest to start and to end. Income and losses are generally reported on your personal tax return. The disadvantages? Earnings are subject to self-employment tax, and unincorporated businesses may provide you with fewer fringe benefits. Also, you are generally personally liable for business liabilities.

A corporate structure may be advantageous because maximum tax rates for corporations are lower than the top individual rates. And your corporation may provide you with more fringe benefits. Your liability is generally limited to corporate assets and amounts you guarantee. Minuses? Income is taxed twice - once at corporate level and again when you receive dividends. Any salary you are paid is subject to employment taxes. Also, liquidating a corporation can be costly.

Another option for most small corporations is electing to be an S corporation. Generally, S corporations pay no federal income tax. The income or loss is reported on the shareholder's tax returns and is not subject to self-employment tax. However, the corporation must pay you fair compensation if you are also an employee, and those wages are subject to employment taxes. An S corporation can provide you with fewer fringe benefits than a regular corporation, but you do get the same limited liability.

A new entity available in most states is the limited liability company (LLC). This choice offers the limited liability of a corporation, but the company is taxed much like a partnership.

No one choice is best for all businesses at all times. Now is a good time to review your company to ensure that you are operating in your best form. Call if we can help.

TO SEE HOW THIS CAN AFFECT YOU, CALL TODAY!

To the parents, you should be very proud of your children. All of you deserve a great big thank you and congratulations for a job well done from the people of Charlestown. Keep up the good work.

Please Help Me With My School Project

Dear Editor, I am a fourth grader at Rudd-Rockford-Marble Elementary School in Rockford, Iowa. My class is studying the 50 states in social studies this year. Each of us is working on a U. S. scrapbook at home to turn in at the end of the year.

We are also starting another special project to learn more about the United States. Each fourth grader has been given an address of a newspaper. I am asking readers of this letter to please respond by sending a postcard, a photo of a town/city, a photo of a landmark, or any other information about points of interest in your area. All information received will be used for our fourth grade project and learning more about our country.

I hope you will decide to help with this exciting project! I'll be anxiously waiting to hear from you and learning more about your area/state. Please send information to me in care of the address below. Thank you in advance for your help.

Thank You For Being A Friend

Dear Gloria, We would like, once again, to thank you and your staff, Jeanne, Carol and Kathy for your efforts on our behalf, regarding publicity of the recently held Charlestown Boys Club Reunion. There is no doubt that many of those in attendance learned of the reunion through the Patriot. Without your assistance, the event surely would not have reached the degree of success that it did. You have been a true and valued friend of this organization for many years.

This year's awardee, Bob Munstedt, spent several hours meeting with, and talking to former members of his Bunker Hillbilly group, some of whom performed for him back in the 1940s and 1950s.

Thank you again, for helping make this a wonderful evening for a truly wonderful and deserving man.

Sincerely,
The Alumni Committee of the
Charlestown Boys & Girls Club Board of Directors

Police Bike-A-Thon Benefits Charlestown Boys & Girls Club

Over 75 police officers representing Area A, as well as the State Police and Metropolitan Police Departments, participated in a bike-a-thon from Boston to Provincetown in memory of slain fellow officer Mark Charbonnier.

Starting at 7 a.m. from Florian Hall in Dorchester, the officers, led by Boston Police Officer and Charlestown native Michael Charbonnier, headed south for Provincetown, 117 miles away. There was a brief stop along the way when they passed the spot where Mark Char-bonnier was killed, and the bikers left a memorial wreath alongside the road.

Then it was on to Provincetown where the bikers all arrived by 6 p.m. Most stayed for dinner, (Did they really have the energy to eat?) before friends and spouses drove them back to Boston.

The proceeds from this tremendous effort were given to the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club at a gathering at The Warren Tavern. Two checks, one for $5,000, and the other for $953 (Mark Charbonnier's call number), were presented by Officer Cecil Jones, the event organizer, and Captain Ronald Conway to Jerry Steimel and John Killoran from the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club. Steimel stated that as a result of this donation, the Boys & Girls Club would be offering free memberships to the club for children ages 6 to 18 until the end of December.

Also, an award will be given each year at the club's awards night in Mark Charbonnier's name to the club member who has excelled in their academic efforts that year.

OVER 75 POLICE OFFICERS pose in front of Florian Hall in Dorchester just prior to leaving on a 117-mile bicycle trek to Provincetown raising funds in memory of slain fellow Police Officer Mark Charbonnier.

Mary T. (McCabe) Walsh Dies In Her 85th Year

Mary T. (McCabe) Walsh, a lifelong "Town-ie," died on Jan. 20 at the age of 85. She was the wife of the late Francis X. "Nappy" Walsh and the mother of Eugene F. Walsh.

At the age of 65, she retired from the former Glendale Oil Company of Charlestown and almost immediately started a new career when she went to work for the Commonwealth of Mass. Department of Elder Affairs, where she was still employed at the time of her death.

Mary and her two constant companions, her sisters, Rose Lyman and Dot O'Toole, were familiar sights as they all worked together at Elder Affairs, attended functions at the Golden Age Center on Main Street, did ceramics, traveled extensively around the country and took numerous trips to Ireland, Germany and Greece.

This past September, a celebration was held by her family and friends in honor of her 85th birthday and her 20th year of employment at the Department of Elder Affairs. At that time, she was presented with citations from Gov. William F. Weld, the Senate and the House of Representatives for her dedication and years of service to the commonwealth.

Mary was born in Boston on Sept. 7, 1909, the daughter of Joseph and Mary (Haggerty) McCabe. The family summered at Silver Lake in Wilmington and in 1932 she was named Miss Charlestown.

Mary was the sister of Rose Lyman, Dot

MARY T. WALSH
O'Toole, Helen Burhoe and the late John, Frank,

Joseph, Barney, Neil and Charlie McCabe and Ruth Muzzrole. Her son Gene and daughter-in-law Jean live in Tewksbury. She is also survived by four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Her funeral was held on Monday from the John H. Sawyer Funeral Home, with a funeral Mass at St. Francis de Sales Church, followed by interment in the family plot at Holy Cross Cemetery in Malden.

'Be A Monumental Hero' At The Charlestown Branch Library

Public sculpture is an important source of community pride and identity. Lynne M. Spencer, field coordinator for the Mass. Save Our Sculpture Committee (SOS), will be the guest speaker at the weekly adults' discussion program at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St., on Friday, Jan. 27.

She will discuss how time, vandalism and environmental pollution have taken their toll on these pieces. Many pieces are unknown and almost forgotten. Spencer will show a video about sculpture and speak about the efforts of Mass. SOS.

The 10 a.m. program is free and open to the public.

Suggested good reading includes: A Guide to Public Art in Greater Boston by Marty Carlock and The Monument by Gary Paulsen.
