Thinking About Selling Your Home? Shouldn't You Know As Much About Home Prices As Buyers Do?

Because buyers are looking at many houses before they buy, the typical buyer knows the current market extremely well. And because buyers are shopping so hard, the right asking price on your home is the most important step in selling your home.

The first way Gibson Associates will help you sell your home is by providing you with up-to-date price information on similar homes that have recently sold and similar houses on the market now. We'll be pleased to explain our listing procedures, and explain fully how we will market your home and assist the buyer in arranging affordable financing.

To get your home sale off to a good start, call Gibson.

Seek Former P.O.W.'s

The Veterans Administration is trying to get in touch with 30,000 former P.O.W.'s whose current addresses are unknown. To help the program along, the Norwood American Legion Post has formed a three man committee headed by a WW II Fighter Pilot and former Prisoner of War, Robert Browning. It's purpose, according to Post Commander Ralph Hale, is to bring to the attention of these men the changes in eligibility requirements and benefits that they may not be aware of at this time.

Browning stated that a number of changes have been made in laws relating to our Prisoners of War. He urged all P.O.W.'s in the area to "get in touch with the committee regardless of whether they are receiving benefits or not."

"A new law provides that a former P.O.W. held captive for as little as thirty days may now have disabilities accepted as having been incurred in service, without having to furnish medical proof. It also waives the two year period following service, during which service-connected psychological disorders must appear. These are but two of the many changes in the law."

Commander Hale pointed out that the VA has considered 1250 new claims since the law became effective and that 711 of them were given favorable ratings. To date, American Legion Posts have provided the VA with names and addresses of more than 3000 former P.O.W.'s. Hale concluded his statement with this request: "If you know of any former P.O.W.'s please urge them to write to the P.O.W. Committee, P.O. Box 1, Norwood, Ma. 02062.

Ask them to include their name, address, phone number, VA claim number, social security number, and VA benefits received. All relevant information will be forwarded to the proper V.A. facility."

Article 3, Section 4???

To the Editor
Charlestown Patriot

For the information of the eleven (11) Board Members who voted me out of order at the last Kennedy Center Board Meeting and the President of the Kennedy Center, James Cushman, who quoted Article 3, Section 4 when questioned as to where in the by-laws of the Kennedy Center it provides for the appointing of a member to the Board, Article 3, Section 4 of the Kennedy Center By-Laws reads as follows: "If, for any reason, an elected member is unable or unwilling to fill out his entire term, that Board seat shall remain unfilled until the next annual APAC election."

My question is, who was out of order?

I am asking you, Mr. Cushman, or anyone of the eleven (11) Board Members, where in the by-laws does it mention where the appointed members are elected and how they are elected?

How can you vote a person out of order unless you know what his point of order is? By this action of the Board, were my rights as a Board Member taken away from away from me? Are we going by Kennedy Center by-laws? Are we going by Robert's Rules of Order? Or are we going by the Kennedy Center President's own rules, which seem to change from issue to issue?

I am asking you, Mr. Cushman, to answer any and all of these questions because it seems I am not going to get them answered at a Board Meeting.

Thanks,
A more and more confused Board Member,
Joe Kent

To The People Of Charlestown

To the people of Charlestown:

I wish to thank all the good people of Charlestown for their encouragement and support during the years that I was Executive Director of the Kennedy Center. Most especially, I wish to thank all of the people who were so generous in showing their appreciation to me at my retirement party on September 30.

I wish all of you a very healthy and happy future.
Sincerely,
John T. Gardiner

Thanks To Some Concerned Townies

October 1, 1982

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this time to personally thank some very concerned "Townies", who took the time to get involved by coming to my aid when I was assaulted and robbed on the morning of September 17th as I walked down Lowney Way.

Due to their involvement, the suspect was apprehended and my articles were returned to me.

These concerned people, all of them from the Tremont Street area were Mrs. Devlin, Kevin Garvey, (who apprehended the suspect), and Mrs. June Reilly and her family.

To them, and all others in the neighborhood, I'm deeply grateful for their assistance. I'm also proud to report suspect was not a "Townie", but an outsider from Revere!

However, due to a military obligation, I'm unable to see that justice will be done at this time.

Words alone cannot express the gratitude I feel. May God Bless and always protect these fine people, who bravely took the time to get involved.

Thank you once again from a proud "Townie"!!!
God Bless
Lindsay J. Kelly

Urges Support Of Globe Picket

The Charlestown Patriot
1 Thompson Square
Charlestown, Massachusetts
Dear Editor,

As the Regional Director of the Irish-American National Political Education Committee, I am conveying my thoughts on the ongoing Irish-American picket at the Boston Globe to the various Irish-American communities in the Metropolitan area. First, of all I would like to thank all the citizens of your community for helping us in this protest of anti-Irish racism on the part of the Globe.

As I am sure you heard of or read in the various Irish orientated papers and radio shows that the Boston Globe refuses to even make a clarification or apology to the Irish-American community regarding the anti-Irish "leprechaun" cartoon that appeared in the Globe in late July of this year. Martin Nolan an official at the Globe stated that no apology or clarification will ever be given. This same man's office walls at the Globe where adorned with caricatures of editorial cartoons of many years ago that depicted the Irish as apelike and inferior creatures.

The Boston Globe is anti-Irish. That is not an opinion but a fact proven by this incident. Letters have been sent to the Archdiocese of Boston's Convent Committee signed by many people from the various parishes in the Archdiocese demanding that the Globe be taken to task by that committee. After several weeks and two letters, the Committee has not even had the courtesy to grace us with an answer. If you are Irish, then justice or equality need not apply. The long held suspicion that organizations like the Convent Committee are hypocrites and care nothing for Irish rights or dignity is true.

Are we second class citizens whose pride and dignity is to be trampled over and not be defended? Are we a voiceless giant who sits back and takes this anti-Irish bigotry? Do you like to be told by the hypocritical bigots at the Globe that you are an inferior lowlife? Do you wish to take insults aimed at your heritage that demean your Irish ancestors and yourself? Have you the pride or dignity to call the Globe or your local politician and demand action in the form of an apology? Only you can answer these questions.

The Irish-Americans that are picketing the Globe each Saturday from 2 to 4 in Dorchester are doing this not only in defense of their heritage but yours too. At least our hearts and consciences are filled with pride for what we are. We will be at the Globe from 2 to 4 this Saturday because we consider ourselves and our ancestors before us to be more than rats. Will you do the same? Only your value of self esteem can answer that.

In Irish-American Unity
Kevin Patrick Murphy, Director
Region 7, Irish-American Political Education Committee

Your Child's Health . . .

Fever

Fever is the most common reason that parents consult the pediatrician. Fever usually means that a child has some kind of infection. A rise in body temperature is a normal response to the infection.

Most doctors consider an oral temperature of 100.4 degrees F or higher to be a fever. The rectal temperature is usually about one degree higher than the oral reading. Most pediatricians consider a rectal temperature over 101 degrees to be significant. It is often possible to tell if your child has a fever by feeling his forehead, but this is not always reliable. A temperature taken with a thermometer is the most accurate way. Most children under the age of four or five cannot hold an oral thermometer correctly under the tongue; a rectal reading is best in young children.

Fever makes children uncomfortable. In some children, high fevers can cause convulsions. Most pediatricians recommend that fevers be treated with aspirin or acetaminophen (Tylenol, Liquiprin, Tempra). Both of these drugs are effective in reducing fever, but sometimes one works better than the other in a particular child. Either of these can be given every four hours if necessary. The proper amount is written on the packages, but for very young children you should check with your pediatrician. If the fever is difficult to bring down with one drug, it is okay to alternate the two drugs at two-hour intervals, (example: aspirin at noon, four o'clock, eight o'clock; acetaminophen at two o'clock, six o'clock, ten o'clock).

The use of luke warm baths is also helpful in reducing fever. The child should sit in a tub of luke-warm water to the waist. A wash cloth is used to rub the child vigorously. This can be done every thirty minutes if necessary.

Most fevers in children are caused by viruses and will go away in two or three days without special treatment. Fevers lasting longer should be evaluated by a doctor. If your child has a fever along with a sore throat, ear ache, bad cough, severe stomach pain or headache, a trip to the doctor may be necessary. Any baby under three months of age with fever should be seen. High fevers (103-104 degrees F) are not unusual in young children, but a temperature of 105 degrees is worrisome, and a temperature of 106 degrees is an emergency.

Attend "Celebration Of Life" At St. Margaret's

Andrew Dabilis and his daughter Catherine Anne Dabilis of 112 Baldwin Street Charlestown, were among a thousand people attending the sixth Annual Intensive Care Nursery Reunion at St. Margaret's Hospital for Women.

The event turned out to be a veritable celebration of life that might never have happened had it not been for the Intensive Care Nursery at St. Margaret's Hospital which operates one of two perinatal and neonatal high-risk transfer centers in Boston.

Most parents see their children who have "graduated" from the Intensive Care Nursery at St. Margaret's Hospital as living miracles. In a way, they are right.

At the time of birth, these tiny patients are likely to have been either premature, or affected by some birth defect. Then, there are a number of cases involving disorders that sometimes accompany multiple births.

Just 15 years ago, for example, not very much could be done for hyaline membrane disease babies. Today, some 90% of these babies are saved and can look forward to a normal life. This is largely due to the utilization of new techniques and the highly specialized care at centers such as the Intensive Care Nursery (ICN) at St. Margaret's Hospital.

It was in 1969 that the ICN at St. Margaret's Hospital for Women was established by Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., M.D. Dr. Kennedy has remained Director ever since and is credited as being one of the central causes for the progress of this center for life. Today, the 35 crib Intensive Care Nursery at St. Margaret's Hospital is one of the largest in Massachusetts.

Immediately after delivery, premature newborns (sometimes weighing only a pound and a few ounces) or very sick infants are taken — or transferred in from other area hospitals — to the Intensive Care Nursery where a skilled team of neonatal specialists are on hand.

In certain cases with some high risk mothers, these specialists are called upon even earlier to help manage the final weeks of pregnancy.

"In situations where we anticipate the mother will deliver early," Dr. Kennedy points out, "we can intervene to try to gain a day or two to improve the baby's condition."

While prematurity remains a major threat to newborns, babies born nearly three months before full term can often be saved.

Still, there remain dangers which some of these infants must overcome. One of the more common hazards is apnea which occurs when these babies are so immature that they "forget" to breathe. They are then placed on electronically fitted mattresses so that if the baby stops breathing for as short a time as five seconds, an alarm rings.

To Dr. Kennedy and his associate, Marguerite Herschel, M.D., a major advantage of the Intensive Care Nursery team is the individualized attention. "The physicians and the nurses are able to zero in on each problem individually and in a style that features personalized care," said Dr. Kennedy.

Hundreds of grateful parents — and their miracle children are living testimony to professional excellence. They know this Hospital as a center for life. St. Margaret's Hospital for Women is a facility of the Archdiocese of Boston administered by the Daughters of Charity. St. Margaret's is also the largest Catholic obstetrical and gynecological Hospital in the United States and a major teaching hospital for the Tufts University School of Medicine.

Dad

You were here today, and gone tomorrow, you left the family with pain and sorrow, but I remember one night you said to me the Lord is up there just wait and see.

Just have faith in the man above and he will bless you with all his love. I know you'll miss us and we'll miss you but we'll be together someday and that fact is true.

Sears Road Tough But No Mission Impossible

by J. J. Smith

John W. Sears is buoyed by the fact that Frank Hatch versus Ed King four years ago was decided by political millimeters.

Now the big question looms as to how this Yankee Brahmin (Sears) will do against the son of Greek Immigrants (Mike Dukakis). The consensus is that Sears will be overwhelmed, yet to some, including this corner, the reality is that Sears faces a road that is tough but not mission impossible.

Comparing Sears with

Frank Hatch one is struck with the similarities: tall, wealthy, old line Yankees, Social Register pedigrees, etc. Yet there are strong differences. Sears is more personable, down-to-earth. He's shown an ability to win elections in a variety of offices — for example, first Republican elected to the Boston City Council in many years. Plus he's more of a fighter than Hatch.

Frank Hatch's base was traditional Republican — wealthy suburbs, especially the North Shore from whence he sprang. John Sears should retain that plus make better inroads in the populous Suffolk and Middlesex counties. Further, many Ed King supporters have opted for the GOP candidate rather

GRIPPING TALE ABOUT THE NORTH END

by Frank Segadelli

The Prescription is a compelling tale about cultural change and what occurs when people are caught in the conflicts it brings. The novel is set in a predominantly Italian section of a large city that has long resisted these changes. But events dramatically alter the community's life-style in a relatively short period of time.

In the novel, the three main characters, Doc Tricca, Father Peter, and Father Luigi, symbolically depict three "ideal" types. All three lack a fixed moral vision, a lacking endemic to modern urban man. Luigi's vision is based on memory, because the institutional supports, in his view, that had sustained these memories are diminished. Father Peter's perspective is nurtured by the prevailing cultural institutions. Doc Tricca is resigned to these changes but within him are memories of a different world, the old Northside; that is, a community that was formed and sustained by particular cultural institutions, i.e., the neighborhood, the church, the family, and the kinship system.

Beneath the veneer of the plot exists an interplay of forces that reflect universal themes of loyalty, treachery, revenge, and the fine line existing between moral and immoral acts. Francis Segadelli raises many questions. Does the end justify the means? Is revenge a necessary element in the human condition? Has the deterioration of tradition reduced man to animal?

Unlike the uncertainty the real world offers, The Prescription's surprise ending presents concrete solutions to these questions. While some may find its conclusion unsavory, others will agree with its inevitability. But no one will fail to be struck by its impact.

About the Author

Francis Segadelli was born and raised in the North End of Boston, Massachusetts. He has lived and worked there for forty-one years. From 1965-1979, he was employed at Christopher Columbus High School in the triple capacity of teacher, athletic director, and head coach of basketball and baseball.

His attachment to the area is both emotional and psychological. The closeness of the North End bred in him a wellspring of interpersonal relationships, which he has captured in this novel and in numerous short stories and poems written during the past ten years.

Pop Warner Corner

The Pop Warner D Team game played in Medford. Medford won 18-6. Charlestown D team scored its first touchdown of the year on a run by David Matson. The D team has not won yet, but they are learning how to play the game. Keep up the good work and hang in there.

The next D team game will be this Friday at Linden Park in Malden.

The C Team beat Somerville by the score of 6-0.

The touchdown was scored on a brilliant run by Michael Connell. The Charlestown C Team dominated play on both offense and defense but fumbled twice inside the ten yard line. Congratulations on your first win of the year. Keep up the good work.

In the B Team game, Charlestown won 19-6. The first touchdown was set up by a long pass from Ed

Sullivan to Lenny Hoey, then Sullivan passed to Kevin McGonagle, who made a great catch for the touchdown. The second touchdown was scored on a halfback pass from Jim Donovan to Danny Tucker. The third touchdown was scored on a nifty run by Kevin McGonagle. The defense again played an excellent game. Their only score came on a deflected

Aerobics Class

The Kent/Charlestown Community School Program has received a number of calls requesting an Aerobics Class. Several instructors have responded to an advertisement to teach the class. It is necessary for the Kent/Charlestown to know how many people are interested in taking this class as the fee for the class will depend upon how many participate. At this point the class could be offered as early as mid to late October. With twenty participants the fee for two nights week for ten weeks would be approximately $30. This breaks down to $1.00 an hour for instruction. The Community School could arrange for people to budget the fee over three weeks.

People interested in taking this course should call the Kent/Charlestown School at 242-2770 after 2:00 p.m. weekdays. We need to know the interest.

St. Mary's

Gym Hockey

St. Mary's Gym Hockey registration will be held on Saturday, October 23rd from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. in St. Mary's Parish Hall, Winthrop Street. Registration fee is $5.00.

C.Y.H. A. News

Now that the new season is underway, we are trying to get the ice schedules finalized so that we can print them in the Patriot.

The majority of the teams are starting slowly, which we expected, due to the lack of practice ice which the coaches and ice director are finding very hard to locate at respectable hours and prices. We will keep trying until our rink opens in November.

We are still looking for boys at the Squirt level (ages 9-10). Any boy interested in playing for C.Y.H.A., please call either Lou Marino, player personnel director, at 241-9010 or Jim Tucker, Squirt I Coach at 242-3470.

We are also going to make a concerted effort to let the community know about our financial plight, the cost of ice on the rise, plus insurance fees going up, along with rising registration fees and trying to help teams with tournament fees, etc., with the sponsorship going down and so far we are holding to last year's monthly cost.

We feel that over the years, C.Y.H.A. has brought a lot of pride and character for our boys and to our town with many accomplishments. In order to keep this tradition going full tilt, we are appealing to everyone to help out C.Y.H.A. in anyway possible. Please call Bo Whitlock, our treasurer, at 242-1225.

BOOSTER STICKERS

C.Y.H.A. has taken the initial effort to engage in an in-town fundraising with a booster sticker drive to start this weekend. The purpose of this drive will be to raise money for ice time, insurance, equipment, tournament fees and much, much more in the way of expenses which will occur during the months ahead.

Youth Hockey in Charlestown has been not only a TRADITION, but has enabled many kids of the town to further their abilities in local high schools, college programs across the country and some even to the heights of playing professional hockey and more recently, in having a representative from Charlestown on the U.S. (Gold Medal) Olympic Hockey team.

The kids of Charlestown Youth Hockey will be going door to door selling these boosters, and will be asking for your support so they can continue to have an opportunity to play in this sports program, which through the years has been facing an up hill battle, because of financial problems!

We now ask for your support and to show some of that "Charlestown Pride" by supporting the youth of Charlestown and displaying a Youth Hockey support booster either on your car or on your front door entrance.

Thank You!
Gratefully yours,
C.Y.H.A.

City Of President's Marathon October 17

The third annual City of Presidents marathon will be run Sunday, October 17, at 11 a.m. This is a full 26.2 mile marathon certified and sanctioned by the New England Athletics Congress and is being sponsored by the South Boston

Savings Bank, Stop and Shop and Pepsi Cola.

The marathon is run twice over the same 13.1 mile loop. It is run entirely within the City of Quincy. There are some hills, but for the most part, it is flat and fast, taking the runners by John Adams and John Quincy Adams birthplaces, the Adams Historical site and other Quincy landmarks.

Columbus Rips Hudson - Defense Sparkles

by Bob DeCristoforo

They say "variety is the spice of life" and if this be the case Christopher Columbus High has a "lively" football team. Variety was definitely the spice of their offensive unit this past Sunday as our Friars added to the St. Francis weekend celebration with a 32-0 victory over Hudson Catholic, winning another Catholic Suburban League title.

A large Columbus crowd looked on at sun drenched Hormel Stadium in Medford as five different scorers found the mark for the Friars early and often.

Sophomore surprise Brian O'Donnell put Columbus right on the board scoring what would be the game winner, on a 7 yard run early in the first quarter. "The Squirrel" would total 63 yards for the day.

Quarterback Mike Yandle added a touchdown pass to his totals on the next score connecting on a 30 yard pass with his favorite receiver Paul Papay. This was Papay's third TD of the year.

A Paul Gillis interception set up Columbus' next scoring series climaxed by QB Yandle twisting over from the 2 in a QB "sneak". Successfully rushing the extra points was Ron Riccioli.

Riccioli had Columbus' third quarter touchdown, when he went over on a good 7 yard run. Ronny's total for the day was an impressive 93 yard rushing.

With Dave Gillis opening the 4th quarter, the scoring continued, and the "hero" was Dave Gillis, who called his own quarterback sneak. This offensive series was started by a Gerard Yanovitch interception.

Kevin Lynch also had an interception for the Friars and Scott Gillis had a fine day pacing the defensive unit, which brings us to a key point. This Columbus team is winning because while the offense is scoring, the defense is superbly doing its job. This is their second shutout and for the year the Friars have given up just 8 points. If this combination continues the Friars just might be the '82 Suburban League Champs.

Notes from the Friar-ing

Pan: Columbus' Underclass Football team defeated Dom Savio on Friday 20-6. The player to watch is Dana Guy, with Columbus leading 14-8. Dana put the game out of reach, scoring on a fancy 81 yard run.

On Friday the Underclass team travels to Matignon for a 3:15 p.m. game. On Saturday Columbus coaches and captains attended the BC-Temple game. Sean Gordon of the '80 Super-bowl team hopes to have pre-Turkey Day blast.

In the Stands: Joining new Columbus' Principal, Fr. Robert Caprio OFM were many Columbus Varsity alumni among them 1981 Captain Ed Garvey (Wentworth); teammates

Bob Charbonnier and Steve Howard (both attending Bunker Hill Community College); Gerald Sullivan, 1980 football standout Steve Butler, Pat Considine, and John Kiley (Northeastern); hockey star Gerald McLaughlin; 1979 Captain Danny Coleman (Northeastern); Rocco LaCivita (Suffolk); and cheering their brothers on Frank DiCenso and Kevin Buckley. Kevin was the 1974 Football Captain.

On Sunday the Football Friars will be playing Cathedral in a 1:30 p.m. game at White Stadium.

pass. Jimmy Donovan made a too long run for a touchdown that was called back. Better luck next game, Jim. This is the B Team's third straight win.

In the A Team game, Charlestown beat Somerville again by the score of 13-6. This was the A Team's first victory of the year. The first touchdown was scored on a halfback pass from Addie Duraes to Shawn Baker. The second scored on a hard run by fullback David Leighton. The defense and offense played an outstanding game. Congratulations on your first win of the year.

This was the first time in many years that all three teams have beaten Somerville in one day. Thanks for a very joyful day and good luck against East Boston next Sunday.

Townie Tidbits

by Sal Giaratani

The twisted logic of Commissioner David Rosenbloom over inflating hospital bills for insured patients to cover the costs of uninsured ones is unbelievable.

Rosenbloom apparently feels the end justifies the means and that it is okay to have exorbitant fees that in no way match the actual costs of services provided and pass those costs onto insured patients and their insurance companies.

The intention of the Boston City Hospital may be all well and good as "the only way to pay for the poor," as the Commissioner justifies the action, but I still think the word is "cheating" and "fraud" when bills don't relate to actual medical care.

If this is how you save the City Hospital, then it's too late to be saved. Insured patients will not and should not desire any treatment in that institution if their insurance companies only partially cover them for actual costs. When insured patients stop using the City Hospital and only the poor use it, how will Rosenbloom finance it?

Either, the City completely subsidizes medical care performed there or shuts down the hospital. Citizens and taxpayers should demand the practice of overcharging one group to subsidize another group be halted.

The practice may seem practical to Health and Hospitals but its still robbing Paul to pay Peter and is unacceptable, unethical and unwise. The proposed aim of helping those who can not pay is also anti-poor because the final outcome could be no City Hospital at all!

The practice of overcharging is the wrong medicine if the bottom line is providing decent health care for all regardless of personal finances. The hole the hospital is in will only get deeper as the current policy continues.

One can image if a homeowner were to exorbitantly downplay the value of his or her property, would the city's tax collectors accept the twisted logic of David Rosenbloom? You know the answer to that question!!!

Views On Dental Health

by Jeffrey D. Cohen, D.M.D.

WHY A BRIDGE?

Is it really necessary to replace adult's missing teeth with a fixed bridge or partial denture? The answer is a definite YES! The reasons are quite simple.

When a tooth is lost, the adjacent teeth and the tooth (above or below) which acts as a biting partner, lose the support, strength and stabilizing influence which the lost tooth once provided. The remaining teeth will be subject to many problems such as drifting, abnormally exposed decay prone areas and, worst of all, periodontal disease. (The single largest cause of tooth loss in adults).

The loss of just one tooth, if not replaced by a fixed bridge or partial denture, will more than likely, ultimately cause the loss of more and more teeth. In many patients, it is only a matter of time until the destruction is complete.

The dental arch was designed by nature to have a complete set of teeth - one helping and protecting the other. Replacing missing teeth with a dental appliance will maintain this design as well as your smile and ability to eat properly.

Constituion Play-History Came Alive

Thousands of tourists from the United States and around the world flock to Boston each year to view and take part in that city's rich history and tradition.

The world's oldest warship still in commission—the USS Constitution—is a "must see" item on almost every tourist's schedule. "Old Ironsides" is boarded by people from around the world who want to see United States Navy tradition at its finest. And this past summer, visitors to the Constitution were able to watch some of that history come alive.

Tourists who visited the USS Constitution—located in Boston's National Historical Park in Charlestown—on Saturday or Sunday this past July and August were treated to a free showing of "Glory Through The Mist," a musical play written by John L. Barbetta and performed by crew members of the USS Constitution and students of Boston's Emerson College.

The play, which was performed beside the Constitution at her berth in the historical park and actually used the Constitution for part of its setting, portrayed a fictional account of the Constitution's glory days during the War of 1812.

Five local Emerson College students participated in the play, along with eight crew members of the Constitution, who rotated in and out of the production because there were only 10 characters in the play.

"I wanted to get crew members from the Constitution in on the play so we would have people who could really relate to the characters being

Ray Bolger To Attend Footlight Parade

Ray Bolger has accepted the invitation from the Boston Theatre District Association to attend the Fourth Annual Footlight Parade on Friday evening, October 8th, at the Boston Park Plaza Hotel.

Bolger, a native of Dorchester, will kick off the 1982-1983 theatre season in Boston and help a group of volunteer supporters raise funds for the Boston Theatre District Association. The Association was founded in 1977 by owners of theatres, restaurants, shops and hotels that make up the area. Money raised will supplement public funds and will be used for the revitalization of the district.

A highlight of Footlight Parade will be the presentation of the Boston Theatre District Award to Bolger. The award is presented annually to a person originally from the Boston area who has made a significant contribution to theatre. Bolger is best known for his memorable role as the endearing Scarecrow in the 1939 movie, Wizard of Oz, and for his stage and screen appearances in Where's Charley? Also being honored at the event is Lowell native, Bette Davis. Her award will be accepted by her son, Michael Merrill, a Brookline selectman.

The annual Footlight Parade was conceived to include the audience. Guests are encouraged to become instant celebrities, either in formal attire or costumed as their favorite stage or screen personalities. As patrons walk the footlights, a panel of celebrity judges will review the grand promenade and prizes will be awarded for best group, best couple, best individual, and most outrageous costumes.

Celebrity judges include Dana Hersey of WSBK-TV (Channel 38), Jan Holmes of WCVB-TV (Channel 5), and Jan Harrison of WNEV-TV (Channel 7).

Tax deductible tickets for Footlight Parade are $20. each and are available at Bostix and all American Express Travel Offices. For information, call 536-1448.

This time around, too, Sears has a unified Republican party behind him, and probably will be a more attractive alternative to Dukakis from the standpoint of the business community. All of this translates into more dollar support than was accorded Hatch. An early poll after the primary showed Dukakis ahead of Sears by about 2-1 whereas at a similar period four years ago King led Hatch nearly 3-1.

The above reflect some of the rosier aspects of Sears' current position. He has problems, not the least of which is his aforementioned Yankee background. The mass of Democratic voters he must enlist to his cause are wary of those with Harvard pedigrees — equating it with the Yankee stereotype: aloofness, arrogance, and, worse, stinginess. Sears must join the various Roosevelts and Kennedys who have overcome the Harvard label by showing they differed from the stereotype. He's had ample local illustrations to buoy his hopes that this can be overcome — names like Saltonstall, Richardson, Herter and especially, the gregarious, likeable Frank Sargeant whose image Sears more closely reflects.

What Sears faces is an opponent with somewhat more resources at command as the relatively short race to November 2 enters the full steam phase. The Duke is much better organized than was King four years ago in terms of campaign organization and the coalition of individuals and groups, including labor, backing him. Dukakis will try to hang the Reaganomics label around Sears' neck, a problem not faced by Hatch. And independent Frank Rich may take some pro-King votes. Republican as well as Democrat, that normally would tilt to Sears.

To win, Sears must focus on Dukakis' ideological leanings and performance as governor, and persuade rank and file Democrats that it will not be a major sin to vote for a Republican. He must offer himself as a different alternative.

The main Sears problem is that he is too similar to Dukakis — each has a Harvard connection, each has a record as a liberal, reformist, a good government or "goo-goo" type. Given a choice between two candidates, one Republican and the other Democrat, who are perceived as virtual mirror images, your Massachusetts voter will vote Democratic in sufficiently larger numbers to provide victory.

Massachusetts is noted for close gubernatorial elections. The road for Sears is long, rocky and planted with landmines. He can win but it won't be easy, and it would be a major upset.

(J.J. Smith's comments appear in 62 Massachusetts newspapers)

Charlestown Police Line

From the desk of Deputy Superintendent Joseph V. Saia Jr.
Commanding Officer District A
Charlestown, East Boston, Downtown

I am happy to say that at 7:00 p.m. on October 12, the first Police Community Meeting will be held at the Kent School. Please attend. The more residents that attend, the more positive the results.

Last week the crime statistics for the month of August were published. The first eight months of 1982 were compared to the first eight months of 1981 with the following results: Part one crimes (Murder, manslaughter, rape, robberies, aggravated assaults, all B&E's, larcenies and auto thefts), were down 7.7%.

Hopefully we can continue with this improvement. Keep in mind that many arrests were a direct result of the community residents calling the police when they observed suspicious persons or acts. The police need the eyes and ears of the community. Please call when you observe anything or anyone that is questionable. Thank you.

The following are some incidents and arrests that occurred in Charlestown the past week.

STOLEN PROPERTY

Officers Wallace and Langlois arrested one male from Charlestown who was observed throwing a car radio to the ground after being spotted by police. Officers gave chase and arrested him on charges of possession of stolen goods.

BURGLARY TOOLS

Officers from District A arrested a juvenile from Charlestown for possession of burglary tools at an Austin Street parking lot.

RAPE

DRIVING UNDER THE INFLUENCE

Honored

The Stop & Shop Companies, Inc. inducted 108 new 25 year employees to its celebrated Quarter Century Club during a luncheon held at the Chateau de Ville in Randolph, Massachusetts, on October 5, 1982. This year's luncheon marked the 35th anniversary of the program.

Employees from Stop & Shop Supermarkets, Bradlees, Department Stores, Medi Mart Drug Stores, and the Stop & Shop Manufacturing Company were welcomed by Sidney R. Rabb, Chairman of the Board and Irving W. Rabb, Vice Chairman.

Among the employees honored from Charlestown was Russell A. Girouard, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucian B. Perreault of 5A West School Street, Charlestown, have recently returned from a trip to the northeast during which time they attended the 63rd annual reunion of the Society of the Third Infantry Division held in West Point, New York.

The Society of the Third Infantry Division was organized in France in 1919 by former members of the Division who had served with the Division during World War I. The Society currently includes members from World Wars I and II as well as Korea and peacetime service. Some of the present members served with the 15th Infantry Regiment in China prior to World War II.

Veterans who served honorably with the Division or any of the units which supported the Division are eligible for membership in the Society.

The Third Infantry Division is one of the most distinguished Divisions in the United States Army with some of the Nation's outstanding combat leaders having served with the Division. These include President Eisenhower who commanded the 1st Battalion of the 15th Infantry; and General George C. Marshall whose first assignment after being commissioned was with the 30th Infantry and later commanded the 15th Infantry when it was stationed in China.

During World War I the Division won outstanding honors and was signally honored by the French for holding a critical position during the battle of the Marne where it earned the nickname "Rock of the Marne". When ordered by the French commander to hold its position, General Dickman, the Division Commander, replied, "Nous Resteron La" (we will remain there).

The Marne spirit is clearly reflected in the achievements of former Division members; forty-nine have won the Nation's highest award for bravery, the Medal of Honor (sometimes incorrectly referred to as the Congressional Medal of Honor) which is more than any other Division. Audie Murphy, the Nation's most decorated soldier, was a member of the Third Infantry Division. In Korea the Division won two Presidential Citations.

The active Division is currently stationed in West Germany where it has been a vital cog in the NATO forces since 1958.
