Residents Asked To Comment On City Square Park Designs

by Kathy Giordano

Consultants from Childs Bertman Tseckares and Casendino (CBT) brought six schematic designs depicting alternative approaches to the construction of a park to the City Square Park Committee meeting on Aug. 6. Representing CBT were Maury Childs, Tony Casendino and Dave O'Connor. Stephen Collins, Charlestown liaison with the Central Artery/Tunnel and Central Artery/North Area (CANA) projects, chaired the meeting.

Childs stated that the park designs came as a result of public input at meetings held during the spring and summer months of this year. Comments made at these meetings defined the ingredients that residents wanted to see in the park, which will be constructed after the CANA project is completed. These concepts included: passive recreation space with trees; benches and grass; a gateway to Charlestown; a foreground for the court house and Roughan Hall; an opportunity for interpretations of Charlestown's history; a setting for the Veterans Memorial; a buffer from Rutherford Avenue/Chelsea Street traffic; and acknowledgement of significant view corridors.

The alternative plans prepared by CBT incorporated these suggestions:

- Alternative A features a structure depicting the Great House, a plaza with decorative pavement, the Veterans Memorial, benches and an historic map with interpretive inscriptions.

- Alternative B incorporates the Veterans Memorial, a relocated Great House representation, an historic map with interpretive inscription and a gateway arch with wing wall made of wrought iron fencing with interpretative panels and a paved plaza.

- A Great House frame exhibit is featured in Alternative C on a decorative paved plaza. It also includes wood trellises, benches and a six-foot brick wall along Chelsea Street and Rutherford Avenue as a buffer to traffic.

- The Veterans Memorial and Great House are prominently displayed in Alternative D that also includes shrubbery, a grassy knoll and granite columns around a decorative paved plaza.

- Alternative E is encased by a wrought iron fence on brick piers. Within the park a ground trace of the Great House, the Veterans Memorial, benches, paved plazas and lawns are included.

- The final plan submitted by CBT, Alternative F, includes the Veterans Me-

Dillon Heading Cappucci Campaign In Charlestown

JOHN DILLON (left) has been named Charlestown coordinator for the Bob Cappucci campaign for city council. Dillon said, "I met Cappucci back in 1982 when he ran for Congress. During the campaign, he came to my house no less than three times looking for my vote. I finally decided anybody that works that hard campaigning would make an excellent elected official for the people of Charlestown. That's when I decided to help him." Cappucci (right) is shown welcoming Dillon on board for the campaign.

Joseph J. Kent Dies At 58

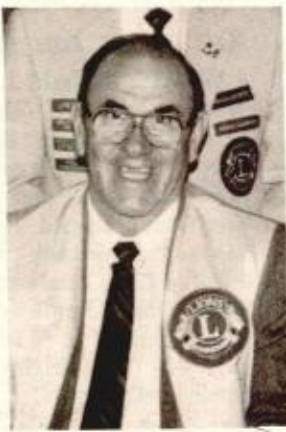

When you think about service to the community and working for its residents, one of the names that comes to mind is Joe Kent. Whether it be a booster for the Bunker Hill Day Parade, a chance book for the O'Reilly Scholarship Fund, a light bulb for the Lions Club — to name a few — Joe was there, usually accompanied by his wife Margie, to help support the people of the town who were near and dear to him.

The community has lost a caring son with the death of Joseph J. Kent, 58, on Sunday, Aug. 4 at Mass. General Hospital following a brief illness.

A lifelong resident of Charlestown, Joe was a 1950 graduate of Brighton High School. During the Korean War, he served with the U.S. Coast Guard.

Joe was appointed to the Boston Fire Department in June 1962 and assigned to Engine 11 in East Boston. He was later transferred to Charlestown's Ladder 9 and Engine 32.

Retiring from the Fire

JOSEPH J. KENT

Department in October 1979, Joe put his interest in coin and stamp collecting on a professional basis as he opened Badger Coin Shop at One Thompson Square.

It was from his shop in the old Charlestown Savings Bank building that Joe became increasingly involved in community organizations. He later worked for the Boston Redevelopment Authority.

Joe had been a member of the Society of St. Florian, the Boston Firemen's Mutual Relief Association and the Boston's Firemen's Relief Fund.

He began increasing his activity within the town by assisting the Bunker Hill Day Parade Committee with its fund-raising efforts including this year's event when he and Margie set up lawn chairs in the Bunker Hill Mall to sell parade boosters, shortly before he entered the hospital in June.

He assisted Margie in the planning and preparations for the Charlestown Elderly Thanksgiving Dinner, raising the funds necessary to host some 450 seniors at the annual event.

Joe held membership in the Old Charlestown Schoolboys Association and the Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society. It was his Irish heritage that led to his involvement with the Friends of John Boyle O'Reilly, an Irish patriot who lived in this community and died here just over 100 years ago this week. Joe worked with a committee that planned and dedicated a memorial to O'Reilly in Thompson Square and formed an annual scholarship to assist a local boy and girl with their college plans.

He was also a member of the Licensed Builders Trade and the Disabled American Veterans Post 27 in Somerville.

Joe served as treasurer and later as president of the J.F. Kennedy Family Service Center. For his contributions of time and effort, he was awarded the Action for Boston Community Development annual outstanding citizen award. He has also been an active participant in the Charlestown Lions Club.

Joe has been best known in recent years for his efforts on behalf of "Townie Santa," a volunteer program that raises funds to provide baskets of food and toiletry items and delivers them just before Christmas each year to over 100 of Charlestown's elderly, needy shut-ins. Joe, along with three other residents, sat down one day some years back and decided that a program was needed to provide some Christmas cheer for those unable

Barrett's Winner In 'Use Your Noodle' Competition

Jeffrey Leeber of Barrett's on Boston Harbor restaurant is declared the national winner of the National Pasta Association's second annual "Use Your Noodle" family restaurant competition. The winning recipe, "Shrimp and Chicken Cajun," was selected by leading food editors, culinary experts and their children as the country's best-tasting, most-convenient pasta recipe for today's busy families.

Last month, NPA selected finalists from hundreds of entries received from across the country. The recipes incorporate dry packaged U.S.-produced pasta and meet a certain 1990s criteria: can be prepared in less than 30 minutes; includes practical, time-saving cooking techniques; contains a variety of easy-to-find ingredients; and has a delicious flavor that all family members will enjoy.

The final "Use Your Noodle" cook-off at the French Culinary Institute in New York City, was judged by NPA's pasta experts, prominent food editors, restaurant critics and their families. Adults and children alike evaluated the dishes on originality, creative use of commonly found ingredients, taste and the visual appeal of the finished product.

On behalf of the five winners, NPA donated 10,000 pounds of pasta to Second Harvest, the nation's largest feeding organization for the homeless and hungry. This pasta donation will feed more than 80,000 hungry men, women and children across the country.

As the winner of the "Use Your Noodle" competition, Barrett's on Boston Harbour will receive a free supply of U.S.-manufactured pasta during National Pasta Month, October 1991. Home cooks interested in copies of the recipes should send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to "1991 Use Your Noodle," 40 West 57th St., Suite 1400, New York, NY 10019.

BARRETT'S ON BOSTON HARBOUR restaurant won the National Pasta Association's recent "Use Your Noodle" family restaurant competition with Chef Jeffrey Leeber's recipe "Shrimp and Chicken Cajun." Karen Sullivan of "Pasta h h h" presents Leeber with a supply of pasta.

WHEN A LOW OFFER COMES IN

Your dining room table is the scene of high drama. Your home has been listed for sale for six months, and finally an offer has come in. You are meeting with the agents, and the offer sounds terrific until you get to the price. It's a whole lot less than you had expected.

Before you pass out or feel offended, remember that the first offer is often just the beginning of a negotiating process. Your agent can help you to weigh the good and bad points, and sometimes an offer with a low price can look quite attractive once you understand all of the terms. If you are willing to make some compromises, the buyers may accept a counter offer that will net you more money. Also, a lower price from highly qualified buyers may be better than one from people who may have difficulties getting financing.

For solid advice on buying or selling real estate, consult the professionals at Monument Properties. Please call us at 241-5900 or stop by our offices at 85 Warren St. in Charlestown.

to attend the holiday parties in the town. And thus Townie Santa was born — a program that has flourished and grown for nine Christmases. Joe served as its treasurer for eight of those nine years, and always began to think ahead to next year as the wrappings and ribbons were put away in January.

There will be many a chair vacant in this town with the passing of Joe — chairs in each of the various organizations in which he took an active role — along with the chair in The Coffee Shop at Thompson

Square and the chair just up from the corner of Elm and Bunker Hill streets where he presided each summer. Joe had a heart of gold, and he will be sorely missed.

Joe leaves his wife Margaret M. "Margie" (O'Neill) Kent and a stepson, Walter Landry of Charlestown. He was the grandfather of Jennifer Landry.

He also leaves brothers and sisters: James F. of Charlestown, Daniel F. of Winthrop, Mary M. Keane, Anna Kent, John "Mike" Kent, all of Charlestown, and Margaret O'Brien of West Roxbury.

A Funeral Mass was said on Aug. 8 at St. Francis de Sales Church, and interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery in Malden. Funeral arrangements were made by the Frank H. Carr Funeral Home.

Donations in Joe's memory may be made to St. Francis de Sales Church Building Fund, 303 Bunker Hill St., Charlestown.

Not For Nothin' . . . But Have You Heard . . .

• Who'd A Thought . . . that Charlestown was considered a "suburb?" Well, according to a front page story in this week's "Boston Business Journal" entitled "Black Businesses Flee Inner City for Suburbs," one drywall contractor has moved his business here from Mattapan. He relates in the story that he has watched his bank credit line triple, allowing him to bid on more contracts, and he has tripled his sales to more than $3 million! There's more about us here in the "burbs!" . . . Listen! . . . We have prestigious addresses, safer neighborhoods, lower rents (?) and better bank credit! . . . Well, ain't I impressed!?

• Going For The Gold . . . Word out of St. Cloud, Minn. is good for the Northeast and great for Boston University and Charlestown as "one of our own" secured a spot in the ranks of the pre-Olympic travel squad of the U.S Olympic Hockey Team. Keith Tkachuk, a sophomore at Boston University and a forward on its hockey team, grew up on Cook Street here in Charlestown and attended Malden Catholic High School. The "Townies" wish you well, Keith, as you begin your grueling schedule and reach for the gold!

• Rescue at Sea . . . was witnessed from the Charlestown Navy Yard last week when BRA's own Bob Rush was spotted drifting toward the East Boston waterfront in his new sailboat. Word from one who was there at the end of Pier 6 watching the happenings was that rescue came before long and towed Bob back to the Navy Yard and safe haven . . . Better work out all those kinks, Bob, before that planned trip up the coast to Maine!

• Congratulations . . . to Jimmy and Kathleen Walsh of St. Martin Street on the birth of their son, Shaun Michael Patrick, on Aug. 2nd. Big sister Caitlin is thrilled with the arrival — so too are Grandpa and Grandma Walsh, Mike and Mary! . . . Warmest best wishes to one and all!

• One Year Ago This Week . . . St. Catherine CYO opened its doors to Charlestown's youth. Wow, what a year it's been! . . . Newworld Bank in Thompson Square was robbed in broad daylight by a lone gunman . . . and the community started to pay tribute to the servicemen and women being sent to the Persian Gulf through the pages of the Patriot.

• Four Lovely Ladies . . . will celebrate birthdays this week! Twin sisters, Sandra and Tina Hennessey will turn 21 on Aug. 9th . . . Sheila Sweeney will mark the ? anniversary of her 21st as well . . . and Mary Golding will turn a youthful 83 today, the 8th . . . Have a wonderful year, gals!

• A Familiar Name . . . can be heard when calling the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services press person. David Grady was once a reporter with that other newspaper in town (can't quite remember its name) until its departure from the scene . . . Glad you're back, David. Good luck in your new position!

• Madame Secretary . . . is her newest title! Bunker Hill Community College President Piedad Robertson will take on the duties of Secretary of Education for the Commonwealth on Sept. 1st . . . We wish her all the best in her position and know she'll be missed at the college.

• North End Feast . . . this weekend will honor Madonna Della Cava and it will take place on Hanover and Battery streets. The 71st annual celebration for the Madonna will be held from Friday, Aug. 9 through Sunday, Aug. 11. For more info, call 523-8842.

• Ahhhh . . . the Dog Days of Summer end officially on Sunday, Aug. 11th!

• Countdown . . . Get out and enjoy, kiddies! There's only 28 days left 'till the first day of school!

• Southpaws Unite . . . Aug. 13 is your day — International Left-Handers' Day.

★ Bunker Hill Street — The traffic signal located on Bunker Hill Street that allows pedestrians to cross between the Doherty Park and St. Francis de Sales School will be getting some needed adjustments, according to Boston Transportation Commissioner Richard A. Dimino, as part of the Traffic Safety Improvement Program.

The program includes upgrading the traffic signal and wheelchair ramps, and the installation of underground detectors that will minimize delays to both pedestrians and vehicles. The safety program began in July and will run through the end of 1992.

Boston-based contractor Mario M. Susi has been awarded the contract for the $1.2 million project that includes 20 signalized intersections throughout Boston's neighborhoods.

Dimino stated: "Public safety in the neighborhoods is one of Mayor Flynn's top priorities. In an effort to improve pedestrian and driver safety, the BTM has made great strides upgrading the city's signal system over the past few years."

★ Lowney Way — The installation of barriers on Lowney Way has not only reduced traffic to one lane, but has also limited access for emergency vehicles to Tremont and Mt. Vernon streets. Therefore, the BTM has posted signs on these two streets prohibiting parking 20 feet back from Lowney Way.

The barriers will remain on Lowney Way for the duration of the Central Artery/North Area (CANA)/Tobin Bridge connection project, stated Stephen Collins, community liaison for the project. BTM spokesman Jim Mansfield stated that the "No Parking - Fire Lane" signs will be enforced until the project is completed.

For questions or more information on the project, call Collins at 951-6005.

★ Bunker Hill Housing Development — The Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force met with The Patriot last week to outline their concerns with the ongoing reconstruction project in the housing development. According to Task Force members, the work taking place in the vacant apartments is not in accordance with a written agreement signed by the Boston Housing Authority (BHA) and the Tenants Task Force. This agreement, they stated, came out of many hours of meetings between the two parties. Chairperson Anne Considine said that the agreement outlined the "nuts and bolts" of the reconstruction work "right down to the color of the paint on the walls."

Tenants Task Force members first found out about the discrepancies in the reconstruction contract last week when they were given a tour of the units being rehabed. What they found during the tour left them in shock, wondering whose decision it was to change the plans without consulting them.

As a result of the work being done under the reconstruction contract, they stated, room sizes have been reduced to a below zoning code level, especially the single bedrooms which have gone from 8 feet by 6 feet to 7 feet by 5 feet. This reduction in size came about as the result of installing the new wiring onto existing walls and covering it with sheetrock and plaster.

Other concerns with the contract include the installation of electrical outlets 18 inches above the floor level, making it convenient for a toddler to place a finger or toy into the outlet; and the installation of outlets under window sills where they could get wet from rain water. Also, Tenants Task Force members were upset with the additional loss of room size by the boxing in old heating pipes. In addition, these pipes have been made accessible through a vent in the enclosure without the removal of many coats of lead paint, a situation that could also create a health hazard to the families.

According to Considine, all units being refurbished are vacant as part of the BHA relocation policy with the housing development. She stated that residents wishing to return to their apartments would find it difficult due to the reduction in room sizes in the units.

The Tenants Task Force is asking Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to have the work stopped immediately before any other units are touched. They are also asking HUD to include a demolition contract along with the reconstruction contract, automatically granting additional funds to demolish walls in the apartments which will allow all utilities to be installed within the newly constructed walls rather than on top of the existing walls and then covered.

Discussions between the tenants and BHA continue this week. Considine stated that the assistance of city and state elected officials has also been sought to help their effort to have HUD respond to their request. A tour of the units by city and state representatives is being requested from BHA to see firsthand the Tenants Task Force complaints.

★ Charlestown Navy Yard ... Update — The three-alarm fire in Building 206 on Second Avenue has raised some degree of suspicion as to what is hidden within the walls of vacant buildings in the Yards End section of the Navy Yard. The July 24 blaze was the third fire of suspicious origin in that area since June, an area that had become a dumping ground for late-night violators trying to save the cost of properly disposing of debris ranging from household items to, some believe, hazardous waste.

Shortly after the July 24 fire was extinguished in Building 206, the Department of Environmental Protection arrived in the Air Quality Monitor Control Unit at the request of Boston Fire Department officials. The unit checked the air quality of the surrounding area but reportedly found no evidence of pollutants, much to the relief of the firefighters who fought the blaze and residents of the Navy Yard. Fire officials had called DEP concerned that chemicals were stored in the burned out building.

On July 25, the DEP Hazardous Waste team arrived in the Navy Yard for an inspection that resulted in the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA)'s receipt of a "Notice of Responsibility" report to be filed with DEP on any hazardous materials that might be dumped in their Navy Yard properties. The Boston Fire Department made similar investigations under the direction of Capt. Richard Hartnett, the special hazard inspector for the department. During Hartnett's search, 15 barrels were discovered in Building 106, another vacant structure in the area hit by the suspicious fires.

As a result of the various investigations, the BRA has since cleaned out all vacant buildings in the Yard's End section and boarded up all means of entry. According to a BRA spokesperson, routine patrols of the area will hopefully eliminate any further dumping problems.

Lt. Richard Powers, Fire Department spokesman, stated that his department will continue to make routine visits to the Navy Yard to inspect the area for evidence of hazardous materials and the safety of abandoned buildings.

ald Duck's toy sailboat; "Fish Is Fish" tells the story of a fish who tries life on land; and Towser's friends attempt to cure his toothache in "Towser and the Dentist."

kle Juice," shown only at 3:30 p.m.

Residents Asked To Comment On City Square Park Designs

morial and an Historic Structures Foundation trace on the ground, benches, wood trellises and cut stone and brick pavements.

Charlestown resident Carl Zellner, a city planner who was formerly associated with the Boston Landmark Commission, submitted a park plan to the committee that features a six-point star in the center with paved walkways stretching out toward the edge of the park. The center star points out historic aspects of Charlestown, Zellner stated. His plan also includes the Veterans Memorial plus the inclusion of a granite bench dedicated to World War I veterans, the Great House, a farmer's market, water fountain, bandstand, flower beds and a game board placed on the pavement. The Paul Revere steps taken from City Square before the CANA project began is also incorporated in Zellner's plan.

Collins stated that copies of the alternative designs can be picked up at The Charlestown Patriot, One Thompson Square, and the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St. Space is included in the package for comments and suggestions for the park's final design. These City Square Park comment sheets should be returned to the Patriot or the library, or mailed to Collins at: Central Artery/Third Harbor Tunnel, One South Station — 5C, Boston, Mass. 02110, by Aug. 19.

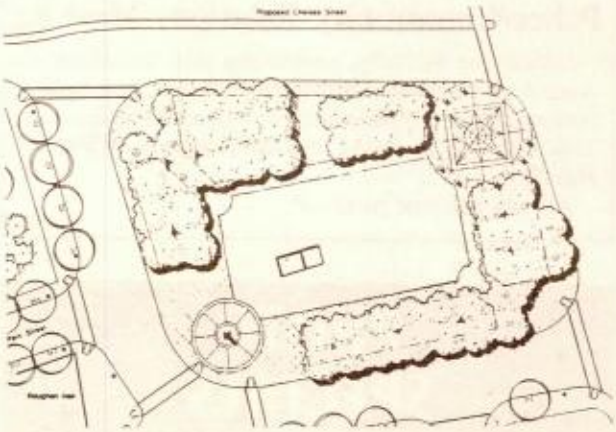

For more information, contact Collins at 951-6005.

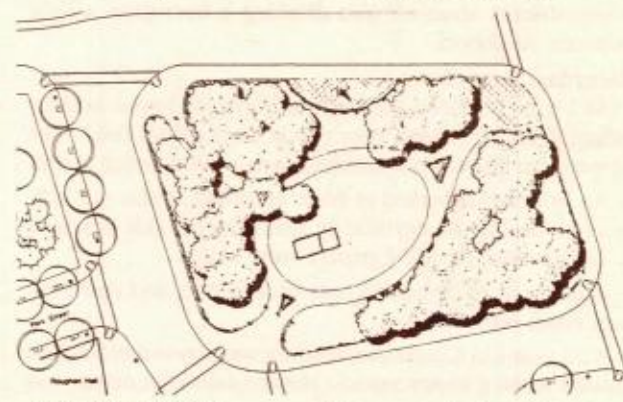

ALTERNATIVE A features a structure depicting the Great House, a plaza with a decorative pavement, the Veterans Memorial, benches and an historic map with interpretive inscriptions.

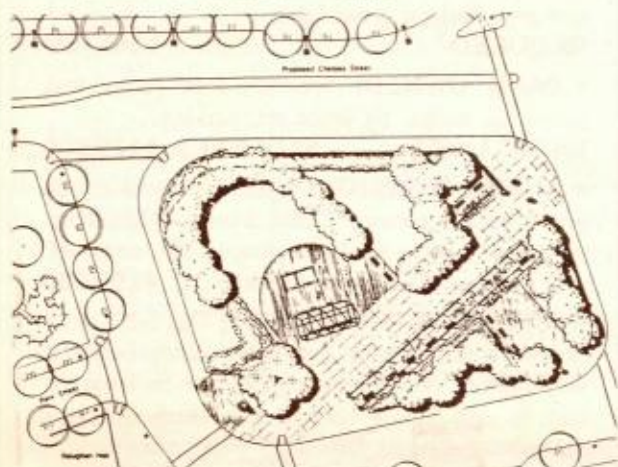

ALTERNATIVE B incorporates the Veterans Memorial, a relocated Great House representation, an historic map with interpretive inscriptions and a gateway arch with a wing wall made of wrought iron fencing. The plan would include interpretative panels and a paved plaza.

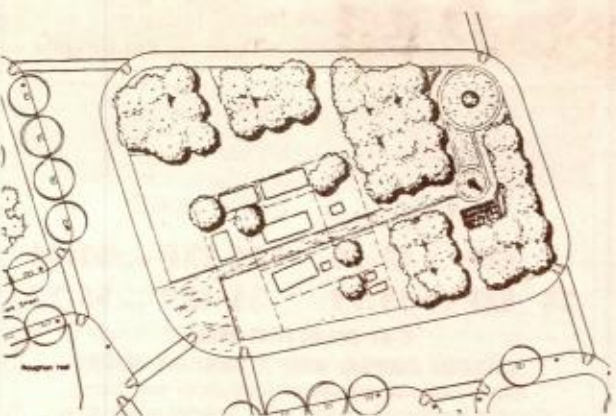

ALTERNATIVE D prominently displays the Veterans Memorial and the Great House. The plan also includes shrubbery, a grassy knoll and granite columns around a decorative paved plaza.

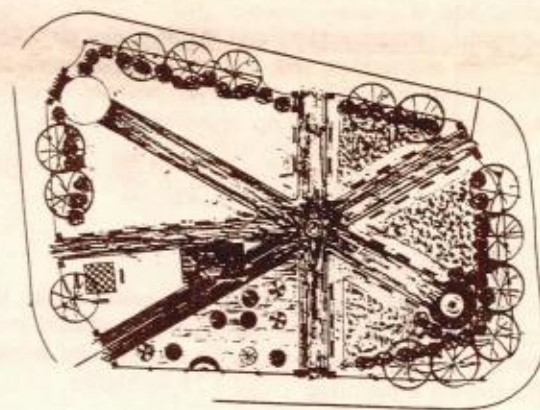

ALTERNATIVE E is encased in a wrought iron fence on brick piers. A ground trace of the Great House is included as are the Veterans Memorial, benches, paved plazas and lawns.

ALTERNATIVE C features a Great House frame exhibit on a decorative paved plaza. It also includes wood trellises, benches and a six-foot brick wall along Chelsea Street and Rutherford Avenue as a buffer to traffic.

ALTERNATIVE F includes the Veterans Memorial and an Historic Structures Foundation trace on the ground. There would also be benches, wooden trellises and cut stone and brick pavement.

CHARLESTOWN resident Carl Zellner designed and submitted a park plan to the committee that includes a six-point star in the center with paved walkways radiating out to the edge of the park. His plan includes the inclusion of the Veterans Memorial, a granite bench dedicated to WW I veterans, the Great House, a farmer's market, water fountain, bandstand, flower beds and a game board on the pavement.

■ Bunker Hill Ball Hockey . . . Going into this week the standings in the 20-and-Under League are as follows:

Butt Pirates	5-0-0
JAFT	3-2-0

ADULT MEDICINE UNIT WELCOMES TWO NEW DOCTORS

The Adult Medicine Unit at the Bunker Hill Health Center is pleased to announce the addition of Dr. Jill Jones and Dr. Will Schmitt to our practice. Drs. Jones and Schmitt are residents in the Primary Care Internal Medicine Program at the Mass. General Hospital who will be joining our practice for the next three years. They will be working in collaboration with Dr. Mark Eisenberg, the Unit Chief of Adult Medicine. This is an exciting new collaboration between the Department of Medicine at the MGH and the Bunker Hill Health Center.

Dr. Jones is from Wisconsin and graduated magna cum laude from Lawrence University with a BA in science and biology in 1986. She then went to Stanford University School of Medicine, receiving her M.D. in June of 1991. While in medical school she was a member of the Admissions Committee and in 1990 spent two months working in a hospital in Liberia.

DR. JILL JONES

Dr. Schmitt is from California and went to Yale University where he graduated summa cum laude in 1983. He then went to Harvard Medical School, graduating in June of 1991. Prior to medical school he did a year of research in Geriatrics at the Beth Israel Hospital. During medical school he did research at Brigham and Women's hospital on the chronic fatigue syndrome.

DR. WILL SCHMITT

These physicians have chosen to come to the Bunker Hill Health Center because of their interest in working in a neighborhood health center setting. We expect that they will be a positive addition to our practice.

Getting Set For Bunker Hill Day Road Race

Charlestown runners, just recovered from the annual Bunker Hill Day 8K Road Race, had better be prepared for the toughest fight yet as the Rem Running Club is not letting a weekend go by without competing in an event . . . that is when they can find the course!

Now . . . for the rest of the story. Reports have it that last Sunday morning, the Rem runners, led by their captain Ned Rosselli, arrived at a dock in downtown Boston for a boat trip to Thompson's Island in Boston Harbor and competition in the first annual Back Bay Road Race.

Attired in their most stylish running gear, the six were directed by a crew member, so it has been told, to board a certain boat, and soon they were on their way to racing fame and fortune. Yes? No! The group noted that considerable time had elapsed as the ship plowed through the harbor out into the open sea. They finally stopped their warm-up exercises long enough to ask when they would land at Thompson's Island.

Thompson's Island? was the reply . . . this boat stops next in Provincetown!

Well there they were . . . Rosselli, John Murphy, Frankie Keene, Joe Hennessey, Billy Smith and Edith Evans . . . off on a Provincetown holiday! The club got back into Boston in the early evening with this story . . . stranger than fiction.

Rosselli said that he and Keene ran six miles in Provincetown, so it wasn't a wasted day. What else do you do when you don't have a dime in your pocket?

This group will have to beware next Bunker Hill Day . . . someone directing runners with an arrow could have them racing on the road to New Hampshire!

*May you always walk in sunshine,
 And God's love around you flow,
 For the happiness you gave us,
 No one will ever know.
 It broke our hearts to lose you,
 But you did not go alone,
 A part of us went with you,
 The day God called you home.
 A million times we've needed you,
 A million times we've cried,
 If love could only have saved you,
 You never would have died.*

The Lord be with you and may you rest in peace. Amen

*As a friend of mine you could never be
 A better friend than you were to me.
 They were ours for the taking,
 Those dreams that we shared.
 And the both of us knew
 Just how much the other cared.
 Now you have been taken from me
 Taken far away
 But there is still so much more to you
 I want and need to say.
 My memories are long and full
 And forever there you will live
 For to me the friendship and love you gave
 Were your greatest gifts to give.*

I Love and Miss You,

Burns Active In CHAD Tennis

DAVID BURNS of Polk Street, a member of the Charlestown Against Drugs (CHAD) Tennis Club, tried out for the U.S. Youth Games along with teammate Jeffrey Andrea. Burns performed extremely well over the course of the eight-week tryout period, exhibiting all of the qualities indicative of a champion. It is no small accomplishment that he seriously challenged more experienced players in his quest for a spot on the team. CHAD Coach Tom Desmond said: "Watching David and Jeffrey go through this grueling tryout evoked in me tremendous pride and astonishment. We are very fortunate to have such young people living in Charlestown." Desmond stated that Burns impressed all the coaches and they expect him to be a successful high school and college player.

Our Thanks

Dear Gloria, On behalf of our family we would like to thank The Charlestown Patriot and the people of Charlestown for all the support you provided our son Matthew while he was stationed in the Persian Gulf until his recent death.

We are especially grateful to our family and friends, too numerous to mention, for all the help and support we received during this difficult time in our lives. Many thanks to all of you.

BHCC's Camp Of Many Faces . . .
A Wonderful Experience

To the Editor, Thanks to Bunker Hill Community College, Dr. Piedad Robertson and the Student Activities Department, this summer has been an enriching and enjoyable one for the youngsters attending the college's Camp of Many Faces.

The camp's staff is both an asset and a credit to the college. Each staff member treated the children with warmth, kindness and caring throughout the four-week session. We wish to extend special thanks to John Downey, Chuck Shairs, Mary Hayes, Susan Brosnahan, John Zarkosky, Patricia Swan, Jim Gillis, Ben Cauble, Jane Muccini and Mary Leahy — the wonderful folks who ran Camp of Many Faces.

The campers had a fun-filled month which included visits to Plymouth Plantation, the Butterfly Museum, beach trips with stops at the ice cream parlor, a sleep over in Andover, softball games, a trip to Rocky Point Amusement Park in R.I., an end of camp cookout and many other wonderful adventures.

Not only did the camp afford the children an opportunity to see new places and do new things, but it also allowed them to meet children from other neighborhoods and ethnic backgrounds thus broadening their knowledge of the world around them.

Hopefully Camp of Many Faces is here to stay. It certainly proved to be a wonderful experience for our child.

Sincerely,
Judie and Pat Dunphy
Appreciative Parents

Thank You

I wish to thank my wife Mildred for insisting I go to the Mass. General Hospital Emergency Room on July 21 as she must have known something I did not; Fallon Ambulance Service for its excellent handling of my transportation; the emergency room staff for bringing my temperature down from 106.5 to practically normal; my daughter Mitzi and her husband Fran for waiting with my wife until I was sent to the VAMC whose doctors and nurses took good care to see me discharged as A-OK on Tuesday.

Sincerely,
William J. Walsh
